32-1-109. Definitions. As used in this chapter, unless the context requires otherwise, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Affiliate" has the meaning given that term in 12 U.S.C. 1841(k).

(2) "Bank holding company" means a bank holding company or a financial holding company registered under the federal Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, as amended.

(3) "Board" means the state banking board provided for in 2-15-1025.

(4) "Branch bank" means:

(a) a banking house, other than the main banking house, maintained and operated by a bank doing business in the state and at which deposits are received, checks are paid, or money is lent, but does not include a satellite terminal, as defined in 32-6-103, or the office of an affiliated depository institution acting as an agent; and

(b) in the case of a trust company, any office at which trust services are provided.

(5) "Capital", "capital stock", and "paid-in capital" mean that fund for which certificates of stock are issued to stockholders.

(6) "Consolidate" and "merge" mean the same thing and may be used interchangeably in this chapter.

(7) "Demand deposits" means all deposits, the payment of which can legally be required when demanded.

(8) "Department" means the department of administration provided for in Title 2, chapter 15, part 10.

(9) "Depository institution" means a bank or savings association organized under the laws of a state or the United States.

(10) "Division" means the division of banking and financial institutions of the department.

(11) "Insured depository institution" means a bank or savings association in which the deposits are insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation.

(12) "Main banking house" means the designated principal place of business of a bank in the state.

(13) "Net earnings" means the excess of the gross earnings of a bank over expenses and losses chargeable against those earnings during any 1 year.

(14) "Principal shareholder" means a person who directly or indirectly owns or controls, individually or through others, more than 10% of any class of voting stock.

(15) "Profit and loss account" or "profit and loss" means that account carried on the books of the bank into which all earnings accounts and recoveries are closed, thus exhibiting "gross earnings", and against which all loss and other disbursement items are charged, revealing "net earnings", which are then properly closed to "undivided profits accounts" or "undivided profits", out of which dividends are paid and reserves set aside.

(16) "Savings association" means a savings association or savings bank organized under the laws of the United States or a building and loan association, savings and loan association, or similar entity organized under the laws of a state.

(17) "Shell bank" means a bank organized solely for the purpose of, and that does not conduct any banking business prior to, acquiring control of, merging with, or acquiring all or substantially all of the assets of an existing bank or savings association.

(18) "Subsidiary" means a company 25% or more of whose voting shares or equity interests are owned and controlled by a bank.

(19) "Surplus" means a fund paid in or created under this chapter by a bank from its net earnings or undivided profits that, when set apart and designated as surplus, is not available for the payment of dividends and cannot be used for the payment of expenses or losses so long as the bank has undivided profits.

(20) "Time deposits" means all deposits, the payment of which cannot legally be required within 7 days.

(21) "Undivided profits" means the credit balance of the profit and loss account of a bank.

32-1-115. Student financial institution defined — obligations of minor — applicability of laws. (1) The term "student financial institution" means a financial institution that:

(a) is operated as a high school education program;

(b) is adopted by a school district board of trustees;

(c) is advised by but not owned by one or more state-chartered or federally chartered financial institutions, limited to a state or national bank, a state or federal savings and loan association, a trust company, an investment company, or a state or federal credit union;

(d) is located on property owned by a high school district, as defined in 20-6-101, or a K-12 school district, as defined in 20-6-701;

(e) has as its customers only those students who are enrolled in the high school in which the institution is located; and

(f) has a written commitment from the school district board of trustees guaranteeing reimbursement of any depositor's funds that are lost due to insolvency of the student financial institution.

(2) The funds of a student financial institution are not school district or public funds for the purposes of any state law governing the use or investment of school district or other public funds.

(3) To advise a student financial institution, a state-chartered bank, savings and loan association, trust company, investment company, or credit union shall provide written notice to the department of administration.

(4) With regard to the operation of a student financial institution, the obligations of a minor pertaining to borrowing money, cashing checks, and making deposits have the same force and effect as though they were the obligations of a person over the age of majority.

(5) Except as provided in 32-1-102, 32-1-402, and 32-3-106, a student financial institution established pursuant to this section is not subject to Title 32, chapters 1 through 3, or any other provision of state law that regulates banks, credit unions, other financial institutions, or currency exchanges.

32-1-203. Rules adopted by board — new banks. The board may adopt rules necessary for the administration of 32-1-201 through 32-1-206 in accordance with the Montana Administrative Procedure Act. In particular, the board shall adopt rules concerning the authorization of new banks organized under the laws of this state. Rules must contain minimum standards under which an application for a new bank must be determined, including the following:

(1) a persuasive showing that there is a reasonable public necessity and demand for a new bank at the proposed location;

(2) that the bank will be owned and managed by persons of good moral character and financial integrity and will be safely and soundly operated;

(3) a persuasive showing that the new bank will have a sufficient volume of business to ensure solvency and that establishment of the new bank organized under the laws of this state will be in the public interest.

32-1-204. Hearings — notice. (1) (a) A hearing must be conducted upon all applications for new bank certificates of authorization, in accordance with the Montana Administrative Procedure Act relating to a contested case, whether or not any protest to the application is filed.

(b) A notice of the filing of an application for a new bank certificate of authorization must be mailed to all banks within 100 miles of the proposed location, measured in a straight line.

(c) A hearing may not be conducted sooner than 30 days or later than 90 days following the mailing of the notice.

(d) A bank filing a written protest with the board prior to the date of the hearing must be admitted as a "party", as defined in the Montana Administrative Procedure Act, with full rights of a party, including the right of subpoena of witnesses and written materials, the right of cross-examination, the right to have a transcript, the right to receive all notices, a copy of the application, and all orders, and the right of judicial review and appeal.

(e) Notwithstanding the requirements of subsections (1)(a) through (1)(d), when the deposit liability of any closed bank is to be transferred to or assumed by a state bank being organized for that purpose, the board may issue a certificate of authorization without notice or hearing, according to rules adopted by the board.

(2) (a) A hearing must be conducted by the board upon the request of a person timely protesting an application for the formation, relocation, closure, or sale of a branch bank or for the consolidation, merger, or relocation of a bank if the application is approved by the department and if the board determines that there is a substantial basis for the protest. A person requesting a hearing under this subsection (2)(a) is entitled to judicial review of a denial of a hearing by the board.

(b) If a hearing is required under this subsection (2), the hearing may not be held sooner than 30 days or later than 90 days following the filing of the request for a hearing by the protesting party. A protesting party must be admitted as a party, as defined in the Montana Administrative Procedure Act, with full rights of a party, including the right of judicial review and appeal.

32-1-211. Examination and supervision by department — division of banking and financial institutions — commissioner. (1) The department shall exercise constant supervision over the books and affairs of all banks and trust companies doing business in this state.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (9), the department shall:

(a) examine, at least once every 24 months, each bank or trust company and verify the assets and liabilities of each and investigate the character and value of the assets of each as to ascertain with reasonable certainty that the values are correctly carried on the books; and

(b) submit in writing to the examined bank or trust company a report of the examination's findings no later than 60 days after the completion of the examination.

(3) The department shall investigate the methods of operation and conduct of business of the banks and trust companies and their systems of accounting to ascertain whether the methods and systems are in accordance with law and sound banking principles.

(4) The department may examine under oath any of the officers, directors, agents, clerks, customers, or depositors of a bank or trust company regarding the affairs and business of the bank or trust company.

(5) The department may, in the performance of its official duties, issue subpoenas and administer oaths. In case of a refusal to obey a subpoena issued by the department, the refusal may be reported to the district court of the district in which the bank or trust company is located. The court shall enforce obedience to the subpoena in the manner provided by law for enforcing obedience to the process of the court.

(6) In all matters relating to its official duties, the department has the same power possessed by courts of law to issue subpoenas and have them served and enforced.

(7) All officers, directors, agents, and employees of banks or trust companies doing business under this chapter and all persons having dealings with or knowledge of the affairs or methods of a bank or trust company shall at all times afford reasonable facilities for the examinations and make returns and reports to the department as it may require. They shall also attend hearings and answer under oath the department's inquiries, produce and exhibit any books, accounts, documents, and property the department desires to inspect, and in all things aid the department in the performance of its duty.

(8) There is within the department a division of banking and financial institutions. The head of the division is the commissioner of banking and financial institutions, who shall exercise supervision and control over the activities and employees of the division. The position of commissioner is an exempt position as provided in 2-18-103. The commissioner must be hired by and serve at the pleasure of the director of the department. The director may consult with the board in hiring or terminating the commissioner.

(9) The commissioner may accept as the examination required by this section the findings or results of an examination of a bank or trust company that was made by a regulatory or insuring agency of the United States authorized to make the examination.

32-1-219. Reliance on order — limit on liability. A person acting in good faith reliance upon a rule, order, or declaratory statement issued by the division is not subject to any criminal, civil, or administrative liability for the action if a subsequent decision by a court of competent jurisdiction invalidates the rule, order, or declaratory statement. In the case of an order or declaratory statement that is not of general application, only the person to whom the order or declaratory statement was issued is entitled to rely upon it, unless a third person is dealing with material facts or circumstances that are substantially the same as those upon which the order or declaratory statement was based.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 395, L. 1993.

32-1-220. Access to holding companies and affiliated entities. The division may review the books and affairs of a bank holding company operating under the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956 during the course of a regularly scheduled safety and soundness examination whenever serious regulatory concerns arise that could jeopardize the safety and soundness of the particular subsidiary being examined. The purpose of the authority granted in this section is to resolve serious regulatory concerns that arise during the examination from bank holding company transactions with the subsidiary being examined. The authority granted in this section does not authorize a review of the holding company as a standard procedure when the division has no serious regulatory concerns over transactions with the subsidiary being examined.

32-1-231. Reports to department. (1) The department shall call for the reports specified in this section at least three times each year.

(2) A bank shall make to the department regular call reports according to the form that may be prescribed by the department, verified by oath or affirmation of the president, vice president, or cashier of the bank and attested by the signature of at least two of the directors other than the subscribing officer.

(3) Each report must exhibit in detail, and under appropriate schedules, the resources and liabilities of the bank at the close of business on any past day specified by the department. The "past day specified" by the department, under the provisions of this section, must be the day designated by the comptroller of currency of the United States for reports of national banking associations.

(4) The report must be transmitted to the department within 30 days after the receipt of a request or requisition for it and must be in a form that the department may require.

(1) (a) The report and any information contained in the reports and statements provided for, other than those reports which are required to be published, must be considered secret and for the confidential information of the department only. The information may not be imparted to persons who are not officially associated with the department, and the information contained in the reports and statements may be used by the department only in the furtherance of its official duties.

(b) The department may exchange information with federal financial institution regulatory agencies and with the financial regulatory departments of other states. The department may furnish information to the legislative auditor for use in pursuit of official duties. A prosecuting official may obtain the information by court order.

(2) Any knowledge or information gained or discovered by the department in pursuance of its powers or duties is confidential information of the department. The information may not, except as provided in subsection (1)(b), be imparted to any person not officially associated with the department. The information must be used by the department only in the furtherance of its official duties.

(3) An employee or agent of the department who violates this section or willfully makes a false official report as to the condition of a bank must be removed from office and is also guilty of a felony. Upon conviction, the person shall be fined an amount not exceeding $1,000, imprisoned in a state correctional facility for a term not exceeding 5 years, or both.

(1) A person desiring to organize a banking corporation shall make and file articles of incorporation with the department and, upon approval by the department, may file the articles with the secretary of state as provided in Title 35, chapter 1. The articles of incorporation must set forth:

(a) the information required by 35-1-216(1);

(b) the name of the city or town and county in which the principal office of the corporation is to be located;

(c) the names and places of residence of the initial shareholders and the number of shares subscribed by each;

(d) the number of the board of directors and the names of those agreed upon for the first year; and

(e) the purpose for which the banking corporation is formed, which may be set forth by the use of the general terms defined in this chapter, with reference to each line of business in which the proposed corporation desires to engage.

(2) In addition to provisions required in subsection (1), the articles of incorporation may also contain provisions set forth in 35-1-216(2).

(3) A banking corporation may not adopt or use the name of any other banking corporation or association, and the corporation name must comply with 35-1-308(2) through (4).

(4) A banking corporation may not be organized or incorporated until the articles of incorporation have been submitted to and have been approved by the department and until it has obtained a certificate from the board authorizing the proposed corporation to transact the business specified in the articles of incorporation within this state.

(5) A banking corporation may not amend or restate its articles of incorporation until its articles of amendment or articles of restatement have been submitted to and have been approved by the department and until it has obtained approval from the department authorizing the proposed amendment or restatement.

(6) For banks organized before October 1, 1993, articles of agreement are considered articles of incorporation.

(1) The proposed articles of incorporation must be presented to the department, together with an application in writing in the form prescribed by the department, for a certificate authorizing the proposed corporation to transact the business specified in the articles of incorporation within this state.

(2) Upon the presentation of the proposed articles of incorporation, together with the application, the department shall ascertain whether the requisite capital of the bank, as required in 32-1-307, has been subscribed and been paid up in cash. The department shall also determine whether the corporation is being formed for any other purpose than the legitimate business contemplated by this chapter. The department shall determine whether the corporate name assumed by the bank, by reason of the use of any one or more of the words "commercial", "trust", "savings", or "investment" in conjunction with any other word or words, resembles so closely the name of any other bank previously formed under this chapter as to be likely to cause confusion.

(3) The expenses of the department and the board incurred in the examinations and hearings provided for in this chapter for the formation of new banks must be paid by the proposed bank through advance payment of a reasonable nonrefundable application fee which must be determined by the board by rule.

(4) All information gathered by the department under this section must be transmitted to the board for its use in conducting hearings on applications for certificates of authorization.

32-1-325. Selection of officers and employees — minutes of meetings. (1) The board of directors of a bank must hold a meeting at least quarterly.

(2) The board of directors may elect a president, one or more vice-presidents, a cashier and one or more assistant cashiers, and other officers and employees that they may from time to time consider to be to the best interest of the bank and fix their compensation. The president must be chosen from the board of directors.

(3) The board of directors shall keep a correct report of the meetings of the board and of the stockholders in a book kept for that purpose. The minutes must disclose the dates of the meetings and the names of the directors or stockholders present. This record of the meetings of the board of directors must be subscribed to by the presiding officer and the person responsible for preparing the minutes. The minutes must be read and approved at the following meeting of the board of directors, and the minutes of the following meeting must show that fact. The minute book must be kept in the main office of the bank at all times and must be presented to the department at the time of its examination of the books. The department shall include in its report of examination of the bank a statement of the dates on which the meetings were held since the last examination of the bank and the names of the directors in attendance at each of those meetings. A person who makes a false entry in the book or who changes or alters an entry made in it is guilty of a misdemeanor.

32-1-361. Change from state to national bank. (1) A bank may become a corporation for the purpose of carrying on the business of banking in this state, under the act of congress "to provide a national currency secured by a pledge of United States bonds and to provide for the circulation and redemption thereof", approved June 3, 1864, and under Title 52 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, when:

(a) stockholders owning two-thirds of the stock of the bank vote to become a national bank corporation or execute a written consent authorizing its directors to make the certificate required therefor by the laws of the United States; or

(b) a majority of the directors of the bank, authorized in their discretion to make the change, by a vote of the majority decide to become a national bank corporation.

(2) The cashier of the bank shall:

(a) publish notice of the change once a week for 4 consecutive weeks in the newspaper that the directors select;

(b) send a printed notice by mail or otherwise to all nonvoting or dissenting stockholders; and

(c) notify the department that the bank has decided to become a corporation under the laws of the United States.

History: En. Sec. 75, Ch. 89, L. 1927; re-en. Sec. 6014.86, R.C.M. 1935; amd. Sec. 32, Ch. 431, L. 1975; amd. Sec. 17, Ch. 71, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 5-1002; amd. Sec. 22, Ch. 395, L. 1993.

32-1-362. National bank powers extended to state banks. (1) A bank organized under the laws of this state may engage in any activity or business in which the bank could engage if it were operating as a national bank if the power or activity is not expressly prohibited or limited by the laws of this state and:

(a) if the power or activity is clearly authorized to national banks by federal statute, regulations, or interpretive ruling issued or adopted by a federal banking regulator having jurisdiction over national banks; and

(b) upon application to and approval by the department.

(2) The department may adopt rules to govern the application procedure under this section. The department shall act upon an application under this section within 15 days of receipt of the application. The department may, for good cause, extend the time period for processing an application under this section for an additional 15 days. If the department fails to act on the application within 15 days of receipt of the application and does not extend the time period for good cause, the bank may engage in the activity requested without the approval of the department.

32-1-365. Certificate of change to national bank. (1) When any such bank has decided to become a corporation under the laws of the United States, the directors shall immediately thereafter execute and transmit to the comptroller of the currency the proper certificate and other instruments for its conversion into a national bank corporation under the laws of the United States.

(2) When any such bank shall have become authorized to commence the business of banking under the laws of the United States, all the property of such bank shall immediately, by act of law and without any conveyance or transfer, be vested in and become the property of the national bank corporation into which such bank shall have been converted.

32-1-366 through 32-1-369 reserved.

32-1-370. Interstate merger of banks — interstate agreements. (1) A bank located in this state that has been in existence at least 5 years is authorized to enter into a merger transaction with a bank not located in this state. Prior approval of the department is required if the resulting bank in a merger transaction authorized by this section is a bank organized under the laws of this state.

(2) With respect to interstate banking authorized in subsection (1), the department may enter into agreements with other states establishing the division of supervisory responsibilities between the state in which a bank is organized and the state or states in which branch banks may be located.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 117, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 105, L. 2003.

32-1-371. Consolidation or merger of banks. (1) (a) Any two or more banks doing business in this state may, with the approval of the department in the case of a resulting state bank, consolidate or merge into one bank, on terms and conditions lawfully agreed upon by a majority of the board of directors of each bank proposing to consolidate or merge. Except as otherwise expressly provided in this chapter, the consolidation or merger of a state bank is governed by Title 35, chapter 1.

(b) A bank organized under the laws of this state may, with the approval of the department in the case of a resulting bank, consolidate or merge with a savings association located in this state and may, upon the consolidation or merger, maintain the branch banks and other offices previously maintained by both the bank and the savings association.

(2) Upon consolidation or merger, the corporate franchise, the corporate life, being, and existence, and the corporate rights, powers, duties, privileges, franchises, and obligations, including the rights, powers, duties, privileges, and obligations as trustee, executor, administrator, and guardian and every right, power, duty, privilege, and obligation as fiduciary, together with title to every species of property, real, personal, and mixed, of the consolidating or merging banks, are, without the necessity of any instrument of transfer, consolidated or merged and continued in and held, enjoyed, and assumed by the resulting bank. The resulting bank has the right equal with any other applicant to appointment by the courts to the offices of executor, administrator, guardian, or trustee under any will or other instrument made prior to the consolidation or merger and by which will or instrument the consolidating or merging bank was nominated by the maker to the office.

(3) Upon consolidation or merger, the resulting bank shall designate and operate one of the prior main banking houses of the consolidating or merging banks as its main banking house and the bank may maintain and continue to operate the main banking houses of each of the other consolidating or merging banks as a branch bank.

(4) (a) Upon consolidation or merger, the resulting bank may:

(i) maintain the branch banks and other offices previously maintained by the consolidating or merging banks; and

(ii) establish, acquire, or operate additional branch banks at any location where any bank involved in the consolidation or merger could have established, acquired, or operated a branch bank under applicable federal or state law if that bank had not been a party to the consolidation or merger.

(b) A resulting bank that intends to establish, acquire, or operate a branch bank pursuant to subsection (4)(a) that is organized under the laws of this state must receive prior approval from the department as provided for in 32-1-372, whether or not the branch bank is to be located within or outside this state.

(c) A resulting bank organized under federal law or the laws of another state shall provide the department with copies of all applications or notices filed with any federal or other state regulatory agency seeking to establish, acquire, or operate a branch bank pursuant to subsection (4)(a) within this state. The copies must be filed with the department within 5 days of their filing with the federal or other state agency.

(5) Upon consolidation or merger, the resulting bank, including all depository institutions that are affiliates of the resulting bank, may not directly or indirectly control more than 22% of the total amount of deposits of insured depository institutions and credit unions located in this state.

The formation and operation of a branch bank, wherever located, by a bank organized under the laws of this state require the prior approval of the department. A bank organized under the laws of this state may establish, acquire, or operate a branch bank or other office outside this state if approved by the department and if permitted by the laws of the jurisdiction where the branch bank or office is to be located.

(2) A branch bank may but is not required to offer all services and conduct all business authorized to be offered or conducted by the bank.

(3) A bank authorized to do banking business in this state may use a satellite terminal, as defined in 32-6-103, at any location permitted by the Montana Electronic Funds Transfer Act.

(4) A bank may continue to maintain and operate all branch banks and other banking offices, including detached facilities, that are in existence or authorized on July 1, 1997, without further consent, authorization, or approval of the department or the board. All offices established and maintained by a bank, other than the main banking house, at which deposits are received, checks are paid, or money is lent must be considered branch banks for all purposes under this title.

(5) A bank located in this state may provide services for other banks located in this state, whether or not those banks are affiliates.

(6) A bank may establish and maintain branch banks, as provided in 32-1-371 and this section. However, this section may not be interpreted to authorize de novo interstate bank branching and may not be interpreted to authorize a bank not located in this state to establish, acquire, or operate a branch bank in this state.

32-1-377. Agreement of purchase and sale. (1) The selling and purchasing banks shall enter into an agreement that must contain all the terms and conditions of the sale and that must contain:

(a) proper provision for the assumption, payment, transfer, or retention of all the liabilities of the selling bank as to the branch assets and business sold;

(b) proper provision for the assumption, payment, transfer, or retention of the purchasing bank of all fiduciary obligations of the branch or branch business sold.

(2) The agreement for purchase and sale of a state bank must be authorized and approved by the department. The agreement of purchase and sale of a national bank must be in accordance with the laws applicable to national banks.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 265, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 12, Ch. 117, L. 1997.

32-1-378 through 32-1-380 reserved.

32-1-381. Purpose. (1) The purpose of 32-1-381 through 32-1-384 is to:

(a) authorize interstate banking by the acquisition of existing banks within the framework of the "Douglas amendment" to the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956 (12 U.S.C. 1841 through 1850), as amended;

(b) provide a variety of banking alternatives in Montana in terms of the numbers and ownership of banks; and

(c) conform Montana statutes with the provision of the Riegle-Neal Interstate Banking and Branching Efficiency Act of 1994, Public Law 103-328, 108 Stat. 2338, effective September 29, 1994. Any inconsistencies between the provisions of 32-1-381 through 32-1-384 and Public Law 103-328 must be resolved in favor of Public Law 103-328.

(2) Sections 32-1-381 through 32-1-384 do not authorize the establishment of a branch bank in Montana by a bank not located in Montana. Sections 32-1-371 and 32-1-375 do not apply to acquisitions or transactions authorized in 32-1-381 through 32-1-384.

32-1-382. Definitions. As used in 32-1-381 through 32-1-384, unless the context requires otherwise, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Acquire" means:

(a) the direct or indirect purchase or exchange of stock;

(b) the direct or indirect purchase of assets and liabilities; or

(c) a merger.

(2) "Bank" means a commercial bank, as defined in 32-1-105, or a national banking association as designated by 12 U.S.C. 24.

(3) "Bank holding company" means a bank holding company or a financial holding company that is registered under the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, as amended, regardless of where it is located or has its headquarters.

(4) "Control" means:

(a) ownership of, authority over, or power to vote, directly or indirectly, 25% or more of any class of voting security;

(b) authority in any manner over the election of a majority of directors; or

(c) power to exercise, directly or indirectly, a controlling influence over management and policies.

(5) "Department" means the department of administration provided for in 2-15-1001.

(6) "Financial institution" means a bank or bank holding company.

(7) "Headquarters" means the state in which the activities of a bank holding company or a company controlling the bank holding company are "principally conducted" within the meaning of the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, as amended.

(8) "Located in this state" means:

(a) in the case of a bank, that the organizational certificate identifies an address in this state as the principal place of conducting its business; and

(b) in the case of a bank holding company, an entity, partnership, or trust organized under the laws of this state.

32-1-383. Acquisition of financial institution by bank holding company not located in this state — limitations. (1) A bank holding company with headquarters in another state may acquire control of a bank located in this state through acquisition of a financial institution if the bank holding company complies with 32-1-381 through 32-1-384. The bank to be acquired must:

(a) have been conducting business for a continuous period of at least 5 years prior to the effective date of the acquisition; or

(b) be a shell bank organized solely for the purpose of purchasing the assets of a bank that has conducted business for a continuous period of at least 5 years prior to the acquisition.

(2) A bank holding company may acquire control of a bank located in this state by purchase of stock in or by merger with a bank holding company.

(3) A bank, a bank holding company, or a subsidiary of the bank or bank holding company may not acquire control of a bank located in this state if the bank, bank holding company, or subsidiary together with its affiliates would directly or indirectly control more than 22% of the total amount of deposits of insured depository institutions and credit unions located in this state.

(4) The determination of the limit contained in subsection (3) must be based upon public reports filed with the appropriate regulatory agency as of the December 31 preceding the submission to the appropriate federal banking regulatory agency of the application seeking prior approval of the acquisition of control of the bank.

32-1-384. Federal applications — comments. (1) A bank holding company shall file with the department a copy of applications submitted to a federal banking regulatory agency seeking prior approval of the proposed acquisition of a financial institution located in this state. The bank holding company shall also file a statement verifying that the acquisition will not result in a violation of the limit in 32-1-383(3).

(2) The applications and statement are public records, and the department shall allow public inspection of all nonconfidential portions of the applications and statements. The department shall solicit public comment on the applications by promptly publishing notice of the applications in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the financial institution to be acquired is located. The department shall send the comments to the appropriate federal banking regulatory agency. The department may intervene in or take other action in a federal banking regulatory authority proceeding.

32-1-402. When advertising as bank prohibited — trade names restricted. (1) Except as provided in subsection (4), a person, firm, company, partnership, or corporation, either domestic or foreign, that is not subject to the supervision of the department and not required by the provisions of this chapter to report to it and that has not received a certificate to do a banking business from the department, may not:

(a) except for a student financial institution, as defined in 32-1-115, advertise that the person or entity is receiving or accepting money or savings for deposit, investment, or otherwise and issuing notices or certificates of deposit; or

(b) use an office sign at the place where the business is transacted having on it an artificial or corporate name or other words indicating that:

(i) the place or office is the place or office of a bank or trust company;

(ii) deposits are received there or payments made on checks; or

(iii) any other form of banking business is transacted there.

(2) The person, firm, company, partnership, or corporation, domestic or foreign, may not use or circulate letterheads, billheads, blank notes, blank receipts, certificates, circulars, or any written or printed or partly written and partly printed papers that contain an artificial or corporate name or other word or words indicating that the business is the business of a bank, savings bank, or trust or investment company.

(3) The person, firm, company, partnership, or corporation or any agent of a foreign corporation not having an established place of business in the state may not solicit or receive deposits or transact business in the way or manner of a bank, savings bank, trust, or investment company or in a manner that leads the public to believe that its business is that of a bank, savings bank, trust, or investment company.

(4) (a) A person, firm, company, partnership, or corporation, domestic or foreign, except for a student financial institution, as defined in 32-1-115, that is not subject to the supervision of the department and not required by the provisions of this chapter to report to it and that has not received from the department a certificate to do a banking business may not transact business under a name or title that contains the word "bank", "banker", "banking", "savings bank", "saving", "trust company", or "investment company" unless the department has granted a waiver. This section does not prohibit the use of the word "bank" in the name or title of any bank holding company registered with the board of governors of the federal reserve system pursuant to 12 U.S.C. 1844.

(b) The department may grant a waiver to allow the use of a restricted word listed in subsection (4)(a) to a nonprofit organization if:

(i) the organization is not acting as a financial institution; and

(ii) the name used is not likely to mislead a reasonable individual into thinking that the organization is acting as a financial institution.

(5) A person, firm, company, partnership, or corporation, domestic or foreign, violating a provision of this section shall forfeit to the state $100 a day for every day or part of a day during which the violation continues.

(6) Upon suit by the department, the court may issue an injunction restraining the person, firm, company, partnership, or corporation during pendency of the action and permanently from further using those words in violation of the provisions of this section or from further transacting business in a manner that leads the public to believe that its business is that of a bank, savings bank, trust, or investment company and may enter any other order or decree as equity and justice require.

32-1-403. Penalty for transacting business without certificate. (1) A person, firm, company, partnership, or corporation, domestic or foreign, advertising that he or it is receiving or accepting money or savings and issuing notes or certificates of deposit for them or advertising that he or it is transacting the business of a bank, savings bank, or trust company or making use of an office sign at the place where the business is transacted, having on it an artificial or corporate name or other words indicating that the place or office is the place or office of a bank, savings bank, or trust company or that deposits are received there or payments made on check or that interest is paid on deposits or that certificates of deposit, either with or without interest, are being issued or that any other form of banking business is transacted, and a person, firm, company, partnership, or corporation, domestic or foreign, using or circulating any letterheads, billheads, blank notes, blank receipts, certificates, or circulars or any written or printed or partly written and partly printed paper whatever, having on it an artificial or corporate name or advertising that the business is the business of a bank, savings bank, or trust company, must have the proper capital stock paid in and set aside for the purpose of transacting that business and must have received from the department, as provided for in this chapter, a certificate to do a banking business.

(2) A person, firm, company, partnership, or corporation, domestic or foreign, violating any provision of this section shall forfeit to the state $100 a day for every day or part of a day during which the violation continues.

(3) Upon action brought by the department, the court may issue an injunction restraining a person, firm, company, partnership, or corporation from further violating any provision of this section and may enter a further order or decree as equity and justice require.

(4) A person, firm, company, partnership, or corporation doing any of the things or transacting any of the business defined in this section must transact that business according to the provisions of the Bank Act, and the department may examine the accounts, books, papers, cash, and credits of that person, firm, company, partnership, or corporation, domestic or foreign, in order to ascertain whether that person, firm, company, partnership, or corporation has violated or is violating any provisions of this section.

32-1-421. Investment of capital of savings banks. (1) The term "savings bank" as used in this section means any bank organized to do the business specified in 32-1-106.

(2) (a) At least one-half of the paid-in capital of a savings bank and one-half of the whole amount deposited in the savings bank must be invested in bonds or other securities of the United States or any of the states of the United States or any county, city, town, or school district of this state on which interest is regularly payable or federal land bank bonds or loaned on unencumbered real estate worth at least double the amount to be secured.

(b) The remainder may be invested in bonds or securities listed in subsection (2)(a) or in approved personal securities. However, a loan may not be made on personal securities of less than two responsible persons or collateral security to be approved by the directors, and a loan upon personal security may not be made to any person or partnership to an amount exceeding $10,000.

(c) Investments in United States government obligations permitted under subsection (2)(a) or (2)(b) may be made either directly or in the form of securities of or other interests in an open-end or closed-end management type investment company or investment trust registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (15 U.S.C. 80a-1 through 80a-64), as amended, if:

(i) the portfolio of the investment company or investment trust is limited to United States government obligations and repurchase agreements fully collateralized by United States government obligations; and

(ii) the investment company or investment trust takes delivery of the collateral for any repurchase agreement, either directly or through an authorized custodian.

(3) A president, vice president, director, or other officer or servant of a savings bank may not directly or indirectly borrow any of the funds of the bank or of its deposits or in any manner use the same in his private affairs or business. A director may not receive any pay, salary, or emolument until the interest as the directors have determined to allow depositors has been provided for in accordance with the regulations of the corporation.

(4) The real estate that the corporation may lawfully purchase, hold, and convey is the real estate that is:

(a) necessary for the proper transaction of its business, not exceeding in value $50,000;

(b) mortgaged to it in good faith for money loaned pursuant to this chapter or given as security for money loaned or advanced;

(c) purchased at the sale on judgment or decree obtained or rendered on money loaned or advanced.

(5) Savings banks organized under the provisions of this chapter may not purchase, hold, or convey real estate in any other case or for any other purpose than is specified in subsection (4) and may not buy or sell any personal property, except such as may be necessary for the proper transaction of its business or as may have been pledged, mortgaged, or assigned to it to secure money loaned or advanced.

32-1-422. Restriction on investment in corporate stock — rulemaking authority. (1) Except as provided in subsections (2) and (3), a commercial or savings bank may not purchase or invest its capital or surplus or money of its depositors, or any part of its capital or surplus or money of its depositors, in the capital stock of any corporation unless the purchase or acquisition of capital stock is necessary to prevent loss to the bank on a debt previously contracted in good faith. Any capital stock purchased or acquired to prevent the loss must be sold by the bank within 6 months after purchase or acquisition if it can be sold for the amount of the claim of the bank against it. All capital stock purchased or acquired must be sold for the best price obtainable by the bank within 1 year after purchase or acquisition, or if the stock is unmarketable, it must be charged off as an investment loss, which is equivalent to the stock's sale. A person or corporation violating any provision of this section shall forfeit to the state twice the nominal amount of the stock.

(2) A bank may acquire and hold for its own account:

(a) up to 20% of its capital and surplus in the capital stock of a bank service corporation organized solely for the purpose of providing services to banks;

(b) shares of stock of a federal reserve bank and a federal home loan bank, without limitation of amount;

(c) shares of stock in a Montana capital company or a Montana small business investment capital company within limits prescribed by the Montana Capital Company Act; and

(d) shares of stock or financial interests in an affiliate or a subsidiary, the business activities of which are limited to those allowed by law for a bank.

(3) A bank may invest any amount up to the limit established by the department of its unimpaired capital and surplus in shares of stock of:

(a) the federal national mortgage association;

(b) the federal home loan mortgage corporation;

(c) the federal agricultural mortgage corporation; and

(d) other corporations created pursuant to acts of congress to meet the agricultural, housing, health, transit, educational, environmental, or similar needs of the nation when the department determines that the investment is in the public interest.

(4) A bank may, upon written application and approval of the department, make an investment in an amount permitted by the department by rule so long as the investment serves primarily to promote the public welfare, including the welfare of low- and moderate-income families and communities in need of jobs, housing, and public services. A bank may also, with the department's approval, purchase interests in an entity, as defined in 35-1-113(9), that makes investments for similar public welfare purposes.

(5) The department shall adopt rules to implement this section. The rules pertaining to the investments allowed in subsection (4) may be substantially equivalent to or more stringent than the eleventh power provided for in 12 U.S.C. 24 and the policy guidelines on community development issued by the office of the comptroller of the currency.

32-1-423. Real estate that banks may purchase, hold, or convey. (1) (a) A bank organized under the provisions of this chapter may purchase, hold, or convey real estate that:

(i) is for its accommodation in the transaction of its business, but it may not invest an amount exceeding 100% of its paid-up capital and surplus in the lot and building in which the business of the company is or is projected to be carried on, furniture, equipment and fixtures, vaults and safety vaults, and boxes necessary or proper to carry on its banking business if property held for future use as a bank office site is held pursuant to a detailed written business plan formally adopted by the directors of the bank;

(ii) is mortgaged to it in good faith by way of security for loans previously made or money due to the bank;

(iii) is conveyed to it in satisfaction of debts previously contracted in the course of its business;

(iv) it purchases at sales under judgments, decrees, or mortgages held by the bank.

(b) The detailed written business plan required by subsection (1)(a)(i) must include information outlining the manner in which the acquired real estate will be developed for future use as a bank office site, including but not limited to the costs of projected construction, furniture, and equipment and fixtures. The plan must include sufficient information for the department to determine that the property will be used for a future bank office site.

(2) Real estate acquired in the manner set forth in subsections (1)(a)(iii) and (1)(a)(iv) may not be held longer than 5 years from the date of acquisition, unless special written permission is granted by the department. The real estate must be carried on the books of the bank for an amount not greater than its cost to the bank, including costs of foreclosure and other expenses of acquiring title.

(1) Notwithstanding other provisions of the law, it is lawful for a bank, trust company, investment company or other financial institution operating under the laws of this state to invest the funds or money in its custody or possession, eligible for investment, in:

(a) debentures issued by the federal housing administrator and in obligations of national mortgage associations; and

(b) United States government obligations, either directly or in the form of securities of or other interests in an open-end or closed-end management type investment company or investment trust registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (15 U.S.C. 80a-1 through 80a-64), as amended, if:

(i) the portfolio of the investment company or investment trust is limited to United States government obligations and repurchase agreements fully collateralized by United States government obligations; and

(ii) the investment company or investment trust takes delivery of the collateral for any repurchase agreement, either directly or through an authorized custodian.

(2) The department shall publish a list of the permissible type of investments in United States government obligations as provided in subsection (1).

32-1-425. Definitions. For the purposes of 32-1-426 and 32-1-427, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Fiduciary" means a trustee under any trust, expressed, implied, resulting in, or constructive; executor; administrator; guardian; committee; conservator; curator; tutor; custodian; nominee; receiver; trustee in bankruptcy; assignee for the benefit of creditors; partner; agent; officer of any corporation, public or private; public officer; or any other person acting in a fiduciary capacity for any person, trust, or estate.

(2) "Person" means an individual, corporation, government or governmental subdivision or agency, business trust, estate, trust, partnership or association, two or more persons having a joint or common interest, or any other legal or commercial entity.

32-1-426. Deposit of securities in central depository. (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any fiduciary, as defined in 32-1-425, holding securities in its fiduciary capacity, any bank or trust company holding securities as a custodian or managing agent, and any bank or trust company holding securities as custodian for a fiduciary is authorized to deposit or arrange for the deposit of the securities in a clearing corporation, as defined in 30-8-112. When the securities are deposited, certificates representing securities of the same class of the same issuer may be merged and held in bulk in the name of the nominee of the clearing corporation with any other securities deposited in the clearing corporation by any person regardless of the ownership of the securities, and certificates of small denomination may be merged into one or more certificates of larger denomination. The records of the fiduciary and the records of the bank or trust company acting as custodian, as managing agent, or a custodian for a fiduciary must at all times show the name of the party for whose account the securities are deposited. Title to the securities may be transferred by bookkeeping entry on the books of the clearing corporation without physical delivery of certificates representing the securities. A bank or trust company depositing securities pursuant to this section is subject to rules which in the case of state-chartered institutions, the state banking board and, in the case of national banking associations, the comptroller of the currency, may from time to time adopt. A bank or trust company acting as custodian for a fiduciary shall, on demand of the fiduciary, certify in writing to the fiduciary the securities deposited by the bank or trust company in the clearing corporation for the account of the fiduciary. A fiduciary shall, on demand by any party to a judicial proceeding for the settlement of the fiduciary's account or on demand by the attorney for the party, certify in writing to the party the securities deposited by the fiduciary in the clearing corporation for its account as the fiduciary.

(2) This section applies to any fiduciary holding securities in its fiduciary capacity and to any bank or trust company holding securities as a custodian, managing agent, or custodian for a fiduciary regardless of the date of the agreement, instrument, or court order by which it is appointed and regardless of whether or not the fiduciary, custodian, managing agent, or custodian for a fiduciary owns capital stock of the clearing corporation.

32-1-427. Fiduciaries — deposit of securities with a federal reserve bank. (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any bank or trust company when acting as fiduciary as defined in 32-1-425 and any bank or trust company when holding securities as custodian for a fiduciary is authorized to deposit or arrange for the deposit with the federal reserve bank in its district of any securities the principal and interest of which the United States or any department, agency, or instrumentality thereof has agreed to pay or has guaranteed payment, to be credited to one or more accounts on the books of the federal reserve bank in the name of the bank or trust company, to be designated fiduciary or safekeeping accounts, to which accounts other similar securities may be credited. A bank or trust company so depositing securities with a federal reserve bank shall be subject to such rules with respect to the making and maintenance of such deposit as, in the case of state-chartered institutions, the state banking board and, in the case of national banking associations, the comptroller of the currency may from time to time adopt. The records of the bank or trust company shall at all times show the ownership of the securities held in such account. Ownership of and other interests in the securities credited to such account may be transferred by entries on the books of the federal reserve bank without physical delivery of any securities. A bank or trust company acting as custodian for a fiduciary shall, on demand of the fiduciary, certify in writing to the fiduciary the securities deposited by the bank or trust company with the federal reserve bank for the account of such fiduciary. A fiduciary shall, on demand by any party to its accounting or on demand by the attorney for the party, certify in writing to the party the securities deposited by the fiduciary with the federal reserve bank for its account as such fiduciary.

(2) This section shall apply to all fiduciaries and custodians for fiduciaries acting on July 1, 1977, or who thereafter may act regardless of the date of the instrument or court order by which they are appointed.

32-1-432. Limitations on loans — rulemaking. (1) (a) The total loans or extensions of credit to a person, partnership, or corporation by a bank, including loans to a partnership and to the members of the partnership, may not exceed 20% of the amount of the unimpaired capital and surplus of that bank.

(b) The discount of bills of exchange drawn in good faith against actual existing values, the discount of bankers, acceptances of other banks, the discount of commercial or business paper actually owned by the person negotiating it and the obligations of the United States, general obligations of any state or of any political subdivision, or obligations issued under authority of the Federal Farm Loan Act may not be considered as money borrowed.

(c) The limitations imposed on total loans and extensions of credit by this section do not apply to loans and investments secured by obligations of the United States having a current market value of 100% of the amount loaned or invested.

(d) Loans or obligations are not subject under this section to any limitation based upon that unimpaired capital and surplus to the extent that they are secured or covered by guaranties, or by commitments or agreements to take over or to purchase them, made by a federal reserve bank or by the United States or a department, bureau, board, commission, or establishment of the United States, including a corporation wholly owned, directly or indirectly, by the United States.

(2) The combined liabilities of the members of a firm, partnership, or unincorporated association to the loaning bank must be included in the liabilities of the firm, partnership, or unincorporated association. The portion of the liabilities of the firm, partnership, or unincorporated association for which a member individually is legally responsible must be included in the liabilities of the member in determining the limitations imposed by this section. In determining the limitation for loans or extensions of credit to a limited partner of a limited partnership, the portions of the liabilities of the limited partnership for which the limited partner is free from liability must be excluded.

(3) When, in the judgment of the department, the liabilities of a corporation or the combined liabilities of a corporation and one or more of its stockholders to a bank are excessive, it shall require the reduction to the limits and within the time it prescribes.

(4) The limitations of this section do not apply to the extent that the loan or extension of credit is secured by pledged deposits in the lending bank.

(5) The limitations of this section do not apply to a loan of funds or an extension of credit made by a bank to another bank if the term of the loan or extension of credit does not exceed 2 business days.

(6) The limitations of this section do not apply to the extent that a loan is covered by a guaranty or by commitments or agreements to take over or purchase the loan made by an agency or board of the state of Montana authorized by law to provide the guaranties, commitments, or agreements.

(7) (a) A state-chartered bank may be exempted from the limitations of this section by applying to the department for a written waiver stipulating that the bank will be subject to the limitations imposed on national banks under 12 U.S.C. 84 and the regulations of the office of the comptroller of the currency.

(b) A written waiver provided to a state-chartered bank in accordance with subsection (7)(a) may not be changed by the bank or revoked by the department for 2 years from the date of issue or for a different period determined by the department by rule.

(8) The department may adopt rules to carry out the purposes of this section.

(9) For purposes of this section, the terms "loan" and "extension of credit" include all direct or indirect advances of funds to a person on the basis of an obligation of the person to repay the funds. The terms also include a liability of a state-chartered bank to advance funds to or on behalf of a person pursuant to a contractual commitment. The department may adopt a rule differentiating between discretionary and nondiscretionary contractual commitments.

32-1-452. Dividends, surplus, losses, and bad debts. (1) The directors of a bank may, at certain times and in the manner as its bylaws prescribe, declare and pay dividends to the stockholders of so much of the net undivided profits of the banks as may be appropriated for that purpose, but every bank shall, before declaring any dividend, carry at least 25% of its net earnings for the period covered by the dividend to its surplus, until the surplus is 50% of its paid-up capital stock. The whole or any part of the surplus may at any time be converted into paid-in capital, but the surplus must be restored as provided in this subsection until it amounts to 50% of the aggregate paid-up capital stock. A larger surplus may be created.

(2) A dividend larger than the previous 2 years' net earnings may not be declared without giving notice to the division.

(3) Losses sustained by a bank in excess of its undivided profits may be charged to and paid from the surplus, but the surplus must be restored in the manner provided in subsection (1) in the amount required by this chapter.

32-1-455. Reserve requirements. (1) A bank, except a reserve bank, shall maintain at all times a reserve of that percentage of its deposit liabilities as required by the appropriate federal regulator.

(2) The department may establish reserve requirements if the federal regulator discontinues reserve requirements.

(3) A bank approved by the department as a reserve bank shall maintain at all times a reserve as the department requires by rule.

(4) A solvent bank of good repute having a full paid-up capital and surplus as the department requires by rule and doing business in this state or any other state may be designated by the department as a reserve agent for Montana banking institutions. The approval or designation may be withdrawn or withheld at any time by the department for cause.

(5) A bank whose reserve drops below the legal requirements shall report the matter to the department immediately and as often as the department asks for a report.

(6) When the reserve of a bank falls below the legal requirements, the bank may not increase its loans or discounts except by discounting or purchasing bills of exchange payable at sight or on demand, and the department shall notify a bank whose reserve may be below the amount required to make good the reserve.

(7) In arriving at deposit liabilities with regard to bank deposits, the net balance of amounts due to and from other banks must be used as the basis for ascertaining the deposit liability to banks against which reserves are carried.

(8) Compliance by member banks with the federal reserve banking laws, rules, and regulations is compliance with the reserve requirements and conditions of this chapter and entitles those federal reserve member banks to the rights and privileges accruing from compliance with this chapter.

32-1-465. Limit on loans to officer, director, or principal shareholder. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), a bank may not extend credit to an officer, director, or principal shareholder unless the extension of credit is in an amount that, when aggregated with the amount of all outstanding extensions of credit by that bank to all officers, directors, or principal shareholders, does not exceed the bank's unimpaired capital and unimpaired surplus.

(2) A bank with deposits of less than $100 million may by resolution of its board of directors increase the general limit in subsection (1) to a limit that does not exceed two times the bank's unimpaired capital and unimpaired surplus if:

(a) the board of directors determines that a higher limit is consistent with prudent, safe, and sound banking practices in light of the bank's experience in lending to officers, directors, and principal shareholders and is necessary to attract or retain directors or to prevent restricting the availability of credit in small communities;

(b) the resolution sets forth the facts and reasoning on which the board of directors bases the finding, including the amount of the bank's lending to officers, directors, and principal shareholders as a percentage of the bank's unimpaired capital and unimpaired surplus as of the date of the resolution;

(c) the bank has submitted the resolution to the department; and

(d) the bank meets or exceeds, on a fully phased-in basis, all applicable capital requirements established by the department.

(b) in any amount to finance the purchase, construction, maintenance, or improvement of a residence of the managing officer if the extension of credit is secured by a first lien on the residence and the residence is:

(i) owned by the managing officer; or

(ii) expected to be owned by the managing officer after the extension of credit; and

(c) for any other purpose not specified in subsections (1)(a) and (1)(b) if the aggregate amount of loans to that individual under this subsection (1) does not exceed at any one time the greater of 2.5% of the bank's capital and unimpaired surplus or $25,000. However, in no event may the aggregate amount of loans to the individual exceed $100,000.

32-1-492. Definitions — reproduction of bank records — admissibility in evidence — cost recovery. (1) (a) For the purposes of this section, "bank records" includes any document, paper, letter, book, map, photograph, sound or video recording, magnetic tape, electronic-storage medium, or other information- recording medium used in a bank's normal course of business.

(b) (i) For the purposes of this section, "electronic storage" means the recording, storage, retention, maintenance, and reproduction of documents using microfilm, microfiche, data processing, computers, or other electronic process that correctly and legibly stores and reproduces documents.

(ii) A photographic, photostatic, miniature photographic copy, or reproduction of any kind, including electronic or computer-generated data that has been electronically stored and is capable of being converted into written form, must be considered an original record for all purposes and must be treated as an original record in all courts and administrative agencies for the purposes of admissibility in evidence.

(iii) A facsimile, exemplification, or certified copy of any reproduction referred to in subsection (1)(b)(ii) must, for all purposes, be considered a facsimile, exemplification, or certified copy of the original record.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (6), banks are authorized to make, at any time, photographic or photostatic copies or microfilm reproductions of any records or documents, including photographic enlargements and prints of microfilms, to be preserved, stored, used, and employed in carrying on business.

(3) In an action or proceeding in which bank records may be called in question or be demanded of a bank or any officer or employee of a bank, a showing that the records have been destroyed in the regular course of business is a sufficient excuse for the failure to produce the records.

(4) Upon the showing required in subsection (3), secondary evidence of the form, text, and contents of the original records, including photostatic, photographic, or microfilm reproductions, photographic enlargements, and prints of microfilm reproductions, when made in the regular course of business, is admissible in evidence in any court of competent jurisdiction or in any administrative proceeding.

(5) Any photostatic, photographic, or microfilm reproductions, including enlargements of the microfilm reproductions, made in the regular course of business of any original files, records, books, cards, tickets, deposit slips, or memoranda that were in existence on July 1, 1951, are admissible in evidence as proof of the form, text, and content of the originals that were destroyed in the regular course of business.

(6) A bank may, as a condition of providing bank records to a third party in response to a subpoena or to another legal procedure or request, charge and collect the actual costs incurred in locating, reproducing, and providing the bank records.

32-1-493. Admissibility of copies in evidence — exception when original available. Any photostatic or photographic or microfilm reproductions (including enlargements of the latter) of any original records or files of any bank, whether in the form of an entry or entries in a book or any other form of record, shall be admissible in evidence in any court of competent jurisdiction in proof of an act, transaction, occurrence, or event when shown to be made in the regular course of business of the bank. But nothing contained in 32-1-491 through 32-1-495 shall be construed to authorize the use of secondary evidence in administrative or court proceedings when original records are in existence and available for use in accord with the rules of evidence.

Dissolution and liquidation of business corporations, Title 35, ch. 1, part 9.

32-1-501. Dissolution and disincorporation. Commercial banks, savings banks, trust companies, and investment companies may be dissolved in the manner provided by the laws of this state applicable to the dissolution of other corporations. However, a bank or trust company may, upon a vote of two-thirds of its stockholders at a special meeting called for that purpose in accordance with its bylaws, voluntarily quit business and liquidate upon the payment of its debts, exclusive of liability to stockholders, or upon agreement with all of its creditors to a plan of liquidation. A bank or trust company that wishes to voluntarily liquidate shall apply to the department for permission to liquidate and, in addition to complying with the laws of this state governing the liquidation of corporations, shall comply in all respects with the requirements or rules of the department governing voluntary dissolution. The board of directors of a bank or trust company whose stockholders have voted to place it in voluntary liquidation shall appoint a liquidating agent to wind up the affairs of the bank or trust company. The liquidating agent, on authority of the board of directors, may execute deeds for the transfer of real property and do all things necessary to carry out the proper liquidation of the bank or trust company. Nothing in this section prevents the department from taking charge at any time when in its opinion the interest of creditors or stockholders is not being protected. The decision of the department in these matters is controlling.

32-1-502. Grounds for closing bank. (1) When it appears to the department that:

(a) a bank has willfully violated its charter or a law of this state;

(b) a bank has willfully violated a general rule of the department, made in accordance with law;

(c) the capital of a bank is impaired or for any reason is below the amount required by law and has not been made good after notice, as provided by law, or, without that notice, in the event a majority of the board of directors of the bank notifies the department in writing that the impairment cannot be made good;

(d) a bank cannot meet or has failed to meet its liabilities as they become due in the regular course of business;

(e) a bank's reserve has fallen below the amount required by law and it has failed to make good that reserve within 30 days after being requested to do so by the department or, without that notice, if a majority of the directors, in writing, notifies the department that the reserve cannot be made good within 30 days or if it is continually allowing its reserve to fall below the required amount;

(f) a bank is conducting business in an unsafe and unauthorized manner or is in an unsafe or unsound condition;

(g) a bank refused to submit its papers, books, and concerns to the inspection of the department; or

(h) an officer of a bank has refused to be examined under oath regarding the affairs, business, or concerns of any bank insofar as they relate to solvency or matters having to do with the supervision by the department; then the department may, in its discretion, close the bank and take possession of all the books, records, assets, and business of every description of the bank and hold them and retain possession of them until the bank is authorized by the department to resume business or its affairs are liquidated as provided in this chapter, and it shall do so in cases where a bank comes into its possession voluntarily or in the manner provided by law.

(2) The powers and authority conferred on the department by this section, except in cases of voluntary surrender, are discretionary and not mandatory. As long as the department acts in good faith, the department and its employees and agents may not be held liable civilly or criminally or upon their official bonds for action taken under this section or for any failure to act under it.

When such impairment or insolvency has been made good, such deposits received in trust may be transferred to the general assets of the bank on and by written consent of the department.

(2) In the event such insolvency be not made good, then any and all such trust deposits shall be returned to the depositors making them.

(3) Any officer, director, cashier, manager, member, partner, or managing partner thereof who shall knowingly accept or receive, be accessory to, or permit or connive at the receiving or accepting of such trust deposits, except in the manner hereinbefore set forth in this section, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $10,000 or imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding 5 years or by both fine and imprisonment.

32-1-506. Assessment on capital stock to make good impairment. (1) When the department determines that an impairment of capital exists in a bank, it may, in its discretion, notify the board of directors of the bank by written notice that the impairment exists, stating the amount thereof in dollars and percentage of the capital stock, and it may, in its discretion, order the board to make good the impairment within 90 days from date of the notice.

(2) The board of directors shall, upon receipt of notice, convene and pass a resolution reciting the receipt of the notice of impairment and calling a special meeting of the stockholders of the bank in the manner provided in their bylaws.

(3) The stockholders at the meeting shall pass a resolution reciting the facts of receipt of notice from the department, notice of impairment, and notice of meeting and assessing themselves by assessing the stock of record, payment of which assessment must be made within the time limit specified by the department as provided in notice of impairment.

(4) If there is any stock remaining on which the assessment is not paid as provided in this section, it or a part of it as is necessary to pay the assessment shall be sold by the board of directors, acting through the cashier or secretary of the bank, at public or private sale, as appears best for all concerned, not less than 30 days after the day fixed for payment of assessment. Notice of the time and place of the sale shall be given by certified or registered mail to the stockholders by the board through its cashier or secretary at least 10 days prior to the sale. A sale of stock as provided in this section causes an absolute cancellation of the outstanding certificate or certificates evidencing the stock so sold and makes them void in the hands of the stockholder or his assigns or pledgees. A new certificate shall be issued by the bank to the purchaser for the number of shares purchased and a new certificate issued to the stockholder of record and delivered to him or any pledgee or assignee of the stock for the remaining shares, if any. The record of the original certificate sold shall be marked canceled on the books of the bank, and that record is prima facie evidence of the regularity of the proceedings for the sale of the stock.

(5) If a bank fails to make good its capital impairment upon demand of the department, as provided in this section, the department may immediately take charge of that bank and proceed to liquidate it as in case of insolvency.

(6) If the stock does not sell for enough to pay the assessment on it, the board of directors may sue in the name of the corporation to collect the deficiency from the stockholder of record whose stock has been sold for the assessment.

(1) Upon taking the assets and business of a bank into its possession, the department is authorized to collect all money due to the bank and to do other acts necessary to conserve the bank's assets and business. The department shall proceed to liquidate the affairs of the bank.

(2) The department may, except as limited by the terms of this chapter, do any acts necessary or desirable for the protection of the property and assets of the bank, the speedy and economical liquidation of the assets and affairs of the bank, the payment of creditors, or the reopening and resumption of business when that is practicable or desirable.

(3) The department may institute, in its own name or in the name of the bank, legal proceedings it considers expedient for the purposes of subsection (1).

(4) (a) By applying to the district court of the county in which the bank is located or to the judge of that court, the department may obtain an order to sell, compromise, or compound any bad or doubtful debt or claim and to sell and dispose of any assets. The sale may be made to stockholders, officers, directors, or others interested in the bank on consent of the court.

(b) In the court proceedings the bank must be made a party by notice issued on order of the court or judge, in place of summons, and served upon an officer of the bank if there is an officer in the county.

(5) If the federal deposit insurance corporation is appointed as the liquidating agent, subsection (4) does not apply.

32-1-516. Recourse of aggrieved bank — injunction. (1) A bank aggrieved by the action of the department in taking possession of its assets or closing its doors may, within 10 days after possession has been taken, apply to the district court of the county in which its principal place of business is located, or to the judge of that court in chambers, to enjoin further proceedings by the department.

(2) The court or the judge in chambers, after notifying the department to appear at a specified time and place to show cause why further proceedings should not be enjoined and after hearing the allegations and proofs of the parties and determining facts, may on the merits dismiss the application or enjoin the department from further proceeding and direct it to surrender the business and assets of the bank.

(3) The application for injunction may be heard at any time after 5 days' notice from the time of service on the department, in the discretion of the court, or at any time prior to then by the consent of the department.

(4) Application shall be made on the verified complaint of the bank, in the form used in civil actions, and a copy of the complaint shall be served on the department with the order to show cause.

(5) The department shall, at least 2 days before the time set for hearing, file with the court and serve upon counsel for plaintiff an answer to the complaint, also in the form used in civil actions. Any questions raised by motion in other actions may be raised in the answer.

(6) On the issues raised by the complaint and answer, the court or the judge at chambers, at the time fixed for showing cause, shall try the matter on the merits by hearing the allegations and proofs of the parties and shall enter judgment, as in the trial of other civil actions.

(7) If the department makes no appearance in the time allowed, the court shall enter its default and proceed to hear the proofs of the plaintiff as in civil actions under similar circumstances and enter judgment accordingly. The judgment entered either after hearing on the merits or by default is a final judgment.

(8) During the pendency of litigation the department shall take that action in relation to the assets of the bank which is necessary to conserve them.

32-1-517. Department may retain bank employees — liquidating agent's salary and expenses. (1) The department may retain those officers or employees of the bank which it considers necessary. It shall require from the agent appointed by it and from those assistants who have charge of any of the assets of the bank that security for the faithful discharge of their duties as it considers proper.

(2) The salary of a liquidating agent and necessary clerical assistance and other expenses incurred by a liquidating agent shall be borne equally and ratably by the bank or banks in process of liquidation under the agent's charge in proportion to the total amount of resources of each of the banks. The funds for those expenses shall be raised by assessing each bank in ratio herein set forth and paying those expenses direct to the persons entitled to them, without depositing any of the funds in the state treasury.

32-1-531. Notice to creditors of insolvent bank. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), the department shall give notice by advertisement in a newspaper of general circulation in the town or city in which the bank is situated, if there is one, and, if not, then in some other newspaper published in this state, which the department shall designate, once a week for 2 successive weeks. The notice must call on all persons who have claims against the bank to present them to the department or its authorized agent at a place specified in the notice and to make sworn proof, in a form to be fixed by the department, within the time specified in the notice, not less than 90 days from the date of the first publication. A copy of the notice must be mailed to all persons whose names appear as creditors upon the books of the bank.

(2) If the federal deposit insurance corporation is appointed as the liquidating agent, the provisions of subsection (1) do not apply and notice to creditors must be given pursuant to federal law.

(2) If a claim is rejected or an order of priority allowed lower than that claimed, notice must be given the claimant personally or by certified mail and an affidavit of the service of the notice, which is prima facie evidence of service, must be filed in the office of the department.

(3) The action of the department is final unless an action is brought by the claimant against the bank in the district court of the county in which the bank is located within 90 days after service. An appeal from the department's allowance may also be taken by any party in interest by serving notice on the department, stating the grounds of objection and filing it in that court within 30 days after allowance.

(4) Within 5 days after the notice, the department shall file in the court and serve on the appellant a copy of the claim and its reasons for allowance.

(5) The court shall, after 5 days' notice of time and place of hearing on the issues raised, hear the proof of the parties and enter judgment reversing, affirming, or modifying the department's action.

(6) If the federal deposit insurance corporation is appointed as the liquidating agent, the provisions of subsections (1) through (5) do not apply and notice to creditors must be given pursuant to federal law.

32-1-533. Payment of claims. (1) Claims presented to the department prior to the expiration of the time fixed in the notice to creditors and allowed by it shall be paid in the order of priority fixed in this chapter.

(2) Those filed after that expiration and within 1 year of that expiration are entitled, after they have been allowed by the department, to share in the distribution of the assets of the bank only to the extent of the assets undistributed in the hands of the department and available for the payment of claims of their order of priority at the time the claims are filed. As against other claims of the same order of priority on which dividends have been paid, they are entitled to payment in a proportionate amount before further payments are made on those other claims.

(3) All claims filed after the expiration of 1 year following the date fixed in the notice to creditors as the time for presentation of claims are not entitled to be allowed or paid unless all other creditors' claims of any kind, except claims of shareholders based on stock or assessments paid on stock, have been fully paid and a surplus remains in the hands of the department and then only from that surplus.

32-1-534. Claims — order of payment — priorities. (1) Except as otherwise provided by the Uniform Commercial Code, the order of payment of the debts of a bank liquidated by the department is as follows:

(a) the expense of liquidation, including compensation of agents, employees, and attorneys;

(b) all funds of any other bank in process of liquidation by the department and placed on deposit by the department;

(c) all funds held by the bank in trust;

(d) debts due depositors or holders of cashier's checks, certified checks, and drafts on correspondent banks, including protest fees paid by them on valid checks or drafts presented after closing of the bank, pro rata. All deposit balances of other banks or trust companies and all deposits of public funds of every kind (except those actually placed on special deposit under the statutes providing for deposit), including those of the United States, the state of Montana, and every county, district, municipality, political subdivision, or public corporation of this state, whether secured or unsecured or whether deposited in violation of law or otherwise, are included within the terms of this subsection (1)(d) and take the same priority as debts due any other depositor. Accrued interest on savings accounts, certificates of deposit, or other interest-bearing contracts, up to the time of the closing of the bank, is considered as part of the debt due.

(e) interest on the classes of claims contained in subsections (1)(a) through (1)(d) without regard to the priority computed from the date of closing of the bank at the rate of 7% a year;

(f) unliquidated claims for damages and similar claims, including claims of stockholders for amounts claimed to have been voluntarily advanced to the bank or paid in by way of special or voluntary or other assessments.

(2) The department may, in its discretion, without regard to the priorities fixed in subsections (1)(c) through (1)(f) or in preference to the payment of any claims of creditors within these subsections, pay off and discharge any lien, claim, or charge against the assets or property of the bank in its hands and pay those sums it considers necessary for the preservation, maintenance, conservation, and protection of those assets and property and property on which the bank has liens by mortgage or otherwise. The department may create a fund or retain, in preference to the claim of any creditors in subsections (1)(c) through (1)(f), money for those purposes.

(3) Collateral that has been put up or pledged as security for the payment of bills payable by a bank or loans or discounts that have been outstanding as rediscounts of a bank prior to the closing of it is not available to the other creditors of the bank in whole or in part until the bills payable or rediscounts have been retired, after which offsets as provided in this section must be allowed.

(4) Deposits of a person, firm, or corporation in a bank that is in the possession of the department may be offset against any indebtedness (subject to the conditions of subsection (3)), except assessments on stock, due to the bank from that person, firm, or corporation. All dividends when declared in favor of a creditor of the bank may be applied, in the discretion of the department, in satisfaction of the indebtedness, if any, due the bank from the creditor.

32-1-535. Claims — partial payments — assignments. (1) The department need not await the expiration of the time allowed for filing claims, as fixed in the notice to the creditors, for the payment of dividends. It may, in its discretion and if under the circumstances of the particular case it considers it expedient and safe, at any time after taking possession of the bank and prior to the expiration of the period fixed for filing of claims, if it has on hand in cash sufficient funds over and above the expenses of liquidation, make pro rata distribution to any class of creditors next entitled to distribution, in the order of priority fixed in this chapter, making that payment to the creditors as they appear on the books and records of the bank and determining the priority and basing its apportionment on the amount shown to be due by the books and records.

(2) At any time after the expiration of the date fixed for the presentation of claims against the bank and from time to time thereafter when, in its discretion, there are sufficient funds available, the department shall, after making proper provisions for the payment of expenses of liquidation, declare and pay dividends to all creditors of the bank pro rata in the order of their priority. If, after the time fixed for presentation of claims against the bank has expired, it appears that a person, prior to the expiration of the period or at any other time, has been paid more than the pro rata amount due him as compared with the amounts then paid other creditors, nothing more may be paid that creditor until the payment made other creditors places them on equal footing.

(3) In calculating dividends, all disputed claims and deposits shall be taken into account and the amount of dividends upon the disputed claims or deposits shall be held by the department until the validity of those claims or deposits has been finally determined.

(4) Claims against a bank in process of liquidation may be assigned in whole or in part subject to the approval of the department. Assignments of claims are binding upon the department only after they have been filed and allowed by the department and are subject to the payment of the assignor's liabilities to the bank. An assignment shall be made by filing written notice, signed by the original claimant, with the department or person in charge of the bank. No assigned claims may be offset against obligations due the bank. A check or draft drawn against a bank closed or taken possession of by the department, whether issued before or after closing, may not be recognized as a claim against the bank or as an assignment of any amount, whether protested or not protested.

Along with this certificate, the department shall transmit to the state treasurer the funds, with accumulated interest on them, that it has held in trust for 6 months. A copy of the certificate must also be filed with the state auditor, who shall make a record of it.

(2) The state treasurer shall deposit the funds and interest in the general fund.

(3) A depositor or creditor of a liquidated bank who has not been paid the amount standing to the person's credit as certified to the state treasurer may apply to the department for the amount due. The depositor or creditor shall make an affidavit and offer proof of identity and of the amount due. When satisfied as to the correctness of the claim and of the identity of the person, the department shall forward it to the state treasurer who shall audit the claim and, if found correct, certify the claim to the department. If the department approves the claim, it shall pay the claim to the depositor or creditor.

32-1-538. Disposition of assets remaining after payment of claims. (1) Except as provided in subsection (4), when the department has paid to each depositor and creditor of the bank whose claims have been approved and allowed as provided in this chapter the amount due on them or made satisfactory adjustment of them and has made provisions for unclaimed and unpaid deposits and disputed claims and deposits and has paid all the expenses of liquidation, it shall file a report of its administration of the trust with the clerk of the district court of the county in which the bank is located. If there are remaining assets on hand, the department may apply to the judge of that court for an order authorizing it to surrender the remaining assets, together with all the stationery, correspondence, books, and records kept by the bank while it was a going concern, to the directors of the bank in office at the time of closing it, as trustees for stockholders, or to some other person, if any, designated as trustee by a majority of the stockholders. The report and petition must be set for hearing upon notice that the court may direct. Upon hearing and approval of the report and account and the surrender of the assets as directed, the department is discharged from all further liability or responsibility in connection with the assets and affairs of the bank. The court may, if requested, require the trustees to give bond in an amount the court may fix, conditioned for the faithful performance of their duties. The trustee or trustees shall complete the liquidation of any remaining assets and may sell and dispose of real and personal property as rapidly as possible and shall distribute the proceeds among the stockholders as their rights may appear or dispose of the proceeds in some other manner as the stockholders by majority action direct. The court may upon request of a majority of the stockholders order the department to close up the trust as provided in subsection (2).

(2) If the assets of the bank are insufficient for making payments in full to the depositors and creditors of the bank, then, when the department has liquidated all available assets and disbursed them as provided by law, the department shall file a final report of its liquidation of the bank with the clerk of court of the county in which the bank is located. Upon notice that the court may order, the report must be set for hearing before the court and, if found correct and all funds accounted for, the court shall approve it. The department may at the same time and in the report make application to the district court of the county in which the bank is located for an order directing the closing of the trust, and upon entry of the order closing the trust, the department is discharged from all further liability or responsibility in connection with the assets and affairs of the bank. The charter of the bank must be forfeited and all the stationery, correspondence, books, and records kept by the bank while it was a going concern and considered by the department to be of no value may be destroyed. However, correspondence or records may not be destroyed until 10 years after the date the bank ceased to be a going concern.

(3) On application for orders as provided in this section, the bank must be made a party by notice issued on order of the court or judge and served in a manner the court directs and applications authorized by this section may be heard at any time upon not less than 5 days' posted or served notice of the hearing.

(4) If the federal deposit insurance corporation is appointed as the liquidating agent, the reporting and district court approval requirements of subsections (1) through (3) do not apply.

(1) Except as provided in subsection (3), after taking possession of a bank for the purpose of liquidation, the liquidating officer may as soon as the officer ascertains that the assets of the bank will be insufficient to pay its debts and liabilities, proceed to collect and enforce the stockholders' liability. For that purpose, the officer may institute and maintain in the officer's own name as liquidating officer appropriate suits or actions in any state or federal court of competent jurisdiction. The liquidating officer may receive and receipt for money received on account of stockholders' liability, and any money paid to the liquidating officer by a stockholder in whole or partial satisfaction of the stockholder's liability is not considered paid voluntarily but gives the stockholder the same protection to the extent of the amount paid as if the payments were made after suit by a creditor or the liquidating officer. The liquidating officer may, with the consent of the court having jurisdiction of the liquidation, compromise, settle, and compound claims for stockholders' liability, and the settlements and compromises when approved by the court are legal and binding upon all parties concerned, including creditors.

(2) (a) Except as provided in subsection (2)(b), all sums collected by a liquidating officer on account of stockholders' liability, either received from voluntary payments or collected by suits, settlements, or compromises, must be distributed to the creditors of the bank according to their several rights in the same proportion as the amount of a given claim of a creditor bears to the amount of the claims of all creditors and without regard to the rank or class or character of claims and without diminution.

(b) The liquidating officer may deduct from amounts collected the court costs or attorney fees (the attorney fees to be allowed for not more than 10% of the amount collected, provided that the 10% allowed for attorney fees may not apply to collections that are made outside of the state of Montana) and other expenses incurred by the officer in the prosecution of any action for collection.

(3) If the federal deposit insurance corporation is appointed as the liquidating agent, the reporting and district court approval requirements of subsections (1) and (2) do not apply.

(1) For the purpose of this section the term "liquidating officer" includes every person legally empowered to liquidate the business and affairs of a state bank, whether the liquidation is by the department or its deputies and agents. The term also includes all receivers of state banks qualified to liquidate a state bank under any law of this state.

(2) The liquidating officer of a bank may decide when the assets of a failed bank are not sufficient to pay the debts, contracts, engagements, and liabilities and may determine the time when and the court where necessary legal proceedings are conducted, subject to the general provisions of law governing venue and place of trial.

(3) The provisions of 32-1-551 through 32-1-553 do not impose liability on a stockholder of a bank that is a member of the federal deposit insurance corporation.

32-1-553. Department to file inventory — report required — exception. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), the department shall, within 90 days after taking charge of an insolvent bank, file with the district court having jurisdiction a complete inventory of all of the property and assets of the insolvent bank, such as furniture, fixtures, real estate, mortgages, bonds, and notes, secured and unsecured. The department shall every 6 months, or more often if required by the court, file with the court a report showing the status of the liquidation of the bank, the assets that have been liquidated and collected, the amounts and manner of payments made to creditors, the manner in which claims have been handled, and the assets on hand. The report must contain other information the court requires, so that the court and the public may be apprised of the condition of the bank and the manner in which it is being liquidated with respect to the collection and sale of assets belonging to the bank and the manner in which claims are being paid. The report and account must be set for hearing upon the notice the court may require and, if found to be correct, be approved by the court.

(2) If the federal deposit insurance corporation is appointed as the liquidating agent, subsection (1) does not apply.

32-1-561. Definitions. As used in 32-1-562 through 32-1-565, unless the context requires otherwise, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Bank" includes commercial banks, savings banks, trust companies, any person or association of persons lawfully carrying on the business of banking, whether incorporated or not, and, to the extent that the provisions of 32-1-562 through 32-1-565 are not inconsistent with and do not infringe upon paramount federal law, also includes national banks.

(2) "Emergency" means any condition or occurrence which may interfere physically with the conduct of normal business operations at any of the offices of a bank or which poses an imminent or existing threat to the safety or security of persons or property or both. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, an emergency may arise as a result of any of the following:

(a) fire;
(b) flood;
(c) earthquake;
(d) hurricanes;
(e) wind, rain, or snowstorms;
(f) labor disputes and strikes;
(g) power failures;
(h) transportation failures;
(i) interruption of communication facilities;
(j) shortages of fuel, housing, food, transportation, or labor;
(k) robbery or attempted robbery;
(l) actual or threatened enemy attack;
(m) epidemics or other catastrophes;
(n) riots, civil commotions, and other acts of lawlessness or violence, actual or threatened.

(3) "Office" means any place at which a bank transacts its business or conducts operations related to its business.

(4) "Officer" means the person or persons designated by the board of directors, board of trustees, or other governing body of a bank to act for the bank in carrying out the provisions of 32-1-562 through 32-1-565 or, in the absence of a designation or of the officer or officers designated, the president or any other officer currently in charge of the bank or of the office or offices involved.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 32, L. 1971; amd. Sec. 38, Ch. 431, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 5-1058.

32-1-562. Power of department. When the department is of the opinion that an emergency exists or is impending in this state or in any part of this state, it may, by proclamation, authorize banks located in the affected area to close any of their offices. In addition, if the department is of the opinion that an emergency exists or is impending which affects or may affect a particular bank or banks, or a particular office or offices thereof, but not banks located in the area generally, it may authorize the particular bank or banks or office or offices so affected to close. The office or offices so closed shall remain closed until the department proclaims that the emergency has ended or until such earlier time as the officers of the bank determine that one or more offices theretofore closed because of the emergency should reopen and, in either event, for such further time thereafter as may reasonably be required to reopen.

32-1-563. Powers of officers. (1) When the officers of a bank are of the opinion that an emergency exists or is impending which affects or may affect any of a bank's offices, they may, in the reasonable and proper exercise of their discretion, determine not to open any of those offices on any banking day or, if having opened, to close any of those offices during the continuation of the emergency, even if the department has not issued and does not issue a proclamation of emergency. An office so closed shall remain closed until the officers determine that the emergency has ended and for a further time thereafter as may reasonably be required to reopen. However, in no case shall an office remain closed for more than 48 consecutive hours, excluding other legal holidays, without requesting the approval of the department.

(2) The officers of a bank may close any of the bank's offices on any day:

(a) designated by proclamation of the president of the United States or the governor of this state as a day of mourning, rejoicing, or other special observance; or

(b) that the federal reserve bank of Minneapolis is not open for business.

32-1-605. Examinations by the corporation — accepted when. (1) The department may accept, in its discretion, in place of any examination authorized by the laws of this state to be conducted by the department of a banking institution, the examination made of it within a reasonable period by the federal deposit insurance corporation, if a signed copy of the examination is furnished to the department. The department may also, in its discretion, accept a report relative to the condition of a banking institution obtained by the corporation within a reasonable period, in place of a report authorized by the laws of this state to be required of the institution by the department, if a copy of the report is furnished to the department. The department may, in its discretion, disclose to the corporation, or an official or examiner thereof, any information possessed by the department with reference to the conditions or affairs of an insured institution.

(2) The department may furnish to the corporation, or to an official or examiner thereof, a copy or copies of any examinations made of those banking institutions and of any reports made by them.

(3) Nothing in this section limits the duty of any banking institution in this state, deposits in which are to any extent insured under the Federal Deposit Insurance Act or any substitution for it, to comply with the provisions of that act, its substitutions, or the requirements of that corporation relative to examinations and reports or limits the powers of the department with reference to examinations and reports under existing law.

32-1-802. Definitions. As used in this part, the following definitions apply:

(1) (a) "Affiliated bank", with respect to a subsidiary trust company, means any bank incorporated under the laws of this state and any national banking association having its main office in this state, more than 50% of the voting stock of which is owned by the same owning bank holding company that owns more than 50% of the voting stock of the subsidiary trust company.

(b) Affiliated bank, with respect to another bank which is not a subsidiary trust company, means any bank incorporated under the laws of this state and any national banking association having its main office located in this state, more than 50% of the stock of which is owned by the same owning bank holding company that owns more than 50% of the voting stock of such other bank.

(2) "Fiduciary capacity" means a capacity resulting from a bank undertaking to act alone or jointly with others primarily for the benefit of another in all matters connected with its undertaking and includes the capacities of trustee (including trustee of a common trust fund), executor, administrator, personal representative, registrar, or transfer agent with respect to stocks, bonds, or other evidences of indebtedness of any corporation, association, municipality, state or public authority, guardian of estates, receiver, conservator, escrow agent, agent for the investment of money, attorney-in-fact, and any other similar capacity.

(3) "Main office", with respect to a subsidiary trust company or an affiliated bank, is the place designated in the articles of incorporation or articles of association of that subsidiary trust company or affiliated bank at which its principal functions are to be conducted.

(4) "Owning bank holding company", with respect to a subsidiary trust company or an affiliated bank, means a bank holding company as defined in the United States Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, as amended.

(5) "Subsidiary trust company" means any corporation which is incorporated under the banking laws of this state and any national banking association having its main office in this state, more than 50% of the voting stock of which is owned by an owning bank holding company and which has as its purposes any one or more of the purposes described in 32-1-107, except that a subsidiary trust company may not be empowered to accept deposits or otherwise to conduct commercial banking business.

(6) (a) "Trust office", with respect to a subsidiary trust company, means an office, including the main office, of the subsidiary trust company maintained for the purpose of conducting its business.

(b) Trust office, with respect to a bank which is not a subsidiary trust company, means an office other than the main office of that bank maintained solely for the purpose of conducting trust business as described in 32-1-804.

History: En. 5-1502 by Sec. 2, Ch. 401, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 5-1502.

32-1-807. Transfer of fiduciary relationships from affiliated banks to subsidiary trust companies. (1) Upon any subsidiary trust company being duly authorized to commence the business for which it is organized, such subsidiary trust company may file its verified application in the district court of the county in which its main office is located requesting that it be substituted, except as may be expressly excluded in such application, in every fiduciary capacity for each of its affiliated banks specified in the application, and each such specified affiliated bank shall join in such application. Such application shall indicate the county wherein the main office of each affiliated bank joining in the application is located and shall designate each fiduciary account existing at the date thereof with respect to which such subsidiary trust company requests substitution, but fiduciary capacities in other cases need not be listed. Such application shall additionally set forth, with regard to each existing fiduciary account designated therein, the name and address last known to the applicant of each person entitled to mailed notice of hearing thereon, to wit:

(a) in the case of an existing fiduciary account which may be revoked, terminated, or amended, each person who, alone or together with others, is empowered to revoke, terminate, or amend the same;

(b) in the case of an existing fiduciary account with respect to which any person other than a court has the power to remove the corporate fiduciary, each person who, alone or together with others, is empowered to remove the corporate fiduciary;

(c) in the case of an existing fiduciary account which is an estate of a deceased person or which is a guardianship or conservatorship, to the clerk of the court in which such estate, guardianship, or conservatorship matter is pending;

(d) in the case of an existing fiduciary account not described in any of the foregoing subsections, to each income beneficiary of such account and to each beneficiary who, were such account terminated at the date of the application respecting such account, would be entitled to share in distributions of income or principal thereof; and

(e) in the case of any existing fiduciary account wherein an affiliated bank specified in the application is acting with a cofiduciary, to each such cofiduciary at his last known address.

(2) When any such application shall have been filed, the clerk of the court where filed shall make an order fixing a date and time for hearing thereon and give notice thereof as hereinafter provided. The clerk of court shall cause a copy of such notice to be published at least once a week for 3 successive weeks preceding the hearing date, the first such publication to be at least 25 days preceding the hearing date, such publication to be in a newspaper of general circulation published in each county in which the main office of an affiliated bank specified in the application is located or, if in any case there be no such newspaper, then in a newspaper of general circulation published in a contiguous county. In addition, at least 25 days preceding the hearing date, the clerk of the court shall cause a copy of such notice to be mailed by first-class mail to each person identified in the application as being entitled to mailed notice under the provisions of this part, at his address last known to the applicant as set forth in the application.

(3) The notice to be published and mailed with respect to each such application shall state the time and place of the hearing thereon, the name of the subsidiary trust company which has filed the application, the name of each affiliated bank which has joined in such application, that the application requests that the subsidiary trust company be substituted in every fiduciary capacity for each of its affiliated banks specified in the application, and that any person beneficially interested in any affected fiduciary account may appear on or before the date of hearing and file his written objection to such substitution as to such affected fiduciary account, and such notice shall refer to such application for further particulars.

(4) On or before the date and time of hearing any such application, any person beneficially interested in any fiduciary account as to which substitution of the subsidiary trust company is requested may appear and file objection to substitution and shall be entitled to be heard with respect to such objection.

(5) On such date of hearing, upon finding that due notice has been given as required by this part and upon finding that the subsidiary trust company has been duly authorized to commence the business for which it is organized by the department or the comptroller of the currency if the subsidiary trust company is a national banking association, the district court shall enter an order substituting the subsidiary trust company in every fiduciary capacity for each of its specified affiliated banks, excepting as may be otherwise specified in the application and excepting fiduciary capacities in any account with respect to which an objection has been filed pursuant to this section. Upon entry of such order, the subsidiary trust company shall, without further act, be substituted in every such fiduciary capacity. Such substitution may be made a matter of record in any county of this state by filing a certified copy of the order of substitution in the office of the clerk of any district court in this state or by filing a certified copy of such order in the office of the clerk and recorder of any county in this state to be by such officer recorded and indexed in like manner and with like effect as other orders and decrees of court are recorded and indexed.

(6) Each designation, in a will or other instrument heretofore or hereafter executed, of a bank as fiduciary shall be deemed a designation of the subsidiary trust company substituted for such bank pursuant to this section except where such will or other instrument is executed after such substitution and expressly negates the application of this section. Any grant in any such will or other instrument of any discretionary power shall be deemed conferred upon the subsidiary trust company deemed designated as the fiduciary pursuant to this section.

(7) A bank shall account jointly with the subsidiary trust company which has been substituted as fiduciary for such bank pursuant to this section for the accounting period during which the subsidiary trust company is initially so substituted. Upon substitution pursuant to this section, the bank shall deliver to the subsidiary trust company all assets held by the bank as fiduciary (except assets held for accounts with respect to which there has been no substitution pursuant to this section), and upon such substitution all such assets shall become the property of the subsidiary trust company without the necessity of any instrument of transfer or conveyance.

32-1-808. Transfer of fiduciary relationships between affiliated banks. (1) Any bank which has received approval pursuant to 32-1-806 to maintain a trust office in the same building with the main office of any affiliated bank may file its verified application in the district court of the county in which its main office is located requesting that it be substituted, except as may be expressly excluded in such application, in every fiduciary capacity for such affiliated bank, and such affiliated bank shall join in such application. Such application shall indicate the county wherein the main office of such affiliated bank is located and shall designate each fiduciary account existing at the date thereof with respect to which the applicant bank requests substitution, but fiduciary capacities in other cases need not be listed. Such application shall additionally set forth, with regard to each existing fiduciary account designated therein, the name and address last known to the applicant of each person entitled to mailed notice of hearing thereon, who shall be those persons specified in subsections (1)(a) through (1)(e) of 32-1-807.

(2) When any such application has been filed, the clerk of the court where filed shall make an order fixing a date and time for hearing thereon and shall cause notice thereof to be given by publication and mailing in the manner required by 32-1-807.

(3) The notice to be published and mailed with respect to each application shall state the time and place of the hearing thereon, the name of the bank which has filed the application, the name of the affiliated bank which has joined in such application, that the application requests that the applicant bank be substituted in every fiduciary capacity for the affiliated bank specified in the application, and that any person beneficially interested in any affected fiduciary account may appear on or before the date of hearing and file his written objection to such substitution as to such affected fiduciary account, and such notice shall refer to such application for further particulars.

(4) On or before the date and time of hearing any such application, any person beneficially interested in any fiduciary account as to which substitution of the applicant bank is requested may appear and file objection to substitution and shall be entitled to be heard with respect to such objection.

(5) On such date of hearing, upon finding that due notice has been given as required by this part and upon finding that the applicant bank has received the requisite approval from the department or the comptroller of the currency if the applicant bank is a national banking association, the district court shall enter an order substituting the applicant bank in every fiduciary capacity for the affiliated bank designated in the application, excepting as may be otherwise specified in the application and excepting fiduciary capacities in any account with respect to which an objection has been filed pursuant to this section. Upon entry of such order, the applicant bank shall, without further act, be substituted in every such fiduciary capacity. Such substitution may be made a matter of record in any county of this state by filing a certified copy of the order of substitution in the office of the clerk of any district court in this state or by filing a certified copy of such order in the office of the clerk and recorder of any county in this state to be by such officer recorded and indexed in like manner and with like effect as other orders and decrees of court are recorded and indexed.

(6) Each designation, in a will or other instrument heretofore or hereafter executed, of a bank as fiduciary shall be deemed a designation of the applicant bank substituted for such bank pursuant to this section except where such will or other instrument is executed after such substitution and expressly negates the application of this section. Any grant in any such will or other such instrument of any discretionary power shall be deemed conferred upon the applicant bank deemed designated as the fiduciary pursuant to this section.

(7) A bank shall account jointly with the applicant bank which has been substituted as fiduciary for such bank pursuant to this section for the accounting period during which the applicant bank is initially so substituted. Upon substitution pursuant to this section, the affiliated bank for which substitution has been made shall deliver to such applicant bank all assets held by such affiliated bank as fiduciary (except assets held for accounts with respect of which there has been no substitution pursuant to this section) and upon such substitution all such assets shall become the property of such applicant bank without the necessity of any instrument of transfer or conveyance.

32-1-901. Definitions. For purposes of this part, the following definitions shall apply:

(1) "Board member" means a member of the board of directors of the institution.

(2) "Cease and desist order which has become final" and "order which has become final" mean a cease and desist order or an order issued by the director with the consent of the institution or the board member, officer, or other person concerned, with respect to which:

(a) a timely petition for review of the action of the director has not been filed in a district court as specified in 32-1-908(2); or

(b) the action of the court in which a petition for review has been filed is not subject to further review by the courts of the state.

(3) "Director" means the director of the department of administration.

(4) "Institution" means a commercial bank, savings bank, trust company, or investment company chartered under Title 32, chapter 1.

(5) "Violation" includes without limitation any action, alone or with others, causing, counseling, aiding, or abetting a violation.

32-1-902. Notice of charges — hearing — cease and desist order — effective date. (1) If the director has reasonable cause to believe that any institution is engaging or has engaged or is about to engage in an unsafe or unsound practice in conducting the business of such institution or is violating, has violated, or is about to violate a law or rule, the director may issue and serve upon the institution a notice of charges in respect thereof. The notice shall contain a statement of the facts constituting the alleged unsafe or unsound practice or violation and shall fix a time and place at which a hearing will be held to determine whether an order to cease and desist therefrom should issue against the institution.

(2) The hearing may not be earlier than 30 days or later than 60 days after service of the notice unless an earlier or a later date is set by the director at the request of the institution. Unless the institution appears at the hearing by a duly authorized representative, it shall be considered to have consented to the issuance of the cease and desist order. In the event of such consent or if upon the record made at any such hearing the director finds that any unsafe or unsound practice or violation specified in the notice of charges has been established by the preponderance of the evidence, the director may issue and serve upon the institution an order to cease and desist from any such practice or violation. By provisions which may be mandatory or otherwise, the order may require the institution and its board members, officers, employees, and agents to cease and desist from such practice or violation and to take affirmative action to correct the conditions resulting from any such practice or violation.

32-1-903. Informal conferences — time for application. Within 15 days after service of the notice of charges, either the institution or department may request an informal conference to discuss the charges and the possible disposition of them without a formal hearing process. The conference shall be carried out in accordance with the provisions of 2-4-603. Upon a proper showing, the director in his discretion may withdraw charges and proceedings for a cease and desist order.

32-1-904. Temporary cease and desist order — grounds for issuance — effective date — injunctive relief. (1) Whenever the director determines that any violation or threatened violation or any unsafe or unsound practice specified in the notice of charges served upon the institution pursuant to 32-1-902(1) or the continuation thereof is likely to cause insolvency or substantial dissipation of assets or earnings of the institution or is likely to otherwise seriously prejudice the interests of its depositors, the director may issue a temporary order requiring the institution to cease and desist from such violation or practice. Such order shall contain a statement of the facts constituting the alleged violation or unsafe or unsound practice. The order is effective upon service upon the institution and unless set aside, limited, or suspended by a court in proceedings authorized by subsection (2) of this section remains effective and enforceable until the completion of the administrative proceedings pursuant to such notice of charges, until the director dismisses the charges specified in the notice, or until a cease and desist order which is issued against the institution after the hearing becomes effective.

(2) Within 10 days after the institution has been served with a temporary cease and desist order, the institution may apply to the district court for the county in which the home office of the institution is located for an injunction setting aside, limiting, or suspending the enforcement, operation, or effectiveness of the order pending the completion of the administrative proceedings held pursuant to the notice of charges served upon the institution under 32-1-902(1). The court has jurisdiction to issue the injunction.

32-1-905. Notice of intention to remove board member or officer or to prohibit participation — suspension. (1) The director may serve upon a board member or officer of an institution a written notice of intention to remove him from office whenever the director has reasonable cause to believe:

(a) the board member or officer has:

(i) committed any violation of law involving dishonesty or breach of trust;

(ii) violated a cease and desist order which has become final;

(iii) engaged or participated in any unsafe or unsound practice in connection with the institution; or

(iv) committed or engaged in any act, omission, or practice which constitutes a breach of his fiduciary duty as a board member or officer of the institution; and

(b) the institution has suffered or will probably suffer substantial financial loss or other damage or the interest of its depositors could be seriously prejudiced by reason of the violation, practice, or breach of fiduciary duty involving personal dishonesty on the part of such board member or officer.

(2) Whenever in the opinion of the director any board member or officer of an institution has, by conduct or practice with respect to another institution or business organization which has resulted in substantial financial loss or other damage to that institution or business organization, evidenced his personal disability and unfitness to continue as a board member or officer of the institution, and whenever the director has reasonable cause to believe that any other person participating in the conduct of the affairs of an institution has, by conduct or practice with respect to such institution, another institution, or other business organization which has resulted in substantial financial loss or other damage to the institution or business organization, evidenced his personal disability and unfitness to participate in the conduct of the affairs of such institution, the director may serve upon the board member, officer, or other person a written notice of intention to remove such person from office or to prohibit his further participation in any manner in the conduct of the affairs of the institution.

(3) A notice of intention to remove a board member, officer, or other person from office or to prohibit his participation in the conduct of the affairs of an institution shall contain a statement of the facts constituting grounds therefor, and shall fix a time and place at which a hearing will be held thereon. The hearing shall be held not earlier than 30 days or later than 60 days after the date of service of the notice, unless an earlier or later date is set by the director at the request of the board member, officer, or other person and for good cause shown.

(4) Unless the board member, officer, or other person appears at the hearing in person or by a duly authorized representative, he shall be considered to have consented to the issuance of an order of removal or prohibition. In the event of consent or if upon the record made at the hearing the director finds that any of the grounds specified in the notice have been established by the preponderance of the evidence, the director may issue such orders of suspension, removal from office, or prohibition from participation in the conduct of the affairs of the institution as he considers appropriate. The order becomes effective 30 days after service upon the institution and the board member, officer, or other person concerned, except in the case of an order issued upon consent which becomes effective at the time specified therein. The order remains effective and enforceable until it is stayed, modified, terminated, or set aside by action of the director or a reviewing court.

32-1-907. Suspension or prohibition effective upon service — stay. (1) With respect to any board member or officer of an institution or any other person to whom notice is sent pursuant to 32-1-905, if the director considers it necessary for the protection of the institution or the interests of its depositors that the board member, officer, or other person be suspended from office or prohibited from further participation in any manner in the conduct of the affairs of the institution, the director may serve upon such board member, officer, or other person a written notice suspending him from office or prohibiting him from further participation in any manner in the conduct of the affairs of the institution. The notice shall contain a statement of the facts constituting grounds for the order and shall fix a time, not later than 10 days from the date of the service of the notice, at which a hearing will be held to afford the board member or officer the opportunity to respond. The suspension or prohibition is effective upon service of the notice and unless stayed by a court in proceedings authorized by subsection (2) of this section shall remain in effect until the completion of the administrative proceedings pursuant to the notice served under 32-1-904, until such time as the director dismisses the charges specified in such notice, or until the order of removal or prohibition which is issued against the board member, officer, or other person becomes effective. Copies of the notice shall also be served upon the institution of which the person is a director or officer or in the conduct of whose affairs he has participated.

(2) Within 10 days after the hearing provided for in subsection (1) of this section, the board member, officer, or other person may apply to the district court for the county in which the home office of the institution is located for a stay of the suspension or prohibition pending the completion of the administrative proceedings pursuant to the notice served upon the board member, officer, or other person under 32-1-904. The court has jurisdiction to stay the suspension or prohibition.

32-1-908. Felony charges — suspension or prohibition. (1) Whenever any board member or officer of an institution or other person participating in the conduct of the affairs of an institution is charged in any information, indictment, warrant, or complaint authorized by a county, state, or federal authority with the commission of or participation in a felony involving dishonesty or breach of trust, the director by written notice served upon the board member, officer, or other person may suspend him from office or prohibit him from further participation in any manner in the conduct of the affairs of the institution. Suspension is effective upon service upon the individual. The notice shall contain a statement of the facts constituting grounds for the order and shall fix a place and time, not later than 10 days from the date of the notice, at which a hearing will be held to afford the board member or officer the opportunity to respond. A copy of the notice shall also be served upon the institution. The suspension or prohibition remains in effect until the information, indictment, warrant, or complaint is finally disposed of or until terminated by the director.

(2) Within 10 days after the hearing provided for in subsection (1) of this section, the board member, officer, or other person may apply to the district court for the county in which the home office of the institution is located for a stay of the suspension or prohibition pending the completion of the criminal proceedings initiated by the information, indictment, warrant, or complaint. The court has jurisdiction to stay the suspension or prohibition.

(3) If a judgment of conviction with respect to the offense is entered against the board member, officer, or other person and at such time as the judgment is not subject to further appellate review, the director may issue and serve upon the board member, officer, or other person an order removing him from office or prohibiting him from further participation in any manner in the conduct of the affairs of the institution except with the consent of the director. A copy of the order shall also be served upon the institution, whereupon the board member or officer shall cease to be a board member or officer of the institution. A finding of not guilty or other disposition of the charge does not preclude the director from thereafter instituting proceedings to suspend or remove the board member, officer, or other person from office or to prohibit further participation in the affairs of the institution pursuant to 32-1-905 or 32-1-906.

The hearing shall be private unless the director, after fully considering the views of the party afforded the hearing, determines that a public hearing is necessary to protect the public interest. After the hearing and within 90 days after the director has notified the parties that the case has been submitted to him for final decision, he shall render his decision, which shall include findings of fact upon which his decision is predicated, and shall issue and serve upon each party to the proceeding an order consistent with the provisions of this section.

(2) Any party to the hearing or any person required by an order issued under this part to cease and desist from any of the violations or practices stated therein or any person suspended, removed, or prohibited from participation in the conduct of the affairs of an institution may obtain a review of any order, other than a consent order, which review shall be pursuant to the Montana Administrative Procedure Act. Unless a petition for review is timely filed as provided in the Montana Administrative Procedure Act, the director, at any time, upon such notice and in such manner as he considers proper, may modify, terminate, or set aside the order. Upon the timely filing of a petition for review, the director may modify, terminate, or set aside the order with the permission of the court.

32-1-1002. Appointment of foreign trust companies. (1) A foreign trust company from a state offering reciprocity, as provided in subsection (2), may accept an appointment and act as:

(a) the trustee of any trust created by will, indenture, or other instrument by a person residing in this state, a corporation with its principal offices in this state, or a political entity located in this state;

(b) a guardian or conservator of the person, estate, or both person and estate of any resident of this state;

(c) an executor of the will or administrator of the estate of a decedent who was a resident of the state in which the foreign trust company maintains its principal office at the time of death, in ancillary probate proceedings in this state; and

(d) a guardian or conservator in ancillary proceedings in this state with respect to the property of a resident of the state in which the foreign trust company maintains its principal office.

(2) A foreign trust company may accept appointments in this state if banking or trust associations or corporations organized under the laws of this state or national banking associations that maintain their principal offices in this state are permitted to act as trustees, guardians, or conservators in the state in which the foreign trust company maintains its principal office.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 290, L. 1993.

32-1-1003. Designation of attorney for service of process. Before accepting an appointment or acting as a trustee, guardian, or conservator, a foreign trust company shall appoint the secretary of state as its attorney for the service of all legal process in any action or proceedings involving any acts or defaults by it as trustee, guardian, or conservator. The appointment is irrevocable. Service upon the secretary of state as attorney is as valid and binding as if personal service were made upon the foreign trust company.

Service of process under this part may be made by delivering a copy of the papers to be served to the secretary of state personally or by filing a copy in the secretary of state's office, accompanied by one additional copy for each foreign trust company to be served. The secretary of state shall, no later than the business day following the date of service, mail to each served foreign trust company, by certified mail, a copy of papers that were served. The copies must be mailed to the address shown for each foreign trust company in the records of the office of the secretary of state.

32-1-1005. Bond. Before accepting an appointment or acting as a trustee, guardian, or conservator, a foreign trust company shall file a bond with a court of competent jurisdiction in an amount as the court directs, with sufficient sureties, conditioned on the faithful discharge of its duties as trustee, guardian, or conservator. In lieu of the bond, the foreign trust company shall certify, in a manner acceptable to the department of administration, that the capital stock of the foreign trust company is fully paid in cash, on deposit with an appropriate bank, and is of a sufficient amount to meet the requirements of 32-1-307 for a trust company organized under the laws of this state. The deposit must be maintained until the foreign trust company ceases to act as trustee, guardian, or conservator under this part. A foreign trust company is not required to file a bond or certify the deposit of its capital with respect to a trust, created other than a trust created by a will, if the trust instrument requests or directs that a bond is not required of the trustee.

General Provisions

32-2-101. Purpose — definitions. (1) A corporation operated for the purpose of encouraging home ownership and thrift and making substantially all of its loans on real estate mortgage security is known in this chapter as a building and loan association or a savings and loan association and is under the supervision of the department, which shall enforce all laws with respect to it.

(2) The associations have continual succession and must be organized under the provisions of this chapter.

(3) When used in this chapter, the following definitions apply:

(a) "Building and loan association" includes savings and loan associations organized under this chapter.

(b) "Capital stock" means the aggregate of shares of nonwithdrawable capital issues by a capital stock association.

(c) "Department" means the department of administration provided for in Title 2, chapter 15, part 10.

(d) (i) "Member" means:

(A) a person holding a savings account of a mutual association;

(B) a person borrowing from or assuming or obligated upon a loan or an interest in a loan held by the association;

(C) a person purchasing property securing a loan or interest in the loan held by the association; or

(D) any other person obligated to the association.

(ii) A joint, survivorship, or any other multiple owner or borrower relationship constitutes a single membership.

(e) "Mutual association" means a building and loan association formed without authority to issue stock.

(f) "Savings account" means that part of the savings liability of the association that is credited to the account of the holder and includes any form of withdrawable deposit.

(g) "Stock association" means a building and loan association formed with authority to issue stock.

(h) "Stockholder" means the holder of one or more shares of any class of capital stock of a capital stock association organized and operating pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

Cross-References

State finance — fund structure, 17-2-102.

32-2-103. Application of chapter. (1) The provisions of this chapter shall apply to and be enforceable against all corporations, persons, firms, partnerships, associations, trustees, or combinations of persons, whether foreign or domestic and whether citizens of this state or otherwise, that transact or attempt to transact a building and loan business or a business of like kind or character or where, by its or their charter, constitution, bylaws, or by a declaration of trust or other device or by a contract or agreement, the members or customers are required to pay regular installments to a common fund or series from which loans are made to said members, customers, or to others for the purpose of building homes or buildings, purchasing building sites, paying off liens or debts against real estate, or for other purposes within the boundaries of this state.

(2) The name association when used in this chapter shall be deemed to include any of the above-named.

(3) This chapter does not apply to foreign associations with relation to the purchasing of or participating in loans secured by mortgages, trust indentures, or other security interests in real or personal property if there is no activity conducted by the out-of-state lender in Montana with respect to the loan except periodic inspection of the security.

32-2-104. Conformity required. (1) The powers, rights, duties, privileges, and obligations of every association organized and doing business in a form similar to that authorized by this chapter shall be governed, controlled, construed, extended, limited, and determined by the provisions of this chapter to the same extent and effect as if the association had been organized and incorporated under or pursuant to its provisions, and the articles of incorporation, bylaws, and rules of each heretofore made or existing are hereby modified, altered, and amended to conform with the provisions of this chapter, and the same are declared void where the articles of incorporation, bylaws, or rules are inconsistent with its provisions; except that the obligations of any existing association, whether between the association and its shareholders or any one of them or any other person or persons or any valid contract between the shareholders of the association existing on May 1, 1927, shall not be in any way impaired by the provisions of this chapter.

(2) With these exceptions every building and loan association shall possess the powers, rights, duties, and privileges and be subject to the obligations, restrictions, and liabilities conferred and imposed by this chapter, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in its articles of incorporation, bylaws, or rules.

(3) All obligations to the association heretofore contracted shall be enforceable by it and in its name, and demands, claims, and rights of action against the association shall be enforced against it as fully and completely as they might have been enforced before.

(4) Except as above set forth, on and after September 7, 1927, no domestic or foreign association engaged as of March 7, 1927, in the business of a building and loan association or a business of like character shall be permitted to conduct that business in this state unless it complies in every respect with the provisions of this chapter.

History: En. Sec. 34, Ch. 57, L. 1927; re-en. Sec. 6355.35, R.C.M. 1935; amd. Sec. 81, Ch. 431, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 7-136.

32-2-111. Equality of rights. With the approval of the department, a building and loan association chartered pursuant to the laws of this state may exercise or possess any right, power, privilege, benefit, immunity, or exemption possessed by a federal savings and loan association doing business in this state that is now provided or that may be provided after April 29, 1981, by the laws of the United States or regulations of the federal home loan bank board. This grant is in addition to grants provided in and takes priority over any statute of this state. The department may exercise the discretion granted in this section by issuance of a special order upon written request from any state-chartered building and loan association with respect to any particular item and may grant such request upon such conditions as it shall determine are in the best interest of the members or depositors of the association and of the general public. The department shall require any state-chartered building and loan association seeking such special orders to obtain and maintain insurance of accounts acceptable to the department, excluding alien insurers.

32-2-201. Articles of incorporation — contents. Whenever any number of persons, not less than five, desire to incorporate a building and loan association, having for its object the conduct and operation of such an association as defined in this chapter, they shall prepare and file articles of incorporation to that effect in the manner specified in this chapter. Such articles shall be signed, sealed, and acknowledged in the form now provided by the statutes of this state for the conveyance of real estate and shall include the following:

(1) the name of the association, which may not be the same as or too closely resemble that in use by any existing corporation established under the laws of this state. The words "building and loan association" or "savings and loan association" shall form a part of the name, and a corporation not organized under this chapter may not use a name embodying that combination of words, provided that the associations existing as of May 1, 1927, may continue their present names.

(2) the principal office or place of business of the association, which shall be within this state;

(3) if a capital stock association, the aggregate number of shares which the corporation will have authority to issue;

(4) a provision that such association is organized under this chapter for the purposes herein expressed;

(5) the names and residences of the persons who subscribed and acknowledged the declaration, a majority of whom shall be citizens of this state and shall thereafter be called incorporators.

(2) The bylaws shall be in conformity with the provisions of this chapter and at all times during the regular hours of business shall be open to the inspection of the members at its principal place of business.

(3) The bylaws, among other things, shall especially provide for:

(a) the character and method of conducting the business of the association, with rules governing the addition of members, the sale of its shares, the amount of membership fee;

(b) the annual meeting of the shareholders;

(c) the annual election and qualification of directors and the term or period during which the directors shall serve, provided that the term or period for all directors shall not be less than 1 or more than 3 years and that the directors shall be so elected that as near as possible the term of an equal number shall expire each year;

(d) the appointment of officers;

(e) the adoption, ratification, and amendment of the bylaws, which adoption, ratification, and amendment may be made either by the stockholders or board of directors;

(f) the method of voting at such annual meeting; and

(g) the periodical investigation of the business and condition of such association.

(4) No bylaws and no change or amendment thereof shall be effective until first approved by the department, and no association shall commence the transaction of business as such until the bylaws are first approved by the department.

(1) (a) When the articles of incorporation are in proper form and regularly executed and the bylaws have been duly approved as required in 32-2-204 and, in the case of a mutual association, the requirements of 32-2-232 have been complied with or, in the case of a capital stock association, the requirements of 32-2-241 have been complied with, the department shall then ascertain from the best sources of information at its command the responsibility, character, and general fitness of the incorporators. The department shall also determine whether there is a reasonable need for the existence of the association and whether the public convenience and advantage will be promoted by its existence.

(b) If the department is not satisfied with the result of its investigations of the matters specified in this section, it shall, within 60 days after the articles of incorporation and bylaws have been presented to it, refuse to issue the certificate described in this section.

(c) If it is satisfied with the result of its investigations, it shall, within 60 days after the articles of incorporation and bylaws have been presented to it, issue under its official seal a certificate reciting in substance the filing in its office of the articles of incorporation and bylaws.

(2) (a) The certificate shall also state that the articles and bylaws conform to all the requirements of this chapter, that the department has approved them and that it believes that the incorporators are fit and proper persons to conduct the business of a building and loan association as defined in this chapter and the bylaws, that there is a reasonable need for the existence of the building and loan association, and that the public convenience and advantage will be promoted thereby.

(b) The certificate shall be made in quadruplicate and attached to each copy of the articles of incorporation, one of which shall be retained by the department. The other three shall be returned to the incorporators, who shall immediately file one copy with the secretary of state and one with the clerk and recorder of the county in which the principal place of business of the association is located. The other copy shall be retained by the association.

(c) Immediately upon the receipt of the certified copy, the secretary of state shall issue a certificate of incorporation, at which time the incorporation of the association is complete.

32-2-206. Directors — meetings — officers. (1) The conduct and management of the affairs and business of such association shall be vested in a board of directors which shall consist of not less than five or more than nine members.

(2) Within 30 days after the corporate existence of an association begins, the directors of the association shall hold an organizational meeting and shall elect officers pursuant to the provisions of this chapter and the bylaws. At the organizational meeting the directors shall take such other action as is appropriate in connection with beginning the transaction of business by the association. The department may extend, by order, the time within which the organizational meeting must be held.

(3) The incorporators of the association shall serve as directors until the first meeting of the stockholders to be held at the time provided for by this chapter or until their successors are elected and qualified, after which the directors shall be elected by the stockholders of the association in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and the bylaws of the association.

(4) The directors, unless it is otherwise provided by the bylaws of the association, shall elect or appoint all the officers of the association. Such directors when appointed or elected shall file with the department their oath of office, as provided in election or appointment of bank directors. Meetings of the board of directors must be held at least once each month.

(2) In its bylaws, such association shall provide for at least one regular meeting of members or stockholders annually. Notice of any meeting, whether regular or special, shall be given by the secretary in accordance with 32-2-209. The board of directors shall have the right to call a special meeting at any time. The board of directors must also call a special meeting whenever petitioned to do so by:

(a) members of a mutual association representing at least 25% of the withdrawable deposits of the association; or

(b) stockholders owning at least 25% of the issued stock.

(3) The secretary shall call special meetings in the same manner as provided in 32-2-209.

32-2-211. Transfer of stock or account — effect. (1) The delivery of a capital stock certificate of a building and loan association to a bona fide purchaser or pledgee for value, together with a written transfer of the same or a written power of attorney to sell, assign, or transfer the same, signed by the owner of the certificate, shall be a sufficient delivery to transfer the title as against the creditors of the transferor and subsequent purchasers; but no such transfer shall affect the right of the building and loan association to pay any dividend due upon the stock or treat the holder of record as the holder in fact until such transfer is recorded upon the books of the building and loan association or a new certificate is issued to the person to whom it has been transferred.

(2) A savings account or any interest therein is transferable on the books of the association only upon proper written application and acceptance by the association of the transferee as a member, subject to terms approved by the board of directors. The association may treat the holder of record of a savings account as the owner thereof without being affected by any notice to the contrary unless the association has acknowledged in writing the receipt of notice of a pledge of the savings account.

32-2-212. Requirements of transfer in certain cases. When a certificate of stock or a savings account in a building and loan association is owned by persons residing out of the state or is lost, the president, secretary, or directors of such association, before entering any transfer of such stock or account on its books or before issuing a new certificate therefor to the transferee or owner, may require from the attorney or agent of the owner or from the person claiming under the transfer an affidavit or other evidence that the owner was alive at the date of the transfer or that the original certificate is lost and has not been assigned or transferred and may also require from the attorney, agent, or claimant a bond of indemnity, with a surety or sureties satisfactory to the officers of such association, to protect such association against any liability to the owner, assignee, or transferee of such shares or account or the legal representatives of the owners of such shares or account, in case of his or her death before the transfer, and also to protect the association against any liability accruing or resulting by reason of said lost or original certificate being thereafter presented to it. If the affidavit or other evidence or bond is not furnished when required as herein provided, neither the association nor any officer thereof shall be liable for refusing to enter the transfer on the books of the association.

The incorporators of a mutual association shall appoint one of their number as chairman of the incorporators, and he shall procure from a surety company or other surety acceptable to the department a surety bond in an amount no less than the sum of the amount subscribed by the incorporators and the amount of the expense fund described in 32-2-233. The bond shall name the department as obligee and shall be delivered to it. The bond shall assure the safekeeping of the funds described and their delivery to the association after the issuance of a certificate of incorporation and after bonding of the officers of the corporation. In the event of failure to complete organization, the bond shall assure the return of the amounts collected to the respective subscribers or their assigns, less reasonable expenses which shall be deducted from the expense fund. The incorporators, before a certificate of incorporation is issued, shall pay to the chairman in cash, labor, or services actually performed an aggregate amount of at least $500,000, including that part of the original subscription paid by the chairman, as subscriptions to the savings accounts of the proposed association.

32-2-233. Expense fund for mutual association. (1) In addition to their subscriptions to savings accounts, the incorporators shall create an expense fund of not less than one-half of the minimum amount of savings account subscriptions required to be paid in under this chapter. The expense fund shall be used to pay the expenses of organizing the association, and its operating expenses may be paid from the fund until such time as its net income is sufficient to pay such earnings as may be declared and paid or credited to its savings account holders from sources available for payment of earnings. Before a certificate of incorporation is issued, the incorporators shall deposit to the credit of the chairman of the incorporators the amount of the expense fund, in cash. The amounts contributed to the expense fund by the incorporators shall not constitute a liability of the association except as otherwise provided.

(2) Contributions made by the incorporators and others to the expense fund may be repaid pro rata from the net income of the association after provision for statutory reserves and declaration of earnings of not less than 2% on savings accounts. If the association is liquidated before contributions to the expense fund have been repaid, any contributions to the expense fund remaining unexpended shall be repaid to the contributors pro rata, after the payment of the expenses of liquidation, creditors, and withdrawal value of all savings accounts. The books of the association shall reflect the expense fund. The contributors to the expense fund shall be paid earnings on the amounts paid in by them at the times earnings are regularly distributed to savings account holders; and for this purpose, the contributions shall in all respects be considered as savings accounts of the association.

32-2-241. Organization of capital stock associations. The incorporators of a capital stock association shall appoint one of their number as chairman of the incorporators, and the chairman shall procure from a surety company or other surety acceptable to the department a surety bond in an amount at least equal to the sum of the amount of capital stock contributions and the additional amounts described in 32-2-242. The bond shall name the department as obligee and shall be delivered to it. The bond shall assure the safekeeping of the funds described and their delivery to the association after the issuance of the certificate of incorporation and the bonding of the officers. In the event of the failure to complete organization, the bond shall assure the return of the amounts collected to the respective subscribers or their assigns, less reasonable expenses which shall be deducted from the paid-in surplus. Before a certificate of incorporation is issued, the subscribers shall pay to the chairman, in cash, labor, or services actually performed, the capital of such association. The capital shall be the sum of the par or initially stated value of all shares of voting capital stock. Each share of capital stock shall entitle the holder of the share to one vote. The minimum required capital is $500,000.

32-2-242. Capital stock association — surplus fund — verification statement. (1) In addition to the minimum capital required, the subscribers shall pay an amount equal to not less than 25% of the par or initially stated value of the stock subscribed, which shall be credited to paid-in surplus and may be used to offset losses. The minimum capital and surplus may be used for the reserves required by law and as may be permitted by the board of directors.

(2) Prior to the issuance of a certificate by the department, the incorporators of a proposed association shall file with the department a statement in the form and containing supporting data and proof as the department may require. The statement shall verify that the entire capital and paid-in surplus has been unconditionally paid in and that the funds representing the capital and paid-in surplus, less amounts of the paid-in surplus expended for land, building, supplies, fixtures, equipment, and organization, are on hand.

History: En. Sec. 31, Ch. 5, L. 1983.

32-2-243. Issuance of capital stock. (1) As of the date the corporate existence of a capital stock association begins, the association shall issue such capital stock as necessary to satisfy the minimum capital requirements of 32-2-241 and such additional capital stock as may be approved for issuance by the board of directors up to the amount authorized in the certificate of incorporation. Once the amount of stock authorized in the certificate of incorporation has been issued, no other shares may be issued except as otherwise authorized in this chapter. The capital stock of an association, when issued, shall constitute permanent capital and may not be retired or withdrawn, except as otherwise provided, until all liabilities of the association, including the withdrawal value of all savings accounts, have been satisfied in full and until outstanding capital certificates have been retired.

(2) An association may issue shares of common stock and preferred stock, with or without par value, and such common and preferred stock may be divided into classes and the classes into series.

History: En. Sec. 32, Ch. 5, L. 1983.

32-2-244. Restrictions on capital stock. (1) The consideration for the issuance of capital stock shall be paid in cash except for stock issued pursuant to:

(a) the incorporation of the association;

(b) an employee stock option plan;

(c) a plan of merger, consolidation, or conversion from a mutual to a stock association; or

(d) any other type of reorganization that has been approved by the department.

(2) The par value or stated value of stock issued pursuant to subsections (1)(a) through (1)(d) shall be maintained as the permanent capital of the association, and any additional amount paid in shall be credited to paid-in surplus.

(3) The aggregate par value or stated value of all outstanding shares of capital stock shall be the permanent capital of the association, and except as otherwise provided by this chapter, such capital stock may not be retired until final liquidation of the association. An association may not reduce the par or stated value of its outstanding capital stock without first obtaining the written approval of the department. The department shall withhold its approval if the reduction will cause the par or stated value of outstanding capital stock to be less than the minimum required by this chapter or will result in less than adequate net worth, as the department in its discretion may determine. An association may not retire any part of its capital stock without the approval of the department.

History: En. Sec. 33, Ch. 5, L. 1983.

32-2-245. Purchase of stock of deceased stockholder. An association may purchase its capital stock from the personal representative of a deceased stockholder upon the written approval of the department. Upon obtaining written approval, an association may contract with a living stockholder for a purchase of his stock upon his death. Any such purchase shall be for a price and upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon by the association and the stockholder or personal representative. The purchase of a deceased stockholder's stock may not reduce the net worth accounts of the association to an amount less than required by law or by any approved insurer of the association's savings accounts. An association agreeing with a stockholder to purchase his capital stock upon his death may purchase insurance on the life of the stockholder to fund or partially fund such purchase. Any stock purchased under this section may be resold by the association at a price and upon such terms and conditions as the board of directors may approve, or may be retired. If the stock is to be resold, the association shall file notice with the department disclosing the price, terms, and conditions of the proposed resale.

History: En. Sec. 34, Ch. 5, L. 1983.

32-2-246 through 32-2-250 reserved.

32-2-251. Mutual and capital stock conversions. (1) Any mutual association may convert to a capital stock association and any capital stock association may convert to a mutual association in accordance with the provisions of this section and 32-2-252 through 32-2-257.

(2) Any applicant seeking to convert its corporate form pursuant to this section and 32-2-252 through 32-2-257 shall first obtain approval of a plan of conversion by a resolution adopted by a two-thirds majority vote of the total number of directors authorized for the association.

History: En. Sec. 35, Ch. 5, L. 1983.

32-2-252. Department approval. (1) Upon approval of a plan of conversion by the board of directors, the plan and the resolution approving it shall be submitted to the department. The department shall approve the plan of conversion after appropriate examination, if it finds that:

(a) the plan of conversion is fair and equitable;

(b) the interests of the applicant, members or stockholders, savings account holders, and public are adequately protected; and

(c) the converting applicant has complied with the provisions of 32-2-251 through 32-2-257.

(2) If the department approves the plan of conversion, the approval, which shall be in writing, shall be sent to the home office of the applicant. To cause the applicant to conform with the requirements of this chapter, the approval may prescribe terms and conditions, to be fulfilled either before or after the conversion.

(3) If the department disapproves the plan of conversion, its objections shall be sent in writing to the home office of the applicant. The applicant shall be afforded an opportunity to amend and resubmit the plan within a reasonable time as prescribed by the department. If the department disapproves the resubmitted plan, written notice of the final disapproval shall be sent by certified mail to the applicant's home office.

History: En. Sec. 36, Ch. 5, L. 1983.

32-2-253. Submission to members or stockholders. (1) If the department has approved a plan of conversion pursuant to 32-2-252, the plan shall be submitted for adoption to the members or stockholders of the association for a vote at a meeting called for that purpose. The plan must be approved by:

(a) members of a mutual association representing two-thirds of the withdrawable deposits, present in person or by proxy at the meeting; or

(b) stockholders of a capital stock association holding two-thirds of the capital stock, represented in person or by proxy at the meeting.

(2) If the plan is approved, action shall be taken to amend the articles of incorporation and bylaws as necessary, elect directors and officers, and take any other action as is required or appropriate for the type of association into which the applicant will be converted. A certified report of the proceedings shall be filed promptly with the department.

History: En. Sec. 37, Ch. 5, L. 1983.

32-2-254. Conversion of mutual to capital stock association — mandatory plan requirements. The following requirements are mandatory in any plan of conversion from the mutual form to a capital stock form of organization:

(1) Each savings account holder shall receive a withdrawable account of the same general class in the converted association equal in amount and time tenure to his withdrawable account in the converting association. No payment may be required from the account holder for this change of accounts.

(2) The plan shall specify the aggregate dollar amount of voting capital stock and the total number of shares to be issued to accomplish the conversion. The distribution of the stock shall be in accordance with subsection (3).

(3) All voting capital stock issued by the association to accomplish a conversion shall be subscribed and fully paid for in cash, labor, or services actually performed in the conversion process and may not be eligible, either directly or indirectly, as security for a loan or other credit advance to facilitate its own purchase. Each account holder must have the right for a period of 60 days to purchase a proportionate share of the stock at a price equal to the initial stated value thereof. Any stock remaining unsubscribed shall, during the succeeding 60-day period, be offered for sale to those savings account holders of record who have purchased their proportionate share during the initial period. Any stock remaining unsubscribed may be offered for sale to others or transferred to others in consideration for labor or services actually performed in the conversion process.

(4) The record date for determining savings account holders' rights to distribution under subsection (3) shall be set by the converting association's board of directors but may not be less than 120 days prior to the date of approval of the conversion plan by the directors.

(5) The conversion plan shall make specific provision with respect to the surplus, reserves, undivided profits, and capital stock of the converted association, specifying types of accounts, amounts, priorities, any voting rights, and how such accounts are to be disposed of or retained.

(6) The plan shall contain such other information and be in the form required by the department to enable it to make a determination of whether:

(a) the plan is fair and equitable;

(b) the interests of the applicant, members or stockholders, savings account holders, and the public are adequately protected; and

(c) the converting applicant has complied with the requirements of 32-2-251 through 32-2-257.

History: En. Sec. 38, Ch. 5, L. 1983.

32-2-255. Conversion of capital stock to mutual association — mandatory plan requirements. The following requirements are mandatory in any plan of conversion from the capital stock form to a mutual form of association:

(1) Each savings account holder shall receive a withdrawable account of the same general class in the converted association equal in amount and time tenure to his withdrawable account in the converting association. No payment may be required from the account holder for this change of accounts.

(2) The conversion plan shall specify how and in what amount the return of capital to each class of stockholder in the form of an exchange of stock for savings accounts shall be effectuated.

(3) The plan shall provide for the allocation of voting rights to the holders of savings accounts and the manner in which such rights may be exercised.

(4) The plan shall make specific provision with respect to the surplus, reserves, undivided profits, and capital stock of the converted association, specifying types of accounts, amounts, priorities, any voting rights, and how such accounts shall be disposed of or retained.

(5) The plan shall contain such other information and be in the form required by the department to enable it to make a determination of whether:

(a) the plan is fair and equitable;

(b) the interests of the applicant, members or stockholders, savings account holders, and the public are adequately protected; and

(c) the converting applicant has complied with the requirements of 32-2-251 through 32-2-257.

History: En. Sec. 39, Ch. 5, L. 1983.

32-2-256. Issuance of certificate — continuance of entity. (1) If the department determines that a conversion proceeding has been completed in accordance with the requirements of 32-2-251 through 32-2-257, it shall issue to the applicant a certificate of conversion. The conversion does not become effective until the issuance of the certificate.

(2) Upon the issuance to the applicant of a certificate of conversion, the corporate existence of the converting applicant does not terminate but shall be treated as a continuation of the entity so converted. All property of the converted applicant, of whatever kind, and any benefit pertaining to it vest in the converted applicant without any further action, to the same extent as possessed by the converting applicant.

History: En. Sec. 40, Ch. 5, L. 1983.

32-2-257. Continuance of rights and obligations. A converted applicant, upon issuance of the certificate of conversion, continues to have and succeeds to all the rights, obligations, and relations of the converting applicant. All pending actions and other judicial proceedings to which the converting applicant was a party may not be abated or discontinued by reason of the conversion and may be prosecuted to final judgment, order, or decree in the same manner as if the conversion had not been made, and the converted applicant may continue the actions in its new corporate name. Any judgment, order, or decree that might have been rendered for or against the converted applicant prior to the conversion may be rendered for or against it after the conversion.

History: En. Sec. 41, Ch. 5, L. 1983.

32-2-258 through 32-2-260 reserved.

32-2-261. Foreign associations — requirements. (1) An association, as defined in 32-2-103, organized under the laws of any other state, of the United States, or of any foreign government shall, before doing business in this state, file with the secretary of state and the department a duly authenticated copy of their charter, articles of incorporation, or articles of agreement and also a statement, verified by oath of the president and secretary of the corporation or managing officials if other than a corporation and duly verified, showing:

(a) the name of the association and the location of its principal office or place of business outside this state and the location of the place of business or principal office in this state;

(b) the names and residences of the officers, trustees, or directors;

(c) the amount of capital stock, if any, and savings liability;

(d) the amount of capital invested in the state of Montana.

(2) The association shall also file, at the same time and in the same offices, a certificate, signed by its president, vice-president, or other acting head and by its secretary, if there is one, certifying that the association has consented to all the license laws and other laws of this state relative to foreign associations and has consented to be sued in the courts of this state upon all causes of action arising against it in this state and that service of process may be made upon a citizen of this state, whose name and place of residence shall be designated in the certificate. Service of process on that agent is valid service on the association.

32-2-271. Consolidation and transfer — branching prohibited. (1) Only building and loan associations organized and chartered under the laws of the state of Montana may, with the approval of the department, consolidate and become incorporated in one body, with or without any dissolution or division of the funds or property of any of them. Any association may transfer its engagements, funds, and property to any other association upon terms agreed upon by a majority vote of the respective board of directors and ratified by a two-thirds vote of the shares or members owning at least two-thirds of the withdrawable deposits in the association, present and voting in person or by proxy at a special meeting or meetings of the stockholders or members of the respective associations convened for that purpose, upon notice given as provided by law; the notice to state the object of the meeting. A transfer may not prejudice any right of any creditor of the association.

(2) Branching by merger or branching otherwise between a building and loan association organized and chartered under the laws of Montana and a building and loan association organized and chartered under the laws of any other state is prohibited. Branching de novo in Montana by a foreign-chartered building and loan association is prohibited.

(3) Insofar as this section limits or reduces the rights, powers, or privileges of building and loan associations previously granted by law, it shall apply only to proposed consolidations or mergers of associations which are initiated by action taken by their board of directors and shareholders subsequent to April 14, 1977.

32-2-303. Reports of condition — contents — publication. When requested to do so by the department, a building and loan association shall make to the department a report of condition, according to the form which may be prescribed by the department. The report shall be verified by the oath or affirmation of the president, vice-president, or secretary of the association and attested by the signature of at least two of the directors. The report shall exhibit in detail and under appropriate heads the resources and liabilities of the association at the close of business on any past day specified and shall be transmitted to the department within 5 days after the receipt of a request or requisition for it from the department and in a form which may be required by the department. It shall be published as soon as possible in a newspaper in the place where the association is established or, if there is no newspaper published in the place, then in one published nearest thereto in the same county, at the expense of the association. Proof of publication shall be furnished at the times and in the manner which may be required by the department.

32-2-309. Insolvency or impairment of association — powers of department. (1) When it appears to the department that the affairs of a building and loan association are in an unsound condition or that it is conducting its business in an unsafe or unlawful manner, the department may take possession of all books, records, and assets of every description of the association and retain possession of them pending the further proceedings specified in this section.

(2) If the board of directors, secretary, or person in charge of the association refuses to permit the department to take possession, the department shall communicate that fact to the attorney general. The attorney general shall at once institute the proceedings necessary to place the department in immediate possession of the property of the association.

(3) Upon taking possession of the effects of the association, the department shall prepare a full and true statement of the affairs and condition of the association, including an itemized statement of its assets and liabilities, and shall receive and collect all debts, dues, and claims belonging to it and pay the immediate and reasonable expenses of the department's trust.

(4) When the condition of the association has been fully ascertained and it appears that the affairs of the association are in fact in an unsound condition, the department shall at once notify, in writing, the board of directors of the association of its decision, giving them 20 days in which to restore the affairs of the association to sound condition.

(5) Meanwhile, the department shall remain in charge of the books, records, and assets of every description of the association, shall attend or be represented at all directors and stockholders or members meetings held, and shall suggest those steps it considers necessary to restore the association to a sound condition.

(6) If the association is not restored to a sound condition within 20 days, the department shall report the facts to the attorney general. The attorney general shall institute proceedings in the district court of the county in which the association has its principal place of business for the appointment of the department as receiver.

(7) As receiver, the department may collect all moneys due the association and may do those other acts which are necessary to conserve its assets and business, and it shall liquidate the association's affairs. The department may, except as otherwise limited by the terms of this chapter, do any acts necessary or, in its discretion, desirable for the protection of the property and assets of the association and the speedy and economical liquidation of its assets and affairs and the payment of its creditors or for the resumption of business of the association where that is practicable or desirable. The department may institute in its own name or in the name of the association those legal proceedings it considers expedient for those purposes.

(8) By applying to the district court of the county in which the association is located, or to the judge thereof in chambers, the department may, upon sufficient showing of cause, obtain an order to sell, compromise, or compound any bad or doubtful debt or claim and to sell any of the assets. The sale may be made to stockholders, members, officers, directors, or others interested in the association, on consent of the court. On the proceedings the association shall be made a party by notice issued on order of the court or judge, in place of summons but served in like manner. The hearing of the application or petition by the department may be had at any time, either in term or vacation in court or in chambers, as the court may order, after the association has had 5 days' notice of the application.

(1) have continual succession by its corporate name;

(2) sue and be sued in any court;

(3) make and use a common seal and alter it at pleasure;

(4) appoint those officers or agents the business of the corporation requires and pay them suitable compensation;

(5) enter into obligations or contracts essential to the transaction of its ordinary affairs or for the purposes of the corporation;

(6) issue stock to stockholders and savings certificates to members on the terms and conditions the articles of incorporation and bylaws provide;

(7) assess and collect from members interest on loans at the times and in the amount provided for in the articles of incorporation and bylaws;

(8) permit members to withdraw all or part of their savings at the times and upon the terms as the articles of incorporation and bylaws may provide;

(9) cancel savings certificates upon which all credits have been withdrawn or upon which loans have been canceled or savings upon which no payments have been made for a period of 6 months, by returning to the members all credits, if any, and reissue the certificates as new savings certificates;

(10) issue savings certificates to minors and permit them to be withdrawn as other savings certificates. The receipt by the minor is a valid acquittance if his rights have been fully secured to him.

(11) acquire, hold, encumber, and convey that real estate and personal property necessary for the transaction of its business or necessary to enforce or protect its securities;

(12) borrow money, only when necessary and not exceeding 20% of its assets, except when borrowing from the federal home loan bank as provided in 32-2-405, and issue its promissory note for the loan;

(13) make loans to members on the security of the savings accounts of the association and also on their notes secured by first mortgages on improved real estate, including suburban homes or farm lands but not on mining property, for not to exceed 75% of the actual value of the real estate and upon the terms and conditions which may be provided in the articles of incorporation and bylaws;

(14) cancel those loans and release the securities on those terms the board of directors may provide;

(15) invest the money of the association in accordance with 32-2-406;

(16) loan money to other building and loan associations;

(17) make distribution of all interest and dividends earned after payment of expenses and setting aside a sum for the contingent funds as provided in this chapter;

(18) amend its articles of incorporation by changing the name, place of business, the number of directors, and increase or decrease the capital stock, and provide for its own continual succession by a majority vote of its directors. However, those amendments are of no effect until approved by the department.

(19) dissolve the corporation in accordance with the provisions of this chapter;

(20) provide, by articles of incorporation and bylaws adopted or amended by its board of directors, for the proper exercise of the powers granted in this section and the conduct and management of its affairs;

(21) exercise those other powers which are necessary and proper to enable the corporation to carry out the purpose of its organization.

(1) Interest not exceeding the lawful contract rate may be charged and collected on delinquent stock payments when those unpaid payments are credited with dividends. The interest shall in no event be at a rate exceeding the rate percent of the dividend declared on the same unpaid stock payments.

(2) An association may not charge or collect from a stockholder, member, or borrower any fines, premiums, or penalties of any kind; except that a late payment penalty not to exceed $5 may be charged for payments more than 15 days late.

(3) An officer, agent, or employee of an association collecting or attempting to collect a penalty, fine, or premium of any kind, except the late payment penalty, or interest at a rate higher than provided in the note or other evidence of debt or in this chapter is guilty of a misdemeanor.

(1) Where the promissory note or other written evidence of the loan made by a building and loan association requires the payment of the loan or total aggregate sum of principal and interest in periodic installments, the promissory note or other written evidence of debt shall specifically state the actual interest rate charged the borrower upon the unpaid balance of the principal amount at each periodic payment. When the note or other evidence of debt does not require the payment of the loan in periodic installments, the note or other evidence of debt shall specifically state the actual rate of interest charged the borrower.

(2) A borrower may have his loan canceled by paying all the interest up to date of cancellation and the sum actually borrowed, less payments on principal, dues paid in, and the dividends credited.

32-2-404. Savings account withdrawal. (1) No charge or fee, except as provided in this section, may be made against a member who withdraws his savings, after having given 30 days' notice of the withdrawal. No fine of any description may be made upon the value of that savings account because of the withdrawal. A member who withdraws his savings or whose savings account is matured is entitled to receive all sums paid in and all interest declared, less interest, if any, as provided in 32-2-402, less a reasonable membership fee not exceeding 2% of the amount of his deposit, and less a pro rata share of all losses, if any, which have occurred. No other fine or assessments may be made against the savings.

(2) Applications for withdrawal shall be registered on the books of the association in the order received, and one-half of all cash collections not required to meet outstanding contracts must be used for the payment of the matured savings and of the withdrawals in the order registered. The other half of those collections each month may be used for the payment of withdrawals other than in the order registered, but no member may receive more than $100 in any one month other than by payment of an application for withdrawal in the order registered. The term "outstanding contracts" includes the costs and expenses of operation, completion of loans, payment of taxes and assessments and necessary remodeling and repairs on properties owned by or mortgaged to the association, repayment of all borrowed money, and all fixed charges.

However, if the department determines that it is advisable to pledge assets in order that funds may be secured, it may authorize the pledging. The margin of security pledged may not exceed 25% of the funds so borrowed except when funds are borrowed from the federal home loan bank.

(2) An association may borrow money from the federal home loan bank upon the terms required by the federal home loan bank, may execute the promissory note of the corporation for the loan, and may pledge any of the assets of the corporation to secure the repayment of the loan, with interest, in accordance with the Federal Home Loan Bank Act and the rules adopted under it.

32-2-406. Investments. (1) A building and loan association may invest the money of the association in:

(a) the bonds and securities of the United States, bonds and other obligations guaranteed as to interest and principal by the United States, and the stocks, bonds, debentures, and other securities and obligations of any federal home loan bank created under the laws of the United States, either directly or in the form of securities of or other interests in an open-end or closed-end management type investment company or investment trust registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (15 U.S.C. 80a-1 through 80a-64), as amended, if:

(i) the portfolio of the investment company or investment trust is limited to United States government obligations and repurchase agreements fully collateralized by United States government obligations; and

(ii) the investment company or investment trust takes delivery of the collateral for any repurchase agreement, either directly or through an authorized custodian;

(b) the bonds and warrants of any state and of any county, city, or school district of the state of Montana;

(c) the obligations of the federal deposit insurance corporation lawfully issued pursuant to Title IV of the National Housing Act;

(d) improved real estate that has been sold under contract, including suburban homes or farm lands but not including mining property. However, the total amount remaining invested in real estate, excluding real estate otherwise acquired, may not exceed 15% of its assets. The amount invested in real estate may not exceed 85% of the price stipulated in the contract of sale or 85% of the value of the property purchased, whichever is the lesser.

(e) other bonds, securities, and investments, not to exceed 10% of the association assets.

(2) Not over 10% of the assets of an association may be invested in home office buildings, furniture, and fixtures. Other real property acquired in any manner or for any purpose may not be held for more than 5 years, except by permission of the department.

(3) Notwithstanding other provisions of the law, it is lawful for a building and loan association or other financial institution operating under the laws of this state to invest the funds or money in its custody or possession, eligible for investment, in debentures issued by the federal housing administrator and in obligations of national mortgage associations.

The board of directors of every building and loan association shall require that all officers, agents, and employees of building and loan associations whose duties include the handling of moneys, notes, bonds, credits, and cash items and whose duties include bookkeeping or the making of entries in relation to the business of the building and loan association and its customers be bonded. The board of directors shall by an order entered upon the minute books of the board designate all the officers, agents, and employees to be so bonded and the amount of bonds to be given by each. The action as to the personnel and amount and the surety company or sureties shall be subject to approval by the department. The bonds shall be in a form which shall be provided and approved by the department, and the bonds shall be approved by the president of the building and loan association and his action reported to the board of directors. All bonds required by this section shall be kept in the custody of the building and loan association subject to inspection by the department. As far as possible, a bond may not be placed in the custody of the officer, agent, or employee for whom it is given.

32-2-409. Employment of agents — licenses and revocation thereof. (1) It is unlawful for a building and loan association doing business in this state to employ an agent for the purpose of soliciting loans or the sale of stock in that association unless he is first licensed by the department. An agent representing an association, foreign or domestic, doing business in this state may not solicit loans or the sale of stock of any association unless he is first licensed by the department.

(2) A license may not be issued to an applicant for an agent's license until the applicant has first filed with the department a written request from the building and loan association desiring to employ him as agent and has filed an application upon a form prescribed and furnished by the department. The application must show the applicant's name, business and residence address, community or district in which he wishes to act as agent, the name of the company to be represented, his occupation for the last 12 months, and other information the department may require. If the department is satisfied that the applicant is a fit and proper person to engage in the solicitation of loans or the sale of stock, it shall issue the license. The department, upon 10 days' notice to an agent and after a hearing, may revoke the license of an agent upon the following grounds:

(a) misrepresentation;

(b) conviction in any court for violation of the criminal statutes;

(c) evidence sufficient to convince the department that the agent is not a fit and proper person to sell building and loan association stock.

(3) The department shall revoke the license of an agent upon the request of the association employing the agent.

(4) Each license provided for in this section expires on December 31 of each year, and for issuance or renewal the department shall require a fee of $2.

The charges incident to a loan, if paid by the borrower, shall be deemed a part of the current expenses.

(2) Associations so desiring may annually or semiannually credit to a reserve fund the net earnings remaining after the payment of expenses and dividends and after crediting the contingent fund with the amount required by law, provided the amount so credited to the reserve fund in any fiscal year shall not exceed 1% of the book value of the outstanding stock. The reserve fund shall not exceed 5% of the book value of the outstanding stock. The reserve fund so created may be used for the payment of dividends, provided:

(a) the amount of the reserve fund so used shall not exceed 1% of the book value of the outstanding stock in any year; and

(b) that should the contingent fund of an association become exhausted, then no part of the reserve fund may be used for the payment of dividends and in the discretion of such association such reserve fund or the part thereof it shall deem necessary shall be credited to the contingent fund.

(3) Dividends shall be declared semiannually from the net earnings of the association and shall be paid or credited to all stockholders at such time and in such manner as provided in the constitution and bylaws.

(4) Losses in excess of the contingent fund and reserve fund shall be assessed pro rata in the same proportion and manner on all stockholders, to the extent only of their stock credits in such association.

32-2-431. Voluntary liquidation and settlement. (1) With the consent of the department, an association organized under the laws of and doing business in this state, may, if the members or stockholders consider it advisable, go into liquidation. For the purpose of so doing it may, at any regular or called meeting of the members or stockholders, adopt a resolution declaring that the association intends to go into liquidation and discontinue business as a building and loan association. A copy of the resolution, duly certified by the president and secretary of the association, under the seal thereof, shall be transmitted to the department within 10 days after its passage. The department shall then issue its certificate reciting that the resolution has been filed in its office and that the association is in liquidation.

(2) After the filing of the notice, it is unlawful for the association to issue stock or to loan or advance its money to members, shareholders, or any other person.

(3) All of the income and receipts of the association in excess of the actual expense of managing it shall be applied to pay off first the indebtedness and the savings accounts in the association upon which no loans have been made, the same to be paid pro rata, then to pay off the capital stock in the association, pro rata.

(4) The board of directors of the association in liquidation may adopt those rules and make those orders which are just and equitable for the sale and disposition of all property held by the association and for the division of the assets of the association.

(5) The association in liquidation may be examined by and shall be under the supervision of the department.

32-2-441. Conversion into federal savings and loan associations. Any building and loan association or other home financing organization, by whatever name or style it may be designated, eligible to become a federal savings and loan association may convert itself into a federal savings and loan association by following the procedure hereinafter outlined:

(1) At any regular meeting of the shareholders or members of any such association or at any special meeting of the shareholders or members of such association, in either case called to consider such action and held in accordance with the laws governing such association, such shareholders or members, by an affirmative vote of the majority of the shareholders or members, in person or by proxy, may declare by resolution the determination to convert the association into a federal savings and loan association.

(2) A copy of the minutes of the meeting of the shareholders or members verified by the affidavit of the president or vice-president and the secretary of the meeting shall be filed with the department within 10 days after the meeting. The verified copy of the minutes of such meeting when so filed shall be presumptive evidence of the holding and of the action of such meeting.

(3) Within a reasonable time and without any unnecessary delay after the adjournment of such meeting of shareholders or members, such association shall take any action necessary to make it a federal savings and loan association, and within 10 days after receipt of the federal charter there shall be filed with the department a copy of the charter issued to such association by the federal home loan bank board or a certificate showing the organization of such association as a federal savings and loan association certified by or on behalf of the federal home loan bank board. Upon the filing of such instrument such association shall cease to be a state association and shall thereafter be a federal savings and loan association.

General Provisions

32-3-101. Short title. This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the "Montana Credit Union Act".

History: En. 14-601 by Sec. 1, Ch. 38, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 14-601.

32-3-102. Definition and purposes. A credit union is a cooperative, nonprofit association, incorporated under this chapter for the purposes of encouraging thrift among its members, creating a source of credit at a fair and reasonable rate of interest, and providing an opportunity for its members to use and control their own money in order to improve their economic and social condition.

History: En. 14-602 by Sec. 2, Ch. 38, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 14-602.

Building and loan associations — purpose, 32-2-101.

32-3-103. Use of name exclusive. (1) The name of any credit union organized under this chapter must include the phrase "credit union". A credit union may not adopt a name either identical to the name of any other credit union doing business in this state or so similar as to be misleading or to cause confusion.

(2) A person, other than a credit union organized under the provisions of this chapter or of any other credit union act or an organization or corporation whose membership or ownership is primarily limited to credit unions or credit union organizations, may not use a name or title containing the words "credit union" or any derivation of the words "credit union", and the person may not represent that the person is a credit union and may not conduct business as a credit union.

(3) A person who violates a provision of this section shall be fined not more than $500 or imprisoned not more than 1 year, or both, and may be permanently enjoined from further violation of the provisions of this section.

History: En. 14-606 by Sec. 6, Ch. 38, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 14-606; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 237, L. 2003.

32-3-104. Office facilities. (1) A credit union may change its place of business within this state upon written notice to the department of administration.

(2) A credit union may share office space with one or more credit unions and contract with any person or corporation to provide facilities or personnel.

(3) A credit union may maintain, upon prior written notice to the department, additional offices at locations other than its principal place of business if the purpose of maintaining the additional offices is to furnish service to its members.

(4) The department shall approve any additional office unless a compelling reason for disapproval is found by the department. Competition with other financial institutions is not a sufficiently compelling reason for disapproval.

(5) If the department disapproves an additional office, the credit union must be afforded an opportunity for a hearing according to Title 2, chapter 4, part 6. The purpose of the hearing is to determine whether a compelling reason exists for disapproval of the additional office.

32-3-201. Department of administration. (1) The department of administration shall administer the laws of this state relating to credit unions. The department may appoint or employ special assistants, deputies, examiners, or other employees that are necessary for the purpose of administering or enforcing this chapter.

(2) The department may adopt rules for the administration of this chapter and may establish chartering, supervisory, and examination fees. Fees collected must be deposited in the state special revenue fund for the use of the department in its supervision function.

(3) The department shall adopt rules prescribing the minimum amount of surety bond coverage and casualty, liability, and fire insurance required of credit unions in relation to their assets or to the money and other personal property involved or their exposure to risk.

(4) The department may enter into agreements with other states establishing the division of supervisory responsibilities between the state in which a credit union is organized and the state or states in which the credit union's branches may be located.

32-3-203. Examinations. (1) The department of administration shall examine or cause to be examined each credit union on a schedule determined by the department. Each credit union and all of its officers and agents shall give representatives of the department full access to all books, papers, securities, records, and other sources of information under their control. For the purpose of the examination, the representatives may subpoena witnesses, administer oaths, compel the giving of testimony, and require the submission of documents.

(2) A report of the examination must be forwarded to the executive officer of each credit union promptly after completion. The report must contain comments relative to the management of the affairs of the credit union and also as to the general condition of its assets. Within 60 days after the receipt of the report, the directors and committee members shall meet to consider matters contained in the report.

(3) In lieu of making an examination of a credit union, the department may accept an audit report of the condition of the credit union made by an auditor approved by the department. The cost of the audit must be borne by the credit union.

32-3-204. Records. (1) A credit union shall maintain all books, records, accounting systems, and procedures in accordance with rules that the department of administration prescribes. In prescribing rules, the department shall consider the relative size of a credit union and its reasonable capability of compliance.

(2) A credit union is not liable for destroying records after the expiration of the record retention time prescribed by the department.

(3) A photostatic or photographic copy or reproduction of any kind, including electronic or computer-generated data that has been electronically stored and is capable of being converted into written form, of any credit union records is admissible as evidence of transactions with the credit union.

History: En. 14-612 by Sec. 12, Ch. 38, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 14-612; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 25, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 221(1), Ch. 483, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 7, Ch. 237, L. 2003.

32-3-205. Cease and desist orders — suspension — involuntary liquidation. (1) The department of administration may issue cease and desist orders after having determined, from competent and substantial evidence, that a credit union:

(a) is engaged or is about to engage in an unsafe or unsound practice; or

(b) is violating or has violated a material provision of any law, rule, or condition imposed in writing by the department or any written agreement made with the department.

(2) (a) The department may suspend from office and prohibit from further participation in any manner in the conduct of the affairs of a credit union any director, officer, or committee member who has committed any violation of a law, rule, or cease and desist order, who has engaged in or participated in any unsafe or unsound practice in connection with the credit union, or who has committed or engaged in any act, omission, or practice that constitutes a breach of that person's fiduciary duty as a director, officer, or committee member when the department has determined that:

(i) the action of the director, officer, or committee member has resulted or will likely result in substantial financial loss or other damage;

(ii) the interests of the credit union's members have been or may be prejudiced by the action of the director, officer, or committee member;

(iii) the director, officer, or committee member has received financial gain or other benefit as a result of the action; or

(iv) the action of the director, officer, or committee member involves personal dishonesty or demonstrates unfitness to serve as a director, officer, or committee member.

(b) A director, officer, or committee member suspended from office pursuant to subsection (2)(a) may request a hearing under the Montana Administrative Procedure Act.

(3) (a) If it appears that a credit union is bankrupt or insolvent or that it has willfully violated this chapter or is operating in an unsafe or unsound manner, the department may issue an order temporarily suspending the credit union's operations for not less than 30 or more than 60 days. The board of directors must be given notice by certified mail of the suspension. The notice must include a list of the reasons for the suspension and a list of the specific violations of this chapter.

(b) Upon receipt of a suspension notice, the credit union shall cease all operations, except those authorized by the department, or the department may appoint a conservator to operate the credit union during the period of suspension. The board of directors shall file with the department a reply to the suspension notice and present a plan of proposed corrective actions if it desires to continue operations. The board may request that the credit union be declared insolvent and a liquidating agent be appointed.

(c) Upon receipt from the suspended credit union of evidence that the conditions causing the order of suspension have been corrected or upon acceptance of a plan of proposed corrective actions, the department may revoke the suspension notice and permit the credit union to resume normal operations.

(d) If the department, after issuing a notice of suspension, rejects the credit union's plan to continue operations, the board may request an administrative hearing.

(4) If, within the suspension period, the credit union fails to answer the suspension notice or request a hearing or if after a hearing, the department continues to reject the credit union's plan to continue operations, the department may:

(a) permit the credit union to operate under a conservator until conditions requiring suspension are remedied;

(b) involuntarily merge the credit union in accordance with the provisions of 32-3-212; or

(c) revoke the credit union's charter, appoint a liquidating agent, and liquidate the credit union.

(5) The department may not involuntarily merge or involuntarily liquidate a credit union prior to the suspension procedures outlined in this section. A credit union may petition the appropriate court to stay the department's suspension, involuntary merger, or involuntary liquidation order.

(6) In the event of liquidation of a credit union, the assets of the credit union or the proceeds from the disposition of the credit union's assets must be applied and distributed in the following sequence:

(a) to secured creditors up to the value of their secured collateral;

(b) for the costs and expenses of liquidation;

(c) for wages due employees of the credit union;

(d) for taxes owed to any government unit;

(e) for any debts owed the United States;

(f) to general creditors and to secured creditors to the extent that their claims exceed the value of their collateral; and

(g) to shareholders of the credit union to the extent of their uninsured shares.

32-3-206. Authorized activities of credit unions. Upon written application to the department of administration, a credit union may engage in any activity in which a credit union could engage if it were operating as a federal chartered credit union at the time the authority is granted. The activities include but are not limited to the power to do any act and to own, possess, and carry as assets property including stocks, bonds, or other debentures that, at the time the authority is granted, are authorized under federal laws and regulations for transactions by federal credit unions and are not subject to any restrictions contained elsewhere in Montana law. However, the department may not charter a credit union not having a common bond of membership as defined in 32-3-304. The department shall approve an activity if it finds that the activity fosters competitive equality between state and federal credit unions and prevents adverse effects on members of state-chartered credit unions. If the department disapproves an activity, the credit union must be given an opportunity for a hearing pursuant to Title 2, chapter 4, part 6, to determine whether a compelling reason exists for denying approval of the activity for which the credit union applied.

32-3-207. Confidentiality — penalties. (1) (a) Any report of examination issued under 32-3-203, any report made by a credit union under 32-3-202, and any other credit union documentation maintained by the department of administration, other than those reports that are required to be published, must be considered confidential information. The information may not be imparted to persons who are not officially associated with the department, and the information contained in the reports and statements may be used by the department only in the furtherance of its official duties.

(b) The department may exchange information with federal credit union regulatory agencies and with the financial regulatory departments of other states. The department may furnish information to the legislative auditor for use in pursuit of official duties. A prosecuting official may obtain the information by court order.

(2) Any knowledge or information gained or discovered by the department in pursuance of its powers or duties is confidential information of the department. The information may not, except as provided in subsection (1)(b), be imparted to any person not officially associated with the department. The information may be used by the department only in the furtherance of its official duties.

(3) An employee or agent of the department who violates this section or willfully makes a false official report as to the condition of a credit union is guilty of a felony and must be removed from office. Upon conviction, the person shall be fined an amount not exceeding $1,000, be imprisoned in a state correctional facility for a term not exceeding 5 years, or both.

32-3-208 through 32-3-210 reserved.

32-3-211. Conservatorship. (1) In conjunction with a suspension order or if the department of administration's examination has been obstructed or impeded, the department may appoint itself or appoint any other competent person as conservator to immediately take possession and control of the business and assets of a credit union. The conservator, representing the best interest of the credit union members, must be vested with the full power of management of the credit union.

(2) Not later than 15 days after the date on which the conservator takes possession and control of the business and assets of a credit union pursuant to subsection (1), the credit union may apply to the appropriate court for an order requiring the department to show cause why the department or the designated conservator should not be enjoined from continuing possession and control.

(3) Except as provided in subsection (2), the conservator may maintain possession and control of the business and assets of the credit union and may operate the credit union until:

(a) the department permits the credit union's officials to continue business subject to any terms and conditions the department imposes; or

(b) the credit union is involuntarily merged or involuntarily liquidated in accordance with the provisions of 32-3-205.

(4) The department may appoint any agents considered necessary to assist the conservator in carrying out the duties of the conservator under this section.

(5) All expenses incurred by the conservator in exercising the authority of that office under this section with respect to a credit union must be paid out of the assets of the credit union, except that the department may waive all or a part of the expenses.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 237, L. 2003.

32-3-212. Involuntary merger. The department of administration may initiate the involuntary merger of a credit union that is insolvent or in danger of insolvency with any other credit union or may authorize a credit union to purchase any of the assets of or assume any of the liabilities of any other credit union that is insolvent or in danger of insolvency if the department is satisfied that:

(1) an emergency requiring expeditious action exists with respect to a credit union that is insolvent or in danger of insolvency;

(2) other alternatives are not reasonably available; and

(3) the public interest would best be served by approval of the merger, purchase, or assumption.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 237, L. 2003.

32-3-213 and 32-3-214 reserved.

32-3-215. Out-of-state credit unions. (1) A credit union chartered under the laws of another state or territory of the United States may conduct business as a credit union in this state with the approval of the department of administration, provided that credit unions incorporated under this chapter are allowed to do business in the other state or territory under conditions similar to these provisions.

(2) Before granting approval to do business in this state, the department must find that an out-of-state credit union:

(a) is a credit union organized under laws similar to this chapter;

(b) is financially solvent;

(c) has account insurance comparable to that required for credit unions incorporated under this chapter;

(d) is examined and supervised by a regulatory agency of the state in which it is organized; and

(e) needs to conduct business in this state to adequately serve its members in this state.

(3) An out-of-state credit union may not conduct business in this state unless it:

(a) complies with the consumer protection statutes and rules applicable to credit unions incorporated under this chapter;

(b) agrees to furnish the department with a copy of the examination report conducted by its regulatory agency or to submit to an examination by the department; and

(c) designates and maintains an agent for the service of process in this state.

(4) The department may revoke the approval of an out-of-state credit union conducting business in this state if the department finds that:

(a) the credit union no longer meets the requirements of subsection (2);

(b) the credit union has violated the laws of this state or lawful rules or orders issued by the department;

(c) the credit union has engaged in a pattern of unsafe or unsound credit union practices;

(d) continued operation by the credit union is likely to have a substantially adverse impact on the financial, economic, or other interests of residents of this state; or

(e) the credit union is prohibited from operating in its own home state.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 237, L. 2003.

32-3-216. Conducting business outside this state. (1) A credit union chartered under this chapter may conduct business outside of this state in other states or territories where it is permitted to conduct business as a credit union, under conditions substantially similar to the provisions of this chapter.

(2) If another state or territory's credit union laws or regulations allow credit unions operating in that state or territory to exercise additional powers not allowed in this state, the credit union conducting business outside this state may request permission from the department of administration to exercise those additional powers while operating in that state.

(3) Upon request for approval to exercise a power not allowed in this state, submitted by certified mail, return receipt requested, the department shall respond with a determination in not more than 60 days. For good cause shown within the 60-day period, the department may extend the response period for an additional 30 days. If a response is not received within 60 days or 90 days, as applicable, the requesting credit union may exercise the power.

Part 3
Organization, Membership, and Dissolution

32-3-301. Organization procedure. (1) Any seven or more residents of this state who are of legal age and who have a common bond, as described in 32-3-304, may organize a credit union and become charter members of the credit union by complying with this section.

(2) The subscribers shall execute, in duplicate, articles of incorporation that conform to the applicable Montana corporation law and shall agree to the terms of the articles. The articles must state:

(a) the name, which must include the words "credit union" and which must conform with the provisions of 32-3-103, and the location where the proposed credit union is to have its principal place of business;

(b) that the existence of the credit union is perpetual;

(c) the par value of the shares of the credit union, which must be in $5 multiples of not less than $5 or more than $25;

(d) that the credit union is organized under this chapter for the purposes set forth in the articles;

(e) the names and addresses of the subscribers to the articles of incorporation and the value of shares subscribed to by each, which may be not less than $5; and

(f) that the credit union may exercise incidental powers that are necessary or requisite to enable it to carry on effectively the business for which it is incorporated and those powers that are inherent in the credit union as a legal entity.

(3) The subscribers shall prepare and adopt bylaws for the general government of the credit union, consistent with this chapter, and execute the bylaws in duplicate.

(4) The subscribers shall select at least five qualified persons who agree to serve on the board of directors and at least three qualified persons who agree to serve on the supervisory committee if the bylaws provide for a supervisory committee. A signed agreement to serve in these capacities until the first annual meeting or until the election of their successors, whichever is later, must be executed by the parties. This agreement must be submitted to the department of administration.

(5) The subscribers shall forward the articles of incorporation and the bylaws to the department. The department may issue a certificate of approval if the articles and the bylaws are in conformity with this chapter and if the department is satisfied that the proposed field of operation is favorable to the success of the credit union and that the standing of the proposed organizers gives assurance that the credit union's affairs will be properly administered. The department shall return to the applicants or their representatives a copy of the bylaws and the articles, which must be preserved in the permanent files of the credit union. The application must be acted upon within 30 days. The articles of incorporation must be filed with the secretary of state who, upon payment of the fees for filing the articles, shall issue a certificate of incorporation.

(6) The subscribers for a credit union charter may not transact any business until formal approval of the charter has been received.

(7) If the department denies a certificate of approval, the subscribers may request a hearing under the Montana Administrative Procedure Act.

32-3-302. Form of articles and bylaws. In order to simplify the organization of credit unions, the department of administration shall prepare a form of articles of incorporation and a form of bylaws, consistent with this chapter, that may be used by credit union incorporators for their guidance. The articles of incorporation and bylaws must be available without charge to persons desiring to organize a credit union.

32-3-303. Amendments. (1) The articles of incorporation or the bylaws may be amended as provided in the bylaws. Amendments to the articles of incorporation or bylaws must be submitted, by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the department of administration, which shall approve or disapprove the amendments within 60 days.

(2) Amendments become effective upon:

(a) approval in writing by the department, for which a fee may not be charged; and

(b) in the case of articles of incorporation, filing with the secretary of state.

(3) If the department does not approve or disapprove the amendments within the 60-day period, the amendments must be considered approved, except that the department may extend the approval period for an additional 30 days for good cause as stated in a written notice given to the credit union within the original 60-day period.

32-3-304. Membership defined. (1) The membership of a credit union shall be limited to and consist of the subscribers to the articles of incorporation and such other persons within the common bond set forth in the bylaws as have been duly admitted members, have paid the required entrance fee or membership fee, or both, have subscribed for one or more shares and have paid the initial installment thereon, and have complied with such other requirements as the articles of incorporation or bylaws specify.

(2) Credit union membership may include groups having a common bond of similar occupation, association, or interests or groups within a well-defined neighborhood, community, or rural district or employees of a common employer and members of the immediate family of such persons.

32-3-310. Meetings of members. (1) The annual meeting and any special meetings of the members of the credit union must be held at the time, place, and in the manner indicated by the bylaws.

(2) At all meetings a member has only one vote, irrespective of the member's shareholdings. A member may not vote by proxy, but a member may vote by absentee ballot or mail ballot if the bylaws of the credit union so provide.

(3) A society, association, partnership, or corporation having membership in the credit union may be represented and have its vote cast by one of its members or shareholders, provided that the person has been fully authorized by the organization's governing body.

(4) The board of directors may establish a minimum age, not greater than 18 years of age, as a qualification of eligibility to vote at meetings of the members or to hold office, or both.

32-3-321. Liquidation. (1) A credit union may elect to dissolve voluntarily and liquidate its affairs in the manner prescribed in this section.

(2) The board of directors shall adopt a resolution recommending the credit union be dissolved voluntarily and directing that the question of liquidation be submitted to the members.

(3) Within 10 days after the board of directors decides to submit the question of liquidation to the members, the presiding officer of the board shall notify the department of administration in writing, setting forth the reasons for the proposed action and a plan for liquidation. Within 10 days after the members act on the question of liquidation, the presiding officer of the board shall notify the department in writing as to whether or not the members approved the proposed liquidation.

(4) Depending on the credit union's circumstances, a liquidation plan may or may not require the suspension of payment on shares, withdrawal of shares, transfer of shares to loans and interest, investments of any kind, new loans, or other similar financial transactions pending action by members on the proposal to liquidate. On approval by the members of the proposal, all business transactions must be permanently discontinued. Necessary expenses of operation must continue to be paid on authorization of the liquidating agent or committee during the period of liquidation.

(5) For a credit union to enter voluntary liquidation, approval by a majority of the members in writing or by a two-thirds majority of the members present at a regular or special meeting of the members is required. If authorization for liquidation is to be obtained at a meeting of the members, notice in writing must be given to each member, by first-class mail, at least 10 days prior to the meeting.

(6) If liquidation is approved, the board of directors shall appoint a liquidating agent or committee for the purpose of conserving and collecting assets, closing the affairs of the credit union, and distributing the assets as required by this chapter.

(7) A liquidating credit union shall continue in existence for the purpose of discharging its debts, collecting and distributing its assets, and doing all acts required in order to wind up its business and may sue and be sued for the purpose of enforcing debts and obligations until its affairs are fully adjusted.

(8) The liquidating agent or committee shall distribute the assets of the credit union or the proceeds of any disposition of the assets in the sequence described in 32-3-205(6).

(9) As soon as the liquidating agent or committee determines that all assets from which there is a reasonable expectancy of realization have been liquidated and distributed as set forth in this section, the liquidating agent or committee shall execute a certificate of dissolution on a form prescribed by the department. The form, together with all pertinent books and records of the liquidating credit union, must be filed with the department and the secretary of state. Upon filing with both entities, the credit union is dissolved.

(10) If the department determines that the liquidating agent or committee has failed to make reasonable progress in the liquidating of the credit union's affairs and distribution of its assets or has violated a provision of this chapter, the department may issue a cease and desist order against the liquidating agent or committee and appoint a new liquidating agent to complete the liquidation under the department's direction and control. The department shall fill any vacancy caused by the resignation, death, illness, removal, desertion, or incapacity to function of the liquidating agent.

32-3-322. Merger. (1) Any credit union may, with the approval of the department of administration, merge with another credit union under the existing charter of the other credit union, pursuant to any plan agreed upon by the majority of each board of directors of each credit union joining in the merger and approved by the affirmative vote of a majority of the members of the merging credit union present at a meeting of its members called for that purpose.

(2) After agreement by each board of directors and approval by the members of the merging credit union, the president and secretary of the credit union shall execute a certificate of merger, which must set forth all of the following:

(a) the time and place of the meeting of each board of directors at which the plan was agreed upon;

(b) the vote in favor of the adoption of the plan;

(c) a copy of the resolution or other action by which the plan was agreed upon;

(d) the time and place of the meeting of the members at which the plan agreed upon was approved; and

(e) the vote by which the plan was approved by the members.

(3) The certificate and a copy of the plan of merger agreed upon must be forwarded to the department, certified by the department, and returned to both credit unions within 30 days. A copy of the certificate of merger and certified plan must be filed with the secretary of state by the surviving credit union.

(4) Upon return of the certificate from the department, all property rights and members' interest of the merged credit union vest in the surviving credit union without deed, endorsement, or other instrument of transfer, and all debts, obligations, and liabilities of the merged credit union are considered to have been assumed by the surviving credit union under whose charter the merger was effected. The rights and privileges of the members of the merged credit union remain intact.

(5) This section must be construed, whenever possible, to permit a credit union chartered under any other law to merge with one chartered under this chapter or to permit one chartered under this chapter to merge with one chartered under any other law.

32-3-401. General powers. A credit union may:

(1) make contracts as provided for in this chapter;

(2) sue and be sued;

(3) adopt and use a common seal and alter the seal;

(4) acquire, lease, hold, and dispose of property, either in whole or in part, necessary or incidental to its operations;

(5) at the discretion of the board of directors, require the payment of an entrance fee or annual membership fee, or both, of any person admitted to membership;

(6) receive savings from its members in the form of shares or special-purpose thrift accounts;

(7) lend its funds to its members as hereinafter provided;

(8) borrow from any source up to 50% of total assets, after deduction of the notes payable account;

(9) discount and sell any eligible obligations, subject to rules prescribed by the department of administration;

(10) sell all or substantially all of its assets or purchase all or substantially all of the assets of another credit union, subject to the approval of the department;

(11) invest surplus funds as provided in this chapter;

(12) make deposits in legally chartered banks, savings banks, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, trust companies, and central type credit union organizations;

(13) assess charges to members in accordance with the bylaws for failure to meet promptly their obligations to the credit union;

(14) hold membership in other credit unions organized under this chapter or other laws and in other associations and organizations composed of credit unions;

(15) declare dividends and pay interest refunds to borrowers as provided in this chapter;

(16) collect, receive, and disburse money in connection with the sale of negotiable checks, money orders, and other money type instruments and for such other purposes as may provide benefit or convenience to its members and charge a reasonable fee for the services;

(17) perform tasks and missions that are requested by the federal government or this state or any agency or political subdivision of the federal government or this state, when approved by the board of directors and not inconsistent with this chapter;

(18) contribute to, support, or participate in any nonprofit service facility whose services will benefit the credit union or its membership, subject to regulations prescribed by the department;

(19) make donations or contributions to any civic, charitable, or community organizations as authorized by the board of directors, subject to regulations prescribed by the department;

(20) purchase or make available insurance for its directors, officers, agents, employees, and members;

(21) act as custodian or trustee of individual retirement accounts, as custodian or trustee of pension funds of self-employed individuals or of the sponsor of the credit union, or as custodian or trustee under any other pension or profit-sharing plan if the funds of the accounts are invested in shares of the credit union; or

(22) act as fiscal agent for and receive deposits from the federal government, this state, or any agency or political subdivision of the federal government or this state.

32-3-403. Election or appointment of officials. (1) The credit union must be directed by a board, consisting of an odd number of at least five directors, to be elected at the annual membership meeting by and from the members. All members of the board shall hold office for terms that the bylaws provide.

(2) The board of directors shall appoint a supervisory committee of not less than three members at the organization meeting and within 30 days following each annual meeting of the members for terms that the bylaws provide. However, the bylaws of the credit union may provide that the supervisory committee members are elected for terms that the bylaws provide by the members of the credit union at the annual meeting of the members or may provide that the credit union may not have a supervisory committee. If the bylaws provide that the credit union may not have a supervisory committee, the duties and powers of the supervisory committee, as described in 32-3-417 and 32-3-418(1), are the responsibility of the board of directors.

(3) As provided in the bylaws, the board of directors shall appoint or the members shall elect a credit committee, consisting of an odd number of at least three members, for terms that the bylaws provide. In lieu of a credit committee, the bylaws may provide that the board of directors shall appoint a credit manager.

(2) Unless specifically prohibited by the bylaws, directors and members of the supervisory committee or credit committee may participate in and act at any meeting of the board or the supervisory or credit committee through the use of communications equipment that enables all persons participating in the meeting to communicate with each other. Participation in the meeting in this manner constitutes attendance.

(3) Unless specifically prohibited by the bylaws, any action required by this chapter to be taken at a meeting of the board of directors or a committee or any other action that may be taken at a meeting of the board of directors or a committee may be taken without a meeting if a consent in writing setting forth the action taken is signed by all the directors of the board or the committee members entitled to vote with respect to the subject matter of the action taken. The written consents must be evidenced by one or more written approvals, each of which sets forth the action taken and bears the signature of one or more board directors or committee members.

All the approvals evidencing the consent must be delivered to the secretary to be filed in the corporate records of the credit union. The action taken is effective when all the directors or committee members have approved the consent unless the consent specifies a different effective date. A consent signed by all the directors or committee members has the same effect as a unanimous vote and may be stated as a unanimous vote in any document filed with the department under this chapter.

32-3-412. Duties of directors. The directors shall:

(1) act upon applications for membership or appoint one or more membership officers to approve applications for membership under conditions prescribed by the board. A record of a membership officer's approval or denial of membership must be available to the board of directors for inspection. A person denied membership by a membership officer may appeal the denial to the board.

(2) purchase a blanket fidelity bond, in accordance with any rules of the department of administration, to protect the credit union against losses caused by occurrences covered by the bond such as fraud, dishonesty, forgery, theft, misappropriation, misapplication, or unfaithful performance of duty by a director, officer, employee, member of an official committee, or other agent. However, the directors have the option of providing coverage under this subsection for only the treasurer elected by the board.

(3) determine from time to time the interest rate or rates consistent with this chapter to be charged on loans and authorize interest refunds, if any, to members from income earned and received in proportion to the interest paid by them on classes of loans and under conditions prescribed by the board;

(4) fix from time to time the maximum amount that may be loaned to any one member;

(5) declare dividends on shares in the manner and form provided in the bylaws;

(6) limit the number of shares that may be owned by a member, the limitations to apply alike to all members;

(7) have charge of the investment of surplus funds, except that the board of directors may designate an investment committee or any qualified individual to have charge of making investments under controls established by the board of directors;

(8) authorize the employment of persons necessary to carry on the business of the credit union, including the credit manager, loan officers, and auditing assistants requested by the supervisory committee, and fix the compensation, if any, of the treasurer and the general manager and provide for compensation for other employees within guidelines predetermined by the board of directors;

(9) authorize the conveyance of property;

(10) borrow or lend money to carry on the functions of the credit union;

(11) designate a depository or depositories for the funds of the credit union;

(12) suspend any or all members of the credit or supervisory committee for failure to perform their duties;

(13) appoint any special committees considered necessary; and

(14) perform other duties as the members from time to time direct and perform or authorize any action not inconsistent with this chapter and not specifically reserved by the bylaws for the members.

Part 5
Shares and Accounts

32-3-501. Shares. (1) The capital of a credit union consists of the payments by the members on shares.

(2) Shares may be subscribed to, paid for, and transferred in a manner as the bylaws prescribe.

(3) A certificate need not be issued to denote ownership of a share in a credit union.

(4) This chapter does not restrict or prohibit the issuance of shares in any type of account described in Title 72, chapter 6, part 2. However, the party, the beneficiary, or the agent of an account may not vote, obtain loans, hold office, or be required to pay an entrance or membership fee unless the party, beneficiary, or agent is a member of the credit union.

32-3-702. Maintenance of regular reserve account. The department of administration may require a credit union to establish and maintain, at a certain level, a regular reserve account as a contingency to address potential losses. The department may rely on standards adopted by the national credit union administration (NCUA) in making any determination to require a credit union to establish a regular reserve account.

32-3-703. Use of regular reserve account. The regular reserve account belongs to the credit union and must be used to meet losses including, with prior approval of the department of administration, losses from the sale of investments or securities. The regular reserve account may not be used to meet losses resulting from an excess of expenses over income and may not be distributed except on liquidation of the credit union or in accordance with a plan approved by the department.

Part 8
Corporate Credit Unions

32-3-801. Organization. A corporate credit union may be organized and operated under this chapter and is subject to all provisions not inconsistent with this part. The credit union shall use the term "corporate" in its official name.

History: En. 14-668 by Sec. 68, Ch. 38, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 14-668; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 66, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 43, Ch. 18, L. 1995.

32-3-802. Purpose — membership. (1) A corporate credit union must be operated primarily for the purpose of serving other credit unions.

(2) Membership in a corporate credit union must include credit unions organized and operating under this chapter or under any other credit union law.

(3) Membership may also include:

(a) officers, directors, committee members, and employees of credit unions; or

(b) organizations and associations of those persons or organizations enumerated in subsections (2) and (3)(a).

(4) The membership of a corporate credit union may not include more than seven natural persons as described in subsection (3)(a).

History: En. 14-669 by Sec. 69, Ch. 38, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 14-669; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 66, L. 1993.

32-3-803. Voting representative — conflict of interest. (1) Each credit union that is a member of a corporate credit union may designate one person to be its voting representative in the corporate credit union. The person must be designated by the board of directors of the member credit union. The voting representative is eligible to hold office in the corporate credit union as if the person were a member of the corporate credit union.

(2) (a) A director, committee member, officer, agent, or employee may not in any manner participate in the deliberation or determination of any question affecting that person's personal pecuniary interest.

(b) A director, officer, agent, or employee may not in any manner participate in the determination of any matter material in amount, as defined by rule by the department, affecting the pecuniary interest of any corporation, partnership, or association, other than the corporate credit union, in which that person has a direct or indirect interest, except for matters involving payment of dividends to the membership.

(3) The department shall adopt rules implementing this section in substantial conformance with Title 12, part 704, Code of Federal Regulations.

Cross-References

32-3-804. Additional rights and powers — department rules. (1) Except as limited by this part and rules adopted pursuant to this part, a corporate credit union has all of the rights and powers of any other credit union organized under this chapter and the additional rights and powers specified in this part.

(2) A corporate credit union may, as permitted by rules of the department, make loans to other credit unions and provide correspondent services and other financial services to other credit unions.

(3) A corporate credit union may, as permitted by rules of the department, invest in and grant loans to associations of credit unions, central funds of credit unions, or organizations chartered to provide service to credit unions.

(4) A corporate credit union may, as permitted by rules of the department, borrow and accept money from any source and issue notes or debentures.

(5) A corporate credit union may, as permitted by rules of the department, make reasonable and prudent investments.

(6) The department shall adopt rules governing corporate credit union loans, borrowing, investments, strategic planning, funds management, capital goals, and services. The rules must be in substantial conformance with Title 12, part 704, Code of Federal Regulations.

(7) A corporate credit union may issue membership capital accounts as provided in 32-3-805.

(8) A corporate credit union may issue paid-in capital and nonmember paid-in capital as provided in 32-3-810.

(9) A corporate credit union with corporate shareholdings equal to or in excess of 95% of its total assets may, by vote of its board of directors, elect exemption of insurance on share accounts under the provisions of Title II of the Federal Credit Union Act.

32-3-805. Membership capital accounts. (1) A corporate credit union may issue membership capital accounts to members that are available to cover losses that exceed reserves and undivided earnings and paid-in capital.

(2) (a) For purposes of this section, "membership capital account" means a share, deposit, term certificate, adjusted balance, or other account that:

(i) is established, at a minimum, as a 3-year notice account;

(ii) is limited to members;

(iii) is not subject to share insurance coverage by the national credit union share insurance fund or other deposit insurers; and

(iv) in the event of liquidation of the corporate credit union, is payable only after satisfaction of all liabilities of the liquidation estate, including uninsured obligations to shareholders and the national credit union share insurance fund.

(b) Upon written notice of intent to withdraw membership capital, the balance of the account will be frozen with no annual adjustment until the conclusion of the notice period, except in the case of a credit union that is placed into liquidation, is purchased and assumed, or is merged.

(c) Upon notification of intent to withdraw, the amount of the account on notice that may be considered membership capital is reduced by a constant monthly amortization that ensures that the recognition of membership capital is fully amortized at the end of the notice period.

(d) The full balance of a membership capital account that has been placed on notice, not just the remaining nonamortized portion, is available to absorb losses in excess of reserves and undivided earnings and of paid-in capital until the funds are released by the corporate credit union at the conclusion of the notice period.

(3) A membership capital account may not be used to pledge borrowings.

(4) Corporate credit unions that issue membership capital accounts shall disclose the terms and conditions of the account when it is opened and at least annually thereafter.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 66, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 365, L. 1997.

32-3-806. Fixed assets — department rules. (1) A corporate credit union may not invest in fixed assets if the aggregate of those investments would exceed 15% of capital, unless the credit union receives prior written approval from the department and the national credit union administration board.

(2) The department shall adopt rules for the administration of subsection (1) and for governing ownership of fixed assets by a corporate credit union. The rules must be in substantial conformance with Title 12, part 704, Code of Federal Regulations.

32-3-808. Annual audit. (1) The supervisory committee of a corporate credit union shall require an annual opinion audit to be made by an independent, licensed certified public accountant and shall submit the audit report to the board of directors. A summary of the audit report must be submitted to the membership at the next annual meeting.

(2) The auditor's workpapers must be made available for review by state and federal regulatory examiners during any examination conducted by the examiners.

(3) A copy of the audit report and reportable conditions letter, otherwise known as the management letter, must be submitted to the department and the national credit union administration within 30 days after receipt by the board of directors.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 66, L. 1993.

32-3-809. Contracts and written agreements. Services, facilities, personnel, or equipment shared with any party must be supported by a written contract or agreement that specifies the duties and responsibilities of each party and that fully supports and documents the allocation of service fees and expenses.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 66, L. 1993.

32-3-810. Paid-in capital defined — authorized. (1) "Paid-in capital" means accounts or other interests of a corporate credit union that:

(a) may not exceed reserves and undivided earnings;

(b) may include both member paid-in capital and nonmember paid-in capital;

(c) are available to cover losses that exceed reserves and undivided earnings;

(d) are not insured by the national credit union share insurance fund (NCUSIF) or other share or deposit insurers;

(e) are callable only at the option of the corporate credit union and only if the corporate credit union meets its minimum level of required capital after the funds are called; and

(f) in the event of liquidation of the corporate credit union, are payable only after satisfaction of all liabilities of the liquidation estate, including uninsured share obligations to the shareholders, the NCUSIF, and membership capital holders.

(2) (a) A corporate credit union may issue paid-in capital to its members.

(b) Member paid-in capital must have an initial maturity of 20 years.

(c) A corporate credit union may not condition membership, services or prices for services on a member's ownership of paid-in capital.

(d) When a paid-in capital instrument has a remaining maturity of 5 years, the amount of the instrument that may be considered paid-in capital for the purposes of this part is reduced by a constant monthly amortization that ensures the recognition of paid-in capital is fully amortized when the instrument has a remaining maturity of 3 years.

(e) The terms and conditions of any member paid-in capital instrument must be disclosed to the recorded owner of the instrument at the time the instrument is created and at least annually thereafter.

(3) A corporate credit union may issue nonmember paid-in capital accounts. However, the corporate credit union may only issue the accounts after approval by the department and the national credit union administration (NCUA), and following an evaluation by the NCUA of the strategic purpose and financial impact of issuing the accounts, the corporate credit union's financial condition and management capabilities, the maturity and capital amortization schedules of the paid-in capital instrument; and the participation, voting, acceleration, redemption, or other rights of the holder.

Organization

32-4-201. Incorporators — general powers — capital stock — articles of incorporation. Nine or more persons, a majority of whom must be residents of this state, who desire to create a development corporation under the provisions of this chapter for the purpose of promoting, developing, and advancing the prosperity and economic welfare of the state and, to that end, to exercise the powers and privileges provided in this part may be incorporated in the following manner:

(1) The persons shall, by articles of incorporation filed in the manner prescribed in Title 35, set forth:

(a) the name of the corporation, which must include the words "Development Corporation of Montana";

(b) the location of the principal office of the corporation, but the corporation may have offices in other places within the state as fixed by the board of directors;

(c) the purposes for which the corporation is founded, which must include the following:

(i) to elect, appoint, and employ officers, agents, and employees;

(ii) to make contracts and incur liabilities for any of the purposes of the corporation, provided that the corporation may not incur any secondary liability by way of guaranty or endorsement of obligations of any person, firm, corporation, joint-stock company, association, or trust or in any other manner;

(iii) to borrow money from members, nonmember persons, firms, or corporations and state, federal, county, or municipal agencies or authorities for any of the purposes of the corporation;

(iv) to issue for the purposes of the corporation its bonds, debentures, convertible debentures, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness, whether secured or unsecured, and to secure the indebtedness by mortgage, pledge, deed of trust, or other lien on its property, franchises, rights, and privileges of every kind and nature or any part or interest in its property, franchises, rights, and privilege, without securing stockholder or member approval. However, a loan to the corporation may not be secured in any manner unless all outstanding loans to the corporation are secured equally and ratably in proportion to the unpaid balance of the loans and in the same manner.

(v) to make loans to any person, firm, corporation, joint-stock company, association, or trust and establish and regulate the terms and conditions with respect to any loans and the charges for interest and service connected with the loans. However, the corporation may not approve any application for a loan unless the person applying for the loan shows that the person has applied for the loan through ordinary banking channels and that the loan has been refused by at least one bank or other financial institution.

(vi) to participate with any authorized private lending agency or city, county, state, or federal governmental lending agencies in the making of loans;

(vii) to purchase, receive, hold, lease, or otherwise acquire, except by condemnation, and to sell, convey, transfer, lease, or otherwise dispose of real and personal property, together with rights and privileges that may be incidental and appurtenant to the property and the use of the property, including but not restricted to any real or personal property acquired by the corporation from time to time in the satisfaction of debts or enforcement of obligations;

(viii) to acquire the goodwill, business, rights, real and personal property, and other assets or any part or interest in the assets of any persons, firms, corporations, joint-stock companies, associations, or trusts and to assume, undertake, or pay the obligations, debts, and liabilities of any person, firm, corporation, joint-stock company, association, or trust;

(ix) to acquire improved or unimproved real estate for the purpose of constructing industrial plants or other business establishments or for the purpose of disposing of real estate to others for the construction of industrial plants or other business establishments;

(x) to acquire, construct or reconstruct, alter, repair, maintain, operate, sell, convey, transfer, lease, or otherwise dispose of industrial plants or business establishments;

(xi) to acquire, subscribe for, own, hold, sell, assign, transfer, mortgage, pledge, or otherwise dispose of the stock, shares, bonds, debentures, notes, or other securities and evidences of interest in or indebtedness of any person, firm, corporation, joint-stock company, association, or trust and while the owner or holder of interest for indebtedness to exercise all the rights, powers, and privileges of ownership, including the right to vote;

(xii) to mortgage, pledge, or otherwise encumber any property, right, or thing of value, acquired pursuant to the powers contained in subsections (1)(c)(vii) through (1)(c)(xi), as security for the payment of any part of the purchase price of the property, right, or thing of value;

(xiii) to cooperate with and avail itself of the facilities of the department of commerce and any similar governmental agency and to cooperate with, assist, and otherwise encourage organizations in the various communities of the state in the promotion, assistance, and development of the business prosperity and economic welfare of the communities or of this state or of any part of the state;

(xiv) to accept gifts, donations, bequests, devises, or grants from any person, corporation, association, or governmental agency or authority, whether state, federal, county, or municipal;

(xv) to do all acts and things necessary or convenient to carry out the powers expressly granted in this chapter;

(d) the amount of total authorized capital stock and the number of shares in which it is divided, the par value of each share, the amount of capital stock with which it will commence business and, if there is more than one class of stock, a description of the different classes, and the names and post-office addresses of the subscribers of stock and the number of shares subscribed by each. The aggregate of the subscription must be the amount of capital with which the corporation will commence business.

(2) The articles of incorporation may also contain any provision consistent with the laws of this state for the regulation of the affairs of the corporation or creating, defining, limiting, and regulating its powers. The articles of incorporation must be in accordance with the provisions of Title 35, so far as they are consistent with this chapter.

32-4-205. Amendment of articles of incorporation. (1) The articles of incorporation may be amended by vote of the stockholders of the corporation and such amendments shall require approval by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the stockholders, provided:

(a) that no amendment which is inconsistent with the general purposes expressed herein or which eliminates or curtails the obligation of the corporation to make reports as provided in 32-4-306 shall be made without amendment of this chapter; and

(b) that no amendment of the articles of incorporation which increases the obligation of a member to make loans to the corporation; makes any change in the principal amount, interest rate, maturity date, or in the security or credit position of any outstanding loan of a member to the corporation; or affects a member's right to withdraw from membership as provided in 32-4-303 shall be made without the consent of each member affected by such amendment.

(2) Within 30 days after any meeting at which amendment of the articles of incorporation has been adopted, articles of amendment signed and sworn to by the president, treasurer, and a majority of the directors, setting forth such amendment and the due adoption thereof, shall so far as consistent with this chapter be submitted, as prescribed in Title 35, to the secretary of state who shall examine them. If he finds that they conform to the requirements of this chapter, he shall so certify and endorse his approval thereon. Thereupon, the amended articles of incorporation shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and no such amendment shall take effect until such amended articles of incorporation shall have been filed as aforesaid.

32-4-206. Board of directors. (1) The business and affairs of the corporation shall be managed and conducted by a board of directors, a president and treasurer, and other officers and agents as the corporation by its bylaws shall authorize.

(2) The board of directors shall consist of a number, not less than nine, as determined in the first instance by the incorporators and thereafter annually by the stockholders of the corporation, provided that any state, county, or municipal agency or authority that has made a grant or loan to the corporation shall have at least one seat on the board of directors and additional seats representative of its proportional investment in the corporation.

(3) The directors need not be stockholders in the corporation.

(4) The board of directors may exercise all the powers of the corporation except as are conferred by law or by the bylaws of the corporation upon the stockholders and shall choose and appoint all the agents and officers of the corporation and fill all vacancies in the office of director.

(5) The board of directors shall be elected in the first instance by the incorporators and thereafter at each annual meeting of the corporation or, if no annual meeting is held in any year at the time fixed by the bylaws, at a special meeting held in lieu of the annual meeting. At each annual meeting or at each special meeting held in lieu of the annual meeting, the stockholders shall elect the directors. The directors shall hold office until the next annual meeting of the corporation or special meeting held in lieu of the annual meeting after their election and until their successors are elected and qualified, unless sooner removed in accordance with the provisions of the bylaws.

(6) Directors and officers are not responsible for losses unless the losses were occasioned by the willful misconduct of the directors and officers.

32-4-207. First meeting of corporation. (1) The first meeting of the corporation shall be called by a notice signed by three or more of the incorporators, stating the time, place, and purpose of the meeting, a copy of which notice shall be mailed or delivered to each incorporator at least 5 days before the day appointed for the meeting. Said first meeting may be held without such notice upon agreement in writing to that effect signed by all the incorporators. There shall be recorded in the minutes of the meeting a copy of said notice or of such unanimous agreement of the incorporators.

(2) At such first meeting the incorporators shall organize by the choice by ballot of a temporary clerk, by the adoption of bylaws, by the election by ballot of directors, and by action upon such other matters within the powers of the corporation as the incorporators may see fit. The temporary clerk shall be sworn and shall make and attest a record of the proceedings. Five of the incorporators shall be a quorum for the transaction of business.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 128, L. 1969; R.C.M. 1947, 15-2608.

32-4-208. Stock ownership and limitations. Notwithstanding any rule at common law or any provision of any general or special law or any provision in their respective charters, agreements of association, articles of organization, or trust indentures:

(1) all persons, domestic corporations organized for the purpose of carrying on business within this state, including without implied limitation any public utility companies and insurance and casualty companies and foreign corporations licensed to do business in the state, and trusts are hereby authorized to acquire, purchase, hold, sell, assign, transfer, mortgage, pledge, or otherwise dispose of any bonds, securities, or other evidences of indebtedness created by, or the shares of the capital stock of, the corporation and, while owners of said stock, to exercise all the rights, powers, and privileges of ownership, including the right to vote thereon, all without the approval of any regulatory authority of the state;

(2) all financial institutions are hereby authorized to become members of the corporation by making loans to the corporation as provided herein;

(3) a financial institution which does not become a member of the corporation shall not be permitted to acquire any share of the capital stock of the corporation;

(4) each financial institution which becomes a member of the corporation is hereby authorized to acquire, purchase, hold, sell, assign, transfer, mortgage, pledge, or otherwise dispose of any bonds, securities, or other evidences of indebtedness created by, or the shares of the capital stock of, the corporation and, while owners of said stock, to exercise all the rights, powers, and privileges of ownership, including the right to vote thereon, all without the approval of any regulatory authority of the state.

Operation and Regulation

32-4-301. Powers of stockholders. (1) The stockholders of the corporation shall have the following powers of the corporation:

(a) to determine the number of and elect directors as provided in 32-4-206;

(b) to make, amend, and repeal bylaws;

(c) to amend the articles of incorporation as provided in 32-4-205;

(d) to exercise such other of the powers of the corporation as may be conferred on the stockholders by the bylaws.

(2) As to all matters requiring action by the stockholders of the corporation, and except as otherwise herein provided, such matters shall require the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes to which the stockholders present or represented at the meeting shall be entitled.

(3) Each stockholder shall have one vote, in person or by proxy, for each share of capital stock held by him.

32-4-302. Membership — limitation and apportionment of loans by members. Any financial institution may request membership in the corporation by making application to the board of directors on such form and in such manner as said board of directors may require, and membership shall become effective upon acceptance of such application by the board. The application for membership will specify the loan limit which shall be subject to call of the corporation, but in no case shall the amount so specified exceed the limit provided for in this chapter. Each member of the corporation shall make loans to the corporation as and when called upon by it to do so on such terms and other conditions as shall be approved from time to time by the board of directors, subject to the following conditions:

(1) All loan limits shall be established at the thousand-dollar amount nearest the amount computed in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(2) No loan to the corporation shall be made if immediately thereafter the total amount of the obligations of the corporation to its members would exceed 10 times the amount then paid in on the outstanding capital stock of the corporation.

(3) The total amount outstanding on loans to the corporation made by any member at any one time, when added to the amount of the investment in the capital stock of the corporation then held by such member, shall not exceed:

(a) 20% of the total amount then outstanding on loans to the corporation by all members, including in said total amount outstanding amounts validly called for loan but not yet loaned;

(b) the following limit, to be determined on the basis of the member's balance sheet at the close of its 1982 fiscal year and then redetermined periodically with the concurrence of the member:

(i) 3% of the capital and surplus of commercial banks and trust companies;

(ii) 1/4 of 1% of the total outstanding loans made by a building and loan association;

(iii) 2% of the capital and unassigned surplus of stock insurance companies; and

(iv) such comparable limits as may be approved by the board of directors of the corporation for other financial institutions.

(4) The board of directors, on the request of any financial institution applying for membership and with the approval of one-half of the members that are the same type of financial institution as the applicant, may authorize a different loan limit than that set forth in subsection (3)(b).

(5) Subject to subsection (3)(a) of this section, each call made by the corporation shall be prorated among the members of the corporation in substantially the same proportion that the adjusted loan limit of each member bears to the aggregate of the adjusted loan limits of all members. The adjusted loan limit of a member shall be the amount of such member's loan limit, reduced by the balance of outstanding loans made by such member to the corporation and the investment in capital stock of the corporation held by such member at the time of such call.

(6) All loans to the corporation by a member shall be evidenced by bonds, debentures, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness of the corporation, which shall be freely transferable at all times and which shall bear interest at a rate of not less than 1/4 of 1% in excess of the rate of interest determined by the board of directors to be the prime rate prevailing at the time.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 128, L. 1969; R.C.M. 1947, 15-2610; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 320, L. 1983; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 90, L. 1985.

Each year the corporation shall set apart as earned surplus not less than 10% of its net earnings for the preceding fiscal year until such surplus shall be equal in value to 50% of the amount paid in on the capital stock then outstanding. Whenever the amount of surplus established herein shall become impaired, it shall be built up again to the required amount in the manner provided for its original accumulation. Net earnings and surplus shall be determined by the board of directors, after providing for such reserves as said directors deem desirable, and the directors' determination made in good faith shall be conclusive on all persons.

32-4-305. Deposit of funds. (1) The corporation shall not deposit any of its funds in any banking institution unless such institution has been designated as a depository by a vote of a majority of the directors present at an authorized meeting of the board of directors, exclusive of any director who is an officer or director of the depository so designated.

(2) The corporation shall not receive money on deposit.

32-5-102. Definitions. Unless the context requires otherwise, in this chapter, the following definitions apply:

(1) (a) "Consumer loan" means credit offered or extended to an individual primarily for personal, family, or household purposes, including loans for personal, family, or household purposes that are secured by a mortgage, deed of trust, trust indenture, or other security interest in real estate.

(b) Consumer loans do not include:

(i) loan transactions that are governed by 12 U.S.C. 1735f-7a, but a consumer loan business may engage in transactions that are governed by 12 U.S.C. 1735f-7a;

(ii) deferred deposit loans provided for in Title 31, chapter 1, part 7; or

(iii) title loans provided for in Title 31, chapter 1, part 8.

(2) "Consumer loan business" means the business of making consumer loans as a licensee under this chapter.

(3) "Department" means the department of administration provided for in Title 2, chapter 15, part 10.

(4) "License" means one or both of the licenses provided for by this chapter.

(5) "Licensee" means the person holding a license.

(6) "Person" means individuals, partnerships, associations, corporations, and all legal entities in the loaning business.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 283, L. 1959; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 233, L. 1971; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 172, L. 1975; amd. Sec. 110, Ch. 431, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 47-202; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 216, L. 1979; amd. 32-5-103. Engaging in business of making consumer loans restricted. (1) Except as provided in subsection (5), a person may not engage in the business of making consumer loans in any amount and contract for, charge, or receive directly or indirectly on or in connection with any loan any charges, whether for interest, compensation, consideration, or expense, except as provided in and authorized by this chapter. The provisions of this chapter do not apply to any exempted person.

(2) A licensee may sell its business and assets to a bank, building and loan association, savings and loan association, trust company, credit union, credit association, development credit corporation, or bank holding company organized pursuant to state or federal statutory authority and subject to supervision, control, or regulation by an agency of the state of Montana or an agency of the federal government. All contracts for loans and all other contracts entered into by the licensee pursuant to the provisions of this chapter that are sold and transferred to an acquiring organization continue to be governed by the provisions of this chapter.

(3) The provisions of subsection (1) apply to any person who seeks to evade its applications by any device, subterfuge, or pretense.

(4) Any loan made or collected in violation of subsection (1) by a person other than a licensee or a lender exempt under subsection (5) is void, and the person does not have the right to collect, receive, or retain any principal, interest, or charges.

(5) A consumer loan licensee or a person who seeks a regulated lender exemption under 31-1-112 as a consumer loan licensee shall fully comply with this chapter. A regulated lender as defined in 31-1-111, other than a consumer loan licensee, or a lender who complies with the provisions of Title 31, chapter 1, part 1, is not required to comply with this chapter. A deferred deposit lender, as defined in 31-1-703, who complies with the provisions of Title 31, chapter 1, part 7, is not required to comply with this chapter. A title lender, as defined in 31-1-803, who complies with the provisions of Title 31, chapter 1, part 8, is not required to comply with this chapter.

Compiler's Comments

2005 Amendment: Chapter 125 in (4) at beginning after "Any" substituted "loan made or collected in violation of subsection (1) by a person other than a licensee or a lender exempt under subsection (5)" for "act by a licensee in the making of a contract or in the collection of a loan made under the contract that violates the provisions of this chapter"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective March 24, 2005.

Retroactive Applicability — Applicability: Section 5, Ch. 125, L. 2005, provided: "[This act] applies retroactively, within the meaning of 1-2-109, to loans subject to [this act] made on or after October 1, 1985, the effective date of Chapter 406, L. 1985."

Section 8, Ch. 272, L. 2005, amended sec. 5, Ch. 125, L. 2005, to provide: "(1) Except as provided in subsection (2), [~~This~~ this act] applies retroactively, within the meaning of 1-2-109, to loans subject to [this act] made on or after October 1, 1985, the effective date of Chapter 406, Laws of 1985.

(2) [This act] does not apply to loans that are the subject of a lawsuit filed prior to [the effective date of this act]." Chapter 125 effective March 24, 2005. Chapter 272 effective April 19, 2005.

32-5-104. Adjustment of dollar amounts. (1) From time to time the dollar amounts in this chapter designated as subject to change shall change, as provided in this section, according to and to the extent of changes in the Consumer Price Index for Urban Wage Earners and Clerical Workers: U.S. City Average, All Items, 1967 = 100, compiled by the bureau of labor statistics, department of labor, and hereafter referred to as the index. The index for December 1980 shall be the reference base index.

(2) The designated dollar amounts shall change on July 1 of each even-numbered year if the percentage of change, calculated to the nearest whole percentage point, between the index at the end of the preceding year and the reference base index is 10% or more, but:

(a) the portion of the percentage change in the index in excess of a multiple of 10% shall be disregarded and the dollar amounts shall change only in multiples of 10% of the amounts appearing in this chapter on October 1, 1981;

(b) the dollar amounts shall not change if the amounts required by this section are those currently in effect pursuant to this chapter as a result of earlier application of this section; and

(c) the dollar amounts may not be reduced below the amounts appearing in this chapter on October 1, 1981.

(3) If the index is revised, the percentage of change pursuant to this section shall be calculated on the basis of the revised index. If a revision of the index changes the reference base index, a revised reference base index shall be determined by multiplying the reference base index then applicable by the rebasing factor furnished by the United States bureau of labor statistics. If the index is superseded, the index referred to in this section shall be the one represented by the bureau of labor statistics as reflecting most accurately changes in the purchasing power of the dollar for consumers.

(4) The department shall adopt a rule announcing:

(a) on or before April 30 of each year in which dollar amounts are to change, the changes in dollar amounts required by subsection (2); and

(b) promptly after the changes occur, changes in the index required by subsection (3) including, if applicable, the numerical equivalent of the reference base index under a revised reference base index and the designation or title of any index superseding the index.

(5) A person does not violate this chapter with respect to a transaction otherwise complying with this chapter if he relies on dollar amounts either determined according to subsection (2) or appearing in the last rule of the department announcing the then current dollar amounts.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 424, L. 1981.

Part 2
Licensure Requirements

32-5-201. License application and fees — supplementary license. (1) (a) A place of business operated under this chapter shall properly display on the premises a nontransferable and nonassignable license. The same person may obtain additional licenses upon compliance with this chapter as to each license.

(b) Application for a license shall be on a form prescribed and furnished by the department.

(c) A licensee may move his place of business from one place to another within a county without obtaining a new license, provided he obtains written permission from the department.

(d) With each application the applicant shall submit $50 as an investigation fee and $125 as a license fee. The license fee shall be returned to the applicant if the application is denied. The license year is the calendar year, and the license fee for any period less than 6 months is $62.50. A license remains in force until surrendered, suspended, or revoked.

(2) No licensee under the provisions of this chapter shall lend money in a total sum greater than $1,000 to any borrower or to any borrower and spouse except under the following circumstances:

(a) When any person holding a license provided for in subsection (1) desires to make loans for any amount in excess of $1,000, the holder of such license may apply to the department for a supplementary license and pay therefor an additional license fee of $75 per calendar year or one-half of said sum for any period less than 6 months.

(b) The department shall grant, on application, a supplementary license to a holder of a license provided for in subsection (1).

(c) Section 32-5-204 shall be applicable as to time of payment of supplementary license fee and penalty for failure to pay the same.

(d) Provisions of 32-5-301 relating to refunds, fees, and charges and the other provisions of this chapter not inconsistent with this section shall be applicable to loans made under authority of a supplementary license.

(3) All moneys collected under the authority of this chapter shall be paid by the department into the state special revenue fund for the use of the department in its supervision function.

(4) The amount of $1,000 in subsection (2) is subject to change pursuant to the provisions of 32-5-104.

A licensee may conduct the business of making consumer loans under this chapter within any office, room, or place of business in which any other business for which a license under this chapter is not required is solicited or engaged in or in association or conjunction with the business. "Other business" may include making loans not primarily for personal, family, or household purposes, unless the department finds, after a hearing, that the other business is of a nature that the conduct tends to conceal evasion of this chapter or of the rules made under this chapter. If the department finds concealment or evasion, it shall order the licensee in writing to desist from the conduct.

Part 3

Operation of Business — Restrictions and Requirements

32-5-301. Charges, refunds, penalties, filing fees. (1) A licensee or holder of a supplementary license under this part may contract for and receive on any loan of money interest charges as provided under 31-1-112.

(2) Charges in subsection (1) must be computed at the applicable rates on the full, original principal amount of the loan from the date of the loan to the due date of the final scheduled installment irrespective of the fact that the loan is payable in installments. The charges must be added to the principal of the loan and may not be discounted or deducted from the principal or paid or received at the time the loan is made. For the purpose of computing charges for a fraction of a month, a day is considered one-thirtieth of a month.

(3) (a) When any loan contract, new loan, renewal, or otherwise for a period of not more than 61 months is paid in full by cash 1 month or more before the final installment date, the licensee shall refund or credit the borrower with that portion of the total charges that is due the borrower as determined by schedules prepared under the rule of 78ths or sum of the digits principle as follows: the amount of the refund or credit must be as great a proportion of the total charges originally contracted for as the sum of the consecutive monthly balances of the contract scheduled to follow the date of prepayment bears to the sum of all the consecutive monthly balances of the contract, both sums to be determined according to the payment schedule originally contracted for.

(b) When any loan contract, new loan, renewal, or otherwise for a period of more than 61 months is paid in full by cash 1 month or more before the final installment date, the licensee shall refund or credit the borrower with that portion of the total charges that is due the borrower that is applicable to all fully unexpired months in the contract as originally scheduled or, if deferred, as deferred, following the date of prepayment. For this purpose the applicable charge is the charge that would have been earned for that contract if charges had not been precomputed, by applying to the unpaid principal balance, by the actuarial method, the annual percentage rate disclosed pursuant to federal law, based on the assumption that all payments were made as originally scheduled. For all loans that may be subject to this section, charges are computed initially in the same manner used to determine the annual percentage rate.

(4) If the contract so provides, the additional charge for any amount past due according to the original terms of the contract, whether by reason of default or extension agreement, may be the greater of 5% of the amount past due or $15, and that amount may be charged only once.

(5) (a) The licensee may include in the principal amount of any loan:

(i) the actual fees paid a public official or agency of the state for filing, recording, or releasing any instrument securing the loan; or

(ii) the premium for insurance in lieu of filing or recording any instrument securing the loan to the extent that the premium does not exceed the fees that would otherwise be payable for filing, recording, or releasing any instrument securing the loan.

(b) The licensee may include in the principal amount of any loan bona fide charges related to real estate security and paid to third parties, including:

(i) fees or premiums for title examination, title insurance, or similar purposes, including survey;

(ii) fees for preparation of a deed, settlement statement, or other documents;

(iii) fees for notarizing deeds and other documents;

(iv) appraisal fees;

(v) fees for credit reports; and

(vi) fees paid to a trustee for release of a trust deed.

(6) Further or other charges may not be directly or indirectly contracted for or received by any licensee except those specifically authorized by this chapter. A licensee may not divide into separate parts any contract made for the purpose of or with the effect of obtaining charges in excess of those authorized by this chapter. If any amount in excess of the charges permitted by this chapter is charged, contracted for, and received, except as the result of an accidental and bona fide error of computation, the licensee shall forfeit to the borrower a sum that is double the amount that is in excess of the charges authorized by this chapter.

(7) Subsections (2) and (3) apply only to loans on which charges are made on an add-on basis and do not apply to loans on which charges are made on an interest-bearing basis. The contracting for, charging of, receiving of, or financing of loan origination fees, points, or prepaid finance charges on a loan on which other charges are made on an interest-bearing basis does not make the loan subject to being considered an add-on basis loan.

(8) If a consumer loan is prepaid in whole or in part for any reason, including after a default, prior to the final payment due date and the amount of prepayment exceeds 10% of the then-outstanding principal balance of the loan, a licensee may charge a prepayment charge as follows:

(a) 10% of the then-outstanding principal balance of the loan if the prepayment occurs during the first 6 months after the date of the loan;

(b) 7% of the then-outstanding principal balance of the loan if the prepayment occurs more than 6 months after the date of the loan, but on or before 18 months after the date of the loan; or

(c) 3.5% of the then-outstanding principal balance of the loan if the prepayment occurs more than 18 months after the date of the loan, but before 61 months after the date of the loan.

(9) A prepayment charge may not be collected if:

(a) the prepayment results solely because of the enforcement of a "due on sale" clause in a real estate mortgage or deed of trust that secures the loan;

(b) the loan provided is prepaid by another loan made by the same licensee or an affiliate of the licensee; or

(c) prepayment occurs as a result of a payment made by a credit life insurance policy or other insurance policy.

Compiler's Comments

2005 Amendment: Chapter 125 in (6) at end of third sentence after "licensee" substituted "shall forfeit to the borrower a sum that is double the amount that is in excess of the charges authorized by this chapter" for "may not collect or receive any charges"; in (7) near beginning of first sentence after "(3)" deleted "and (6) of this section" and inserted second sentence providing that contracting for, charging of, receiving of, or financing of loan origination fees, points, or prepaid finance charges on a loan on which other charges are made on an interest-bearing basis does not make the loan subject to being considered an add-on basis loan; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective March 24, 2005.

Retroactive Applicability — Applicability: Section 5, Ch. 125, L. 2005, provided: "[This act] applies retroactively, within the meaning of 1-2-109, to loans subject to [this act] made on or after October 1, 1985, the effective date of Chapter 406, L. 1985."

Section 8, Ch. 272, L. 2005, amended sec. 5, Ch. 125, L. 2005, to provide: "(1) Except as provided in subsection (2), [~~This~~ this act] applies retroactively, within the meaning of 1-2-109, to loans subject to [this act] made on or after October 1, 1985, the effective date of Chapter 406, Laws of 1985.

(2) [This act] does not apply to loans that are the subject of a lawsuit filed prior to [the effective date of this act]." Chapter 125 effective March 24, 2005. Chapter 272 effective April 19, 2005.

32-5-302. Installment payment — contract period. (1) A licensee may not enter into any contract of loan:

(a) of $300 or less, exclusive of charges, under which the borrower agrees to make any scheduled repayment of principal more than 21 calendar months from the date of making the contract;

(b) for more than $300 to and including $1,000, exclusive of charges, under which the borrower agrees to make any scheduled repayment of principal more than 25 calendar months from the date of making; or

(c) for more than $1,000 to and including $2,500, exclusive of charges, under which the borrower agrees to make any scheduled repayment of principal more than 48 calendar months from the date of making.

(2) Each loan contract requires payment of principal and charges in installments that are payable at approximately equal periodic intervals, except that payment dates may be omitted to accommodate borrowers with seasonal incomes. With respect to a loan on which charges are made on an add-on basis, an installment contracted for may not be substantially larger than any preceding installment. When a loan contract provides for monthly installments, the first installment may be payable at any time within 45 days of the date of the loan and the charges for the number of days in excess of 30 from the date of making may be added to the scheduled amount of the installments.

At the time the loan is made, there will be delivered to the borrower, or if there be two or more borrowers to one of them, the disclosures required by the Federal Consumer Credit Protection Act, a copy of the loan contract, or a written statement in the English language showing in clear and distinct terms:

(1) the name and address of the lender and of one of the borrowers or a maker of the loan;
(2) the date of the loan contract;
(3) the schedule of installments or description thereof;
(4) the principal amount of the loan excluding charges;
(5) the rate or amount of charges as the contract may provide;
(6) the amount collected or paid out for each kind of insurance, if any;
(7) the amount collected or paid out for filing and other fees as allowed in 32-5-301(5);
(8) the collateral or security for the loan including all other accommodation or other joint makers (comakers);
(9) that the borrower may prepay the loan in whole or in part at any time during a licensee's regular business hours and, in case the charges have been added to the principal of the loan, that such charges are subject to the refund requirements of 32-5-301(3) if such loan is prepaid in full.

32-5-304. Receipts — return of note. Every licensee shall:

(1) give to the borrower a plain and complete receipt in a form approved by the department for every payment made in cash on account of any loan at the time such payment is made;

(2) endorse indelibly on a loan ledger or card, which shall be kept by the licensee, the amount and date of each payment made by the borrower. Subject to the prior written approval of the department, mechanical data processing methods may be used. The department may approve any such system containing information equivalent to that required on a loan ledger or card.

(3) upon repayment of the loan in full, mark indelibly every obligation and security signed by the borrower with the word "paid" or "canceled" and release any mortgage, restore any pledge, and cancel and return to the borrower any note and any assignment given to the licensee within 10 days after such repayment. Such canceled notes and canceled assignments shall be mailed to the borrower at his last known address unless returned to the borrower in person.

32-5-305. Confessions of judgment — incomplete instruments forbidden. No licensee shall:

(1) take any confession of judgment or any power of attorney running to himself or to any third person to confess judgment or to appear for the borrower in a judicial proceeding;

(2) take any note or promise to pay that does not disclose the amount of the loan, a schedule of payments or a description thereof, and the agreed charges and in which blanks are left to be filled in after execution. However, such details need not appear on a certificate of title to a motor vehicle, a policy or certificate of insurance, a chattel mortgage or deed of trust covering future advances according to the law of the district or state where the property is located, or customary powers in connection with bonds or stocks which may be pledged as collateral; or

(3) take any instrument in which blanks are left to be filled in after the loan is made.

32-5-306. Insurance — real property security — definitions. (1) Except as provided in this section, insurance may not be written by a licensee or employee, affiliate, or associate of the licensee in connection with any loan.

(2) Insurance permitted under the provisions of this section must be obtained through an insurance company authorized to conduct business in Montana by a licensed insurance producer or agency of this state. Premiums may not exceed those fixed by law or current applicable manual rates. Insurance written as authorized by this section may contain a mortgagee clause or other appropriate provisions to protect the insurable interest of the licensee.

(3) (a) When the principal amount of the loan exceeds $300 exclusive of the portion of the loan attributable to insurance premiums and charges, the licensee may require a borrower to insure property offered as security against any substantial risk of loss, damage, or destruction for an amount not to exceed the reasonable value of the property insured or the amount of the loan, whichever is smaller, and for the customary term approximating the term of the loan contract. It is optional with the borrower to obtain insurance in an amount greater than the amount of the loan or for a longer term.

(b) A lender may not require a borrower, as a condition of obtaining or maintaining a loan secured by real property, to provide insurance on improvements to real property in an amount that exceeds the reasonable replacement value of the improvements.

(4) Subject to the laws of this state, credit life insurance, credit disability insurance, and loss of income insurance may be provided at the expense of the borrower and may be provided by a licensee upon the request of the borrower when the principal amount of the loan exceeds $300, exclusive of the portion of the loan attributable to insurance premiums and charges.

(5) The insurance authorized by this section may be sold, obtained, or provided by or through a licensee, and the premium or identifiable charge for the insurance may be included in the principal amount of the loan. However, a licensee may not require a borrower to purchase insurance from the licensee or from any particular insurance producer, broker, or insurance company as a condition precedent for obtaining a loan. Any gain or advantage to the licensee or any employee, affiliate, or associate of the licensee from the sale, provision, or obtaining of insurance as authorized by this section may not be considered to be additional charges or a violation of this chapter.

(6) A licensee may not require insurance under this section until any existing insurance of the same type has expired or has been canceled and the unearned portion of the premium for the canceled insurance has been rebated to the borrower.

(7) The amount of $300 in subsections (3) and (4) is subject to change pursuant to 32-5-104 on adjustment of dollar amounts.

(8) As used in this section:

(a) "borrower" means a mortgagor, grantor of a deed of trust, or other debtor;

(b) "improvement to real property" means a fixture, building, or other structure attached to real property and intended as a permanent addition to the real property; and

(c) "lender" means a mortgagee, beneficiary of a deed of trust, or other creditor who holds a mortgage, deed of trust, or other instrument that encumbers real property as security for the repayment of a debt.

(1) The payment in money, credit, goods, or things in action as consideration for any sale or assignment of or order for the payment of wages, salary, commission, or other compensation for services, whether earned or to be earned, shall, for the purpose of regulation under this chapter, be considered a loan secured by such assignment, and the amount by which the assigned compensation exceeds the amount of the consideration actually paid shall, for the purposes of regulation under this chapter, be considered interest or charges upon the loan from the date of payment to the date the compensation is payable. Such transactions shall be governed by and be subject to the provisions of this chapter.

(2) Any assignment or other transfer to a licensee or for the benefit of a licensee of salary, wages, commissions, or other compensation for services must be limited to not exceeding 10% of such salary, wages, commissions, or other compensation owing at the time of the notice to the debtor's employer and thereafter to become owing. However, no such assignment or order is valid unless it is in writing, signed in person by the borrower or if the borrower is married, unless it is signed in person by both husband and wife, provided that written assent of a spouse is not required when husband and wife have been and are living separate and apart when such assignment or order is made. Only if the debtor defaults in payment of the whole or some part of the loan for which such assignment or transfer is security shall notice be given to the debtor's employer of such assignment or transfer. Such notice must be served on the employer or a managing agent of such employer, must be verified by the oath of the licensee or his agent, and must include:

(a) a correct copy of the assignment;

(b) a statement of the amount of such loan and the amount due and unpaid thereon;

(c) a copy of this section.

(3) The acceptance and honoring of any assignment shall be at the option of the employer.

A proportionate charge may be made for deferrals for periods of more or less than 1 month. A deferral charge is earned pro rata on a daily basis during the deferral period and is fully earned on the last day of the deferral period. Should a loan be prepaid during a deferral period the licensee shall make or credit to the borrower a pro rata refund of the unearned deferral charge in addition to any refund or credit made pursuant to 32-5-301(3).

Enforcement

32-5-401. Department — powers and duties — adoption of rules. (1) All powers and duties of regulation and supervision conferred by this chapter are vested in the department. The department shall adopt rules necessary to carry out the intent and purposes of this chapter. A copy of every rule shall be mailed to each licensee at least 15 days in advance of its effective date. However, the failure of a licensee to receive a copy of a rule does not exempt him from complying with a rule adopted under this chapter.

(2) All rules adopted under this chapter are binding on all licensees and enforceable by the department through the power of suspension or revocation of licenses.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 283, L. 1959; amd. Sec. 111, Ch. 431, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 47-203.

32-5-402. Investigations. The department may at any time investigate any transaction with borrowers and may examine the books, accounts, and records in this state to discover violations of this chapter by:

(1) a licensee; or

(2) a person whom the department has reason to believe is violating or is about to violate this chapter.

32-5-403. Annual examinations — cost. (1) The department shall make an annual examination of the books, accounts, and records of every licensee insofar as they relate to transactions with borrowers under this chapter and may make such additional examinations as the department deems necessary.

(2) The expenses of the department incurred in the examination of the books and records of the licensees shall be charged at a rate to be established by the department by rule. Such fees shall be established to recover all of the costs of the supervision program of the department. Each licensee shall be billed by the department for the amount so charged to such licensee. If said charge is not paid within 30 days after the mailing of such bill, the license of said licensee may be suspended or revoked.

32-5-404. Access to records — witnesses. For the purpose of this chapter the department or its duly authorized representatives shall be given free access to the offices and places of business, files, safes, and vaults of all such persons and may require the attendance of any person and examine him under oath relative to such loans or such business or to the subject matter of any examination, investigation, or hearing and may require the production of books, accounts, papers, and records. In the event of disobedience to any subpoena or other process issued by the department or failure to produce any books, accounts, papers, and records, the department may invoke the aid of any district court of this state in requiring the evidence and testimony of witnesses and the production of books, accounts, papers, and records.

32-5-405. Injunctions — receivers. (1) Whenever the department has reasonable cause to believe that any person is violating or is threatening to violate any provision of this chapter, the department may, in addition to all actions provided for in this chapter and without prejudice thereto, enter an order requiring such person to desist or to refrain from such violation.

(2) An action may be brought on the relation of the attorney general and the department to enjoin such person from engaging in or continuing such violation or from doing any act or acts in furtherance thereof. In any such action an order or judgment may be entered awarding such preliminary or final injunction as may be deemed proper.

(3) In addition to all other means provided by law for the enforcement of a restraining order or injunction, the court in which such action is brought shall have power and jurisdiction to impound, and to appoint a receiver for, the property and business of the defendant, including books, papers, documents, and records pertaining thereto or so much thereof as the court may deem reasonably necessary to prevent violations of this chapter through or by means of the use of said property and business. Such receiver, when appointed and qualified, shall have such powers and duties as to custody, collection, administration, winding up, and liquidation of such property and business as shall from time to time be conferred upon him by the court.

(1) Any person who shall contract for or receive interest or charges on any bond, bill, promissory note, or other instrument of writing at a rate exceeding the maximum amount authorized by this chapter shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than 6 months, or both.

(2) Any person who, by any device, subterfuge, or pretense whatsoever, shall engage in any transaction permitted only to licensees under the provisions of the chapter without first having obtained a license as herein required shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than 6 months, or both.

(2) In addition to any other charges authorized by this chapter, a licensee may charge a borrower the greater of $25 or the licensee's actual expense for each check, received in payment of a loan, that is dishonored for any reason.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 424, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 168, L. 1985; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 270, L. 1999.

Part 5
Open-End Loans

32-5-501. Open-end loans. (1) A holder of a supplementary license may make open-end loans and may contract for and receive charges, as allowed under 31-1-112, on unpaid balances outstanding from time to time for the actual time outstanding.

(2) A holder of a supplementary license may not compound charges by adding any unpaid charges authorized by this section to the unpaid principal balance of the borrower's account; however, the unpaid principal balance may include the fees paid to third parties as authorized by 32-5-504 and by 32-5-301(5).

32-5-502. Computation of charges. (1) Charges authorized by this part shall be computed in each billing cycle by any of the following methods:

(a) by converting the monthly rate to a daily rate and multiplying such daily rate by the daily unpaid principal balance of the account; or

(b) by multiplying the monthly rate by the average daily unpaid principal balance of the account in the billing cycle, in which case the average daily unpaid principal balance is the sum of the amount unpaid each day during the cycle divided by the number of days in the cycle; or

(c) by multiplying the daily rate by the average daily unpaid principal balance of the account in the billing cycle.

(2) For purposes of this part, "billing cycle" means the time interval between periodic billing dates. A billing cycle shall be considered monthly if the closing date of the cycle is the same date each month or does not vary by more than 4 days from such date.

(3) For all of the above methods of computation, the billing cycle shall be monthly and the unpaid principal balance on any day shall be determined by adding to any balance unpaid as of the beginning of that day all advances and other permissible amounts charged to the borrower and deducting all payments and other credits made or received that day.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 218, L. 1981.

32-5-503. Early payment. The borrower may at any time pay all or any part of the unpaid balance in the borrower's account, or if the account is not in default, the borrower may pay the unpaid principal balance in monthly installments, subject to minimum payment requirements as determined by the licensee and set forth in the open-end loan agreement. With respect to a loan on which charges are made on an add-on basis, minimum monthly payments must be made in an amount that would result in the full repayment of the initial loan advance, exclusive of any charges, within the maximum term set forth for other loans of the same amount in 32-5-302(1).

32-5-504. Additional charges. In addition to the charges permitted under 32-5-501, a holder of a supplementary license may contract for and receive the fees, costs, and expenses permitted by this chapter on other loans, subject to all the conditions and restrictions set forth in the applicable provisions of this chapter with the following variations:

(1) If credit life or disability insurance is provided and if the insured dies or becomes disabled when there is an outstanding open-end loan indebtedness, the insurance must be sufficient to pay, in the case of credit life insurance, the total balance of the loan due on the date of the borrower's death or, in the case of credit disability insurance, all minimum payments that become due on the loan during the covered period of disability. The additional charge for credit life insurance or credit disability insurance shall be calculated in each billing cycle by applying the current monthly premium rate for such insurance, as such rate may be determined by the commissioner of insurance, to the unpaid balances in the borrower's account, using either of the methods specified in 32-5-502 for the calculation of loan charges.

(2) The amount, terms, and conditions of any insurance against loss or damage to property must be reasonable in relation to the character and value of the property insured and the maximum anticipated amount of credit to be extended.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 218, L. 1981.

Cross-References

32-5-505. Security. A holder of a supplementary license may take a security interest in personal property to secure an open-end loan and may retain the security interest until the open-end account is terminated. A holder of a supplementary license may take a security interest in real property to secure an open-end loan and may retain the security interest until the open-end account is terminated. However, if there is no outstanding balance in the account and there is no commitment by the licensee to make additional advances, the licensee shall, within 30 days following written request by the borrower, deliver to the borrower a release of the mortgage or a request for reconveyance of the deed of trust or trust indenture on any real property taken as security for a loan.

32-6-101. Short title. This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the "Montana Electronic Funds Transfer Act".

History: En. 5-1701 by Sec. 1, Ch. 503, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 5-1701.

32-6-102. Electronic funds transfer systems — applicability. (1) The legislature has determined that electronic funds transfer systems are technologies offered by all types of financial depository institutions. These technologies provide the consumer with both convenience and efficiency in making financial transactions. Regulation E of the federal Electronic Fund Transfer Act, 15 U.S.C. 1693, et seq., addresses many of the consumer issues relating to these systems. This chapter applies to financial institutions chartered under the United States Code or Title 32, chapter 1, parts 1 through 5, to the extent that those laws permit.

(2) Financial institutions that are subject to and in compliance with Regulation E of the federal Electronic Fund Transfer Act must be considered to be in compliance with the provisions of this chapter.

32-6-103. Definitions. As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Customer", in relation to a financial institution, means a holder of a demand or time account or a membership share in the institution or a person who is a borrower or a mortgagor; in relation to a merchant, it means a purchaser of goods or services.

(2) "Department" means the department of administration.

(3) (a) "Electronic funds transfer" means any transfer of funds, other than a transaction originated by check, draft, or similar paper instrument that is initiated through an electronic terminal, telephone, computer, or magnetic tape for the purpose of ordering, instructing, or authorizing a financial institution to debit or credit an account. The term includes but is not limited to point-of-sale transfers, automated teller machine transfers, direct deposits or withdrawals of funds, and transfers initiated by telephone. It also includes a transfer resulting from a debit card transaction, including a transaction that does not involve an electronic terminal at the time of the transaction.

(b) The term does not include payments made by check, draft, or similar paper instrument at an electronic terminal.

(4) "Electronic terminal" means an electronic device, other than a telephone operated by a consumer, through which a consumer may initiate an electronic funds transfer. The term includes but is not limited to point-of-sale terminals, automated teller machines, and cash dispensing machines.

(5) "Financial institution" means a bank chartered under chapter 1 of this title, a bank chartered under the National Banking Acts in Title 12 of the United States Code, a building and loan association chartered under chapter 2 of this title, a savings and loan association chartered under the Home Owners' Loan Act in Title 12 of the United States Code, a credit union chartered under chapter 3 of this title, or a credit union chartered under the Federal Credit Union Act in Title 12 of the United States Code. For purposes of this chapter only, a consumer loan company licensed under chapter 5 is considered a financial institution.

(6) "Merchant" means a natural person, corporation, partnership, or association engaged in buying and selling goods or services, except that a financial institution is not a merchant.

(7) "Person" means an individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any other business organization.

(8) "Premises" means those locations where, by applicable law, financial institutions are authorized to maintain a principal place of business and other offices for the conduct of their respective businesses. The term includes a detached drive-in or walk-up facility approved under 32-1-372.

(9) (a) "Satellite terminal" means any machine or device that is located off the premises of a financial institution and that a financial institution or its customers may use to carry out electronic funds transfers.

(b) Satellite terminal includes:

(ii) a point-of-sale terminal, which means a satellite terminal located on the premises of a merchant, operated by a customer, a merchant, or the merchant's employees solely to debit or credit a customer's deposit or share account in a financial institution and solely to credit or debit the merchant's account commensurately for transactions in goods or services. A point-of-sale terminal need not be activated by a unique personal identification device. A merchant has the option, if the necessary computer capability exists at a reasonable cost, of selling goods or services by point-of-sale terminals with the electronic funds transfer taking effect at the time of the transaction or at a stated time after the transaction.

(c) The definition of satellite terminal does not include and nothing in this chapter may be construed to apply to:

(i) an automated teller machine located on the premises of a financial institution;

(ii) an automated clearinghouse or any equivalent system designed to transfer funds between financial institutions; or

(iii) a point-of-sale terminal that is used by a merchant in the merchant's business only and does not provide access to a financial institution.

(10) "Unique identification device" means a magnetic encoded plastic card or equivalent device that contains either a number or a dollar balance, or both, that is unique to a customer and that is issued by a financial institution, merchant, or other person.

History: En. 5-1703 by Sec. 3, Ch. 503, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 5-1703; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 274, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 255, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 13, Ch. 265, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 101, Ch. 483, L. 2001.

32-6-104. Consumer information — charge for use of electronic terminal. (1) A financial institution or its affiliate engaging in electronic funds transfers with its customers shall, prior to authorizing a customer to make electronic funds transfers, provide the customer with an itemized statement clearly setting forth, without limitation:

(a) the specific transactions that may be performed through satellite terminals;

(b) the charges, if any, for individual transactions made through a satellite terminal;

(c) minimum balance requirements, if any;

(d) the liability of the various parties for unauthorized transactions made by electronic funds transfer, with special emphasis upon the liability when the customer makes a personal identification number readily available for discovery in connection with theft or loss of the unique identification device and upon the importance of immediate notification to the institution of theft or loss;

(e) the legal status of receipts issued from a satellite terminal;

(f) the right of the customer to a description of transactions performed by satellite terminal on any periodic statement of account furnished the customer;

(g) the right of the customer to seek correction of an error that the customer believes has been made in the customer's account by electronic funds transfer;

(h) instructions in maintaining customer records and reconciling balances and in the importance of retaining receipts of electronic funds transfers; and

(i) the economic significance of having no "float" time and no stop-payment authority.

(2) The customer shall sign a statement acknowledging acceptance of these terms and conditions and give the statement to the financial institution. A copy of the statement, countersigned by an officer of the financial institution, must be provided to the customer. In addition, the information set forth in subsection (1)(d) must be specifically acknowledged by the customer. The customer shall verify acknowledgement by signing the customer's initials immediately adjacent to the information provided.

(3) (a) The owner of an electronic terminal may impose a surcharge for the use of its electronic terminal. The owner of an electronic terminal that elects to impose a surcharge for the use of its electronic terminal shall clearly advise the user of the electronic terminal, by a conspicuous disclosure on the terminal or through a message displayed on the electronic terminal screen, of the exact amount of the surcharge. The user must then be provided the option either to cancel the transaction, without incurring the surcharge, or to complete the transaction subject to the surcharge.

(b) An agreement by a financial institution to share or operate electronic terminals may not prohibit, limit, or restrict the right of the financial institution to charge a customer any fees allowed by state or federal law or to require a financial institution to waive any other rights or obligations it has under the laws of this state.

(4) A merchant or person other than a financial institution that issues a unique identification device to its customers for use at a point-of-sale terminal and that provides to the holders of the unique identification device a disclosure that satisfies the initial disclosures of terms and conditions under Regulation E of the federal Electronic Fund Transfer Act is considered to be in compliance with the disclosure requirements of this section.

32-6-105. Protection of privacy. (1) No information relating to any transaction by electronic funds transfer, or application therefor, between a financial institution and its customer or prospective customer may be disclosed by the financial institution to any person or government entity without:

(a) the consent of the customer; or

(b) a subpoena issued by a court of record directing the financial institution to disclose such information to the person or government entity.

(2) Compliance with such subpoena relieves a financial institution and its employees of liability to a customer or other person for such disclosure.

(3) This section does not prevent:

(a) the examination of financial institutions by duly authorized regulatory authority or the transfer of information by a financial institution to a clearinghouse which administers transactions between financial institutions; or

(b) the access by a party to a transaction to information relating to a specific transaction.

(a) and permits another, who lacks lawful access to such records, to inspect, copy, or read such records; or

(b) transfers such records to another who lacks lawful access thereto.

(2) A person convicted of the offense of unauthorized disclosure of electronic funds transfer records shall be imprisoned in the state prison for any term not to exceed 1 year, be fined not more than $5,000, or be punished by both such imprisonment and fine.

32-6-301. Records of electronic funds transfers. (1) A satellite terminal must be operated to produce a humanly readable record of any transaction and to provide a copy of this record to the person initiating the transaction as soon as the transaction is complete.

(2) The receipt provided to the person initiating an electronic funds transfer is admissible as evidence in any legal proceeding and constitutes prima facie proof of the transaction that it records.

(3) (a) A financial institution shall provide each of its customers using electronic funds transfer services with a periodic account statement containing a brief description of all electronic funds transfers sufficient to enable the customer to identify any transaction and relate the transaction to the receipt provided under subsection (1).

(b) The periodic account statement description of automated teller machine transactions must include a specific geographic location where each transaction occurred.

(c) When a periodic account statement includes both electronic funds transfers and other transactions, all electronic funds transfers must be identified as such and be furnished in compliance with this subsection (3).

32-6-302. Verification of statement — procedure for discrepancies. (1) If, upon receipt of a periodic statement of account, a customer of a financial institution believes the statement contains an error with respect to an electronic funds transfer, the customer shall notify the institution within 60 days after the day the institution delivered the statement. In this notification, the customer shall identify himself and the foundation of his belief regarding the error.

(2) Within 10 days after a customer has notified a financial institution of a possible error under subsection (1), the institution shall either:

(a) correct the account in question, giving the customer a description of the correction (if the correction is not in the exact amount of the alleged error, the description shall explain the difference); or

(b) after investigating the matter, give the customer an explanation of the reasons the institution believes the statement to be correct. If requested in writing by the customer, a written explanation, documented by the institution's record of the transaction in question, shall be furnished the customer.

(3) A financial institution receiving notice under subsection (1) may not close the account concerning which the dispute exists or restrict transactions in such account affecting the portion not in dispute until it complies with subsection (2). A financial institution which has once complied with subsection (2) with respect to an alleged error is not required to respond under subsection (2) to repeated allegations of the same error.

History: En. 5-1712 by Sec. 12, Ch. 503, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 5-1712.

32-6-303. Unauthorized transactions — liability. (1) A customer whose account is debited by an electronic funds transfer without his authorization is not liable for the amount of such transaction, and the amount must be recredited to his account as provided under 32-6-302, unless:

(a) the financial institution has provided the customer a unique identification device for initiating electronic funds transfer requests and transactions are made as a result of the theft or loss of that device, in which case the customer is liable for the first $50 of any consequent transactions made prior to the time the financial institution is notified of the loss or theft; or

(b) the financial institution has provided the customer a unique identification device for initiating, in conjunction with a personal identification number separate from the device, electronic funds transfer requests and the customer attaches the personal identification number to the device by writing or otherwise or in any way makes the number readily available for discovery in connection with the theft or loss of the device and transactions are made as a result of the theft or loss of the device, in which case the customer is liable for one-half the value of all consequent transactions made until the financial institution is notified of the theft or loss.

(2) A customer who willingly gives his unique identification device and personal identification number to another is presumed to have authorized any electronic funds transfers requested by the other person.

(3) A merchant who makes electronic funds transfer services available on his premises is liable for the amount of an unauthorized electronic funds transfer requested from his premises only if:

(a) he or his agent is negligent in requiring a user of electronic funds transfer services to furnish adequate self-identification;

(b) he fails to retain a physical record of the transaction for 1 year following the transaction; or

(c) he breaches the warranty required by subsection (4).

(4) A merchant operating a point-of-sale terminal shall warrant to the financial institution or the department that an order for an electronic funds transfer emanating from the terminal is part of a commercial transaction in which the customer receives goods or services of commensurate value.

(5) The liability for any unauthorized or erroneous electronic funds transfer that does not fall upon a customer or a merchant under this section falls upon the financial institution that carries out the transfer.

Part 1
Regulation of Escrow Businesses

32-7-101. Title and purpose. (1) This part must be known and may be cited as the "Regulation of Escrow Businesses Act".

(2) It is the intent of the legislature that the escrow industry be supervised and regulated by the department of administration in order to protect the citizens of the state and to provide that the business practices of the escrow industry are fair and orderly among the members of the escrow industry, with due regard to the ultimate consumers in this important area of property protection.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 651, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 102, Ch. 483, L. 2001.

32-7-102. Definitions. As used in this part, unless the context requires otherwise, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Department" means the department of administration as provided for in Title 2, chapter 15, part 10.

(2) "Director" means the director of the department of administration.

(3) "Escrow" means any transaction in which one person, for the purpose of effecting the sale, transfer, encumbrance, or lease of real or personal property to another person or for the purpose of making payments under any encumbrance of the property, delivers any written instrument, money, evidence, title to real or personal property, or other thing of value to a third person to be held by that third person until the happening of a specified event or the performance of a prescribed condition, when the instrument, money, evidence, title, or thing of value is to be delivered by the third person to a grantee, grantor, promisee, promisor, obligee, obligor, bailee, or bailor or to any agents or employees pursuant to the written escrow instructions.

(4) "Escrow business" means a commercial activity characterized by the regular and continuous carrying on of escrow transactions.

(5) "Licensee" means a person holding a valid license under this part as an escrow business.

(6) "Person" means an individual, cooperative, association, company, firm, partnership, corporation, or other legal entity.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 651, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 103, Ch. 483, L. 2001.

32-7-103. Exemptions. (1) The provisions of this part do not apply to the following:

(a) a person licensed by this state pursuant to Title 37, chapter 61, as an attorney at law who is not actively engaged in the escrow business;

(b) a person licensed by this state pursuant to Title 37, chapter 50, as a public accountant who is not actively engaged in the escrow business;

(c) a person whose principal business is that of preparing abstracts or making searches of title that are used as a basis for the issuance of any title insurance policy by a company doing business under the laws of this state relating to insurance companies and the person is regulated by the commissioner of insurance;

(d) a financial institution, as defined in 32-6-103, that has its escrow accounts regularly audited or examined. The financial institution must supply a copy of the most recently prepared audit or examination to the director upon his request.

(e) except as provided in subsection (2), any broker licensed by the Montana board of realty regulation if he is performing an act:

(i) in the course of or incidental to a single real estate transaction; and

(ii) for which a real estate license is required; and

(f) any person furnishing escrow services under the order of a court.

(2) A trust account of a broker licensed by the Montana board of realty regulation is not an escrow account within the meaning of this part.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 651, L. 1989.

32-7-104. Exemption or exception — burden of proof. In any proceeding under this part, the burden of proving an exemption or exception from a definition is upon the person claiming it.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 651, L. 1989.

32-7-105 through 32-7-107 reserved.

32-7-108. Director — powers and duties. (1) The director shall exercise general supervision and control over persons doing escrow business in this state.

(2) In addition to the other duties imposed upon him by law, the director shall:

(a) adopt reasonable rules necessary to effectuate the purposes of this part;

(b) conduct examinations and investigations that may be necessary to determine whether a person has engaged or is about to engage in any act or practice constituting a violation of any provisions of this part;

(c) conduct examinations, investigations, and hearings necessary and proper for the efficient administration of this part; and

(d) establish fees commensurate with the costs of issuing the license and examining an escrow business.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 651, L. 1989.

Cross-References

Adoption and publication of rules, Title 2, ch. 4, part 3.

32-7-109. Application for license — bond — issuance. (1) A person must be licensed pursuant to this part before engaging in an escrow business.

(2) To obtain a license, an applicant shall file with the director an application for an escrow business license. The application must be in writing, verified by oath, and in the form prescribed by the director. The application must set forth:

(a) the location of the applicant's principal office and all branch offices in this state;

(b) the name and form under which the applicant plans to conduct business;

(c) the general plan and character of the business;

(d) the names, residences, and business addresses of any principals, partners, officers, trustees, and directors, specifying as to each the respective capacity and title;

(e) the experience and qualifications of the persons proposed to act as officers and managers;

(f) the length of time the applicant has been engaged in the escrow business; and

(g) any other relevant information the director requires.

(3) An applicant shall file with the license application a bond in an amount to be set by the department by rule. The bond must be conditioned on the applicant conducting the escrow business in accordance with the requirements of law. All bonds must be filed with the department, approved by the department, and renewed annually.

(4) The director shall grant and issue an escrow business license if:

(a) the director has received the bond and application specified in this section; and

(b) the applicant has complied with all the requirements of this part and any rules promulgated under it.

(5) An escrow business shall immediately notify the department of any material change in the information contained in the application.

32-7-110. Fees. (1) (a) An applicant for licensure shall pay an initial license fee of $350.

(b) Licenses expire annually on June 30. A licensee shall, on or before June 1, pay an annual license renewal fee of $100. A licensee's failure to pay the annual license renewal fee within the time prescribed results in an automatic revocation of the license.

(c) A licensee may be charged an examination fee based on the actual costs of the examination.

(2) All fees collected by the department for the licensure and examination of escrow businesses must be paid to the state treasurer to the credit of the state special revenue fund for use by the department in its licensure and examination functions under this part.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 651, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 65, L. 2003.

Cross-References

32-7-111. Transferability. An escrow business license is not transferable or assignable. The provisions of this section apply to the change of ownership of any escrow business, including the change of control over any corporation licensed as an escrow business. For purposes of this section, "change of control" means the transfer of 25% or more of the outstanding voting stock of the corporation.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 651, L. 1989.

32-7-112 through 32-7-114 reserved.

32-7-115. Maintenance of records. (1) A licensee shall establish and maintain the books, accounts, and records necessary to enable the director at any time to determine whether the escrow transactions performed by the licensee comply with the provisions of this part. The books, accounts, and records must be maintained in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and good business practice.

(2) A licensee shall establish and maintain the following records concerning general accounts:

(a) a general record reflecting the assets, liabilities, capital, income, and expense of the business, maintained in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles;

(b) a cash receipt and disbursement journal; and

(c) a reconciliation of monthly statements to the general record.

(3) The records referred to in subsections (1) and (2) must be reconciled at least once each month with the bank statements reflecting each escrow account.

(4) A licensee shall preserve for at least 3 years after the close of any escrow:

(a) all bank statements reflecting each escrow account and records of monthly reconciliations of the statements to the general record;

(b) all canceled checks drawn on each escrow account;

(c) any additional records reflecting banking transactions regarding each escrow account, including copies of all receipts for funds transferred from other accounts into each escrow account;

(d) all statements of account;

(e) all escrow instructions and amendments to them; and

(f) all additional records pertinent to each escrow transaction.

(5) A licensee shall perform one of the following:

(a) file annually with the director, on or before April 30, a statement of its financial condition, transactions, and affairs as of the preceding December 31. The director may grant an extension, not to exceed 10 days, on or before the April 30 filing date if the licensee demonstrates good cause for an extension. The financial statement must be certified by an independent public accountant and must be in a form and contain the information prescribed by the director.

(b) request that the director examine the financial condition, transactions, and affairs of the licensee pursuant to procedures prescribed by the director.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 651, L. 1989.

32-7-116. Statement of account. A licensee shall provide a full statement of an escrow account established under an escrow agreement within 14 days of a written request made by a party to the escrow agreement. The statement must state:

(1) credits to principal;

(2) interest earned for the period; and

(3) other information requested.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 651, L. 1989.

32-7-117. Deposit of funds required — disbursement. (1) All money deposited in an escrow to be delivered upon the close of the escrow or upon any other contingency must be deposited with a financial institution, as defined in 32-6-103, doing business in this state and must be kept separate, distinct, and apart from funds belonging to the escrow business. The funds, when deposited, must be designated as "escrow accounts" or given some other appropriate designation indicating that the funds are not the funds of the escrow business.

(2) A person may not knowingly keep or cause to be kept any funds or money with a financial institution, as defined in 32-6-103, under the heading of "escrow accounts" or any other name designating the funds or money as belonging to the clients of any escrow business, except actual escrow funds deposited with the escrow business.

(3) Escrow funds are not subject to execution or attachment on any claim against the escrow business.

(4) Any interest received on funds deposited with an escrow business in connection with any escrow that is deposited in an authorized depository must be paid over to the depositing party to the escrow account and may not be transferred to an account of the escrow business. This section does not limit or restrain the right of the depositing party to contract with respect to the interest received on the deposits by an independent agreement.

(5) An escrow business may not disburse funds from any escrow account until cash, items, or drafts in an amount sufficient to fund any disbursements from the account have been received and deposited in the account and are available for withdrawal from the account as a matter of right. If sufficient funds are available for withdrawal from the account as a matter of right, required disbursements must be made within 5 business days of the receipt of sufficient funds. For the purposes of this subsection (5), the following definitions apply:

(a) "Available for withdrawal from the account as a matter of right" means that the bank or savings and loan association in which an item has been deposited considers the item available for withdrawal as a matter of right and that a final settlement will occur in writing with respect to that item.

(b) "Item" means any check, including a cashier's check, negotiable order of withdrawal, share draft, traveler's check, or money order.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 651, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 65, L. 2003.

32-7-118 through 32-7-120 reserved.

32-7-121. Unauthorized business practices — penalty. (1) Unauthorized business practices of escrow businesses include but are not limited to the following:

(a) issuing, circulating, making use of, or publishing, by any means of communication, an advertisement indicating that a person is in the escrow business if that person is not a licensed escrow business;

(b) soliciting or accepting an escrow instruction or amended or supplemental escrow instruction containing any blank to be filled in after the signing or initialing of the escrow instruction or permitting any person to make any addition to, deletion from, or alteration of an escrow instruction or amended or supplemental escrow instruction unless the addition, deletion, or alteration is signed or initialed by the affected party who signed or initialed the escrow instruction or amended or supplemental escrow instruction prior to the addition, deletion, or alteration;

(c) failing to carry out the escrow transactions pursuant to the written escrow instructions unless amended by the written agreement of all parties to the escrow agreement or their assigns;

(d) accepting any escrow transaction that requires or has required the prepayment, deduction, or withholding of any sum to cover payments on the indebtedness or any prior encumbrance if the payments are not due and payable to the mortgagee or obligee at the time the escrow is established. However, payments may be made on property taxes for the current year or for the next annual premium on hazard insurance.

(e) refusing to allow parties to an escrow transaction or designated agents of those parties access to the records of the escrow transaction; and

(f) failing to promptly distribute funds pursuant to escrow instructions.

(2) Any licensee who engages in an unauthorized business practice is subject to the revocation or suspension of the licensee's license.

32-7-122. Investigations by director — desist order — injunctions or other actions. (1) The director may investigate, upon complaint or otherwise, if it appears that:

(a) an escrow business is conducting its business in an unsafe and injurious manner or in violation of this part or any rule promulgated pursuant to this part; or

(b) a person is engaging in the escrow business without being licensed under the provisions of this part.

(2) (a) If it appears to the director, upon sufficient grounds or evidence satisfactory to the director, that an escrow business has engaged or is about to engage in any act or practice in violation of this part or any rule or order issued pursuant to this part or that the assets or capital of any escrow business or company are impaired or the licensee's affairs are in an unsafe condition, the director may summarily order the escrow business to cease and desist from the act or practice or the director may apply to the district court of the first judicial district of Lewis and Clark County to enjoin the act or practice and to enforce compliance with this part or for any other appropriate equitable relief.

(b) Upon a proper showing, the court may:

(i) grant a temporary restraining order, followed by a preliminary injunction and a permanent injunction;

(ii) appoint a receiver for the defendant or defendant's assets;

(iii) cancel the licensee's license; and

(iv) order other equitable remedies the court considers necessary and appropriate.

(3) The court may not require the director to post a bond.

(a) compel the attendance of any person or obtain any documents by subpoena;

(b) administer oaths;

(c) examine any person under oath concerning the business and conduct of affairs of any person subject to the provisions of this part; and

(d) require the production of any books, records, or papers relevant to the inquiry.

(2) If a person refuses to obey a subpoena issued to the director, the district court of the first judicial district of Lewis and Clark County or other district court having proper venue, upon application by the director, may order the person to produce documentary evidence or to give evidence relating to the matter under investigation or in question. If a person fails to obey the order of the court, the person may be punished by the court as contempt of court.

Part 1
Montana Mortgage Broker and Loan Originator Licensing Act

32-9-101. Short title and purpose. (1) This part may be cited as the "Montana Mortgage Broker and Loan Originator Licensing Act".

(2) The legislature recognizes that buying or financing a home is one of the largest, most complicated, and vitally important decisions facing consumers in Montana. Therefore, the legislature finds it desirable to license residential mortgage brokers and loan originators to promote honesty, education, and professionalism, to ensure the availability and diversity of residential mortgage funding, and to protect Montana consumers and the stability of Montana's economy.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 516, L. 2003.

32-9-102. License requirement. (1) A person or entity may not act as a residential mortgage broker or loan originator unless licensed under the provisions of this part.

(2) A mortgage banker who provides services for a fee as an intermediary between a borrower and a lender in obtaining financing for a borrower that is to be secured by a residential dwelling for between one and four families is acting as a mortgage broker and must be licensed as a mortgage broker.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 516, L. 2003; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 301, L. 2005.

Compiler's Comments

2005 Amendment: Chapter 301 in (1) after "originator" deleted "after September 1, 2004"; inserted (2) concerning situation in which mortgage banker is required to be licensed as mortgage broker; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective October 1, 2005.

32-9-103. Definitions. As used in this part, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Bona fide third party" means a person or entity that provides services relative to residential mortgage loan transactions. The term includes but is not limited to real estate appraisers and credit reporting agencies.

(2) "Borrower" means an individual who is solicited to purchase or who purchases the services of a mortgage broker for other than commercial mortgage lending.

(3) "Department" means the department of administration provided for in 2-15-1001, acting through its division of banking and financial institutions.

(4) "Designated manager" means a person employed by a mortgage broker entity, other than a sole proprietorship, as the person responsible for operating the business at the location where the person is employed. A designated manager must be licensed as a mortgage broker.

(5) "Entity" means a business organization, other than a sole proprietorship or an individual person, that provides mortgage broker services.

(6) "Lender" means an entity that funds or services a residential mortgage loan.

(7) "Loan originator" means a licensed individual employed by a mortgage broker to assist borrowers by originating a residential loan.

(8) "Mortgage" means a consensual interest in real property located in Montana, including improvements, securing a debt evidenced by a mortgage, trust indenture, deed of trust, or other lien on real property.

(9) "Mortgage banker" means a person or entity that makes, services, or buys and sells mortgage loans and that may be required to submit audited financial statements to the United States department of housing and urban development, the United States department of veterans affairs, the federal national mortgage association, the federal home loan mortgage corporation, or the government national mortgage association.

(10) "Mortgage broker" means a person or entity that provides services for a fee as an intermediary between a borrower and a lender in obtaining financing for the borrower that is to be secured by a residential dwelling for between one and four families.

(11) "Originate" means:

(a) to negotiate or arrange or to offer to negotiate or arrange a mortgage loan between a borrower and a person or entity that makes or funds mortgage loans;

(b) to issue a commitment for a mortgage loan to a borrower; or

(c) to place, assist in placing, or find a mortgage loan for a borrower.

(12) "Trust account" means a depository account with a financial institution that provides deposit insurance that is separate and distinct from any personal, business, or other account of the mortgage broker and that is maintained solely for the holding and payment of bona fide third-party fees.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 516, L. 2003; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 136, L. 2005.

Compiler's Comments

2005 Amendment: Chapter 136 in definition of mortgage broker at end after "families" deleted "located on real property purchased by the borrower with the loan provided by the lender". Amendment effective October 1, 2005.

32-9-104. Exemptions. The provisions of this part do not apply to:

(1) a person or entity that makes or collects loans, to the extent that those activities are subject to licensure or registration by this state under other provisions of Montana law unless the person or entity is also acting as a mortgage broker or loan originator;

(2) (a) a bank or trust company chartered under Title 32, chapter 1, a bank or trust company chartered under the National Bank Acts in Title 12 of the United States Code, a building and loan association chartered under Title 32, chapter 2, a savings and loan association chartered under the Home Owners' Loan Act in Title 12 of the United States Code, a credit union chartered under Title 32, chapter 3, or a credit union chartered under the Federal Credit Union Act in Title 12 of the United States Code;

(b) any employee of an entity listed in subsection (2)(a); or

(c) any subsidiary of an entity listed in subsection (2)(a) and any employee of the subsidiary if the subsidiary is subject to the examination and supervision of:

(i) the department;

(ii) the federal deposit insurance corporation;

(iii) the federal reserve system;

(iv) the national credit union administration; or

(v) the department of the treasury through its office of the comptroller of the currency or office of thrift supervision;

(3) a person or entity engaged solely in commercial mortgage lending; or

(4) a political subdivision or governmental entity of the United States or any state of the United States.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 516, L. 2003; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 301, L. 2005.

Compiler's Comments

2005 Amendment: Chapter 301 inserted (2)(b) concerning employees; inserted (2)(c) concerning subsidiaries; deleted former (5) that read: "(5) a mortgage banker, except that a mortgage banker that also provides services as a mortgage broker for more than four mortgage loans in a calendar year must be licensed as a mortgage broker with respect to those mortgage broker services"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective October 1, 2005.

32-9-105 through 32-9-107 reserved.

32-9-108. Overall licensing requirements. All persons and entities desiring to conduct business as a mortgage broker or to work as a loan originator shall apply to the department for a license and pay a license fee under the provisions of this part on or after July 1, 2004. Except as provided in 32-9-111, applicants shall comply with all requirements of this part, including but not limited to requisite work experience, successful completion of an examination, and completion of an application approved by the department. All licenses issued under this section are nontransferable and nonassignable.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 516, L. 2003.

32-9-109. Experience requirements. (1) Except as provided in 32-9-111:

(a) an individual applying for a license as a mortgage broker must have a minimum of 3 years of experience working as a loan originator, as a mortgage banker, or in a related field; and

(b) an individual applying for a license as a loan originator must have a minimum of 6 months of experience working in a related field.

(2) The department shall by rule establish what constitutes work in a related field.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 516, L. 2003; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 301, L. 2005.

Compiler's Comments

2005 Amendment: Chapter 301 in (1)(a) near end inserted "as a mortgage banker"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective October 1, 2005.

32-9-110. Examination requirements. (1) Except as provided in 32-9-111, all individuals seeking a mortgage broker's license and individuals seeking a loan originator's license shall submit to an examination provided for by the department. The department may use a third party to perform examination and grading services.

(2) The examination must be designed to demonstrate that the applicant possesses competency to originate loans. The test may cover subject matter areas including but not limited to:

(a) knowledge of this part;

(b) knowledge of disclosures and protections that borrowers are entitled to by state and federal law;

(c) the ability to read, understand, and explain appraisal basics, credit reports, and title commitments; and

(d) the ability to evaluate credit, calculate a basic debt-to-income ratio, calculate loan-to-value ratios, and complete a basic loan application.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 516, L. 2003.

32-9-111. Exception to experience and examination requirements. A person providing services as a mortgage broker or an individual acting as a loan originator on or before December 31, 2002, must be licensed by the department in the same capacity as that person was operating on or before December 31, 2002. On or after July 1, 2004, the person or individual shall apply to the department for the appropriate license, pay the required fees, and have the application approved by the department. A person or individual entitled to licensure under this section is not subject to the experience requirements of 32-9-109 or the examination requirements of 32-9-110.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 516, L. 2003.

32-9-112 through 32-9-114 reserved.

32-9-115. Application for mortgage broker license. (1) An application for a mortgage broker license must include:

(a) the proposed location of the business, with a photograph of each location at which business will be transacted. If the business is to be conducted out of a residence, verification must be supplied concerning compliance with all zoning laws and regulations.

(b) (i) the name and address of the sole proprietor;

(ii) the name and address of each partner; or

(iii) the name and address of any person that owns 10% or more of a mortgage broker entity that is other than a sole proprietorship or partnership;

(c) evidence of an irrevocable letter of credit or surety bond required by 32-9-123;

(d) a statement as to whether the applicant or, to the best of the applicant's knowledge, any shareholder, member, partner, designated manager, or employee of the applicant is currently under investigation, has been convicted of or has pleaded guilty to any felony or criminal offense involving fraud or dishonesty, or has been subject to any adverse civil judgment for any conduct involving fraudulent or dishonest dealing; and

(e) evidence that the designated manager meets the requirements for licensure as a mortgage broker.

(2) The department shall investigate each individual applicant. The investigation shall include a criminal records check based on the fingerprints of each individual applicant and a civil records check. The department shall require each individual applicant to file a set of the applicant's fingerprints, taken by a law enforcement agency, and any other information necessary to complete a statewide and nationwide criminal check with the criminal investigation bureau of the department of justice for state processing and with the federal bureau of investigation for federal processing. All costs associated with the criminal history check are the responsibility of the applicant. Criminal history records provided to the department under this section are confidential, and the department may use the records only to determine if the applicant is eligible for licensure. If an investigation outside this state is necessary, the department may require the applicant to advance sufficient funds to pay the actual expenses of the investigation. The department may deny the application if the applicant's criminal history demonstrates any felony criminal convictions or other convictions involving fraud or dishonesty or if the applicant has had any adverse civil judgments involving fraudulent or dishonest dealings.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 516, L. 2003; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 136, L. 2005.

Compiler's Comments

2005 Amendment: Chapter 136 in (1)(b)(iii) increased required ownership percentage from 5% to 10%. Amendment effective October 1, 2005.

32-9-116. Application for loan originator license — employment of loan originator. (1) An application for a loan originator license must include:

(a) the name and address of the applicant;

(b) evidence of the applicant's experience and knowledge of the mortgage industry; and

(c) a statement as to whether the applicant is under investigation, has been convicted of or pleaded guilty to any felony or criminal offense involving fraud or dishonesty, or has been subject to any adverse civil judgment for any conduct involving fraudulent or dishonest dealing.

(2) The department shall investigate each applicant. The investigation shall include a criminal records check based on the fingerprints of the applicant and a civil records check. The department shall require each applicant to file a set of the applicant's fingerprints, taken by a law enforcement agency, and any other information necessary to complete a statewide and nationwide criminal check with the criminal investigation bureau of the department of justice for state processing and with the federal bureau of investigation for federal processing. All costs associated with the criminal history check are the responsibility of the applicant. Criminal history records provided to the department under this section are confidential and the department may use the records only to determine if the applicant is eligible for licensure. If an investigation outside this state is necessary, the department may require the applicant to advance sufficient funds to pay the actual expenses of the investigation. The department may deny the application if the applicant's criminal history demonstrates any felony criminal convictions or other convictions involving fraud or dishonesty or if the applicant has had any adverse civil judgments involving fraudulent or dishonest dealings.

(3) A loan originator may transact business only for an employing mortgage broker licensed in accordance with the provisions of this part. Each original license issued to a loan originator must be provided to and maintained by the employing mortgage broker at the mortgage broker's main office. A copy of the loan originator's license must be displayed at the office where that loan originator principally transacts business.

(4) If the employment of a loan originator is terminated, the mortgage broker shall return the loan originator's license to the department within 5 business days after the termination. For a period of 6 months after the termination of employment, the loan originator may request the transfer of the license to another mortgage broker by submitting a relocation application to the department, along with a fee established by the department by rule. The return of the license of any loan originator to the department that is not transferred to another mortgage broker terminates the right of the loan originator to engage in any residential mortgage loan origination activity until department procedures have been followed to reinstate the license. The license of any loan originator that has been returned to the department and not transferred within 6 months of termination of employment must be canceled.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 516, L. 2003.

32-9-117. Fees — license renewal — disposition of fees. (1) (a) Except as provided in subsection (1)(b), an individual mortgage broker or an entity seeking licensure as a mortgage broker shall pay an initial nonrefundable license application fee of $500. A loan originator shall pay an initial nonrefundable license application fee of $400. An applicant shall pay one-half of these initial nonrefundable license application fees for any license period of less than 6 months.

(b) An individual who is seeking licensure as a mortgage broker and who is the sole owner of an entity that is seeking licensure as a mortgage broker shall pay a single initial nonrefundable license application fee of $500.

(2) The license of a mortgage broker or loan originator is valid for a 1-year period and expires on June 30. Every licensee shall, on or before May 31 of the year, pay to the department a renewal fee in an amount set by the department by rule. The department shall establish a single renewal fee for individuals and entities described in subsection (1)(b) that are licensed as mortgage brokers. An individual described in subsection (1)(b) may act as a designated manager under 32-9-122 and is not subject to any additional license fees for acting in the capacity of a designated manager. The fees set by the department must be commensurate with the costs of the program. Failure to submit required information or fees within the time prescribed automatically revokes the license.

(3) An application for renewal must be accompanied by evidence that the continuing education requirements provided for in 32-9-118 have been met and that there has not been a material change in the status of the licensee in the preceding 12 months.

(4) All fees collected under this section must be deposited in the department's state special revenue fund to be used by the department in administering the provisions of this part.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 516, L. 2003; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 368, L. 2005.

Compiler's Comments

2005 Amendment: Chapter 368 in (1)(a) at beginning inserted exception clause; inserted (1)(b) concerning individual seeking licensure who is sole owner of an entity seeking licensure; in (2) inserted second and third sentences concerning single renewal fee and no additional fees for individual acting as designated manager; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective April 21, 2005.

32-9-118. Continuing education requirements. All loan originators and all individual mortgage brokers shall complete and submit to the department evidence of at least 12 hours of continuing education every year at the time they submit their license renewal applications. The 12 hours of continuing education must be in courses or programs of study approved by the department and in areas established by the department by rule.

32-9-119 and 32-9-120 reserved.

32-9-121. In-state office requirement — records maintenance — advertising requirement. (1) A person or entity licensed as a mortgage broker shall maintain at least one physical office located in this state either on its own accord or in conjunction with another licensed mortgage broker or regulated lender located in this state. Licensees shall maintain copies of residential mortgage loan files and trust account records at the Montana office location where services are provided. Each office location must have at least one phone line. Licensees shall pay state income tax on all income earned in Montana.

(2) A mortgage broker shall maintain a residential mortgage file for a minimum of 5 years from the date of the last activity pertaining to the file. A mortgage broker shall maintain trust account records for a minimum of 5 years.

(3) (a) In any printed, published, televised, e-mail, or internet advertisement for the provision of services, the following information must be included:

(i) a name, address, and license number for each mortgage broker or loan originator advertising as an individual; or

(ii) the name, address, and license number only of the licensed entity when the licensed entity is advertising on its own behalf or as an entity with one or more mortgage brokers or loan originators also listed.

(b) For the purposes of this subsection (3), advertising does not include stationery or business forms but does include business cards. A business card must include a mortgage broker's or loan originator's license number but is not required to list the entity's license number if the entity's name is listed.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 516, L. 2003; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 136, L. 2005.

Compiler's Comments

2005 Amendment: Chapter 136 in (3)(a) at beginning deleted "A licensee or licensed entity shall disclose" and after "services" inserted "the following information must be included"; inserted (3)(a)(i) requiring advertisement to include name, address, and license number for each mortgage broker or loan originator; in (3)(a)(ii) substituted language requiring inclusion of name, address, and license number of licensed entity only when entity is advertising on its own behalf or when mortgage brokers or loan originators listed for former language that read: "the name and address of the licensee and the number designated on the license issued to the licensee or licensed entity by the department"; inserted (3)(b) providing that advertising requirement includes business cards, but not stationery or business forms, and requiring business cards to include license number or entity name; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective October 1, 2005.

32-9-122. Requirement for designated manager. (1) A mortgage broker that is not a sole proprietorship shall designate to the department an individual licensed as a mortgage broker within its organization as the designated manager of the organization.

(2) If the designated manager ceases to act in that capacity, within 15 days the mortgage broker shall designate another individual licensed as a mortgage broker as designated manager and shall submit information in writing to the department establishing that the subsequent designated manager is in compliance with the provisions of this part.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 516, L. 2003; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 368, L. 2005.

Compiler's Comments

2005 Amendment: Chapter 368 in (1) near middle after "department" inserted "an individual"; in (2) near middle after "another" inserted "individual"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective April 21, 2005.

32-9-123. Irrevocable letter of credit or surety bond — notice of legal action. (1) Each licensee other than a loan originator shall maintain at all times an irrevocable letter of credit or surety bond, naming the department as a beneficiary, in the amount of $25,000 for each location identified in the application for licensure. The department shall use the proceeds of the letters of credit or surety bonds to reimburse borrowers or bona fide third parties who successfully demonstrate a financial loss because of an act of a licensee that violates the provisions of this part.

(2) A mortgage broker or loan originator shall give notice to the department by certified mail within 15 days of the mortgage broker's or loan originator's knowledge of the initiation of an investigation or the entry of a judgment in a criminal or civil action. The notice must be given if the investigation or the legal action is in any state and involves a mortgage broker, anyone having an ownership interest in a mortgage broker entity, or a loan originator. In the case of a legal action, the notice must include a copy of the criminal or civil judgment.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 516, L. 2003.

32-9-124. Prohibitions — required disclosure. (1) A mortgage broker or loan originator may not do any of the following:

(a) retain original documents owned by the borrower and submitted in connection with the loan application;

(b) directly or indirectly employ any scheme to defraud or mislead a borrower, a lender, or any other person;

(c) make any misrepresentation or deceptive statement in connection with a residential mortgage loan, including but not limited to interest rates, points, costs at closing, or other financing terms or conditions; or

(d) fail to pay a bona fide third party later than 30 days after recording of the loan closing documents or 90 days after completion of the bona fide third-party service, whichever is earlier, unless otherwise agreed by the parties.

(2) Prior to providing mortgage broker services to a borrower, the licensee, in addition to other disclosures required by this part and other state and federal laws, shall provide to the borrower at the time of application a written disclosure containing substantially the following language, which must be signed by the borrower:

"MORTGAGE LOAN ORIGINATION DISCLOSURE

(Name of licensee) is a licensed mortgage broker in Montana authorized to provide mortgage brokerage services to you in connection with your real estate loan. Lenders whose loan products we distribute generally provide their loan products to us at a wholesale rate. The rate you pay may be higher.

SECTION 1. NATURE OF RELATIONSHIP. In connection with this mortgage loan:

(1) (name of licensee) is acting as an independent contractor and not as your agent;

(2) (name of licensee) enters into separate independent contractor agreements with various lenders; and

(3) while (name of licensee) seeks to assist you in meeting your financial needs, (name of licensee) does not distribute products of all lenders or investors in the market and cannot guarantee the lowest price or best terms available.

SECTION 2. OUR COMPENSATION.

(1) The retail price (name of licensee) offers you, including the interest rate, total points, and fees, will include (name of licensee's) compensation.

(2) In some cases, (name of licensee) may be paid all of (name of licensee's) compensation by either you or the lender.

(3) Alternatively, (name of licensee) may be paid a portion of (name of licensee's) compensation by both you and the lender. For example, in some cases, if you would rather pay a lower interest rate, you may pay more money in upfront points and fees. Also, in some cases, if you would rather pay less money up front, you may be able to pay some or all of our compensation indirectly through a higher interest rate, in which case (name of licensee) will be paid directly by the lender.

(4) (Name of licensee) may also be paid by the lender based on the value of the mortgage loan or related servicing rights in the market place or based on other services, goods, or facilities performed or provided by (name of licensee) to the lender.

By signing below, you acknowledge that you have received a copy of this disclosure."

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 516, L. 2003.

32-9-125. Trust accounts — fees other than bona fide third-party fees. (1) Every mortgage broker doing business in this state shall:

(a) maintain a trust account at a financial institution located in this state whose deposits or shares are insured, and the trust account funds may not be commingled with any other funds of the mortgage broker;

(b) deposit into the trust account any bona fide third-party fee that the mortgage broker receives unless the borrower pays the bona fide third party directly; and

(c) pay third-party fees to a bona fide third party from the mortgage broker's trust account unless the borrower pays the bona fide third party directly.

(2) A mortgage broker may not charge or receive, directly or indirectly, fees for assisting a borrower in obtaining a mortgage until all of the services that the mortgage broker has agreed to perform for the borrower are completed. A mortgage broker may not charge a residential loan application fee in excess of the amount allowed by federal law. Prior to completion of services, the fees provided for in subsection (3) incurred by a bona fide third party in assisting the borrower to obtain a mortgage must be paid.

(3) The following fees must be paid directly by the borrower to the bona fide third party providing the services or must be deposited by the borrower, if applicable, into the mortgage broker's trust account for payment of services performed by the bona fide third party:

(a) credit report fees;

(b) notary fees;

(c) title search, appraisal, or survey fees;

(d) rate-lock fees not exceeding 3% of the mortgage loan amount; and

(e) fees paid directly by the borrower to a state or federal government agency or instrumentality for purposes of processing a mortgage application relating to a government-sponsored or guaranteed mortgage program.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 516, L. 2003.

32-9-126. Revocation, suspension, and reinstatement of licenses. (1) The department, upon giving the licensee 10 days' written notice, which includes a statement of the grounds for the proposed suspension or revocation, and informing the licensee that the licensee has the right to be heard at an administrative hearing if requested by the licensee, may suspend or revoke a license if it finds that the licensee has violated any provision of this part.

(2) The department may reinstate any suspended or revoked license upon a showing that the licensee has corrected all deficiencies.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 516, L. 2003.

32-9-127 through 32-9-129 reserved.

32-9-130. Department authority — rulemaking. (1) The department shall adopt rules necessary to carry out the intent and purposes of this part. The rules adopted are binding on all licensees and enforceable through the power of suspension or revocation of licenses.

(2) The rules must address:

(a) revocation or suspension of licenses for cause;

(b) investigation of applicants and licensees and handling of complaints made by any person in connection with any business transacted by a licensee;

(c) prescribing forms for applications;

(d) developing or approving tests to be given as a prerequisite for licensure;

(e) approval of programs for continuing education; and

(f) establishing fees for testing, continuing education programs, and license renewals.

(3) The department may seek a writ or order restraining or enjoining, temporarily or permanently, any act or practice violating any provision of this part.

(4) (a) The department may at any time examine any mortgage broker transaction and may examine the residential mortgage loan files, trust account records, and other information related to mortgage loan transactions of a licensee.

(b) When conducting a financial examination or an audit of a licensee, the department may require the licensee to pay a fee of $300 per day for each examiner performing the financial examination or audit.

(c) If any examination fees are not paid within 30 days of the department's mailing of an invoice, the license of the mortgage broker or designated manager for the mortgage broker entity may be suspended or revoked.

(5) (a) The department may:

(i) exchange information with federal and state regulatory agencies, the attorney general, the consumer protection office of the department, and the legislative auditor; and

(ii) exchange information other than confidential information with the mortgage asset research institute, inc., and other similar organizations.

(b) Except as provided in subsection (5)(a)(i), the department shall treat all confidential criminal justice information as confidential unless otherwise required by law.

(6) The department shall prepare, at least once each calendar year, a roster listing the name and locations for each mortgage broker and a roster of all loan originators and designated managers and the name of their employing brokers.

History: En. Sec. 19, Ch. 516, L. 2003; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 136, L. 2005.

Compiler's Comments

2005 Amendment: Chapter 136 in (5)(a)(i) after "federal" inserted "and state"; inserted (5)(a)(ii) authorizing department to exchange nonconfidential information with mortgage asset research institute and similar organizations; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective October 1, 2005.

32-9-131. Access to records — witnesses. For the purpose of this part, the department or the department's authorized representatives must be given free access to the offices and places of business and files of all licensees. The department or the department's authorized representative may require the attendance of any person and examine that person under oath relative to mortgage loans or related business or relative to the subject matter of any examination, investigation, or hearing and may require the production of books, accounts, papers, or records. In the event of disobedience to any subpoena or other process issued by the department or failure to produce any books, accounts, papers, or records, the department shall apply to the first judicial district court of Lewis and Clark County for an order requiring the evidence and testimony of witnesses and the production of books, accounts, papers, or records.

History: En. Sec. 20, Ch. 516, L. 2003.

32-9-132. Injunctions — receivers. (1) Whenever the department has reasonable cause to believe that any person is violating or is threatening to violate this part or a rule adopted under this part, the department may, in addition to all actions provided for in this part and without prejudice to those actions, seek an order requiring the person to desist or to refrain from the violation.

(2) An action may be brought by the department in the district court of the first judicial district, Lewis and Clark County, to enjoin the person from engaging in or continuing the violation or from doing any act or acts in furtherance of the violation. In any action, a preliminary or final injunction may be ordered as considered proper.

(3) In addition to all other means provided by law for the enforcement of a restraining order or injunction, the court in which the action is brought may impound and appoint a receiver for the property and business of the defendant, including books, papers, documents, or records pertaining to the property or business, or as much of the property or business as the court considers reasonably necessary to prevent violations of this part. The receiver, when appointed and qualified, has the powers and duties as to custody, collection, administration, winding up, and liquidation of the property and business that are conferred upon the receiver by the court.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 516, L. 2003.

32-9-133. Penalties. (1) A person who acts or offers to act in any capacity as a mortgage broker or loan originator without a license in this state or while a license is suspended or revoked is subject to the penalty provisions of subsections (3) and (5).

(2) Any person who violates a provision of this part or a rule adopted under this part is subject to the penalty provisions of subsection (3).

(3) For a first violation of subsection (1) or (2), the department may impose a fine of not less than $5,000 or more than $10,000. For a second or subsequent violation, the department may impose a fine of not less than $10,000 or more than $20,000. Each violation of the provisions of subsection (1) or (2) constitutes a separate offense.

(4) The fines must be deposited in the state general fund.

(5) A person practicing as a mortgage broker or loan originator without being licensed as required under subsection (1) is guilty of a misdemeanor and may be punished by a fine of not less than $250 or more than $1,000, by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than 90 days or more than 1 year, or both. Each violation of the provisions of subsection (1) constitutes a separate offense.

Part 1
General Provisions

33-1-101. Short title. This title constitutes the "Montana Insurance Code".

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2601; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 77, L. 1979.

33-1-102. Compliance required — exceptions — health service corporations — health maintenance organizations — governmental insurance programs — service contracts. (1) A person may not transact a business of insurance in Montana or a business relative to a subject resident, located, or to be performed in Montana without complying with the applicable provisions of this code.

(2) The provisions of this code do not apply with respect to:

(a) domestic farm mutual insurers as identified in chapter 4, except as stated in chapter 4;

(b) domestic benevolent associations as identified in chapter 6, except as stated in chapter 6; and

(c) fraternal benefit societies, except as stated in chapter 7.

(3) This code applies to health service corporations as prescribed in 33-30-102. The existence of the corporations is governed by Title 35, chapter 2, and related sections of the Montana Code Annotated.

(4) This code does not apply to health maintenance organizations or to managed care community networks, as defined in 53-6-702, to the extent that the existence and operations of those organizations are governed by chapter 31 or to the extent that the existence and operations of those networks are governed by Title 53, chapter 6, part 7. The department of public health and human services is responsible to protect the interests of consumers by providing complaint, appeal, and grievance procedures relating to managed care community networks and health maintenance organizations under contract to provide services under Title 53, chapter 6.

(5) This code does not apply to workers' compensation insurance programs provided for in Title 39, chapter 71, parts 21 and 23, and related sections.

(6) The department of public health and human services may limit the amount, scope, and duration of services for programs established under Title 53 that are provided under contract by entities subject to this title. The department of public health and human services may establish more restrictive eligibility requirements and fewer services than may be required by this title.

(7) This code does not apply to the state employee group insurance program established in Title 2, chapter 18, part 8.

(8) This code does not apply to insurance funded through the state self-insurance reserve fund provided for in 2-9-202.

(9) (a) This code does not apply to any arrangement, plan, or interlocal agreement between political subdivisions of this state in which the political subdivisions undertake to separately or jointly indemnify one another by way of a pooling, joint retention, deductible, or self-insurance plan.

(b) This code does not apply to any arrangement, plan, or interlocal agreement between political subdivisions of this state or any arrangement, plan, or program of a single political subdivision of this state in which the political subdivision provides to its officers, elected officials, or employees disability insurance or life insurance through a self-funded program.

(10) (a) This code does not apply to the marketing of, sale of, offering for sale of, issuance of, making of, proposal to make, and administration of a service contract.

(b) A "service contract" means a contract or agreement for a separately stated consideration for a specific duration to perform the repair, replacement, or maintenance of property or to indemnify for the repair, replacement, or maintenance of property if an operational or structural failure is due to a defect in materials or manufacturing or to normal wear and tear, with or without an additional provision for incidental payment or indemnity under limited circumstances, including but not limited to towing, rental, and emergency road service. A service contract may provide for the repair, replacement, or maintenance of property for damage resulting from power surges or accidental damage from handling. A service contract does not include motor club service as defined in 61-12-301.

(11) (a) Subject to 33-18-201 and 33-18-242, this code does not apply to insurance for ambulance services sold by a county, city, or town or to insurance sold by a third party if the county, city, or town is liable for the financial risk under the contract with the third party as provided in 7-34-103.

(b) If the financial risk for ambulance service insurance is with an entity other than the county, city, or town, the entity is subject to the provisions of this code.

Definitions and Insurance Coverages

33-1-201. Definitions — insurance in general. For the purposes of this code, the following definitions apply unless the context requires otherwise:

(1) An "alien insurer" is one formed under the laws of any country other than the United States, its states, districts, territories, and commonwealths.

(2) An "authorized insurer" is one duly authorized by subsisting certificate of authority issued by the commissioner to transact insurance in this state.

(3) A "domestic insurer" is one incorporated under the laws of this state.

(4) A "foreign insurer" is one formed under the laws of any jurisdiction other than this state. Except where distinguished by context, foreign insurer includes also an alien insurer.

(5) (a) "Insurance" is a contract whereby one undertakes to indemnify another or pay or provide a specified or determinable amount or benefit upon determinable contingencies.

(b) Insurance does not include contracts for the installation, maintenance, and provision of inside telecommunications wiring to residential or business premises.

(6) "Insurer" includes every person engaged as indemnitor, surety, or contractor in the business of entering into contracts of insurance. The term also includes a health service corporation in the provisions listed in 33-30-102.

(7) A "resident domestic insurer" is an insurer incorporated under the laws of this state and:

(a) if a mutual company, not less than one-half of the policyholders are natural persons who are residents of this state; or

(b) if a stock insurer, not less than one-half of the shares are owned by natural persons who are residents of this state and all of the directors and officers of the insurer are residents of this state.

(8) "State", when used relating to jurisdiction, means a state, the District of Columbia, or a territory, commonwealth, or possession of the United States.

(9) "Transact", with respect to insurance, includes any of the following:

(a) solicitation and inducement;

(b) preliminary negotiations;

(c) effectuation of a contract of insurance;

(d) transaction of matters subsequent to effectuation of the contract of insurance and arising out of it.

(10) An "unauthorized insurer" is one not authorized by subsisting certificate of authority issued by the commissioner to transact insurance in this state.

33-1-206. Casualty insurance. (1) Casualty insurance includes:

(a) vehicle insurance, which is insurance against loss of or damage to any land vehicle or aircraft or any draft or riding animal or to property while contained in or on or being loaded or unloaded in or from a land vehicle, aircraft, or animal from any hazard or cause and against any loss, liability, or expense resulting from or incidental to ownership, maintenance, or use of any land vehicle, aircraft, or animal, together with insurance against accidental death or accidental injury to individuals, including the named insured, while in, entering, alighting from, adjusting, or repairing or when caused by being struck by a land vehicle, aircraft, or draft or riding animal, if the insurance is issued as an incidental part of insurance on the land vehicle, aircraft, or draft or riding animal;

(b) liability insurance, which is insurance against legal liability for the death, injury, or disability of any human being or for damage to property and the provision of medical, hospital, surgical, and disability benefits to injured persons and funeral and death benefits to dependents, beneficiaries, or personal representatives of persons killed, irrespective of legal liability of the insured, when issued as an incidental coverage with or supplemental to liability insurance;

(c) workers' compensation and employer's liability, which is insurance of the obligations accepted by, imposed upon, or assumed by employers under law for death, disablement, or injury of employees;

(d) (i) burglary and theft, which is insurance against loss or damage by burglary, theft, robbery, forgery, fraud, deceptive practices, vandalism, criminal mischief, confiscation, or wrongful conversion, disposal, or concealment or from any attempt at any of the foregoing, including supplemental coverage for medical, hospital, surgical, and funeral expense incurred by the named insured or any other person as a result of bodily injury during the commission of a burglary, robbery, or theft by another; and

(ii) insurance against loss of or damage to money, coins, bullion, securities, notes, drafts, acceptances, or any other valuable papers and documents, resulting from any cause;

(e) personal property floater, which is insurance upon personal effects against loss or damage from any cause under a personal property floater;

(f) glass, which is insurance against loss or damage to glass, including its lettering, ornamentation, and fittings;

(g) boiler and machinery, which is insurance against any liability and loss or damage to property or interest resulting from accident to or explosions of boilers, pipes, pressure containers, machinery, or apparatus and from making inspection of and issuing certificates of inspection upon boilers, machinery, and apparatus of any kind, whether or not insured;

(h) leakage and fire extinguishing equipment, which is insurance against loss or damage to any property or interest caused by the breakage or leakage of sprinklers, hoses, pumps, and other fire extinguishing equipment or apparatus, water pipes, or containers or by water entering through leaks or openings in buildings and insurance against loss or damage to the sprinklers, hoses, pumps, and other fire extinguishing equipment or apparatus;

(i) credit, which is insurance against loss or damage resulting from failure of debtors to pay their obligations to the insured;

(j) malpractice, which is insurance against legal liability of the insured and against loss, damage, or expense incidental to a claim of liability, including medical, hospital, surgical, and funeral benefits to injured persons, irrespective of legal liability of the insured, arising out of the death, injury, or disablement of any person or arising out of damage to the economic interest of any person, as the result of negligence in rendering expert, fiduciary, or professional service;

(k) elevator, which is insurance against loss of or damage to any property of the insured, resulting from the ownership, maintenance, or use of elevators, except loss or damage by fire and from making inspection of and issuing certificates of inspection upon elevators;

(l) livestock, which is insurance against loss or damage to livestock and for services of a veterinarian for livestock;

(m) entertainments, which is insurance indemnifying the producer of any motion picture, television, radio, theatrical, sport, spectacle, entertainment, or similar production, event, or exhibition against loss from interruption, postponement, or cancellation because of death, accidental injury, or sickness of performers, participants, directors, or other principals;

(n) mechanical breakdown pursuant to 33-1-214;

(o) prepaid legal pursuant to 33-1-215;

(p) involuntary unemployment pursuant to 33-1-216;

(q) gap pursuant to 33-1-217;

(r) miscellaneous, which is insurance against any other kind of loss, damage, or liability properly a subject of insurance and not within any other kind of insurance as defined in this part, if the insurance is not disapproved by the commissioner as being contrary to law or public policy.

(2) Provision of medical, hospital, surgical, and funeral benefits and of coverage against accidental death or injury as incidental to and part of other insurance as stated under subsections (1)(a) (vehicle), (1)(b) (liability), (1)(d) (burglary), and (1)(j) (malpractice) must for all purposes be considered to be the same kind of insurance to which it is incidental and is not subject to provisions of this code applicable to life or disability insurances.

History: En. Sec. 76, Ch. 286, L. 1959; amd. Sec. 49, Ch. 359, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2905; amd. Sec. 9, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

33-1-209. Marine protection and indemnity and wet marine insurance. (1) Marine and transportation insurance means insurance against loss of or damage to:

(a) vessels, craft, aircraft, vehicles, goods, freights, cargoes, merchandise, effects, disbursements, profits, money, securities, choses in action, evidences of debt, valuable papers, bottomry, respondentia, and any interest therein, with respect to risks and perils, including war risks, marine builder's risks, and personal property floater risks, of navigation and transportation or while being assembled, packed, crated, baled, compressed, or similarly prepared for shipment, while awaiting shipment, or during any delays, storage, transshipment, or reshipment;

(b) person or property in connection with marine, transit, or transportation insurance, including liability for loss or damage to either person or property incident to the construction, repair, operation, maintenance, or use of the subject matter of the insurance, but not including life insurance, surety bonds, or insurance against bodily injury arising out of the ownership, maintenance, or use of an automobile;

(c) jewels, jewelry, or precious metals, whether in the course of transportation or otherwise; and

(d) bridges; tunnels; and other instrumentalities of transportation and communication, excluding buildings and their furnishings, fixed contents, and supplies held in storage (unless fire, tornado, sprinkler leakage, hail, explosion, earthquake, riot, or civil commotion are the only hazards to be covered); piers; wharves; docks; slips; and other aids to navigation and transportation, including drydocks, marina railways, and dams and appurtenant facilities for the control of waterways.

(2) Marine protection and indemnity insurance means insurance against liability of the insured for loss, damage, or expense incident to ownership, operation, charter, maintenance, use, repair, or construction of any vessel, craft, or instrumentality for use in ocean or inland waterways. The term includes insurance against the liability of the insured for personal injury, illness, death, or loss or damage of the property of another person.

(3) For the purposes of this code, wet marine and transportation insurance is that part of marine insurance that includes only:

(a) insurance upon vessels, crafts, and hulls and of interests in or relating to the vessels, crafts, and hulls;

(b) insurance of marine builders' risks, marine war risks, and contracts of marine protection and indemnity insurance;

(c) insurance of freights and disbursements pertaining to a subject of insurance subject to this subsection; and

(d) insurance of personal property and interests in the personal property, in the course of exportation from or importation into any country and in the course of transportation coastwise or on inland waters, including transportation by land, water, or air from point of origin to final destination, with respect to risks or perils of navigation, transit, or transportation or while being prepared for or awaiting shipment or during any delays, storage, transshipment, or reshipment incident to preparation or shipment.

33-1-216. Involuntary unemployment insurance. (1) Involuntary unemployment insurance means insurance providing the insured borrower with coverage for consumer credit replacement obligations for a period or periods during which the borrower is involuntarily unemployed. Involuntary unemployment insurance must at least provide benefits for the loss of employment income caused by individual or mass layoff, a general strike, termination by an employer, a dispute involving organized labor, and a lockout.

(2) Involuntary unemployment insurance is a type of casualty insurance provided for in 33-1-206.

History: En. Sec. 67, Ch. 472, L. 1999; amd. Sec. 12, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

33-1-217. Gap amount — gap insurance. (1) As used in this section, gap amount means the difference between the amount owed by the lessee or borrower under the purchase or lease agreement in the event of total loss of the personal property prior to the expiration of the agreement by theft or physical damage and the actual cash value or portion received by the lessor or creditor from insurance proceeds or from any other person on account of the total loss or destruction of the personal property.

(2) Gap insurance means insurance covering the gap amount that is payable upon the total loss of personal property, which is the subject of a lease or a loan or another credit transaction, occasioned by the theft of or physical damage to the property.

(3) Gap insurance is a type of casualty insurance provided for in 33-1-206.

33-1-218. Credit insurances — definitions. As used in this code, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Credit disability insurance" means the same as defined in 33-21-103.

(2) "Credit life insurance" means the same as defined in 33-21-103.

(3) "Credit property insurance" means any policy, endorsement, rider, cover note, memorandum, certificate, or other instrument or evidence of insurance covering perils to goods purchased through a credit transaction or pledged as collateral for a credit transaction and that concerns a creditor's interest in the purchased goods or pledged collateral either in whole or in part. Credit property insurance is a type of property insurance as provided for in 33-1-210.

(4) "Credit unemployment insurance" means insurance on a debtor to provide indemnity for payments or debt becoming due on a specific loan or other credit transaction while the debtor is involuntarily unemployed as defined in the policy. Credit unemployment insurance is a type of involuntary unemployment insurance as provided for in 33-1-216.

(5) "Debtor" means the same as defined in 33-21-103.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 106, L. 2001.

33-1-219. Mortgage insurances — definitions. (1) "Mortgage" or "mortgage loan" is an indebtedness of more than 10 years duration that is secured by a real estate mortgage.

(2) "Mortgage disability insurance" is disability insurance designed to pay off all or a part of a mortgage loan in the event of the insured's disability. Mortgage disability insurance is a type of credit disability insurance.

(3) (a) "Mortgage guaranty insurance" is:

(i) insurance against financial loss by reason of nonpayment of principal, interest, or other sums agreed to be paid under the terms of any note, bond, or other evidence of indebtedness secured by a mortgage, deed of trust, or other instrument constituting a lien or charge on real estate if the improvement of the real estate is a residential building, a condominium unit, or other building designed for occupancy by not more than four families;

(ii) insurance against financial loss by reason of nonpayment of principal, interest, or other sums agreed to be paid under the terms of any note, bond, or other evidence of indebtedness secured by a mortgage, deed of trust, or other instrument constituting a lien or charge on real estate if the improvement on the real estate is a building or buildings designed for occupancy by five or more families or is designed to be occupied for industrial or commercial purposes; or

(iii) insurance against financial loss by reason of nonpayment of rent or other sums agreed to be paid under the terms of a written lease for the possession, use, or occupancy of real estate if the improvement of the real estate is a building or buildings designed to be occupied for industrial or commercial purposes.

(b) Mortgage guaranty insurance is a type of casualty insurance as provided for in 33-1-206.

(4) "Mortgage life insurance" is life insurance designed to pay off all or a part of a mortgage loan in the event of the insured's death. Mortgage life insurance is a type of credit life insurance as defined in 33-21-103.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 106, L. 2001.

33-1-220. Rental car insurance. Rental car insurance is insurance that:

(1) provides coverage for periods of less than 90 days;

(2) applies only to the rental car subject to the rental agreement; and

(3) is limited to the following kinds of insurance:

(a) personal accident insurance for renters and other rental car occupants, for accidental death or dismemberment, and for medical expenses resulting from an accident that occurs with the rental car during the rental period;

(b) liability insurance that provides protection to the renters and other authorized drivers of a rental car for liability arising from the operation or use of the rental car during the rental period;

(c) personal effects insurance that provides coverage to renters and other vehicle occupants for loss of or damage to personal effects in the rental car during the rental period; or

(d) motor club services, as defined in 61-12-301.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 467, L. 1981.

33-1-222. Purpose. (1) The purpose of 33-1-221 through 33-1-229 is to describe the kinds of risks and coverages which may be classified or identified under state insurance laws as marine, inland marine, or transportation insurance, but 33-1-221 through 33-1-229 do not include all of the kinds of risks and coverages which may be written, classified, or identified under marine, inland marine, or transportation insuring powers. Sections 33-1-221 through 33-1-229 may not be construed to mean that the kinds of risks and coverages described herein are solely marine, inland marine, or transportation insurance in all instances.

(2) Sections 33-1-221 through 33-1-229 may not be construed to restrict or limit in any way the exercise of any insuring powers granted under charters and licenses whether used separately, in combination, or otherwise.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 467, L. 1981.

33-1-223. Imports. Imports may be covered by marine, inland marine, and transportation policies subject to the following conditions:

(1) Imports are covered wherever they are located, without restriction as to time, provided the coverage of the issuing companies includes hazards of transportation.

(2) Property is an import and the proper subject of marine, inland marine, or transportation insurance as long as the property remains segregated in such a way that it can be identified and has not become incorporated into and mixed with the general mass of property in the United States; property ceases to be an import and the proper subject of marine, inland marine, or transportation insurance when it has been:

(a) sold and delivered by the importer, factor, or consignee;

(b) removed from its place of storage and placed on sale as part of an importer's stock in trade at a point of sale or distribution; or

(c) delivered for manufacture, processing, or change in form to premises of the importer or another, to be used for such purposes.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 467, L. 1981.

33-1-224. Exports. Exports may be covered by marine, inland marine, and transportation policies subject to the following conditions:

(1) Exports are covered wherever they are located, without restriction as to time, provided the coverage of the issuing companies includes hazards of transportation.

(2) Property is an export and the proper subject of marine, inland marine, or transportation insurance when designated or while being prepared for export and remains an export unless diverted for domestic trade. If the property is diverted for domestic trade, the provisions of 33-1-225 apply. This section does not apply to long-established methods of insuring certain commodities such as cotton.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 467, L. 1981.

33-1-225. Domestic shipments. Domestic shipments may be covered by marine, inland marine, and transportation policies subject to the following conditions:

(1) Domestic shipments on consignment for sale, distribution, exhibit, trial, approval, or auction may be covered while in transit, while in the custody of others, and while being returned, except that the policy may not cover property while it is on premises owned, leased, or operated by the consignor.

(2) Domestic shipments not on consignment may be covered if the coverage of the issuing companies includes hazards of transportation beginning and ending within the United States. Such shipments are not covered at the manufacturing premises or after arrival at premises owned, leased, or operated by the assured or the purchaser.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 467, L. 1981.

33-1-226. Instrumentalities of transportation and commerce. Bridges, tunnels, and other instrumentalities of transportation and communication (excluding buildings and improvements, furniture, furnishings, fixed contents, and supplies held in storage) may be covered by marine, inland marine, and transportation policies. This category includes:

(1) bridges, tunnels, and other similar instrumentalities, including auxiliary facilities and equipment attendant thereto;

(2) piers, wharves, docks, slips, drydocks, and marine railways;

(3) pipelines, including on-line propulsion, regulating, and other equipment appurtenant to such pipelines but excluding all property at manufacturing, producing, refining, converting, treating, or conditioning plants;

(4) power transmission, telephone, and telegraph lines, excluding all property at generating, converting, or transforming stations, substations, and exchanges;

(5) radio and television communication equipment in use as such, including towers and antennas with auxiliary equipment, and appurtenant electrical operating and control apparatus; and

(6) outdoor cranes, loading bridges, and similar equipment used to load, unload, and transport.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 467, L. 1981.

33-1-227. Personal property. Risks generally covered by personal property floaters covering individuals or items of personal property may be covered by marine, inland marine, and transportation policies. This category includes:

(1) personal effects floater policies;

(2) personal property floaters;

(3) government service floaters;

(4) personal fur floaters;

(5) personal jewelry floaters;

(6) wedding present floaters for a period not exceeding 90 days after the date of the wedding;

(7) silverware floaters;

(8) fine arts floaters covering paintings, etchings, pictures, tapestries, art glass windows, and other bona fide works of art of rarity, historical value, or artistic merit;

(9) stamp and coin floaters;

(10) musical instrument floaters. For purposes of this section, radios, televisions, record players, and combinations thereof are not musical instruments.

(11) mobile articles, machinery, and equipment floaters (excluding motor vehicles designed for highway use and motor homes, trailers, and semitrailers except when hauled by tractors not designed for highway use) covering identified property of a mobile or floating nature pertaining to or usual to a household. Such policies shall not cover furniture and fixtures not customarily used away from premises where such property is usually kept.

(12) installment sales and leased property policies covering property pertaining to a household and sold under conditional contract of sale, partial payment contract, or installment sales contract or leased but excluding motor vehicles designed for highway use. Such policies must cover property in transit but shall not extend beyond the termination of the seller's or lessor's interest; and

(13) live animal floaters.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 467, L. 1981.

33-1-228. Commercial property. Risks generally covered by commercial property floaters covering property pertaining to a business, profession, or occupation may be covered by marine, inland marine, and transportation policies. This category includes:

(1) radium floaters;

(2) physicians' and surgeons' instrument floaters. Such policies may include coverage of such furniture, fixtures, and tenant assured's interest in such improvements of buildings as are located in that portion of the premises occupied by the assured in the practice of his profession.

(3) pattern and die floaters;

(4) theatrical floaters, excluding buildings and improvements, furniture, and fixtures that do not travel about with theatrical troupes;

(5) film floaters, including a builders' risk during the production and coverage on completed negatives, positives, and sound records;

(6) salesmen's samples floaters;

(7) exhibition policies on property while it is on exhibition and in transit to or from such exhibitions;

(8) live animal floaters;

(9) builders' risks and installation risks policies covering the interest of owner, seller, or contractor against loss or damage to machinery, equipment, building materials, or supplies being used with and during the course of installation, testing, building, renovating, or repairing. These policies may cover property at points or places where work is being performed, while in transit, and during temporary storage or deposit of property designated for an awaiting specific installation, building, renovating, or repairing. Such coverage is limited to builders' risks or installation risks where perils in addition to fire and extended coverage are to be insured. If written for the account of the owner, the coverage ceases upon completion of work and acceptance thereof; or if written for the account of a seller or contractor, the coverage terminates when the interest of the seller or contractor terminates.

(10) mobile articles, machinery, and equipment floaters (excluding motor vehicles designed for highway use and motor homes, trailers, and semitrailers except when hauled by tractors not designed for highway use, and snowplows constructed exclusively for highway use) covering identified property of a mobile or floating nature, not on sale or consignment or in the course of manufacture, that has come into custody or control of parties who intend to use such property for which it was manufactured or created. Such policies may not cover furniture and fixtures not customarily used away from premises where such property is usually kept.

(11) property in transit to or from and in the custody of bailees (not owned, controlled, or operated by the bailor), but such policies may not cover the bailee's property at his premises;

(12) installment sales and leased property policies covering property sold under conditional contract of sale, partial payment contract or installment sales contract or leased, but excluding motor vehicles designed for highway use. These policies must cover property in transit but may not extend beyond the termination of the seller's or lessor's interest. This subsection does not include machinery and equipment under certain "lease-back" contracts.

(13) garment contracts' floaters;

(14) furriers' or fur storers' customer's policies, which are policies under which certificates or receipts are issued by furriers or fur storers, covering specified articles that are the property of customers;

(15) accounts receivable policies and valuable papers and records policies;

(16) floor plan policies, covering property for sale while in possession of dealers under a floor plan or any similar plan under which the dealer borrows money from a bank or lending institution to pay the manufacturer, if:

(a) the merchandise is specifically identifiable as encumbered to the bank or lending institution;

(b) the dealer's right to sell or otherwise dispose of the merchandise is conditioned upon its being released from encumbrance by the bank or lending institution; and

(c) the policies cover property in transit and do not extend beyond the termination of the dealer's interest;

(17) sign and street clock policies, including neon signs, automatic or mechanical signs, and street clocks, while in use as such;

(18) fine arts policies covering paintings, etchings, pictures, tapestries, art glass windows, and other bona fide works of art of rarity, historical value, or artistic merit, for account of museums, galleries, universities, businesses, municipalities, and other similar interests;

(19) policies covering personal property, which may include coverage of money in locked safes or vaults on the assured's premises and may also include coverage of furniture, fixtures, tools, machinery, patterns, molds, dies, and a tenant insured's interest in improvements of buildings, which when sold to the ultimate purchaser may be covered specifically by the owner under inland marine policies including:

(a) musical instrument dealers' policies, covering property consisting principally of musical instruments and their accessories, but radios, televisions, record players, and combinations of them are not musical instruments for the purposes of this subsection;

(b) camera dealers' policies covering property consisting principally of cameras and their accessories;

(c) furrier dealers' policies covering property consisting principally of furs and fur garments;

(d) equipment dealers' policies covering mobile equipment consisting of binders, reapers, tractors, harvesters, harrows, tedders, and other similar agricultural equipment and accessories therefor; construction equipment consisting of bulldozers, road scrapers, tractors, compressors, pneumatic tools, and similar equipment and accessories therefor, but excluding motor vehicles designed for highway use;

(e) stamp and coin dealers' policies covering property of philatelic and numismatic nature;

(f) jewelers' block policies; and

(g) fine arts dealers' policies;

(20) wool growers' floaters;

(21) domestic bulk liquids policies covering tanks and domestic bulk liquids stored therein;

(22) "difference in conditions" coverage, excluding fire and extended coverage perils; and

(23) electronic data processing policies.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 467, L. 1981.

33-1-229. Exceptions. Unless otherwise permitted, nothing in 33-1-223 through 33-1-229 may be construed to permit marine, inland marine, or transportation insurance policies to cover:

(1) storage of an assured's merchandise, except as specifically provided;

(2) merchandise in the course of manufacture which is the property of and on the premises of the manufacturer;

(3) furniture, fixtures, and improvements to buildings; or

(4) money or securities in safes, vaults, safety deposit vaults, or banks or on the assured's premises, except while in the course of transportation.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 467, L. 1981.

33-1-235. Disability income insurance. "Disability income insurance" means an individual or group policy of insurance that primarily provides payment to or for the benefit of the policyholder or certificate holder based, in whole or in part, upon lost wages or other earned income or business or financial losses as a result of an inability to work due to sickness, injury, or a combination of sickness and injury.

33-1-311. General powers and duties. (1) The commissioner shall enforce the applicable provisions of the laws of this state and shall execute the duties imposed on the commissioner by the laws of this state.

(2) The commissioner has the powers and authority expressly conferred upon the commissioner by or reasonably implied from the provisions of the laws of this state.

(3) The commissioner shall administer the department to ensure that the interests of insurance consumers are protected.

(4) The commissioner may conduct examinations and investigations of insurance matters, in addition to examinations and investigations expressly authorized, as the commissioner considers proper, to determine whether any person has violated any provision of the laws of this state or to secure information useful in the lawful administration of any provision. The cost of additional examinations and investigations must be borne by the state.

(5) The commissioner shall maintain as confidential any information or document received from:

(a) the national association of insurance commissioners; or

(b) an insurance department from another state or federal agency that treats the same information or document as confidential. The commissioner may provide information or documents, including information or documents that are confidential, to the national association of insurance commissioners, a state or federal law enforcement agency, a federal agency, or an insurance department in another state, if the recipient agrees to maintain the confidentiality of the information or documents.

(6) The department is a criminal justice agency as defined in 44-5-103.

33-1-314. Orders and notices. (1) Orders and notices of the commissioner are not effective unless in writing, signed by the commissioner or by the commissioner's authority.

(2) Each order must state its effective date and must concisely state:

(a) its intent or purpose;

(b) the grounds on which the order is based;

(c) the provisions of this code pursuant to the action taken or proposed to be taken, but failure to designate a particular provision does not deprive the commissioner of the right to rely on a particular provision.

(3) The commissioner may effect service of process of an order or notice by mailing it, postage prepaid, addressed to the person affected by the order or notice, to the person's principal place of business as recorded in the commissioner's office. The commissioner's order is effective when mailed. If the commissioner does not have a record of the person's principal place of business, the commissioner may effect service of process of an order or notice upon a person by mailing it, postage prepaid, to the address as listed on the person's driver's license, as ascertained by the commissioner through the motor vehicle division of the department of justice, or, if a partnership, corporation, or similar entity, as ascertained from documentation filed in the office of the secretary of state.

(4) The commissioner may have a person served pursuant to Rule 4D of the Montana Rules of Civil Procedure.

History: En. Sec. 30, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2711; amd. Sec. 16, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

33-1-315. Witnesses — production of records — subpoena — failure to respond. (1) With respect to the subject of any examination or investigation being conducted by the commissioner, or the commissioner's designee if general written authority has been given the designee by the commissioner, the commissioner or the designee may subpoena witnesses and administer oaths or affirmations and examine any individual under oath and may require and compel the production of records, books, papers, contracts, and other documents by attachments, if necessary. Subpoenas of witnesses must be served in the same manner as if issued from a district court.

(2) If in connection with an examination of an insurer the commissioner or the commissioner's designee desires to examine an officer, director, or manager who is outside this state, the commissioner or the commissioner's designee may conduct and enforce by all appropriate and available means any examination under oath in any other state or territory of the United States in which the officer, director, or manager is located, to the full extent permitted by the laws of that state or territory.

(3) If a witness fails to obey a subpoena to appear before the commissioner or the commissioner's designee or refuses to testify or answer any material question or to produce records, books, papers, contracts, or documents when required to do so, the commissioner or the commissioner's designee shall institute proceedings in the district court to compel obedience to the subpoena or other order or to punish the witness for neglect or refusal to obey the summons or other order.

(4) Witness fees and mileage, if claimed, must be allowed on the same basis as for testimony in a district court. Witness fees, mileage, and the actual expenses necessarily incurred in securing attendance of witnesses and their testimony must be itemized and paid by the person being examined if the person is found to have been in violation of the law as to the matter with respect to which the witnesses were subpoenaed.

(5) A person who knowingly fails to attend, answer, and produce records, documents, or other evidence requested by the commissioner or the commissioner's designee, who knowingly fails to give full and truthful information or to answer in writing to any material inquiry of the commissioner or the commissioner's designee relative to the subject of an examination, investigation, or hearing, or who knowingly fails to appear and testify under oath before the commissioner or the commissioner's designee is subject to the provisions of 33-1-317 and 33-1-318.

33-1-316. Testimony compelled — immunity from prosecution. (1) A person may not be excused from attending and testifying or producing any evidence in any examination or investigation conducted by or under authority of the commissioner on the ground that the person's testimony or the evidence required may tend to incriminate or subject the person to a penalty or forfeiture. However, testimony or evidence compelled following a claim of privilege against self-incrimination or any information directly or indirectly derived from compelled testimony or evidence may not be used against the person in a criminal prosecution.

(2) The commissioner may grant immunity from prosecution for or on account of any act, occurrence, transaction, matter, or other thing concerning which a person testifies if the commissioner determines that the ends of justice would be served by granting the additional immunity.

(3) Immunity does not extend to prosecution or punishment for false statements by the person that are contained in testimony or evidence given under this part.

33-1-318. Injunctions and other remedies. (1) Whenever it appears to the commissioner that a person has engaged in or is about to engage in an act or practice constituting a violation of 33-1-501, 33-1-1302, 33-14-201, chapters 2, 16 through 18, and 30 of this title, part 13 of chapter 20 of this title, part 4 of chapter 25 of this title, part 1 of chapter 38 of this title, or any rule or order issued under this code, the commissioner may:

(a) issue an order directing the person to cease and desist from continuing the act or practice after reasonable notice and opportunity for a hearing;

(b) issue a temporary cease and desist order that must remain in effect until 10 days after the hearing is held. If the commissioner issues a temporary cease and desist order, the respondent has 15 days from receipt of the order to make a written request for a hearing on the allegations contained in the order. The hearing must be held within 20 days of the commissioner's receipt of the hearing request unless the time is extended by agreement of the parties. If the respondent does not request a hearing within 15 days of receipt of the order and the commissioner does not order a hearing, the order becomes final.

(c) without the issuance of a cease and desist order, bring an action in a court of competent jurisdiction to enjoin the acts or practices and to enforce compliance with this code or any rule or order issued under this code. Upon a proper showing, a permanent or temporary injunction, restraining order, or writ of mandamus must be granted and a receiver or conservator may be appointed for the defendant or the defendant's assets. The commissioner may not be required to post a bond.

(2) If a hearing is held on a cease and desist order, both parties have 20 days from the date the hearing is concluded or from the date a transcript of the hearing is filed, if one is requested, to submit proposed findings of fact, conclusions of law, orders, and supporting briefs to the hearings examiner. The parties have an additional 10 days within which to submit comments on the opposing party's proposed findings of fact, conclusions of law, orders, and briefs. A final order must be issued within 30 days of the submission of the comments.

(3) The commissioner may, after giving reasonable notice and an opportunity for a hearing under this section, impose a fine not to exceed $5,000 for each violation upon a person found to have engaged in an act or practice constituting a violation of a provision of this code or any rule or order issued under this code. The fine is in addition to all other penalties imposed by the laws of this state and must be collected by the commissioner in the name of the state of Montana and deposited in the general fund. Imposition of a fine under this subsection is an order from which an appeal may be taken pursuant to 33-1-711. If a person fails to pay a fine referred to in this subsection, the amount of the fine is a lien upon all of the assets and property of that person in this state and may be recovered by suit by the commissioner and deposited in the general fund.

Failure of the person to pay a fine also constitutes a forfeiture of the right to do business in this state under this code.

2005 Amendment — Code Commissioner Correction: Chapter 456 in (1) near end inserted reference to part 1 of chapter 38 of this title; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective October 1, 2005.

Pursuant to sec. 81, Ch. 130, L. 2005, in (1) near middle after "violation of" the code commissioner deleted a reference to 33-1-107 because that section was repealed by sec. 12, Ch. 456, L. 2005.

Part 4
Examinations by Department

33-1-401. Examination of insurers. (1) The commissioner shall examine the affairs, transactions, accounts, records, and assets of each authorized insurer as often as the commissioner considers advisable. The commissioner shall examine each authorized insurer not less frequently than every 5 years.

(2) The commissioner shall in like manner examine each insurer applying for an initial certificate of authority to do business in this state.

(3) In lieu of making an examination under this part of any foreign or alien insurer licensed in this state, the commissioner may accept an examination report on the company prepared by the insurance department for the company's state of domicile or port-of-entry state until January 1, 1994. After January 1, 1994, the reports may only be accepted if:

(a) the insurance department was at the time of the examination accredited under the national association of insurance commissioners' financial regulation standards and accreditation program; or

(b) the examination is performed under the supervision of an accredited state insurance department or with the participation of one or more examiners who are employed by such an accredited state insurance department and who, after a review of the examination workpapers and report, state under oath that the examination was performed in a manner consistent with the standards and procedures required by their insurance department.

(4) For purposes of completing an examination of any company under this part, the commissioner may examine or investigate any person or the business of any person, in so far as the examination or investigation is, in the sole discretion of the commissioner, necessary or material to the examination of the company.

History: En. Sec. 32, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2713; amd. Sec. 39, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-1-402. Examination of insurance producers, managers, and promoters. For the purpose of ascertaining compliance with this code, the commissioner may, as often as he considers advisable, examine the accounts, records, documents, and transactions pertaining to or affecting its insurance affairs or proposed insurance affairs of:

(1) an insurance producer, surplus lines insurance producer, general insurance producer, or adjuster;

(2) a person having a contract under which he enjoys in fact the exclusive or dominant right to manage or control an insurer;

(3) a person holding the shares of voting stock or policyholder proxies of a domestic insurer, for the purpose of controlling the management of the domestic insurer, as voting trustee or otherwise;

(4) a person engaged in or proposing to be engaged in or assisting in the promotion or formation of a domestic insurer or insurance holding corporation or corporation to finance a domestic insurer or the production of its business.

33-1-408. Conduct of examinations — records — correction of accounts — appraisals. (1) Upon determining that an examination should be conducted, the commissioner or the commissioner's designee shall issue an examination warrant appointing one or more examiners to perform the examination and instructing them as to the scope of the examination. In conducting the examination, an examiner shall observe the guidelines and procedures set forth in the examiners' handbook adopted by the NAIC. The commissioner may also employ other guidelines or procedures as the commissioner considers appropriate.

(2) Every company or person from whom information is sought and its officers, directors, employees, and agents shall provide to the examiners appointed under subsection (1) timely, convenient, and free access at all reasonable hours at its offices to all books, records, accounts, papers, documents, and any or all computer or other recordings relating to the property, assets, business, and affairs of the company being examined. The officers, directors, employees, and agents of the company or person shall facilitate the examination and aid in the examination so far as it is in their power to do so. The refusal of any company, by its officers, directors, employees, or agents, to submit to examination or to comply with any reasonable written request of the examiners is grounds for suspension, refusal, or nonrenewal of any license or authority held by the company to engage in an insurance or other business subject to the commissioner's jurisdiction. A proceeding for suspension, revocation, or refusal of any license or authority must be conducted pursuant to 33-1-318 and 33-1-701.

(3) The commissioner or any examiner has the power to issue subpoenas, administer oaths, and examine under oath any person concerning any matter pertinent to the examination. Upon the failure or refusal of a person to obey a subpoena, the commissioner may petition a court of competent jurisdiction and, upon proper showing, the court may enter an order compelling the witness to appear and testify or to produce documentary evidence. Failure to obey the court order is punishable as contempt of court.

(4) When making an examination under this part, the commissioner may retain attorneys, appraisers, independent actuaries, independent certified public accountants, or other professionals and specialists as examiners. The cost of retaining the personnel must be borne by the company that is the subject of the examination.

(5) This part may not be construed to limit the commissioner's authority to terminate or suspend any examination in order to pursue other legal or regulatory action pursuant to this title. Findings of fact and conclusions made pursuant to an examination are prima facie evidence in any legal or regulatory action.

(6) This part may not be construed to limit the commissioner's authority to use and, if appropriate, to make public any final or preliminary examination report, any examiner or company workpapers or other documents, or any other information discovered or developed during the course of any examination in the furtherance of any legal or regulatory action that the commissioner may consider appropriate.

History: En. Sec. 31, Ch. 596, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 6, Ch. 380, L. 2003.

33-1-409. Examination reports — hearings — confidentiality — publication. (1) All examination reports must be composed only of facts appearing upon the books, records, or other documents of the company, its agents, or other persons examined or as ascertained from the testimony of its officers or agents or other persons examined concerning its affairs. The report must contain the conclusions and recommendations that the examiners find reasonably warranted from the facts.

(2) No later than 60 days following completion of the examination, the examiner in charge shall file with the department a verified written report of examination under oath. Upon receipt of the verified report, the department shall transmit the report to the company examined, together with a notice that gives the company examined a reasonable opportunity, but not more than 30 days, to make a written submission or rebuttal with respect to any matters contained in the examination report.

(3) Within 30 days of the end of the period allowed for the receipt of written submissions or rebuttals, the commissioner shall fully consider and review the report, together with any written submissions or rebuttals and any relevant portions of the examiner's workpapers and enter an order:

(a) adopting the examination report as filed or with modification or corrections. If the examination report reveals that the company is operating in violation of any law, regulation, or prior order of the commissioner, the commissioner may order the company to take any action the commissioner considers necessary and appropriate to cure the violation.

(b) rejecting the examination report with directions to the examiners to reopen the examination for purposes of obtaining additional data, documentation, information, or testimony and of refiling pursuant to subsection (2); or

(c) calling for an investigatory hearing with no less than 20 days' notice to the company for purposes of obtaining additional data, documentation, information, and testimony.

(4) (a) All orders entered pursuant to subsection (3)(a) must be accompanied by findings and conclusions resulting from the commissioner's consideration and review of the examination report, relevant examiner workpapers, and any written submissions or rebuttals. An order must be considered a final administrative decision and may be appealed pursuant to Title 33, chapter 1, part 7, and must be served upon the company by certified mail, together with a copy of the adopted examination report. Within 30 days of the issuance of the adopted report, the company shall file affidavits executed by each of its directors stating under oath that they have received a copy of the adopted report and related orders.

(b) (i) A hearing conducted under subsection (3)(c) by the commissioner or an authorized representative must be conducted as a nonadversarial, confidential, investigatory proceeding as necessary for the resolution of any inconsistencies, discrepancies, or disputed issues apparent upon the face of the filed examination report or raised by or as a result of the commissioner's review of relevant workpapers or by the written submission or rebuttal of the company. Within 20 days of the conclusion of the hearing, the commissioner shall enter an order pursuant to subsection (3)(a).

(ii) The commissioner may not appoint an examiner as an authorized representative to conduct the hearing. The hearing must proceed expeditiously with discovery by the company limited to the examiner's workpapers that tend to substantiate any assertions set forth in any written submission or rebuttal. The commissioner or the commissioner's representative may issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses or the production of documents considered relevant to the investigation, whether under the control of the department, the company, or other persons. The documents produced must be included in the record, and testimony taken by the commissioner or the commissioner's representative must be under oath and preserved for the record. This section does not require the department to disclose any information or records that would indicate or show the existence or content of an investigation or activity of a criminal justice agency.

(iii) The hearing must proceed with the commissioner or the commissioner's representative posing questions to the persons subpoenaed. The company and the department may present testimony relevant to the investigation. Cross-examination may be conducted only by the commissioner or the commissioner's representative. The company and the department must be permitted to make closing statements and may be represented by counsel of their choice.

(5) (a) Upon the adoption of the examination report under subsection (3)(a), the commissioner shall continue to hold the content of the examination report as private and confidential information for a period of 30 days, except to the extent provided in subsection (2). After 30 days, the commissioner shall open the report for public inspection as long as a court of competent jurisdiction has not stayed its publication.

(b) This title does not prevent and may not be construed as prohibiting the commissioner from disclosing the content of an examination report or preliminary examination report, the results of an examination, or any matter relating to a report or results to the insurance department of this state or of any other state or country, to law enforcement officials of this state or of any other state, or to an agency of the federal government at any time as long as the agency or office receiving the report or matters relating to the report agrees in writing to hold it in a manner consistent with this part.

(c) If the commissioner determines that regulatory action is appropriate as a result of an examination, the commissioner may initiate any proceedings or actions as provided by law.

(6) All working papers, confidential criminal justice information, as defined in 44-5-103, personal information protected by an individual privacy interest, and trade secrets, as defined in 30-14-402, specifically identified and for which there are reasonable grounds of privilege asserted by the party claiming the privilege obtained by or disclosed to the commissioner or any other person in the course of an examination made under this part must be given confidential treatment, are not subject to subpoena, and may not be made public by the commissioner or any other person, except to the extent provided in subsection (5). Access may also be granted to the NAIC. The persons given access to confidential criminal justice information, trade secrets, and personal information shall agree in writing, prior to receiving the information, to treat the information in the manner required by this section unless the prior written consent of the company to which it pertains has been obtained.

History: En. Sec. 32, Ch. 596, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 6, Ch. 416, L. 1999.

33-1-410. Conflict of interest. (1) An examiner may not be appointed by the commissioner if the examiner, either directly or indirectly, has a conflict of interest with, is affiliated with the management of, or owns a pecuniary interest in any person subject to examination under this part. This section may not be construed to automatically preclude an examiner from being:

(a) a policyholder or claimant under an insurance policy;

(b) a grantor of a mortgage or similar instrument on the examiner's residence to a regulated entity if done under customary terms and in the ordinary course of business;

(c) an investment owner in shares of regulated diversified investment companies; or

(d) a settlor or beneficiary of a blind trust into which any otherwise impermissible holdings have been placed.

(2) Notwithstanding the requirements of this section, the commissioner may retain from time to time, on an individual basis, qualified actuaries, certified public accountants, or other individuals who are independently practicing their professions, even though the persons may from time to time be similarly employed or retained by persons subject to examination under this part.

History: En. Sec. 33, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-1-411. Destruction of records — hindrance of examination — penalty. A director, officer, agent, or employee of a company who for the purpose of hindering any examination conducted pursuant to this part destroys any books, records, or documents required to be kept by law shall be punished by a fine as provided in 33-1-317. After notice and hearing in accordance with Title 33, chapter 1, part 7, the commissioner may revoke the certificate of authority of the company.

33-1-413. Examination expense — lien. (1) Upon presentation of a detailed account of charges and expenses by the commissioner or pursuant to the commissioner's written authorization, each person examined, other than examinations pursuant to 33-1-402, shall pay the actual travel expenses, a reasonable living expense allowance, and a per diem as compensation of examiners as necessarily incurred on account of the examination, all at reasonable rates as established or adopted by the commissioner. An account may be presented periodically during the course of the examination or at the termination of the examination as the commissioner considers proper. A person may not pay and an examiner may not accept any additional emolument on account of an examination.

(2) The commissioner shall pay to the state treasurer to the credit of the state special revenue fund all money received pursuant to subsection (1).

(3) If a person fails to pay the charges and expenses, as referred to in subsection (1), the charges and expenses must be paid out of the funds of the commissioner in the same manner as other disbursements of the funds. The amount paid is a first lien upon all of the assets and property in this state of the person and may be recovered by suit by the attorney general on behalf of the state of Montana and restored to the appropriate fund.

Approval of Forms

Part Cross-References

Motor club service companies — approval of service contract forms, 61-12-308.

33-1-501. Filing of forms — approval — review of disapproval or withdrawal of approval — application. (1) (a) An insurance policy or annuity contract form, certificate, enrollment form, application form, printed rider or endorsement form, or form of renewal certificate may not be delivered or issued for delivery in Montana unless the form and, for the purposes of disability insurance, an outline of coverage as required by 33-22-244 and 33-22-521 have been filed with and approved by the commissioner and, if required, the regulatory official of the state of domicile of the insurer. This provision does not apply to surety bonds or policies, riders, endorsements, or forms of unique character designed for and used with relation to insurance upon a particular subject or that relate to the manner of distribution of benefits or to the reservation of rights and benefits under life or disability insurance policies and are used at the request of the individual policyholder, contract holder, or certificate holder. Forms for use in property, marine, other than ocean marine and foreign trade coverages, casualty, and surety insurance coverages may be filed by a rating organization on behalf of its members and subscribers or by a member or subscriber on its own behalf.

(b) A filing required by subsection (1)(a) must be submitted by an officer of the insurer with a certification in a form prescribed by the commissioner. The certification must state that to the best of the officer's knowledge and belief, the policy, contract form, certificate, enrollment form, application form, printed rider or endorsement form, or form of renewal certificate complies with the applicable provisions of Title 33.

(c) The approval of an insurance policy or annuity contract form, certificate, enrollment form, application form, or other related insurance form by the state of domicile may be waived by the commissioner if the commissioner considers the requirements of subsection (1)(a) unnecessary for the protection of Montana insurance consumers. If the requirement is waived, an insurer shall notify the commissioner in writing within 10 days of disapproval, denial, or withdrawal of approval of a form by the state of domicile.

(2) (a) The filing must be made not less than 60 days before delivery and must be delivered by hand or sent by certified mail with a return receipt requested. The commissioner's office shall mark a filing with the date of receipt by the commissioner's office.

(b) (i) If after 60 days from the date of receipt by the commissioner's office the commissioner has not approved or disapproved the form by a notice pursuant to the provisions in subsection (4), the form is considered approved for all purposes, subject to subsection (2)(c).

(ii) The running of the 60-day period is tolled for a period commencing on the date that the commissioner notifies the insurer of problems or questions and requests additional information from the insurer concerning a form filed pursuant to subsection (1)(a) and ending on the date that the insurer submits its response to the commissioner.

(iii) For purposes of tolling the 60-day period as provided in subsection (2)(b)(ii), the commissioner's request notification may be made electronically.

(c) In a letter separate from the original filing and delivered by hand or sent by certified mail with return receipt requested, the insurer shall notify the commissioner, at least 10 days before the use of the form in the market, that the insurer believes that:

(i) the form has been or will be considered approved; and

(ii) the insurer will begin marketing the form in Montana.

(d) The commissioner's office shall mark a letter received pursuant to subsection (2)(c) with the date of receipt by the commissioner's office.

(3) Approval of a form by the commissioner constitutes a waiver of any unexpired portion of the waiting period.

(4) The commissioner may at any time, after notice and for cause shown, withdraw any approval. Notice by the commissioner disapproving a form or withdrawing a previous approval must state the grounds for disapproval or withdrawal in sufficient detail to inform the insurer of the specific reason or reasons for and the legal authority supporting the disapproval or withdrawal of approval in whole or in part. The disapproval or withdrawal of approval does not take effect unless it is issued after the commissioner has reviewed the form and provided notice to the person who filed the form pursuant to 33-1-314 and this subsection.

(5) After the date of the insurer's receipt of notice of disapproval or withdrawal of approval by the commissioner, the insurer may not deliver the form or issue the form for delivery in Montana.

(6) The insurer may request a hearing, as provided for in 33-1-701, for unresolved disputes regarding a disapproval or a withdrawal of approval.

(7) The commissioner may exempt from the requirements of this section, for so long as the commissioner considers proper, an insurance document, form, or type of document or form to which, in the commissioner's opinion, this section may not practicably be applied or the filing and approval of which are not desirable or necessary for the protection of the public.

(8) This section applies to a form used by a domestic insurer for delivery in a jurisdiction outside Montana if the insurance supervisory official of the jurisdiction informs the commissioner that the form is not subject to approval or disapproval by the official and upon the commissioner's order requiring the form to be submitted to the commissioner for the purpose. The same standards apply to these forms as apply to forms for domestic use.

(9) Section 33-1-502 and this section do not apply to:

(a) reinsurance;

(b) policies or contracts not issued for delivery in Montana or delivered in Montana, except as provided in subsection (8);

(c) ocean marine and foreign trade insurances.

(10) Except as provided in chapter 21, group certificates that are delivered or issued for delivery in Montana for group insurance policies effectuated and delivered outside Montana but covering persons resident in Montana must be filed with the commissioner upon request. The certificates must meet the minimum provisions mandated by Montana if Montana law prevails over conflicting provisions of other state law.

Compiler's Comments

2005 Amendment: Chapter 409 in (1)(a) near beginning of first sentence after "application form" deleted "viatical disclosure form"; inserted (1)(b) requiring that a filing required by subsection (1)(a) must be submitted by an officer of the insurer with a certification; in (2)(a) near beginning after "delivery" inserted "and must be delivered by hand or sent by certified mail with a return receipt requested. The commissioner's office shall mark a filing with the date of receipt by the commissioner's office"; inserted (2)(b) through (2)(d) regarding approval of a filing form; in (3) deleted former second sentence that read: "The commissioner may extend by not more than an additional 60 days the period within which the commissioner may approve or disapprove a form by giving notice of the extension before expiration of the initial 60-day period"; in (4) near end of second sentence after "insurer" inserted "of the specific reason or reasons for and the legal authority supporting the disapproval or withdrawal of approval in whole or in part. The disapproval or withdrawal of approval does not take effect unless it is issued after the commissioner has reviewed the form and provided notice to the person who filed the form pursuant to 33-1-314 and this subsection"; inserted (5) providing that an insurer may not deliver the form or issue the form for delivery in Montana after the date of the insurer's receipt of notice of disapproval or withdrawal of approval; inserted (6) providing for a hearing for unresolved disputes; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective January 1, 2006.

Applicability: Section 4, Ch. 409, L. 2005, provided: "[This act] applies to all policies, forms, and certificates filed with the commissioner of insurance on or after [the effective date of this act]." Effective January 1, 2006.

33-1-502. Grounds for disapproval. The commissioner shall disapprove any form filed under 33-1-501 or withdraw any previous approval thereof only if the form:

(1) is in any respect in violation of or does not comply with this code;

(2) contains or incorporates by reference, where such incorporation is otherwise permissible, any inconsistent, ambiguous, or misleading clauses or exceptions and conditions which deceptively affect the risk purported to be assumed in the general coverage of the contract, including a provision in a casualty insurance form permitting defense costs within limits, except as permitted by the commissioner in his discretion;

(3) has any title, heading, or other indication of its provisions which is misleading;

Part 6
Service of Process

33-1-601. Commissioner — attorney for service of process. (1) Each insurer applying for authority to transact insurance in this state shall appoint the commissioner as its attorney to receive service of legal process issued against it in Montana. Service of legal process under this section means a summons and a complaint. The appointment must be made on a form designated and furnished by the commissioner. The appointment is irrevocable, binds the insurer and any successor in interest or to the assets or liabilities of the insurer, and remains in effect as long as there is in force in Montana any contract made by the insurer or obligations arising from a contract.

(2) Each insurer at the time of application for a certificate of authority shall file with the commissioner the name and address of the person to whom process against it served upon the commissioner is to be forwarded. The insurer may change the designation by a new filing.

33-1-602. Service of process — foreign, alien, or domestic. Service of such process against a foreign or alien insurer shall be made only by service of process upon the commissioner or upon a deputy or other person in charge of his office during his absence. Service of process against a domestic insurer may be made either upon the commissioner or upon the insurer corporation in the manner provided by laws applying to corporations generally or upon the insurer's attorney-in-fact if a domestic reciprocal insurer.

33-1-603. Serving process — time to plead. (1) Duplicate copies of legal process against an insurer for whom the commissioner is attorney, pursuant to 33-1-601, shall be served upon the commissioner or upon his deputy or other person in charge of his office during his absence. At the time of service, the plaintiff shall pay to the commissioner $10, taxable as costs in the action. Upon receiving such service, the commissioner shall promptly forward a copy thereof by certified or registered mail to the person last so designated by the insurer to receive the same.

(2) Where process is served upon the commissioner as an insurer's attorney, the insurer shall have 30 days within which to appear, answer, or plead after date of mailing of the copy thereof by the commissioner, exclusive of date of mailing, as provided by subsection (1).

(3) Process served upon the commissioner and copy thereof forwarded as in this section provided shall constitute service thereof upon the insurer.

Delivery, effectuation, or solicitation of any insurance contract, by mail or otherwise, within this state by an unauthorized insurer, or the performance within this state of any other service or transaction connected with such insurance by or on behalf of such insurer, shall be deemed to constitute an appointment by such insurer of the commissioner and his successors in office as its attorney, upon whom may be served all lawful process issued within this state in any action or proceeding against such insurer arising out of any such contract or transaction, and shall be deemed to signify the insurer's agreement that any such service of process shall have the same legal effect and validity as personal service of process upon it in this state.

History: En. Sec. 179, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3404.

33-1-613. Service of process — criteria mandating designation of commissioner. (1) Service of process upon any such insurer pursuant to 33-1-612 shall be made by delivering to and leaving with the commissioner or some person in apparent charge of his office two copies thereof and the payment to him of such fees as may be prescribed by law. The commissioner shall forthwith mail by registered or certified mail one of the copies of such process to the defendant at its principal place of business last known to the commissioner and shall keep a record of all process so served upon him. Such service of process is sufficient, provided notice of such service and a copy of the process are sent within 10 days thereafter by registered or certified mail by plaintiff's attorney to the defendant at its last known principal place of business and the defendant's receipt or receipt issued by the post office with which the letter is registered, showing the name of the sender of the letter and the name and address of the person to whom the letter is addressed, and the affidavit of the plaintiff's attorney showing a compliance herewith are filed with the clerk of the court in which such action is pending on or before the date the defendant is required to appear or within such further time as the court may allow.

(2) Service of process in any such action, suit, or proceeding shall in addition to the manner provided in subsection (1) of this section be valid if:

(a) served upon any person within this state who in this state on behalf of such insurer is:

(i) soliciting insurance;

(ii) making any contract of insurance or issuing or delivering any policies or written contracts of insurance; or

(iii) collecting or receiving any premium for insurance;

(b) a copy of such process is sent within 10 days thereafter by registered or certified mail by the plaintiff's attorney to the defendant at the last known principal place of business of the defendant; and

(c) the defendant's receipt or the receipt issued by the post office with which the letter is registered, showing the name of the sender of the letter and the name and address of the person to whom the letter is addressed, and the affidavit of the plaintiff's attorney showing a compliance herewith are filed with the clerk of the court in which such action is pending on or before the date the defendant is required to appear or within such further time as the court may allow.

(3) No plaintiff or complainant shall be entitled to a judgment by default under this section until the expiration of 30 days from the date of the filing of the affidavit of compliance.

(4) Nothing in this section contained shall limit or abridge the right to serve any process, notice, or demand upon any insurer in any other manner now or hereafter permitted by law.

33-1-614. Exemptions from service of process provisions. Sections 33-1-611 through 33-1-613 shall not apply to:

(1) surplus lines insurance lawfully effectuated under part 3, chapter 2;

(2) reinsurance; or

(3) any action or proceeding against an unauthorized insurer arising out of:

(a) wet marine and transportation insurance;

(b) insurance on or with respect to subjects located, resident, or to be performed wholly outside this state or on or with respect to vehicles or aircraft owned and principally garaged outside this state;

(c) insurance on property or operations of railroads engaged in interstate commerce; or

(d) insurance on aircraft or cargo of such aircraft or against liability, other than employer's liability, arising out of the ownership, maintenance, or use of such aircraft, where the policy or contract contains a provision designating the commissioner as its attorney for the acceptance of service of lawful process in any action or proceeding instituted by or on behalf of an insured or beneficiary arising out of any such policy or where the insurer enters a general appearance in any such action.

33-1-615. Defense of action by unauthorized insurer. (1) Before an unauthorized insurer shall file or cause to be filed any pleading in any action or proceeding instituted against it under 33-1-612 and 33-1-613, such insurer shall:

(a) procure a certificate of authority to transact insurance in this state; or

(b) deposit with the clerk of the court in which such action or proceeding is pending cash or securities or file with such clerk a bond with good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the court, in an amount to be fixed by the court sufficient to secure the payment of any final judgment which may be rendered in such action. The court may in its discretion make an order dispensing with such deposit or bond where the insurer makes a showing satisfactory to the court that it maintains in a state of the United States funds or securities, in trust or otherwise, sufficient and available to satisfy any final judgment which may be entered in such action or proceeding and that the insurer will pay any final judgment entered therein without requiring suit to be brought on such judgment in the state where such funds or securities are located.

(2) The court in any action or proceeding in which service is made in the manner provided in 33-1-613 may, in its discretion, order such postponement as may be necessary to afford the defendant reasonable opportunity to comply with the provisions of subsection (1) above and to defend such action.

(3) Nothing in subsection (1) above is to be construed to prevent an unauthorized insurer from filing a motion to quash or to set aside the service of any process made in the manner provided in 33-1-613 hereof, on the ground either:

(a) that such unauthorized insurer has not done any of the acts enumerated in 33-1-612; or

(b) that the person on whom service was made pursuant to 33-1-613(2) was not doing any of the acts therein enumerated.

33-1-616. Attorney's fee. In any action against an unauthorized insurer under this Unauthorized Insurers Process Act, if the insurer has failed for 30 days after demand prior to the commencement of the action to make payment in accordance with the terms of the insurance contract and it appears to the court that such refusal was vexatious and without reasonable cause, the court may allow to the plaintiff a reasonable attorney's fee and include such fee in any judgment that may be rendered in such action. The fee shall not exceed one-third of the amount which the court or jury finds the plaintiff is entitled to recover against the insurer, but in no event shall such fee be less than $100. Failure of an insurer to defend any such action shall be deemed prima facie evidence that its failure to make payment was vexatious and without reasonable cause.

(2) A person may provide the commissioner with a written demand for a hearing. A written demand must specify the grounds relied upon as a basis for the relief sought at the hearing. If the commissioner does not issue an order granting a person's request for a hearing within 30 days of receiving a request, the hearing is considered refused.

(3) All hearings must be conducted pursuant to the Montana Administrative Procedure Act, as provided in Title 2, chapter 4, part 6. Any supplemental hearing procedures may be adopted by administrative rule. The commissioner shall hold a hearing within 45 days of receipt of a request for a hearing unless postponed by mutual consent of the person requesting the hearing and the commissioner.

Part 8
Interference With Medical Communications

33-1-801. Definitions. As used in this part, unless the context requires otherwise, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Enrollee" means the individual to whom a health care service is provided or will be provided under a health plan.

(2) "Health care provider" or "provider" means a health care professional or facility.

(3) "Health carrier" means an entity that is subject to the insurance laws and rules of this state and that contracts, offers to contract, or enters into an agreement to provide, deliver, arrange for, pay for, or reimburse any of the costs of health care services. The term includes a disability insurer, health maintenance organization, or a health service corporation or other entity providing a health benefit plan.

(4) "Health plan" or "health benefit plan" means a policy, contract, certificate, or agreement entered into, offered, or issued by a health carrier to provide, deliver, arrange for, pay for, or reimburse any of the costs of health care services.

(5) "Managed care organization" means an entity that manages, owns, contracts with, or employs health care providers to provide health care services under a health plan. The term includes a health maintenance organization, as defined in 33-31-102, and an entity that does not itself provide health plans.

(6) "Medical communication" means:

(a) a communication made by a health care provider to an enrollee or to the guardian or other legal representative of an enrollee receiving health care services from the provider:

(i) concerning the mental or physical health care needs or treatment of the enrollee and the provisions, terms, or requirements of the health plan or another health plan relating to the needs or treatment of the enrollee; and

(ii) including a communication concerning:

(A) a test, consultation, or treatment option and a risk or benefit associated with the test, consultation, or option;

(B) variation among health care providers and health care facilities, as defined in 50-5-101, in experience, quality of health care services, or health outcomes;

(C) the basis or standard for the decision of the enrollee's health carrier or managed care organization to authorize or deny a health care service;

(D) the process used by the enrollee's health carrier or managed care organization to determine whether to authorize or deny a health care service; or

(E) a financial incentive or disincentive provided by the enrollee's health carrier or managed care organization to a health care provider to authorize or deny a health care service;

(b) a communication made by a health care provider to another health care provider, an employee or contractor of the enrollee's managed care organization, or an employee of the health carrier advocating a particular method of treatment on behalf of an enrollee.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 527, L. 1997.

33-1-802. Gag clauses and other action affecting medical communications prohibited — exceptions. (1) A health carrier or managed care organization may not by an oral or written contract, by an oral or written direction or requirement, or by a financial inducement or penalty prohibit a provider from making or interfere with a provider making a medical communication to an enrollee. A contract, direction, requirement, or financial inducement or penalty violating this subsection is void.

(2) Subsection (1) does not apply to:

(a) an oral or written contract, direction, requirement, or financial inducement or penalty prohibiting a provider from disclosing a trade secret, as defined in 30-14-402, to the same extent as other employees or contractors of the health carrier or managed care organization are prohibited from disclosing the trade secret;

(b) an oral or written contract, direction, requirement, or financial inducement or penalty prohibiting a health care provider from referring an enrollee to another health plan or managed care organization in which the provider making the referral has a direct financial interest; and

(c) the terms of an oral or written contract mutually agreed upon by a health carrier or managed care organization and a provider requiring the provider to participate in and cooperate with all programs, policies, and procedures implemented by the health carrier or managed care organization to ensure, review, or improve the quality of health care.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 527, L. 1997.

33-1-803. Sanction because of medical communication prohibited. A health carrier or managed care organization may not take any of the following actions with regard to a health care provider because the provider made a medical communication to an enrollee or to the guardian or legal representative of the enrollee:

(1) terminate an agreement between the health carrier or managed care organization and the health care provider to provide health care services;

(2) reduce compensation to the provider;

(3) demote the provider in regard to relative seniority within the managed care organization;

(4) transfer the provider to other duties within the managed care organization;

(5) deny the provider admitting or other privileges; or

(6) take other action against the provider in retaliation for a medical communication made by the provider to an enrollee.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 527, L. 1997.

33-1-804. Civil penalty — civil action for collection of penalty. (1) A health carrier or a managed care organization violating 33-1-802 or 33-1-803 is subject to a civil penalty, as provided in 33-1-317, for each violation. Each day of violation constitutes a separate violation for the purposes of this section.

(2) In addition to other enforcement methods provided by law, the commissioner may bring a civil action in the district court of the first judicial district to collect the civil penalty provided for in subsection (1) from a person violating a provision of this part. An amount collected by the commissioner pursuant to this section must be deposited in the general fund.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 497, L. 1983.

33-1-1113. Examination. A person or entity which is unable to show under 33-1-1111 that it is subject to the jurisdiction of another agency of this or another state or a subdivision thereof or the federal government must submit to an examination by the commissioner to determine the organization and solvency of the person or entity and to determine whether or not such person or entity complies with the applicable provisions of this code.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 497, L. 1983.

33-1-1114. Disclosure. (1) A production agency or administrator that advertises, sells, transacts, or administers the coverage in this state described in 33-1-1102 and that is required to submit to an examination by the insurance commissioner under 33-1-1113 shall, if such coverage is not fully insured or otherwise fully covered by an admitted life or disability insurer or nonprofit health service corporation, advise every purchaser, prospective purchaser, and covered person of such lack of insurance or other coverage.

(2) An administrator that advertises or administers the coverage in this state described in 33-1-1102 and is required to submit to an examination by the commissioner under 33-1-1113 shall advise any production agency of the elements of the coverage, including the amount of "stop-loss" insurance in effect.

Part 12
Insurance Fraud Protection

33-1-1201. Short title — purpose. (1) This part may be cited as the "Insurance Fraud Protection Act".

(2) The purpose of this part is to facilitate the detection of insurance fraud and reduce the occurrence of insurance fraud through the development of fraud prevention programs, improved investigative and prosecutorial services, and increased consumer awareness.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 237, L. 1995.

33-1-1202. Insurance fraud. A person commits the act of insurance fraud when the person:

(1) for the purpose of obtaining any money or benefit, presents or causes to be presented to any insurer, purported insurer, producer, or administrator, as defined in 33-17-102, any written or oral statement, including computer-generated documents, containing false, incomplete, or misleading information concerning any fact or thing material to, as part of, or in support of a claim for payment or other benefit pursuant to an insurance policy;

(2) assists, abets, solicits, or conspires with another to prepare or make any written or oral statement containing false, incomplete, or misleading information concerning any fact that is intended to be presented to any insurer or purported insurer or in connection with, material to, or in support of any claim for payment or other benefit pursuant to an insurance policy or contract;

(3) presents or causes to be presented to or by an insurer, purported insurer, producer, or administrator, as defined in 33-17-102, a materially false or altered application of insurance;

(4) accepts premium money knowing that coverage will not be provided;

(5) as a health care provider, submits a false or altered bill or report of physical condition to an insurer; or

(6) offers or accepts a direct or indirect inducement to file a false statement of claim with the intent of deceiving an insurer.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 237, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 8, Ch. 380, L. 2003.

33-1-1203. Powers and duties of commissioner — confidentiality of documents. (1) The commissioner may:

(a) initiate independent inquiries and conduct independent investigations when the commissioner has reason to believe that insurance fraud may be, has been, or is currently being committed;

(b) respond to notice or complaints generated by federal, state, county, and local law enforcement officers, other entities with law enforcement responsibilities, or governmental agencies or units;

(c) review and respond to notices or reports of insurance fraud submitted by any person, select the incidents of suspected fraud that in the commissioner's judgment require further and more detailed investigation, and conduct the investigations;

(d) conduct independent examinations of insurance fraud to determine the extent of insurance fraud, deceit, or intentional misrepresentation;

(e) after investigation, report any meritorious alleged violation of the law to the appropriate prosecuting authority or licensing agencies; and

(f) assemble evidence, prepare charges, and prosecute, if requested, or otherwise assist any prosecuting authority that has jurisdiction, including the attorney general.

(2) Papers, records, documents, reports, materials, or other evidence relative to the subject of an insurance fraud investigation must remain confidential and must be treated as confidential criminal justice information as defined in 44-5-103. Evidence procured pursuant to this section may not be disseminated, except as provided in 44-5-303.

(3) The commissioner shall notify the person who or the entity that has given notice of an alleged insurance fraud pursuant to 33-1-1205(2) of receipt of the notice by the commissioner and of the disposition of the notice and any resulting investigation.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 237, L. 1995.

33-1-1204. Cooperation with law enforcement, licensing authorities, and other fraud agencies. (1) The commissioner shall cooperate with law enforcement authorities and all other authorized agencies and related insurance and professional licensing boards of this and other states. As used in this section, the term "authorized agencies" means:

(a) the attorney general of the state of Montana;

(b) the prosecuting attorney responsible for prosecution;

(c) the department of insurance of other jurisdictions;

(d) the United States attorney's office when that office is charged with investigation of the fraud; or

(e) the federal bureau of investigation or any other federal agency charged with investigation of the fraud.

(2) The commissioner shall cooperate to the extent allowed by law with insurance fraud investigators, related organizations of this and other states, and insurance commissioners of other states.

(3) If the commissioner determines that sufficient evidence of the commission of an act of insurance fraud exists, the commissioner shall inform the appropriate prosecuting authority and professional licensing boards.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 237, L. 1995.

33-1-1205. Duties of authorized insurers, adjusters, administrators, consultants, and producers — notice exception. (1) Each insurer, independent adjuster, independent administrator, independent consultant, and independent producer shall cooperate fully with the commissioner with respect to the provisions of this part.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (4), an insurer, an officer, or an employee of the insurer, an independent adjuster, an independent administrator, an independent consultant, or an independent producer who has reason to believe that an insurance fraud has been or is being committed shall provide notice of the alleged insurance fraud to the commissioner within 60 days. A producer of an insurer who has reason to believe that an insurance fraud has been or is being committed shall report the alleged fraud to the insurer within 60 days of discovery of the alleged insurance fraud. The insurer shall review the report. If the insurer determines that there is reasonable likelihood that fraud has occurred, the insurer shall forward the report to the commissioner within 30 days of receipt of the report.

(3) Notice to the commissioner by an insurer who has reason to believe that an insurance fraud has been committed in connection with an insurance claim, application, or policy tolls any applicable time period, for the commissioner, in any applicable insurance statute, related insurance regulation, or applicable sections of the criminal code and tolls any time period arising under 33-18-232 or 33-18-242 regarding unfair claims settlement practices.

(4) Notice of an alleged insurance fraud involving an insurance claim or application submitted to the state compensation insurance fund or a policy issued by the state compensation insurance fund must be made within 60 days to the fraud detection and prevention unit established pursuant to 39-71-211.

33-1-1206. Persons not connected with insurance industry — reward fund. (1) Any person who has knowledge of or who believes that an act of insurance fraud is being or has been committed may provide the commissioner with a report or information pertinent to the knowledge and belief and may provide additional information that the commissioner requests.

(2) The commissioner, in cooperation with authorized insurers, producers, and other interested parties, may establish a fund to reward persons who are not connected with the insurance industry and who provide information or furnish evidence leading to the arrest and conviction of persons responsible for insurance fraud. Participation in the fund must be purely voluntary. The books and records of the fund must be open and subject to review by the legislative auditor.

33-1-1207 through 33-1-1209 reserved.

33-1-1210. Immunity from liability. (1) In the absence of malice, an insurer, an officer, employee, or producer of the insurer, an independent adjuster, an administrator, a consultant, or any private person is not subject to civil liability for filing reports, providing information, or otherwise cooperating with an investigation or examination of insurance fraud conducted by the commissioner.

(2) A person listed in subsection (1) receives immunity if the person:

(a) cooperates with, furnishes evidence to, or provides information regarding any suspected insurance fraud to the commissioner, the national association of insurance commissioners, any nonprofit organization established to detect and prevent insurance fraud, or other insurer or producer; or

(b) complies with an order issued by a court of competent jurisdiction acting in response to a request by the commissioner to furnish evidence or provide testimony.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 237, L. 1995.

33-1-1211. Penalties. (1) If, after a hearing conducted under 33-1-701, the commissioner determines that a person has committed insurance fraud, the commissioner may:

(a) impose any penalty provided for in 33-1-317; or

(b) require the person to pay the costs of the proceeding.

(2) Any person who purposely or knowingly commits insurance fraud commits the offense of theft under 45-6-301.

(3) In addition to any other penalties, the commissioner shall require a person who commits insurance fraud to make restitution to the insurer or to any other person for all financial loss sustained as a result of the insurance fraud.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 237, L. 1995.

Part 13
Insurer Insurance Fraud Protection

33-1-1301. Insurance, medical care discount card, pharmacy discount card, and securities fraud education and prevention program. (1) The commissioner may:

(a) establish an insurance, medical care discount card, pharmacy discount card, and securities fraud education and prevention program; and

(b) conduct investigations of insurance, medical care discount card, pharmacy discount card, and securities fraud.

(2) As used in this section "medical care discount card" and "pharmacy discount card" have the meanings provided in 33-38-102.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 390, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 456, L. 2005.

Compiler's Comments

2005 Amendment: Chapter 456 in (1)(a) and (1)(b) after "insurance" inserted "medical care discount card, pharmacy discount card"; inserted (2) defining medical care discount card and pharmacy discount card; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective October 1, 2005.

33-1-1302. Insurance, medical care discount card, and pharmacy discount card fraud — insurer. (1) A person commits the act of insurance, medical care discount card, or pharmacy discount card fraud when, in the course of offering or selling insurance, a medical care discount card, or a pharmacy discount card, the person misrepresents a material fact, known to the person to be untrue or made with reckless indifference as to whether it is true, with the intention of causing another person to rely upon the misrepresentation to that relying person's detriment.

(2) The commissioner may, after having conducted a hearing pursuant to 33-1-701, impose the penalties provided for in 33-1-317 for a violation of this section. Failure to pay a fine under this section results in a lien upon the assets and property of the person as provided in 33-1-318(3).

(3) In addition to any penalty provided for in 33-1-317, the commissioner may require a person regulated under this title who commits insurance, medical care discount card, or pharmacy discount card fraud to make full restitution to the victim for all financial losses sustained as a result of the fraud with interest of 10% a year from the date of the fraud plus any costs and reasonable attorney fees, less the amount of any income, refund, or other benefit received by the victim from the insurance, medical care discount card, or pharmacy discount card.

(4) The commissioner may require a person who commits insurance fraud to make full restitution to any insurer, purported insurer, or insurance producer who may have sustained any losses as a result of the fraud with interest of 10% a year from the date of the loss plus any costs and reasonable attorney fees.

(5) An insurer, insurance producer, or other person who sustained any losses and who was awarded restitution may bring suit to recover those sums, including any attorney fees, interest at 10% a year, and costs incurred in obtaining a judgment.

(6) Failure of a person to pay any amount ordered under this section constitutes a forfeiture of the right to do business in this state.

(7) A person who purposely or knowingly is involved in the misappropriation or theft of insurance premiums or proceeds or a medical care discount card fee commits the offense of theft and deceptive practices and is punishable as provided in 45-6-301 and 45-6-317, and the commissioner may refer evidence concerning the violation to the attorney general or other appropriate prosecuting attorney.

Part 1
Authorization of Insurers

33-2-101. Certificate of authority required — administrative and criminal penalties. (1) Except as expressly otherwise provided in this code, a person acting as an insurer and an insurer transacting insurance in this state must have a subsisting certificate of authority issued by the commissioner.

(2) An insurer that has or maintains in Montana any office, representative, or facility for the solicitation or servicing of any kind of insurance in any other state must be authorized to transact the same kind of insurance in this state.

(3) A person who knowingly violates this section is guilty of a felony punishable as provided in 46-18-213 and in addition is subject to the civil penalty provided in 33-1-317.

History: En. Sec. 46, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2801; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 562, L. 2005.

Compiler's Comments

2005 Amendment: Chapter 562 in (1) substituted language requiring that a person acting as an insurer and an insurer transacting insurance in this state have a subsisting certificate of authority issued by the commissioner for former language that read: "No person shall act as an insurer and no insurer shall transact insurance in this state except as authorized by a subsisting certificate of authority issued to it by the commissioner, except as to such transactions as are expressly otherwise provided for in this code"; inserted (3) providing penalties; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective October 1, 2005.

33-2-102. Exceptions to certificate of authority requirement. A certificate of authority shall not be required of an insurer, not otherwise authorized in this state, as to the following transactions:

(1) transactions relative to its policies lawfully written in Montana or liquidation of assets and liabilities of the insurer (other than collection of new premiums), all as resulting from its former authorized operations in Montana;

(2) transactions relative thereto subsequent to issuance of a policy covering only subjects of insurance not resident, located, or expressly to be performed in Montana at time of issuance, and which coverage was lawfully solicited, written, and delivered outside Montana;

(3) transactions pursuant to surplus lines coverages lawfully written pursuant to part 3 of this chapter;

(4) reinsurance, except as to domestic reinsurers.

History: En. Sec. 47, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2802.

33-2-103. Admission for investment only. A foreign insurer may transact business in this state without certificate of authority for the purpose and to the extent only of investing its funds in Montana real estate or in securities secured thereby by complying with the applicable laws of this state other than this code. Such an insurer shall not be subject to any other provision of this code.

History: En. Sec. 48, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2803.

Cross-References

33-2-106. General eligibility of insurers. (1) To qualify for and hold authority to transact insurance in this state, an insurer must be otherwise in compliance with this code and with its charter powers and must be an incorporated stock insurer, an incorporated mutual insurer, or a reciprocal insurer, all of the same general type as may hereafter be formed as a domestic insurer under this code.

(2) No foreign insurer shall be authorized to transact insurance in Montana which does not maintain reserves as required by part 5 of this chapter applicable to the kind or kinds of insurance transacted by such insurer, wherever transacted in the United States, or which transacts business anywhere in the United States on the assessment plan, stipulated premium plan, or any similar plan.

(3) No foreign insurer which is directly or indirectly owned or controlled in whole or in substantial part by any government or governmental agency shall be authorized to transact insurance in Montana unless it was so owned and first so authorized prior to January 1, 1957. Membership or subscribership in a mutual or reciprocal insurer by virtue of being a policyholder thereof, ownership of stock or other security which does not have voting rights with respect to the management of the insurer, or supervision of an insurer by public authority shall not be deemed to be an ownership or control of the insurer for the purposes of this provision.

33-2-108. Combinations of insuring powers. (1) Except as provided in subsections (2), (3), and (4) and 33-25-213, an insurer which otherwise qualifies therefor may be authorized to transact any one kind or combination of kinds of insurance as defined in 33-1-205 through 33-1-212.

(2) A life insurer may also grant annuities but shall not be authorized to transact any other kind of insurance other than disability, except that if the insurer is otherwise qualified therefor, the commissioner shall continue to so authorize any life insurer which, immediately prior to January 1, 1961, was lawfully authorized to transact in this state a kind or kinds of insurance in addition to life and disability.

(3) A reciprocal insurer shall not transact life insurance.

(4) A title insurer shall be a stock insurer.

Surety	500,000
Title	500,000
Multiple lines, two or more of property, marine, casualty, or surety	1,000,000

(2) Surplus requirements for qualification to transact one or more kinds of insurance for domestic mutual insurers are governed by Title 33, chapter 3, and surplus requirements for domestic reciprocal insurers are governed by Title 33, chapter 5.

(3) Capital and surplus requirements must be based upon all the kinds of insurance actually transacted or to be transacted by the insurer in any areas in which it operates, whether or not only a portion of the kinds are to be transacted in this state.

(4) A life insurer may also grant annuities without additional capital or additional surplus.

(5) For a credit life and disability insurer that is not a resident domestic insurer as defined in 33-1-201 and 33-1-202, the capital or surplus required by this section is an amount equal to four times the minimum capital or surplus required for credit life and disability pursuant to subsection (1).

History: En. Sec. 52, Ch. 286, L. 1959; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 319, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2807(part); amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 303, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 202, L. 1983; amd. Sec. 12, Ch. 472, L. 1999.

33-2-110. Special surplus required. In addition to the minimum paid-in capital stock (stock insurers) or minimum surplus (mutual and reciprocal insurers) required by 33-2-109, special surplus shall be possessed by insurers as follows:

(1) All stock insurers and mutual and foreign reciprocal insurers which have actively transacted insurance in their state of domicile as an authorized insurer for less than 5 years or, if an alien insurer, have transacted insurance as an authorized insurer in at least one state of the United States for less than 5 years when first authorized to transact insurance in this state shall have a surplus or additional surplus equal to not less than 100% of the paid-in capital stock (if a stock insurer) or surplus (if a mutual or foreign reciprocal) otherwise required under 33-2-109 for the kinds of insurance to be transacted.

(2) Insurers that have actively transacted insurance as authorized insurers in one or more states of the United States for more than 5 years shall possess, when first authorized in this state, surplus or additional surplus equal to not less than 50% of the paid-in capital stock (if a stock insurer) or surplus (if a mutual or foreign reciprocal insurer) otherwise required under 33-2-109.

(3) Insurers authorized to transact multiple lines of insurance in this state shall at all times have and maintain surplus of not less than $100,000, in addition to the capital (if a stock insurer) or surplus (if a mutual or foreign reciprocal insurer) required by 33-2-109. The amount of such surplus shall be included within the surplus required of newly authorized insurers pursuant to subsections (1) and (2) of this section.

History: En. Sec. 53, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2808; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 303, L. 1981.

33-2-111. Deposit requirement. (1) An insurer shall not be authorized to transact insurance in this state unless it makes and thereafter maintains in trust in this state through the commissioner for the protection of all its policyholders or of all its policyholders and creditors a deposit of cash or securities eligible for deposit under 33-2-603 in an amount not less than the minimum paid-in capital stock (if a stock insurer) or minimum surplus (if a mutual or reciprocal insurer), other than special surplus, required to be maintained for authority to transact the kinds of insurance to be transacted, except as to:

(a) title insurers, the deposit shall be in the amount of $100,000;

(b) foreign insurers, in lieu of such deposit or part thereof in this state, the commissioner shall accept the certificate in proper form of the public official having supervision over insurers in any other state to the effect that a like deposit or part thereof by such insurer is being maintained in public custody therein in trust for the purpose, among other reasonable purposes of protection of policyholders and/or creditors, of the protection of all its policyholders or policyholders and creditors in Montana;

(c) alien insurers, in lieu of such deposit or part thereof in this state, the commissioner shall accept evidence satisfactory to him that the insurer maintains within the United States by way of trust deposits with public depositaries or in trust institutions approved by the commissioner assets available for discharge of its United States insurance obligations which assets shall be in amount not less than the outstanding liabilities of the insurer arising out of its insurance transactions in the United States, together with the larger of the following sums:

(i) the largest deposit required by this code to be made by foreign insurers transacting like kinds of insurance; or

(ii) $300,000.

(2) Deposits of foreign or alien insurers in another state shall be in cash and/or securities of substantially the same quality as those eligible for deposit in this state under 33-2-603.

(3) Deposits of reserves by domestic life insurers shall be made as provided in 33-2-531.

(4) Deposits made in this state shall further be subject to the provisions of part 6 of this chapter.

History: En. Sec. 54, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2809; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 238, L. 1979.

33-2-112. Management qualifications and affiliations. The commissioner shall not grant or continue authority to transact insurance in this state as to any insurer the principal management personnel of which is found by him to be untrustworthy or not of good character or so lacking in insurance company managerial experience as to make the proposed operation hazardous to the insurance-buying public or to its stockholders or which he has good reason to believe is affiliated directly or indirectly through ownership, control, management, reinsurance transactions, or other insurance or business relations with any person or persons whose business operations, to the detriment of insurers, stockholders, or creditors, are or have been marked by manipulation of assets, accounts, or reinsurance or by bad faith.

33-2-113 and 33-2-114 reserved.

33-2-115. Application for certificate of authority. To apply for an original certificate of authority, an insurer shall file with the commissioner its application accompanied by the applicable fees as specified in 33-2-708, showing its name, location of its home office or principal office in the United States, if an alien insurer, kinds of insurance to be transacted, date of organization or incorporation, form of organization, state or country of domicile, and any additional information that the commissioner may reasonably require. The application must be accompanied by the following documents, as applicable:

(1) if a foreign insurer, a copy of its corporate charter or articles of incorporation, with all amendments, certified by the public officer with whom the originals are on file in the state or country of domicile;

(2) if a mutual insurer, a copy of its bylaws as amended, certified by its secretary or other officer having custody of the bylaws;

(3) if a reciprocal insurer, copies of the power of attorney of its attorney-in-fact and of its subscribers' agreement, if any, certified by its attorney-in-fact;

(4) a copy of its financial statement as of the preceding December 31, sworn to by at least two executive officers of the insurer or certified by the public insurance supervisory official of the insurer's state of domicile or of entry into the United States;

(5) a copy of report of last examination, if any, made of the insurer, certified by the insurance supervisory official of its state of domicile or of entry into the United States;

(6) appointment of the commissioner pursuant to 33-1-601, as its attorney to receive service of legal process;

(7) if a foreign or alien insurer, a certificate of the public official having supervision of insurance in its state or country of domicile or state of entry into the United States, showing that it is authorized to transact the kinds of insurance proposed to be transacted in this state;

(8) if an alien insurer, a copy of the appointment and authority of its United States manager, certified by its officer having custody of its records;

(9) if a foreign insurer, certificate as to deposit if to be tendered pursuant to 33-2-111;

(10) if a domestic insurer, specimen copies of policies proposed to be offered in this state, together with premiums or premium rates applicable, or a declaration that the rates as applicable will be those promulgated by designated rating organizations authorized to file the rates in this state on behalf of the insurer.

33-2-116. Issuance or refusal of certificate of authority — state ownership of certificate. (1) If upon completion of its application the commissioner finds that the insurer has met the requirements for and is entitled thereto under this code, he shall issue to the insurer a proper certificate of authority. If he does not so find, the commissioner shall issue his order refusing such certificate. The commissioner shall act upon an application for a certificate of authority within 180 days after its completion.

(2) The certificate, if issued, shall specify the kind or kinds of insurance the insurer is authorized to transact in Montana. At the insurer's request, the commissioner may issue a certificate of authority limited to particular types of insurance or insurance coverages within the scope of a kind of insurance as defined in 33-1-205 through 33-1-212.

(3) Although issued to the insurer, the certificate of authority is at all times the property of the state of Montana. Upon any expiration, suspension, or termination thereof, the insurer shall promptly deliver the certificate of authority to the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 57, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2812; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 303, L. 1981.

33-2-117. Renewal, expiration, reinstatement, and amendment of certificate of authority. (1) A certificate of authority issued or renewed under this code must continue in force as long as the insurer is entitled under this code and until suspended, revoked, or otherwise terminated. A certificate is subject to renewal by the insurer each year by payment on or prior to March 1 of the fee provided for in 33-2-708.

(2) If not continued by the insurer, the certificate of authority expires at midnight on May 31 following failure of the insurer to continue it in force. The commissioner shall promptly notify the insurer of its failure to pay the fee that can result in the expiration of its certificate of authority.

(3) The commissioner may reinstate a certificate of authority that the insurer has inadvertently permitted to expire after the insurer cures any failures resulting in expiration and upon payment of a fee of $100 for reinstatement in addition to the fee provided for in 33-2-708. Otherwise, the insurer may be granted another certificate of authority only after filing an application and meeting all other requirements for an original certificate of authority in this state.

(4) The commissioner may amend a certificate of authority at any time to accord with changes in the insurer's charter of insuring powers.

History: En. Sec. 58, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2813; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 139, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 7, Ch. 379, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 316, L. 1999.

33-2-118. Mandatory revocation or suspension of certificate of authority. (1) The commissioner shall suspend or revoke an insurer's certificate of authority if:

(a) such action is required by any provision of this code;

(b) the insurer no longer meets the requirements for the authority originally granted, on account of deficiency of assets or otherwise; or

(c) the insurer's authority to transact insurance is suspended or revoked by its state of domicile, or state of entry into the United States if an alien insurer.

(2) Except in cases of insolvency or impairment of required capital or surplus or suspension or revocation by another state as referred to in subsection (1)(c) above, the commissioner shall give the insurer at least 15 days' notice in advance of any such suspension or revocation under this section.

History: En. Sec. 59, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2814.

Cross-References

33-2-119. Suspension or revocation for violations and special grounds. (1) The commissioner may suspend or revoke an insurer's certificate of authority if, after a hearing, the commissioner finds that the insurer has:

(a) violated any lawful order of the commissioner or any provision of this code other than those for which suspension or revocation is mandatory;

(b) reinsured more than 90% of its risks resident, located, or to be performed in Montana, in another insurer. In considering suspension or revocation, the commissioner shall consider all relevant factors, including whether:

(i) after the reinsurance transaction all parties will be in compliance with Montana law; and

(ii) the transaction will substantially reduce protection and service to Montana policyholders.

(2) The commissioner shall, after a hearing, suspend or revoke an insurer's certificate of authority if the commissioner finds that the insurer:

(a) is in unsound condition or in a condition or using methods or practices in the conduct of its business that render its further transaction of insurance in Montana injurious or hazardous to its policyholders or to the public;

(b) has refused to be examined or to produce its accounts, records, and files for examination or if any of its officers have refused to give information with respect to its affairs, when required by the commissioner;

(c) has failed to pay any final judgment rendered against it in Montana within 30 days after the judgment became final;

(d) with such frequency as to indicate its general business practice in Montana, has without just cause refused to pay a proper claim arising under its policies, whether the claim is in favor of an insured or is in favor of a third person with respect to the liability of an insured to the third person, or without just cause compels the insured or claimant to accept less than the amount due the claimant or to employ attorneys or to bring suit against the insurer or insured to secure full payment or settlement of the claims;

(e) is affiliated with and under the same general management or interlocking directorate or ownership as another insurer that transacts direct insurance in Montana without having a certificate of authority, except as permitted as to a surplus lines insurer under part 3 of this chapter.

(3) The commissioner may, without advance notice or a hearing, immediately suspend the certificate of authority of any insurer as to which proceedings for receivership, conservatorship, rehabilitation, or other delinquency proceedings have been commenced in any state.

33-2-120. Notice of suspension or revocation — effect upon producer's authority. (1) Upon suspending or revoking an insurer's certificate of authority, the commissioner shall forthwith give notice thereof to the insurer and to its insurance producers in this state of record in the commissioner's office.

(2) Such suspension or revocation shall likewise automatically suspend or revoke, as the case may be, the authority of all such insurance producers to act as insurance producers of the insurer in this state, and the commissioner shall so state in the notice to insurance producers provided for in subsection (1).

(3) In his discretion the commissioner may also publish notice of such revocation in one or more newspapers of general circulation published in this state.

History: En. Sec. 61, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-2816; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

33-2-121. Duration of suspension — insurer's obligations — reinstatement. (1) Suspension of an insurer's certificate of authority shall be for such period as is fixed by the commissioner in the order of suspension and shall continue until rescinded or otherwise removed by the commissioner. During the suspension the commissioner may shorten the period thereof by his further order.

(2) During the period of the suspension the insurer shall file its annual statement and pay fees, licenses, and taxes as required under this code as if the certificate had continued in full force.

(3) If within such period of suspension the certificate of authority has not been terminated, the insurer's certificate of authority may be reinstated if the commissioner finds that the causes of the suspension have been removed or that the insurer is otherwise in compliance with the requirements of this code.

(4) Upon reinstatement of the insurer's certificate of authority, the authority of its insurance producers in this state to represent the insurer shall likewise reinstate.

(5) The commissioner shall forthwith notify both the insurer and its insurance producers in this state, as shown by his records, of such reinstatement.

33-2-122. Rights and duties of foreign insurer. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, a foreign insurer which has a certificate of authority under this chapter shall, until its certificate is revoked or withdrawn, enjoy the same but no greater rights and privileges as a domestic insurer and shall be subject to the same duties, restrictions, penalties, and liabilities imposed upon a domestic insurer of like character.

33-2-126. Admission as domestic insurer — conversion to foreign insurer. (1) An insurer organized under the laws of any other state and admitted to do business in this state for the purposes of writing insurance may become a domestic insurer by complying with all of the laws relative to the organization and licensing of a domestic insurer of the same type, and designating its principal place of business in this state. An insurer complying with this subsection is entitled to a certificate of redomestication and a certificate of authority to transact business in this state, is subject to the authority and jurisdiction of this state, and has the same rights and obligations as other domestic insurers.

(2) A domestic insurer may, upon approval of the commissioner, transfer its domicile to any other state in which it is admitted to transact insurance. If the insurer is otherwise qualified, the commissioner shall approve a proposed transfer unless the commissioner determines a transfer is not in the interest of the policyholders of this state. Upon a transfer, the insurer ceases to be a domestic insurer.

33-2-127. Effects of transfer of domicile. The certificate of authority, producers' appointments and licenses, policy forms, rates, and other items that the commissioner allows, in his discretion, that are in existence at the time an insurer admitted to transact insurance in this state transfers its corporate domicile to this or any other state continue in full force and effect upon transfer if the insurer remains qualified to transact insurance in this state. All rates and outstanding policies of a transferring insurer remain in full force and effect, and policies need not be endorsed as to the new name of the company or its domicile unless required by the commissioner. A transferring insurer either shall file new policy forms for use in this state with the commissioner on or before the effective date of the transfer or may use existing policy forms with the appropriate endorsements, as allowed by the commissioner. A transferring insurer shall notify the commissioner of the proposed transfer and shall promptly file any resulting amendments to corporate documents required to be filed with the commissioner.

33-2-202. Required deposit of assets. (1) An alien insurer may use Montana as a state of entry to transact insurance in the United States by making and maintaining in this state a deposit of assets in trust with a solvent bank or trust company approved by the commissioner.

(2) The deposit, together with other trust deposits of the insurer held in the United States for the same purpose, must be in amount not less than the deposits required of an alien insurer under 33-2-111(1) and must consist of cash and securities of the same character and diversification as those eligible for the investment of the funds of domestic insurers under chapter 12.

(3) A deposit under this section may be referred to as "trusteed assets".

History: En. Sec. 600, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5202; amd. Sec. 37, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

(1) A trust agreement under this part must provide, in substance, that withdrawals of trusteed assets may not be made by the insurer or permitted by the trustee without the written authorization or approval of the commissioner in advance of the withdrawal, except as follows:

(a) any or all income, earnings, dividends, or interest accumulations of the trusteed assets may be paid over to the United States manager of the insurer upon request of the insurer or the manager;

(b) for substitution, coincidentally with a withdrawal, of other securities or assets of value at least equal in amount to those being withdrawn if the substituted securities or assets are eligible for investment of the funds of domestic insurers under chapter 12, if the withdrawal is requested in writing by the insurer's United States manager pursuant to general or specific written authority previously given or delegated by the insurer's board of directors or other similar governing body and a copy of the authority has been filed with the trustee;

(c) for the purpose of making deposits required by law in any state in which the insurer is or becomes an authorized insurer, for the protection of the insurer's policyholders or policyholders and creditors in such state or in the United States, if a withdrawal does not reduce the insurer's deposit in this state to an amount less than the minimum deposit required under 33-2-111(1)(c)(i) and (1)(c)(ii). The trustee shall transfer any assets withdrawn and in the amount required to be deposited in the other state direct to the depositary required to receive the deposit in the other state, as certified in writing by the public official having supervision of insurance in the other state.

(d) for the purpose of transferring the trusteed assets to an official liquidator, conservator, or rehabilitator pursuant to the order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

(2) The commissioner shall authorize or approve withdrawal of only the assets that are in excess of the amount of assets required to be held in trust under 33-2-202 or as may otherwise be consistent with the provisions of this part.

(3) If at any time the insurer becomes insolvent or if its assets held in the United States are less in amount than as required under 33-2-111(1)(c), the commissioner shall in writing order the trustee to suspend the right of the insurer or any other person to withdraw assets as authorized under subsections (1)(a), (1)(b), and (1)(c), and the trustee shall comply with the order and until the further order of the commissioner.

33-2-214. Substitution of trustee. (1) A new trustee or new trustees may be substituted for the original trustee or trustees of trusteed assets in the event of a vacancy or for other proper cause. Any such substitution shall be subject to the commissioner's approval.

(2) If the trustees of any trusteed assets heretofore created are individuals and if the number of such trustees is reduced to less than three by death, resignation, or otherwise, the commissioner shall require that there be substituted for such trustees a bank or trust company in this state approved by him.

Part 3
Authorization of Surplus Line Insurers, Insurance Producers, and Insurance

33-2-301. Short title — purpose — definitions. (1) This part constitutes and may be referred to as "The Surplus Lines Insurance Law".

(2) This part must be applied to:

(a) protect persons seeking insurance in this state;

(b) permit surplus lines insurance to be placed with reputable and financially sound unauthorized insurers and to be exported from this state pursuant to this part;

(c) establish a system of regulation that will permit orderly access to surplus lines insurance in this state and encourage authorized insurers to provide new and innovative types of insurance to consumers in this state; and

(d) protect revenues of this state.

(3) As used in this part, the following definitions apply:

(a) "Authorized insurer" means an insurer authorized pursuant to 33-2-101 to transact insurance in this state.

(b) "Eligible surplus lines insurer" means an unauthorized insurer with which a surplus lines insurance producer may place surplus lines insurance under 33-2-307.

(c) "Export" means to place surplus lines insurance with an unauthorized insurer.

(d) "Producing insurance producer" means the individual insurance producer dealing directly with the person seeking insurance.

(e) "Surplus lines insurance" means any insurance on risks resident, located, or to be performed in this state permitted to be placed through a surplus lines insurance producer with an unauthorized insurer eligible to accept the insurance. The term does not include the kinds of insurance exempted under 33-2-317.

(f) "Surplus lines insurance producer" means an individual, partnership, or corporation licensed under 33-2-305 to place surplus lines insurance on risks resident, located, or to be performed in this state with unauthorized insurers eligible to accept the insurance.

(g) "Unauthorized insurer" means an insurer not authorized pursuant to 33-2-101 to transact insurance in this state. The term includes insurance exchanges authorized under the laws of other states.

History: En. Sec. 184, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3409; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 537, L. 1987; (3) En. Sec. 2, Ch. 537, L. 1987; amd. Secs. 1, 2, Ch. 713, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 8, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-2-302. Conditions precedent to sale of surplus lines insurance. (1) A producing insurance producer may request a surplus lines insurance producer to place or a surplus lines insurance producer may place a contract of insurance with an unauthorized insurer if:

(a) the insurer is an eligible surplus lines insurer;

(b) the line of insurance or the full amount of the line of insurance cannot be obtained from authorized insurers or, in the case of a renewal, the line of insurance has not become available from an authorized insurer;

(c) the producing insurance producer makes a diligent effort to place the business with a minimum of three insurers authorized and actually transacting that line of business in this state. If fewer than three insurers are authorized and actually transacting the line of business in this state, diligent effort must be met by searching this lesser market.

(d) the insurance is not procured for the purpose of securing:

(i) a lower premium rate than would be accepted by an authorized insurer unless the premium rate quoted by the authorized insurer is at least 10% higher and at least $1,500 greater than the premium rate quoted by the unauthorized insurer; or

(ii) an advantage in terms of the insurance contract; and

(e) all other requirements of this part are met.

(2) A contract of insurance may not be placed with an unauthorized insurer under subsection (1)(d)(i) unless the unauthorized insurer is the equivalent of A-rated or better and the unauthorized insurer or the surplus lines insurance producer that placed the contract of insurance with the unauthorized insurer has provided the insured with disclosure information in a form and content approved by the commissioner.

33-2-305. Licensing of surplus lines insurance producer — fee. (1) A person may not place a contract of surplus lines insurance with an unauthorized insurer unless the person is licensed as a property and casualty insurance producer and possesses a current surplus lines insurance producer's license issued by the commissioner.

(2) The commissioner shall issue a surplus lines insurance producer's license to any qualified holder of a current property and casualty insurance producer license only if the insurance producer has:

(a) remitted to the commissioner the fee prescribed by 33-2-708;

(b) submitted to the commissioner a completed license application in a form approved by the commissioner; and

(c) been licensed as a property and casualty insurance producer continuously for 5 years or more.

(3) The licensee shall renew the license on a form prescribed by the commissioner. The commissioner may establish rules for biennial renewal of the license. A license lapses if not renewed.

(4) A corporation is eligible to be licensed as a surplus lines insurance producer if:

(a) the corporate license lists the individuals within the corporation who have satisfied the requirements of this part to become surplus lines insurance producers; and

(b) only those individuals listed on the corporate license transact surplus lines insurance.

(5) This section may not be construed to require agents, producers, or brokers acting as intermediaries between a surplus lines insurance producer and an unauthorized insurer under this part to hold a valid Montana surplus lines insurance producer's license.

33-2-306. Surplus lines insurance producer's authority under license — acceptance of business from other insurance producers. (1) Under a surplus lines insurance producer's license the licensee may place surplus lines insurance, in compliance with The Surplus Lines Insurance Law, with a foreign or alien insurer not authorized to transact insurance in this state and may act as a surplus lines insurance producer in this state for the insurer.

(2) The surplus lines insurance producer may accept surplus lines insurance from a licensed insurance producer of an authorized insurer or, if the commissioner agrees in advance, through an individual, partnership, or corporation that has not been appointed as an insurance producer in this state and may compensate him therefor.

(3) A surplus lines insurance producer who places or renews surplus lines insurance in accordance with subsection (1) may collect an inspection fee for the actual costs of inspecting the risk to be covered.

33-2-307. Requirements for eligible surplus lines insurers. (1) A surplus lines insurance producer may not place insurance with an unauthorized insurer unless, at the time of placement, the unauthorized insurer:

(a) has established satisfactory evidence of good reputation and financial integrity; and

(b) is qualified under one of the following subsections:

(i) the insurer maintains capital and surplus or its equivalent under the laws of its state of domicile, which equals the greater of:

(A) the minimum capital and surplus requirements of 33-2-109 and 33-2-110; or

(B) $15 million. An insurer possessing less than $15 million capital and surplus may satisfy the requirements of this subsection upon an affirmative finding of acceptability by the commissioner. The commissioner's finding must be based upon factors of the quality of management, capital, and surplus of a parent company; company underwriting profit and investment income trends; and company record and reputation within the industry. The commissioner may not make an affirmative finding of acceptability when the surplus lines insurer's capital and surplus is less than $7 million.

(ii) in the case of Lloyd's or another similar group including incorporated and unincorporated alien insurers, the insurer maintains a trust fund of not less than $50 million as security to the full amount of capital and surplus for all policyholders and creditors in the United States of each member of the group. The incorporated members of the group may not engage in any business other than underwriting as a member of the group and are subject to the same level of solvency regulation and control by the groups of domiciliary regulators as are the unincorporated members. The trust must comply with the terms and conditions established in subsection (1)(b)(iv) for alien insurers.

(iii) in the case of an insurance exchange created by the laws of individual states, the insurer maintains capital and surplus, or their substantial equivalent, of not less than $15 million in the aggregate. For an insurance exchange that maintains funds for the protection of each insurance exchange policyholder, each individual syndicate shall maintain minimum capital and surplus, or their substantial equivalent, of not less than $1.5 million. If the insurance exchange does not maintain funds for the protection of each insurance exchange policyholder, each individual syndicate shall meet the minimum capital and surplus requirements of subsection (1)(b)(i).

(iv) in the case of an alien insurer, the insurer maintains in the United States an irrevocable trust fund in either a national bank or a member of the federal reserve system, in an amount not less than $1.5 million, for the protection of all its policyholders in the United States and the trust fund consists of cash, securities, or letters of credit or of investments of substantially the same character and quality as those that are eligible investments for the capital and statutory reserves of insurers authorized to write like kinds of insurance in this state. The trust fund, which must be included in any calculation of capital and surplus or its equivalent, must have an expiration date that may not at any time be less than 5 years. In addition, the alien insurer must appear on the national association of insurance commissioners' Non-Admitted Insurers Quarterly Listing.

(c) has provided the commissioner a copy of its current annual statement, certified by the insurer not more than 6 months after the close of the period reported upon, or quarterly if considered necessary by the commissioner, and that is either:

(i) filed with and approved by the regulatory authority in the state of domicile of the unauthorized insurer; or

(ii) certified by an accounting or auditing firm licensed in the jurisdiction of the insurer's state of domicile.

(2) In the case of an insurance exchange, the statement required by subsection (1)(c) may be an aggregate combined statement of all underwriting syndicates operating during the period reported.

(3) In addition to meeting the requirements in subsection (1), an insurer is an eligible surplus lines insurer only if it appears on the most recent list of eligible surplus lines insurers published at least semiannually by the commissioner. This subsection does not require the commissioner to place or maintain the name of any unauthorized insurer on the list of eligible surplus lines insurers. An action may not lie against the commissioner or an employee of the commissioner for anything said in issuing the list of eligible surplus lines insurers referred to in this subsection.

(4) (a) The commissioner may declare an eligible surplus lines insurer ineligible if at any time the commissioner has reason to believe that it:

(i) is in unsound financial condition;

(ii) is no longer eligible under subsections (1) through (3);

(iii) has willfully violated the laws of this state; or

(iv) does not make reasonably prompt payment of just losses and claims in this state or elsewhere.

(b) The commissioner shall promptly mail notice of all declarations to each surplus lines insurance producer.

(5) As used in this section, the following definitions apply:

(a) "Capital", as used in the financial requirements of this section, means funds invested in for stocks or other evidences of ownership.

(b) "Surplus", as used in the financial requirements of this section, means funds over and above liabilities and capital of the insurer for the protection of policyholders.

33-2-308. Evidence of insurance — changes — penalty. (1) Upon placing surplus lines insurance, the surplus lines insurance producer shall promptly issue or deliver to the insured or the producing insurance producer evidence of the insurance, consisting either of the policy as issued by the insurer or, if the policy is not then available, a cover note or certificate of insurance signed or countersigned by the insurance producer. The cover note or certificate must show the subject, coverage, conditions, and term of the insurance, the premium charged and taxes collected from the insured, and the name and address of the insurer. If a direct risk is assumed by more than one insurer, the cover note or certificate must state the name and address and proportion of the entire direct risk assumed by each insurer.

(2) If after the issuance and delivery of any cover note or certificate there is a change as to the identity of the insurers or the proportion of the direct risk assumed by the insurer as stated in the original cover note or certificate or in any other material respect as to the insurance coverage evidenced by the cover note or certificate, the surplus lines insurance producer shall promptly issue or deliver to the insured a substitute cover note or certificate accurately showing the current status of the coverage and the insurers responsible under the coverage.

(3) If a policy issued by the insurer is not available upon placement of the insurance and the surplus lines insurance producer has issued and delivered a cover note or certificate as provided in subsection (2), upon request therefor by the insured, the surplus lines insurance producer shall as soon as reasonably possible procure from the insurer its policy evidencing the insurance and deliver the policy to the insured in replacement of the cover note or certificate previously issued.

(4) A surplus lines insurance producer who knowingly or negligently issues or delivers a false cover note or certificate of insurance or fails promptly to notify the insured of a material change with respect to the insurance by delivery to the insured of a substitute cover note or certificate as provided in subsection (2) is guilty of a violation of this code and upon conviction is subject to the penalties provided by 33-1-104 or to any greater applicable penalty otherwise provided by law.

(5) A surplus lines insurance producer may not issue or deliver an evidence of insurance or purport to insure or represent that insurance will be or has been written by an eligible surplus lines insurer unless he has authority from the insurer to cause the risk to be insured or has received information from the insurer in the regular course of business that the insurance has been granted.

33-2-309. Liability of insurer as to losses and unearned premiums. (1) As to a surplus lines risk that has been assumed by an unauthorized insurer pursuant to The Surplus Lines Insurance Law and if the premium on the surplus lines risk has been received by the surplus lines insurance producer who placed the insurance, in all questions thereafter arising under the coverage as between the insurer and the insured, the insurer is considered to have received the premium due to it for the coverage. The insurer is liable to the insured as to losses covered by the insurance and for unearned premiums that may become payable to the insured upon cancellation of the insurance, whether or not in fact the surplus lines insurance producer is indebted to the insurer with respect to the insurance or for any other cause. This provision does not affect rights as between the insurer and the surplus lines insurance producer.

(2) A payment of premium to a surplus lines insurance producer acting for a person other than himself in negotiating, continuing, or reviewing a policy of insurance under this part is considered to be payment to the insurer, notwithstanding any conditions or stipulations that may be inserted in the policy or contract.

(3) Each unauthorized insurer assuming a surplus lines direct risk under The Surplus Lines Insurance Law is considered to have subjected itself to the terms of this section.

33-2-310. Records and annual statement — affidavit. (1) Each surplus lines insurance producer shall keep a separate record and account of all business transacted under his license, including a copy of each daily report, if any, or of each policy, certificate of insurance, cover note, or other evidence of insurance issued or delivered by him. The records must be available for examination by the commissioner at any reasonable time within 5 years after the issuance of the surplus lines insurance to which it relates.

(2) Prior to April 1 of each year the surplus lines insurance producer shall file with the commissioner a statement for the preceding calendar year, showing:

(a) name and address of each insured for whom surplus lines insurance was procured;

(b) name and home office address of each insurer providing the surplus lines insurance;

(c) amount of each surplus lines insurance policy, the premium rate, and the gross premium charged for the policy;

(d) date and term of the policy;

(e) amount of premium returned on each policy canceled or not taken;

(f) amount of tax and other sums to be collected from the insured;

(g) identity of the producing insurance producer; and

(h) such additional information as the commissioner may reasonably require.

(3) Each producing insurance producer shall execute and each surplus lines insurance producer shall file an affidavit, on a standardized form furnished by the commissioner, as to the diligent efforts to place the coverage with authorized insurers and the results of such efforts. An affidavit filed under this subsection is subject to public inspection unless the commissioner determines that the public interest requires otherwise. The producing insurance producer shall state in the affidavit that he has expressly advised the insured prior to placing the insurance that:

(a) the surplus lines insurer with whom the insurance is placed is not authorized in this state and is not subject to the same supervision as an authorized insurer; and

(b) in the event of the insolvency of the surplus lines insurer, the property and casualty guaranty fund of the state will not pay losses under the surplus lines coverage.

History: En. Sec. 194, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3419; amd. Sec. 13, Ch. 537, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 7, Ch. 285, L. 1989; amd. Secs. 1, 2, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

33-2-311. Tax on surplus lines. There is imposed upon premiums collected for surplus lines insurance transacted in this state a tax at the same rate and computed in the same manner as provided in 33-2-705 as to premiums of authorized insurers, except that amounts collected from the insured specifically for applicable state and federal taxes, and in excess of the premium otherwise required, are not considered to be part of the premium for the purposes of such computation. Upon filing of the annual statement referred to in 33-2-310(2), the surplus lines insurance producer shall pay to the commissioner the amount of tax owing as to surplus lines insurance business transacted by him during the preceding calendar year. If a surplus lines insurance policy covers risks or exposures only partially in this state, the tax payable must be computed upon the proportion of the premium which is properly allocable to the risks or exposures located in this state.

33-2-312. Penalty for failure to file statement, pay tax, or pay stamping fee. (1) A surplus lines insurance producer who fails to make and file the annual statement as required under 33-2-310 or to pay the taxes as required under 33-2-311 is liable to a penalty of $25 for each day of delinquency, commencing with April 1. The tax and penalty may be recovered in an action instituted by the commissioner in the name of the state in any court of competent jurisdiction, the attorney general representing the commissioner. The penalty when collected, unless collected by a justice's court, must be paid to the state treasurer and placed to the credit of the general fund. The surplus lines insurance producer's license is also subject to revocation as provided in 33-2-313.

(2) If a surplus lines insurance producer does not pay the stamping fee provided for in 33-2-321, the commissioner or the surplus lines advisory organization formed pursuant to 33-2-321 may impose a penalty of 25% of the stamping fee due plus 1.5% a month from the time of delinquency until the stamping fee is paid.

(a) if the insurance producer fails to file an annual statement or to remit the tax as required by law;

(b) if the insurance producer fails to keep the records or to allow the commissioner to examine the records, as required by law;

(c) if the insurance producer falsifies the affidavit required by 33-2-310(3);

(d) if the insurance producer closes the surplus lines insurance producer office for a period of more than 30 business days, unless the commissioner grants permission otherwise;

(e) if the insurance producer violates any provision of this part; or

(f) for any of the causes for which an insurance producer's license may be revoked.

(2) The procedures provided by 33-17-1001 for the suspension, revocation, or refusal to license or renew a license or for imposing a fine on an insurance producer or applicant apply to the suspension, revocation, or refusal to license or renew a license or to imposing a fine on a surplus lines insurance producer or applicant.

(3) An insurance producer whose license has been revoked or suspended may not again be licensed within 1 year after revocation or suspension or until the insurance producer pays all penalties and delinquent taxes that are owed.

33-2-315. Commissioner appointed process agent — service of process. (1) Every surplus lines insurer before transacting surplus lines insurance under this part shall in writing appoint the commissioner as its true and lawful attorney upon whom legal process in any action or proceeding against it in this state shall be served and in such writing shall agree that any such process served upon such attorney shall be of the same legal force and validity as if served in this state upon such insurer and that such authority shall continue in force so long as any liability remains outstanding against it in this state. At the time of filing such appointment, the insurer shall also file designation of the name and address of the person to whom process against it served upon the commissioner is to be forwarded. The insurer may change such designation by a new filing.

(2) Service upon such an insurer must be made upon the commissioner and in accordance with the procedures, requirements, and results as provided under 33-1-603.

33-2-317. Exemptions. The Surplus Lines Insurance Law does not apply to reinsurance or to the following kinds of insurance when placed by a licensed insurance producer of this state:

(1) wet marine insurance;

(2) insurance on subjects located, residing, or to be performed wholly outside of this state or on vehicles or aircraft owned and principally garaged outside this state;

(3) insurance on property or operations of railroads engaged in interstate commerce; and

(4) insurance of aircraft owned or operated by manufacturers of aircraft or aircraft operated in scheduled interstate flight or cargo of the aircraft or against liability, other than workers' compensation and employers' liability, arising out of the ownership, maintenance, or use of the aircraft.

33-2-318 through 33-2-320 reserved.

33-2-321. Surplus lines advisory organizations — examination by commissioner — stamping fee. (1) A surplus lines advisory organization of surplus lines insurance producers may be formed to:

(a) facilitate and encourage compliance by its members with the laws of this state and the rules of the commissioner relative to surplus lines insurance;

(b) provide means for the confidential examination of all surplus lines insurance written by its members to determine whether the surplus lines insurance complies with this part;

(c) communicate with organizations of authorized insurers with respect to the proper use of the surplus lines insurance market; and

(d) receive and disseminate to its members information relative to surplus lines insurance.

(2) The surplus lines advisory organization shall file with the commissioner:

(a) a copy of its constitution, its articles of agreement or association, or its certificate of incorporation;

(b) a copy of its bylaws, rules, and regulations governing its activities;

(c) a current list of its members;

(d) the name and address of a resident of this state upon whom notices or orders of the commissioner or processes issued at the commissioner's direction may be served; and

(e) an agreement that the commissioner may examine the advisory organization under the provisions of subsection (3).

(3) The commissioner may make or cause to be made an examination of the surplus lines advisory organization. The surplus lines advisory organization shall pay the reasonable cost of an examination upon presentation to it by the commissioner of a detailed account of the cost. The officers, managers, insurance producers, and employees of the surplus lines advisory organization may be examined at any time, under oath, and shall exhibit all books, records, accounts, documents, or agreements governing its method of operation. The commissioner shall furnish two copies of the examination report to the examined surplus lines advisory organization and shall notify the surplus lines advisory organization that it may, within 20 days of receipt of the report, request a hearing on the report or on any facts or recommendations contained in it. If the commissioner finds the surplus lines advisory organization or any of its members to be in violation of this part, the commissioner may issue an order requiring the discontinuance of the violation.

(4) The commissioner may by order compel a surplus lines insurance producer to join the surplus lines advisory organization as a condition of continued licensure under this part.

(5) (a) If a surplus lines advisory organization is performing functions as provided in subsection (1), it may collect a stamping fee not to exceed 1% of the premium payable for surplus lines insurance transacted by its members in this state. The commissioner shall establish the stamping fee by rule. The surplus lines advisory organization shall use the stamping fees it collects to pay its expenses in connection with performing the functions set forth in subsection (1).

(b) If a surplus lines advisory organization is not operating as set forth in this section, the stamping fee may be collected by the commissioner and placed in a state special revenue account for the expenses of regulating surplus lines.

Part 4 reserved

Part 5
Assets and Liabilities — Reserves

33-2-501. Assets allowed. In any determination of the financial condition of an insurer, there must be allowed as assets only assets that are owned by the insurer and that consist of:

(1) cash in the possession of the insurer or in transit under its control and including the true balance of any deposit in a solvent bank or trust company;

(2) investments, securities, properties, and loans acquired or held in accordance with this code and in connection therewith the following items:

(a) interest due or accrued on any bond or evidence of indebtedness which is not in default and which is not valued on a basis including accrued interest;

(b) declared and unpaid dividends on stock and shares unless the amount has otherwise been allowed as an asset;

(c) interest due or accrued upon a collateral loan in an amount not to exceed 1 year's interest on the loan;

(d) interest due or accrued on deposits in solvent banks and trust companies and interest due or accrued on other assets, if the interest is in the judgment of the commissioner a collectible asset;

(e) interest due or accrued on a mortgage loan in an amount not exceeding in any event the amount, if any, of the excess of the value of the property less delinquent taxes on the property over the unpaid principal. Interest accrued for a period in excess of 18 months may not be allowed as an asset.

(f) rent due or accrued on real property if the rent is not in arrears for more than 3 months and rent more than 3 months in arrears if the payment of the rent is adequately secured by property held in the name of the tenant and conveyed to the insurer as collateral;

(g) the unaccrued portion of taxes paid prior to the due date on real property;

(3) premium notes, policy loans, and other policy assets and liens on policies and certificates of life insurance and annuity contracts and accrued interest, in an amount not exceeding the legal reserve and other policy liabilities carried on each individual policy;

(4) the net amount of uncollected and deferred premiums and annuity considerations in the case of a life insurer;

(5) premiums in the course of collection, other than for life insurance, not more than 3 months past due, less commissions payable on the premiums. The limitation in this subsection does not apply to premiums payable directly or indirectly by the United States government or by any of its instrumentalities.

(6) installment premiums other than life insurance premiums to the extent of the unearned premium reserve carried on the policy to which premiums apply;

(7) notes and like written obligations not past due, taken for premiums other than life insurance premiums, on policies permitted to be issued on that basis, to the extent of the unearned premium reserves carried on the policies;

(8) the full amount of reinsurance recoverable by a ceding insurer from a solvent reinsurer and which reinsurance is authorized under chapter 2, part 12;

(9) amounts receivable by an assuming insurer representing funds withheld by a solvent ceding insurer under a reinsurance treaty;

(10) deposits or equities recoverable from underwriting associations, syndicates, and reinsurance funds or from any suspended banking institution, to the extent considered by the commissioner available for the payment of losses and claims and at values to be determined by the commissioner;

(11) electronic data processing equipment if the cost of the equipment is amortized in full over a period of not to exceed 8 calendar years. However, the amount of the asset allowed may not exceed 1% of the total of the other allowable assets of the insurer.

(12) all assets, whether or not consistent with the provisions of this section, as may be allowed pursuant to the annual statement form approved by the commissioner for the kinds of insurance to be reported upon in the annual statement;

(13) other assets, not inconsistent with the provisions of this section, considered by the commissioner to be available for the payment of losses and claims, at values to be determined by the commissioner.

33-2-502. Assets expressly not allowed. In addition to assets impliedly excluded by the provisions of 33-2-501, the following expressly may not be allowed as assets in any determination of the financial condition of an insurer:

(1) goodwill, trade names, and other like intangible assets;

(2) advances to officers, other than policy loans, whether secured or not, and advances to employees, insurance producers, and other persons on personal security only;

(3) stock issued and owned by the insurer, any equity in the stock issued by the insurer, loans secured by the stock issued by the insurer, or any proportionate interest in the stock acquired or held through the ownership by the insurer of an interest in another firm, corporation, or business unit;

(4) furniture, fixtures (other than electronic data processing machines authorized under 33-2-501(11)), furnishings, safes, vehicles, libraries, stationery, literature, and supplies, except:

(a) in the case of title insurers, materials and plants that the insurer is expressly authorized to invest in under 33-25-211; and

(b) in the case of any insurer, personal property that the insurer is permitted to hold pursuant to chapter 12, that is acquired through foreclosure of chattel mortgages acquired pursuant to 33-12-207 or 33-12-307, or that is reasonably necessary for the maintenance and operation of real estate lawfully acquired and held by the insurer other than real estate used by it for home office, branch office, and similar purposes;

(5) the amount, if any, by which the aggregate book value of investments as carried in the ledger assets of the insurer exceeds the aggregate value of the investments as determined under this title; and

(6) prepaid expenses.

33-2-503. Treatment of assets. Assets may be allowed as deductions from corresponding liabilities, and liabilities may be charged as deductions from assets, and deductions from assets may be charged as liabilities, in accordance with the form of annual statement applicable to the insurer as prescribed by the commissioner, or otherwise in his discretion.

History: En. Sec. 83, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3002.

33-2-504 through 33-2-510 reserved.

33-2-511. Liabilities chargeable against assets. In any determination of the financial condition of an insurer, capital stock and liabilities to be charged against its assets shall include:

(1) the amount of its capital stock outstanding, if any;

(2) the amount, estimated consistent with the provisions of this code, necessary to pay all of its unpaid losses and claims incurred on or prior to the date of statement, whether reported or unreported, together with the expenses of adjustment or settlement thereof;

(3) with reference to life and disability insurance and annuity contracts:

(a) the amount of reserves on life insurance policies and annuity contracts in force, valued according to the tables of mortality, rates of interest, and methods adopted pursuant to this code which are applicable thereto;

(b) reserves for disability benefits, for both active and disabled lives;

(c) reserves for accidental death benefits;

(d) any additional reserves which may be required by the commissioner, consistent with practice formulated or approved by the national association of insurance commissioners, on account of such insurance;

(4) with reference to insurance other than specified in subsection (3) of this section and other than title insurance, the amount of reserves equal to the unearned portions of the gross premiums charged on policies in force, computed in accordance with this part;

(5) taxes, expenses, and other obligations due or accrued at the date of the statement.

History: En. Sec. 85, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3004.

33-2-512. Unearned premium reserve for property, casualty, and surety. (1) As to insurance against loss or damage to property, except as provided in 33-2-513, and as to all general casualty insurance and surety insurance, every insurer shall maintain an unearned premium reserve on all policies in force.

(2) The commissioner may require that such reserves shall be equal to the unearned portions of the gross premiums in force after deducting applicable reinsurance in solvent insurers as computed on each respective risk from the policy's date of issue. If the commissioner does not so require, the portions of the gross premium in force, less applicable reinsurance in solvent insurers, to be held as an unearned premium reserve, shall be computed according to the following table:

Term for Which Policy Was Written	Reserve for Unearned Premium
1 year or less	1/2
2 years	1st year 3/4 2nd year 1/4
3 years	1st year 5/6 2nd year 1/2 3rd year 1/6
4 years	1st year 7/8 2nd year 5/8 3rd year 3/8 4th year 1/8
5 years	1st year 9/10 2nd year 7/10 3rd year 1/2 4th year 3/10 5th year 1/10
Over 5 years	pro rata

(3) In lieu of computation according to the foregoing table, the insurer at its option may compute all of such reserves on a monthly or more frequent pro rata basis.

(4) After adopting a method for computing such reserve, an insurer shall not change methods without approval of the commissioner.

(5) This section does not apply to title insurance.

History: En. Sec. 86, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3005.

33-2-513. Unearned premium reserve for marine and transportation insurance. As to marine and transportation insurance, the entire amount of premiums on trip risks not terminated shall be deemed unearned and the commissioner may require the insurer to carry a reserve equal to 100% of premiums on trip risks written during the month ended as of the date of statement.

History: En. Sec. 87, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3006.

33-2-514. Reserve for disability insurance. (1) For all disability insurance policies, the insurer shall maintain an active life reserve that places a sound value on its liabilities under the policies and that may not be less than the pro rata gross unearned premiums for the policies.

(2) The commissioner may promulgate rules to define additional standards for reserve requirements.

History: En. Sec. 88, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3007; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 531, L. 1997.

33-2-516. Inadequate reserves — increase required. If loss experience shows that an insurer's loss reserves, however computed or estimated, are inadequate, the commissioner shall require the insurer to maintain loss reserves in such increased amount as is needed to make them adequate.

History: En. Sec. 90, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3009.

33-2-517. Title insurance reserves. (1) In addition to an adequate reserve as to outstanding losses as required under 33-2-511, a title insurer shall maintain a guaranty fund or unearned premium reserve of not less than an amount computed as follows:

(a) Ten percent of the total amount of the risk premiums written in the calendar year for title insurance contracts must be assigned originally to the reserve.

(b) During each of the 20 years next following the year in which the title insurance contract was issued, the reserve applicable to the contract must be reduced by 5% of the original amount of the reserve.

(2) The reserve sums required by subsection (1) for unearned premiums on contracts of title insurance must at all times and for all purposes be considered and constitute unearned portions of the original premiums and must be held in trust for the benefit of policyholders.

(3) The reduction of the unearned premium reserve required by subsection (1)(b) must be made for all title insurance contracts issued after December 31, 1958, with respect to which 10% of the risk premiums have been assigned to the reserve pursuant to subsection (1)(a). If the insurer has not reduced the amount of its unearned premium reserves pursuant to subsection (1)(b) for a previous year or years, the insurer shall make the reduction for the prior year or years in its next accounting year.

Title insurance — general provisions, Title 33, ch. 25.

33-2-518. Loss and loss expense reserves for property and casualty insurance. (1) (a) In determining the financial condition of a property and casualty insurer for the purpose of applying the provisions of this chapter and in any financial statement or report of an insurer, loss reserves and loss expense reserves at least equal to the amounts required under the provisions of this section must be included in the insurer's liabilities. The date from which the determination, statement, or report is made is, for the purpose of this part, the date of determination.

(b) Accepted actuarial standards as adopted by the actuarial standards board must be taken into consideration for the purpose of determining the loss reserves and loss expense reserves.

(2) Except as provided in subsections (3) and (4), the reserves for all outstanding losses and loss expenses must include the following:

(a) the aggregate estimated amounts due or to become due on account of all known losses, claims, and loss expenses incurred but not paid, including the estimated liability on any notice received by the insurer of the occurrence of any event that may result in a loss; and

(b) the aggregate amounts of liability for all losses and loss expenses incurred for which notice has not been received, estimated in accordance with the insurer's prior experience, if any, or otherwise in accordance with Montana industry experience, or countrywide industry experience if this state's experience is not credible, for similar contracts of insurance. The estimated liabilities for losses under all bonds, policies, or contracts of fidelity insurance may not be less than 10% of the net premiums in force, and the estimated liabilities for all of those losses under all the insurer's surety contracts may not be less than 5% of the net premiums in force.

(3) Except as provided in subsection (4), tabular reserves for outstanding losses under policies of workers' compensation insurance may be actuarially calculated for both indemnity and medical payments. The loss adjustment expenses are not eligible for discounting. Tabular reserves are those reserves that are:

(a) calculated using discounts determined with reference to actuarial tables, which incorporate mortality, interest, not to exceed 4%, remarriage, and other contingencies applied to a reasonably determinable payment stream associated with lifetime benefit cases; or

(b) annuities certain, such as those arising from structured settlements.

(4) Whenever, in the judgment of the commissioner, the loss and loss expense reserves of any property and casualty insurer doing business in this state, calculated in accordance with the provisions of this section, are inadequate or excessive, the commissioner may prescribe any other method that will produce adequate and reasonable reserves.

(5) The excess, if any, of statutory reserves over statement reserves must be calculated in accordance with the annual statement instructions adopted by the national association of insurance commissioners.

History: En. Sec. 43, Ch. 531, L. 1997.

33-2-521. Standard valuation of reserve liabilities law — life insurance. (1) The commissioner shall annually value or cause to be valued the reserve liabilities (reserves) for all outstanding life insurance policies and annuity and pure endowment contracts of every life insurer doing business in this state and may certify the amount of any reserves, specifying the mortality table or tables, rate or rates of interest, and methods (net level premium method or other) used in the calculation of reserves. In calculating the reserves, the commissioner may use group methods and approximate averages for fractions of a year or otherwise.

(2) In lieu of the valuation of the reserves required in this section of any foreign or alien insurer, the commissioner may accept any valuation made or caused to be made by the insurance supervisory official of any state or other jurisdiction when the valuation complies with the minimum standard provided in this section and if the official of the other state or jurisdiction accepts as sufficient and valid for all legal purposes the certificate of valuation of the commissioner when the certificate states the valuation to have been made in a specified manner according to which the aggregate reserves would be at least as large as if they had been computed in the manner prescribed by the law of that state or jurisdiction.

(3) Any insurer that has adopted any standard of valuation producing greater aggregate reserves than those calculated according to the minimum standard provided in this section may, with the approval of the commissioner, adopt any lower standard of valuation but not lower than the minimum in this section. For the purposes of this section, the holding of additional reserves previously determined by a qualified actuary to be necessary to render the opinion required in subsection (4) may not be considered to be the adoption of a higher standard of valuation.

(4) (a) Each life insurer doing business in this state shall annually submit the opinion of a qualified actuary as to whether the reserves and related actuarial items held in support of the policies and contracts specified by the commissioner by rule are computed appropriately, are based on assumptions that satisfy contractual provisions, are consistent with prior reported amounts, and comply with applicable laws of this state. The commissioner by rule shall define the specifics of this opinion and add any other items considered necessary to its scope.

(b) Each life insurer, except as exempted by or pursuant to regulation, shall also annually include in the opinion required by subsection (4)(a) an opinion of the same qualified actuary as to whether the reserves and related actuarial items held in support of the policies and contracts specified by the commissioner by rule, when considered in light of the assets held by the insurer with respect to the reserves and related actuarial items, including but not limited to the investment earnings on the assets and the considerations anticipated to be received and retained under the policies and contracts, make adequate provision for the insurer's obligations under the policies and contracts, including but not limited to the benefits under and expenses associated with the policies and contracts.

(c) The commissioner may provide by rule for a transition period for establishing any higher reserves that the qualified actuary may consider necessary in order to render the opinion required by this subsection (4).

(d) Each opinion required by this subsection (4) must be governed by the following provisions:

(i) A memorandum, in form and substance acceptable to the commissioner as specified by rule, must be prepared to support each actuarial opinion.

(ii) If the insurer fails to provide a supporting memorandum at the request of the commissioner within a period specified by rule or if the commissioner determines that the supporting memorandum provided by the insurer fails to meet the standards prescribed by the rules or is otherwise unacceptable to the commissioner, the commissioner may engage a qualified actuary at the expense of the insurer to review the opinion and the basis for the opinion and to prepare any supporting memorandum as is required by the commissioner.

(iii) The opinion must be submitted with the annual statement reflecting the valuation of the reserve liabilities for each year ending on or after December 31, 1996.

(iv) The opinion must apply to all business in force, including individual and group health insurance plans, in form and substance acceptable to the commissioner as specified by rule.

(v) The opinion must be based on standards adopted from time to time by the actuarial standards board and on additional standards as the commissioner may prescribe by rule.

(vi) In the case of an opinion required to be submitted by a foreign or alien insurer, the commissioner may accept the opinion filed by that insurer with the insurance supervisory official of another state if the commissioner determines that the opinion reasonably meets the requirements applicable to a company domiciled in this state.

(vii) Except in cases of fraud or willful misconduct, the qualified actuary is not liable for damages to any person, other than the insurer and the commissioner, for any act, error, omission, decision, or conduct with respect to the actuary's opinion.

(viii) Disciplinary action by the commissioner against the insurer or the qualified actuary must be defined in rules by the commissioner.

(ix) Any memorandum in support of the opinion and any other material provided by the insurer to the commissioner in connection with those items must be kept confidential by the commissioner, may not be made public, and is not subject to subpoena, other than for the purpose of defending an action seeking damages from any person by reason of any action required by this subsection (4) or by rules promulgated under this subsection (4). However, the memorandum or other material may otherwise be released by the commissioner:

(A) with the written consent of the insurer; or

(B) to the American academy of actuaries upon request stating that the memorandum or other material is required for the purpose of professional disciplinary proceedings and setting forth procedures satisfactory to the commissioner for preserving the confidentiality of the memorandum or other material. Once any portion of the confidential memorandum is cited by the insurer in its marketing, is cited before any governmental agency other than a state insurance department, or is released by the insurer to the news media, all portions of the confidential memorandum are no longer confidential.

(5) For purposes of this section, "qualified actuary" means a member in good standing of the American academy of actuaries who meets the requirements set forth in the academy's rules.

33-2-522. Contracts prior to the operative date of 33-20-213 — valuation. (1) This section shall apply to only those policies and contracts issued prior to the operative date of 33-20-213.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in 33-2-524 for group annuity and pure endowment contracts, the minimum standard of valuation on all policies of domestic life insurers issued prior to January 1, 1922, shall be the American experience table of mortality and interest at 3 ½% per annum, with preliminary term insurance for the first policy year, and for policies of such insurers issued subsequent to December 31, 1921, shall be the American experience table of mortality with interest at 3 ½% per annum, with preliminary term insurance for the first policy year, except as follows: If the premium charged for term insurance under a limited payment life preliminary term policy providing for the payment of all premiums thereon in less than 20 years from the date of the policy or under an endowment preliminary term policy exceeds that charged for life insurance under 20-payment life preliminary term policies of the same insurer, the reserve thereon at the end of any year, including the first, shall not be less than the reserve on a

20-payment life preliminary term policy issued in the same year and at the same age, together with an amount which shall be equivalent to the accumulation of a net level premium reserve sufficient to provide for a pure endowment at the end of the premium payment period equal to the difference between the value at the end of such period of such a 20-payment life preliminary term policy and the full net level premium reserve at such time of such a limited payment life or endowment policy.

(3) Reserves for all such policies and contracts may be calculated, at the option of the insurer, according to any standards which produce greater aggregate reserves for all such policies and contracts than the minimum reserves required by this section.

33-2-523. Contracts on or after operative date of 33-20-213 — valuation. (1) This section applies to only those policies and contracts issued on or after the operative date of 33-20-213, except as otherwise provided in 33-2-524 for group annuity and pure endowment contracts issued prior to that date.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in 33-2-524, 33-2-525, and 33-2-537(2), the minimum standard for the valuation of all the policies and contracts issued prior to October 1, 1995, is the standard provided by the laws in effect prior to October 1, 1995. Except as otherwise provided in 33-2-524, 33-2-525, and 33-2-537(2), the minimum standard for the valuation of all policies and contracts is the commissioner's reserve valuation methods defined in 33-2-525, 33-2-526(3) and (4), and 33-2-537, 5% interest for group annuity and pure endowment contracts, and 3 ½% interest for all other policies and contracts or, in the case of life insurance policies and contracts other than annuity and pure endowment contracts issued on or after March 17, 1973, 4% interest for all other policies issued prior to July 1, 1979, 5 ½% interest for single-premium life insurance policies, and 4 ½% interest for all other policies issued on or after July 1, 1979, and the following tables:

(a) for all ordinary policies of life insurance issued on the standard basis, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in the policies:

(i) the 1941 commissioners standard ordinary mortality table for policies issued prior to the operative date of 33-20-206, as amended, and the 1958 commissioners standard ordinary mortality table for policies issued on or after that operative date but prior to January 1, 1989, except that for any category of the policies issued on female risks, modified net premiums and present values, referred to in 33-2-525 and 33-2-526, may be calculated, at the option of the insurer, with the approval of the commissioner, according to an age younger than the actual age of the insured;

(ii) for policies issued on or after January 1, 1989:

(A) the 1980 commissioners standard ordinary mortality table;

(B) at the election of the insurer for any one or more specified policies of life insurance, the 1980 commissioners standard ordinary mortality table with 10-year select mortality factors; or

(C) any ordinary mortality table adopted after 2001 by the national association of insurance commissioners that is approved by the commissioner by rule for use in determining the minimum standard of valuation for policies;

(iii) for policies issued on or after January 1, 2005, and before January 1, 2009, at the election of the insurer for any one or more specified policies of life insurance, the 2001 commissioners standard ordinary mortality table; or

(iv) for policies issued on or after January 1, 2009, the 2001 commissioners standard ordinary mortality table;

(b) for all industrial life insurance policies issued on the standard basis, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in the policies, the 1941 standard industrial mortality table for policies issued prior to the operative date of 33-20-207 and, for policies issued on or after that operative date, the 1961 commissioners standard industrial mortality table or any industrial mortality table adopted after 1980 by the national association of insurance commissioners that is approved by the commissioner by rule for use in determining the minimum standard of valuation for the policies;

(c) for individual annuity and pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in the policies, the 1937 standard annuity mortality table or, at the option of the insurer, the annuity mortality table for 1949, ultimate, or any modification of either of these tables approved by the commissioner;

(d) for group annuity and pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in the policies, the group annuity mortality table for 1951, any modification of the table approved by the commissioner, or, at the option of the insurer, any of the tables or modifications of tables specified for individual annuity and pure endowment contracts;

(e) (i) for total and permanent disability benefits in or supplementary to ordinary policies or contracts:

(A) for policies or contracts issued on or after January 1, 1966, the tables of period 2 disablement rates and the 1930 to 1950 termination rates of the 1952 disability study of the society of actuaries, with due regard to the type of benefit, or any tables of disablement rates and termination rates adopted after 1980 by the national association of insurance commissioners that are approved by the commissioner by rule for use in determining the minimum standard of valuation for the policies;

(B) for policies or contracts issued on or after January 1, 1961, and prior to January 1, 1966, either the tables or, at the option of the insurer, the class 3 disability table (1926); and

(C) for policies issued prior to January 1, 1961, the class 3 disability table (1926);

(ii) any table must, for active lives, be combined with a mortality table permitted for calculating the reserves for life insurance policies;

(f) (i) for accidental death benefits in or supplementary to policies:

(A) for policies issued on or after January 1, 1966, the 1959 accidental death benefits table or any accidental death benefits table adopted after 1980 by the national association of insurance commissioners that is approved by the commissioner by rule for use in determining the minimum standard of valuation for the policies;

(B) for policies issued on or after January 1, 1961, and prior to January 1, 1966, a table referenced in subsection (2)(f)(i)(A) or, at the option of the insurer, the intercompany double indemnity mortality table; and

(C) for policies issued prior to January 1, 1961, the intercompany double indemnity mortality table;

(ii) either table must be combined with a mortality table permitted for calculating the reserves for life insurance policies;

(g) for group life insurance, life insurance issued on the substandard basis, and other special benefits, the tables approved by the commissioner.

Compiler's Comments

2005 Amendment: Chapter 469 in (2)(a)(ii)(B) at beginning after "election of the" substituted "insurer" for "company" and after "specified" substituted "policies" for "plans"; in (2)(a)(ii)(C) after "after" substituted "2001" for "1980"; inserted (2)(a)(iii) establishing the standard for policies issued on or after January 1, 2005, and before January 1, 2009; inserted (2)(a)(iv) establishing the standard for policies issued after January 1, 2009; in (2)(f)(i)(B) after "1966" substituted "a table referenced in subsection (2)(f)(i)(A)" for "either such table"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective April 28, 2005.

Retroactive Applicability: Section 42, Ch. 469, L. 2005, provided: "[Section 4] [33-2-523] applies retroactively, within the meaning of 1-2-109, to January 1, 2005."

33-2-524. Individual and group annuity and pure endowment contracts — valuation. (1) Except as provided in 33-2-527, the minimum standard for the valuation of all individual annuity and pure endowment contracts issued on or after the operative date of this section, as defined herein, and for all annuities and pure endowments purchased on or after that operative date under group annuity and pure endowment contracts is the commissioner's reserve valuation methods defined in 33-2-525 and the following tables and interest rates:

(a) for individual annuity and pure endowment contracts issued prior to July 1, 1979, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such contracts, the 1971 individual annuity mortality table or any modification of this table approved by the commissioner and 6% interest for single-premium immediate annuity contracts and 4% interest for all other individual annuity and pure endowment contracts;

(b) for individual single-premium immediate annuity contracts issued on or after July 1, 1979, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such contracts, the 1971 individual annuity mortality table or any individual annuity mortality table adopted after 1980 by the national association of insurance commissioners that is approved by the commissioner by rule for use in determining the minimum standard of valuation for such contracts or any modification of such tables approved by the commissioner and 7 ½% interest;

(c) for individual annuity and pure endowment contracts issued on or after July 1, 1979, other than single-premium immediate annuity contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such contracts, the 1971 individual annuity mortality table or any individual annuity mortality table adopted after 1980 by the national association of insurance commissioners that is approved by the commissioner by rule for use in determining the minimum standard of valuation for such contracts or any modification of such tables approved by the commissioner and 5 ½% interest for single-premium deferred annuity and pure endowment contracts and 4 ½% interest for all other such individual annuity and pure endowment contracts;

(d) for all annuities and pure endowments purchased prior to July 1, 1979, under group annuity and pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits purchased under such contracts, the 1971 group annuity mortality table or any modification of the table approved by the commissioner and 6% interest;

(e) for all annuities and pure endowments purchased on or after July 1, 1979, under group annuity and pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits purchased under such contracts, the 1971 group annuity mortality table or any group annuity mortality table adopted after 1980 by the national association of insurance commissioners that is approved by the commissioner by rule for use in determining the minimum standard of valuation for such annuities and pure endowments or any modification of such tables approved by the commissioner and 7 ½% interest.

(2) After March 17, 1973, any insurer may file with the commissioner a written notice of its election to comply with the provisions of subsection (1) after a specified date before January 1, 1979, which shall be the operative date of subsection (1) for such insurer. An insurer may elect a different operative date for individual annuity and pure endowment contracts from that elected for group annuity and pure endowment contracts. If an insurer makes no such election, the operative date of this section for such insurer shall be January 1, 1979.

33-2-525. Commissioner's reserve valuation method. (1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4) of this section, 33-2-526(3) and (4), and 33-2-537(2), reserves according to the commissioner's reserve valuation method, for the life insurance and endowment benefits of policies providing for a uniform amount of insurance and requiring the payment of uniform premiums, must be the excess, if any, of the present value, at the date of valuation, of future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policies, over the then present value of any future modified net premiums. The modified net premiums for any policy must be the uniform percentage of the respective contract premiums for the benefits that the present value, at the date of issue of the policy, of all modified net premiums must be equal to the sum of the then present value of the benefits provided for by the policy and the excess of subsection (1)(a) over subsection (1)(b), as follows:

(a) a net level annual premium equal to the present value, at the date of issue, of benefits provided for after the first policy year, divided by the present value, at the date of issue of an annuity of one per annum payable on the first and each subsequent anniversary of the policy on which a premium falls due. However, the net level annual premium may not exceed the net level annual premium on the 19-year premium whole life plan for insurance of the same amount at an age 1 year higher than the age at issue of the policy.

(b) a net 1-year term premium for benefits provided for in the first policy year.

(2) (a) For each life insurance policy issued on or after January 1, 1987, for which the contract premium in the first policy year exceeds that of the second year, for which a comparable additional benefit is not provided in the first year for the excess, and that provides an endowment benefit, a cash surrender value, or a combination of both in an amount greater than the excess premium, the reserve according to the commissioner's reserve valuation method, as of any policy anniversary occurring on or before the assumed ending date as the first policy anniversary on which the sum of any endowment benefit and any cash surrender value then available is greater than the excess premium, is, except as otherwise provided in 33-2-526, the greater of the reserve as of the policy anniversary calculated as described in subsection (1) or the reserve as of the policy anniversary calculated as described in subsection (1) with the following exceptions:

(i) the value defined in subsection (1)(a) is reduced by 15% of the amount of the excess first-year premium;

(ii) all present values of benefits and premiums are determined without reference to premiums or benefits provided for in the policy after the assumed ending date;

(iii) the policy is assumed to mature on the assumed ending date as an endowment; and

(iv) the cash surrender value provided on the assumed ending date is considered an endowment benefit.

(b) In making the comparisons in subsection (2)(a), the mortality and interest bases stated in 33-2-523 and 33-2-527 must be used.

(3) Reserves according to the commissioner's reserve valuation method for the following must be calculated by a method consistent with the principles of this section, except that any extra premiums charged because of impairments or special hazards must be disregarded in the determination of modified net premiums:

(a) life insurance policies providing for a varying amount of insurance or requiring the payment of varying premiums;

(b) group annuity and pure endowment contracts purchased under a retirement plan or plan of deferred compensation, established or maintained by an employer, including a partnership or sole proprietorship, or by an employee organization, or by both, other than a plan providing individual retirement accounts or individual retirement annuities under section 408 of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended;

(c) disability and accidental death benefits in all policies and contracts; and

(d) all other benefits, except life insurance and endowment benefits in life insurance policies and benefits provided by all other annuity and pure endowment contracts.

(4) (a) Subsection (4)(b) applies to any annuity and pure endowment contracts other than group annuity and pure endowment contracts purchased under a retirement plan or plan of deferred compensation established or maintained by an employer, including a partnership or sole proprietorship, or by an employee organization, or by both, other than a plan providing individual retirement accounts or individual retirement annuities under section 408 of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended.

(b) Reserves according to the commissioner's annuity reserve method for benefits under annuity or pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in the contracts, must be the greatest of the respective excesses of the present values, at the date of valuation, of the future guaranteed benefits, including guaranteed nonforfeiture benefits, provided for by the contracts at the end of each respective contract year, over the present value, at the date of valuation, of any future valuation considerations derived from future gross considerations required by the terms of the contract that become payable prior to the end of the respective contract year. The future guaranteed benefits must be determined by using the mortality table, if any, and the interest rate or rates specified in the contracts for determining guaranteed benefits. The valuation considerations are the portions of the respective gross considerations applied under the terms of the contracts to determine nonforfeiture values.

33-2-526. Limits — options — minimum reserves. (1) An insurer's aggregate reserves for all life insurance policies, excluding disability and accidental death benefits issued on or after October 1, 1995, may not be less than the aggregate reserves calculated in accordance with the methods set forth in 33-2-525, 33-2-537(2), subsection (3) of this section, and the mortality table or tables and rate or rates of interest used in calculating nonforfeiture benefits for the policies.

(2) Reserves for all policies and contracts issued prior to October 1, 1995, may be calculated, at the option of the insurer, according to standards that produce greater aggregate reserves for those policies and contracts than the minimum reserves required by the laws in effect immediately prior to October 1, 1995. Reserves for any category of policies, contracts, or benefits as established by the commissioner, issued on or after October 1, 1995, may be calculated at the option of the insurer according to any standards which produce greater aggregate reserves for a category than those calculated according to the minimum standard provided in this section, but the rate or rates of interest used for policies and contracts, other than annuity and pure endowment contracts, may not be higher than the corresponding rate or rates of interest used in calculating any nonforfeiture benefits provided for a category.

(3) If in any contract year the gross premium charged by any life insurer on any policy or contract is less than the valuation net premium for the policy or contract calculated by the method used in calculating the reserve on the policy or contract but using the minimum valuation standards of mortality and rate of interest, the minimum reserve required for the policy or contract must be the greater of either the reserve calculated according to the mortality table, rate of interest, and method actually used for the policy or contract or the reserve calculated by the method actually used for the policy or contract but using the minimum standards of mortality and rate of interest and replacing the valuation net premium by the actual gross premium in each contract year for which the valuation net premium exceeds the actual gross premium. The minimum valuation standards of mortality and rate of interest referred to in this section are those standards stated in 33-2-524 and 33-2-527.

(4) For every life insurance policy issued after December 30, 1986, for which the gross premium in the first policy year exceeds that of the second year, for which a comparable additional benefit is not provided in the first year for an excess, and that provides an endowment benefit, a cash surrender value, or a combination of both in an amount greater than the excess premium, subsections (1) through (3) of this section must be applied as if the method actually used in calculating the reserve for the policy were the method described in 33-2-525(1). The minimum reserve at each policy anniversary of the policy must be the greater of the minimum reserve calculated in accordance with 33-2-525 and the minimum reserve calculated in accordance with this section.

33-2-527. Interest rates — determination of minimum standard valuation. (1) The calendar year statutory valuation interest rates as established in this section must be used in determining the minimum standard for the valuation of:

(a) all life insurance policies issued in a particular calendar year on or after January 1, 1989;

(b) all individual annuity and pure endowment contracts issued in a particular calendar year on or after January 1, 1984;

(c) all annuities and pure endowments purchased in a particular calendar year on or after January 1, 1984, under group annuity and pure endowment contracts; and

(d) the net increase, if any, in a particular calendar year after January 1, 1984, in amounts held under guaranteed interest contracts.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (3), the calendar year statutory valuation interest rates are determined as follows and the results rounded to the nearer 1/4 of 1%, when R_1 is the lesser of R and .09, R_2 is the greater of R and .09, R is the reference interest rate established in 33-2-529, and W is the weighting factor established in 33-2-528:

(a) for life insurance:

Interest rate = $.03 + W(R_1 - .03) + (W/2)(R_2 - .09)$;

(b) for single-premium immediate annuities and for annuity benefits involving life contingencies arising from other annuities with cash settlement options and from guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options:

Interest rate = .03 + W(R - .03);

(c) for other annuities with:

(i) cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options, valued on an issue year basis, except as stated in subsection (2)(b), the formula for life insurance stated in subsection (2)(a) applies to annuities and guaranteed interest contracts with guarantee durations in excess of 10 years and the formula for single-premium immediate annuities stated in subsection (2)(b) applies to annuities and guaranteed interest contracts with guarantee durations of 10 years or less;

(ii) no cash settlement options and for guaranteed interest contracts with no cash settlement options, the formula for single-premium immediate annuities stated in subsection (2)(b) applies; and

(iii) cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options valued on a change-in-fund basis, the formula for single-premium immediate annuities stated in subsection (2)(b) applies.

(3) If the calendar year statutory valuation interest rate for any life insurance policies issued in any calendar year differs from the corresponding actual rate for similar policies issued in the immediately preceding calendar year by less than 1/2 of 1%, the calendar year statutory valuation interest rate for such life insurance policies is equal to the corresponding actual rate for the immediately preceding calendar year. For purposes of this subsection, the calendar year statutory valuation interest rate for life insurance policies issued in a calendar year must be determined for 1980 (using the reference interest rate defined for 1979) and must be determined for each subsequent calendar year regardless of when 33-20-208 becomes operative.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 520, L. 1983.

33-2-528. Interest rate weighting factor. (1) The weighting factors referred to in the formulas stated in 33-2-527 are as follows:

(a) (i) for life insurance:

Guarantee Duration in Years	Weighting Factors
10 or less	.50
More than 10 but not more than 20	.45
More than 20	.35

(ii) for life insurance, the guarantee duration is the maximum number of years the life insurance can remain in force on a basis guaranteed in the policy or under options to convert to plans of life insurance with premium rates or nonforfeiture values, or both, that are guaranteed in the original policy;

(b) .80 for single premium immediate annuities and for annuity benefits involving life contingencies arising from other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options;

(c) for other annuities and for guaranteed interest contracts, except as stated in subsection (1)(b), according to the guarantee duration established in subsections (1)(c)(i) through (1)(c)(iii) and the rules and definitions established in subsections (2) through (4):

(i) for annuities and guaranteed interest contracts valued on an issue year basis:

Guarantee Duration in Years	Weighting Factor for Plan Type
	A	B	C
5 or less	.80	.60	.50
More than 5 but not more than 10	.75	.60	.50
More than 10 but not more than 20	.65	.50	.45
More than 20	.45	.35	.35

	Plan Type
(ii)	A	B	C
for annuities and guaranteed interest contracts valued on a change-in-fund basis, the factors shown in subsection (1)(c)(i) increased by:	.15	.25	.05

	Plan Type
(iii)	A	B	C
for annuities and guaranteed interest contracts valued on an issue year basis, other than those without cash settlement options, that do not guarantee interest on considerations received more than 1 year after issue or purchase and for annuities and guaranteed interest contracts valued on a change-in-fund basis that do not guarantee interest rates on considerations received more than 12 months beyond the valuation date, the factors set forth in subsection (1)(c)(i) or derived in subsection (1)(c)(ii) increased by:	.05	.05	.05

(2) For other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options, the guarantee duration is the number of years for which the contract guarantees interest rates in excess of the calendar year statutory valuation interest rate for life insurance policies with guarantee duration in excess of 20 years. For other annuities without cash settlement options and for guaranteed interest contracts without cash settlement options, the guarantee duration is the number of years from the date of issue or date of purchase to the date annuity benefits are scheduled to commence.

(3) Plan types used in subsection (1)(c) are:

(a) Plan Type A—No withdrawal is permitted or at any time policyholder may withdraw funds only:

(i) with an adjustment to reflect changes in interest rates or asset values since receipt of the funds by the insurance company;

(ii) without an adjustment but in installments over 5 years or more; or

(iii) as an immediate life annuity.

(b) Plan Type B—(i) Before expiration of the interest rate guarantee, no withdrawal is permitted or a policyholder may withdraw funds only:

(A) with an adjustment to reflect changes in interest rates or asset values since receipt of the funds by the insurance company;

(B) without an adjustment but in installments over 5 years or more.

(ii) At the end of the interest rate guarantee, funds may be withdrawn without an adjustment in a single sum or installments over less than 5 years.

(c) Plan Type C—A policyholder may withdraw funds before expiration of the interest rate guarantee in a single sum or installments over less than 5 years either:

(i) without adjustment to reflect changes in interest rates or asset values since receipt of the funds by the insurance company; or

(ii) subject only to a fixed surrender charge stipulated in the contract as a percentage of the fund.

(4) (a) An insurer may elect to value guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options and annuities with cash settlement options on either an issue year basis or on a change-in-fund basis. Guaranteed interest contracts without cash settlement options and other annuities without cash settlement options must be valued on an issue year basis.

(b) As used in subsection (4):

(i) issue year basis of valuation is a valuation basis under which the interest rate used to determine the minimum valuation standard for the entire duration of the annuity or guaranteed interest contract is the calendar year valuation interest rate for the year of issue or year of purchase of the annuity or guaranteed interest contract; and

(ii) change-in-fund basis of valuation is a valuation basis under which the interest rate used to determine the minimum valuation standard applicable to each change in the fund held under the annuity or guaranteed interest contract is the calendar year valuation interest rate for the year of the change in the fund.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 520, L. 1983; amd. Sec. 17, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-2-529. Reference interest rate. (1) The reference interest rate referred to in the formulas in 33-2-527 is:

(a) for all life insurance, the lesser of the average over a period of 36 months and the average over a period of 12 months, ending on June 30 of the calendar year next preceding the year of issue, of Moody's monthly average composite yield on seasoned corporate bonds;

(b) for single-premium immediate annuities and for annuity benefits involving life contingencies arising from other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options, the average over a period of 12 months, ending on June 30 of the calendar year of issue or purchase, of Moody's monthly average composite yield on seasoned corporate bonds;

(c) for other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options valued on a year-of-issue basis, except as stated in subsection (1)(b), with guarantee duration in excess of 10 years, the lesser of the average over a period of 36 months and the average over a period of 12 months, ending on June 30 of the calendar year of issue or purchase, of Moody's monthly average composite yield on seasoned corporate bonds;

(d) for other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options valued on a year-of-issue basis, except as stated in subsection (1)(b), with guarantee duration of 10 years or less, the average over a period of 12 months, ending on June 30 of the calendar year of issue or purchase, of Moody's monthly average composite yield on seasoned corporate bonds;

(e) for other annuities without cash settlement options and for guaranteed interest contracts without cash settlement options, the average over a period of 12 months, ending on June 30 of the calendar year of issue or purchase, of Moody's monthly average composite yield on seasoned corporate bonds; or

(f) for other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options valued on a change-in-fund basis, except as stated in subsection (1)(b), the average over a period of 12 months, ending on June 30 of the calendar year of the change in the fund, of Moody's monthly average composite yield on seasoned corporate bonds.

(2) If Moody's monthly average composite yield on seasoned corporate bonds is no longer published by Moody's investors service, inc., or if the national association of insurance commissioners determines that Moody's monthly average composite yield on seasoned corporate bonds, as published by Moody's investors service, inc., is no longer appropriate for the determination of the reference interest rate, then an alternative method for determination of the reference interest rate adopted by the national association of insurance commissioners and approved by rule promulgated by the commissioner may be substituted.

33-2-531. Deposit of reserves — domestic life insurers. (1) Domestic life insurers shall deposit and maintain on deposit, in securities and assets, with depositaries and subject to conditions as provided for in part 6 of this chapter, an amount not less than the reserves on its outstanding life insurance policies and annuity contracts, as valued under 33-2-521 through 33-2-526, minus policy loans.

(2) Annually on or before April 1, the insurer shall deposit any additional securities or assets required under subsection (1) and related to the increase of the reserves, minus policy loans, during the preceding calendar year, as determined from the insurer's annual statement as at December 31 of the preceding year.

(3) A domestic stock life insurer may credit toward the deposit the amount of any other deposit of the insurer held under part 6 of this chapter for the protection of its policyholders or of its policyholders and creditors.

(4) Deposits of the reserves of a domestic life insurer under this section must consist of securities and assets acquired and valued in accordance with chapter 12 and part 5 of this chapter.

(5) Real estate mortgage loans and chattel mortgage loans may be made a part of the deposit by filing a verified statement of the loans with the commissioner. The statement is subject to audit at all times by the commissioner. Nonnegotiable securities deposited with the commissioner must be accompanied by transfer powers in due form. If the insurer uses real estate acquired under 33-12-207 as a deposit, then a deed of trust, mortgage, or other instrument sufficient to convey a security interest in the real estate, in a form acceptable to the commissioner, must be completed in due form and recorded prior to being deposited with the commissioner.

(6) If default occurs in the payment of interest or principal of any deposited security and the default continues for a period of 120 days, the commissioner may declare the security no longer eligible for deposit under this section.

33-2-603. Securities eligible for deposit. (1) All deposits required under 33-2-111 for authority to transact insurance in this state must consist of certificates of deposit or the following securities:

(a) United States or Canadian government bonds, notes, warrants, or other evidences of indebtedness that are direct obligations of the United States or of Canada or for which the full faith and credit of the United States or of Canada is pledged for the payment of principal and interest;

(b) state, county, municipal, and school bonds or other evidences of indebtedness that are general obligations of or are secured by a pledge of specific revenue of a state or of a province of Canada or of any of the counties, incorporated cities or towns, school districts, or other taxing districts in a state or province; and

(c) revenue bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness of any state or province, political subdivision of a state or province or agency or instrumentality of a state or province that are payable from revenue or earnings specifically pledged for the payment of the principal and interest on the obligations and for the payment of which a lawful sinking fund or reserve fund has been established and is being maintained.

(2) All other deposits of a domestic insurer held in this state pursuant to the laws of another state, province, or country must be comprised of assets of the kinds described in subsection (1) and of additional kind or kinds of securities required or permitted by the laws of the state, province, or country except common stocks, mortgages of any kind, and real estate.

(3) Deposits of the reserves of a domestic life insurer must consist of securities and assets as provided under 33-2-531.

(4) Deposits of foreign insurers made in this state under the retaliatory law, 33-2-709, must consist of assets that are required by the commissioner pursuant to 33-2-709.

History: En. Sec. 134, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3203; amd. Sec. 42, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-2-604. Depositary or custodian. (1) Deposits made in this state under this code shall be made through the office of the commissioner in safe deposit or under custodial arrangements as required or approved by the commissioner consistent with the purposes of such deposit, with an established safe deposit institution, bank, or trust company located in the city of Helena, state of Montana, selected by the insurer with the commissioner's approval.

(2) No safe deposit shall be used for any such deposit unless the box or compartment in which are kept the assets and securities comprising the deposit requires two separate and distinctly differing keys or one key and a combination, in the case of a box having a combination lock, to open the same. One of such keys or the combination shall at all times be kept by the commissioner, and the other key or the combination shall at all times be kept by the insurer. Such box or compartment shall not at any time be opened or remain open except through the joint action and in the presence of both the commissioner and a duly authorized officer or representative of the insurer.

(3) Where of convenience to the insurer in the buying, selling, and exchange of securities comprising its deposit and in the collection of interest and other income currently accruing thereon, the insurer may, with the commissioner's written approval in advance, deposit certain of such securities under custodial arrangements with an established bank or trust company located outside this state, so long as receipts representing all such securities are issued by such custodian bank or trust company and are held in safe deposit or custody subject to the requirements of subsections (1) and (2) of this section.

(4) The form and terms of all such depositary or custodial agreements shall be as prescribed or approved by the commissioner, consistent with the applicable provisions of this code.

(5) The compensation and expenses of the depositary or custodian shall be borne by the insurer.

An insurer may so deposit and have on deposit assets or securities in an amount exceeding its deposit required or otherwise permitted under this code by not more than 20% of such required or permitted deposit or $50,000, whichever is the larger amount, for the purpose of absorbing fluctuations in the value of assets and securities deposited and to facilitate the exchange and substitution of such assets and securities. During the solvency of the insurer any such excess shall be released to the insurer upon its request. During the insolvency of the insurer such excess deposit shall be released only as provided in 33-2-612(4).

33-2-610. Levy upon deposit. No judgment creditor or other claimant of an insurer shall have the right to levy upon any of the assets or securities held in this state as a deposit for the protection of the insurer's policyholders or policyholders and creditors. As to deposits pursuant to the retaliatory law, 33-2-709, levy thereupon shall be permitted if so provided in the commissioner's order under which the deposit is made.

33-2-612. Duration and release of deposit. (1) Every deposit made in this state by an insurer pursuant to this code, including assets and securities held in another state under custodial arrangements permitted by 33-2-604(3), shall be held as long as there is outstanding any liability of the insurer as to which the deposit was so required, or if a deposit required under the retaliatory law, 33-2-709, the deposit shall be held for so long as the basis of such retaliation exists.

(2) Upon the request of a domestic insurer, the commissioner shall return to the insurer the whole or any portion of the assets and securities of the insurer held on deposit when the commissioner is satisfied that the assets and securities so to be returned are subject to no liability and are not required to be longer held by any provision of law or purposes of the original deposit. If the insurer has reinsured all its outstanding risks in another insurer or insurers authorized to transact insurance in this state, then the commissioner shall deliver such assets and securities to such insurer or insurers so assuming such risks, upon:

(a) written notice to him by such domestic insurer that such assets and securities have been duly assigned, transferred, and set over to such reinsuring insurer or insurers, which notice shall be accompanied by a duly verified copy of such assignment, transfer, or conveyance; and

(b) in the case of deposits of the reserves of domestic life insurers under 33-2-531, proof satisfactory to the commissioner that the reinsuring insurer or insurers have deposited or will deposit and will maintain on deposit in public custody through the insurance supervisory official of its state of domicile assets and securities of like quality in amount not less than the reserves then and thereafter of the policies and contracts so reinsured, in addition to any other deposit of such insurer required or permitted by law, and, unless the insurer is required so to deposit and maintain on deposit all of its reserves, that such deposit of such reserves will be so deposited and held on deposit for the special benefit and protection of the holders of the life insurance policies and annuity contracts so reinsured.

(3) The commissioner shall return to a foreign insurer any deposit made in this state by such insurer when such insurer has ceased transacting insurance in this state or in the United States and the insurer is not subject to any liability in this state on account of which the deposit was held.

(4) If the insurer is subject to delinquency proceedings, as defined in part 13 of this chapter, upon the order of a court of competent jurisdiction, the commissioner shall yield the assets and securities held on deposit to the receiver, conservator, rehabilitator, or liquidator of the insurer or to any other properly designated official or officials who succeed to the management and control of the insurer's assets.

(5) No release of deposited assets shall be made except upon application to and the written order of the commissioner. The commissioner shall have no personal liability for any release of any such deposit or part thereof so made by him in good faith.

33-2-701. Annual statement — revocation or fine for failure to file — penalty for perjury. (1) Each authorized insurer shall annually on or before March 1 file with the commissioner a full and true statement of the authorized insurer's financial condition, transactions, and affairs as of the preceding December 31. The statement must be:

(a) in the general form and context as is required or not disapproved by the commissioner, as is in current use for similar reports to states in general with respect to the type of insurer and kinds of insurance to be reported upon, and as supplemented for additional information required by the commissioner;

(b) completed in accordance with the annual statement instructions and the Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual of the national association of insurance commissioners;

(c) accompanied by an actuarial opinion attesting to the adequacy of the insurer's reserves;

(d) verified by the oath of the insurer's president or vice president and secretary or, if a reciprocal insurer, by the oath of the attorney-in-fact or its like officers if a corporation. The commissioner may waive the verification under oath.

(2) (a) Each domestic insurer shall file electronic versions of the domestic insurer's annual and quarterly financial statements with the national association of insurance commissioners. The date for submission of the annual statement electronic filing is March 1. The dates for the submission of the quarterly statement electronic filings are as follows:

(i) the first quarter filing is due May 15;

(ii) the second quarter filing is due August 15; and

(iii) the third quarter filing is due November 15.

(b) The commissioner may exempt insurers that operate only in Montana from these filing requirements.

(3) The statement of an alien insurer must relate only to its transactions and affairs in the United States unless the commissioner requires otherwise. If the commissioner requires a statement as to an alien insurer's affairs throughout the world, the insurer shall file the statement with the commissioner as soon as reasonably possible. The statement must be verified by the insurer's United States manager or other authorized officer.

(4) The commissioner may refuse to accept the fee for renewal of the insurer's certificate of authority, as provided in 33-2-117, or may suspend or revoke the certificate of authority of any insurer failing to file the insurer's annual statement when due or within an extension of time that the commissioner may grant.

(5) A director, officer, agent, or employee of a company who subscribes to, makes, or concurs in making or publishing an annual statement or any other statement required by law knowing that the statement contains any material statement that is false shall be punished by a fine of not more than $25,000 for each violation.

(6) The commissioner may impose a fine not to exceed $100 a day for each day after March 1 that an insurer fails to file the annual statement referred to in subsection (1). The fine may not exceed a maximum of $1,000.

33-2-705. Report on premiums and other consideration — tax. (1) Each authorized insurer and each formerly authorized insurer with respect to premiums received while an authorized insurer in this state shall file with the commissioner, on or before March 1 each year, a report in a form prescribed by the commissioner showing total direct premium income, including policy, membership, and other fees, premiums paid by application of dividends, refunds, savings, savings coupons, and similar returns or credits to payment of premiums for new or additional or extended or renewed insurance, charges for payment of premium in installments, and all other consideration for insurance from all kinds and classes of insurance, whether designated as a premium or otherwise, received by a life insurer or written by an insurer other than a life insurer during the preceding calendar year on account of policies covering property, subjects, or risks located, resident, or to be performed in Montana, with proper proportionate allocation of premium as to property, subjects, or risks in Montana insured under policies or contracts covering property, subjects, or risks located or resident in more than one state, after deducting from the total direct premium income applicable cancellations, returned premiums, the unabsorbed portion of any deposit premium, the amount of reduction in or refund of premiums allowed to industrial life policyholders for payment of premiums direct to an office of the insurer, all policy dividends, refunds, savings, savings coupons, and other similar returns paid or credited to policyholders with respect to the policies. As to title insurance, "premium" includes the total charge for the insurance. A deduction may not be made of the cash surrender values of policies. Considerations received on annuity contracts may not be included in total direct premium income and are not subject to tax.

(2) Coincident with the filing of the tax report referred to in subsection (1), each insurer shall pay to the commissioner a tax upon the net premiums computed at the rate of 2 $\frac{3}{4}$%.

(3) That portion of the tax paid under this section by an insurer on account of premiums received for fire insurance must be separately specified in the report as required by the commissioner, for apportionment as provided by law. When insurance against fire is included with insurance of property against other perils at an undivided premium, the insurer shall make a reasonable allocation from the entire premium to the fire portion of the coverage as must be stated in the report and as may be approved or accepted by the commissioner.

(4) With respect to authorized insurers, the premium tax provided by this section must be payment in full and in lieu of all other demands for any and all state, county, city, district, municipal, and school taxes, licenses, fees, and excises of whatever kind or character, excepting only those prescribed by this code, taxes on real and tangible personal property located in this state, and taxes payable under 50-3-109.

(5) Insurers paying a premium tax under subsection (2) and holding a certificate pursuant to Title 90, chapter 10, may redeem the certificate under the terms of 90-10-304 as a credit against the premium tax after excluding the portion of premiums identified in subsection (3).

(6) The commissioner may suspend or revoke the certificate of authority of any insurer that fails to pay its taxes as required under this section.

(7) In addition to the penalty provided for in subsection (6), the commissioner may impose upon an insurer who fails to pay the tax required under this section a fine of $100 plus interest on the delinquent amount at the annual interest rate of 12%.

(8) The commissioner may by rule provide a quarterly schedule for payment of portions of the premium tax under this section during the year in which tax liability is accrued.

33-2-709. Retaliatory fees, taxes, and other obligations. (1) When by or pursuant to the laws of any other state or foreign country any taxes, licenses, and other fees, in the aggregate, and any fines, penalties, deposit requirements, or other material obligations, prohibitions, or restrictions are or would be imposed upon Montana insurers or upon the insurance producers or representatives of such insurers which are in excess of such taxes, licenses, and other fees, in the aggregate, or which are in excess of the fines, penalties, deposit requirements, or other obligations, prohibitions, or restrictions directly imposed upon similar insurers or upon the insurance producers or representatives of such insurers of such other state or country under the statutes of this state, so long as such laws of such other state or country continue in force or are so applied, the same taxes, licenses, and other fees, in the aggregate, or fines, penalties, or deposit requirements or other material obligations, prohibitions, or restrictions of whatever kind shall be imposed by the commissioner upon the insurers or upon the insurance producers or representatives of such insurers of such other state or country doing business or seeking to do business in Montana. Any tax, license, or other fee or other obligation imposed by any city, county, or other political subdivision or agency of such other state or country on Montana insurers or their insurance producers or representatives shall be deemed to be imposed by such state or country within the meaning of this section.

(2) This section shall not apply as to any fees in conjunction with the licensing of insurance producers, personal income taxes, ad valorem taxes on real or personal property, or special purpose obligations or assessments imposed by another state or by an agency of this state other than the department in connection with particular kinds of insurance other than property insurance, except that deductions from premium taxes or other taxes otherwise payable allowed on account of real estate or personal property taxes paid shall be taken into consideration by the commissioner in determining the propriety and extent of retaliatory action under this section.

(3) (a) For the purposes of this section the domicile of an alien insurer, other than insurers formed under the laws of Canada, shall be that state designated by the insurer in writing filed with the commissioner at time of admission to this state or within 6 months after January 1, 1961, whichever date is the later, and may be any one of the following states:

(i) that in which the insurer was first authorized to transact insurance;

(ii) that in which is located the insurer's principal place of business in the United States;

(iii) that in which is held the larger deposit of trusteed assets of the insurer for the protection of its policyholders and creditors in the United States.

(b) If the insurer makes no such designation, its domicile shall be deemed to be that state in which is located its principal place of business in the United States.

33-2-712. Genetics program fee. (1) Except as provided in 33-2-713, for each Montana resident insured under any individual or group disability or health insurance policy on February 1 of each year, the insurer or health service corporation issuing the policy, and the state group health plan provided for in Title 2, chapter 18, part 8, shall pay the fee provided for in subsection (2) to the commissioner. The fee must be paid on or before March 1 of each year and be deposited in an account in the state special revenue fund provided for in 50-19-212. The fee may be used only to fund the statewide genetics program established in 50-19-211.

(2) (a) From October 1, 2005, through June 30, 2007, the fee is $1.

(b) Beginning July 1, 2007, the fee is 70 cents.

Compiler's Comments

2005 Amendment: Chapter 396 in (1) in first sentence near end substituted "the fee provided for in subsection (2)" for "70 cents", in second sentence near middle after "be deposited in" substituted "an account in the state special revenue fund provided for in 50-19-212" for "the general fund", and in third sentence at beginning substituted "The fee may be used only" for "The purpose of the fee is" and after "to fund the" deleted "voluntary"; inserted (2) providing amount of fee; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective October 1, 2005.

33-2-713. Group disability policy exemption. The fee required in 33-2-712 does not apply to blanket group disability insurance as defined in Title 33, chapter 22, part 6, where the total premium charged per person is less than $10 a year. For these policies, the fee is to be assessed on the basis of the number of blanket group policyholders in Montana.

Part 11
Affiliation and Merger — Holding Company Systems

33-2-1101. Definitions. As used in this part, the following terms shall have the respective meanings hereinafter set forth, unless the context shall otherwise require:

(1) An "affiliate" of or person "affiliated" with a specific person is a person that directly, or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, controls or is controlled by or is under common control with the person specified.

(2) The term "control" (including the terms "controlling", "controlled by", and "under common control with") means the possession, direct or indirect, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of a person, whether through the ownership of voting securities, by contract other than a commercial contract for goods or nonmanagement services, or otherwise, unless the power is the result of an official position with or corporate office held by the person. Control shall be presumed to exist if any person, directly or indirectly, owns, controls, holds with the power to vote, or holds proxies representing 10% or more of the voting securities of any other person. This presumption may be rebutted by a showing made in the manner provided by 33-2-1112 that control does not exist in fact. The commissioner may determine, after furnishing all persons in interest notice and opportunity to be heard and making specific findings of fact to support such determination, that control exists in fact, notwithstanding the absence of a presumption to that effect.

(3) An "insurance holding company system" consists of two or more affiliated persons, one or more of which is an insurer.

(4) The term "insurer" shall have the same meaning as set forth in 33-1-201, except that it shall not include agencies, authorities, or instrumentalities of the United States, its possessions and territories, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the District of Columbia, or a state or political subdivision of a state.

(5) A "person" is an individual, a corporation, a partnership, an association, a joint-stock company, a trust, an unincorporated organization, any similar entity, or any combination of the foregoing acting in concert but shall not include any securities broker performing no more than the usual and customary broker's function.

(6) A "securityholder" of a specified person is one who owns any security of such person, including common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and any other security convertible into or evidencing the right to acquire any of the foregoing.

(7) A "subsidiary" of a specified person is an affiliate controlled by such person directly or indirectly through one or more intermediaries.

(8) The term "voting security" shall include any security convertible into or evidencing a right to acquire a voting security.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 64, L. 1971; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5509(part).

33-2-1102. Authorization of subsidiaries. Any domestic insurer, either by itself or in cooperation with one or more persons, may organize or acquire one or more subsidiaries engaged in the following kinds of business:

(1) any kind of insurance business authorized by the jurisdiction in which it is incorporated;

(2) acting as an insurance broker or as an insurance producer for its parent or for any of its parent's insurer subsidiaries;

(3) investing, reinvesting, or trading in securities for its own account, that of its parent, any subsidiary of its parent, or any affiliate or subsidiary;

(4) management of any investment company subject to or registered pursuant to the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, including related sales and services;

(5) acting as a broker-dealer subject to or registered pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended;

(6) rendering investment advice to governments, government agencies, corporations, or other organizations or groups;

(7) rendering other services related to the operations of an insurance business, including but not limited to actuarial, loss prevention, safety engineering, data processing, accounting, claims, appraisal, and collection services;

(8) ownership and management of assets which the parent corporation could itself own or manage;

(9) acting as administrative agent for a governmental instrumentality which is performing an insurance function;

(10) financing of insurance premiums, insurance producers, and other forms of consumer financing;

(11) any other business activity determined by the commissioner to be reasonable ancillary to an insurance business;

(12) owning a corporation or corporations engaged or organized to engage exclusively in one or more of the businesses specified in this section.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 64, L. 1971; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5510(a); amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

33-2-1103. Additional investment authority — exemption from other investment restrictions — determination of qualification — divestiture. (1) In addition to investments in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities permitted under this part, a domestic insurer may also:

(a) invest, in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities of one or more subsidiaries, amounts which do not exceed the lesser of 10% of the insurer's assets or 50% of the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders, provided that after the investments the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders will be reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs. In calculating the amount of the investments, there must be included total net money or other consideration expended and obligations assumed in the acquisition or formation of a subsidiary, including all organizational expenses and contributions to capital and surplus of the subsidiary, whether or not represented by the purchase of capital stock or issuance of other securities, and all amounts expended in acquiring additional common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities and all contributions to the capital or surplus of a subsidiary subsequent to its acquisition or formation.

(b) if the insurer's total liabilities, as calculated for national association of insurance commissioners annual statement purposes, are less than 10% of assets, invest any amount in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities of one or more subsidiaries, provided that after the investment the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders, considering the investment as if it were a disallowed asset, will be reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs;

(c) invest any amount in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities of one or more subsidiaries, provided that each subsidiary agrees to limit its investments in any asset so that the investments will not cause the amount of the total investment of the insurer to exceed any of the investment limitations specified in this section. The total investment of the insurer must include:

(i) any direct investment by the insurer in an asset;

(ii) the insurer's proportionate share of any investment in an asset by any subsidiary of the insurer, which is calculated by multiplying the amount of the subsidiary's investment by the percentage of the insurer's ownership of such subsidiary.

(d) with the approval of the commissioner, invest a greater amount in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, or other securities of one or more subsidiaries, provided that after the investment, the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders will be reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs.

(2) Investments in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, or other securities of subsidiaries made pursuant to subsection (1) are not subject to any of the otherwise applicable restrictions or prohibitions contained in this part applicable to such investments of insurers.

(3) Whether any investment pursuant to subsection (1) meets the applicable requirements thereof is to be determined immediately after the investment is made, taking into account the then outstanding principal balance on all previous investments in debt obligations and the value of all previous investments in equity securities as of the date they were made.

(4) If an insurer ceases to control a subsidiary, it shall dispose of any investment therein made pursuant to this section within 3 years from the time of the cessation of control or within such further time as the commissioner may prescribe, unless at any time after the investment is made, the investment meets the requirements for investment under any other section of this part and the insurer has notified the commissioner thereof.

33-2-1104. Acquisition of control of or merger with domestic insurer — filing requisites. (1) No person other than the issuer shall make a tender offer for or a request or invitation for tenders of or enter into any agreement to exchange securities for, seek to acquire, or acquire, in the open market or otherwise, any voting security of a domestic insurer if, after the consummation thereof, such person would, directly or indirectly (or by conversion or by exercise of any right to acquire), be in control of such insurer, and no person shall enter into an agreement to merge with or otherwise to acquire control of a domestic insurer unless, at the time any such offer, request, or invitation is made or any such agreement is entered into or prior to the acquisition of such securities if no offer or agreement is involved, such person has filed with the commissioner and has sent to such insurer, and such insurer has sent to its shareholders, a statement containing the information required by this section and such offer, request, invitation, agreement, or acquisition has been approved by the commissioner in the manner hereinafter prescribed. For purposes of this section, a domestic insurer shall include any other person controlling a domestic insurer unless such other person is either directly or through its affiliates primarily engaged in business other than the business of insurance.

(2) The statement to be filed with the commissioner hereunder shall be made under oath or affirmation and shall contain the following information:

(a) the name and address of each person by whom or on whose behalf the merger or other acquisition of control referred to in subsection (1) is to be effected (hereinafter called "acquiring party"):

(i) if such person is an individual, his principal occupation and all offices and positions held during the past 5 years and any conviction of crimes other than minor traffic violations during the past 10 years;

(ii) if such person is not an individual, a report of the nature of its business operations during the past 5 years or for such lesser period as such person and any predecessors thereof shall have been in existence; an informative description of the business intended to be done by such person and such person's subsidiaries; and a list of all individuals who are or who have been selected to become directors or executive officers of such person or who perform or will perform functions appropriate to such positions. Such list shall include for each such individual the information required by subsection (2)(a)(i).

(b) the source, nature, and amount of the consideration used or to be used in effecting the merger or other acquisition of control, a description of any transaction wherein funds were or are to be obtained for any such purpose, and the identity of persons furnishing such consideration, provided, however, that where a source of such consideration is a loan made in the lender's ordinary course of business, the identity of the lender shall remain confidential if the person filing such statement so requests;

(c) fully audited financial information as to the earnings and financial condition of each acquiring party for the preceding 5 fiscal years of each such acquiring party (or for such lesser period as such acquiring party and any predecessors thereof shall have been in existence) and similar unaudited information as of a date not earlier than 90 days prior to the filing of the statement;

(d) any plans or proposals which each acquiring party may have to liquidate such insurer, to sell its assets or merge or consolidate it with any person, or to make any other material change in its business or corporate structure or management;

(e) the number of shares of any security referred to in subsection (1) which each acquiring party proposes to acquire and the terms of the offer, request, invitation, agreement, or acquisition referred to in subsection (1) and a statement as to the method by which the fairness of the proposal was arrived at;

(f) the amount of each class of any security referred to in subsection (1) which is beneficially owned or concerning which there is a right to acquire beneficial ownership by each acquiring party;

(g) a full description of any contracts, arrangements, or understandings with respect to any security referred to in subsection (1) in which any acquiring party is involved, including but not limited to transfer of any of the securities, joint ventures, loan or option arrangements, puts or calls, guarantees of loans, guarantees against loss or guarantees of profits, division of losses or profits, or the giving or withholding of proxies. Such description shall identify the persons with whom such contracts, arrangements, or understandings have been entered into.

(h) a description of the purchase of any security referred to in subsection (1) during the 12 calendar months preceding the filing of the statement, by an acquiring party, including the dates of purchase, names of the purchasers, and consideration paid or agreed to be paid therefor;

(i) a description of any recommendations to purchase any security referred to in subsection (1) made during the 12 calendar months preceding the filing of the statement, by any acquiring party or by anyone based upon interviews or at the suggestion of such acquiring party;

(j) copies of all tender offers for, requests or invitations for tenders of, exchange offers for, and agreements to acquire or exchange any securities referred to in subsection (1) and (if distributed) of additional soliciting material relating thereto;

(k) the terms of any agreement, contract, or understanding made with any broker-dealer as to solicitation of securities referred to in subsection (1) for tender and the amount of any fees, commissions, or other compensation to be paid to broker-dealers with regard thereto;

(l) such additional information as the commissioner may by rule prescribe as necessary or appropriate for the protection of policyholders and securityholders of the insurer or in the public interest.

(3) If the person required to file the statement referred to in subsection (1) is a partnership, limited partnership, syndicate, or other group, the commissioner may require that the information called for by subsection (2) shall be given with respect to each partner of such partnership or limited partnership, each member of such syndicate or group, and each person who controls such partner or member. If any such partner, member, or person is a corporation or the person required to file the statement referred to in subsection (1) is a corporation, the commissioner may require that the information called for by subsection (2) shall be given with respect to such corporation, each officer and director of such corporation, and each person who is directly or indirectly the beneficial owner of more than 10% of the outstanding voting securities of such corporation.

(4) If any material change occurs in the facts set forth in the statement filed with the commissioner and sent to such insurer pursuant to this section, an amendment setting forth such change, together with copies of all documents and other material relevant to such change, shall be filed with the commissioner and sent to such insurer within 2 business days after the person learns of such change. Such insurer shall send such amendment to its shareholders.

(5) If any offer, request, invitation, agreement, or acquisition referred to in subsection (1) is proposed to be made by means of a registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933 or in circumstances requiring the disclosure of similar information under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or under a state law requiring similar registration or disclosure, the person required to file the statement referred to in subsection (1) may utilize such documents in furnishing the information called for by that statement.

33-2-1105. Approval by commissioner — hearings — notice. (1) The commissioner shall approve any merger or other acquisition of control referred to in 33-2-1104(1) unless, after a public hearing thereon, he finds that:

(a) after the change of control the domestic insurer referred to in 33-2-1104(1) would not be able to satisfy the requirements for the issuance of a license to write the line or lines of insurance for which it is presently licensed;

(b) the effect of the merger or other acquisition of control would be substantially to lessen competition in insurance in this state or tend to create a monopoly therein;

(c) the financial condition of any acquiring party might jeopardize the financial stability of the insurer or prejudice the interest of its policyholders or the interests of any remaining securityholders who are unaffiliated with the acquiring party;

(d) the terms of the offer, request, invitation, agreement, or acquisition referred to in 33-2-1104(1) are unfair and unreasonable to the securityholders of the insurer;

(e) the plans or proposals which the acquiring party has to liquidate the insurer, sell its assets or consolidate or merge it with any person, or to make any other material change in its business or corporate structure or management are unfair and unreasonable to policyholders of the insurer and not in the public interest;

(f) the competence, experience, and integrity of those persons who would control the operation of the insurer are such that it would not be in the interest of policyholders of the insurer and of the public to permit the merger or other acquisition of control.

(2) The public hearing referred to in subsection (1) must be held within 30 days after the statement required by 33-2-1104(1) is filed, and at least 20 days notice thereof must be given by the commissioner to the person filing the statement. Not less than 7 days' notice of the public hearing must be given by the person filing the statement to the insurer and to other persons as may be designated by the commissioner. The insurer shall give notice to its securityholders. The commissioner shall make a determination within 30 days after the conclusion of the hearing. At the hearing, the person filing the statement, the insurer, any person to whom notice of hearing was sent, and any other person whose interests may be affected thereby has the right to present evidence, examine and cross-examine witnesses, and offer oral and written arguments and in connection therewith is entitled to conduct discovery proceedings in the same manner as is presently allowed in the district court of this state. All discovery proceedings must be concluded not later than 3 days prior to the commencement of the public hearing.

(3) All statements, amendments, or other material filed pursuant to subsections (1) through (4) of 33-2-1104 and all notices of public hearings held pursuant to subsection (1) must be mailed by the insurer to its shareholders within 5 business days after the insurer has received the statements, amendments, other material, or notices. The expenses of mailing must be borne by the person making the filing. As security for the payment of the expenses, the person shall file with the commissioner an acceptable bond or other deposit in an amount to be determined by the commissioner.

(4) The commissioner may retain at the acquiring party's expense any attorneys, actuaries, accountants, and other experts not otherwise a part of the commissioner's staff as may be reasonably necessary to assist the commissioner in reviewing the proposed acquisition of control.

33-2-1106. Exemptions — violations — jurisdiction. (1) The provisions of 33-2-1104, 33-2-1105, and this section do not apply to an offer, request, invitation, agreement, or acquisition which the commissioner by order shall exempt therefrom as:

(a) not having been made or entered into for the purpose and not having the effect of changing or influencing the control of a domestic insurer; or

(b) otherwise not comprehended within the purposes of 33-2-1104 and 33-2-1105.

(2) The following are violations of 33-2-1104, 33-2-1105, and this section:

(a) the failure to file any statement, amendment, or other material required to be filed pursuant to subsections (1) through (4) of 33-2-1104;

(b) the effectuation or any attempt to effectuate an acquisition of control of or merger with a domestic insurer unless the commissioner has given his approval thereto.

(3) The courts of this state are hereby vested with jurisdiction over every person not resident, domiciled, or authorized to do business in this state who files a statement with the commissioner under 33-2-1104 and over all actions involving the person arising out of violations of 33-2-1104, 33-2-1105, and this section, and each such person is considered to have performed acts equivalent to and constituting an appointment by such a person of the commissioner to be his true and lawful attorney upon whom may be served all lawful process in any action, suit, or proceeding arising out of violations of this section. Copies of all such lawful process must be served on the commissioner and transmitted by certified mail by the commissioner to the person at his last-known address.

33-2-1111. Registration of insurers — requisites — termination. (1) An insurer authorized to do business in this state that is a member of an insurance holding company system shall register with the commissioner, except that a foreign insurer subject to disclosure requirements and standards adopted by statute or regulation in the jurisdiction of its domicile that are substantially similar to those contained in this section is not required to register. Any insurer subject to registration under this section shall register within 15 days after becoming subject to registration, unless the commissioner for good cause extends the time for registration. The commissioner may require any authorized insurer that is a member of a holding company system that is not subject to registration under this section to furnish a copy of the registration statement or other information filed by the insurance company with the insurance regulatory authority in the jurisdiction where the company is domiciled.

(2) An insurer subject to registration shall file with the commissioner, on or before April 30 each year, a registration statement on a form provided by the commissioner that must contain current information about:

(a) the capital structure, general financial condition, ownership, and management of the insurer and any person controlling the insurer;

(b) the identity of every member of the insurance holding company system;

(c) existing relationships, transactions currently outstanding between the insurer and its affiliates, and the following agreements that are in force:

(i) loans, other investments, or purchases, sales, or exchanges of securities of the affiliates by the insurer or of the insurer by its affiliates;

(ii) purchases, sales, or exchanges of assets;

(iii) transactions not in the ordinary course of business;

(iv) guaranties or undertakings for the benefit of an affiliate that result in an actual contingent exposure of the insurer's assets to liability, other than insurance contracts entered into in the ordinary course of the insurer's business;

(v) management and service contracts and cost-sharing arrangements;

(vi) reinsurance agreements covering all or substantially all of one or more lines of insurance of the ceding company;

(vii) dividends and other distributions to shareholders; and

(viii) consolidated tax allocation agreements;

(d) a pledge of the insurer's stock, including stock of a subsidiary or controlling affiliate for a loan made to a member of the insurance holding company system;

(e) all matters concerning transactions between registered insurers and any affiliates as may be included from time to time in registration forms adopted or approved by the commissioner.

(3) A registration statement must contain a summary outlining each item in the current registration statement that represents a change from the prior registration statement.

(4) Information need not be disclosed on the registration statement filed pursuant to subsection (2) if the information is not material for the purposes of this section. Unless the commissioner by rule or order provides otherwise, sales, purchases, exchanges, loans or extensions of credit, or investments involving 1/2 of 1% or less of an insurer's admitted assets as of the prior December 31 are not material for purposes of this section.

(5) A person within an insurance holding company system subject to registration shall provide complete and accurate information to an insurer if the information is reasonably necessary to enable the insurer to comply with Title 33, chapter 2, part 11.

(6) Each registered insurer shall keep current the information required to be disclosed in its registration statement by reporting all material changes or additions on amendment forms provided by the commissioner within 15 days after the end of the month in which it learns of each change or addition.

(7) The commissioner shall terminate the registration of any insurer that demonstrates that it no longer is a member of an insurance holding company system.

(8) The commissioner may require or allow two or more affiliated insurers subject to registration under this section to file a consolidated registration statement or consolidated reports amending their consolidated registration statement or their individual registration statements.

(9) The commissioner may allow an insurer that is authorized to do business in this state and that is part of an insurance holding company system to register on behalf of any affiliated insurer which is required to register under subsection (1) and to file all information and material required to be filed under this section.

33-2-1112. Exemptions — disclaimer — violations. (1) The provisions of 33-2-1111 and this section shall not apply to any insurer, information, or transaction if and to the extent that the commissioner by rule or order shall exempt the same from the provisions of 33-2-1111 and this section.

(2) Any person may file with the commissioner a disclaimer of affiliation with any authorized insurer, or such a disclaimer may be filed by such insurer or any member of an insurance holding company system. The disclaimer shall fully disclose all material relationships and bases for affiliation between such person and such insurer as well as the basis for disclaiming such affiliation. After a disclaimer has been filed, the insurer shall be relieved of any duty to register or report under 33-2-1111 and this section which may arise out of the insurer's relationship with such person unless and until the commissioner disallows such a disclaimer. The commissioner shall disallow such a disclaimer only after furnishing all parties in interest with notice and opportunity to be heard and after making specific findings of fact to support such disallowance.

(3) The failure to file a registration statement or any amendment thereto required by 33-2-1111 and this section within the time specified for such filing shall be a violation of 33-2-1111 and this section.

33-2-1113. Transactions with affiliates — standards. (1) Material transactions by registered insurers with their affiliates are subject to the following standards:

(a) The terms must be fair and reasonable.

(b) Charges or fees for services performed must be reasonable.

(c) Expenses incurred and payments received must be allocated to the insurer in conformity with customary insurance accounting practices consistently applied.

(d) The books, accounts, and records of each party must clearly and accurately disclose the precise nature and details of the transactions, including any accounting information necessary to support the reasonableness of the charges or fees to the respective parties.

(e) The insurer's surplus as regards policyholders following any dividends or distributions to shareholder affiliates must be reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs.

(2) (a) The following transactions involving a domestic insurer and a person in its holding company system may not be entered into unless the insurer has notified the commissioner in writing of its intention to enter into a transaction and the commissioner has not disapproved it within at least 30 days prior to the transaction, or a shorter period as the commissioner may permit:

(i) sales, purchases, exchanges, loans or extensions of credit, guaranties, or investments if, as of the prior December 31, the transactions are equal to or exceed:

(A) with respect to insurers other than life insurers, the lesser of 3% of the insurer's admitted assets or 25% of its surplus as regards policyholders; and

(B) with respect to life insurers, 3% of the insurer's admitted assets;

(ii) loans or extensions of credit to a person who is not an affiliate if the insurer makes the loans or extensions of credit with the agreement or understanding that the proceeds of the transactions, in whole or in substantial part, are to be used to make loans or extensions of credit to, to purchase assets of, or to make investments in an affiliate of the insurer making the loans or extensions of credit if the transactions, as of the prior December 31, are equal to or exceed:

(A) with respect to insurers other than life insurers, the lesser of 3% of the insurer's admitted assets or 25% of its surplus as regards policyholders;

(B) with respect to life insurers, 3% of the insurer's admitted assets;

(iii) reinsurance agreements or modifications to reinsurance agreements in which the reinsurance premium or a change in the insurer's liabilities equals or exceeds 5% of the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders, as of the prior December 31, including those agreements that may require as consideration the transfer of assets from an insurer to a nonaffiliate, if an agreement or understanding exists between the insurer and nonaffiliate that a portion of the assets will be transferred to one or more affiliates of the insurer;

(iv) all management agreements, service contracts, and cost-sharing arrangements; and

(v) any material transactions, specified by rule, that the commissioner determines may adversely affect the interests of the insurer's policyholders.

(b) Nothing in this subsection (2) is considered to authorize or permit a transaction that, in the case of an insurer that is not a member of the same holding company system, would otherwise be contrary to law.

(3) A domestic insurer may not enter into a transaction that is part of a plan or series of like transactions with a person within the holding company system if the purpose of those separate transactions is to avoid the statutory threshold amount review. If the commissioner determines that the separate transactions were entered into over a 12-month period for the purpose of evading review, the commissioner may exercise authority under 33-2-1120.

(4) The commissioner, in reviewing a transaction pursuant to subsection (2), shall consider whether the transaction complies with the standards set forth in subsection (1) and whether it may adversely affect the interests of a policyholder.

(5) The commissioner must be notified within 30 days of an investment by a domestic insurer in a corporation if the total investment in the corporation by the insurance holding company system exceeds 10% of the corporation's voting securities.

(6) For purposes of this section, in determining whether an insurer's surplus as regards policyholders is reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs, the following factors, among others, must be considered:

(a) the size of the insurer as measured by its assets, capital and surplus, reserves, premium writings, insurance in force, and other appropriate criteria;

(b) the extent to which the insurer's business is diversified among the several lines of insurance;

(c) the number and size of risks insured in each line of business;

(d) the extent of the geographical dispersion of the insurer's insured risks;

(e) the nature and extent of the insurer's reinsurance program;

(f) the quality, diversification, and liquidity of the insurer's investment portfolio;

(g) the recent past and projected future trend in the size of the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders;

(h) the surplus as regards policyholders maintained by other comparable insurers;

(i) the adequacy of the insurer's reserves;

(j) the quality and liquidity of investments in subsidiaries made pursuant to 33-2-1104 through 33-2-1106. The commissioner may treat any investment as a disallowed asset for purposes of determining the adequacy of surplus as regards policyholders whenever in the commissioner's judgment the investment so warrants.

33-2-1114. Dividends and other distributions — commissioner approval. (1) An insurer subject to registration under 33-2-1111 and 33-2-1112 may not pay any extraordinary dividend or make any other extraordinary distribution to its shareholders until 30 days after the commissioner has received notice of the declaration of the dividend or distribution and has not within the period disapproved the payment or the commissioner has approved payment within the 30-day period.

(2) For purposes of this section, an extraordinary dividend or distribution includes any dividend or distribution of cash or other property whose fair market value together with that of other dividends or distributions made within the preceding 12 months exceeds 10% of the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders as of December 31 next preceding, but may not include pro rata distributions of any class of the insurer's own securities.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, an insurer may declare an extraordinary dividend or distribution which is conditional upon the commissioner's approval, and the declaration may not confer rights upon shareholders until the commissioner has approved the payment of the dividend or distribution or the commissioner has not disapproved the payment within the 30-day period referred to in subsection (1).

(4) An insurer subject to subsection (1) may not pay any other dividend or make any other distribution to its shareholders unless the insurer has notified the commissioner of the payment 15 days prior to the payment date. The notice must be kept confidential until the payment date of the dividend. The commissioner may order that a dividend not be paid if the commissioner finds that the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders, following the payment to shareholders, would be inadequate or could lead the insurer to a hazardous financial condition.

33-2-1115. Examination. (1) In addition to the powers which the commissioner has under chapter 1, part 4, relating to the examination of insurers, the commissioner also has the power to order any insurer registered under 33-2-1111 to produce the records, books, or other information papers in the possession of the insurer or its affiliates as are necessary to ascertain the financial condition or legality of conduct of the insurer. If the insurer fails to comply with the order, the commissioner may examine the affiliates to obtain the information.

(2) The commissioner may retain at the registered insurer's expense attorneys, actuaries, accountants, and other experts not otherwise a part of the commissioner's staff as are reasonably necessary to assist in the conduct of the examination under subsection (1). Any persons retained are under the direction and control of the commissioner and shall act in a purely advisory capacity.

(3) Each registered insurer producing for examination records, books, and papers pursuant to subsection (1) is liable for and shall pay the expense of the examination.

(1) No security which is the subject of any agreement or arrangement regarding acquisition or which is acquired or to be acquired in contravention of the provisions of this part or of any rule or order issued by the commissioner hereunder may be voted at any shareholders' meeting or may be counted for quorum purposes, and any action of shareholders requiring the affirmative vote of a percentage of shares may be taken as though such securities were not issued and outstanding; but no action taken at any such meeting shall be invalidated by the voting of such securities unless the action would materially affect control of the insurer or unless the courts of this state have so ordered.

(2) If an insurer or the commissioner has reason to believe that any security of the insurer has been or is about to be acquired in contravention of the provisions of this part or of any rule or order issued by the commissioner hereunder, the insurer or the commissioner may apply to the district court for Lewis and Clark County or to the district court for the county in which the insurer has its principal place of business to enjoin any offer, request, invitation, agreement, or acquisition made in contravention of 33-2-1113 or any rule or order issued by the commissioner thereunder to enjoin the voting of any security so acquired, to void any vote of such security already cast at any meeting of shareholders, and for such other equitable relief as the nature of the case and the interests of the insurer's policyholders, creditors, and shareholders or the public may require.

(3) In any case where a person has acquired or is proposing to acquire any voting securities in violation of this part or any rule or order issued by the commissioner hereunder, the district court for Lewis and Clark County or the district court for the county in which the insurer has its principal place of business may, on such notice as the court deems appropriate, upon the application of the insurer or the commissioner seize or sequester any voting securities of the insurer owned directly or indirectly by such person and issue such orders with respect thereto as may be appropriate to effectuate the provisions of this part. Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, for the purposes of this part the situs of the ownership of the securities of domestic insurers shall be deemed to be in this state.

33-2-1120. Criminal or civil proceedings — penalties. (1) An insurer failing without just cause to file a registration statement as required in 33-2-1111 shall, after notice and hearing, pay a penalty of $100 for each day of delinquency. The maximum penalty under this subsection is $25,000. The commissioner may reduce the penalty if the insurer demonstrates to the commissioner that the imposition of the penalty would constitute a financial hardship to the insurer.

(2) A director or an officer of an insurance holding company system who knowingly violates, participates in, or assents to a transaction or who knowingly permits an officer or insurance producer of the insurer to engage in a transaction or make an investment that has not been properly reported or submitted pursuant to 33-2-1111 or 33-2-1113 or that violates any other provision of Title 33, chapter 2, part 11, shall, after notice and hearing, pay, in his individual capacity, a fine of not more than $5,000 for each violation. To determine the amount of the fine, the commissioner shall consider the appropriateness of the fine with respect to the gravity of the violation, the history of previous violations, and such other matters as justice may require.

(3) If the commissioner determines that an insurer subject to Title 33, chapter 2, part 11, or a director, officer, employee, or insurance producer of the insurer has engaged in a transaction or entered into a contract that is subject to 33-2-1113 and that would not have been approved had approval been requested, the commissioner may order the insurer to cease and desist immediately any further activity under that transaction or contract. After notice and hearing, the commissioner may also order the insurer to void the contract and restore the status quo if such action is in the best interest of policyholders, creditors, or the public.

(4) Whenever it appears to the commissioner that any insurer or any director, officer, employee, or insurance producer thereof has committed a willful violation of this part, the commissioner may cause criminal proceedings to be instituted by the district court for the county in which the principal office of the insurer is located or if such insurer has no such office in the state, then by the district court for Lewis and Clark County against such insurer or the responsible director, officer, employee, or insurance producer thereof.

(5) Any insurer which willfully violates this part may be fined not more than $25,000.

(6) Any individual who willfully violates this part may be fined not more than $5,000 or, if such willful violation involves the deliberate perpetration of a fraud upon the commissioner, imprisoned not more than 2 years or both.

(1) Any person aggrieved by any act, determination, rule, or order or any other action of the commissioner pursuant to this part may appeal therefrom to the district court for Lewis and Clark County. The court shall conduct its review without a jury and by trial de novo, except that if all parties, including the commissioner, so stipulate, the review shall be confined to the record. Portions of the record may be introduced by stipulation into evidence in a trial de novo as to those parties so stipulating.

(2) The filing of an appeal pursuant to this section shall stay the application of any such rule, order, or other action of the commissioner to the appealing party unless the court, after giving such party notice and an opportunity to be heard, determines that such a stay would be detrimental to the interests of policyholders, shareholders, creditors, or the public.

(3) Any person aggrieved by any failure of the commissioner to act or make a determination required by this part may petition the district court for Lewis and Clark County for a writ in the nature of a mandamus or a peremptory mandamus directing the commissioner to act or make such determination forthwith.

33-2-1125. Recovery of dividends. (1) If an order for liquidation or rehabilitation of an insurer domiciled in this state has been entered, the receiver appointed under the order has a right to recover on behalf of the insurer:

(a) from any parent corporation or holding company or person or affiliate who otherwise controlled the insurer, the amount of distributions, other than distributions of shares of the same class of stock, paid by the insurer on its capital stock; or

(b) any payment in the form of a bonus, termination settlement, or extraordinary lump-sum salary adjustment made by the insurer or its subsidiary to a director, officer, or employee, when the distribution or payment pursuant to subsection (1)(a) or this subsection is made at any time during the year preceding the petition for liquidation, conservation, or rehabilitation, as the case may be, subject to the limitations of subsections (2) through (4).

(2) A distribution is not recoverable if the parent or affiliate shows that when paid the distribution was lawful and reasonable and that the insurer did not know and could not reasonably have known that the distribution might adversely affect the ability of the insurer to fulfill its contractual obligations.

(3) Any person who was a parent corporation or holding company or a person who otherwise controlled the insurer or affiliate at the time that the distributions were paid is liable up to the amount of distributions or payments that the person received. Any person who otherwise controlled the insurer at the time that the distributions were declared is liable up to the amount of distributions the person would have received if the person had been paid immediately. If two or more persons are liable with respect to the same distributions, they are jointly and severally liable.

(4) The maximum amount recoverable under this section is the amount needed in excess of all other available assets of the impaired or insolvent insurer to pay the contractual obligations of the impaired or insolvent insurer and to reimburse any guaranty funds.

(5) To the extent that any person liable under subsection (3) is insolvent or otherwise fails to pay claims due from it, its parent corporation or holding company or person who otherwise controlled it at the time the distribution was paid is jointly and severally liable for any resulting deficiency in the amount recovered from the parent corporation or holding company or person who otherwise controlled it.

Part 12
Limit of Risk — Reinsurance

33-2-1201. Limit of risk. (1) An insurer may not retain any risk on any one subject of insurance, whether located or to be performed in this state or elsewhere, in an amount exceeding 10% of its surplus to policyholders.

(2) A "subject of insurance" for the purposes of this section, as to insurance against fire and hazards other than windstorm, earthquake, or other catastrophe hazards, includes all properties insured by the same insurer which are customarily considered by underwriters to be subject to loss or damage from the same fire or the same occurrence of the other hazard insured against.

(3) Reinsurance ceded as authorized by this part must be deducted in determining risk retained. As to surety risks, deduction must also be made of the amount assumed by any established incorporated cosurety and the value of any security deposited, pledged, or held subject to the surety's consent and for the surety's protection.

(4) As to alien insurers, this section only relates to risks and surplus to policyholders of the insurer's United States branch.

(5) "Surplus to policyholders" for the purposes of this section, in addition to the insurer's capital and surplus, is considered to include any voluntary reserves which are not required pursuant to law and are determined from the last sworn statement of the insurer on file with the commissioner or by the last report of examination of the insurer, whichever is the more recent at time of assumption of risk.

(6) This section does not apply to life or disability insurance, title insurance, insurance of wet marine and transportation risks, workers' compensation insurance, employer's liability coverages, or any policy or type of coverage as to which the maximum possible loss to the insurer is not readily ascertainable on issuance of the policy.

33-2-1206. Bulk reinsurance — foreign or alien insurers. (1) A foreign or alien insurer may reinsure all or substantially all of its insurance in force in Montana or a major class thereof with an agreement of bulk reinsurance, but no such agreement may become effective unless filed with the commissioner and approved by him in writing. The commissioner may in his discretion hold a hearing before approving or disapproving an agreement of bulk reinsurance. Factors to be considered on bulk reinsurance agreements include but are not limited to:

(a) whether the agreement would be inequitable to Montana policyholders;

(b) whether the agreement would substantially reduce security of Montana policyholders; and

(c) whether the agreement would substantially reduce the service to be rendered to Montana policyholders.

(2) The commissioner shall approve or disapprove the agreement within a reasonable time after filing the proposed agreement or, when applicable, after a hearing.

(3) The commissioner may require a foreign or alien insurer to establish a trust account in this state, not to exceed the aggregate reserves of the policies contained in the bulk reinsurance agreement, prior to granting approval.

33-2-1211. Bulk reinsurance — stock insurers. (1) A domestic stock insurer may reinsure all or substantially all of its insurance in force or a major class thereof with another insurer by an agreement of bulk reinsurance, but no such agreement shall become effective unless filed with the commissioner and approved by him in writing after a hearing thereon.

(2) The commissioner shall approve such agreement within a reasonable time after such filing unless he finds that it is inequitable to the stockholders of the domestic insurer or would substantially reduce the protection or service to its policyholders. If the commissioner does not approve the agreement, he shall so notify the insurer in writing specifying his reasons therefor.

33-2-1212. Bulk reinsurance — mutual insurers. (1) A domestic mutual insurer may reinsure all or substantially all its business in force, or all or substantially all of a major class thereof, with another insurer, stock or mutual, by an agreement of bulk reinsurance after compliance with this section. No such agreement shall become effective unless filed with the commissioner and approved by him in writing after a hearing thereon.

(2) The commissioner shall approve such agreement within a reasonable time after filing if he finds it to be fair and equitable to each domestic insurer involved and that such reinsurance if effectuated would not substantially reduce the protection or service to its policyholders. If the commissioner does not so approve, he shall so notify each insurer involved in writing specifying his reasons therefor.

(3) The plan and agreement for such reinsurance must be approved by vote of not less than two-thirds of each domestic mutual insurer's members voting thereon at meetings of members called for the purpose, pursuant to such reasonable notice and procedure as the commissioner may approve. If a life insurer, right to vote may be limited to members whose policies are other than term or group policies and have been in effect for more than 1 year.

(4) If for reinsurance of a mutual insurer in a stock insurer, the agreement must provide for payment in cash to each member of the insurer entitled thereto as upon conversion of such insurer, pursuant to 33-3-216, of his equity in the business reinsured as determined under a fair formula approved by the commissioner, which equity shall be based upon such member's equity in the reserves, assets (whether or not "admitted" assets), and surplus, if any, of the mutual insurer to be taken over by the stock insurer.

33-2-1216. Credit allowed domestic ceding insurer. (1) Credit for reinsurance is allowed to a domestic ceding insurer as either an asset or a deduction from liability on account of reinsurance ceded only when the reinsurer meets the requirements of subsection (2), (3), (4), (5), or (6). If the requirements of subsection (4) or (5) are met, the requirements of subsection (7) must also be met.

(2) Credit must be allowed when the reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer that is licensed to transact insurance or reinsurance in this state.

(3) Credit must be allowed when the reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer that is accredited as a reinsurer in this state. Credit may not be allowed a domestic ceding insurer if the assuming insurer's accreditation has been revoked by the commissioner after notice and hearing. An accredited reinsurer is one that:

(a) files with the commissioner evidence of its submission to this state's jurisdiction;

(b) submits to this state's authority to examine its books and records;

(c) is licensed to transact insurance or reinsurance in at least one state or, in the case of a United States branch of an alien assuming insurer, is entered through and licensed to transact insurance or reinsurance in at least one state;

(d) files annually with the commissioner a copy of its annual statement filed with the insurance department of its state of domicile and a copy of its most recent audited financial statement and either:

(i) maintains a surplus with regard to policyholders in an amount that is not less than $20 million and whose accreditation has not been denied by the commissioner within 90 days of its submission; or

(ii) maintains a surplus with regard to policyholders in an amount less than $20 million and whose accreditation has been approved by the commissioner.

(4) (a) Subject to subsection (4)(b), credit must be allowed when:

(i) the reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer that is domiciled and licensed in or, in the case of a United States branch of an alien assuming insurer, is entered through a state that employs standards regarding credit for reinsurance substantially similar to those applicable under this statute; and

(ii) the assuming insurer or the United States branch of an alien assuming insurer:

(A) maintains a surplus with regard to policyholders in an amount not less than $20 million; and

(B) submits to the authority of this state to examine its books and records.

(b) The requirement of subsection (4)(a)(i) does not apply to reinsurance ceded and assumed pursuant to pooling arrangements among insurers in the same holding company system.

(5) (a) Credit must be allowed when the reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer that maintains a trust fund in a qualified United States financial institution for the payment of the valid claims of its United States policyholders and ceding insurers and their assigns and successors in interest. The assuming insurer shall report annually to the commissioner information substantially the same as that required to be reported on the NAIC annual statement form by licensed insurers to enable the commissioner to determine the sufficiency of the trust fund.

(b) (i) In the case of a single assuming insurer, the trust must consist of a trusteed account representing the assuming insurer's liabilities attributable to business written in the United States, and in addition, the assuming insurer shall maintain a surplus with the trustee of not less than $20 million.

(ii) In the case of a group, including incorporated and individual unincorporated underwriters, the trust must consist of a trusteed account representing the group's liabilities attributable to business written in the United States, and in addition, the group shall maintain a surplus with the trustee of which $100 million must be held jointly for the benefit of United States ceding insurers of any member of the group.

(iii) The incorporated members of the group, as group members, may not be engaged in a business other than underwriting as members of the group and are subject to the same level of solvency regulation and control by the insurance regulator as the unincorporated members. The group shall make available to the commissioner an annual certification of the solvency of each underwriter by the insurance regulator and the independent public accountants in the jurisdiction where the underwriter is domiciled.

(iv) In the case of a group of incorporated insurers under common administration:

(A) the provisions of subsection (5)(b)(iv)(B) apply to the group that:

(I) complies with the reporting requirements contained in subsection (5)(a);

(II) has continuously transacted an insurance business outside the United States for at least 3 years immediately prior to making application for accreditation;

(III) submits to this state's authority to examine its books and records and bears the expense of the examination; and

(IV) has aggregate policyholders' surplus of $10 billion;

(B) (I) the trust must be in an amount equal to the group's several liabilities attributable to business ceded by United States ceding insurers to any member of the group pursuant to reinsurance contracts issued in the name of the group;

(II) the group shall maintain a joint surplus with a trustee of which $100 million is held jointly for the benefit of United States ceding insurers of any member of the group as additional security for any liabilities; and

(III) each member of the group shall make available to the commissioner an annual certification of the member's solvency by the insurance regulator and the independent public accountants in the jurisdiction where the underwriter is domiciled.

(c) The trust must be established in a form approved by the commissioner. The trust instrument must provide that contested claims are valid and enforceable upon the final order of any court of competent jurisdiction in the United States. The trust must vest legal title to its assets in the trustees of the trust for its United States policyholders and ceding insurers and their assigns and successors in interest. The trust and the assuming insurer are subject to examination as determined by the commissioner. The trust described in this subsection (c) must remain in effect for as long as the assuming insurer has outstanding obligations due under the reinsurance agreements subject to the trust.

(d) No later than February 28 of each year, the trustees of the trust shall report to the commissioner in writing setting forth the balance of the trust and listing the trust's investments at the end of the preceding year. The trustees shall certify the date of termination of the trust, if planned, or certify that the trust may not expire prior to the following December 31.

(6) Credit must be allowed when the reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer that does not meet the requirements of subsection (2), (3), (4), or (5) but only with respect to the insurance of risks located in a jurisdiction in which the reinsurance is required by applicable law or regulation of that jurisdiction.

(7) (a) If the assuming insurer is not licensed or accredited to transact insurance or reinsurance in this state, the credit permitted by subsections (4) and (5) may not be allowed unless the assuming insurer agrees in the reinsurance agreements:

(i) that in the event of the failure of the assuming insurer to perform its obligations under the terms of the reinsurance agreement, the assuming insurer, at the request of the ceding insurer, will:

(A) submit to the jurisdiction of any court of competent jurisdiction in any state of the United States;

(B) comply with all requirements necessary to give the court jurisdiction; and

(C) abide by the final decision of the court or of any appellate court in the event of an appeal; and

(ii) to designate the commissioner or a designated attorney as its attorney upon whom may be served any lawful process in any action, suit, or proceeding instituted by or on behalf of the ceding company.

(b) Subsection (7)(a)(i) is not intended to conflict with or override the obligation of the parties to a reinsurance agreement to arbitrate their disputes if an obligation is created in the agreement.

History: En. Sec. 28, Ch. 596, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 28, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-2-1217. Reduction of liability for reinsurance ceded by domestic insurer to assuming insurer — definition. A reduction from liability for the reinsurance ceded by a domestic insurer to an assuming insurer not meeting the requirements of 33-2-1216 must be allowed in an amount not exceeding the liabilities carried by the ceding insurer. The reduction must be in the amount of funds held by or on behalf of the ceding insurer, including funds held in trust for the ceding insurer:

(1) under a reinsurance contract with the assuming insurer as security for the payment of obligations under the contract if the security is held in the United States subject to withdrawal solely by and under the exclusive control of the ceding insurer; or

(2) in the case of a trust, in a qualified United States financial institution. This security may be in the form of:

(a) cash;

(b) securities listed by the securities valuation office of the NAIC and qualifying as admitted assets;

(c) clean, irrevocable, unconditional letters of credit that are issued or confirmed by a qualified United States financial institution no later than December 31 of the year for which filing is being made and that are in the possession of the ceding company on or before the filing date of its annual statement. Letters of credit meeting applicable standards of issuer acceptability as of the dates of their issuance or confirmation must, notwithstanding the issuing or confirming institution's subsequent failure to meet applicable standards of issuer acceptability, continue to be acceptable as security until their expiration, extension, renewal, modification, or amendment, whichever occurs first.

(d) any other form of security acceptable to the commissioner.

(3) For the purposes of subsection (2)(c), a "qualified United States financial institution" means an institution that:

(a) is organized or, in the case of a United States office of a foreign banking organization, licensed under the laws of the United States or any of its states;

(b) is regulated, supervised, and examined by United States federal or state authorities with regulatory authority over banks and trust companies; and

(c) has been determined by either the commissioner or the securities valuation office of the national association of insurance commissioners to meet the standards of financial condition and standing that are considered necessary and appropriate to regulate the quality of financial institutions whose letters of credit will be acceptable to the commissioner.

(4) For the purposes of this part, except for subsection (2)(c), "qualified United States financial institution" means, with respect to institutions eligible to act as a fiduciary of a trust, an institution that:

(a) is organized or, in the case of a United States branch or agency office of a foreign banking corporation, licensed under the laws of the United States or any of its states and that has been granted authority to operate with fiduciary powers; and

(b) is regulated, supervised, and examined by federal or state authorities having regulatory authority over banks and trust companies.

(5) The commissioner may adopt rules implementing the provisions of 33-2-307, 33-2-708, and chapter 12.

History: En. Sec. 29, Ch. 596, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 29, Ch. 379, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 43, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-2-1218. Reinsurance agreements affected. Sections 33-2-1216 and 33-2-1217 apply to all cessions after October 1, 1993, under reinsurance agreements that have had an inception, anniversary, or renewal date on or after April 1, 1993.

History: En. Sec. 30, Ch. 596, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 30, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

Part 13
Supervision, Rehabilitation, and Liquidation

Part Cross-References

Notice to Attorney General — court action by state agency, 25-1-501.

33-2-1301. Short title. This part shall be cited as the "Insurers Supervision, Rehabilitation, and Liquidation Act".

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1302. Construction and purpose. (1) This part may not be interpreted to limit the powers granted the commissioner by other provisions of the law.

(2) This part shall be liberally construed to effect the purpose stated in subsection (3).

(3) The purpose of this part is the protection of the interests of insureds, claimants, creditors, and the public generally, with minimum interference with the normal prerogatives of the owners and managers of insurers, through:

(a) early detection of any potentially dangerous condition in an insurer and prompt application of appropriate corrective measures;

(b) improved methods for rehabilitating insurers, involving the cooperation and management expertise of the insurance industry;

(c) enhanced efficiency and economy of liquidation, through clarification of the law, to minimize legal uncertainty and litigation;

(d) equitable apportionment of any unavoidable loss;

(e) lessening the problems of interstate rehabilitation and liquidation by facilitating cooperation between states in the liquidation process and by extending the scope of personal jurisdiction over debtors of the insurer outside this state; and

(f) regulation of the insurance business by the impact of the law relating to delinquency procedures and substantive rules on the entire insurance business.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1303. Definitions. For the purposes of this part the following definitions apply:

(1) "Ancillary state" means any state other than a domiciliary state.

(2) "Commissioner" means the commissioner of insurance of this state.

(3) "Creditor" is a person having any claim, whether matured or unmatured, liquidated or unliquidated, secured or unsecured, absolute, fixed, or contingent.

(4) "Delinquency proceeding" means any proceeding instituted against an insurer for the purpose of liquidating, rehabilitating, reorganizing, or conserving such insurer and any summary proceeding under 33-2-1321 or 33-2-1322. "Formal delinquency proceeding" means any liquidation or rehabilitation proceeding.

(5) "Doing business" includes any of the following acts, whether effected by mail or otherwise:

(a) the issuance or delivery of contracts of insurance to persons resident in this state;

(b) the solicitation of applications for such contracts or other negotiations preliminary to the execution of such contracts;

(c) the collection of premiums, membership fees, assessments, or other consideration for such contracts;

(d) the transaction of matters subsequent to execution of such contracts and arising out of them; or

(e) operating under a license or certificate of authority, as an insurer, issued by the commissioner.

(6) "Domiciliary state" means the state in which an insurer is incorporated or organized or, in the case of an alien insurer, its state of entry.

(7) "Fair consideration" is given for property or obligation:

(a) when in exchange for such property or obligation, as a fair equivalent therefor and in good faith, property is conveyed or services are rendered or an obligation is incurred or an antecedent debt is satisfied; or

(b) when such property or obligation is received in good faith to secure a present advance or antecedent debt in amount not disproportionately small as compared to the value of the property or obligation obtained.

(8) "Foreign country" means any other jurisdiction not in any state.

(9) "General assets" means all property, real, personal, or otherwise, not specifically mortgaged, pledged, deposited, or otherwise encumbered for the security or benefit of specified persons or classes of persons. As to specifically encumbered property, "general assets" includes all such property or its proceeds in excess of the amount necessary to discharge the sum or sums secured thereby. Assets held in trust and on deposit for the security or benefit of all policyholders or all policyholders and creditors, in more than a single state, shall be treated as general assets.

(10) "Guaranty association" means the Montana insurance guaranty association, the workers' compensation security fund, the Montana life and health insurance guaranty association, and any other similar entity now or hereafter created by the legislature of this state for the payment of claims of insolvent insurers. "Foreign guaranty association" means any similar entities now in existence in or hereafter created by the legislature of any other state.

(11) (a) "Insolvency" or "insolvent" means:

(i) for an insurer issuing only assessable fire insurance policies, the inability to pay any obligation within 30 days after it becomes payable; or

(ii) for any other insurer, the inability to pay its obligations when they are due or when its admitted assets do not exceed its liabilities plus the greater of:

(A) any capital and surplus required by law for its organization; or

(B) the total par or stated value of its authorized and issued capital stock;

(iii) as to any insurer licensed to do business in this state as of July 1, 1979, which does not meet the standard established under subsection (11)(a)(ii), for a period not to exceed 3 years from July 1, 1979, the inability to pay its obligations when they are due or that its admitted assets do not exceed its liabilities plus any required capital contribution ordered by the commissioner under provisions of the insurance law.

(b) For purposes of this subsection "liabilities" include but are not limited to reserves required by statute or by the commissioner upon a subject company at the time of admission or subsequent thereto.

(12) "Insurer" means any person who has done, purports to do, is doing, or is licensed to do insurance business and is or has been subject to the authority of or to liquidation, rehabilitation, reorganization, supervision, or conservation by any insurance commissioner. Any other persons included under 33-2-1304 are considered to be insurers.

(13) "Preferred claim" means any claim with respect to which the terms of this part accord priority of payment from the general assets of the insurer.

(14) "Receiver" means receiver, liquidator, rehabilitator, or conservator as the context requires.

(15) "Reciprocal state" means any state other than this state in which in substance and effect 33-2-1342(1), 33-2-1381, 33-2-1382, and 33-2-1384 through 33-2-1386 are in force and in which provisions are in force requiring that the commissioner or equivalent official be the receiver of a delinquent insurer and in which some provision exists for the avoidance of fraudulent conveyances and preferential transfers.

(16) "Secured claim" means any claim secured by mortgage, trust deed, pledge, deposit as security, escrow, or otherwise, but not including special deposit claims or claims against general assets. The term also includes claims which have become liens upon specific assets by reason of judicial process.

(17) "Special deposit claim" means any claim secured by a deposit made pursuant to statute for the security or benefit of a limited class of persons, but not including any claim secured by general assets.

(18) "State" means any state, district, or territory of the United States.

(19) "Transfer" includes the sale and every other mode, direct or indirect, of disposing of or parting with property or with an interest therein or with the possession thereof or fixing a lien upon property or upon an interest therein, absolutely or conditionally, voluntarily, by or without judicial proceedings. The retention of a security title to property delivered to a debtor is considered a transfer suffered by the debtor.

33-2-1305. Who may bring action — procedure exclusive. (1) No delinquency proceeding may be commenced under this part by anyone other than the commissioner, and no court shall have jurisdiction to entertain, hear, or determine any proceeding commenced by any other person.

(2) No court of this state has jurisdiction to entertain, hear, or determine any complaint praying for the dissolution, liquidation, rehabilitation, sequestration, conservation, or receivership of any insurer or praying for an injunction or restraining order or other relief preliminary to, incidental to, or relating to such proceedings other than in accordance with this part.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1306. Personal jurisdiction. In addition to other grounds for jurisdiction provided by the law of this state, a court of this state having jurisdiction of the subject matter has jurisdiction over a person served pursuant to the Montana Rules of Civil Procedure or other applicable provisions of law in an action brought by the receiver of a domestic insurer or an alien insurer domiciled in this state:

(1) if the person served is obligated to the insurer in any way as an incident to any agency or brokerage arrangement that may exist or has existed between the insurer and the insurance producer or broker in any action on or incident to the obligation;

(2) if the person served is a reinsurer who has at any time written a policy of reinsurance for an insurer against which a rehabilitation or liquidation order is in effect when the action is commenced or is an insurance producer or broker of or for the reinsurer in any action on or incident to the reinsurance contract; or

(3) if the person served is or has been an officer, manager, trustee, organizer, promoter, or person in a position of comparable authority or influence in an insurer against which a rehabilitation or liquidation order is in effect when the action is commenced in any action resulting from such a relationship with the insurer.

(a) the transaction of further business;

(b) the transfer of property;

(c) interference with the receiver or with a proceeding under this part;

(d) waste of the insurer's assets;

(e) dissipation and transfer of bank accounts;

(f) the institution or further prosecution of any actions or proceedings;

(g) the obtaining of preferences, judgments, attachments, garnishments, or liens against the insurer, its assets, or its policyholders;

(h) the levying of execution against the insurer, its assets, or its policyholders;

(i) the making of any sale or deed for nonpayment of taxes or assessments that would lessen the value of the assets of the insurer;

(j) the withholding from the receiver of books, accounts, documents, or other records relating to the business of the insurer; or

(k) any other threatened or contemplated action that might lessen the value of the insurer's assets or prejudice the rights of policyholders, creditors, or shareholders or the administration of any proceeding under this part.

(2) The receiver may apply to any court outside of the state for the relief described in subsection (1).

33-2-1310. Cooperation of officers, owners, and employees. (1) Any officer, manager, director, trustee, owner, employee, or insurance producer of any insurer or any other persons with authority over or in charge of any segment of the insurer's affairs shall cooperate with the commissioner in any proceeding under this part or any investigation preliminary to the proceeding. The term "person" as used in this section includes any person who exercises control directly or indirectly over activities of an insurer through any holding company or other affiliate of the insurer. "To cooperate" includes but is not limited to the following:

(a) replying promptly in writing to any inquiry from the commissioner requesting such a reply; and

(b) making available to the commissioner any books, accounts, documents, or other records or information or property of or pertaining to the insurer and in his possession, custody, or control.

(2) No person may obstruct or interfere with the commissioner in the conduct of any delinquency proceeding or any investigation preliminary or incidental thereto.

(3) This section shall not be construed to abridge otherwise existing legal rights, including the right to resist a petition for liquidation or other delinquency proceedings or other orders.

(4) Any person included within subsection (1) who fails to cooperate with the commissioner or any person who obstructs or interferes with the commissioner in the conduct of any delinquency proceeding or any investigation preliminary or incidental thereto or who violates any order the commissioner issued validly under this part may:

(a) be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding $10,000 or to undergo imprisonment for a term of not more than 1 year, or both; or

(b) after a hearing, be subject to the imposition by the commissioner of a civil penalty not to exceed $10,000 and to the revocation or suspension of any insurance licenses issued by the commissioner.

33-2-1321. Commissioner's summary orders and supervision proceedings. (1) Whenever the commissioner determines, after a hearing held under subsection (5), that any domestic insurer has committed or engaged in or is about to commit or engage in any act, practice, or transaction that would subject it to delinquency proceedings under this part, he may make and serve upon the insurer and any other persons involved such orders as are reasonably necessary to correct or eliminate such conduct.

(2) If upon examination or at any other time the commissioner determines that any domestic insurer is in such condition as to render the continuance of its business hazardous to the public or to holders of its policies or certificates of insurance or if such domestic insurer gives its consent, then the commissioner shall notify the insurer of his determination and furnish to the insurer a written list of the commissioner's requirements to abate his determination.

(3) If the commissioner makes a determination to supervise an insurer subject to an order under subsection (1) or (2), he shall notify the insurer that it is under the supervision of the commissioner. During the period of supervision, the commissioner may appoint a supervisor to supervise such insurer. The order appointing a supervisor shall direct the supervisor to enforce orders issued under subsections (1) and (2) and may also require that the insurer may not do any of the following things during the period of supervision without the prior approval of the commissioner or the supervisor:

(a) dispose of, convey, or encumber any of its assets or its business in force;

(b) withdraw from any of its bank accounts;

(c) lend any of its funds;

(d) invest any of its funds;

(e) incur any debt, obligation, or liability;

(f) merge or consolidate with another company; or

(g) enter into any new reinsurance contract or treaty.

(4) Any insurer subject to an order under this section shall comply with the lawful requirements of the commissioner and, if placed under supervision, has 60 days from the date the supervision order is served within which to comply with the requirements of the commissioner. If the insurer fails to comply within that time, the commissioner may institute proceedings under 33-2-1331 or 33-2-1341 to have a rehabilitator or liquidator appointed or extend the period of supervision.

(5) The notice of hearing under subsection (1) and any order issued pursuant to such subsection shall be served upon the insurer pursuant to the applicable rules of civil or administrative procedure. The notice of hearing shall state the time and place of hearing and the conduct, condition, or ground upon which the commissioner would base his order. Unless mutually agreed between the commissioner and the insurer, the hearing shall occur not less than 10 days or more than 30 days after notice is served and shall be either in Lewis and Clark County or in some other place convenient to the parties to be designated by the commissioner. The commissioner shall hold all hearings under subsection (1) privately unless the insurer requests a public hearing, in which case the hearing shall be public.

(6) (a) Any insurer subject to an order under subsection (2) may request a hearing to review that order. Such a hearing shall be held as provided in subsection (5), but the request for a hearing shall not stay the effect of the order.

(b) If the commissioner issues an order under subsection (2), the insurer may, at any time, waive a commissioner's hearing and apply for immediate judicial relief by means of any remedy afforded by law without first exhausting administrative remedies. Subsequent to a hearing, any party to the proceedings whose interests are substantially affected shall be entitled to judicial review of any order issued by the commissioner.

(7) During the period of supervision the insurer may request the commissioner to review an action taken or proposed to be taken by the supervisor, specifying wherein the action complained of is believed not to be in the best interest of the insurer.

(8) If any person has violated any supervision order issued under this section which as to him was then still in effect, he is subject to a civil penalty imposed by the district court not to exceed $10,000.

(9) The commissioner may apply for and any court of general jurisdiction may grant such restraining orders, preliminary and permanent injunctions, and other orders as may be necessary to enforce a supervision order.

(10) If any person subject to the provisions of this part, including any person described in 33-2-1310(1), knowingly violates any valid order of the commissioner issued under the provisions of this section and, as a result of such violation, the net worth of the insurer is reduced or the insurer suffers loss it would not otherwise have suffered, said person is personally liable to the insurer for the amount of any such reduction or loss. The commissioner or supervisor is authorized to bring an action on behalf of the insurer in the district court to recover the amount of the reduction or loss together with any costs.

33-2-1322. Court's seizure order. (1) The commissioner may file in a district court of this state a petition alleging, with respect to a domestic insurer:

(a) that there exist grounds that would justify a court order for a formal delinquency proceeding against an insurer under this part;

(b) that the interests of policyholders, creditors, or the public will be endangered by delay; and

(c) the contents of an order considered necessary by the commissioner.

(2) Upon a filing under subsection (1), the court may issue forthwith, ex parte and without a hearing, the requested order which shall direct the commissioner to take possession and control of all or a part of the property, books, accounts, documents, and other records of an insurer and of the premises occupied by it for transaction of its business and until further order of the court enjoin the insurer and its officers, managers, insurance producers, and employees from disposition of its property and from transaction of its business except with the written consent of the commissioner.

(3) The court shall specify in the order what its duration shall be, which shall be such time as the court considers necessary for the commissioner to ascertain the condition of the insurer. On motion of either party or on its own motion, the court may from time to time hold such hearings as it considers desirable after such notice as it considers appropriate and may extend, shorten, or modify the terms of the seizure order. The court shall vacate the seizure order if the commissioner fails to commence a formal proceeding under this part after having had a reasonable opportunity to do so. An order of the court pursuant to a formal proceeding under this part shall ipso facto vacate the seizure order.

(4) Entry of a seizure order under this section shall not constitute an anticipatory breach of any contract of the insurer.

(5) An insurer subject to an ex parte order under this section may petition the court at any time after the issuance of such order for a hearing and review of the order. The court shall hold such a hearing and review not more than 15 days after the request. A hearing under this subsection may be held privately in chambers, and it shall be so held if the insurer proceeded against so requests.

(6) If, at any time after the issuance of such an order, it appears to the court that any person whose interest is or will be substantially affected by the order did not appear at the hearing and has not been served, the court may order that notice be given. An order that notice be given shall not stay the effect of any order previously issued by the court.

In all proceedings and judicial reviews under 33-2-1321 and 33-2-1322, all records of the insurer, other documents, and all files and court records and papers of the commissioner, so far as they pertain to or are a part of the record of the proceedings, remain confidential except as necessary to obtain compliance therewith, unless the district court, after hearing arguments from the parties in chambers, orders otherwise or unless the insurer requests that the matter be made public. Until such court order, all papers filed with the clerk of the district court shall be held by him in a confidential file.

33-2-1331. Grounds for rehabilitation. The commissioner may apply by petition to a district court for an order authorizing the commissioner to rehabilitate a domestic insurer or an alien insurer domiciled in this state on any one or more of the following grounds:

(1) The insurer is in such condition that the further transaction of business would be financially hazardous to its policyholders, creditors, or the public.

(2) There is reasonable cause to believe that there has been embezzlement from the insurer, wrongful sequestration or diversion of the insurer's assets, forgery or fraud affecting the insurer, or other illegal conduct in, by, or with respect to the insurer that if established would endanger assets in an amount threatening the solvency of the insurer.

(3) The insurer has failed to remove any person who in fact has executive authority in the insurer, whether an officer, manager, general insurance producer, employee, or other person, if the person has been found after notice and hearing by the commissioner to be dishonest or untrustworthy in a way affecting the insurer's business.

(4) Control of the insurer, whether by stock ownership or otherwise and whether direct or indirect, is in a person found after notice and hearing to be untrustworthy.

(5) Any person who in fact has executive authority in the insurer, whether an officer, manager, general insurance producer, director or trustee, employee, or other person, has refused to be examined under oath by the commissioner concerning its affairs, whether in this state or elsewhere, and after reasonable notice of the fact the insurer has failed promptly and effectively to terminate the employment and status of the person and the person's influence on management.

(6) After demand by the commissioner under 33-1-408 or under this part, the insurer has failed to promptly make available for examination any of its own property, books, accounts, documents, or other records or those of any subsidiary or related company within the control of the insurer or those of any person having executive authority in the insurer so far as they pertain to the insurer.

(7) Without first obtaining the written consent of the commissioner, the insurer has transferred or attempted to transfer, in a manner contrary to chapter 2, part 11, or chapter 2, part 12, of Title 33, substantially its entire property or business or has entered into any transaction the effect of which is to merge, consolidate, or reinsure substantially its entire property or business in or with the property or business of any other person.

(8) The insurer or its property has been or is the subject of an application for the appointment of a receiver, trustee, custodian, conservator, or sequestrator or similar fiduciary of the insurer or its property otherwise than as authorized under the insurance laws of this state, and the appointment has been made or is imminent, and the appointment might oust the courts of this state of jurisdiction or might prejudice orderly delinquency proceedings under this part.

(9) Within the previous 4 years the insurer has willfully violated its charter or articles of incorporation, its bylaws, any insurance law of this state, or any valid order of the commissioner under 33-2-1321.

(10) The insurer has failed to pay within 60 days after the due date any obligation to any state or any subdivision of the state or any judgment entered in any state, if the court in which the judgment was entered had jurisdiction over the subject matter, except that nonpayment may not be a ground until 60 days after any good faith effort by the insurer to contest the obligation has been terminated, whether it is before the commissioner or in the courts, or the insurer has systematically attempted to compromise or renegotiate previously agreed settlements with its creditors on the ground that it is financially unable to pay its obligations in full.

(11) The insurer has failed to file its annual report or other financial report required by statute within the time allowed by law and, after written demand by the commissioner, has failed to give an adequate explanation immediately.

(12) The board of directors or the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote request or consent to rehabilitation under this part.

33-2-1332. Rehabilitation orders. (1) An order to rehabilitate the business of a domestic insurer or an alien insurer domiciled in this state shall appoint the commissioner the rehabilitator and shall direct the rehabilitator forthwith to take possession of the assets of the insurer and to administer them under the general supervision of the court. The filing or recording of the order with the clerk of the district court or clerk and recorder of the county in which the principal business of the company is conducted or the county in which its principal office or place of business is located shall impart the same notice as a deed, bill of sale, or other evidence of title duly filed or recorded with the county clerk and recorder would have imparted. The order to rehabilitate the insurer shall by operation of law vest title to all assets of the insurer in the rehabilitator.

(2) Any order issued under this section shall require accounting to the court by the rehabilitator. Accountings shall be at such intervals as the court specifies in its order.

(3) Entry of an order of rehabilitation does not constitute an anticipatory breach of any contracts of the insurer.

33-2-1333. Powers and duties of the rehabilitator. (1) The commissioner as rehabilitator may appoint one or more special deputies, who shall have all the powers and responsibilities of the rehabilitator granted under this section, and the commissioner may employ counsel, clerks, and assistants. The compensation of the special deputy, counsel, clerks, and assistants and all expenses of taking possession of the insurer and of conducting the proceedings shall be fixed by the commissioner with the approval of the court and shall be paid out of the funds or assets of the insurer. The persons appointed under this section shall serve at the pleasure of the commissioner. If the property of the insurer does not contain sufficient cash or liquid assets to defray the costs incurred, the commissioner may advance the costs so incurred out of any appropriation for the maintenance of his office. Any amounts so advanced for expenses of administration shall be repaid to the commissioner for the use of his office out of the first available money of the insurer.

(2) The rehabilitator may take such action as necessary to reform and revitalize the insurer. He shall have all the powers of the directors, officers, and managers, whose authority shall be suspended, except as they are redelegated by the rehabilitator. He shall have full power to direct and manage, to hire and discharge employees subject to any contract rights they may have, and to deal with the property and business of the insurer.

(3) If it appears to the rehabilitator that there has been criminal or tortious conduct or breach of any contractual or fiduciary obligation detrimental to the insurer by any officer, manager, insurance producer, broker, employee, or other person, he may pursue all appropriate legal remedies on behalf of the insurer.

(4) If the rehabilitator determines that reorganization, consolidation, conversion, reinsurance, merger, or other transformation of the insurer is appropriate, he shall prepare a plan to effect such changes. Upon application of the rehabilitator for approval of the plan and after such notice and hearings as the court may prescribe, the court may either approve or disapprove the plan proposed or may modify it and approve it as modified. Any plan approved under this section must be, in the judgment of the court, fair and equitable to all parties concerned. If the plan is approved, the rehabilitator shall carry out the plan. In the case of a life insurer, the plan proposed may include the imposition of liens upon the policies of the company if all rights of shareholders are first relinquished. A plan for a life insurer may also propose imposition of a moratorium upon loan and cash surrender rights under policies for such period and to such an extent as may be necessary.

(5) The rehabilitator shall have the power under 33-2-1351 and 33-2-1352 to avoid fraudulent transfers.

33-2-1334. Effect of proceedings on pending and potential litigation. (1) Any court in this state before which any action or proceeding in which the insurer is a party or is obligated to defend a party is pending when a rehabilitation order against the insurer is entered shall stay the action or proceeding for 90 days and such additional time as is necessary for the rehabilitator to obtain proper representation and prepare for further proceedings. The rehabilitator shall take such action respecting the pending litigation as he considers necessary in the interests of justice and for the protection of creditors, policyholders, and the public. The rehabilitator shall immediately consider all litigation pending outside this state and shall petition the courts having jurisdiction over that litigation for stays whenever necessary to protect the estate of the insurer.

(2) No statute of limitations or defense of laches shall run with respect to any action by or against an insurer between the filing of a petition for appointment of a rehabilitator for that insurer and the order granting or denying that petition. Any action by or against the insurer that might have been commenced when the petition was filed may be commenced for at least 60 days after the order of rehabilitation is entered or the petition is denied.

33-2-1336. Termination of rehabilitation. (1) Whenever the commissioner believes further attempts to rehabilitate an insurer would substantially increase the risk of loss to creditors, policyholders, or the public or would be futile, the commissioner may petition the district court for an order of liquidation. A petition under this subsection shall have the same effect as a petition under 33-2-1341. The district court shall permit the directors of the insurer to take such actions as are reasonably necessary to defend against the petition and may order payment from the estate of the insurer of such costs and other expenses of defense as justice may require.

(2) The rehabilitator may at any time petition the district court for an order terminating rehabilitation of an insurer. The court shall also permit the directors of the insurer to petition the court for an order terminating rehabilitation of the insurer and may order payment from the estate of the insurer of such costs and other expenses of such petition as justice may require. If the court finds that rehabilitation has been accomplished and that grounds for rehabilitation under 33-2-1331 no longer exist, it shall order that the insurer be restored to possession of its property and the control of the business. The district court may also make that finding and issue that order at any time upon its own motion.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1337 through 33-2-1340 reserved.

33-2-1341. Grounds for liquidation. The commissioner may petition the district court for an order directing him to liquidate a domestic insurer or an alien insurer domiciled in this state on the basis:

(1) of any ground for an order of rehabilitation as specified in 33-2-1331, whether or not there has been a prior order directing the rehabilitation of the insurer;

(2) that the insurer is insolvent; or

(3) that the insurer is in such condition that the further transaction of business would be hazardous, financially or otherwise, to its policyholders, its creditors, or the public.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1342. Liquidation orders. (1) An order to liquidate the business of a domestic insurer must appoint the commissioner and the commissioner's successors in office liquidator and shall direct the liquidator to take possession of the assets of the insurer and to administer them under the general supervision of the court. The liquidator shall be vested by operation of law with the title to all of the property, contracts, and rights of action and all of the books and records of the insurer ordered liquidated, wherever located, as of the entry of the final order of liquidation. The filing or recording of the order with the clerk of the district court and the clerk and recorder of the county in which its principal office or place of business is located or, in the case of real estate, with the clerk and recorder of the county where the property is located shall impart the same notice as a deed, bill of sale, or other evidence of title duly filed or recorded with that clerk and recorder would have imparted.

(2) Upon issuance of the order, the rights and liabilities of any insurer and of its creditors, policyholders, shareholders, members, and all other persons interested in its estate become fixed as of the date of entry of the order of liquidation, except as provided in 33-2-1343 and 33-2-1366.

(3) An order to liquidate the business of an alien insurer domiciled in this state must be in the same terms and have the same legal effect as an order to liquidate a domestic insurer, except that the assets and the business in the United States are the only assets and business included in the order.

(4) At the time of petitioning for an order of liquidation or at any time after petitioning, the commissioner, after making appropriate findings of an insurer's insolvency, may petition the court for a judicial declaration of insolvency. After providing notice and hearing as it considers proper, the court may make the declaration.

(5) Any order issued under this section must require accounting to the court by the liquidator. Accountings must be at intervals as the court specifies in its order.

(6) (a) Within 5 days after the initiation of an appeal of an order of liquidation that has not been stayed, the commissioner shall present for the court's approval a plan for the continued performance of the defendant company's policy claims obligations, including the duty to defend insureds under liability insurance policies, during the pendency of an appeal. The plan must provide for the continued performance and payment of policy claims obligations in the normal course of events, notwithstanding the grounds alleged in support of the order of liquidation, including the ground of insolvency. In the event that the defendant company's financial condition will not, in the judgment of the commissioner, support the full performance of all policy claims obligations during the appeal pendency period, the plan may prefer the claims of certain policyholders and claimants over creditors and interested parties, as well as other policyholders and claimants, as the commissioner finds to be fair and equitable, considering the relative circumstances of the policyholders and claimants. The court shall examine the plan submitted by the commissioner, and if it finds the plan to be in the best interests of the parties, the court shall approve the plan. An action does not lie against the commissioner or any of the commissioner's deputies, agents, clerks, assistants, or attorneys by any party based on preference in an appeal pendency plan approved by the court.

(b) The appeal pendency plan may not supersede or affect the obligations of any insurance guaranty association.

(c) A plan must provide for equitable adjustments to be made by the liquidator to any distributions of assets to guaranty associations, in the event that the liquidator pays claims from assets of the estate, which would otherwise be the obligations of any particular guaranty association but for the appeal of the order of liquidation, so that all guaranty associations equally benefit on a pro rata basis from the assets of the estate. If an order of liquidation is set aside upon any appeal, the company may not be released from delinquency proceedings unless all funds advanced by any guaranty association, including reasonable administrative expenses that relate to obligations of the company, have been repaid in full, together with interest at the judgment rate of interest, or unless an arrangement for repayment has been made with the consent of all applicable guaranty associations.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 383, L. 1979; amd. Sec. 51, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1343. Continuance of policy coverage. (1) All policies, other than life or health insurance or annuities, in effect at the time of issuance of an order of liquidation shall continue in force only for the lesser of:

(a) a period of 30 days from the date of entry of the liquidation orders;

(b) the expiration of the policy coverage;

(c) the date when the insured has replaced the insurance coverage with equivalent insurance in another insurer or otherwise terminated the policy; or

(d) the liquidator has effected a transfer of the policy obligation pursuant to 33-2-1345(1)(h).

(2) An order of liquidation under 33-2-1342 terminates coverages at the time specified in subsection (1) for purposes of any other statute.

(3) Policies of life or health insurance or annuities continue in force for such period and under such terms as provided by any applicable guaranty association or foreign guaranty association.

(4) Policies of life or health insurance or annuities or any period or coverage of such policies not covered by a guaranty association or foreign guaranty association shall terminate under subsections (1) and (2).

33-2-1344. Dissolution of insurer. The commissioner may petition for an order dissolving the corporate existence of a domestic insurer or the United States branch of an alien insurer domiciled in this state at the time he applies for a liquidation order. The court shall order dissolution of the corporation upon petition by the commissioner upon or after the granting of a liquidation order. If the dissolution has not previously been ordered, it shall be effected by operation of law upon the discharge of the liquidator if the insurer is insolvent but may be ordered by the court upon the discharge of the liquidator if the insurer is under a liquidation order for some other reason.

History: En. Sec. 20, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1345. Powers of liquidator. (1) The liquidator may:

(a) appoint a special deputy to act for him under this part and determine his reasonable compensation. The special deputy has all powers of the liquidator granted by this section. The special deputy shall serve at the pleasure of the liquidator.

(b) employ insurance producers, legal counsel, actuaries, accountants, appraisers, consultants, and other personnel necessary to assist in the liquidation;

(c) fix the reasonable compensation of employees and insurance producers, legal counsel, actuaries, accountants, appraisers, and consultants with the approval of the court;

(d) pay reasonable compensation to persons appointed and defray from the funds or assets of the insurer all expenses of taking possession of, conserving, conducting, liquidating, disposing of, or otherwise dealing with the business and property of the insurer. If the property of the insurer does not contain sufficient cash or liquid assets to defray the costs incurred, the commissioner may advance the costs so incurred out of any appropriation for the maintenance of the commissioner's office. Any amounts so advanced for expenses of administration shall be repaid to the commissioner for the use of his office out of the first available money of the insurer.

(e) hold hearings, subpoena witnesses to compel their attendance, administer oaths, examine any person under oath, and compel any person to subscribe to his testimony after it has been correctly reduced to writing and in connection therewith require the production of any books, papers, records, or other documents which he considers relevant to the inquiry;

(f) collect all debts and money due and claims belonging to the insurer, wherever located, and for this purpose:

(i) institute timely action in other jurisdictions in order to forestall garnishment and attachment proceedings against such debts;

(ii) do such other acts as are necessary to collect, conserve, or protect its assets or property, including selling, compounding, compromising, or assigning debts for collection purposes on such terms and conditions as he considers best; and

(iii) pursue any creditor's remedies available to enforce his claims;

(g) conduct public and private sales of the property of the insurer;

(h) use assets of the estate of an insurer under a liquidation order to transfer policy obligations to a solvent assuming insurer if the transfer can be arranged without prejudice to applicable priorities under 33-2-1371;

(i) acquire, encumber, lease, improve, sell, or transfer any property of the insurer at its market value or upon such terms and conditions as are fair and reasonable. He shall also have power to execute, acknowledge, and deliver any and all deeds, assignments, releases, and other instruments necessary or proper to effectuate any sale of property or other transaction in connection with the liquidation.

(j) borrow money on the security of the insurer's assets or without security and execute and deliver all documents necessary to that transaction for the purpose of facilitating the liquidation;

(k) enter into such contracts as are necessary to carry out the order to liquidate and affirm or disavow any contracts to which the insurer is a party;

(l) continue to prosecute and institute in the name of the insurer or in his own name any and all suits and other legal proceedings, in this state or elsewhere, and abandon the prosecution of claims he considers unprofitable to pursue further. If the insurer is dissolved under 33-2-1344, he shall have the power to apply to any court in this state or elsewhere for leave to substitute himself for the insurer as plaintiff.

(m) prosecute any action which may exist in behalf of the creditors, members, policyholders, or shareholders of the insurer against any officer of the insurer or any other person;

(n) remove any or all records and property of the insurer to the offices of the commissioner or to such other place as may be convenient for the purposes of efficient and orderly execution of the liquidation. Guaranty associations and foreign guaranty associations shall have such reasonable access to the records of the insurer as is necessary for them to carry out their statutory obligations.

(o) deposit in one or more banks in this state such sums as are required for meeting current administration expenses and dividend distributions;

(p) invest all sums not currently needed, unless the court orders otherwise;

(q) file any necessary documents for record in the office of any county clerk and recorder in this state or elsewhere where property of the insurer is located;

(r) assert all defenses available to the insurer as against third persons, including statutes of limitation, statutes of frauds, and the defense of usury. A waiver of any defense by the insurer after a petition in liquidation has been filed shall not bind the liquidator. Whenever a guaranty association or foreign guaranty association has an obligation to defend any suit, the liquidator shall give precedence to such obligation and may defend only in the absence of a defense by such guaranty associations.

(s) exercise and enforce all the rights, remedies, and powers of any creditor, shareholder, policyholder, or member, including any power to avoid any transfer or lien that may be given by the general law and that is not included with 33-2-1351 through 33-2-1357;

(t) intervene in any proceeding wherever instituted that might lead to the appointment of a receiver or trustee and act as the receiver or trustee whenever the appointment is offered;

(u) enter into agreements with any receiver or commissioner of any other state relating to the rehabilitation, liquidation, conservation, or dissolution of an insurer doing business in both states;

(v) exercise all powers now held or hereafter conferred upon receivers by the laws of this state not inconsistent with the provisions of this part.

(2) The enumeration in this section of the powers and authority of the liquidator shall not be construed as a limitation upon him, nor shall it exclude in any manner his right to do such other acts not herein specifically enumerated or otherwise provided for as may be necessary for the accomplishment of or in aid of the purpose of liquidation.

33-2-1346. Notice to creditors and others. (1) Unless the court otherwise directs, the liquidator shall give or cause to be given notice of the liquidation order as soon as possible:

(a) by first-class mail and either by telegram or telephone to the insurance commissioner of each jurisdiction in which the insurer is doing business;

(b) by first-class mail to any guaranty association or foreign guaranty association which is or may become obligated as a result of the liquidation;

(c) by first-class mail to all insurance producers of the insurer;

(d) by first-class mail to all persons known or reasonably expected to have claims against the insurer, including all policyholders, at their last-known address as indicated by the records of the insurer; and

(e) by publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the insurer has its principal place of business and in other locations that the liquidator considers appropriate.

(2) Notice to potential claimants under subsection (1) requires claimants to file with the liquidator their claims together with proper proofs of the claims under 33-2-1365, on or before a date the liquidator specifies in the notice. The liquidator need not require persons claiming cash surrender values or other investment values in life insurance and annuities to file a claim. All claimants have a duty to keep the liquidator informed of any changes of address.

(3) (a) Notice under subsection (1) to insurance producers of the insurer and to potential claimants who are policyholders must include, when applicable, notice that coverage by state guaranty associations may be available for all or part of policy benefits in accordance with applicable state guaranty laws.

(b) The liquidator shall promptly provide to the guaranty associations information concerning the identities and addresses of the policyholders and their policy coverages as is within the liquidator's possession or control and shall otherwise cooperate with guaranty associations to assist them in providing to the policyholders timely notice of the guaranty associations' coverage of policy benefits, including coverage of claims and continuation or termination of coverages.

(4) If notice is given in accordance with this section, the distribution of assets of the insurer under this part is conclusive with respect to all claimants, whether or not they received notice.

33-2-1347. Duty of insurance producers to give notice. (1) Every person who receives notice in the form prescribed in 33-2-1346 that an insurer which he represents as an insurance producer is the subject of a liquidation order shall within 15 days of such notice give notice of the liquidation order. The notice shall be sent by first-class mail to the last address contained in the insurance producer's records to each policyholder or other person named in any policy issued through the insurance producer by the insurer if he has a record of the address of the policyholder or other person. A policy shall be considered issued through an insurance producer if the insurance producer has a property interest in the expiration of the policy or if the insurance producer has had in his possession a copy of the declarations of the policy at any time during the life of the policy, except where the ownership of the expiration of the policy has been transferred to another. The written notice shall include the name and address of the insurer, the name and address of the insurance producer, identification of the policy impaired, and the nature of the impairment, including termination of coverage as described in 33-2-1343. Notice by a general insurance producer satisfies the notice requirement for any insurance producers under contract to him. Each insurance producer obligated to give notice under this section shall file a report of compliance with the liquidator.

(2) Any insurance producer failing to give notice or file a report of compliance as required in subsection (1) may be subject to payment of a penalty of not more than $1,000 and may have his license suspended, after a hearing held by the commissioner.

(3) The liquidator may waive the duties imposed by this section if he determines that other notice to the policyholders of the insurer under liquidation is adequate.

33-2-1348. Effect of proceedings on pending and potential litigation — actions by liquidator. (1) Upon issuance of an order appointing a liquidator of a domestic insurer or of an alien insurer domiciled in this state, no action at law or equity may be brought against the insurer or liquidator, whether in this state or elsewhere, nor shall any such existing actions be maintained or further presented after issuance of such order. The courts of this state shall give full faith and credit to injunctions against the liquidator or the company or the continuation of existing actions against the liquidator or the company when such injunctions are included in an order to liquidate an insurer issued pursuant to corresponding provisions in other states. Whenever in the liquidator's judgment protection of the estate of the insurer necessitates intervention in an action against the insurer that is pending outside this state, he may intervene in the action. The liquidator may defend any action in which he intervenes under this section at the expense of the estate of the insurer.

(2) The liquidator may, upon or after an order for liquidation, within 2 years or such time in addition to 2 years as applicable law may permit, institute an action or proceeding on behalf of the estate of the insurer upon any cause of action against which the period of limitation fixed by applicable law has not expired at the time of the filing of the petition upon which such order is entered. When, by any agreement, a period of limitation is fixed for instituting a suit or proceeding upon any claim or for filing any claim, proof of claim, proof of loss, demand, notice, or the like or when in any proceeding, judicial or otherwise, a period of limitation is fixed, either in the proceeding or by applicable law, for taking any action, filing any claim or pleading, or doing any act and when in any such case the period had not expired at the date of the filing of the petition, the liquidator may, for the benefit of the estate, take any such action or do any such act required of or permitted to the insurer within a period of 180 days subsequent to the entry of an order for liquidation or within such further period as is shown to the satisfaction of the court not to be unfairly prejudicial to the other party.

(3) No statute of limitations or defense of laches shall run with respect to any action against an insurer between the filing of a petition for liquidation against an insurer and the denial of the petition. Any action against the insurer that might have been commenced when the petition was filed may be commenced for at least 60 days after the petition is denied.

33-2-1350. Collection and listing of assets. (1) As soon as practicable after the liquidation order but not later than 120 days thereafter, the liquidator shall prepare in duplicate a list of the insurer's assets. The list shall be amended or supplemented from time to time as the liquidator may determine. One copy shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the district court, and one copy shall be retained for the liquidator's files. All amendments and supplements shall be similarly filed.

(2) The liquidator shall reduce the assets to a degree of liquidity that is consistent with the effective execution of the liquidation.

(3) A submission to the court for disbursement of assets in accordance with 33-2-1363 fulfills the requirements of subsection (1) of this section.

History: En. Sec. 25, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1351. Fraudulent transfers prior to petition. (1) Every transfer made or suffered and every obligation incurred by an insurer within 1 year prior to the filing of a successful petition for rehabilitation or liquidation under this part is fraudulent as to then existing and future creditors if made or incurred without fair consideration or with actual intent to hinder, delay, or defraud either existing or future creditors. A transfer made or an obligation incurred by an insurer ordered to be rehabilitated or liquidated under this part which is fraudulent under this section may be avoided by the receiver, except as to a person who in good faith is a purchaser, lienor, or obligee for a present fair equivalent value, and except that any purchaser, lienor, or obligee who in good faith has given a consideration less than fair for such transfer, lien, or obligation may retain the property, lien, or obligation as security for repayment. The court may, on due notice, order any such transfer or obligation to be preserved for the benefit of the estate, and in that event, the receiver succeeds to and may enforce the rights of the purchaser, lienor, or obligee.

(2) (a) A transfer of property other than real property is considered to be made or suffered when it becomes so far perfected that no subsequent lien obtainable by legal or equitable proceedings on a simple contract could become superior to the rights of the transferee under 33-2-1353(3).

(b) A transfer of real property is considered to be made or suffered when it becomes so far perfected that no subsequent bona fide purchaser from the insurer could obtain rights superior to the rights of the transferee.

(c) A transfer which creates an equitable lien is not considered to be perfected if there are available means by which a legal lien could be created.

(d) Any transfer not perfected prior to the filing of a petition for liquidation is considered to be made immediately before the filing of the successful petition.

(e) The provisions of this subsection apply whether or not there are or were creditors who might have obtained any liens or persons who might have become bona fide purchasers.

(3) Any transaction of the insurer with a reinsurer is considered fraudulent and may be avoided by the receiver under subsection (1) if:

(a) the transaction consists of the termination, adjustment, or settlement of a reinsurance contract in which the reinsurer is released from any part of its duty to pay the originally specified share of losses that had occurred prior to the time of the transaction, unless the reinsurer gives a present fair equivalent value for the release; and

(b) any part of the transaction took place within 1 year prior to the date of filing of the petition through which the receivership was commenced.

33-2-1352. Fraudulent transfer after petition. (1) After a petition for rehabilitation or liquidation has been filed, a transfer of any of the real property of the insurer made to a person acting in good faith is valid against the receiver if made for a present fair equivalent value or, if not made for a present fair equivalent value, then to the extent of the present consideration actually paid therefor, for which amount the transferee shall have a lien on the property so transferred. The commencement of a proceeding in rehabilitation or liquidation is constructive notice upon the recording of a copy of the petition for or order of rehabilitation or liquidation with the county clerk and recorder in the county where any real property in question is located. The exercise by a court of the United States or any state or jurisdiction to authorize or effect a judicial sale of real property of the insurer within any county in any state shall not be impaired by the pendency of such a proceeding unless the copy is recorded in the county prior to the consummation of the judicial sale.

(2) After a petition for rehabilitation or liquidation has been filed and before either the receiver takes possession of the property of the insurer or an order of rehabilitation or liquidation is granted:

(a) a transfer of any of the property of the insurer, other than real property, made to a person acting in good faith is valid against the receiver if made for a present fair equivalent value or, if not made for a present fair equivalent value, then to the extent of the present consideration actually paid therefor, for which amount the transferee shall have a lien on the property so transferred;

(b) a person indebted to the insurer or holding property of the insurer may, if acting in good faith, pay the indebtedness or deliver the property or any part thereof to the insurer or upon his order, with the same effect as if the petition were not pending;

(c) a person having actual knowledge of the pending rehabilitation or liquidation is considered not acting in good faith;

(d) a person asserting the validity of a transfer under this section has the burden of proof. Except as elsewhere provided in this section, no transfer by or on behalf of the insurer after the date of the petition for liquidation by any person other than the liquidator shall be valid against the liquidator.

(3) Nothing in this part impairs the negotiability of currency or negotiable instruments.

33-2-1353. Voidable preferences and liens. (1) (a) A preference is a transfer of any of the property of an insurer to or for the benefit of a creditor, for or on account of an antecedent debt, made or suffered by the insurer within 1 year before the filing of a successful petition for liquidation under this part, the effect of which transfer may be to enable the creditor to obtain a greater percentage of this debt than another creditor of the same class would receive. If a liquidation order is entered while the insurer is already subject to a rehabilitation order, then such transfers shall be considered preferences if made or suffered within 1 year before the filing of the successful petition for rehabilitation or within 2 years before the filing of the successful petition for liquidation, whichever time is shorter.

(b) Any preference may be avoided by the liquidator if:

(i) the insurer was insolvent at the time of the transfer;

(ii) the transfer was made within 4 months before the filing of the petition;

(iii) the creditor receiving it or to be benefited thereby or his agent acting with reference thereto had, at the time when the transfer was made, reasonable cause to believe that the insurer was insolvent or was about to become insolvent; or

(iv) the creditor receiving it was an officer or any employee or attorney or other person who was in fact in a position of comparable influence in the insurer to an officer, whether or not he held such position, or any shareholder holding directly or indirectly more than 5% of any class of any equity security issued by the insurer or any other person, firm, corporation, association, or aggregation of persons with whom the insurer did not deal at arm's length.

(c) When the preference is voidable, the liquidator may recover the property or, if it has been converted, its value from any person who has received or converted the property, except where a bona fide purchaser or lienor has given less than fair equivalent value, he shall have a lien upon the property to the extent of the consideration actually given by him. When a preference by way of lien or security title is voidable, the court may on due notice order the lien or title to be preserved for the benefit of the estate, in which event the lien or title passes to the liquidator.

(2) (a) A transfer of property other than real property is considered to be made or suffered when it becomes so far perfected that no subsequent lien obtainable by legal or equitable proceedings on a simple contract could become superior to the rights of the transferee.

(b) A transfer of real property is considered to be made or suffered when it becomes so far perfected that no subsequent bona fide purchaser from the insurer could obtain rights superior to the rights of the transferee.

(c) A transfer which creates an equitable lien is not considered to be perfected if there are available means by which a legal lien could be created.

(d) A transfer not perfected prior to the filing of a petition for liquidation is considered to be made immediately before the filing of the successful petition.

(e) The provisions of this subsection apply whether or not there are or were creditors who might have obtained liens or persons who might have become bona fide purchasers.

(3) (a) A lien obtainable by legal or equitable proceedings upon a simple contract is one arising in the ordinary course of such proceedings upon the entry or docketing of a judgment or decree or upon attachment, garnishment, execution, or like process, whether before, upon, or after judgment or decree and whether before or upon levy. It does not include liens which under applicable law are given a special priority over other liens which are prior in time.

(b) A lien obtainable by legal or equitable proceedings could become superior to the rights of a transferee or a purchaser could obtain rights superior to the rights of a transferee, within the meaning of subsection (2), if such consequences would follow only from the lien or purchase itself or from the lien or purchase followed by any step wholly within the control of the respective lienholder or purchaser, with or without the aid of ministerial action by public officials. Such a lien could not, however, become superior and such a purchase could not create superior rights for the purpose of subsection (2) through any acts subsequent to the obtaining of such a lien or subsequent to such a purchase which require the agreement or concurrence of any third party or which require any further judicial action or ruling.

(4) A transfer of property for or on account of a new and contemporaneous consideration which is considered under subsection (2) to be made or suffered after the transfer because of delay in perfecting it does not thereby become a transfer for or on account of an antecedent debt if any acts required by the applicable law to be performed in order to perfect the transfer as against liens or bona fide purchasers' rights are performed within 21 days or any period expressly allowed by the law, whichever is less. A transfer to secure a future loan, if such a loan is actually made, or a transfer which becomes security for a future loan shall have the same effect as a transfer for or on account of a new and contemporaneous consideration.

(5) If any lien considered voidable under subsection (1)(b) has been dissolved by the furnishing of a bond or other obligation, the surety on which has been indemnified directly or indirectly by the transfer of or the creation of a lien upon any property of an insurer before the filing of a petition under this part which results in a liquidation order, the indemnifying transfer or lien shall also be considered voidable.

(6) The property affected by any lien considered voidable under subsections (1) and (5) shall be discharged from such lien, and that property and any of the indemnifying property transferred to or for the benefit of a surety shall pass to the liquidator, except that the court may on due notice order any such lien to be preserved for the benefit of the estate and the court may direct that such conveyance be executed as may be proper or adequate to evidence the title of the liquidator.

33-2-1354. Procedure for voiding preferences and liens. (1) The district court has summary jurisdiction of any proceeding by the liquidator to hear and determine the rights of any parties under 33-2-1353 through 33-2-1357. Reasonable notice of any hearing in the proceeding shall be given to all parties in interest, including the obligee of a releasing bond or other like obligation. When an order is entered for the recovery of indemnifying property in kind or for the avoidance of an indemnifying lien, the court, upon application of any party in interest, shall in the same proceeding ascertain the value of the property or lien and, if the value is less than the amount for which the property is indemnity or less than the amount of the lien, the transferee or lienholder may elect to retain the property or lien upon payment of its value, as ascertained by the court, to the liquidator within such reasonable times as the court shall fix.

(2) The liability of a surety under a releasing bond or other like obligation is discharged to the extent of the value of the indemnifying property recovered or the indemnifying lien nullified and avoided by the liquidator or, when the property is retained under subsection (1), to the extent of the amount paid to the liquidator.

33-2-1355. Set off for further credit given in good faith. If a creditor has been preferred and afterward in good faith gives the insurer further credit without security of any kind for property which becomes a part of the insurer's estate, the amount of the new credit remaining unpaid at the time of the petition may be set off against the preference which would otherwise be recoverable from him.

History: En. Sec. 28, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1356. Transactions to pay for attorneys' services. If an insurer, directly or indirectly, within 4 months before the filing of a successful petition for liquidation under this part or at any time in contemplation of a proceeding to liquidate it, pays money or transfers property to an attorney at law for services rendered or to be rendered, the transaction may be examined by the court on its own motion or shall be examined by the court on petition of the liquidator and shall be held valid only to the extent of a reasonable amount to be determined by the court and the excess may be recovered by the liquidator for the benefit of the estate, provided that where the attorney is in a position of influence in the insurer or an affiliate thereof, payment of any money or the transfer of any property to the attorney at law for services rendered or to be rendered shall be governed by the provision of 33-2-1353(1)(b)(iv).

History: En. Sec. 28, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1357. Personal liability. (1) Every officer, manager, employee, shareholder, member, subscriber, attorney, or any other person acting on behalf of the insurer who knowingly participates in giving any preference when he has reasonable cause to believe the insurer is or is about to become insolvent at the time of the preference is personally liable to the liquidator for the amount of the preference. It is permissible to infer that there is reasonable cause to so believe if the transfer was made within 4 months before the date of filing of this successful petition for liquidation.

(2) Every person receiving any property from the insurer or the benefit thereof as a preference voidable under 33-2-1353(1) is personally liable therefor and is bound to account to the liquidator.

(3) Nothing in this section prejudices any other claim by the liquidator against any person.

History: En. Sec. 28, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1358. Claims of holders of void or voidable rights. (1) No claims of a creditor who has received or acquired a preference, lien, conveyance, transfer, assignment, or encumbrance voidable under this part shall be allowed unless he surrenders the preference, lien, conveyance, transfer, assignment, or encumbrance. If the avoidance is effected by a proceeding in which a final judgment has been entered, the claim may not be allowed unless the money is paid or the property is delivered to the liquidator within 30 days from the date of the entering of the final judgment, except that the court having jurisdiction over the liquidation may allow further time if there is an appeal or other continuation of the proceeding.

(2) A claim allowable under subsection (1) by reason of the avoidance, whether voluntary or involuntary, or a preference, lien, conveyance, transfer, assignment, or encumbrance may be filed as an excused late filing under 33-2-1364 if filed within 30 days from the date of the avoidance or within the further time allowed by the court under subsection (1).

History: En. Sec. 29, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1359. Setoffs. (1) Mutual debts or mutual credits between the insurer and another person in connection with any action or proceeding under this part must be set off and the balance only allowed or paid, except as provided in 33-2-1362 and subsection (2) of this section.

(2) A setoff may not be allowed in favor of any person when:

(a) the obligation of the insurer to the person would not at the date of the filing of a petition for liquidation entitle the person to share as a claimant in the assets of the insurer;

(b) the obligation of the insurer to the person was purchased by or transferred to the person with a view to its being used as a setoff; or

(c) the obligation of the person is to pay an assessment levied against the members or subscribers of the insurer or is to pay a balance upon a subscription to the capital stock of the insurer or is in any other way in the nature of a capital contribution.

History: En. Sec. 30, Ch. 383, L. 1979; amd. Sec. 10, Ch. 531, L. 1997.

33-2-1360. Assessments against members of insurer. (1) As soon as practicable but not more than 2 years from the date of an order of liquidation under 33-2-1342 of an insurer issuing assessable policies, the liquidator shall make a report to the court setting forth:

(a) the reasonable value of the assets of the insurer;

(b) the insurer's probable total liabilities;

(c) the probable aggregate amount of the assessment necessary to pay all claims of creditors and expenses in full, including expenses of administration and costs of collecting the assessment; and

(d) a recommendation as to whether or not an assessment should be made and in what amount.

(2) (a) Upon the basis of the report provided in subsection (1), including any supplements and amendments thereto, the district court may levy one or more assessments against all members of the insurer who are subject to assessment.

(b) Subject to any applicable legal limits on assessability, the aggregate assessment shall be for the amount that the sum of the probable liabilities, the expenses of administration, and the estimated cost of collection of the assessment exceeds the value of existing assets, with due regard being given to assessments that cannot be collected economically.

(3) After levy of assessment under subsection (2), the liquidator shall issue an order directing each member who has not paid the assessment pursuant to the order to show cause why the liquidator should not pursue a judgment therefor.

(4) The liquidator shall give notice of the order to show cause by publication and by first-class mail to each member liable thereunder mailed to his last-known address as it appears on the insurer's records at least 20 days before the return day of the order to show cause.

(5) (a) If a member does not appear and serve duly verified objections upon the liquidator on or before the return day of the order to show cause under subsection (3), the court shall make an order adjudging the member liable for the amount of the assessment against him, pursuant to subsection (3), together with costs, and the liquidator shall have a judgment against the member therefor.

(b) If on or before such return day the member appears and serves duly verified objections upon the liquidator, the commissioner may hear and determine the matter or may appoint a referee to hear it and make such order as the facts warrant. If the commissioner determines that such objections do not warrant relief from assessment, the member may request the court to review the matter and vacate the order to show cause.

(6) The liquidator may enforce any order or collect any judgment under subsection (5) by any lawful means.

History: En. Sec. 31, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1361. Reinsurer's liability. The amount recoverable by the liquidator from reinsurers may not be reduced as a result of delinquency proceedings, regardless of any provision in the reinsurance contract or other agreement. Payment made directly to an insured or other creditor may not diminish the reinsurer's obligation to the insurer's estate except when the reinsurance contract provided for direct coverage of a named insured and the payment was made in discharge of that obligation.

History: En. Sec. 32, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1362. Recovery of premiums owed. (1) (a) An insurance producer or any other person responsible for the payment of a premium, other than the insured, shall be obligated to pay any unpaid premium for the full policy term due the insurer at the time of the declaration of insolvency, whether earned or unearned, as shown on the records of the insurer. The liquidator may recover from such person any part of an unearned premium that represents commission of such person. Credits or setoffs or both may not be allowed to an insurance producer for any amounts advanced to the insurer by the insurance producer on behalf of but in the absence of a payment by the insured.

(b) An insured shall pay any unpaid earned premium due the insurer at the time of the declaration of insolvency, as shown on the records of the insurer.

(2) Upon satisfactory evidence of a violation of this section, the commissioner may pursue either one or both of the following courses of action:

(a) suspend or revoke or refuse to renew the licenses of any offending party;

(b) impose a penalty of not more than $1,000 for each act in violation of this section by such party.

(3) Before the commissioner may take any action as set forth in subsection (2), he shall give written notice to the person, company, association, or exchange accused of violating the law, stating specifically the nature of the alleged violation and fixing a time and place, at least 10 days thereafter, when a hearing on the matter shall be held. After such hearing or upon failure of the accused to appear at such hearing, the commissioner, if he finds a violation, shall impose such penalties under subsection (2) as he considers advisable.

(4) When the commissioner takes action in any of the ways set out in subsection (2), the party aggrieved may appeal from the action to the district court.

33-2-1363. Domiciliary liquidator's proposal to distribute assets. (1) Within 120 days of a final determination of insolvency of an insurer by a court of competent jurisdiction of this state, the liquidator shall make application to the court for approval of a proposal to disburse assets out of marshalled assets, from time to time as assets become available, to a guaranty association or foreign guaranty association having obligations because of the insolvency. If the liquidator determines that there are insufficient assets to disburse, the application required by this section must be considered satisfied by a filing by the liquidator stating the reasons for this determination.

(2) The proposal must at least include provisions for:

(a) reserving amounts for the payment of expenses of administration and the payment of claims of secured creditors, to the extent of the value of the security held, and claims falling within the priorities established in 33-2-1371, class 1;

(b) disbursement of the assets marshalled to date and subsequent disbursement of assets as they become available;

(c) equitable allocation of disbursements to each of the guaranty associations and foreign guaranty associations entitled to a disbursement;

(d) the securing by the liquidator from each of the associations entitled to disbursements pursuant to this section of an agreement to return to the liquidator assets, together with income earned on assets previously disbursed, as may be required to pay claims of secured creditors and claims falling within the priorities established in 33-2-1371 in accordance with the priorities. A bond may not be required of the association.

(e) a full report to be made by each association to the liquidator accounting for all assets disbursed to the association, all disbursements made from the assets, any interest earned by the association on the assets, and any other matter that the court may direct.

(3) The liquidator's proposal must provide for disbursements to the associations in amounts estimated at least equal to the claim payments made or to be made by the associations for which the associations could assert a claim against the liquidator and must provide that if the assets available for disbursement from time to time do not equal or exceed the amount of claim payments made or to be made by the association, then disbursements must be in the amount of available assets.

(4) The liquidator's proposal must, with respect to an insolvent insurer writing life or health insurance or annuities, provide for disbursements of assets to any guaranty association or any foreign guaranty association covering life or health insurance or annuities or to any other entity or organization reinsuring, assuming, or guaranteeing policies or contracts of insurance under the acts creating the associations.

(5) Notice of the application must be given to the association in each of the states and to the commissioners of insurance of each of the states. Any notice must be considered to have been given when deposited in the United States certified mail, first-class postage prepaid, at least 30 days prior to submission of the application to the court. Action on the application may be taken by the court if the required notice has been given and if the liquidator's proposal complies with subsections (2)(a) and (2)(b).

33-2-1364. Filing of claims. (1) Proof of all claims shall be filed with the liquidator in the form required by 33-2-1365 on or before the last day for filing specified in the notice required under 33-2-1346, except that proof of claims for cash surrender values or other investment values in life insurance and annuities need not be filed unless the liquidator requires.

(2) The liquidator may permit a claimant making a late filing to share in distributions, whether past or future, as if he were not late, to the extent that any such payment will not prejudice the orderly administration of the liquidation, under the following circumstances:

(a) the existence of the claim was not known to the claimant, and his claim was filed as promptly after learning of it as reasonably possible;

(b) a transfer to a creditor was avoided under 33-2-1351 through 33-2-1357 or was voluntarily surrendered under 33-2-1358, and the filing satisfies the conditions of 33-2-1358; and

(c) the valuation under 33-2-1370 of security held by a secured creditor shows a deficiency, which is filed within 30 days after the valuation.

(3) The liquidator shall permit late filing claims to share in distributions, whether past or future, as if they were not late if such claims are claims of a guaranty association or foreign guaranty association for reimbursement of covered claims paid or expenses incurred, or both, subsequent to the last day for filing where such payments were made and expenses incurred as provided by law.

(4) The liquidator may consider any claim filed late which is not covered by subsection (2) and permit it to receive distributions which are subsequently declared on any claims of the same or lower priority if the payment does not prejudice the orderly administration of the liquidation. The late-filing claimant shall receive, at each distribution, the same percentage of the amount allowed on his claim as is then being paid to claimants of any lower priority. This shall continue until his claim has been paid in full.

History: En. Sec. 35, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1365. Proof of claim. (1) Proof of claim shall consist of a statement signed by the claimant that includes all of the following that are applicable:

(a) the particulars of the claim, including the consideration given for it;

(b) the identity and amount of the security on the claim;

(c) the payments made on the debt, if any;

(d) that the sum claimed is justly owing and that there is no setoff, counterclaim, or defense to the claim;

(e) any right of priority of payment or other specific right asserted by the claimants;

(f) a copy of the written instrument which is the foundation of the claim;

(g) the name and address of the claimant and the attorney who represents him, if any.

(2) No claim need be considered or allowed if it does not contain all the information in subsection (1) which may be applicable. The liquidator may require that a prescribed form be used and may require that other information and documents be included.

(3) At any time the liquidator may request the claimant to present information or evidence supplementary to that required under subsection (1) and may take testimony under oath, require production of affidavits or depositions, or otherwise obtain additional information or evidence.

(4) No judgment or order against an insured or the insurer entered after the date of filing of a successful petition for liquidation and no judgment or order against an insured or the insurer entered at any time by default or by collusion need be considered as evidence of liability or of quantum of damages. No judgment or order against an insured or the insurer entered within 4 months before the filing of the petition need be considered as evidence of liability or of the quantum of damages.

(5) All claims of a guaranty association or foreign guaranty association shall be in such form and contain such substantiation as may be agreed to by the association and the liquidator.

History: En. Sec. 36, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1366. Special claims. (1) The claim of a third party which is contingent only on his first obtaining a judgment against the insured shall be considered and allowed as if there were no such contingency.

(2) A claim may be allowed, even if contingent, if it is filed in accordance with 33-2-1364. It may be allowed and may participate in all distributions declared after it is filed to the extent that it does not prejudice the orderly administration of the liquidation.

(3) Claims that are due except for the passage of time shall be treated as absolute claims are treated, except that such claims may be discounted at the legal rate of interest.

(4) Claims made under employment contracts by directors, principal officers, or persons in fact performing similar functions or having similar powers are limited to payment for services rendered prior to the issuance of any order of rehabilitation or liquidation under 33-2-1332 or 33-2-1342.

History: En. Sec. 37, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1367. Claims of insureds or claimants against insureds. (1) Whenever any third party asserts a cause of action against an insured of an insurer in liquidation, the third party may file a claim with the liquidator.

(2) Whether or not the third party files a claim, the insured may file a claim on his own behalf in the liquidation. If the insured fails to file a claim by the date for filing claims specified in the order of liquidation or within 60 days after mailing of the notice required by 33-2-1346, whichever is later, he is an unexcused late filer.

(3) The liquidator shall make his recommendations to the court under 33-2-1371 for the allowance of an insured's claim under subsection (2), after consideration of the probable outcome of any pending action against the insured on which the claim is based, the probable damages recoverable in the action, and the probable costs and expenses of defense. After allowance by the court, the liquidator shall withhold any dividends payable on the claim, pending the outcome of litigation and negotiation with the insured. Whenever it seems appropriate, he shall reconsider the claim on the bases of additional information and amend his recommendations to the court. The insured shall be afforded the same notice and opportunity to be heard on all changes in the recommendation as in its initial determination. The court may amend its allowance as it thinks appropriate. As claims against the insured are settled or barred, the insured shall be paid, from the amount withheld, the same percentage dividend as was paid on other claims of like property, based on the lesser of the amount actually recovered from the insured by action or paid by agreement, plus the reasonable costs and expenses of defense, or the amount allowed on the claims by the court. After all claims are settled or barred, any sum remaining from the amount withheld shall revert to the undistributed assets of the insurer. Delay in final payment under this subsection shall not be a reason for unreasonable delay of final distribution and discharge of the liquidator.

(4) If several claims founded upon one policy are filed, whether by third parties or as claims by the insured under this section and the aggregate allowed amount of the claims to which the same limit of liability in the policy is applicable exceeds that limit, each claim as allowed shall be reduced in the same proportion so that the total equals the policy limit. Claims by the insured shall be evaluated as in subsection (3). If any insured's claim is subsequently reduced under subsection (3), the amount thus freed shall be apportioned ratably among the claims which have been reduced under this subsection.

(5) No claim may be presented under this section if it is or may be covered by any guaranty association or foreign guaranty association.

33-2-1368. Disputed claims. (1) When a claim is denied in whole or in part by the liquidator, written notice of the determination shall be given to the claimant or his attorney by first-class mail at the address shown in the proof of claim. Within 60 days from the mailing of the notice, the claimant may file his objections with the liquidator. If no such filing is made, the claimant may not further object to the determination.

(2) Whenever objections are filed with the liquidator and the liquidator does not alter his denial of the claim as a result of the objections, the liquidator shall ask the court for a hearing as soon as practicable and give notice of the hearing by first-class mail to the claimant or his attorney and to any other persons directly affected not less than 10 or more than 30 days before the date of the hearing. The matter may be heard by the court or by a court-appointed referee who shall submit findings of fact along with his recommendation.

33-2-1369. Claims of sureties. (1) Whenever a creditor whose claim against an insurer is secured, in whole or in part, by the undertaking of another person fails to prove and file that claim, the other person may do so in the creditor's name and shall be subrogated to the rights of the creditor, whether the claim has been filed by the creditor or by the other person in the creditor's name, to the extent that he discharges the undertaking. However, in the absence of an agreement with the creditor to the contrary, the other person shall not be entitled to any distribution until the amount paid to the creditor on the undertaking plus the distributions paid on the claim from the insurer's estate to the creditor equals the amount of the entire claim of the creditor. Any excess received by the creditor shall be held by him in trust for such other person.

(2) The term "other person", as used in this section, is not intended to apply to a guaranty association or foreign guaranty association.

33-2-1370. Claims of secured creditors. (1) The value of any security held by a secured creditor shall be determined in one of the following ways, as the court may direct:

(a) by converting the same into money according to the terms of the agreement pursuant to which the security was delivered to such creditors; or

(b) by agreement, arbitration, compromise, or litigation between the creditor and the liquidator.

(2) The determination shall be under the supervision and control of the court with due regard for the recommendation of the liquidator. The amount so determined shall be credited upon the secured claim, and any deficiency shall be treated as an unsecured claim. If the claimant surrenders his security to the liquidator, the entire claim shall be allowed as if unsecured.

History: En. Sec. 41, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1371. Priority of distribution. The priority of distribution of claims from the insurer's estate is in accordance with the order in which each class of claims is set forth in this section. Every claim in each class must be paid in full or adequate funds retained for the payment before the members of the next class receive any payment. Subclasses may not be established within any class. The order of distribution of claims is as follows:

(1) Class 1—the costs and expenses of administration, including but not limited to the following:

(a) the actual and necessary costs of preserving or recovering the assets of the insurer;

(b) compensation for all services rendered in the liquidation;

(c) any necessary filing fees;
(d) the fees and mileage payable to witnesses;
(e) reasonable attorney fees;
(f) the reasonable expenses of a guaranty association or foreign guaranty association in handling claims.

(2) Class 2—all claims under policies for losses incurred, including third-party claims, all claims against the insurer for liability for bodily injury or for injury to or destruction of tangible property that are not under policies, and all claims of a guaranty association or foreign guaranty association for payment of covered claims or covered obligations of the insurer. All claims under life and health insurance and annuity policies, whether for death proceeds, health benefits, annuity proceeds, or investment values, must be treated as loss claims. The portion of any loss, indemnification that is provided by other benefits, or advantages recovered by the claimant may not be included in this class, other than benefits or advantages recovered or recoverable in discharge of familial obligations of support or by way of succession at death or as proceeds of life insurance or as gratuities. A payment by an employer to an employee may not be treated as a gratuity.

(3) Class 3—claims of the federal government.

(4) Class 4—debts due to employees for services performed to the extent that they do not exceed $1,000 and represent payment for services performed within 1 year before the filing of the complaint for liquidation. Officers and directors may not be entitled to the benefit of this priority. The priority must be in lieu of any other similar priority that may be authorized by law as to wages or compensation of employees.

(5) Class 5—claims of general creditors.

(6) Class 6—claims of any state or local government. Claims, including those of any state or local government for a penalty or forfeiture, may be allowed in this class only to the extent of the pecuniary loss sustained from the act, transaction, or proceeding out of which the penalty or forfeiture arose, along with reasonable and actual costs. The remainder of the claims must be postponed to the class of claims under subsection (9).

(7) Class 7—claims filed late or any other claims other than claims under subsections (8) and (9).

(8) Class 8—surplus or contribution notes or similar obligations and premium refunds on assessable policies. Payments to members of domestic mutual insurance companies are limited in accordance with law.

(9) Class 9—the claims of shareholders or other owners.

33-2-1372. Liquidator's recommendations to the court concerning claims. (1) The liquidator shall review all claims duly filed in the liquidation and make such further investigation as he considers necessary. He may compound, compromise, or in any other manner negotiate the amount for which claims will be recommended to the court except where the liquidator is required by law to accept claims as settled by any person or organization, including any guaranty association or foreign guaranty association. Unresolved disputes shall be determined under 33-2-1368. As soon as practicable, he shall present to the court a report of the claims against the insurer with his recommendations. The report shall include the name and address of each claimant and the amount of the claim finally recommended, if any. If the insurer has issued annuities or life insurance policies, the liquidator shall report the persons to whom, according to the records of the insurer, amounts are owed as cash surrender values or other investment value and the amounts owed.

(2) The court may approve, disapprove, or modify the report on claims by the liquidator. Reports not modified by the court within a period of 60 days following submission by the liquidator shall be treated by the liquidator as allowed claims, subject to later modification or to rulings made by the court pursuant to 33-2-1368. No claim under a policy of insurance shall be allowed for an amount in excess of the applicable policy limits.

History: En. Sec. 43, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1373. Distribution of assets. Under the direction of the court, the liquidator shall pay distributions in a manner that will assure the proper recognition of priorities and a reasonable balance between the expeditious completion of the liquidation and the protection of unliquidated and undetermined claims, including third-party claims. Distribution of assets in kind may be made at valuations set by agreement between the liquidator and the creditor and approved by the court.

History: En. Sec. 44, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1374. Unclaimed and withheld funds. (1) All unclaimed funds subject to distribution remaining in the liquidator's hands when he is ready to apply to the court for discharge, including the amount distributable to any creditor, shareholder, member, or other person who is unknown or cannot be found, shall be deposited with the state treasurer and shall be paid without interest except in accordance with 33-2-1371 to the person entitled thereto or his legal representative upon proof satisfactory to the state treasurer of his right thereto. Any amount on deposit not claimed within 6 years from the discharge of the liquidator shall be considered to have been abandoned and shall be escheated without formal escheat proceedings and be deposited in the general fund.

(2) All funds withheld under 33-2-1366 and not distributed shall upon discharge of the liquidator be deposited with the state treasurer and paid by him in accordance with 33-2-1371. Any sums remaining which under 33-2-1371 would revert to the undistributed assets of the insurer shall be transferred to the state treasurer and become the property of the state under subsection (1) unless the commissioner in his discretion petitions the court to reopen the liquidation under 33-2-1376.

33-2-1375. Termination of liquidation proceedings. (1) When all assets justifying the expense of collection and distribution have been collected and distributed under this part, the liquidator shall apply to the court for discharge. The court may grant the discharge and make any other orders, including an order to transfer any remaining funds that are uneconomic to distribute, as may be considered appropriate.

(2) Any other person may apply to the court at any time for an order under subsection (1). If the application is denied, the applicant shall pay the costs and expenses of the liquidator in resisting the application, including a reasonable attorney's fee.

History: En. Sec. 46, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1376. Reopening liquidation. After the liquidation proceeding has been terminated and the liquidator discharged, the commissioner or other interested party may at any time petition the district court to reopen the proceedings for good cause, including the discovery of additional assets. If the court is satisfied that there is justification for reopening, it shall so order.

History: En. Sec. 47, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1377. Disposition of records during and after liquidation. When it appears to the commissioner that the records of any insurer in process of liquidation or completely liquidated are no longer useful, he may recommend to the court and the court shall direct what records should be retained for future reference and what should be destroyed.

33-2-1378. Audit of the receiver's books. The district court may, as it considers desirable, cause audits to be made of the books of the commissioner relating to any receivership established under this part, and a report of each audit shall be filed with the commissioner and with the court. The books, records, and other documents of the receivership shall be made available to the auditor at any time without notice. The expense of each audit shall be considered a cost of administration of the receivership.

History: En. Sec. 49, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1379. Conservation of property of foreign or alien insurers. (1) If a domiciliary liquidator has not been appointed, the commissioner may apply to the district court by verified petition for an order directing him to act as conservator to conserve the property of an alien insurer not domiciled in this state or a foreign insurer on any one or more of the following grounds:

(a) any of the grounds in 33-2-1331;

(b) that any of its property has been sequestered by official action in its domiciliary state or in any other state;

(c) that enough of its property has been sequestered in a foreign country to give reasonable cause to fear that the insurer is or may become insolvent;

(d) that its certificate of authority to do business in this state has been revoked or that none was ever issued;

(e) that there are residents of this state with outstanding claims or outstanding policies.

(2) When an order is sought under subsection (1), the court shall cause the insurer to be given such notice and time to respond thereto as is reasonable under the circumstances.

(3) The court may issue the order in whatever terms it considers appropriate. The filing or recording of the order with the clerk of the district court or the clerk and recorder of the county in which the principal business of the company is located or the county in which its principal office or place of business is located shall impart the same notice as a deed, bill of sale, or other evidence of title duly filed or recorded with that clerk and recorder would have imparted.

(4) The conservator may at any time petition for and the court may grant an order under 33-2-1380 to liquidate assets of a foreign or alien insurer under conservation or, if appropriate, for an order under 33-2-1382 to be appointed ancillary receiver.

(5) The conservator may at any time petition the court for an order terminating conservation of an insurer. If the court finds that the conservation is no longer necessary, it shall order the insurer to be restored to possession of its property and the control of its business. The court may also make such finding and issue such order at any time upon motion of any interested party, but if such motion is denied, all costs shall be assessed against such party.

History: En. Sec. 50, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1380. Liquidation of assets of foreign or alien insurers. (1) If no domiciliary receiver has been appointed, the commissioner may apply to the district court by verified petition for an order directing him to liquidate the assets found in this state of a foreign insurer or an alien insurer not domiciled in this state, on any of the following grounds:

(a) any of the grounds in 33-2-1331 or 33-2-1341; or

(b) any of the grounds specified in subsections (1)(b) through (1)(d) of 33-2-1379.

(2) When an order is sought under subsection (1), the court shall cause the insurer to be given notice and time to respond thereto as reasonable under the circumstances.

(3) If it appears to the court that the best interests of creditors, policyholders, and the public require, the court may issue an order to liquidate in whatever terms it considers appropriate. The filing or recording of the order with the clerk of the district court or the clerk and recorder of the county in which the principal business of the company is located or the county in which its principal office or place of business is located shall impart the same notice as a deed, bill of sale, or other evidence of title duly filed or recorded with that clerk and recorder would have imparted.

(4) If a domiciliary liquidator is appointed in a reciprocal state while a liquidation is proceeding under this section, the liquidator under this section shall thereafter act as ancillary receiver under 33-2-1382. If a domiciliary liquidator is appointed in a nonreciprocal state while a liquidation is proceeding under this section, the liquidator under this section may petition the court for permission to act as ancillary receiver under 33-2-1382.

(5) On the same grounds as specified in subsection (1), the commissioner may petition any appropriate federal district court to be appointed receiver to liquidate that portion of the insurer's assets and business over which the court will exercise jurisdiction or any lesser part thereof that the commissioner considers desirable for the protection of the policyholders and creditors in this state.

(6) The court may order the commissioner, when he has liquidated the assets of a foreign or alien insurer under this section, to pay claims of residents of this state against the insurer under such rules as to the liquidation of insurers under this part as are otherwise compatible with the provisions of this section.

History: En. Sec. 51, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1381. Domiciliary liquidators in other states. (1) The domiciliary liquidator of an insurer domiciled in a reciprocal state shall, except as to special deposits and security on secured claims under 33-2-1382(3), be vested by operation of law with the title to all of the assets, property, contracts, and rights of action, insurance producers' balances, and all of the books, accounts, and other records of the insurer located in this state. The date of vesting shall be the date of the filing of the petition if that date is specified by the domiciliary law for the vesting of property in the domiciliary state. Otherwise, the date of vesting shall be the date of entry of the order directing possession to be taken. The domiciliary liquidator has the immediate right to recover balances due from insurance producers and to obtain possession of the books, accounts, and other records of the insurer located in this state. He also has the right to recover all other assets of the insurer located in this state, subject to 33-2-1382.

(2) If a domiciliary liquidator is appointed for an insurer not domiciled in a reciprocal state, the commissioner of this state is vested by operation of law with the title to all of the property, contracts, and rights of action and all of the books, accounts, and other records of the insurer located in this state, at the same time that the domiciliary liquidator is vested with title in the domicile. The commissioner of this state may petition for a conservation or liquidation order under 33-2-1379 or 33-2-1380 or for an ancillary receivership under 33-2-1382 or, after approval by the district court, may transfer title to the domiciliary liquidator, as the interests of justice and the equitable distribution of the assets require.

(3) Claimants residing in this state may file claims with the liquidator or ancillary receiver, if any, in this state or with the domiciliary liquidator, if the domiciliary law permits. The claims must be filed on or before the last date fixed for the filing of claims in the domiciliary liquidation proceedings.

History: En. Sec. 52, Ch. 383, L. 1979; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

33-2-1382. Ancillary formal proceedings. (1) If a domiciliary liquidator has been appointed for an insurer not domiciled in this state, the commissioner may file a petition with the district court requesting appointment as ancillary receiver in this state:

(a) if he finds that there are sufficient assets of the insurer located in this state to justify the appointment of an ancillary receiver;

(b) if the protection of creditors or policyholders in this state so requires.

(2) The court may issue an order appointing an ancillary receiver in whatever terms it considers appropriate. The filing or recording of the order with the county clerk and recorder imparts the same notice as a deed, bill of sale, or other evidence of title duly filed or recorded.

(3) When a domiciliary liquidator has been appointed in a reciprocal state, then the ancillary receiver appointed in this state may, whenever necessary, aid and assist the domiciliary liquidator in recovering assets of the insurer located in this state. The ancillary receiver shall, as soon as practicable, liquidate from their respective securities those special deposit claims and secured claims which are proved and allowed in the ancillary proceedings in this state and shall pay the necessary expenses of the proceedings. He shall promptly transfer all remaining assets, books, accounts, and records to the domiciliary liquidator. Subject to this section, the ancillary receiver and his deputies shall have the same powers and be subject to the same duties with respect to the administration of assets as a liquidator of an insurer domiciled in this state.

(4) When a domiciliary liquidator has been appointed in this state, ancillary receivers appointed in reciprocal states shall have, as to assets and books, accounts, and other records in their respective states, corresponding rights, duties, and powers to those provided in subsection (3) for ancillary receivers appointed in this state.

History: En. Sec. 54, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1384. Claims of nonresidents against insurers domiciled in this state. (1) In a liquidation proceeding begun in this state against an insurer domiciled in this state, claimants residing in foreign countries or in states not reciprocal states must file claims in this state, and claimants residing in reciprocal states may file claims either with the ancillary receivers, if any, in their respective states or with the domiciliary liquidator. Claims must be filed on or before the last date fixed for the filing of claims in the domiciliary liquidation proceeding.

(2) Claims belonging to claimants residing in reciprocal states may be proved either in the liquidation proceeding in this state as provided in this part or in ancillary proceedings, if any, in the reciprocal states. If notice of the claims and opportunity to appear and be heard is afforded the domiciliary liquidator of this state as provided in 33-2-1385(2) with respect to ancillary proceedings, the final allowance of claims by the courts in ancillary proceedings in reciprocal states is conclusive as to amount and as to priority against special deposits or other security located in such ancillary states but is not conclusive with respect to priorities against general assets under 33-2-1371.

History: En. Sec. 55, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1385. Claims of residents against insurers domiciled in reciprocal states. (1) In a liquidation proceeding in a reciprocal state against an insurer domiciled in that state, claimants against the insurer who reside within this state may file claims either with the ancillary receiver, if any, in this state or with the domiciliary liquidator. Claims must be filed on or before the last dates fixed for the filing of claims in the domiciliary liquidation proceeding.

(2) Claims belonging to claimants residing in this state may be proved either in the domiciliary state under the law of that state or in ancillary proceedings, if any, in this state. If a claimant elects to prove his claim in this state, he shall file his claim with the liquidator in the manner provided in 33-2-1364 and 33-2-1365. The ancillary receiver shall make his recommendation to the court as under 33-2-1372. He shall also arrange a date for hearing if necessary under 33-2-1368 and shall give notice to the liquidator in the domiciliary state, either by certified mail or by personal service, at least 40 days prior to the date set for hearing. If the domiciliary liquidator, within 30 days after the giving of such notice, gives notice in writing to the ancillary receiver and to the claimant, either by certified mail or by personal service, of his intention to contest the claim, he shall be entitled to appear or to be represented in any proceeding in this state involving the adjudication of the claim.

(3) The final allowance of the claim by the courts of this state shall be accepted as conclusive as to amount and as to priority against special deposits or other security located in this state.

During the pendency in this or any other state of a liquidation proceeding, whether called by that name or not, no action or proceeding in the nature of an attachment, garnishment, or levy of execution may be commenced or maintained in this state against the delinquent insurer or its assets.

History: En. Sec. 57, Ch. 383, L. 1979.

33-2-1387. Interstate priorities. (1) In a liquidation proceeding in this state involving one or more reciprocal states, the order of distribution of the domiciliary state shall control as to all claims of residents of this and reciprocal states. All claims of residents of reciprocal states shall be given equal priority of payment from general assets regardless of where such assets are located.

(2) The owners of special deposit claims against an insurer for which a liquidator is appointed in this or any other state is given priority against the special deposits in accordance with the statutes governing the creation and maintenance of the deposits. If there is a deficiency in any deposit so that the claims secured by it are not fully discharged from it, the claimants may share in the general assets, but the sharing shall be deferred until general creditors, and also claimants against other special deposits who have received smaller percentages from their respective special deposits, have been paid percentages of their claims equal to the percentage paid from the special deposit.

(3) The owner of a secured claim against an insurer for which a liquidator has been appointed in this or any other state may surrender his security and file his claim as a general creditor, or the claim may be discharged by resort to the security in accordance with 33-2-1370, in which case the deficiency, if any, shall be treated as a claim against the general assets of the insurer on the same basis as claims of unsecured creditors.

33-2-1388. Subordination of claims for noncooperation of ancillary receiver. If an ancillary receiver in another state or foreign country, whether called by that name or not, fails to transfer to the domiciliary liquidator in this state any assets within the ancillary receiver's control, other than special deposits, diminished only by the expenses of the ancillary receivership, if any, the claims filed in the ancillary receivership, other than special deposit claims or secured claims, must be placed in the class of claims under 33-2-1371(8).

33-2-1389 and 33-2-1390 reserved.

33-2-1391. Condition on release from delinquency proceedings. An insurer that is subject to any delinquency proceeding, whether formal, informal, administrative, or judicial, may not:

(1) be released from the proceeding, unless the proceeding is converted to a judicial rehabilitation or liquidation proceeding;

(2) be permitted to solicit or accept new business or request or accept the restoration of any suspended or revoked license or certificate of authority;

(3) be returned to the control of its shareholders or private management; or

(4) have any of its assets returned to the control of its shareholders or private management until all payments of or on account of the insurer's contractual obligations by all guaranty associations, along with all expenses of the guaranty associations and interest on all payments and expenses, have been repaid to the guaranty associations or a plan of repayment by the insurer has been approved by the guaranty association.

History: En. Sec. 35, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1392. Indemnification of rehabilitator, liquidator, and employees — persons covered. (1) The persons entitled to protection under 33-2-1393 and 33-2-1394 are:

(a) all rehabilitators and liquidators responsible for the conduct of a delinquency proceeding under Title 33, chapter 2, including present and former rehabilitators and liquidators; and

(b) the employees of the rehabilitators and liquidators, including all present and former special deputies and assistant special deputies appointed by the commissioner, and all persons whom the commissioner, special deputies, or assistant special deputies have employed to assist in a delinquency proceeding under Title 33, chapter 2.

(2) Attorneys, accountants, auditors, and other professional persons or firms, who are retained by the rehabilitator or liquidator as independent contractors, and their employees are not considered employees of the rehabilitator or liquidator for purposes of any cause of action initiated by the rehabilitator or liquidator against the independent contractor in the name of the rehabilitation or liquidation estate.

History: En. Sec. 36, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1393. Indemnification of rehabilitator, liquidator, and employees. (1) If any legal action is commenced against the rehabilitator or liquidator or any employee of the rehabilitator or liquidator, whether against the rehabilitator, liquidator, or employee personally or in an official capacity, alleging property damage, property loss, personal injury, or other civil liability caused by or resulting from any alleged act, error, or omission of the rehabilitator, liquidator, or employee arising out of or by reason of duties or employment, the rehabilitator, liquidator, or employee is indemnified from the assets of the insurer for all expenses, attorney fees, judgments, settlements, decrees, surety bond premiums, or amounts due and owing or paid in satisfaction of or incurred in the defense of the legal action unless it is determined upon a final adjudication on the merits that the alleged act, error, or omission of the rehabilitator, liquidator, or employee that gave rise to the claim did not arise out of or by reason of the rehabilitator's, liquidator's, or employee's duties or employment or was caused by intentional or willful and wanton misconduct.

(2) Attorney fees and related expenses incurred in defending a legal action for which indemnity is available under this section must be paid from the assets of the insurer, as the expenses are incurred and in advance of the final disposition of the action, upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of the rehabilitator, liquidator, or employee to repay the attorney fees and expenses. If, upon a final adjudication on the merits, it is determined that the rehabilitator, liquidator, or employee is not entitled to indemnity under this section, the payment must be made from the undertaking.

(3) An indemnification for expenses, attorney fees, judgments, settlements, decrees, surety bond premiums, or other amounts paid or to be paid from the insurer's assets pursuant to this section are an administrative expense of the insurer.

(4) If actual or threatened litigation against a rehabilitator, liquidator, or employee for which indemnity may be available under this section occurs, a reasonable amount of funds that in the judgment of the commissioner may be needed to provide indemnity must be segregated and reserved from the assets of the insurer as security for the payment of indemnity until all applicable statutes of limitation have run, all actual or threatened actions against the rehabilitator, liquidator, or employee have been completely and finally resolved, and all obligations of the insurer and the commissioner under this section have been satisfied.

(5) In lieu of segregation and reservation of funds, the commissioner may obtain a surety bond or make other arrangements that will enable the commissioner to fully secure the payment of all obligations under this section.

History: En. Sec. 37, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1394. Settlement of actions against rehabilitator, liquidator, and employees — court approval — applicability. (1) If any legal action against an employee for which indemnity may be available under this section is settled prior to final adjudication on the merits, the insurer shall pay the settlement amount on behalf of the employee or indemnify the employee for the settlement amount unless the commissioner determines:

(a) that the claim did not arise out of or by reason of the employee's duties or employment; or

(b) that the claim was caused by the intentional or willful and wanton misconduct of the employee.

(2) In a legal action in which the rehabilitator or liquidator is a defendant, that portion of any settlement relating to the alleged act, error, or omission of the rehabilitator or liquidator is subject to the approval of the court before which the delinquency proceeding is pending. The court may not approve that portion of the settlement if it determines:

(a) that the claim did not arise out of or by reason of the rehabilitator's or liquidator's duties or employment; or

(b) that the claim was caused by the intentional or willful and wanton misconduct of the rehabilitator or liquidator.

(3) This section may not be construed to deprive the rehabilitator, liquidator, or employee of immunity, indemnity, benefit of law, right, or defense available under any provision of law, including, without limitation, the provisions of Title 2, chapter 9.

(4) (a) Except as otherwise provided, a legal action by a third party does not lie against the rehabilitator, liquidator, or employee based in whole or in part on any alleged act, error, or omission that took place prior to October 1, 1993, unless suit is filed and valid service of process is obtained by October 1, 1994. A legal action that is pending on or filed after September 30, 1993, by a liquidator or a liquidation estate will lie against a former special deputy liquidator or any employee, agent, or independent contractor retained by a special deputy liquidator without regard to when the alleged act, error, or omission occurred.

(b) Subsections (1) through (3) apply to any suit that is pending on or filed after October 1, 1993, without regard to when the alleged act, error, or omission took place.

History: En. Sec. 38, Ch. 596, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 31, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

Part 14 reserved

Part 15
Regulation of Controlled Insurers and Controlling Producers

33-2-1501. Definitions. As used in parts 15 through 17 of this chapter, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Accredited state" means a state in which the department of insurance or regulatory agency has qualified as meeting the minimum financial regulatory standards promulgated and established from time to time by the national association of insurance commissioners.

(2) "Actuary" means a person who is a member in good standing of the American academy of actuaries.

(3) "Captive insurer" means:

(a) an insurer that is owned by another entity and whose exclusive purpose is to insure risks of the parent entity and its affiliates; or

(b) in the case of a group or association, an insurer that is owned by the member insureds and whose exclusive purpose is to insure risks to member insureds and their affiliates.

(4) "Control" or "controlled" has the meaning defined in 33-2-1101.

(5) "Controlled insurer" means an authorized insurer that is controlled, directly or indirectly, by a producer.

(6) "Controlling person" means a person, firm, association, or corporation that has the power to direct or cause to be directed the management, control, or activities of a reinsurance intermediary.

(7) "Controlling producer" means a producer who, directly or indirectly, controls an insurer.

(8) (a) "Insurer" means any person, firm, association, or corporation authorized, under Title 33, chapter 2, part 1, to transact insurance business in this state.

(b) The following are not insurers:

(i) risk retention groups as defined in:

(A) the Superfund Amendments and Reauthorization Act of 1986, Pub. L. No. 99-499, 100 Stat. 1613 (1986);

(B) the Liability Risk Retention Act of 1986, 15 U.S.C. 3901, et seq.; or

(C) Title 33, chapter 11, part 1;

(ii) residual market pools and joint underwriting authorities or associations; or

(iii) captive insurers.

(9) "Licensed producer" means a producer or reinsurance intermediary licensed pursuant to this title.

(10) (a) "Managing general agent" means a person who:

(i) manages all or part of the insurance business of an insurer and acts as an agent for the insurer;

(ii) either separately or together with affiliates, produces, directly or indirectly, and underwrites an amount of gross written premiums equal to or more than 5% of the policyholder surplus in any quarter or year; and

(iii) engages in one or more of the following activities on the business produced:

(A) adjustment or payment of claims in excess of an amount determined by the commissioner; or

(B) negotiation of reinsurance on behalf of the insurer.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (10)(a), the following persons are not considered managing general agents:

(i) an employee of the insurer;

(ii) a manager of the United States branch of an alien insurer;

(iii) an underwriting manager who, pursuant to contract, manages all or part of the insurance operations of the insurer, is under common control with the insurer, is subject to Title 33, chapter 2, part 11, and whose compensation is not based solely on the value of premiums written; or

(iv) the attorney-in-fact authorized by and acting for the subscribers of a reciprocal insurer or an interinsurance exchange under powers of attorney.

(11) "NAIC" means the national association of insurance commissioners.

(12) "Producer" means an insurance producer or reinsurance intermediary authorized or licensed pursuant to this title.

(13) (a) "Qualified United States financial institution" means a financial institution that:

(i) is organized or licensed under the laws of the United States or any state;

(ii) is regulated, supervised, and examined by federal or state authorities having regulatory authority over banks and trust companies and that either:

(A) is determined by the commissioner to meet the standards of financial condition and standing considered necessary and appropriate to regulate the quality of financial institutions whose letters of credit are acceptable to the commissioner; or

(B) is eligible to act as a fiduciary of a trust or has been granted authority to operate with fiduciary powers.

(b) For purposes of this definition, the commissioner may by rule adopt standards of financial condition and standing that may be developed from time to time by the securities valuation office of the NAIC.

(14) "Reinsurance intermediary" means a reinsurance intermediary-broker or a reinsurance intermediary-manager.

(15) "Reinsurance intermediary-broker" means a person, other than an officer or employee of the ceding insurer, who solicits, negotiates, or places reinsurance cessions or retrocessions on behalf of a ceding insurer without the authority or power to bind reinsurance on behalf of the insurer.

(16) (a) "Reinsurance intermediary-manager" means a person who:

(i) has authority to bind or who manages all or part of the assumed reinsurance business of a reinsurer, including the management of a separate division, department, or underwriting office; and

(ii) acts as an agent for the reinsurer, whether known as a reinsurance intermediary-manager, manager, or other similar term.

(b) The following persons are not considered reinsurance intermediary-managers with respect to the reinsurer:

(i) an employee of the reinsurer;

(ii) a manager of the United States branch of an alien reinsurer;

(iii) an underwriting manager who, pursuant to contract, manages all of the reinsurance operations of the reinsurer, is under common control with the reinsurer, is subject to Title 33, chapter 2, part 11, and whose compensation is not based on the volume of premiums written; or

(iv) a person who manages groups, associations, pools, or organizations of insurers that engage in joint underwriting or joint reinsurance and that are subject to examination by the insurance commissioner of the state in which the manager's principal business office is located.

(17) "Reinsurer" means a person, firm, association, or corporation licensed in this state under this title as an insurer with authority to assume reinsurance.

(18) "Underwrite" means the authority to accept or reject risk on behalf of the insurer.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1502. Filing requirements. (1) Each domestic, foreign, and alien insurer authorized to transact insurance in this state shall, on or before March 1 of each year, file with the NAIC a copy of its annual statement convention form, along with any additional filings for the preceding year as prescribed by the commissioner. The information filed with the NAIC must be in the same format and scope as that required by the commissioner and must include the signed jurat page and the actuarial certification. Amendments to the annual statement filing that are subsequently filed with the commissioner must also be filed with the NAIC.

(2) Foreign insurers domiciled in a state that has a law substantially similar to this section are considered to be in compliance with this section.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1503. Immunity of NAIC. In the absence of actual malice, members of the NAIC; their authorized committees, subcommittees, task forces, delegates, and employees; and all others charged with the responsibility of collecting and processing the information developed from the filing of the annual statement convention forms are considered to act under the authority of 33-2-1502 through 33-2-1504. They are not subject to civil liability for libel, slander, or any other cause of action arising from their collection, review, analysis, or dissemination of information collected from the filings required by 33-1-408 through 33-1-410, 33-2-1216 through 33-2-1218, 33-2-1391 through 33-2-1394, Title 33, chapter 2, parts 15 through 17, and 33-11-110.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1504. Confidentiality. All financial analysis ratios and examination synopses concerning insurance companies that are submitted to the department by the NAIC insurance regulatory information systems are confidential and may not be disclosed by the department.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1505 through 33-2-1508 reserved.

33-2-1509. Applicability of minimum standards. (1) The provisions of 33-2-1510 apply if, in any calendar year, the aggregate amount of gross written premiums on business placed with a controlled insurer by a controlling producer is equal to or greater than 5% of the admitted assets of the controlled insurer, as reported in the controlled insurer's quarterly statement filed as of September 30 of the prior year.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1), the provisions of 33-2-1510 do not apply if:

(a) the controlling producer:

(i) does not receive compensation based upon the amount of premiums written in connection with the insurance and places insurance only with:

(A) the controlled insurer; or

(B) the controlled insurer and a member or members of the controlled insurer's holding company system or the controlled insurer's parent, affiliate, or subsidiary; and

(ii) accepts insurance placements only from nonaffiliated subproducers and not directly from insureds; and

(b) except for insurance business written through a residual market facility, the controlled insurer accepts insurance business only from a controlling producer, a producer controlled by the controlled insurer, or a producer that is a subsidiary of the controlled insurer.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1510. Minimum standards. Unless there is a written contract between a controlling producer and a controlled insurer specifying the responsibilities of each party, the controlled insurer may not accept business from the controlling producer and the controlling producer may not place business with the controlled insurer. The contract must be approved by the board of directors of the controlled insurer and must contain the following minimum provisions:

(1) The controlled insurer may terminate the contract for cause, upon written notice to the controlling producer. The controlled insurer shall suspend the authority of the controlling producer to write business during the pendency of any dispute regarding the cause for the termination.

(2) The controlling producer shall render to the controlled insurer accounts detailing all material transactions, including information necessary to support all commissions, charges, and other fees received by or owing to the controlling producer.

(3) On at least a monthly basis, the controlling producer shall remit to the controlled insurer all funds due under the terms of the contract. The due date must be fixed so that premiums or installments of premiums collected must be remitted no later than 90 days after the effective date of any policy placed with the controlled insurer under the contract.

(4) In accordance with the provisions of this title, all funds collected for the controlled insurer's account must be held by the controlling producer in a fiduciary capacity, in one or more appropriately identified bank accounts in banks that are members of the federal reserve system. However, funds of a controlling producer not required to be licensed in this state must be maintained in compliance with the requirements of the jurisdiction in which the controlling producer is domiciled.

(5) The controlling producer shall maintain separately identifiable records of business written for the controlled insurer.

(6) The contract may not be assigned in whole or in part by the controlling producer.

(7) The controlled insurer shall provide the controlling producer with its underwriting standards, rules, procedures, manuals setting forth the rates to be charged, and the conditions for the acceptance or rejection of risks. The controlling producer shall adhere to the standards, rules, procedures, rates, and conditions. The standards, rules, procedures, rates, and conditions must be the same as those applicable to comparable business placed with the controlled insurer by a producer other than the controlling producer.

(8) The rates and terms of the controlling producer's commissions, charges, or other fees and the purposes of those commissions, charges, or fees must be contained in the contract. The rates of the controlling producer's commissions, charges, and other fees may not be greater than those applicable to comparable business placed with the controlled insurer by producers other than controlling producers. For purposes of subsection (7) and this subsection, examples of "comparable business" include the same lines of insurance, same kinds of insurance, same kinds of risks, similar policy limits, and similar quality of business.

(9) If the contract provides that on insurance business placed with the controlled insurer, the controlling producer is to be compensated contingent upon the controlled insurer's profits on that business, then the compensation may not be determined and paid until at least 5 years after the premiums on liability insurance are earned and at least 1 year after the premiums are earned on any other insurance. The commissions may not be paid until the adequacy of the controlled insurer's reserves on remaining claims has been independently verified pursuant to 33-2-1512.

(10) A limit on the controlling producer's writings in relation to the controlled insurer's surplus and total writings must be contained in the contract. The controlled insurer may establish a different limit for each line or subline of business. The controlled insurer shall notify the controlling producer when the applicable limit is approached and may not accept business from the controlling producer if the limit is reached. The controlling producer may not place business with the controlled insurer if it has been notified by the controlled insurer that the limit has been reached.

(11) The controlling producer may negotiate but may not bind reinsurance on behalf of the controlled insurer on business that the controlling producer places with the controlled insurer, except that the controlling producer may bind facultative reinsurance contracts pursuant to obligatory facultative agreements if the contract with the controlled insurer contains underwriting guidelines. For reinsurance assumed and ceded, the guidelines must include a list of reinsurers with which the automatic agreements are in effect, the coverages and amounts or percentages that may be reinsured, and commission schedules.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 596, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 32, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-2-1511. Audit committee. Each controlled insurer shall have an audit committee of the board of directors composed of independent directors. The audit committee shall annually review the adequacy of the controlled insurer's loss reserves and meet with management, the controlled insurer's independent certified public accountants, and an independent casualty actuary or other independent loss reserve specialist acceptable to the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1512. Annual report by independent actuary. In addition to any other required loss reserve certification, the controlled insurer shall, on April 1 of each year, file with the commissioner an opinion of an independent casualty actuary or other independent loss reserve specialist acceptable to the commissioner. The opinion must report the loss ratios for each line of business written and must attest to the adequacy of loss reserves established for losses incurred and outstanding as of the yearend, including losses incurred but not reported, on business placed by the producer.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1513. Annual report to commissioner. The controlled insurer shall annually report to the commissioner:

(1) the amount of commissions paid to the producer;

(2) the percentage the amount represents of the net premiums written; and

(3) comparable amounts and the percentage paid to noncontrolling producers for placements of the same kinds of insurance.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1514. Disclosure. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), the producer, prior to the effective date of the policy, shall deliver written notice to the prospective insured, disclosing the relationship between the producer and the controlled insurer.

(2) If the business is placed through a subproducer who is not a controlling producer, the controlling producer shall retain in the controlling producer's records a signed commitment from the subproducer that the subproducer is aware of the relationship between the controlled insurer and the producer and that the subproducer has notified or will notify the insured.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1515. Penalties. (1) (a) If the commissioner believes that a controlling producer or any other person has not materially complied with 33-2-1509 through 33-2-1514 or any regulation or order promulgated under 33-2-1509 through 33-2-1514, the commissioner, after notice and opportunity to be heard, may order the controlling producer to cease placing business with the controlled insurer.

(b) If it is found that because of the material noncompliance with 33-2-1509 through 33-2-1514, the controlled insurer or any policyholder of the controlled insurer has suffered any loss or damage, the commissioner may maintain a civil action or intervene in an action brought by or on behalf of the controlled insurer or policyholder for recovery of compensatory damages for the benefit of the controlled insurer or policyholder or other appropriate relief.

(2) The receiver may maintain a civil action for recovery of damages or other appropriate sanctions for the benefit of the insurer if:

(a) an order for liquidation or rehabilitation of the controlled insurer has been entered pursuant to Title 33, chapter 2, part 13;

(b) the receiver appointed under that order believes that the controlling producer or any other person has not materially complied with 33-2-1509 through 33-2-1514 or any regulation or order promulgated under 33-2-1509 through 33-2-1514; and

(c) the controlled insurer suffered any loss or damage from the noncompliance.

(3) This section does not affect the right of the commissioner to impose any other penalties provided for in this title.

(4) This section may not be construed to alter or affect the rights of policyholders, claimants, creditors, or other third parties.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1516. Compliance — applicability. (1) Controlled insurers and controlling producers who are not in compliance with 33-2-1510 on October 1, 1993, have 60 days to come into compliance and shall comply with 33-2-1514 in all policies written or renewed on or after December 1, 1993.

(2) Sections 33-2-1509 through 33-2-1514 apply to insurers that are domiciled in this state or domiciled in a state that is not an accredited state that has in effect a substantially similar law.

(3) The provisions of Title 33, chapter 2, part 11, to the extent they are not superseded by 33-2-1509 through 33-2-1514, continue to apply to all entities within holding company systems subject to 33-2-1509 through 33-2-1514.

(4) An insurer may not continue to use the services of a managing general agent after December 1, 1993, unless the use complies with part 16 of this chapter.

(5) An insurer or reinsurer may not continue to use the services of a reinsurance intermediary after December 1, 1993, unless the use complies with part 17 of this chapter.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1517. Rulemaking authority. (1) The commissioner may adopt rules implementing the provisions of 33-1-408 through 33-1-410, 33-2-1216 through 33-2-1218, 33-2-1391 through 33-2-1394, Title 33, chapter 2, parts 15 through 17, and 33-11-110.

(2) The authority of the commissioner to adopt rules is specifically extended, without limitation, to establish standards for companies considered to be in hazardous financial condition, to require annual audited financial reports, to regulate life and health reinsurance agreements, to provide for reports to the commissioner by holding company systems, and to establish accounting practices and procedures to be used by insurers in their annual statements.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

Regulation of Managing General Agents

Part Cross-References

Agency, Title 28, ch. 10.

33-2-1601. Licensure of managing general agent. (1) A person, firm, association, or corporation may not act in the capacity of a managing general agent with respect to risks located in this state for an insurer licensed in this state unless the person is a licensed producer in this state.

(2) A person, firm, association, or corporation may not act in the capacity of a managing general agent representing an insurer domiciled in this state with respect to risks located outside this state unless the person is licensed as a resident or nonresident producer in this state pursuant to the provisions of this part.

(3) The commissioner may require a bond in an amount acceptable to the commissioner for the protection of the insurer.

(4) The commissioner may require the managing general agent to maintain a policy on errors and omissions.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1602. Managing general agent — required contract provisions. A person acting in the capacity of a managing general agent may not place business with an insurer unless there is in force a written contract between the parties that sets forth the responsibilities of each party. Whenever both parties share responsibility for a particular function, the written contract must specify the division of responsibilities. The contract must provide at least the following:

(1) The insurer may terminate the contract for cause upon written notice to the managing general agent. The insurer may suspend the underwriting authority of the managing general agent during the pendency of any dispute regarding the cause for termination.

(2) The managing general agent shall render accounts to the insurer, detailing all transactions, and shall remit all funds due under the contract to the insurer on not less than a monthly basis.

(3) All funds collected for the account of an insurer must be held by the managing general agent in a fiduciary capacity in a bank that is a member of the federal reserve system. This account must be used for all payments on behalf of the insurer. The managing general agent may not retain more than 3 months' estimated claims payments and allocated loss adjustment expenses.

(4) Separate records of business written by the managing general agent must be maintained. The insurer has access to and may copy all accounts and records that are related to its business, in a form usable by the insurer. The commissioner has access to all books, bank accounts, and records of the managing general agent in a form usable to the commissioner. The records must be retained pursuant to 33-3-401.

(5) The contract may not be assigned in whole or in part by the managing general agent.

(6) The contract must contain appropriate underwriting guidelines, including:

(a) the maximum annual premium volume;

(b) the basis of the rates to be charged;

(c) the types of risks that may be written;

(d) maximum limits of liability;

(e) any applicable exclusions;

(f) the territorial limitations;

(g) policy cancellation provisions; and

(h) the maximum policy period.

(7) The insurer may cancel or decline to renew any policy of insurance, as provided by law.

(8) If the contract permits the managing general agent to settle claims on behalf of the insurer:

(a) all claims must be reported to the company in a timely manner;

(b) a copy of the claims file must be sent to the insurer at its request or as soon as it becomes known that the claim:

(i) has the potential to exceed an amount determined by the commissioner or actually exceeds the limit set by the company, whichever is less;

(ii) involves a coverage dispute;

(iii) may exceed the managing general agent's claims settlement authority;

(iv) is open for more than 6 months; or

(v) is closed by payment of an amount set by the commissioner or an amount set by the company, whichever is less;

(c) all claims files are the joint property of the insurer and managing general agent. However, upon an order of liquidation of the insurer, the files become the sole property of the insurer or its estate. The managing general agent has reasonable access to and may copy the files on a timely basis.

(d) any settlement authority granted to the managing general agent may be terminated for cause upon the insurer's written notice to the managing general agent or upon the termination of the contract. The insurer may suspend the settlement authority during the pendency of any dispute regarding the cause for termination.

(9) When electronic claims files are in existence, the contract must address the timely transmission of the data.

(10) If the contract provides for a sharing of interim profits by the managing general agent and the managing general agent has the authority to determine the amount of the interim profits, whether by establishing loss reserves or controlling claim payments or in any other manner, interim profits may not be paid to the managing general agent until:

(a) 1 year after they are earned for property insurance business;

(b) 5 years after they are earned on casualty business; and

(c) the profits have been verified.

(11) The managing general agent may not:

(a) bind reinsurance or retrocessions on behalf of the insurer, except that the managing general agent may bind facultative reinsurance contracts pursuant to obligatory facultative agreements if the contract with the insurer contains reinsurance underwriting guidelines, including for reinsurance assumed and ceded:

(i) a list of reinsurers with which automatic agreements are in effect;

(ii) the coverages and amounts or percentages that may be reinsured; and

(iii) commission schedules;

(b) commit the insurer to participate in insurance or reinsurance syndicates;

(c) appoint any producer without ensuring that the producer is lawfully licensed to transact the type of insurance for which the producer is appointed;

(d) without prior approval of the insurer, pay or commit the insurer to pay a claim over a specified amount, net of reinsurance, which may not exceed 1% of the insurer's policyholder's surplus as of December 31 of the last-completed calendar year;

(e) collect any payment from a reinsurer or commit the insurer to any claim settlement with a reinsurer without the prior approval of the insurer. If prior approval is given, a report must be promptly forwarded to the insurer.

(f) permit its subproducer to serve on the insurer's board of directors;

(g) jointly employ an individual who is employed with the insurer; or

(h) appoint a submanaging general agent.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1603. Duties of insurers. (1) The insurer must have on file an independent financial examination, in a form acceptable to the commissioner, of each managing general agent with which it has done business.

(2) If a managing general agent establishes loss reserves, the insurer shall annually obtain the opinion of an actuary attesting to the adequacy of loss reserves established for losses incurred and outstanding on business produced by the managing general agent. This is in addition to any other required loss reserve certification.

(3) At least semiannually, the insurer shall conduct an onsite review of the underwriting and claims processing operations of the managing general agent.

(4) Binding authority for all reinsurance contracts or participation in insurance or reinsurance syndicates rests with an officer of the insurer who is not affiliated with the managing general agent.

(5) Within 30 days of entering into or termination of a contract with a managing general agent, the insurer shall provide the commissioner with written notification of the appointment or termination. Notices of appointment of a managing general agent must include a statement of duties that the applicant is expected to perform on behalf of the insurer, the lines of insurance for which the applicant is to be authorized to act, and any other information the commissioner may request.

(6) An insurer shall review its books and records each quarter to determine if any producer has become a managing general agent. If the insurer determines that a producer has become a managing general agent, the insurer shall promptly notify the producer and the commissioner of the determination and the insurer and the producer shall comply with this part within 30 days.

(7) An insurer may not appoint to its board of directors an officer, director, employee, subproducer, or controlling shareholder of its managing general agent. This subsection does not apply to relationships governed by Title 33, chapter 2, part 11, or 33-2-1509 through 33-2-1514.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1604. Examination authority. The acts of the managing general agent are considered to be the acts of the insurer on whose behalf it is acting. A managing general agent may be examined as if it were the insurer.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1605. Penalties and liabilities. (1) If, after a hearing conducted in accordance with Title 33, chapter 1, part 7, the commissioner finds that a person has violated any provision of this part, the commissioner may order:

(a) a penalty in an amount of $5,000 for each separate violation;

(b) revocation or suspension of the producer's license; and

(c) the managing general agent to reimburse the insurer, the rehabilitator, or a liquidator of the insurer for any losses incurred by the insurer caused by a violation of this part committed by the managing general agent.

(2) An order of the commissioner pursuant to subsection (1) is subject to judicial review pursuant to 33-1-711.

(3) This section does not limit the power of the commissioner to impose any other penalty provided in this title.

(4) This part does not limit the rights of policyholders, claimants, or creditors.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 596, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 33, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

Part 17
Regulation of Reinsurance Intermediaries

33-2-1701. Licensure of reinsurance intermediaries. (1) A person, firm, association, or corporation may not act as a reinsurance intermediary-broker in this state if the reinsurance intermediary-broker maintains an office directly, as a member or employee of a firm or association, or as an officer, director, or employee of a corporation:

(a) in this state, unless the reinsurance intermediary-broker is a licensed producer in this state; or

(b) in another state, unless the reinsurance intermediary-broker is a licensed producer in this state or another state that has a law substantially similar to this law or unless the reinsurance intermediary-broker is licensed in this state as a nonresident reinsurance intermediary.

(2) A person, firm, association, or corporation may not act as a reinsurance intermediary-manager:

(a) for a reinsurer domiciled in this state, unless the reinsurance intermediary-manager is a licensed producer in this state;

(b) in this state, if the reinsurance intermediary-manager maintains an office either directly or as a member or employee of a firm or association or as an officer, director, or employee of a corporation in this state, unless the reinsurance intermediary-manager is a licensed producer in this state; or

(c) in another state for a nondomestic insurer, unless the reinsurance intermediary-manager is a licensed producer in this state or another state that has a law substantially similar to this law or unless the person is licensed in this state as a nonresident insurance intermediary.

(3) Subject to subsection (2), the commissioner may require a reinsurance intermediary-manager to:

(a) file a bond in an amount from an insurer acceptable to the commissioner for the protection of the reinsurer; and

(b) maintain a policy on errors and omissions in an amount acceptable to the commissioner.

(4) (a) The commissioner may issue a reinsurance intermediary license to any person, firm, association, or corporation that has complied with the requirements of this part. A license issued to a firm or association authorizes all the members of the firm or association and any designated employees to act as reinsurance intermediaries under the license. All authorized persons must be named in the application and in any supplements to the application. A license issued to a corporation must authorize all of the officers and any designated employees and directors to act as reinsurance intermediaries on behalf of the corporation. All authorized persons must be named in the application and in any supplements to the application.

(b) If the applicant for a reinsurance intermediary license is a nonresident, the applicant, as a condition precedent to receiving or holding a license, shall designate the commissioner as the agent for service of process in the manner provided for by this title for designation of service of process upon unauthorized insurers. The applicant shall also furnish the commissioner with the name and address of a resident of this state upon whom notices or orders of the commissioner or process affecting the nonresident reinsurance intermediary may be served. The licensee shall promptly notify the commissioner in writing of each change in its designated agent for service of process, and the change may not become effective until acknowledged by the commissioner.

(5) (a) The commissioner may refuse to issue a reinsurance intermediary license if, in the commissioner's judgment:

(i) the applicant, a person named on the application, or a member, principal, officer, or director of the applicant is not trustworthy;

(ii) a controlling person of the applicant is not trustworthy to act as a reinsurance intermediary; or

(iii) any of the persons listed in subsection (5)(a)(i) or (5)(a)(ii) has given cause for revocation or suspension of the license or has failed to comply with any prerequisite for the issuance of the license.

(b) Upon written request, the commissioner shall furnish a summary of the basis for refusal to issue a license.

(6) Licensed attorneys of this state, when acting in their professional capacity, are exempt from this section.

History: En. Sec. 19, Ch. 596, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 8, Ch. 416, L. 1999.

33-2-1702. Required contract provisions — reinsurance intermediary-brokers. Transactions between a reinsurance intermediary-broker and the insurer it represents must be entered into pursuant to a written authorization, specifying the responsibilities of each party. The authorization must, at a minimum, contain the following provisions:

(1) The insurer may terminate the reinsurance intermediary-broker's authority at any time.

(2) The reinsurance intermediary-broker shall render to the insurer accounts accurately detailing all material transactions, including information necessary to support all commissions, charges, and other fees received by or owing to the reinsurance intermediary-broker. The reinsurance intermediary-broker shall remit all funds due to the insurer within 30 days of receipt.

(3) All funds collected for the insurer's account must be held by the reinsurance intermediary-broker in a fiduciary capacity in a bank that is a qualified United States financial institution.

(4) The reinsurance intermediary-broker shall comply with the requirements of 33-2-1703.

(5) The reinsurance intermediary-broker shall comply with the written standards established by the insurer for the cession or retrocession of all risks.

(6) The reinsurance intermediary-broker shall disclose to the insurer any relationship with any reinsurer to which business will be ceded or retroceded.

History: En. Sec. 20, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1703. Books and records — reinsurance intermediary-brokers. (1) For at least 10 years after expiration of each contract of reinsurance transacted by the reinsurance intermediary-broker, the reinsurance intermediary-broker shall keep a complete record for each transaction, showing:

(a) the type of contract, limits, underwriting restrictions, classes or risks, and territory;

(b) the period of coverage, including the effective and expiration dates, cancellation provisions, and notice required for cancellation;

(c) the reporting and settlement requirements of balances;

(d) the rate used to compute the reinsurance premium;

(e) the names and addresses of assuming reinsurers;

(f) the rates of all reinsurance commissions, including the commissions on any retrocessions handled by the reinsurance intermediary-broker;

(g) any related correspondence and memorandums;

(h) the proof of placement;

(i) the details regarding retrocessions handled by the reinsurance intermediary-broker, including the identity of the party making the retrocession and the percentage of each contract assumed or ceded;

(j) the financial records, including but not limited to premium and loss accounts; and

(k) when the reinsurance intermediary-broker procures a reinsurance contract on behalf of a licensed ceding insurer:

(i) directly from any assuming reinsurer, written evidence that the assuming reinsurer has agreed to assume the risk; or

(ii) if placed through a representative of the assuming reinsurer, other than an employee, written evidence that the reinsurer has delegated binding authority to the representative.

(2) The insurer has access to and may copy and audit all accounts and records maintained by the reinsurance intermediary-broker that are related to the insurer's business, in a form usable by the insurer.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1704. Duties of insurers utilizing the services of a reinsurance intermediary-broker. (1) An insurer may not engage the services of any person, firm, association, or corporation to act as a reinsurance intermediary-broker on its behalf unless the person is licensed as required by 33-2-1701.

(2) An insurer may not employ an individual who is employed by a reinsurance intermediary-broker with which it transacts business unless the reinsurance intermediary-broker is under common control with the insurer and is subject to the provisions of Title 33, chapter 2, part 11.

(3) The insurer shall annually obtain a copy of statements of the financial condition of each reinsurance intermediary-broker with which it transacts business.

History: En. Sec. 22, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1705. Required contract provisions — reinsurance intermediary-managers. Transactions between a reinsurance intermediary-manager and the reinsurer it represents in that capacity may only be entered into pursuant to a written contract specifying the responsibilities of each party. The contract must be approved by the reinsurer's board of directors. At least 30 days before the reinsurer assumes or cedes business through a producer, a true copy of the approved contract must be filed with the commissioner for approval. The contract must, at a minimum, include the following provisions:

(1) The reinsurer may terminate the contract for cause upon written notice to the reinsurance intermediary-manager. The reinsurer may immediately suspend the authority of the reinsurance intermediary-manager to assume or cede business during the pendency of any dispute regarding the cause for termination.

(2) The reinsurance intermediary-manager shall render accounts to the reinsurer accurately detailing all material transactions, including information necessary to support all commissions, charges, and other fees received by or owed to the reinsurance intermediary-manager, and shall remit all funds due under the contract to the reinsurer on not less than a monthly basis.

(3) All funds collected for the reinsurer's account will be held by the reinsurance intermediary-manager in a fiduciary capacity in a bank that is a qualified United States financial institution. The reinsurance intermediary-manager may not retain more than 3 months' estimated claims payments and allocated loss adjustment expenses. The reinsurance intermediary-manager shall maintain a separate bank account for each reinsurer that it represents.

(4) For at least 10 years after expiration of each contract of reinsurance transacted by the reinsurance intermediary-manager, the reinsurance intermediary-manager shall keep a complete record for each transaction showing:

(a) the type of contract, limits, underwriting restrictions, classes or risks, and territory;

(b) the period of coverage, including effective and expiration dates, cancellation provisions, notice required for cancellation, and disposition of outstanding reserves on covered risks;

(c) the reporting and settlement requirements of balances;

(d) the rate used to compute the reinsurance premium;

(e) the names and addresses of reinsurers;

(f) the rates of all reinsurance commissions, including the commissions on any retrocessions handled by the reinsurance intermediary-manager;

(g) related correspondence and memorandums;

(h) proof of placement;

(i) details regarding retrocessions handled by the reinsurance intermediary-manager, as permitted by 33-2-1707, including the identity of persons making the retrocessions and the percentage of each contract assumed or ceded;

(j) financial records, including but not limited to premium and loss accounts; and

(k) when the reinsurance intermediary-manager places a reinsurance contract on behalf of a ceding insurer:

(i) directly from any assuming reinsurer, written evidence that the assuming reinsurer has agreed to assume the risk; or

(ii) if placed through a representative of the assuming reinsurer, other than an employee, written evidence that the assuming reinsurer has delegated binding authority to the representative.

(5) The reinsurer will have access to and the right to copy all accounts and records maintained by the reinsurance intermediary-manager related to its business in a form usable by the reinsurer.

(6) The contract may not be assigned in whole or in part by the reinsurance intermediary-manager.

(7) The reinsurance intermediary-manager shall comply with the written underwriting and rating standards established by the insurer for the acceptance, rejection, or cession of all risks.

(8) The rates, terms, and purposes of commissions, charges, and other fees that the reinsurance intermediary-manager may levy against the reinsurer must be set forth.

(9) If the contract permits the reinsurance intermediary-manager to settle claims on behalf of the reinsurer:

(a) all claims must be reported to the reinsurer in a timely manner;

(b) a copy of the claim file must be sent to the reinsurer at its request or as soon as it becomes known that the claim:

(i) has the potential to exceed the lesser of an amount determined by the commissioner or the limit set by the reinsurer;

(ii) involves a coverage dispute;

(iii) may exceed the reinsurance intermediary-manager's claims settlement authority;

(iv) is open for more than 6 months; or

(v) is closed by payment of the lesser of an amount set by the commissioner or an amount set by the reinsurer;

(c) all claim files must be the joint property of the reinsurer and the reinsurance intermediary-manager. However, upon an order of liquidation of the reinsurer, the files become the sole property of the reinsurer or its estate. The reinsurance intermediary-manager must have reasonable access to and the right to copy the files on a timely basis.

(d) any settlement authority granted to the reinsurance intermediary-manager may be terminated for cause upon the reinsurer's written notice to the reinsurance intermediary-manager or upon the termination of the contract. The reinsurer may suspend the settlement authority during the pendency of the dispute regarding the cause of termination.

(10) If the contract provides for a sharing of interim profits by the reinsurance intermediary-manager, the interim profits may not be paid until:

(a) 1 year after the end of each underwriting period for property business;

(b) 5 years after the end of each underwriting period for casualty business;

(c) a later period set by the commissioner for specified lines of insurance; and

(d) the adequacy of reserves on remaining claims has been verified pursuant to 33-2-1707.

(11) The reinsurance intermediary-manager shall annually provide the reinsurer with a statement of its financial condition prepared by an independent certified accountant.

(12) The reinsurer shall, at least semiannually, conduct an onsite review of the underwriting and claims processing operations of the reinsurance intermediary-manager.

(13) The reinsurance intermediary-manager shall disclose to the reinsurer any relationship it has with any insurer prior to ceding or assuming any business with the insurer pursuant to the contract.

(14) Within the scope of its actual or apparent authority, the acts of the reinsurance intermediary-manager are considered to be the acts of the reinsurer on whose behalf it is acting.

History: En. Sec. 23, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1706. Prohibited acts. A reinsurance intermediary-manager may not:

(1) bind retrocessions on behalf of the reinsurer, except that the reinsurance intermediary-manager may bind facultative retrocessions pursuant to obligatory facultative agreements if the contract with the reinsurer contains reinsurance underwriting guidelines for retrocessions. The guidelines must include a list of reinsurers with which automatic agreements are in effect and, for each reinsurer, must include the coverages, amounts of percentages that may be reinsured, and commission schedules.

(2) commit the reinsurer to participate in reinsurance syndicates;

(3) appoint any producer without ensuring that the producer is licensed to transact the type of reinsurance for which the producer is appointed;

(4) without prior approval of the reinsurer, pay or commit the reinsurer to pay a claim, net of retrocessions, that exceeds the lesser of an amount specified by the reinsurer or 1% of the reinsurer's policyholder's surplus as of December 31 of the last complete calendar year;

(5) collect any payment from a party making a retrocession, or commit the reinsurer to any claim settlement with a party making a retrocession, without prior approval of the reinsurer. If prior approval is given, a report must be promptly forwarded to the reinsurer.

(6) jointly employ an individual who is employed by the reinsurer unless the reinsurance intermediary-manager is under common control with the reinsurer subject to Title 33, chapter 2, part 11;

(7) appoint a subreinsurance intermediary-manager.

History: En. Sec. 24, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1707. Duties of reinsurers using services of reinsurance intermediary-manager. (1) A reinsurer may not engage the services of any person, firm, association, or corporation as a reinsurance intermediary-manager on its behalf unless the person is licensed as required by 33-2-1701.

(2) The reinsurer shall annually obtain a copy of statements of the financial condition of each reinsurance intermediary-manager that the reinsurer has engaged, prepared by an independent certified accountant, in a form acceptable to the commissioner.

(3) If a reinsurance intermediary-manager establishes loss reserves, the reinsurer shall annually obtain the opinion of an actuary attesting to the adequacy of loss reserves established for losses incurred and outstanding on business produced by the reinsurance intermediary-manager. The opinion is in addition to any other required loss reserve certification.

(4) Binding authority for all retrocessional contracts or participation in reinsurance syndicates must rest with an officer of the reinsurer who may not be affiliated with the reinsurance intermediary-manager.

(5) Within 30 days of termination of a contract with a reinsurance intermediary-manager, the reinsurer shall provide written notification of the termination to the commissioner.

(6) A reinsurer may not appoint to its board of directors any officer, director, employee, controlling shareholder, or subproducer of its reinsurance intermediary-manager. This subsection does not apply to relationships governed by Title 33, chapter 2, part 11, or, if applicable, 33-2-1701 through 33-2-1705.

History: En. Sec. 25, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1708. Examination authority. (1) A reinsurance intermediary is subject to examination by the commissioner. The commissioner must have access to all books, bank accounts, and records of the reinsurance intermediary in a form usable to the commissioner.

(2) A reinsurance intermediary-manager may be examined as if it were the reinsurer.

History: En. Sec. 26, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-2-1709. Penalties and liabilities. (1) (a) A reinsurance intermediary, insurer, or reinsurer found by the commissioner, after a hearing conducted in accordance with Title 33, chapter 1, part 7, to be in violation of any provision of 33-2-1701 through 33-2-1708:

(i) shall, for each separate violation, pay a penalty in an amount not to exceed $5,000; and

(ii) is subject to revocation or suspension of its license.

(b) If a violation was committed by the reinsurance intermediary, the reinsurance intermediary shall make restitution to the insurer, reinsurer, rehabilitator, or liquidator of the insurer or reinsurer for the net losses incurred by the insurer or reinsurer attributable to the violation.

(2) The order of the commissioner pursuant to subsection (1) is subject to judicial review pursuant to Title 33, chapter 1, part 7.

(3) This section does not limit the authority of the commissioner to impose any other penalties provided in the insurance law.

(4) Sections 33-2-1701 through 33-2-1708 do not limit or restrict the rights of policyholders, claimants, creditors, or other third parties or confer any rights upon those persons.

History: En. Sec. 27, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

Part 18 reserved

Part 19
Risk-Based Capital for Insurers

33-2-1901. Short title. This part constitutes and may be referred to as "The Risk-Based Capital for Insurers Act".

History: En. Sec. 82, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-2-1902. Definitions. As used in this part, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Adjusted RBC report" means an RBC report that has been adjusted by the commissioner in accordance with 33-2-1903(5).

(2) "Corrective order" means an order issued by the commissioner specifying corrective actions that the commissioner has determined are required.

(3) "Domestic insurer" means any insurance company domiciled in this state.

(4) "Foreign insurer" means any insurance company licensed to do business in this state under 33-2-116 but not domiciled in this state.

(5) "Life or disability insurer" means:

(a) any insurance company licensed under 33-2-116 and engaged in the business of entering into contracts of disability insurance, as described in 33-1-207, or life insurance, as described in 33-1-208;

(b) a licensed property and casualty insurer writing only disability insurance; or

(c) any insurer engaged solely in the business of reinsurance of life or disability contracts.

(6) "NAIC" means the national association of insurance commissioners.

(7) "Negative trend" means, with respect to a life or health insurer, a negative trend over a period of time, as determined in accordance with the trend test calculation included in the RBC instructions.

(8) (a) "Property and casualty insurer" means:

(i) any insurance company licensed under 33-2-116 and engaged in the business of entering into contracts of property insurance, as described in 33-1-210, or casualty insurance, as described in 33-1-206;

(ii) any insurance company engaged solely in the business of reinsurance of property and casualty contracts; or

(iii) any insurance company engaged in the business of surety and marine insurance.

(b) The term does not include monoline mortgage guaranty insurers, financial guaranty insurers, and title insurers.

(9) "RBC instructions" means the RBC report, including risk-based capital instructions adopted by the NAIC, as the RBC instructions may be amended by the NAIC from time to time in accordance with the procedures adopted by the NAIC.

(10) "RBC level" means an insurer's authorized control level RBC, company action level RBC, mandatory control level RBC, or regulatory action level RBC, where:

(a) "authorized control level RBC" means the number determined under the risk-based capital formula in accordance with the RBC instructions;

(b) "company action level RBC" means, with respect to any insurer, the product of 2 and its authorized control level RBC;

(c) "mandatory control level RBC" means the product of 0.70 and the authorized control level RBC; and

(d) "regulatory action level RBC" means the product of 1.5 and its authorized control level RBC.

(11) "RBC plan" means a comprehensive financial plan containing the elements specified in 33-2-1904(2). If the commissioner rejects the RBC plan and it is revised by the insurer, with or without the commissioner's recommendation, the plan must be called a revised RBC plan.

(12) "RBC report" means the report required in 33-2-1903.

(13) "Total adjusted capital" means the sum of:

(a) an insurer's statutory capital and surplus; and

(b) other items, if any, as the RBC instructions may provide.

History: En. Sec. 83, Ch. 379, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 11, Ch. 531, L. 1997.

33-2-1903. RBC reports. (1) Each domestic insurer shall, on or before each March 1 filing date, prepare and submit to the commissioner a report of its RBC levels as of the end of the previous calendar year in a form and containing information as required by the RBC instructions. In addition, each domestic insurer shall file its RBC report:

(a) with the NAIC in accordance with the RBC instructions; and

(b) with the insurance commissioner in any state in which the insurer is authorized to do business if that insurance commissioner has notified the insurer of the request in writing, in which case the insurer shall file its RBC report not later than the later of:

(i) 15 days from the receipt of notice to file its RBC report with that state; or

(ii) the March 1 filing date.

(2) A life and disability insurer's RBC must be determined in accordance with the formula set forth in the RBC instructions. The formula must take into account and may adjust for the covariance between:

(a) the risk with respect to the insurer's assets;

(b) the risk of adverse insurance experience with respect to the insurer's liabilities and obligations;

(c) the interest rate risk with respect to the insurer's business; and

(d) all other business risks and other relevant risks as are set forth in the RBC instructions and determined in each case by applying the factors in the manner set forth in the RBC instructions.

(3) A property and casualty insurer's RBC must be determined in accordance with the formula set forth in the RBC instructions. The formula shall take into account and may adjust for the covariance between:

(a) asset risk;

(b) credit risk;

(c) underwriting risk; and

(d) all other business risks and other relevant risks that are set forth in the RBC instructions and determined in each case by applying the factors in the manner set forth in the RBC instructions.

(4) An excess of capital over the amount produced by the risk-based capital requirements contained in this part and the formulas, schedules, and instructions referenced in 33-2-1906 through 33-2-1913 is desirable in the business of insurance. Accordingly, insurers should seek to maintain capital above the RBC levels required by this part. Additional capital is used and useful in the insurance business and helps to secure an insurer against various risks inherent in or affecting the business of insurance and not accounted for or only partially measured by the risk-based capital requirements contained in this part.

(5) If a domestic insurer files an RBC report that in the judgment of the commissioner is inaccurate, the commissioner shall adjust the RBC report to correct the inaccuracy and shall notify the insurer of the adjustment. The notice must contain a statement of the reason for the adjustment. An RBC report so adjusted is referred to as an adjusted RBC report.

History: En. Sec. 84, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-2-1904. Company action level event. (1) "Company action level event" means any of the following events:

(a) the filing of an RBC report by an insurer which indicates that:

(i) the insurer's total adjusted capital is greater than or equal to its regulatory action level RBC but less than its company action level RBC; or

(ii) for a life or disability insurer, the insurer has total adjusted capital that is greater than or equal to its company action level RBC but less than the product of its authorized control level RBC and 2.5 and that has a negative trend;

(b) the notification by the commissioner to the insurer of an adjusted RBC report that indicates an event in subsection (1)(a) if the insurer does not challenge the adjusted RBC report under 33-2-1908 or if the commissioner has rejected the insurer's challenge.

(2) In the event of a company action level event, the insurer shall prepare and submit to the commissioner an RBC plan that must:

(a) identify the conditions that contribute to the company action level event;

(b) contain proposals of corrective actions that the insurer intends to take and that would be expected to result in the elimination of the company action level event;

(c) provide projections of the insurer's financial results in the current year and at least the next 4 years, both in the absence of proposed corrective actions and giving effect to the proposed corrective actions, including projections of statutory operating income, net income, capital, and surplus. The projections for both new and renewal business may include separate projections for each major line of business and separately identify each significant income, expense, and benefit component.

(d) identify the key assumptions impacting the insurer's projections and the sensitivity of the projections to the assumptions; and

(e) identify the quality of and problems associated with the insurer's business, including but not limited to its assets, anticipated business growth and associated surplus strain, extraordinary exposure to risk, mix of business, and use of reinsurance, if any, in each case.

(3) The RBC plan must be submitted:

(a) within 45 days of the company action level event; or

(b) if the insurer challenges an adjusted RBC report pursuant to 33-2-1908, within 45 days after notification to the insurer that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the insurer's challenge.

(4) Within 60 days after the submission by an insurer of an RBC plan to the commissioner, the commissioner shall notify the insurer as to whether the RBC plan may be implemented or is unsatisfactory in the judgment of the commissioner. If the commissioner determines that the RBC plan is unsatisfactory, the notification to the insurer must set forth the reasons for the determination and may set forth proposed revisions that will render the RBC plan satisfactory in the judgment of the commissioner. Upon notification from the commissioner, the insurer shall prepare a revised RBC plan, which may incorporate by reference any revisions proposed by the commissioner, and shall submit the revised RBC plan to the commissioner:

(a) within 45 days after the notification from the commissioner; or

(b) if the insurer challenges the notification from the commissioner under 33-2-1908, within 45 days after a notification to the insurer that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the insurer's challenge.

(5) In the event of a notification by the commissioner to an insurer that the insurer's RBC plan or revised RBC plan is unsatisfactory, the commissioner may, at the commissioner's discretion, subject to the insurer's right to a hearing under 33-2-1908, specify in the notification that the notification constitutes a regulatory action level event.

(6) Each domestic insurer that files an RBC plan or revised RBC plan with the commissioner shall file a copy of the RBC plan or revised RBC plan with the insurance commissioner in any state in which the insurer is authorized to do business if:

(a) the state has an RBC provision substantially similar to 33-2-1909(1); and

(b) the insurance commissioner of that state has notified the insurer in writing of its request for the filing, in which case the insurer shall file a copy of the RBC plan or revised RBC plan in that state by the later of:

(i) 15 days after the receipt of notice to file a copy of its RBC plan or revised RBC plan with that state; or

(ii) the date on which the RBC plan or revised RBC plan is filed under subsections (3) and (4).

History: En. Sec. 85, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-2-1905. Regulatory action level event. (1) "Regulatory action level event" means, with respect to any insurer, any of the following events:

(a) the filing of an RBC report by the insurer that indicates that the insurer's total adjusted capital is greater than or equal to its authorized control level RBC but less than its regulatory action level RBC;

(b) the notification by the commissioner to an insurer of an adjusted RBC report that indicates the event in subsection (1)(a) if the insurer does not challenge the adjusted RBC report under 33-2-1908 or the commissioner rejects the insurer's challenge;

(c) the failure of the insurer to file an RBC report by the filing date, unless the insurer has provided an explanation for the failure that is satisfactory to the commissioner and has cured the failure within 10 days after the filing date;

(d) the failure of the insurer to submit an RBC plan to the commissioner within the time period set forth in 33-2-1904(3);

(e) notification by the commissioner to the insurer that:

(i) the RBC plan or revised RBC plan submitted by the insurer is unsatisfactory in the judgment of the commissioner; and

(ii) the notification constitutes a regulatory action level event with respect to the insurer if the insurer has not challenged the determination under 33-2-1908;

(f) if, pursuant to 33-2-1908, the insurer challenges a determination by the commissioner, the notification by the commissioner to the insurer that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the challenge;

(g) notification by the commissioner to the insurer that the insurer has failed to adhere to its RBC plan or revised RBC plan, but only if the failure has a substantial adverse effect on the ability of the insurer to eliminate the company action level event in accordance with its RBC plan or revised RBC plan and the commissioner has so stated in the notification and if the insurer has not challenged the determination under 33-2-1908 or the commissioner has not rejected the insurer's challenge.

(2) In the event of a regulatory action level event, the commissioner shall:

(a) require the insurer to prepare and submit an RBC plan or, if applicable, a revised RBC plan;

(b) perform an examination or analysis as the commissioner considers necessary of the assets, liabilities, and operations of the insurer including a review of its RBC plan or revised RBC plan; and

(c) subsequent to the examination or analysis, issue a corrective order specifying corrective actions that the commissioner determines are required.

(3) In determining corrective actions, the commissioner may take into account factors considered relevant with respect to the insurer based upon the commissioner's examination or analysis of the assets, liabilities, and operations of the insurer, including but not limited to the results of any sensitivity tests undertaken pursuant to the RBC instructions. The RBC plan or revised RBC plan must be submitted:

(a) within 45 days after the occurrence of the regulatory action level event;

(b) if the insurer challenges an adjusted RBC report pursuant to 33-2-1908 and the challenge is not frivolous in the judgment of the commissioner, within 45 days after the notification to the insurer that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the insurer's challenge; or

(c) if the insurer challenges a revised RBC plan pursuant to 33-2-1908 and the challenge is not frivolous in the judgment of the commissioner, within 45 days after the notification to the insurer that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the insurer's challenge.

(4) The commissioner may retain actuaries and investment experts and other consultants that may be necessary in the judgment of the commissioner to review the insurer's RBC plan or revised RBC plan, to examine or analyze the assets, liabilities, and operations of the insurer, and to formulate the corrective order with respect to the insurer. The fees, costs, and expenses relating to consultants must be borne by the affected insurer or such other party as directed by the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 86, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-2-1906. Authorized control level event. (1) "Authorized control level event" means any of the following events:

(a) the filing of an RBC report by the insurer that indicates that the insurer's total adjusted capital is greater than or equal to its mandatory control level RBC but less than its authorized control level RBC;

(b) the notification by the commissioner to the insurer of an adjusted RBC report that indicates the event in subsection (1)(a) if the insurer does not challenge the adjusted RBC report under 33-2-1908 or the commissioner rejects the insurer's challenge;

(c) the failure of the insurer to respond, in a manner satisfactory to the commissioner, to a corrective order if the insurer has not challenged the corrective order under 33-2-1908; or

(d) if the insurer has challenged a corrective order under 33-2-1908 and the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the challenge or modified the corrective order, the failure of the insurer to respond, in a manner satisfactory to the commissioner, to the corrective order subsequent to rejection or modification by the commissioner.

(2) In the event of an authorized control level event with respect to an insurer, the commissioner shall:

(a) take the actions required under 33-2-1905 regarding an insurer with respect to which a regulatory action level event has occurred; or

(b) if the commissioner considers it to be in the best interests of the policyholders and creditors of the insurer and of the public, take the actions necessary to cause the insurer to be placed under regulatory control under Title 33, chapter 2, part 13. In the event that the commissioner places the insurer under regulatory control, the authorized control level event must be considered sufficient grounds for the commissioner to take action under Title 33, chapter 2, part 13, and the commissioner shall have the rights, powers, and duties with respect to the insurer as are set forth in Title 33, chapter 2, part 13. In the event that the commissioner takes an action under this subsection pursuant to an adjusted RBC report, the insurer is entitled to the protections afforded to insurers under the provisions of 33-2-1321 through 33-2-1323 pertaining to summary proceedings.

History: En. Sec. 87, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-2-1907. Mandatory control level event. (1) "Mandatory control level event" means any of the following events:

(a) the filing of an RBC report that indicates that the insurer's total adjusted capital is less than its mandatory control level RBC;

(b) notification by the commissioner to the insurer of an adjusted RBC report that indicates the event in subsection (1)(a) if the insurer does not challenge the adjusted RBC report under 33-2-1908 or the commissioner rejects the insurer's challenge.

(2) In the event of a mandatory control level event:

(a) with respect to a life insurer, the commissioner shall take the actions that are necessary to place the insurer under regulatory control under Title 33, chapter 2, part 13. In that event, the mandatory control level event must be considered sufficient grounds for the commissioner to take action under Title 33, chapter 2, part 13, and the commissioner shall have the rights, powers, and duties with respect to the insurer as are set forth in Title 33, chapter 2, part 13. If the commissioner takes an action pursuant to an adjusted RBC report, the insurer is entitled to the protections of 33-2-1321 through 33-2-1323 pertaining to summary proceedings. Notwithstanding any of the foregoing, the commissioner may forego action for up to 90 days after the mandatory control level event if the commissioner finds that there is a reasonable expectation that the mandatory control level event may be eliminated within the 90-day period.

(b) with respect to a property and casualty insurer, the commissioner shall take the actions necessary to place the insurer under regulatory control under Title 33, chapter 2, part 13, or, in the case of an insurer that is not writing business and that is running-off its existing business, may allow the insurer to continue its runoff under the supervision of the commissioner. In either event, the mandatory control level event must be considered sufficient grounds for the commissioner to take action under Title 33, chapter 2, part 13, and the commissioner shall have the rights, powers, and duties with respect to the insurer as are set forth in Title 33, chapter 2, part 13. If the commissioner takes an action pursuant to an adjusted RBC report, the insurer is entitled to the protections of 33-2-1321 through 33-2-1323 pertaining to summary proceedings. Notwithstanding any of the foregoing, the commissioner may forego action for up to 90 days after the mandatory control level event if the commissioner finds there is a reasonable expectation that the mandatory control level event may be eliminated within the 90-day period.

History: En. Sec. 88, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-2-1908. Notification and hearing. (1) An insurer has the right to a hearing before the department upon notification by the commissioner:

(a) of an adjusted RBC report or unsatisfactory RBC plan or revised RBC plan that constitutes a regulatory action level event with respect to the insurer;

(b) that the insurer has failed to adhere to its RBC plan or revised RBC plan and that the failure has a substantial adverse effect on the ability of the insurer to eliminate the company action level event with respect to the insurer in accordance with its RBC plan or revised RBC plan; or

(c) of a corrective order with respect to the insurer.

(2) The insurer shall notify the commissioner of its request for a hearing within 5 days after the notification by the commissioner under subsection (1). Upon receipt of the insurer's request for a hearing, the commissioner shall set a date for the hearing, which may not be less than 10 or more than 30 days after the date of the insurer's request.

History: En. Sec. 89, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-2-1909. Confidentiality — prohibition on announcements — prohibition on use in ratemaking. (1) With respect to a domestic insurer or a foreign insurer, all RBC reports, to the extent the information in the reports is not required to be set forth in a publicly available annual statement schedule, and all RBC plans, including the results or report of any examination or analysis of an insurer performed pursuant to this part and any corrective order issued by the commissioner pursuant to the examination or analysis, that are filed with the commissioner constitute information that might be damaging to the insurer if made available to its competitors and must be kept confidential by the commissioner. This information may not be made public and is not subject to subpoena other than by the commissioner and then only for the purpose of enforcement actions taken by the commissioner pursuant to this part or any other provision of the insurance laws of this state.

(2) It is the intent of the legislature that the comparison of an insurer's total adjusted capital to any of its RBC levels is a regulatory tool that may indicate the need for possible corrective action with respect to the insurer and that it is not intended as a means to rank insurers generally. Except as otherwise required under the provisions of 33-2-1911 through 33-2-1913, the making, publishing, disseminating, circulating, or placing before the public or causing, directly or indirectly to be made, published, disseminated, circulated, or placed before the public, in a newspaper, magazine, or other publication, in the form of a notice, circular, pamphlet, letter, or poster, over any radio or television station, or in any other way, an advertisement, announcement, or statement containing an assertion, representation, or statement with regard to the RBC levels of any insurer or of any component derived in the calculation that is by any insurer, producer, or other person engaged in any manner in the insurance business would be misleading and is prohibited. However, if any materially false statement with respect to the comparison regarding an insurer's total adjusted capital to its RBC levels or an inappropriate comparison of any other amount to the insurer's RBC levels is published in any written publication and the insurer is able to demonstrate to the commissioner, with substantial proof, the falsity of the statement or the inappropriateness, as the case may be, the insurer may publish an announcement in a written publication if the sole purpose of the announcement is to rebut the materially false statement.

(3) It is the further intent of the legislature that the RBC instructions, RBC reports, adjusted RBC reports, RBC plans, and revised RBC plans are intended solely for use by the commissioner in monitoring the solvency of insurers and the need for possible corrective action with respect to insurers and may not be used by the commissioner for ratemaking or considered or introduced as evidence in any rate proceeding or used by the commissioner to calculate or derive any elements of an appropriate premium level or rate of return for any line of insurance that an insurer or any affiliate is authorized to write.

History: En. Sec. 90, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-2-1910. Supplemental provisions — rules — exemption. (1) The provisions of this part are supplemental to any other provisions of the laws of this state and do not preclude or limit any other powers or duties of the commissioner under the law, including but not limited to Title 33, chapter 2, part 13.

(2) The commissioner may adopt reasonable rules necessary for the implementation of this part.

(3) The commissioner may exempt from the application of this part any domestic property and casualty insurer that:

(a) writes direct business only in this state;

(b) writes direct annual premiums of $2 million or less; and

(c) does not assume reinsurance in excess of 5% of direct premium written.

History: En. Sec. 91, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-2-1911. Foreign insurers. (1) A foreign insurer shall, upon the written request of the commissioner, submit to the commissioner an RBC report for the previous calendar year on the later of:

(a) the date that an RBC report would be required to be filed by a domestic insurer under 33-2-1903; or

(b) 15 days after the request is received by the foreign insurer.

(2) A foreign insurer shall, at the written request of the commissioner, promptly submit to the commissioner a copy of any RBC plan that is filed with the insurance commissioner of any other state.

(3) In the event of a company action level event, regulatory action level event, or authorized control level event, with respect to any foreign insurer as determined under the RBC statute applicable in the state of domicile of the insurer or, if an RBC statute is not in force in that state, under the provisions of this part, if the insurance commissioner of the state of domicile of the foreign insurer fails to require the foreign insurer to file an RBC plan in the manner specified under that state's RBC statute or, if an RBC statute is not in force in that state, under 33-2-1904, the commissioner may require the foreign insurer to file an RBC plan with the commissioner. In that event, the failure of the foreign insurer to file an RBC plan with the commissioner is grounds to order the insurer to cease and desist from writing new insurance business in this state.

(4) In the event of a mandatory control level event with respect to any foreign insurer, if a domiciliary receiver has not been appointed with respect to the foreign insurer under the rehabilitation and liquidation statute applicable in the state of domicile of the foreign insurer, the commissioner may make application to a district court of this state permitted under 33-2-1380 with respect to the liquidation of property of foreign insurers found in this state, and the occurrence of the mandatory control level event must be considered adequate grounds for the application.

History: En. Sec. 92, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-2-1912. Applicability for 1995. (1) For RBC reports required to be filed by property and casualty insurers with respect to 1995, the following requirements apply in lieu of the provisions of 33-2-1904 through 33-2-1907:

(a) In the event of a company action level event with respect to a domestic insurer, the commissioner will not take regulatory action under this part.

(b) In the event of a regulatory action level event under 33-2-1905(1)(a), (1)(b), or (1)(c), the commissioner shall take the actions required under 33-2-1905(2) and (3).

(c) In the event of a regulatory action level event under 33-2-1905(1)(d), (1)(e), (1)(f), or (1)(g) or an authorized control level event, the commissioner shall take the actions required under 33-2-1905(2) and (3) with respect to the insurer.

(2) In the event of a mandatory control level event with respect to an insurer, the commissioner shall take the actions required under 33-2-1907.

History: En. Sec. 93, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-2-1913. Notices. All notices by the commissioner to an insurer that may result in regulatory action are effective on dispatch if transmitted by certified mail or, in the case of any other transmission, are effective on the insurer's receipt of the notice.

Part 1
General Provisions

33-3-101. Scope of chapter. This chapter shall apply only to domestic stock insurers and domestic mutual insurers transacting or proposing to transact insurance on the cash premium or legal reserve plan, except that 33-3-414(2) and 33-3-503 shall also apply to foreign and alien insurers.

History: En. Sec. 418, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4701.

33-3-102. Definitions. (1) A "domestic mutual insurer" is an incorporated insurer without capital stock, and the governing body of which is elected by the policyholders.

(2) A "domestic stock insurer" is an incorporated insurer with capital divided into shares and owned by its stockholders.

History: En. Secs. 419, 420, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4702, 40-4703.

33-3-103. Applicability of general corporation statutes. (1) The applicable laws of this state as to domestic corporations formed for profit shall apply as to domestic stock insurers and domestic mutual insurers except where in conflict with the express provisions of this code and the reasonable implications of such provisions.

(2) Except as provided in part 6 of this chapter, 35-1-931 through 35-1-935 apply to the voluntary dissolution of a domestic insurer.

History: En. Sec. 421, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4704; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 389, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 188, Ch. 368, L. 1991.

33-3-105. Commissioner's request of biographical information. (1) The commissioner may request from domestic insurers biographical information from officers, directors, and persons in a position to control the activity of the following entities:

(a) insurers provided for in Title 33, chapter 3;

(b) farm mutual insurers provided for in Title 33, chapter 4;

(c) reciprocal insurers provided for in Title 33, chapter 5;

(d) health service corporations provided for in Title 33, chapter 30; and

(e) health maintenance organizations provided for in Title 33, chapter 31.

(2) Officers, directors, or other persons in a position to control the activity of the entities listed in subsection (1) shall submit biographical information on a form prescribed by the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

Part 2
Formation

33-3-201. Incorporation. (1) This section applies to stock and mutual insurers incorporated in this state.

(2) Five or more individuals, none of whom are less than 18 years of age, may incorporate a stock insurer. Ten or more of individuals, none of whom are less than 18 years of age, may incorporate a mutual insurer. At least a majority of the incorporators must be citizens of the United States. At least a majority of the incorporators must be residents of this state.

(3) The incorporators shall execute articles of incorporation in triplicate and acknowledge their execution in the same manner as provided by law for the acknowledgment of deeds. The articles of incorporation must state the purpose for which the corporation is formed and must show:

(a) the name of the corporation. If a mutual corporation, the word "mutual" must be a part of the name. An alternative name or names may be specified for use in jurisdictions where a conflict of name with that of another insurer or organization might otherwise prevent the corporation from being authorized to transact insurance in that jurisdiction.

(b) the duration of its existence, which may be perpetual;

(c) the kinds of insurance, as defined in this code, which the corporation is formed to transact;

(d) if a stock corporation, its authorized capital stock, the number of shares of common stock, and the par value of each share. The par value must be at least $1. Shares without par value or other than one class of voting common stock are not authorized. The articles of incorporation may limit or deny present or future stockholders preemptive or preferential rights to acquire additional issues of the stock, bonds, debentures, or other obligations convertible into stock, of the corporation, subject to the laws of Montana fixing the required representation and proportion of outstanding capital stock required to be represented and voted, for specified action, at any and all corporate meetings, elections, votes, or consent proceedings.

(e) if a stock corporation, the extent, if any, to which shares of its stock are subject to assessment;

(f) if a stock corporation, the number of shares subscribed, if any, by each incorporator;

(g) if a mutual corporation, the maximum contingent liability of its members, other than as to nonassessable policies, for payment of losses and expenses incurred. Any liability must be stated in the articles of incorporation but may not be less than one or more than six times the premium for the member's policy at the annual premium rate for a term of 1 year.

(h) the minimum, not less than 5, and the maximum, not more than 21, number of directors who constitute the board of directors and conduct the affairs of the corporation, and the names, addresses, and terms of the members of the initial board of directors. The term of office of initial directors may not be for more than 1 year after the date of incorporation.

(i) the name of the county, and the city, town, or place within the county, in which its principal office or principal place of business is to be located in this state;

(j) any other provisions, not inconsistent with law, considered appropriate by the incorporators;

(k) the name and residence address of each incorporator and the citizenship of each incorporator who is not a citizen of the United States.

History: En. Sec. 422, Ch. 286, L. 1959; amd. Sec. 7, Ch. 423, L. 1971; amd. Sec. 18, Ch. 100, L. 1973; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4705; amd. Sec. 13, Ch. 380, L. 2003.

33-3-202. Articles of incorporation — filing and approval. (1) The incorporators of a proposed domestic insurer shall deliver the triplicate originals of the articles of incorporation to the commissioner. The commissioner shall examine the proposed articles of incorporation. If the commissioner finds that the articles comply with this chapter and are not in conflict with the constitution and laws of the United States or of this state, the commissioner shall approve in writing each set of the articles. However, if the commissioner finds that the proposed insurer would not be eligible for a certificate of authority under 33-2-112, the commissioner shall refuse to approve the articles of incorporation and shall return them to the proposed incorporators, together with a written statement of the reasons for the refusal. The commissioner shall forward the approved articles of incorporation to the incorporators. The incorporators shall subsequently file one set of the articles of incorporation with the secretary of state and one set certified by the secretary of state with the commissioner. The remaining set of articles must be made a part of the corporation's record.

(2) If the commissioner finds that the proposed articles of incorporation do not comply with law, the commissioner shall refuse to approve the proposed articles of incorporation and shall return all sets of the proposed articles of incorporation to the proposed incorporators, together with a written statement of the reasons for the refusal.

(3) The corporation has legal existence as a corporation upon the issuance of the certificate of incorporation by the secretary of state and completion of the filing with the commissioner required in subsection (1), but the corporation may not transact business as an insurer until it has qualified for and received from the commissioner a certificate of authority as provided in this title.

(4) A copy of the certificate of incorporation, certified by the secretary of state, is admissible in all the courts of this state as prima facie evidence of proper incorporation.

Administrative hearing before Commissioner, 33-1-701.

33-3-203. Amendment of articles of incorporation — grounds for disapproval. (1) A domestic stock insurer may amend its articles of incorporation for any lawful purpose by written authorization of the holders of a majority of the voting power of its outstanding capital stock or by affirmative vote of a majority voting at a lawful meeting of stockholders of which the notice given to stockholders included notice of the proposal to amend.

(2) A domestic mutual insurer may amend its articles of incorporation for any lawful purpose by affirmative vote of a majority of those of its members present or represented by proxy at a lawful meeting of its members of which the notice given members included notice of the proposal to amend.

(3) Upon adoption of an amendment, the insurer shall make in triplicate under its corporate seal a certificate, sometimes referred to as "articles of amendment", setting forth the amendment and the date and manner of the amendment's adoption. The certificate must be executed by the insurer's president or vice president and secretary or assistant secretary and acknowledged by them before an officer authorized by law to take acknowledgments of deeds. The insurer shall deliver to the commissioner the triplicate originals of the certificate. If the commissioner finds that the certificate and amendments comply with law, the commissioner shall approve in writing each of the triplicate originals and return them to the insurer. The insurer shall subsequently file one set of endorsed articles of amendment with the secretary of state, shall file one set with the commissioner, bearing the certification of the secretary of state, and shall retain the remaining set in the corporate records. The amendment is effective when the filings have been completed.

(4) If the commissioner finds that the proposed amendment or certificate does not comply with the law, the commissioner may not approve the amendment or certificate and shall return the triplicate certificate of amendment to the insurer, together with a written statement of reasons for nonapproval. The filing fee is not returnable.

(5) If an amendment of articles of incorporation would reduce the authorized capital stock of a stock insurer below the amount then outstanding, the commissioner may not approve the amendment if the commissioner has reason to believe that the interests of policyholders or creditors of the insurer would be materially prejudiced by the reduction. If a reduction of capital stock is realized, the insurer may require the return of the original certificates of stock held by each stockholder for exchange for new certificates for the number of shares as the stockholder is then entitled in the proportion that the reduced capital bears to the amount of capital stock outstanding as of immediately prior to the effective date of the reduction.

33-3-204. Initial qualifications — domestic mutuals. (1) When newly organized, a domestic mutual insurer may be authorized to transact any of the kinds of insurance as are permitted under 33-2-108.

(2) When applying for an original certificate of authority, the insurer must be otherwise qualified therefor under this code and must have unimpaired surplus funds in an amount not less than the amount of paid-in capital stock required of a domestic stock insurer transacting like kinds of insurance as in 33-2-109, subject further to the additional special surplus requirements of 33-2-110 applicable to such stock insurer. The minimum amount of surplus must thereafter be maintained unimpaired and placed on deposit with the commissioner. The deposit is subject to the provisions of chapter 2, part 6, of this title and 33-2-111.

33-3-205. Formation of mutual insurer — bond. (1) Before soliciting applications for insurance to raise surplus funds to qualify for the original certificate of authority, the incorporators of the proposed insurer shall file with the commissioner a corporate surety bond in the penalty of $50,000, in favor of the state and for the use and benefit of the state and of applicant members and creditors of the corporation. The bond shall be conditioned as follows:

(a) for the prompt return to applicant members of all premiums collected in advance;

(b) for payment of all indebtedness of the corporation; and

(c) for payment of costs incurred by the state in event of any legal proceedings for liquidation or dissolution of the corporation, all in the event the corporation fails to complete its organization and secure a certificate of authority within 1 year after the date of its certificate of incorporation.

(2) In lieu of such bond, the incorporators may deposit with the commissioner $50,000 in cash or United States government bonds, negotiable and payable to the bearer, with a market value at all times of not less than $50,000, to be held in trust upon the same conditions as required for the bond.

(3) Any such bond filed or deposit or remaining portion thereof held under this section shall be released and discharged upon settlement and termination of all liabilities against it.

33-3-206. Applications for insurance in formation of mutual insurer. (1) Upon receipt of the commissioner's approval of the bond or deposit as provided in 33-3-205, the directors and officers of the proposed domestic mutual insurer may commence solicitation of such requisite applications for insurance policies as they may accept and may receive deposits of premiums thereon.

(2) All such applications shall be in writing signed by the applicant, covering subjects of insurance resident, located, or to be performed in this state.

(3) All such applications shall provide that:

(a) issuance of the policy is contingent upon the insurer qualifying for and receiving a certificate of authority;

(b) no insurance is in effect unless and until the certificate of authority has been issued; and

(c) the prepaid premium or deposit and membership or policy fee, if any, shall be refunded in full to the applicant if organization is not completed and the certificate of authority is not issued and received by the insurer before a specified reasonable date, which date shall be not later than 1 year after the date of the certificate of incorporation.

(4) All qualifying premiums collected shall be in cash.

(5) Solicitation for such qualifying applicants for insurance shall be by licensed insurance producers of the corporation, and the commissioner shall, upon the corporation's application therefor, issue temporary insurance producer's licenses expiring on the date specified pursuant to subsection(3)(c) above to individuals qualified as for a resident insurance producer's license except as to the taking or passing of an examination. The commissioner may suspend or revoke any such license for any of the causes and pursuant to the same procedures as are applicable to suspension or revocation of licenses of insurance producers in general under chapter 17.

33-3-207. Formation of mutuals — trust deposit of premiums — issuance of policies. (1) All sums collected by a domestic mutual corporation as premiums or fees on qualifying applications for insurance therein shall be deposited in trust in a bank or trust company in this state under a written trust agreement consistent with this section and with 33-3-206(3)(c). The corporation shall file an executed copy of such trust agreement with the commissioner.

(2) Upon issuance to the corporation of a certificate of authority as an insurer for the kind of insurance for which such applications were solicited, all funds so held in trust shall become the funds of the insurer, and the insurer shall thereafter in due course issue and deliver its policies for which premiums had been paid and accepted. The insurance provided by such policies shall be effective as of the date of the certificate of authority or thereafter as provided by the respective policies.

33-3-215. Mutualization of stock insurer. (1) A stock insurer other than a title insurer may become a mutual insurer under a plan and procedure approved by the commissioner after a hearing thereon.

(2) The commissioner shall not approve any plan, procedure, or mutualization unless:

(a) it is equitable to stockholders and policyholders;

(b) it is subject to approval by the holders of not less than three-fourths of the insurer's outstanding capital stock having voting rights and by not less than two-thirds of the insurer's policyholders who vote on such plan in person, by proxy, or by mail pursuant to such notice and procedure as may be approved by the commissioner;

(c) if a life insurer, the right to vote thereon is limited to holders of policies other than term or group policies and whose policies have been in force for more than 1 year;

(d) mutualization will result in retirement of shares of the insurer's capital stock at a price not in excess of the fair market value thereof as determined by competent disinterested appraisers;

(e) the plan provides for the purchase of the shares of any nonconsenting stockholder in the same manner and subject to the same applicable conditions as provided by Title 35, chapter 1, part 8, as to rights of nonconsenting stockholders, with respect to consolidation or merger of private corporations;

(f) the plan provides for definite conditions to be fulfilled by a designated early date upon which such mutualization will be deemed effective; and

(g) the mutualization leaves the insurer with surplus funds reasonably adequate for the security of its policyholders and to enable it to continue successfully in business in the states in which it is then authorized to transact insurance and for the kinds of insurance included in its certificates of authority in such states.

(3) This section shall not apply to mutualization under order of court pursuant to rehabilitation or reorganization of an insurer under chapter 2, part 13.

33-3-216. Converting mutual insurer to stock insurer. (1) A mutual insurer may become a stock insurer under such plan and procedure as may be approved by the commissioner after a hearing thereon.

(2) The commissioner shall not approve any such plan or procedure unless:

(a) it is equitable to the insurer's members;

(b) it is subject to approval by vote of not less than three-fourths of the insurer's current members voting thereon in person, by proxy, or by mail at a meeting of members called for the purpose pursuant to such reasonable notice and procedure as may be approved by the commissioner. If a life insurer, right to vote may be limited to members who hold policies other than term or group policies and whose policies have been in force for not less than 1 year.

(c) the equity of each policyholder in the insurer is determinable under a fair formula approved by the commissioner, which such equity shall be based upon not less than the insurer's entire surplus, after deducting contributed or borrowed surplus funds, plus a reasonable present equity in its reserves and in all nonadmitted assets;

(d) the policyholders entitled to participate in the purchase of stock or distribution of assets shall include all current policyholders and all existing persons who had been policyholders of the insurer within 3 years prior to the date such plan was submitted to the commissioner;

(e) the plan gives to each policyholder of the insurer, as specified in subsection (2)(d), a preemptive right to acquire his proportionate part of all of the proposed capital stock of the insurer, within a designated reasonable period, and to apply upon the purchase thereof the amount of his equity in the insurer as determined under subsection (2)(c);

(f) shares are so offered to policyholders at a price not greater than to be thereafter offered to others but at not more than double the par value of such shares;

(g) the plan provides for payment to each policyholder not electing to apply his equity in the insurer for or upon the purchase price of stock to which preemptively entitled of cash in the amount of not less than 50% of the amount of his equity not so used for the purchase of stock, and which cash payment together with stock so purchased, if any, shall constitute full payment and discharge of the policyholder's equity as an owner of such mutual insurer; and

(h) the plan, when completed, would provide for the converted insurer paid-in capital stock in an amount not less than the minimum paid-in capital required of a domestic stock insurer transacting like kinds of insurance, together with surplus funds in amount not less than one-half of such required capital.

33-3-217. Mergers and consolidations of stock insurers. (1) A domestic stock insurer may merge or consolidate with one or more domestic or foreign stock corporations authorized to transact business in this state by complying with the applicable provisions of the statutes of this state governing the merger or consolidation of stock corporations formed for profit but subject to subsections (2) and (3) below.

(2) No such merger or consolidation may be effectuated unless in advance thereof the plan and agreement therefor have been filed with the commissioner and approved in writing by him after a hearing thereon. The commissioner shall give such approval within a reasonable time after such filing unless he finds such plan or agreement:

(a) is contrary to law;

(b) inequitable to the stockholders of any domestic insurer involved; or

(c) would substantially reduce the security of and service to be rendered to policyholders of the domestic insurer in this state or elsewhere.

(3) No director, officer, insurance producer, or employee of any insurer party to such merger or consolidation may receive any fee, commission, compensation, or other valuable consideration whatsoever for in any manner aiding, promoting, or assisting therein except as set forth in such plan or agreement.

(4) If the commissioner does not approve any such plan or agreement he shall so notify the insurer in writing specifying his reasons therefor.

(5) If any domestic insurer involved in the proposed merger or consolidation is authorized to transact insurance also in other states, the commissioner may request the insurance commissioner, director of insurance, superintendent of insurance, or other similar public insurance supervisory official of the two other such states in which such insurer has in force the larger amounts of insurance to participate in the hearing provided for under subsection (2) above, with full right to examine all witnesses and evidence and to offer to the commissioner such pertinent information and suggestions as they may deem proper.

(6) Any plan or proposal through which a stock insurer proposes to acquire a controlling stock interest in another stock insurer through an exchange of stock of the first insurer, issued by the insurer for the purpose, for such controlling stock of the second insurer is deemed to be a plan or proposal of merger of the second insurer into the first insurer for the purposes of this section and is subject to the applicable provisions hereof.

(7) Upon merger or consolidation of a domestic insurer with another insurer under this chapter, the corporate charter of such merged or consolidated domestic insurer shall thereby automatically be extinguished and nullified.

(2) A domestic mutual insurer may merge or consolidate with another mutual insurer under the applicable procedures prescribed by the statutes of this state applying to corporations formed for profit, except as hereinbelow provided.

(3) The plan and agreement for merger or consolidation shall be submitted to and approved by at least two-thirds of the members of each mutual insurer involved voting thereon at meetings called for the purpose pursuant to such reasonable notice and procedure as has been approved by the commissioner. If a life insurer, right to vote may be limited to members whose policies are other than term and group policies and have been in effect for more than 1 year.

(4) No such merger or consolidation shall be effectuated unless in advance thereof the plan and agreement therefor have been filed with the commissioner and approved by him in writing after a hearing thereon. The commissioner shall give such approval within a reasonable time after such filing unless he finds such plan or agreement:

Management

33-3-301. Bylaws of mutual. (1) A domestic mutual insurer shall have bylaws for the governing of its affairs. The initial board of directors of the insurer shall adopt original bylaws, subject to the approval of the insurer's members at the next succeeding meeting. The members shall have power to make, modify, and revoke bylaws.

(2) The bylaws shall provide:

(a) that each member is entitled to one vote upon each matter coming to a vote at meetings of members; or to more votes in accordance with a reasonable classification of members as set forth in the bylaws and based upon the amount of insurance in force, number of policies held or upon the amount of the premiums paid by such member, or upon other reasonable factors. A member shall have the right to vote in person or by his written proxy. No such proxy shall be made irrevocable or for longer than a reasonable period of time.

(b) for election of directors by the members and the number, qualifications, terms of office, and powers of directors;

(c) the time, notice, quorum, and conduct of annual and special meetings of members and voting thereat. The bylaws may provide that the annual meeting shall be held at a place, date, and time to be set forth in the policy and without giving other notice of such meeting.

(d) the number, designation, election, terms, and powers and duties of the respective corporate officers;

(e) for deposit, custody, disbursement, and accounting as to corporate funds;

(f) for any other reasonable provisions customary, necessary, or convenient for the management or regulation of its corporate affairs.

(3) No provision in the bylaws for determining a quorum of members at any meeting thereof of less than a majority of all the insurer's members shall be effective unless approved by the commissioner. This subsection shall not affect any other provision of law requiring vote of a larger percentage of members for a specified purpose.

(4) The insurer shall promptly file with the commissioner a copy, certified by the insurer's secretary, of its bylaws and of every modification thereof or addition thereto. The commissioner shall disapprove any bylaw provision deemed by him to be unlawful, unreasonable, inadequate, unfair, or detrimental to the proper interests or protection of the insurer's members or any class thereof. The insurer shall not, after receiving written notice of such disapproval and during the existence thereof, effectuate any bylaw provision so disapproved.

History: En. Sec. 432, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4715.

33-3-302. Bylaws of stock insurer — modification. (1) A bylaw adopted at any meeting of stockholders of a domestic insurer may not be modified or revoked except by the stockholders at a subsequent meeting unless the bylaws as adopted or amended by the stockholders grant authority to the board of directors to revoke or modify bylaw provisions. The board of directors may not revoke or modify any bylaw relating to the qualifications, election, terms, or compensation of directors or to the calling or notice of meetings of stockholders. A revocation or modification of bylaws made by the directors under this provision must be presented at the next following meeting of stockholders for the information of the stockholders.

(2) The insurer shall promptly file with the commissioner a copy, certified by the insurer's secretary, of its bylaws and amended bylaws. The commissioner may disapprove any bylaw provision considered by the commissioner to be unlawful. The insurer may not, after receiving written notice of the commissioner's disapproval, enact any disapproved bylaw provision.

History: En. Sec. 433, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4716; amd. Sec. 30, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

33-3-303. Meetings of stockholders or members. (1) Except with the commissioner's consent, meetings of stockholders or members of a domestic insurer must be held in the city or town of its principal office or place of business in this state.

(2) A meeting of stockholders or members may not amend the insurer's articles of incorporation unless the proposal to amend was included in the notice of the meeting.

(3) Except with the commissioner's consent, each insurer shall, during the first 6 months of each calendar year, hold the annual meeting of its stockholders or members to fill vacancies existing or occurring in the board of directors, must receive and shall consider reports of the insurer's officers as to its affairs, and shall transact other business properly brought before it. Not less than 20 days' notice must be given of the meeting in the manner provided in the bylaws, except when notice of the annual meeting of a mutual insurer is contained in its policies.

(4) Special meetings of the stockholders or members may be called at any time for any purpose by the board of directors upon not less than 10 days' notice, with notice given as provided in the bylaws. The notice must state the purpose of the meeting, and business for which notice was not given may not be transacted at the meeting.

(5) If more than 15 months elapse without an annual stockholders' or members' meeting being held, any stockholder or member may call for an annual meeting to be held. At any time, upon written request of any director or of any stockholders or members holding in the aggregate one-fifth of the voting power of all stockholders or members, it is the duty of the secretary to call a special meeting of stockholders or members to be held at the time that the secretary may fix, not less than 10 or more than 30 days after the receipt of the request. If the secretary fails to issue a call, the director, stockholders, or members making the request may do so.

(6) A stockholders' or members' meeting duly held may be organized for the transaction of business whenever a quorum is present. Except as otherwise provided by law or the articles of incorporation:

(a) the presence, in person or by proxy, of the holders of a majority of the voting power of all stockholders or of all members constitutes a quorum;

(b) the stockholders or members present at a duly organized meeting may continue to do business until adjournment, notwithstanding the withdrawal of enough stockholders or members to leave less than a quorum;

(c) if any necessary officer fails to attend a meeting, any stockholder or member present may be elected to act temporarily in lieu of the absent officer;

(d) if a meeting cannot be held because a quorum is not present, those present may adjourn the meeting to a time that they determine, but in the case of any meeting called for the election of any director, the adjournment must be to the next day and those who attend the second meeting, although less than a quorum as fixed in this section or in the articles of incorporation, constitute a quorum for the purpose of electing any director; and

(e) an annual or special meeting of stockholders or members may be adjourned to another date without new notice being given.

History: En. Sec. 434, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4717; amd. Sec. 12, Ch. 531, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 31, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

33-3-304. Proxies — corrupt practices — penalty. (1) Every proxy of a stockholder of an insurer, unless coupled with an interest, shall be revocable at will and this provision cannot be waived. The validity of every unrevoked proxy shall cease 11 months after the date of its execution unless some other definite period of validity is expressly provided therein, but in no event shall a proxy, unless coupled with an interest, be voted on after 3 years from the date of its execution.

(2) The revocation of a proxy shall not be effective until notice thereof has been given to the secretary of the insurer.

(3) No person shall buy or sell or barter a vote or proxy, relative to any meeting of stockholders or members of an insurer, or engage in any corrupt or dishonest practice in or relative to the conduct of any such meeting. Violation of this section shall be punishable as provided in 33-1-104.

History: En. Secs. 435, 436, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4718, 40-4719.

33-3-305. Directors — number and election. (1) The affairs of every domestic insurer must be managed by the number of directors fixed in the insurer's bylaws, which may not be less than 5 or more than 21 directors.

(2) Directors must be elected by the members or stockholders of a domestic insurer, except as provided in 33-3-306, at the time and place and for the terms, not exceeding 3 years, as may be provided in the insurer's bylaws. A majority of directors must be elected from the members or stockholders of the domestic insurer.

(3) The term of a director shall extend until a successor has been elected and has qualified.

History: En. Sec. 437, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4720; amd. Sec. 11, Ch. 451, L. 1993.

33-3-306. Participation of policyholders in election of directors of stock insurer. The bylaws of a domestic stock life insurer may provide a plan for its policyholders to participate with stockholders in the election of its directors.

History: En. Sec. 438, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4721.

33-3-307. Bonding of officers and employees. (1) When acting in a fiduciary capacity, officers and employees of each mutual insurer or stock insurer shall maintain a fidelity bond issued by an authorized corporate surety in favor of the insurer. The commissioner shall consider the insurer's exposure, total assets, and total income in determining the bond amount. In lieu of individual bonds, officers and employees may be covered under a blanket bond for the same respective amounts. The insurer shall file the blanket bond with the commissioner.

(2) The insurer shall pay the premium for the bond.

(3) A bond is not subject to cancellation except upon written notice to both the insurer and the commissioner, delivered not less than 30 days in advance of the effective date of the cancellation.

(4) This section may not be considered to limit the amount of bonded protection that the insurer may carry as to any officer or employee.

(5) The commissioner may adopt rules to determine the bond amount for officers and employees who are subject to the provisions of this section.

History: En. Sec. 439, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4722; amd. Sec. 13, Ch. 531, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 18, Ch. 472, L. 1999.

33-3-308. Prohibited pecuniary interest of officials. (1) Any officer or director or any member of any committee or an employee of a domestic insurer who is charged with the duty of investing or handling the insurer's funds shall not deposit or invest such funds except in the insurer's corporate name; shall not borrow the funds of such insurer; shall not be pecuniarily interested in any loan, pledge of deposit, security, investment, sale, purchase, exchange, reinsurance, or other similar transaction or property of such insurer except as a stockholder or member; shall not take or receive to his own use any fee, brokerage, commission, gift, or other consideration for or on account of any such transaction made by or on behalf of such insurer.

(2) No insurer shall guarantee any financial obligation of any of its officers or directors.

(3) This section shall not prohibit such a director or officer or member of a committee or employee from becoming a policyholder of the insurer and enjoying the usual rights so provided for its policyholders.

(4) The commissioner may, by regulations from time to time, define and permit additional exceptions to the prohibition contained in subsection (1) of this section solely to enable payment of reasonable compensation to a director who is not otherwise an officer or employee of the insurer or to a corporation or firm in which a director is interested for necessary services performed or sales or purchases made to or for the insurer in the ordinary course of the insurer's business and in the usual private professional or business capacity of such director or such corporation or firm.

History: En. Sec. 440, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4723.

33-3-309. Management and exclusive agency contracts. (1) No domestic insurer shall make any contract whereby any person is granted or is to enjoy in fact the management of the insurer to the substantial exclusion of its board of directors or to have the controlling or preemptive right to produce substantially all insurance business for the insurer unless the contract is filed with and approved by the commissioner. The contract shall be deemed approved unless disapproved by the commissioner within 20 days after date of filing, subject to such reasonable extension of time as the commissioner may require by notice given within such 20 days. Any disapproval shall be delivered to the insurer in writing, stating the grounds therefor.

(2) The commissioner shall disapprove any such contract if he finds that it:

(a) subjects the insurer to excessive charges;

(b) is to extend for an unreasonable length of time;

(c) does not contain fair and adequate standards of performance; or

(d) contains other inequitable provision or provisions which impair the proper interests of stockholders or members of the insurer.

Part 4
Finance

33-3-401. Home office and records — penalty for unlawful removal of records or assets. (1) Each domestic insurer must have and shall maintain its principal place of business and home office in this state and shall maintain at its principal place of business or home office complete records of its assets, transactions, and affairs in accordance with methods and systems customary or suitable to the kind or kinds of insurance that it transacts. Records of the insurer's operations and other financial records reasonably related to its insurance operations for the preceding 5 years must be maintained and be available to the commissioner or the commissioner's examiner.

(2) Each domestic insurer must have and shall maintain its assets in this state, except for:

(a) real property and appurtenant personal property lawfully owned by the insurer and located outside this state; and

(b) property of the insurer that is customary, necessary, and convenient to enable and facilitate the operation of its branch offices and regional home offices located outside this state as referred to in subsection (4).

(3) Removal of all or a material part of the records or assets of a domestic insurer from this state except pursuant to a plan of merger or consolidation approved by the commissioner under this code or for reasonable purposes and periods of time as may be approved by the commissioner in writing in advance is prohibited. Any person who removes or attempts to remove all or a material part of records or assets from the home office, other place of business, or safekeeping of the insurer in this state with the intent to remove the records or assets from this state or who conceals or attempts to conceal records or assets from the commissioner, in violation of this subsection, shall upon conviction be guilty of a felony punishable by a fine of not more than $10,000 or by imprisonment in the penitentiary for not more than 5 years or by both a fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court. Upon any removal or attempted removal of records or assets or upon retention of records or assets or a material part of the records or assets outside this state beyond the period specified in the commissioner's consent under which the records were removed or upon concealment of or attempt to conceal records or assets in violation of this section, the commissioner may institute delinquency proceedings against the insurer pursuant to the provisions of chapter 2, part 13.

(4) This section does not prohibit or prevent an insurer from:

(a) establishing and maintaining branch offices or regional home offices in other states when necessary or convenient to the transaction of its business and keeping there the detailed records and assets customary and necessary for the servicing of its insurance in force and affairs in the territory served by the out-of-state office, as long as the records and assets are made readily available at that office for examination by the commissioner when requested;

(b) having, depositing, or transmitting funds and assets of the insurer in or to jurisdictions outside of this state as reasonably and customarily required in the regular course of its business;

(c) making deposits under custodial arrangements as provided by 33-2-604(3).

(5) An insurer that fails to maintain records and make them available to the commissioner's staff is subject to the penalties and procedures in 33-1-317, 33-1-318, and 33-2-119.

History: En. Sec. 442, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4725; amd. Sec. 141, Ch. 575, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 798, L. 1991; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 493, L. 2003.

33-3-402. Vouchers for expenditures. (1) No insurer shall make any disbursement of $100 or more unless evidenced by a voucher correctly describing the consideration for the payment and supported by a check or receipt endorsed or signed by or on behalf of the person receiving the money.

(2) If the disbursement is for services and reimbursement, the voucher shall describe the services and expenditures.

(3) If the disbursement is in connection with any matter pending before any legislature or public body or before any public official, the voucher shall also correctly describe the nature of the matter and of the insurer's interest therein.

(4) If a voucher cannot be obtained, the expenditure referred to in subsection (1) above shall be evidenced by an affidavit in which is set forth the character and object of the expenditure and the reasons for not obtaining a voucher therefor.

History: En. Sec. 443, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4726.

33-3-403 through 33-3-410 reserved.

33-3-411. Contingent liability of mutual members. (1) Each member of a domestic mutual insurer shall, except as otherwise hereinafter provided with respect to nonassessable policies, have a contingent liability, pro rata and not one for another, for the discharge of its obligations, which contingent liability shall be expressed in the policy and be in such maximum amount as is specified in the insurer's articles of incorporation.

(2) Termination of the policy of any such member shall not relieve the member of contingent liability for his proportion, if any, of the obligations of the insurer which accrued while the policy was in force.

(3) Unrealized contingent liability of members does not constitute an asset of the insurer in any determination of its financial condition.

History: En. Sec. 446, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4729.

33-3-412. Levy of contingent liability. (1) If at any time the assets of a domestic mutual insurer are less than its liabilities and the minimum amount of surplus required to be maintained by it by this code for authority to transact the kinds of insurance being transacted and the deficiency is not cured from other sources, its directors shall levy an assessment only upon its members who held policies providing for contingent liability at any time within the 12 months preceding the date notice of such assessment was mailed to them, and such members shall be liable to the insurer for the amount so assessed.

(2) The assessment shall be for such an amount as is required to cure such deficiency and to provide a reasonable amount of working funds above such minimum amount of surplus, but such working funds so provided shall not exceed 5% of the insurer's liabilities as of the date as of which the amount of such deficiency was determined.

(3) In levying an assessment upon a policy providing for contingent liability, the assessment shall be computed on the basis of the premiums earned on such policy during the period to which the assessment relates.

(4) No member shall have an offset against any assessment for which he is liable on account of any claim for unearned premium or loss payable.

(5) As to life insurance, any part of such an assessment upon a member which remains unpaid following notice of assessment, demand for payment, and lapse of a reasonable waiting period as specified in such notice may, if approved by the commissioner as being in the best interests of the insurer and its members, be secured by placing a lien upon the cash surrender values and accumulated dividends held by the insurer to the credit of such member.

History: En. Sec. 447, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4730.

33-3-413. Enforcement of contingent liability. (1) Any assessment made by an insurer under 33-3-412 or 33-3-433 shall be deemed to be prima facie correct. The amount of such assessment to be paid by each member as determined by the insurer shall be deemed to be likewise prima facie correct.

(2) The insurer shall notify each member of the amount of the assessment to be paid by written notice mailed to the address of the member last of record with the insurer. Failure of the member to receive the notice so mailed, within the time specified therein for the payment of the assessment or at all, shall be no defense in any action to collect the assessment.

(3) If a member fails to pay the assessment within the period specified in the notice, which period shall not be less than 20 days after mailing, the insurer may institute suit to collect the same.

History: En. Sec. 448, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4731.

33-3-414. Nonassessable policies of mutual insurers. (1) While possessing surplus funds in amount not less than the paid-in capital stock required of a domestic stock insurer transacting like kinds of insurance, a domestic mutual insurer may, upon receipt of the commissioner's order so authorizing, extinguish the contingent liability of its members as to all its policies in force and may omit provisions imposing contingent liability in all its policies currently issued.

(2) A foreign or alien mutual insurer may issue nonassessable policies to its members in this state pursuant to its articles of incorporation and the laws of its domicile.

(3) No policy of a domestic mutual insurer which, pursuant to the commissioner's order, is without contingent liability and thereby nonassessable by its terms shall be subject to assessment for any debt or liability of the insurer.

History: En. Sec. 449, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4732.

33-3-415. Insufficient reserves — nonassessable policies prohibited — revocation of authority. The commissioner shall revoke the authority of a domestic mutual insurer to issue policies without contingent liability if at any time the insurer's assets are less than the sum of its liabilities and the surplus required for such authority or if the insurer, by resolution of its board of directors approved by a majority of its members, requests that the authority be revoked. During the absence of such authority the insurer shall not issue any policy without providing therein for the contingent liability of the policyholder or renew any policy which is renewable at the option of the insurer without endorsing the same to provide for such contingent liability.

33-3-416 through 33-3-420 reserved.

33-3-421. Participating policies. (1) If provided in its articles of incorporation, a domestic stock or domestic mutual insurer may issue any or all of its policies with or without participation in profits, savings, or unabsorbed portions of premiums, may classify policies issued on a participating and nonparticipating basis, and may determine the right to participate and the extent of participation of any class or classes of policies. Any such classification or determination shall be reasonable and shall not unfairly discriminate as between policyholders within the same such classifications. A life insurer may issue both participating and nonparticipating policies only if the right or absence of right to participate is reasonably related to the premium charged. Any such domestic insurer which prior to January 1, 1961, has been issuing all or part of its policies on a participating basis without specific authorization in its articles of incorporation may continue to issue such policies on a basis not inconsistent with this section.

(2) After the third policy year no dividend otherwise earned shall be made contingent upon the payment of renewal premium on any policy.

History: En. Sec. 451, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4734.

33-3-422. Dividends to stockholders. (1) A domestic stock insurer shall not pay any cash dividend to stockholders except out of that part of its available surplus funds which is derived from realized net profits on its business.

(2) A stock dividend may be paid out of any available surplus funds in excess of the aggregate amount of surplus loaned to the insurer under 33-3-431.

(3) A dividend otherwise proper may be payable out of the insurer's earned surplus even though its total surplus is then less than the aggregate of its past contributed surplus resulting from issuance of its capital stock at a price in excess of the par value thereof.

History: En. Sec. 452, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4735.

33-3-423. Dividends to mutual policyholders. (1) The directors of a domestic mutual insurer may from time to time apportion and pay or credit to its members dividends only out of that part of its surplus funds which represents net realized savings and net realized earnings in excess of the surplus required by law to be maintained.

(2) A dividend otherwise proper may be payable out of such savings and earnings even though the insurer's total surplus is then less than the aggregate of its contributed surplus.

History: En. Sec. 453, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4736.

33-3-424. Illegal dividends — penalty. (1) Any director of a domestic stock or mutual insurer who votes for or concurs in declaration or payment of a dividend to stockholders or members other than as authorized under 33-3-422 or 33-3-423 shall upon conviction thereof be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be jointly and severally liable, together with other such directors likewise voting for or concurring, for any loss thereby sustained by the insurer.

(2) Any stockholder receiving such an illegal dividend shall be liable in the amount thereof to the insurer.

(3) The commissioner may revoke or suspend the certificate of authority of an insurer which has declared or paid such an illegal dividend.

History: En. Sec. 454, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4737.

Misdemeanor — penalty, 46-18-212.

33-3-425 through 33-3-430 reserved.

33-3-431. Borrowed surplus. (1) A domestic stock or mutual insurer may borrow money to defray the expenses of the insurer's organization, to provide the insurer with surplus funds, or for any purpose of the insurer's business upon a written agreement that the money is required to be repaid only out of the insurer's surplus in excess of that stipulated in the agreement. The agreement may provide for interest at a rate not to exceed the greater of the rate established in 25-9-205 or a rate that is 6 percentage points per year higher than the prime rate of major New York banks as published in the Wall Street Journal edition dated 3 business days prior to the execution of the agreement. The agreement must specify whether the interest constitutes a liability of the insurer. A commission or promotion expense may not be paid in connection with a loan of the type described in this section.

(2) Money borrowed, together with the interest if stipulated in the agreement, does not form a part of the insurer's legal liabilities except as to the insurer's surplus in excess of the amount stipulated in the agreement or the basis of any setoff. However, until the money or interest, or both, are repaid, financial statements filed or published by the insurer must show as a footnote the amount then unpaid together with any interest accrued but unpaid.

(3) A loan of this type to a mutual or stock insurer is subject to the commissioner's approval. The insurer shall, in advance of the loan, file with the commissioner a statement of the purpose of the loan and a copy of the proposed loan agreement. The loan and agreement are approved unless within 15 days after filing the insurer is notified of the commissioner's disapproval and reasons for the disapproval. The commissioner shall disapprove any proposed loan or agreement if the commissioner finds the loan is unnecessary or excessive for the purpose intended or that the terms of the loan agreement are not fair and equitable to the parties, and to other similar lenders, if any, to the insurer, or that the information filed by the insurer is inadequate.

(4) A loan to a mutual or stock insurer or a substantial portion of the loan must be repaid by the insurer when the loan is no longer reasonably necessary for the purpose originally intended. Repayment of either principal or interest on the loan may not be made by a mutual or stock insurer unless approved in advance by the commissioner.

(5) This section does not apply to loans obtained by the insurer in the ordinary course of business from banks and other financial institutions or to loans secured by pledge or mortgage of assets.

Compiler's Comments

2005 Amendment: Chapter 469 in (1) in second sentence after "rate not" inserted "to exceed the" and after "25-9-205" inserted "or a rate that is 6 percentage points per year higher than the prime rate of major New York banks as published in the Wall Street Journal edition dated 3 business days prior to the execution of the agreement" and in third sentence at beginning inserted "The agreement must specify" and at end deleted "must be stipulated in the agreement"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective October 1, 2005.

33-3-432. Impairment of capital or assets. (1) If a stock insurer's capital, as represented by the aggregate par value of its outstanding capital stock, becomes impaired or the assets of a mutual insurer are less than its liabilities and the minimum amount of surplus required to be maintained by it under 33-3-204 for authority to transact the kinds of insurance being transacted, the commissioner shall at once determine the amount of deficiency and serve notice upon the insurer to make good the deficiency within 60 days after service of such notice.

(2) The deficiency may be made good in cash or in assets eligible under chapter 12 for the investment of the insurer's funds as follows:

(a) if a stock insurer, by reduction of the insurer's capital to an amount not below the minimum required for the kinds of insurance to be transacted; or

(b) if a mutual insurer, by amendment of its certificate of authority to cover only the kind or kinds of insurance for which the insurer has sufficient surplus under this title.

(3) If the deficiency is not made good and proof is filed with the commissioner within the 60-day period, the insurer is insolvent and the commissioner shall institute delinquency proceedings against it under chapter 2, part 13; except that if the deficiency exists because of increased loss reserves required by the commissioner or because of disallowance by the commissioner of certain assets or reduction of the value at which carried in the insurer's accounts, the commissioner may, upon application and good cause shown, extend for not more than an additional 60 days the period within which the deficiency may be made good and proof of making good is filed.

33-3-433. Assessment of stockholders or members. (1) Any insurer receiving the commissioner's notice mentioned in 33-3-432(1):

(a) if a stock insurer, by resolution of its board of directors and subject to any limitations upon assessment contained in its articles of incorporation, may assess its stockholders for amounts necessary to cure the deficiency and provide the insurer with a reasonable amount of surplus in addition. If any stockholder fails to pay a lawful assessment after notice given to him in person or by advertisement in such time and manner as approved by the commissioner, the insurer may require the return of the original certificate of stock held by the stockholder and in cancellation and in lieu thereof issue a new certificate for such number of shares as the stockholder may then be entitled to, upon the basis of the stockholder's proportionate interest in the amount of the insurer's capital stock as determined by the commissioner to be remaining at the time of determination of amount of impairment under 33-3-432, after deducting from such proportionate interest the amount of such unpaid assessment. The insurer may pay for or reissue fractional shares under this subsection.

(b) if a mutual insurer, shall levy such an assessment upon members as is provided for under 33-3-412.

(2) Neither this section nor 33-3-432 shall be deemed to prohibit the insurer from curing any such deficiency through any lawful means other than those referred to in such sections.

History: En. Sec. 457, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4740.

33-3-434. Directors' liability for losses during deficiency. The directors of the insurer shall be individually liable as to losses incurred under policies issued by the insurer after expiration of the period provided in 33-3-432 for curing any deficiency of the insurer's capital stock or surplus and prior to the curing of the deficiency.

History: En. Sec. 458, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4741.

33-3-435. Stock transfer during impairment of capital. Any transfer of the stock of a domestic insurer made during the existence of any impairment of such insurer's capital does not release the stockholder making the transfer from any liability as a stockholder of such insurer which accrued prior to such transfer.

History: En. Sec. 459, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4742.

33-3-436. Mutual member's share of assets on liquidation. (1) Upon any liquidation of a domestic mutual insurer, its assets remaining after discharge of its indebtedness, policy obligations, repayment of contributed or borrowed surplus, if any, and expenses of administration shall be distributed to existing persons who were its members at any time within 36 months next preceding the date such liquidation was authorized or ordered or date of last termination of the insurer's certificate of authority, whichever date is the earlier.

(2) The distributive share of each such member shall be in the proportion that the aggregate premiums earned by the insurer on the policies of the member during the combined periods of his membership bear to the aggregate of all premiums so earned on the policies of all such members. The insurer may, and if a life insurer shall, make a reasonable classification of its policies so held by such members, and a formula based upon such classification, for determining the equitable distributive share of each such member. Such classification and formula shall be subject to the approval of the commissioner.

33-3-437 through 33-3-440 reserved.

33-3-441. Equity securities of domestic stock insurance company — statement of ownership. (1) When used in 33-3-441 through 33-3-447, the term "equity security" means:

(a) any stock or similar security;

(b) any security convertible, with or without consideration, into an equity security or carrying any warrant or right to subscribe to or purchase an equity security;

(c) any warrant or right described in subsection (1)(b); or

(d) any other security that the commissioner considers to be of a similar nature and considers necessary or appropriate, by rules as the commissioner may prescribe in the public interest or for the protection of investors, to treat as an equity security.

(2) A domestic stock insurance company shall report to the commissioner the name of any person who acquires 10% or more of any class of equity security of the company. The company shall report the name of the person within 30 days of the person acquiring 10% or more of any class of equity security of the company. The company shall provide any other information about the person that the commissioner may require.

(3) If a person has not acquired at least a 10% interest of any class of equity security of a domestic stock insurance company during the last calendar year preceding the annual statement filing date, the company is only required to report in the annual statement the names and percentages of those persons holding at least 10% interest in any class of equity security.

History: En. Secs. 1, 6, Ch. 159, L. 1965; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4751, 40-4756; amd. Sec. 14, Ch. 380, L. 2003.

33-3-442. Inside trading of securities — profit inures to company — limitation of action to recover — rules. (1) For the purpose of preventing the unfair use of information which may have been obtained by such beneficial owner, director, or officer by reason of his relationship to such company, any profit realized by him from any purchase and sale, or any sale and purchase, of any equity security of such company within any period of less than 6 months, unless such security was acquired in good faith in connection with a debt previously contracted, shall inure to and be recoverable by the company, irrespective of any intention on the part of such beneficial owner, director, or officer in entering into such transaction of holding the security purchased or of not repurchasing the security sold for a period exceeding 6 months.

(2) Suit to recover such profit may be instituted at law or in equity in any court of competent jurisdiction by the company or by the owner of any security of the company in the name and in behalf of the company if the company shall fail or refuse to bring such suit within 60 days after request or shall fail diligently to prosecute the same thereafter, but no such suit shall be brought more than 2 years after the date such profit was realized.

(3) This section shall not be construed to cover any transaction where such beneficial owner was not such both at the time of the purchase and sale, or the sale and purchase, of the security involved or any transaction or transactions which the commissioner by rules may exempt as not comprehended within the purpose of this section.

33-3-443. Short sales of equity securities prohibited — time for delivery after sale. (1) It shall be unlawful for any such beneficial owner, director, or officer, directly or indirectly, to sell any equity security of such company if the person selling the security or his principal:

(a) does not own the security sold; or

(b) if owning the security, does not deliver it against such sale within 20 days thereafter or does not within 5 days after such sale deposit it in the mails or other usual channels of transportation.

(2) No person shall be deemed to have violated this section if he proves that notwithstanding the exercise of good faith he was unable to make such delivery or deposit within such time or that to do so would cause undue inconvenience or expense.

33-3-444. Exemptions — securities held in an investment account — primary or secondary market — rules. (1) The provisions of 33-3-442 shall not apply to any purchase and sale, or sale and purchase, and the provisions of 33-3-443 shall not apply to any sale of an equity security of a domestic stock insurance company not then or theretofore held by him in an investment account by a broker-dealer in the ordinary course of his business and incident to the establishment or maintenance by him of a primary or secondary market (otherwise than on an exchange as defined in the Securities Exchange Act of 1934) for such security.

(2) The commissioner may, by such rules as he deems necessary or appropriate in the public interest, define and prescribe terms and conditions with respect to securities held in an investment account and transactions made in the ordinary course of business and incident to the establishment or maintenance of a primary or secondary market.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 159, L. 1965; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4755.

33-3-446. Exemptions — registered securities — holding by less than 100 persons. The provisions of 33-3-441 through 33-3-443 shall not apply to equity securities of a domestic stock insurance company if:

(1) such securities shall be registered or shall be required to be registered, pursuant to section 12 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended; or

(2) such domestic stock insurance company shall not have any class of its equity securities held of record by 100 or more persons on the last business day of the year next preceding the year in which equity securities of the company would be subject to the provisions of 33-3-441 through 33-3-443 except for the provisions of this subsection (2).

33-3-450. Purpose. The purpose of 33-3-450 through 33-3-453 is to authorize domestic insurance companies to utilize modern systems for holding and transferring securities without physical delivery of securities certificates, subject to appropriate rules adopted by the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 380, L. 2003.

33-3-451. Definitions. As used in this chapter, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Clearing corporation" has the meaning provided in 30-8-112, except that with respect to securities issued by institutions organized or existing under the laws of any foreign country or securities used to meet the deposit requirements pursuant to the laws of a foreign country as a condition of doing business in the foreign country, a clearing corporation may include a corporation that is organized or existing under the laws of any foreign country and is legally qualified under those laws to effect transactions in securities by computerized book entry.

(2) "Direct participant" means a bank, trust company, or other institution that maintains an account in its name in a clearing corporation and through which an insurance company participates in a clearing corporation.

(3) "Federal reserve book-entry system" means the computerized systems sponsored by the United States department of the treasury and certain agencies and instrumentalities of the United States for holding and transferring securities of the United States government and those agencies and instrumentalities, respectively, in federal reserve banks through banks that are members of the federal reserve system or that otherwise have access to the computerized systems.

(4) "Member bank" means a national bank, state bank, or trust company that is a member of the federal reserve system and through which an insurance company participates in the federal reserve book-entry system.

(5) "Security" has the meaning provided in 30-8-112.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 380, L. 2003.

33-3-452. Use of book-entry systems — rules. (1) (a) Other provisions of law may not be construed as prohibiting a domestic insurance company from depositing or arranging for the deposit of securities held in or purchased for its general account and its separate accounts in a clearing corporation or the federal reserve book-entry system.

(b) When securities are deposited with a clearing corporation, certificates representing securities of the same class of the same issuer may be merged and held in bulk in the name of the nominee of the clearing corporation with any other securities deposited with the clearing corporation by any person, regardless of the ownership of the securities. Certificates representing securities of small denominations may be merged into one or more certificates of larger denominations.

(c) The records of any member bank through which an insurance company holds securities in the federal reserve book-entry system and the records of any custodian bank through which an insurance company holds securities in a clearing corporation at all times must show that the securities are held for the insurance company and for which accounts of the insurance company.

(d) Ownership and other interests in securities subject to this subsection (1) may be transferred by bookkeeping entry on the books of a clearing corporation or in the federal reserve book-entry system without, in either case, physical delivery of certificates representing the securities.

(2) The commissioner may adopt rules that include but are not limited to rules governing the deposit by insurance companies of securities with clearing corporations and in the federal reserve book-entry system and rules pertaining to evidence that must be provided to the commissioner with respect to the recording of securities.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 380, L. 2003.

33-3-453. Deposit of securities by insurance companies. (1) Securities qualified for deposit under 33-3-450 through 33-3-453 may be deposited with a clearing corporation or held in the federal reserve book-entry system. Securities deposited with a clearing corporation or held in the federal reserve book-entry system may not be withdrawn by the insurance company without the approval of the commissioner.

(2) An insurance company holding securities in the manner provided for in this section shall provide to the commissioner evidence issued by its custodian or member bank through which the insurance company has deposited the securities in a clearing corporation or through which the securities are held in the federal reserve book-entry system, respectively, in order to establish that the securities are actually recorded in an account in the name of the custodian, other direct participant, or member bank and that the records of the custodian, other direct participant, or member bank reflect that the securities are held subject to the order of the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 380, L. 2003.

History: En. Sec. 430, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4713.

33-3-502. Solicitations in other states. (1) No domestic insurer shall knowingly solicit insurance business in any reciprocating state in which it is not then licensed as an authorized insurer.

(2) This section shall not prohibit advertising through publication and radio, television, and other broadcasts originating outside such reciprocating state, if the insurer is licensed in a majority of the states in which such advertising is disseminated and if such advertising is not specifically directed to residents of such reciprocating state.

(3) This section shall not prohibit insurance, covering persons or risks located in a reciprocating state, under contracts solicited and issued in states in which the insurer is then licensed. It shall not prohibit insurance effectuated by the insurer as an unauthorized insurer in accordance with the laws of the reciprocating state.

(4) A reciprocating state, as used herein, is one under the laws of which a similar prohibition is imposed upon and enforced against insurers domiciled in that state.

(5) The commissioner shall suspend or revoke the certificate of authority of a domestic insurer found by him, after a hearing, to have violated this section.
History: En. Sec. 445, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4728.

33-3-503. Membership in mutuals. (1) Each policyholder of a domestic mutual insurer, other than of a reinsurance contract, is a member of the insurer with all rights and obligations of such membership, and the policy shall so specify.

(2) Any person, government or governmental agency, state or political subdivision thereof, public or private corporation, board, association, firm, estate, trustee, or fiduciary may be a member of a domestic, foreign, or alien mutual insurer. Any officer, stockholder, trustee, or legal representative of any such corporation, board, association, or estate may be recognized as acting for or on its behalf for the purpose of such membership and shall not be personally liable upon any contract of insurance for acting in such representative capacity.

(3) Any domestic corporation may participate as a member of a mutual insurer as an incidental purpose for which such corporation is organized and as much granted as the rights and powers expressly conferred.

Supervision, rehabilitation, and liquidation of insurers, Title 33, ch. 2, part 13.
Dissolution and liquidation of corporations, Title 35, ch. 1, part 9.

33-3-601. Voluntary dissolution of domestic insurers — plan of dissolution. At least 60 days before an insurer submits a proposed voluntary dissolution to shareholders or policyholders under 35-1-932 or voluntarily dissolves under 35-1-931, the insurer must file the plan for dissolution with the commissioner. The commissioner may require the submission of additional information to establish the financial condition of the insurer or other facts relevant to the proposed dissolution. If the shareholders or policyholders adopt the resolution to dissolve, the commissioner shall, within 30 days after the adoption of the resolution, begin to examine the insurer. The commissioner shall approve the dissolution unless, after a hearing, the commissioner finds the insurer is insolvent or may become insolvent in the process of dissolution. If the commissioner approves the voluntary dissolution, the insurer may dissolve under 35-1-931 through 35-1-935, except that 35-1-938(4) does not apply. The papers required by 35-1-931 through 35-1-935 to be filed with the secretary of state must instead be filed with the commissioner. The duties required by 35-1-217 to be performed by the secretary of state must instead be performed by the commissioner. If the commissioner does not approve the voluntary dissolution, the commissioner shall petition the court for liquidation or rehabilitation under chapter 2, part 13, of this title.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 389, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 189, Ch. 368, L. 1991.

33-3-602. Conversion to involuntary liquidation. An insurer may at any time during liquidation under 35-1-931 and 35-1-932 apply to the commissioner to have the liquidation continued under his supervision; thereupon, the commissioner shall apply to the court for liquidation under 33-2-1341.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 389, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 190, Ch. 368, L. 1991.

33-3-603. Revocation of voluntary dissolution. If an insurer revokes the voluntary dissolution proceedings under 35-1-934, the insurer shall file a copy of the revocation of voluntary dissolution proceedings with the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 389, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 191, Ch. 368, L. 1991.

33-3-604. Distribution of assets of a mutual insurer. The maximum amount that a mutual insurer may pay to a policyholder upon dissolution, in addition to the benefits promised in the insurance policy, is the total of the premium payments made by the policyholder with interest at the legal rate compounded annually. Any excess over such amounts must be deposited with the state treasurer to the credit of the state general fund. A person may participate in the distribution of assets of a mutual insurer only if he has a policy in effect 180 days before the insurer files its plan for dissolution with the commissioner. The amount that a person eligible to participate in the distribution of assets of a mutual insurer may receive must be in the proportion that the premiums paid by the policyholder bear to the total premiums paid to the mutual insurer by all policyholders who had policies in effect 180 days before the insurer filed its plan for dissolution with the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 389, L. 1987.

Part 7
Disclosure of Material Transactions

33-3-701. Short title. This part may be cited as the "Disclosure of Material Transactions Act".

History: En. Sec. 78, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-3-702. Report. (1) An insurer domiciled in this state shall file a report with the commissioner disclosing material acquisitions and dispositions of assets or material nonrenewals, cancellations, or revisions of ceded reinsurance agreements unless the acquisitions and dispositions of assets or material nonrenewals, cancellations, or revisions have been submitted to the commissioner for review or approval or for information purposes pursuant to other provisions of the insurance code, laws, or regulations or other requirements.

(2) The report required in subsection (1) is due within 15 days after the end of the calendar month in which any of the transactions in subsection (1) occur.

(3) One complete copy of the report, including any exhibits or other attachments, must be filed with:

(a) the insurance department of the state in which the insurer is domiciled; and

(b) the national association of insurance commissioners.

(4) All reports obtained by or disclosed to the commissioner pursuant to this part must be treated confidentially, may not be subject to subpoena, and may not be made public by the commissioner, the national association of insurance commissioners, or any other person, except to insurance departments of other states, without the prior consent of the insurer to which it pertains unless the commissioner, after giving the insurer notice and an opportunity to be heard, determines that the interest of policyholders, shareholders, or the public will be served by publication, in which event the commissioner may publish all or any part of the report in the manner the commissioner chooses.

History: En. Sec. 79, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-3-703. Acquisitions and dispositions of assets. (1) Acquisitions or dispositions of assets that are not material are not required to be reported pursuant to 33-3-702 if the acquisitions or dispositions are not material. For purposes of this part, a material acquisition or the aggregate of any series of related acquisitions during any 30-day period or a disposition or the aggregate of any series of related dispositions during any 30-day period is one that is nonrecurring and not in the ordinary course of business and involves more than 5% of the reporting insurer's total admitted assets as reported in its most recent statutory statement filed with the insurance department of the insurer's state of domicile.

(2) Asset acquisitions subject to this part include every purchase, lease, exchange, merger, consolidation, succession, or other acquisition, other than the construction or development of real property, by or for the reporting insurer or the acquisition of materials for this purpose.

(3) Asset dispositions subject to this part include each sale, lease, exchange, merger, consolidation, mortgage, hypothecation, assignment, whether for the benefit of creditors or otherwise, abandonment, destruction, or other disposition.

(4) The following information is required to be disclosed in any report of a material acquisition or disposition of assets:

(a) the date of the transaction;

(b) the manner of acquisition or disposition;

(c) the description of the assets involved;

(d) the nature and amount of the consideration given or received;

(e) the purpose or reason for the transaction;

(f) the manner by which the amount of consideration was determined;

(g) the gain or loss recognized or realized as a result of the transaction; and

(h) the names of the persons from whom the assets were acquired or to whom they were disposed.

(5) An insurer is required to report material acquisitions and dispositions on a nonconsolidated basis unless the insurer is part of a consolidated group of insurers that uses a pooling arrangement or 100% reinsurance agreement that affects the solvency and integrity of the insurer's reserves and the insurer ceded substantially all of its direct and assumed business to the pool. An insurer cedes substantially all of its direct and assumed business to a pool if the insurer has less than $1 million total direct plus assumed written premiums during a calendar year that are not subject to a pooling arrangement and the net income of the business not subject to the pooling arrangement represents less than 5% of the insurer's capital and surplus.

History: En. Sec. 80, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-3-704. Nonrenewals, cancellations, or revisions of ceded reinsurance agreements. (1) A nonrenewal, cancellation, or revision of a ceded reinsurance agreement need not be reported pursuant to 33-3-702 if the nonrenewal, cancellation, or revision is not material. For purposes of this part, a material nonrenewal, cancellation, or revision is one that affects:

(a) property and casualty business, including disability business written by a property and casualty insurer, so that:

(i) more than 50% of the insurer's total ceded written premium is affected; or

(ii) more than 50% of the insurer's total ceded indemnity and loss adjustment reserves are affected;

(b) life, annuity, and disability business, so that more than 50% of the total reserve credit taken for business ceded, on an annualized basis, as indicated in the insurer's most recent annual statement is affected;

(c) either property and casualty or life, annuity, and disability business and causes either of the following events that constitutes a material revision that must be reported:

(i) an authorized reinsurer representing more than 10% of a total cession is replaced by one or more unauthorized reinsurers; or

(ii) previously established collateral requirements have been reduced or waived as respects one or more unauthorized reinsurers representing collectively more than 10% of a total cession.

(2) However, a filing is not required if:

(a) with respect to property and casualty business, including disability business written by a property and casualty insurer, the insurer's total ceded written premium represents, on an annualized basis, less than 10% of its total written premium for direct and assumed business; or

(b) with respect to life, annuity, and disability business, the total reserve credit taken for business ceded represents, on an annualized basis, less than 10% of the statutory reserve requirement prior to any cession.

(3) The following information is required to be disclosed in any report of a material nonrenewal, cancellation, or revision of ceded reinsurance agreements:

(a) the effective date of the nonrenewal, cancellation, or revision;

(b) the description of the transaction with an identification of the initiator of the transaction;

(c) the purpose or reason for the transaction; and

(d) if applicable, the identity of the replacement reinsurers.

(4) Insurers are required to report all material nonrenewals, cancellations, or revisions of ceded reinsurance agreements on a nonconsolidated basis unless the insurer is part of a consolidated group of insurers that uses a pooling arrangement or 100% reinsurance agreement that affects the solvency and integrity of the insurer's reserves and the insurer ceded substantially all of its direct and assumed business to the pool. An insurer is considered to have ceded substantially all of its direct and assumed business to a pool if the insurer has less than $1 million total direct plus assumed written premiums during a calendar year that are not subject to a pooling arrangement and the net income of the business not subject to the pooling arrangement represents less than 5% of the insurer's capital and surplus.

Part 1
General Provisions

33-4-101. Scope of chapter — provisions applicable. (1) The chapter applies to:

(a) all domestic mutual hail, fire, and other casualty insurers of farm property and stock and rural buildings formed and immediately prior to January 1, 1961, lawfully transacting insurance under sections 40-1501 through 40-1517 of the Revised Codes of Montana, 1947;

(b) all domestic mutual rural insurers formed and immediately prior to January 1, 1961, lawfully transacting insurance under sections 40-1601 through 40-1625 of the Revised Codes of Montana, 1947;

(c) all insurers formed under this chapter.

(2) The insurance laws of this state do not apply to or govern, either directly or indirectly, domestic farm mutual insurers except as provided in this chapter.

(3) The following chapters and sections of this title apply to farm mutual insurers to the extent applicable and not inconsistent with the express provisions of this chapter and the reasonable implications of the express provisions of this chapter: chapter 1, parts 1 through 4, 7, 12, and 13; 33-2-112; 33-2-501; 33-2-502; 33-2-708; 33-2-1212; chapter 2, parts 13 and 16; 33-2-1501; 33-2-1517(2); 33-3-218; 33-3-308; 33-3-309; 33-3-401; 33-3-402; 33-3-431; 33-3-436; and chapters 18 and 19.

33-4-102. Definitions. (1) A "county mutual insurer" is a farm mutual insurer authorized to insure property and liability risks located in the county in which its principal office is located and in the counties in this state with boundaries contiguous with the principal office county.

(2) A "farm mutual insurer" is an insurer that meets the qualifications of 33-4-101(1).

(3) A "state mutual insurer" is a farm mutual insurer authorized to insure property and liability risks throughout the state.

(4) "Surplus" is the extent to which the value of an insurer's assets exceeds its liabilities.

History: En. Secs. 469, 481, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4802, 40-4814; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 158, L. 1997.

33-4-103. Corporate powers in general. (1) An insurance corporation formed under this chapter or existing on January 1, 1961, and of a type which might be formed under this chapter shall have the same capacity to act possessed by individuals but with authority to perform only such lawful acts as are necessary or proper to accomplish its purposes.

(2) Without affecting the authority contained in subsection (1) above, every such corporation shall have the following corporate powers:

(a) to have succession by its corporate name for the period stated in its articles;

(b) to sue and be sued in its corporate name;

(c) to adopt, use, and alter a corporate seal;

(d) to acquire, hold, sell, use, dispose of, pledge, or mortgage any such property as its purpose may require, subject to any limitation prescribed by law or the articles of incorporation;

(e) to transact insurance;

(f) to conduct its affairs through its directors, officers, employees, insurance producers, and representatives thereunto duly authorized;

(g) to make bylaws not inconsistent with law for the exercise of its corporate powers, the management, regulation, and government of its affairs and property, including but not limited to calling and holding of meetings of its directors or members, and to modify or amend such bylaws;

(h) to exercise, subject to law and the express provisions of the articles of incorporation, all such incidental and subsidiary powers as may be necessary or convenient to the attainment of the objectives set forth in such articles;

(i) to dissolve and wind up or be dissolved and wound up in the manner provided by law.

History: En. Sec. 479, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4812; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

Part 2
Formation

33-4-201. Eligible incorporators. (1) One hundred or more individuals residing in this state, each of whom is 18 years of age or more, who collectively own farm property as referred to in 33-4-501(1)(a) valued at not less than $500,000 which they desire to insure, and each of whom owns farm lands or ranch lands situated in this state valued at not less than $5,000, may incorporate a state mutual insurer.

(2) Twenty-five or more individuals residing in this state, each of whom is 18 years or more of age, each of whom owns farm land or ranch land valued at $5,000 or more in the county wherein is to be located the principal office of the proposed insurer or in any county in this state contiguous with such county, and who collectively own in such counties farm property referred to in 33-4-501(1)(a) valued at not less than $125,000 which they desire to insure, may incorporate a county mutual insurer.

History: En. Sec. 474, Ch. 286, L. 1959; amd. Sec. 8, Ch. 423, L. 1971; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4807.

33-4-202. Declaration of intention to incorporate — articles of incorporation — fee. (1) The individuals proposing to form a farm mutual insurer as referred to in 33-4-201 shall file with the commissioner:

(a) a declaration of their intention to form the corporation signed by at least 100 incorporators if a proposed state mutual insurer or by at least 25 incorporators if a proposed county mutual insurer; and

(b) three copies of proposed articles of incorporation executed by three or more of the incorporators. The signatures of the incorporators must be notarized.

(2) The articles of incorporation must state:

(a) the name of the corporation. If a state mutual insurer, the words "farm mutual" must be a part of the name; if a county mutual insurer, the name must contain the words "farm mutual" or "rural mutual" together with the name of the county in which its principal place of business is to be located. The name may not be so similar to one already used by a corporation in this state as to be misleading.

(b) if a county mutual insurer, the name of the county or counties in which the corporation is to transact insurance and the address where its principal business office will be located;

(c) if a state mutual insurer, the location of its principal business office, which must be located in this state;

(d) the objects and purposes for which the corporation is formed;

(e) whether the insurer intends to transact business on the cash premium plan or the assessment plan;

(f) the duration of the corporation's existence, which may be perpetual;

(g) the number of its directors, which may not be less than 5 or more than 11, and the names and addresses of the members of the initial board of directors appointed to manage the affairs of the corporation until the first annual meeting of the members at which time successors must be elected and qualified;

(h) other provisions, not inconsistent with law, considered appropriate by the incorporators;

(i) the names, residences, and addresses of the incorporators and the value of their property to be insured in the county or counties where the operations of the corporation are to be transacted.

(3) At the time of filing of the articles of incorporation as provided in subsection (1), the incorporators shall pay to the commissioner a filing fee of $10. The commissioner shall deposit the fees with the state treasurer to the credit of the general fund.

History: En. Sec. 475, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4808; amd. Sec. 35, Ch. 379, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 14, Ch. 531, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 16, Ch. 380, L. 2003.

33-4-203. Approval of articles — commencement of corporate existence. (1) If the commissioner finds the proposed articles of incorporation to be in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and not in conflict with the constitution and laws of the United States or of this state, the commissioner shall make a certificate of the facts.

(2) If the commissioner considers the name of the proposed corporation to be so similar to one already appropriated by another company or corporation as to be likely to mislead the public, the commissioner shall reject the name applied for and shall notify the incorporators of the rejection.

(3) When the proposed articles of incorporation have been approved by the commissioner, the commissioner shall endorse the approval upon each set of the articles and forward three sets of articles to the incorporators. The incorporators shall file, with the required filing fee, one of the sets of articles with the secretary of state and one set certified by the secretary of state with the commissioner. The remaining set of articles must be made a part of the corporation's records.

(4) The corporation has legal existence upon the approval of the articles by the commissioner and completion of the filings required in subsection (3), but it may not transact business as an insurer until it has obtained a certificate of authority as provided in 33-4-505.

33-4-204. Amendment of articles — change from county mutual insurer to state mutual insurer. (1) A farm mutual insurer may, by a vote of two-thirds of its members present at any annual meeting or at any special meeting called for that purpose, amend its articles of incorporation to extend its corporate duration or any other particular within the scope of this chapter by causing amended articles to be filed in the same form and manner as required for original articles of incorporation.

(2) (a) A county mutual insurer may change its status to that of a state mutual insurer by amending its articles of incorporation pursuant to the requirements of this section.

(b) A county mutual insurer that changes its status to that of a state mutual insurer shall conform with all requirements for a state mutual insurer under this chapter upon its articles of amendment being certified by the commissioner, including the requirements of 33-4-206(2) and 33-4-401(1).

(3) The commissioner shall review the amended articles for compliance with this title. The amended articles of incorporation may be signed only by the president and secretary of the corporation and attested by the corporate seal. Notice of the proposed amendment must be contained in the notice of the annual or special meeting.

33-4-206. Initial qualifications. When applying for an original certificate of authority as an insurer newly organized in this state or for an amended certificate of authority in the case of a county mutual insurer that is changing its status to that of a state mutual insurer pursuant to 33-4-204, the insurer must have surplus as required by 33-4-401 and be otherwise qualified under this chapter, and:

(1) if a county mutual insurer, it must have received acceptable bona fide written applications from 25 separate persons for substantial insurance of the kinds of insurance proposed to be transacted, aggregating at least $100,000. The applicants must have given to the insurer the obligations referred to in 33-4-508 or paid the premium required for the insurance, subject to the insurer qualifying to transact the kinds of insurance for which it has applied.

(2) if a state mutual insurer or a county mutual insurer that has changed its status to that of a state mutual insurer pursuant to 33-4-204, it must have received acceptable bona fide written applications from 100 separate persons, each for substantial insurance, aggregating at least $500,000 of the kinds of insurance proposed to be transacted. The applicants must have given to the insurer the obligations referred to in 33-4-508 or paid the premium required for the insurance, subject to the insurer qualifying to transact the kinds of insurance for which it has applied.

(3) if to insure growing crops against loss or damage by hail, it must have received applications for hail insurance from not less than 100 persons residing in Montana and owning in the aggregate not less than 5,000 acres of grain. Each applicant must have given to the insurer the obligations referred to in 33-4-508 or paid the premium required for the insurance, subject to the insurer qualifying to transact hail insurance.

Management

33-4-301. Bylaws — adoption — power to amend. Upon commencement of the legal existence of an insurer, its initial board of directors shall adopt such original bylaws, not inconsistent with the state constitution or this chapter, as may be deemed necessary for the management of its affairs. The bylaws shall be subject to the approval of the insurer's members at their next succeeding meeting. The members shall otherwise have the power to make, modify, and revoke bylaws.

History: En. Sec. 484, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4817.

33-4-302. Bylaws — contents. (1) The bylaws of a farm mutual insurer shall provide:

(a) as to the liability of each member for payment of the expenses and losses of the insurer and what obligations shall be given therefor when a person applies for insurance;

(b) as to the time when obligations of members for losses and expenses become due;

(c) for limitation of liability of members for the payment of expenses and losses of the insurer;

(d) the terms of office of the directors. At least part of the directors shall be elected at each annual meeting of members. The term of any director shall not be longer than 3 years.

(e) the date of the annual meeting of the members, at which vacancies existing or occurring on the board of directors are to be filled by election by the members. Each member shall be permitted to cast at least one vote, either in person or, if so authorized in the bylaws, by proxy, for each director to be elected and may cumulate his votes for one or more directors, not exceeding the number to be elected.

(f) how directors are to be elected in case no election occurs at the annual meeting or in event of resignation, disability, or death of a director;

(g) the manner and time of giving notice of annual and special meetings of members.

(2) The bylaws may provide:

(a) the character of property to be insured and under what restrictions and limitations;

(b) restrictions and limitations as to membership and the powers, duties, and obligations of the members other than as to obligations covered under subsection (1)(a) above;

(c) the manner of making and collecting assessments;

(d) the manner of the suspension and expulsion of members;

(e) the form of application and the form of policy;

(f) the manner of making proof, adjustment, and payment of losses;

(g) as to who is authorized to adjust losses for the insurer;

(h) for arbitration as provided in 33-4-411, in event the insurer's adjuster and any claimant cannot agree as to the amount of any insured damage or loss;

(i) the duties and compensation of the officers and the bonds to be required of them;

(j) the books and records to be kept by the insurer, reports required of the officers, and the manner of examining and auditing their accounts;

(k) what shall be contained on the corporate seal and when the seal shall be required to be used;

(l) such other matters as may be deemed necessary or convenient for the management of the affairs of the insurer.

History: En. Sec. 485, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4818.

33-4-303. Bylaws binding upon members. The bylaws of a farm mutual insurer are binding upon all of its members and as from time to time amended are a part of the contracts of insurance between the insurer and its members.

History: En. Sec. 486, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4819.

33-4-304. Annual meetings of members — where held. Annual meetings of the members of a farm mutual insurer may be held at its principal business office or at any other place located in any county in this state in which the insurer is authorized to transact insurance.

History: En. Sec. 488, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4821.

33-4-305. Annual meeting — presentation of annual statement. The annual statement of the insurer as required to be filed with the commissioner under 33-4-313 shall be presented at the annual meeting of the members of the insurer next following the end of the calendar year to which such statement relates.

History: En. Sec. 489, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4822.

33-4-306. Adjourned annual meetings — notice. Notice of any adjourned annual meeting of members shall be given to the members of an insurer in the same manner as provided in the insurer's bylaws for the regular annual meeting of members.

History: En. Sec. 490, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4823.

33-4-307. Members' voting rights. Each member of an insurer is entitled to one vote upon each matter coming to a vote at meetings of members of the insurer. A member may vote by written proxy if and as may be provided in the insurer's bylaws. No such proxy shall be made irrevocable or for longer than 1 year.

History: En. Sec. 491, Ch. 186, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4824.

33-4-308. Board of directors — quorum. (1) The general management of the affairs of a farm mutual insurer is vested in its board of directors.

(2) A majority of the directors shall constitute a quorum to do business at any lawful meeting of the board.

History: En. Sec. 494, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4827.

33-4-309. Directors — election and term. (1) Directors of a farm mutual insurer shall be elected by its members by ballot for terms not to exceed 3 years and shall hold office until their respective successors are elected and have qualified.

(2) No individual shall serve as a director unless a member of the insurer.

History: En. Sec. 495, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4828.

33-4-310. Officers. The board of directors of an insurer shall elect from their number a president and vice-president. The board shall also elect a secretary and treasurer or a secretary-treasurer, who may or may not be members of the insurer. Officers shall hold their offices for 1 year and until their successors are elected and qualified, unless earlier removed by the board of directors.

History: En. Sec. 496, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4829.

33-4-311. Bonding of officers, managers, and employees. (1) When acting in a fiduciary capacity, officers, managers, and employees shall each give bonds to the insurer for the faithful performance of their duties. The bond must be issued by an authorized corporate surety.

(2) The commissioner may adopt rules to determine the amount of the bonds required under this section.

History: En. Sec. 497, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4830; amd. Sec. 21, Ch. 472, L. 1999.

33-4-313. Annual statement. The president and secretary of each insurer, on or before March 1 each year, shall prepare, affirm under oath, and file with the commissioner, on forms prescribed and furnished by the commissioner, an annual statement for the preceding calendar year showing the condition of the insurer as of December 31 of the preceding year and exhibiting the following facts:

(1) the names of the president and secretary;

(2) the date of the annual meeting;

(3) the amount of insurance in force;

(4) the number of members;

(5) the number of assessments made during the year;

(6) the amount paid in losses during the year;

(7) the number of members withdrawn, suspended, and expelled during the year;

(8) the number of new members admitted during the year;

(9) the expenses during the year;

(10) the amount of money on hand;

(11) the amount and character of the insurer's assets;

(12) the amount of the insurer's liabilities, including any reserves required to be established under this chapter; and

(13) other information concerning the insurer's affairs that the commissioner may reasonably require.

33-4-314. Annual statement — exclusive report — penalty for failure to file. (1) A report, statement, or return of any nature may not be required of any farm mutual insurer other than those required by 33-4-313.

(2) The commissioner may:

(a) suspend or revoke the certificate of authority of any insurer failing to file its annual statement as required; or

(b) impose a fine of up to $100 a day for each day that an insurer is late in filing its annual statement, with the aggregate penalty not to exceed $1,000.

History: En. Sec. 500, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4833; amd. Sec. 18, Ch. 531, L. 1997.

33-4-315. Examination by commissioner — expense. (1) The commissioner has power, at any time, to investigate and examine the affairs and books of any insurer.

(2) The insurer shall pay the costs of investigation and examination by the commissioner in the same manner as prescribed in 33-1-413.

History: En. Sec. 501, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4834; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 177, L. 1987.

33-4-316. Records — inspections. (1) A farm mutual insurer, through its president and secretary, shall keep or cause to be kept accurate records and accounts of its transactions. The books, files, and records of the insurer shall be located at its principal place of business or, in the case of a county mutual insurer, at such place within the county of its principal place of business as may be designated by the insurer's board of directors and shown in the minutes of the board.

(2) The books, files, and records of the insurer shall be available for inspection by the insurer's directors and officers and by the commissioner or his duly constituted examiner at all reasonable times.

History: En. Sec. 508, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4841.

Part 4
Finance

33-4-401. Surplus funds required. A domestic farm mutual insurer is authorized to transact insurance if it is otherwise in compliance with the applicable provisions of this chapter and if it maintains surplus funds as follows:

(1) if a state mutual insurer or a county mutual insurer that has changed its status to that of a state mutual insurer pursuant to the provisions of 33-4-204, surplus of not less than $200,000; or

(2) if a county mutual insurer, surplus of not less than $50,000.

History: En. Sec. 482, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4815; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 228, L. 2001.

33-4-402. Members' liability — limitation. All liability of the members of a farm mutual insurer shall be as limited in the insurer's bylaws. As to insurers transacting business on the cash premium plan, the limitation shall comply with 33-4-504(4). No member shall be required to pay more than the full amount of his obligation given to the insurer or of his liability as provided for in the bylaws.

History: En. Sec. 492, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4825.

33-4-403. Investments. (1) When directed by a majority vote of its members present at a meeting of members, the directors of a farm mutual insurer may invest the insurer's funds or any part of the funds in any of the following:

(a) bonds or other securities issued by the United States government or by any agency of the United States;

(b) bonds or other obligations the payment of the interest and principal of which is assumed or guaranteed by the United States government or any agency of the United States;

(c) general obligation bonds or warrants of any state, county, or city, when approved by the commissioner;

(d) loans secured by a first mortgage on real estate situated in the state of Montana but subject to the provisions of subsection (3);

(e) common stock of a domestic insurer formed as an affiliate company to two or more farm mutual insurers for the purpose of offering companion insurance products that farm mutual insurers are prohibited from selling. The investment may not exceed one-third of the assets of the farm mutual insurer.

(f) corporate bonds that are rated A3 or better by Moody's investor service, inc., or A- or better by Standard and Poor's corporation and that are issued with the full credit of the parent corporation. An investment in corporate bonds may not exceed 20% of the total assets of the mutual insurer, and no more than 5% of the total assets of the mutual insurer may be invested with one corporation.

(g) money market funds as defined by rules adopted by the commissioner. An investment in money market funds may not exceed 20% of the total assets of the mutual insurer, and no more than 5% of the total assets of the mutual insurer may be invested in a single money market fund.

(2) At the time of making an investment the document evidencing the investment must be stamped with the name of the insurer with the following notation printed or written on the document: "Negotiable only upon the order of the Board of Directors of .... (naming the insurer)."

(3) A real estate loan may not be for more than 60% of the appraised value of the real estate securing the loan, and the appraisal must have been made within 30 days prior to the date of the loan. The loan may not be for a term longer than 10 years. This subsection does not prevent the renewal or extension of loans already made and does not apply to real estate loans that are insured under the provisions of any act of the congress of the United States or to the making, extension, or renewal of any loans that are made under subchapter II of the act of congress known as the "Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944", or any amendment thereof or supplement thereto, as to any part of the loans. This subsection does not prevent an insurer from taking another and immediately subsequent mortgage or deed of trust when it already holds a first mortgage or deed of trust on the same real estate or from accepting a second lien on real estate to secure the payment of a debt previously contracted in good faith. This subsection does not prevent subsequent liens of any kind from being taken to secure the payment of a debt previously contracted in good faith when in the judgment of the insurer's board of directors the subsequent liens are necessary to further secure the payment of any debts and save the insurer from loss.

33-4-406. Reserves — cash premium plan. Each insurer transacting business on the cash premium plan shall maintain the following reserves:

(1) a loss reserve, in amount reasonably adequate to pay in full all losses already incurred but currently unpaid. The amount subsequently paid on such losses shall be credited against this reserve.

(2) a reserve for unearned premiums, which reserve shall be computed at 50% of net premiums (gross premiums less premiums returned) charged and collected for unexpired policy periods that commenced during the calendar year covered by the financial statement plus 100% of such net premiums charged and collected in advance for policy periods that are to commence after such calendar year. In the alternative, the insurer may at its option compute its entire reserve for unearned premiums as the aggregate amount of the pro rata unearned premiums for each policy in force as at the end of the calendar year to be covered by the financial statement.

History: En. Sec. 505, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4838.

33-4-407. Profits or dividends. An insurer may not accumulate any profits or pay any dividends. This provision does not prohibit an insurer from accumulating and maintaining surplus funds as required to be maintained by the insurer under this chapter or from accumulating and maintaining other voluntary reserves for purposes and in amounts that may be reasonable. Limitations on any accumulations and the purposes of the accumulations may be provided for in the insurer's bylaws.

History: En. Sec. 506, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4839; amd. Sec. 33, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

33-4-408. Deficiency of surplus. (1) If the surplus funds of a farm mutual insurer at any time fall below the amount required to be maintained under this chapter, the insurer shall cure such deficiency within 6 months thereafter, notwithstanding that new losses or expenses may be incurred within such 6-month period.

(2) If the deficiency is not so cured, the commissioner may, upon the insurer's written application therefor, allow an additional reasonable period, not to exceed 6 months, for the curing of the deficiency.

(3) If the deficiency is not so cured within the first 6-month period, if additional time is not so applied for, or within such additional period as the commissioner may so allow, the commissioner shall forthwith suspend or revoke the insurer's certificate of authority.

33-4-410. Losses — notice — adjustment. (1) Every member of a domestic farm mutual insurer who has sustained any insured loss or damage shall immediately notify the insurer's secretary thereof and of the amount of damage or loss claimed.

(2) Upon receipt of the notice of loss referred to in subsection (1) above, the secretary shall notify the person or persons authorized by the bylaws of such insurer to ascertain the amount of the loss or damage and adjust the same.

History: En. Sec. 514, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4847.

33-4-411. Arbitration — committee — compensation. (1) If any insurer's adjuster and a claimant fail to agree as to the amount of the insured loss or damage sustained by the claimant and if so provided for in the insurer's bylaws, the matter shall be submitted to three persons as a committee of reference, one of whom shall be selected by the claimant, one by the insurer, and the third by such two persons, all of whom shall be sworn to a faithful and impartial investigation and award.

(2) The committee of reference shall have authority to examine witnesses and determine all matters in dispute. The decision or award of the committee shall be made in writing to the secretary of the insurer. If it relates to any claimed loss or damage to a crop, the decision or award shall not be made until after maturity of such crop. The decision or award of the committee shall be final and binding upon all parties, unless an interested party appeals to the court within 30 days thereafter.

(3) The compensation of each member of any such committee shall be at the rate of $10 per day for each day of service in the discharge of his duties. Such compensation shall be paid by the claimant, unless the award of the committee exceeds the sum theretofore offered by the insurer in settlement of the claim and in which case the compensation shall be paid by the insurer.

33-4-412. Obligations or assessments due — losses payable. (1) Obligations or assessments of members for losses and expenses become due and payable at such time as may be provided in the bylaws of the insurer, and the insurer shall use due diligence to collect each obligation or assessment.

(2) Any valid claim for an insured loss against an insurer transacting business on the assessment plan shall not be payable by the insurer until 30 days after such obligations of the members are due and payable.

History: En. Sec. 516, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4849.

33-4-413. Suit to collect obligations — liability of directors or officers. (1) An insurer may institute a suit against any member of such insurer if the member fails to pay when due any obligation or liability of the member given such insurer under the provisions of this chapter.

(2) The directors or officers of an insurer are liable in their individual capacity to the person sustaining an insured loss if they willfully refuse or neglect to perform the duties imposed upon them by the provisions of this section.

History: En. Sec. 517, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4850.

33-4-414. Proportionate payment of losses. If the aggregate whole amount of the members' obligations to an insurer transacting business on the assessment plan are insufficient to pay all valid claims for losses under the insurer's contracts of insurance after necessary expenses in any one year, then such claimants insured by the insurer shall receive their proportionate share of the funds realized from such obligations in full satisfaction of such losses.

History: En. Sec. 518, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4851.

33-4-415. Suit to collect for loss. If the insurer fails to pay any insured loss when due, an action may be maintained against it to collect for such loss, but subject to 33-4-414 as to assessment plan insurers.

Part 5
Insurance Operations

33-4-501. Insuring powers in general. (1) In respect to property insurance as defined in 33-1-210, a farm mutual insurer shall insure against loss or damage by fire or other casualty only:

(a) rural dwellings and buildings, including the usual contents, farm livestock, machinery, vehicles, growing crops, and other forms of farm property owned by a member of the insurer or by the member's spouse;

(b) residential dwellings, appurtenant structures, and personal property owned by a member of the insurer or by the member's spouse;

(c) dwellings and related buildings designed for occupancy by not over four families, together with the usual contents;

(d) rural schoolhouses and buildings used in connection with the schoolhouse, rural community houses, rural churches, or other rural public buildings.

(2) A farm mutual insurer may insure against the liability risks provided in 33-1-206(1)(b):

(a) only to the extent of the limit of risks provided in 33-4-502(3); and

(b) if contingent liability exists, provided that every policy contains a statement that each member of the farm mutual insurer is subject to a contingent liability under 33-3-411.

History: En. Sec. 470, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4803; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 28, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 334, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 281, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 228, L. 2001.

33-4-502. Limit of risk — retention of liability. (1) Except as provided in subsection (3), the maximum amount of insurance that an insurer shall retain on a single risk, after deduction of applicable reinsurance, may not exceed 10% of the admitted assets of the insurer or $50,000, whichever is the larger amount.

(2) For the purposes of this section, a "single risk" as to insurance against fire and hazards other than windstorm, earthquake, or other catastrophic perils includes all properties insured by the same insurer that are reasonably susceptible to loss or damage from the same fire or the same occurrence of another hazard insured against.

(3) A farm mutual insurer:

(a) that insures any portion of a liability risk shall maintain a surplus of at least $50,000;

(b) that retains any portion of a liability risk shall obtain reinsurance on that liability insurance with an insurer authorized to do business in this state, and the farm mutual insurer's maximum aggregate liability for incurred losses on liability coverage retained for any calendar year or contract year may not exceed the smaller of $200,000 or 20% of the farm mutual insurer's surplus as of December 31 of the preceding year; and

(c) may not retain liability risk or risk resulting from insuring growing crops against loss or damage from hail or other hazards greater than the proportional share of each limit of liability in the following schedule:

Surplus as of the Preceding December 31:	Proportional Share of Each Limit of Liability Retained:
$1,000,000 or greater	15%

Reinsurance — general provisions, Title 33, ch. 2, part 12.

33-4-504. Cash premium or assessment plans. (1) An insurer may transact business either on the cash premium plan altogether or on the assessment plan altogether, whichever plan is provided for in its articles of incorporation or bylaws.

(2) If transacting business on the cash premium plan, the insurer shall collect from each member before or at the time of effectuation of the member's insurance the premium in cash in such amount as the insurer deems will be adequate to cover losses and expenses incurred during the term of such insurance.

(3) If transacting business on the assessment plan, the insurer will depend for the payment of losses and expenses principally upon assessments from time to time levied upon members either before or after such losses or expenses have been incurred. This provision shall not be construed, however, as preventing any such insurer from collecting from each member such initial amount as it may deem proper prior to or at the time of the effectuation of the member's insurance; nor shall it be deemed to prohibit the acquisition, accumulation, and maintenance of surplus or unallocated funds.

(4) An insurer transacting business on the cash premium plan may nevertheless provide in its bylaws and policies for special assessment of its members in event the cash premium charged is found by it to be inadequate to pay in full losses and expenses currently incurred. The bylaws shall provide a specific limitation as to the amount which can be so assessed in any one policy year, such amount to be not less than one or more than six times the premium charged on each member's policy at the annual rate for a term of 1 year.

History: En. Sec. 473, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4806.

33-4-505. Certificate of authority required — issuance — continuation — fee. (1) A farm mutual insurer may not insure any risk in this state unless it then holds a subsisting certificate of authority issued to it by the commissioner.

(2) Upon application, the commissioner shall issue a certificate of authority to every insurer qualified under this chapter.

(3) Every certificate of authority continues in force as long as the farm mutual insurer is entitled under this chapter and until suspended, revoked, or otherwise terminated; subject, however, to continuance of the certificate by the farm mutual insurer each year by payment before May 15 of the continuation fee of $10 if a county mutual insurer or $25 if a state mutual insurer, to be deposited by the commissioner with the state treasurer to the credit of the state general fund.

(4) If the farm mutual insurer does not continue its certificate of authority in accordance with subsection (3), its certificate of authority expires at midnight on May 31 next following its failure to continue it in force. The commissioner shall promptly notify a farm mutual insurer that has not continued its certificate of authority of the impending expiration of its certificate of authority.

(5) A certificate of authority is subject to suspension or revocation by the commissioner for violation of or noncompliance with any provision of this chapter or referred to in this chapter.

(6) The commissioner may reinstate a certificate of authority that a farm mutual insurer has inadvertently permitted to expire, after the farm mutual insurer has fully cured all failures that resulted in the expiration and upon payment by the farm mutual insurer of the current continuation fee as provided in subsection (3). If a certificate is not reinstated, the commissioner may grant a farm mutual insurer another certificate of authority only after the farm mutual insurer files an application for a certificate of authority and meets all other requirements for an original certificate of authority in this state.

(7) The commissioner may amend a certificate of authority at any time to accord with changes in the farm mutual insurer's charter of insuring powers.

33-4-506. Members — minimum membership. (1) No person may become a member of a farm mutual insurer except by insuring therein property owned by him so insurable under this chapter.

(2) The membership of such an insurer shall consist of the persons lawfully insuring therein.

(3) The total membership of the insurer shall at all times be not less than the number of persons required by 33-4-201 to incorporate such an insurer.

History: En. Sec. 487, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4820.

33-4-507. Withdrawal of member — cancellation by insurer. (1) Any member of an insurer may withdraw therefrom by surrendering his policy to the insurer for cancellation and paying all obligations then owing by him to the insurer.

(2) The insurer has power to cancel the policy of any member for any cause deemed adequate by the insurer and upon not less than 10 days' written notice in advance of cancellation delivered to the member or mailed to his address last of record with the insurer.

History: En. Sec. 493, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4826.

33-4-508. Application for insurance. All persons desiring insurance shall make written application therefor to the insurer. If the insurer is transacting business on the assessment plan, the applicant shall at the time of application give his obligation to the insurer for the payment of losses and expenses as provided in the insurer's bylaws and make such advance payment in cash as insurer may require.

History: En. Sec. 510, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4843.

33-4-509. Application and policy forms filed with commissioner. All forms of application for insurance and of policies proposed to be used by an insurer shall be filed with the commissioner at least 30 days in advance of any such use. The commissioner shall disapprove any such form found by him to be unlawful, illegible, or misleading. An insurer shall not use any such form after it has received the commissioner's notice of disapproval setting forth the reasons therefor.

33-4-510. Rates — filing — discrimination. (1) A farm mutual insurer is not required to file any of its insurance rates with the commissioner. No such rate shall be unfairly discriminatory as between subjects of insurance covered for like perils under like policies and having substantially the same insuring, exposure, and underwriting characteristics.

(2) Notwithstanding any provision of subsection (1) or chapter 18, part 2, of this title, a farm mutual insurer transacting insurance under this chapter may refuse to renew a casualty or liability policy upon nonpayment of dues to the farm mutual insurer if payment of dues is a condition for obtaining or continuing such insurance.

History: En. Sec. 512, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4845; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 319, L. 1981.

33-4-511. Insurance of schools, community houses, and churches. (1) A contract of insurance effected upon the property of any school district, rural community house, rural church, or rural public building pursuant to 33-4-501 does not constitute the school district or the owners of the community house, church, or public building a member of the insurer.

(2) A contract of insurance effected upon any rural school building, rural community house, rural church, or other rural public building referred to in 33-4-501(1)(d) is not invalid because the directors or any director or officer of the insurer at the time of effecting the insurance coverage was a trustee, director, insurance producer, custodian, or manager or in any way in control, supervision, or management of any or all of the property insured.

Part 1
General Provisions

33-5-101. Scope of chapter — existing insurers. (1) All authorized reciprocal insurers shall be governed by those sections of this chapter not expressly made applicable to domestic reciprocals.

(2) Existing authorized reciprocal insurers shall after January 1, 1961, comply with the provisions of this chapter and shall make such amendments to their subscribers' agreement, power of attorney, policies, and other documents and accounts and perform such other acts as may be required for such compliance.

History: En. Sec. 540, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5003.

33-5-102. Definitions. (1) "Reciprocal insurance" is that resulting from an interexchange among persons, known as "subscribers", of reciprocal agreements of indemnity, the interexchange being effectuated through an attorney-in-fact common to all such persons.

(2) A "reciprocal insurer" means an unincorporated aggregation of subscribers operating individually and collectively through an attorney-in-fact to provide reciprocal insurance among themselves.

History: En. Secs. 538, 539, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5001, 40-5002.

Cross-References

33-5-103. Name — suits. A reciprocal insurer shall:

(1) have and use a business name. The name shall include the word "reciprocal", "interinsurer", "interinsurance", "exchange", "underwriters", or "underwriting".

(2) sue and be sued in its own name.

History: En. Sec. 542, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5005.

33-5-104. Attorney — not doing business. (1) "Attorney", as used in this chapter, refers to the attorney-in-fact of a reciprocal insurer. The attorney may be an individual, firm, or corporation.

(2) The attorney of a foreign or alien reciprocal insurer, which insurer is duly authorized to transact insurance in this state, shall not, by virtue of discharge of its duties as such attorney with respect to the insurer's transactions in this state, be thereby deemed to be doing business in this state within the meaning of any laws of this state applying to foreign firms or corporations.

History: En. Sec. 543, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5006.

Part 2
Formation

33-5-201. Organization of reciprocal insurer. (1) (a) Twenty-five or more persons domiciled in this state may organize a domestic reciprocal insurer and apply to the commissioner for a certificate of authority to transact insurance.

(b) Eight or more employers with a total of more than 500 employees may organize a domestic reciprocal insurer and apply to the commissioner for a certificate of authority to transact insurance for the purpose of providing workers' compensation coverage for their employees.

(2) The proposed attorney shall file with the commissioner when applying for a certificate of authority a declaration setting forth:

(a) the name of the insurer;

(b) the location of the insurer's principal office, which must be the same as that of the attorney and must be maintained within this state;

(c) the kinds of insurance proposed to be transacted, which in the case of a reciprocal insurer organized pursuant to subsection (1)(b) may only be workers' compensation coverage for employees;

(d) the names and addresses of the original subscribers;

(e) the designation and appointment of the proposed attorney and a copy of the power of attorney;

(f) the names and addresses of the officers and directors of the attorney, if a corporation, or its members, if a firm;

(g) the powers of the subscribers' advisory committee and the names and terms of office of the members of the committee;

(h) that all money paid to the reciprocal insurer must, after deducting any sum payable to the attorney, be held in the name of the insurer and for the purposes specified in the subscribers' agreement;

(i) a copy of the subscribers' agreement;

(j) a statement that each of the original subscribers has in good faith applied for insurance of a kind proposed to be transacted and that the insurer has received from each subscriber the full premium or premium deposit required for the policy applied for, for a term of not less than 6 months at an adequate rate filed with and approved by the commissioner;

(k) a statement of the financial condition of the insurer, a schedule of its assets, and a statement that the surplus as required by 33-5-401 is on hand; and

(l) a copy of each policy, endorsement, and application form proposed for issue or use.

(3) The declaration must be acknowledged by the attorney in the manner required for the acknowledgment of deeds.

History: En. Sec. 545, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5008; amd. Sec. 15, Ch. 198, L. 1979; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 500, L. 2003.

Cross-References

Certificate of authority, 33-5-502.

33-5-202. Merger or conversion. (1) A domestic reciprocal insurer, upon affirmative vote of not less than two-thirds of its subscribers who vote on such merger pursuant to due notice and the approval of the commissioner of the terms therefor, may merge with another reciprocal insurer or be converted to a stock or mutual insurer.

(2) Such a stock or mutual insurer shall be subject to the same capital or surplus requirements and shall have the same rights as a like domestic insurer transacting like kinds of insurance.

(3) The commissioner shall not approve any plan for such merger or conversion which is inequitable to subscribers or which, if for conversion to a stock insurer, does not give each subscriber preferential right to acquire stock of the proposed insurer proportionate to his interest in the reciprocal insurer as determined in accordance with 33-5-411 and a reasonable length of time within which to exercise such right.

History: En. Sec. 564, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5027.

Part 3
Management

33-5-301. Power of attorney. (1) The rights and powers of the attorney of a reciprocal insurer shall be as provided in the power of attorney given it by the subscribers.

(2) The power of attorney must set forth:

(a) the powers of the attorney;

(b) that the attorney is empowered to accept service of process on behalf of the insurer in actions against the insurer upon contracts exchanged;

(c) the general services to be performed by the attorney;

(d) the maximum amount to be deducted from advance premiums or deposits to be paid to the attorney and the general items of expense in addition to losses to be paid by the insurer; and

(e) except as to nonassessable policies, a provision for a contingent several liability of each subscriber in a specified amount, which amount shall be not less than 1 or more than 10 times the premium or premium deposit stated in the policy.

(3) The power of attorney may:

(a) provide for the right of substitution of the attorney and revocation of the power of attorney and rights thereunder;

(b) impose such restrictions upon the exercise of the power as are agreed upon by the subscribers;

(c) provide for the exercise of any right reserved to the subscribers directly or through their advisory committee; and

(d) contain other lawful provisions deemed advisable.

(4) The terms of any power of attorney or agreement collateral thereto shall be reasonable and equitable, and no such power or agreement shall be used or be effective as to a domestic reciprocal insurer until approved by the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 547, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5010.

Cross-References

33-5-302. Modifications. Modifications of the terms of the subscribers' agreement or of the power of attorney of a domestic reciprocal insurer shall be made jointly by the attorney and the subscribers' advisory committee. No such modification shall be effective retroactively or as to any insurance contract issued prior thereto.

History: En. Sec. 548, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5011.

33-5-303. Attorney's bond. (1) Concurrently with the filing of the declaration provided for in 33-5-201, the attorney of a domestic reciprocal insurer shall file with the commissioner a bond in favor of this state for the benefit of all persons damaged as a result of breach by the attorney of the conditions of his bond as set forth in subsection (2) hereof. The bond shall be executed by the attorney and by an authorized corporate surety and shall be subject to the commissioner's approval.

(2) The bond shall be in the penal sum of $25,000, aggregate in form, conditioned that the attorney will faithfully account for all moneys and other property of the insurer coming into his hands and that he will not withdraw or appropriate to his own use from the funds of the insurer any moneys or property to which he is not entitled under the power of attorney.

(3) The bond shall provide that it is not subject to cancellation unless 30 days' advance notice in writing of cancellation is given both the attorney and the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 549, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5012.

33-5-304. Action on bond. Action on the attorney's bond or to recover against any such deposit made in lieu thereof may be brought at any time by one or more subscribers suffering loss through a violation of its conditions or by a receiver or liquidator of the insurer. Amounts recovered on the bond shall be deposited in and become part of the insurer's funds. The total aggregate liability of the surety shall be limited to the amount of the penalty of such bond.

History: En. Sec. 550, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5013.

33-5-305. Subscribers' advisory committee — duties. (1) The advisory committee of a domestic reciprocal insurer exercising the subscribers' rights shall be selected under such rules as the subscribers adopt.

(2) Not less than two-thirds of such committee shall be subscribers other than the attorney or any person employed by, representing, or having a financial interest in the attorney.

(3) The committee shall:

(a) supervise the finances of the insurer;

(b) supervise the insurer's operations to such extent as to assure conformity with the subscribers' agreement and power of attorney;

(c) procure the audit of the accounts and records of the insurer and of the attorney at the expense of the insurer; and

(d) have such additional powers and functions as may be conferred by the subscribers' agreement.

History: En. Sec. 555, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5018.

Part 4
Finance

33-5-401. Surplus funds required. (1) A domestic reciprocal insurer subject to this part, if it has otherwise complied with the applicable provisions of this code, may be authorized to transact insurance if it has and maintains surplus funds as follows:

(a) to transact property insurance, surplus funds of not less than $500,000;

(b) to transact casualty insurance:

(i) including authority for workers' compensation insurance, surplus funds of not less than $750,000; or

(ii) excluding authority for workers' compensation insurance, surplus funds of not less than $500,000.

(2) In addition to surplus funds required to be maintained under subsection (1), the insurer must have, when first authorized, expendable surplus in the same amount as required of a like foreign reciprocal insurer under 33-2-110.

(3) A domestic reciprocal insurer may be authorized to transact additional kinds of insurance if it has otherwise complied with the provisions of this code for the additional kinds of insurance and maintains surplus funds in an amount equal to the minimum capital stock required of a stock insurer for authority to transact a like combination of kinds of insurance.

History: En. Sec. 544, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5007; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 307, L. 1979; amd. Sec. 37, Ch. 379, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 34, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

33-5-402. Contributions to insurer. The attorney or other parties may advance to a domestic reciprocal insurer upon reasonable terms funds that it may require from time to time in its operations. Sums advanced may not be treated as a liability of the insurer. Except upon liquidation of the insurer, during any calendar year, the total of withdrawals and repayments of the advanced sums may not exceed the lesser of the insurer's realized earned surplus or 10% of the sums advanced as of the previous December 31. A withdrawal or repayment may not be made without the advance approval of the commissioner. This section does not apply to bank loans or to loans for which security is given.

33-5-403. Financial condition — method of determining. In determining the financial condition of a reciprocal insurer the commissioner shall apply the following rules:

(1) He shall charge as liabilities the same reserves as are required of incorporated insurers issuing nonassessable policies on a reserve basis.

(2) The surplus deposits of subscribers shall be allowed as assets, except that any premium deposits delinquent for 90 days shall first be charged against such surplus deposit.

(3) The surplus deposits of subscribers shall not be charged as a liability.

(4) All premium deposits delinquent less than 90 days shall be allowed as assets.

(5) An assessment levied upon subscribers and not collected shall not be allowed as an asset.

(6) The contingent liability of subscribers shall not be allowed as an asset.

(7) The computation of reserves shall be based upon premium deposits other than membership fees and without any deduction for expenses and the compensation of the attorney.

History: En. Sec. 553, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5016.

33-5-404. Subscribers' liability. (1) The liability of each subscriber, other than as to a nonassessable policy, for the obligations of the reciprocal insurer shall be an individual, several, and proportionate liability, and not joint.

(2) Except as to a nonassessable policy each subscriber shall have a contingent assessment liability, in the amount provided for in the power of attorney or in the subscribers' agreement, for payment of actual losses and expenses incurred while his policy was in force. Such contingent liability may be at the rate of not less than 1 or more than 10 times the premium or premium deposit stated in the policy, and the maximum aggregate thereof shall be computed in the manner set forth in 33-5-406.

(3) Each assessable policy issued by the insurer shall contain a statement of the contingent liability.

History: En. Sec. 556, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5019.

33-5-405. Subscribers' liability on judgment. (1) No action shall lie against any subscriber upon any obligation claimed against the insurer until a final judgment has been obtained against the insurer and remains unsatisfied for 30 days.

(2) Any such judgment shall be binding upon each subscriber only in such proportion as his interests may appear and in amount not exceeding his contingent liability, if any.

History: En. Sec. 557, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5020.

33-5-406. Assessments. (1) Assessments may from time to time be levied upon subscribers of a domestic reciprocal insurer liable therefor under the terms of their policies by the attorney upon approval in advance by the subscribers' advisory committee and the commissioner or by the commissioner in liquidation of the insurer.

(2) Each subscriber's share of a deficiency for which an assessment is made, but not exceeding in any event his aggregate contingent liability as stated in accordance with 33-5-404, shall be computed by applying to the premium earned on the subscriber's policy or policies during the period to be covered by the assessment the ratio of the total deficiency to the total premiums earned during such period upon all policies subject to the assessment.

(3) In computing the earned premiums for the purposes of this section, the gross premium received by the insurer for the policy shall be used as a base, deducting therefrom solely charges not recurring upon the renewal or extension of the policy.

(4) No subscriber shall have an offset against any assessment for which he is liable on account of any claim for unearned premium or losses payable.

History: En. Sec. 558, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5021.

33-5-407. Time limit for assessments. Every subscriber of a domestic reciprocal insurer having contingent liability shall be liable for and shall pay his share of any assessment, as computed and limited in accordance with this chapter, if:

(1) while his policy is in force or within 1 year after its termination, he is notified by either the attorney or the commissioner of his intentions to levy such assessment; or

(2) an order to show cause why a receiver, conservator, rehabilitator, or liquidator of the insurer should not be appointed is issued while his policy is in force or within 1 year after its termination.

History: En. Sec. 559, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5022.

Cross-References

Supervision, rehabilitation, and liquidation of insurers, Title 33, ch. 2, part 13.

33-5-408. Aggregate liability. No one policy or subscriber as to such policy shall be assessed or charged with an aggregate of contingent liability as to obligations incurred by a domestic reciprocal insurer in any one calendar year in excess of the amount provided for in the power of attorney or in the subscribers' agreement, computed solely upon premium earned on such policy during that year.

History: En. Sec. 560, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5023.

33-5-409. Nonassessable policies. (1) If a reciprocal insurer has a surplus of assets over all liabilities at least equal to the minimum capital stock required of a domestic stock insurer authorized to transact like kinds of insurance, upon application of the attorney and as approved by the subscribers' advisory committee the commissioner shall issue his certificate authorizing the insurer to extinguish the contingent liability of subscribers under its policies then in force in this state and to omit provisions imposing contingent liability in all policies delivered or issued for delivery in this state for so long as all such surplus remains unimpaired.

(2) Upon impairment of such surplus, the commissioner shall forthwith revoke the certificate. Such revocation shall not render subject to contingent liability any policy then in force and for the remainder of the period for which the premium has theretofore been paid; but after such revocation no policy shall be issued or renewed without providing for contingent assessment liability of the subscriber.

(3) The commissioner shall not authorize a domestic reciprocal insurer so to extinguish the contingent liability of any of its subscribers or in any of its policies to be issued unless it qualifies to and does extinguish such liability of all its subscribers and in all such policies for all kinds of insurance transacted by it; except that if required by the laws of another state in which the insurer is transacting insurance as an authorized insurer, the insurer may issue policies providing for the contingent liability of such of its subscribers as may acquire such policies in such state and need not extinguish the contingent liability applicable to policies theretofore in force in such state.

33-5-410. Distribution of savings. A reciprocal insurer may from time to time return to its subscribers any unused premiums, savings, or credits accruing to their accounts. Any such distribution shall not unfairly discriminate between classes of risks or policies or between subscribers, but this shall not prevent retrospective rating, distribution on a retrospective plan, or distribution varying as to classes of subscribers based on the experience of such subscribers.

History: En. Sec. 562, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5025.

33-5-411. Subscribers' share in assets. Upon the liquidation of a domestic reciprocal insurer, its assets remaining after discharge of its indebtedness and policy obligations, the return of any contributions of the attorney or other persons to its surplus made as provided in 33-5-402, and the return of any unused premium, savings, or credits then standing on subscribers' accounts shall be distributed to its subscribers who were such within the 12 months prior to the last termination of its certificate of authority, according to such reasonable formula as the commissioner may approve.

History: En. Sec. 563, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5026.

33-5-412. Impaired reciprocals. (1) If the assets of a reciprocal insurer are at any time insufficient to discharge its liabilities, other than any liability on account of funds contributed by the attorney or others, and to maintain the required surplus, its attorney shall forthwith make up the deficiency or levy an assessment upon the subscribers for the amount needed to make up the deficiency, but subject to the limitation set forth in the power of attorney or policy.

(2) If the attorney fails to make up such deficiency or to make the assessment within 30 days after the commissioner orders him to do so, or if the deficiency is not fully made up within 60 days after the date the assessment was made, the insurer shall be deemed insolvent and shall be proceeded against as authorized by this code.

(3) If liquidation of such an insurer is ordered, an assessment shall be levied upon the subscriber for such an amount, subject to limits as provided by this chapter, as the commissioner determines to be necessary to discharge all liabilities of the insurer, exclusive of any funds contributed by the attorney or other persons but including the reasonable cost of the liquidation.

Insurance Operations

33-5-501. Insuring powers of reciprocals. (1) A reciprocal insurer may, upon qualifying therefor as provided for by this code, transact any kind or kinds of insurance defined by this code, other than life or title insurances.

(2) Such an insurer may purchase reinsurance and may grant reinsurance as to any kind of insurance it is authorized to transact.

33-5-503. Eligible subscribers — liability of representative. (1) Individuals, partnerships, and corporations of this state may make application, enter into agreement for, hold policies or contracts in or with, and be a subscriber of any domestic, foreign, or alien reciprocal insurer. Any corporation now or hereafter organized under the laws of this state shall, in addition to the rights, powers, and franchises specified in its articles of incorporation, have full power and authority as a subscriber to exchange insurance contracts through such reciprocal insurer. The right to exchange such contracts is hereby declared to be incidental to the purposes for which such corporations are organized and to be as fully granted as the rights and powers expressly conferred upon such corporations.

(2) Government or governmental agencies, state or political subdivisions thereof, boards, associations, estates, trustees, or fiduciaries are authorized to exchange nonassessable reciprocal interinsurance contracts with each other and with individuals, partnerships, and corporations to the same extent that individuals, partnerships, and corporations are herein authorized to exchange reciprocal interinsurance contracts.

(3) Any officer, representative, trustee, receiver, or legal representative of any such subscriber shall be recognized as acting for or on its behalf for the purpose of such contract but shall not be personally liable upon such contract by reason of acting in such representative capacity.

33-6-102. Definitions. (1) (a) Any corporation, association, or society, or by whatever name called, which issues any certificate, policy, membership agreement, or makes any promise or agreement with its members whereby, upon decease of a member, any money or other benefit, charity, aid, or relief is to be paid, provided, or rendered by such corporation, association, or society to his legal representatives or to the beneficiary designated by him, which money, benefit, charity, aid, or relief is derived from voluntary donations or from admission fees, dues, or assessments or any of them collected or to be collected from the members thereof or members of a class therein or interest or accretions thereon or accumulations thereof; and wherein the money or other benefit, charity, aid, or relief so realized is applied to or accumulated for the uses and purposes herein specified and/or the uses of such corporation, association, or society and/or the expenses of management and prosecution of its business, shall be deemed to be a "benevolent association" for the purposes of this chapter.

(b) The definition of benevolent association in subsection (1)(a) above is not applicable to:

(i) burial or death benefits, annuities, endowments, or any other benefit payments of any legal reserve life or disability insurer or of any labor union, railroad brotherhood, or lodge having as a primary business the improvement of working conditions;

(ii) any auxiliaries to any labor union, railroad brotherhood, or lodge referred to in subsection (1)(b)(i); or

(iii) the benevolent plans within fraternal orders if limited to members and if the plan is not the principal object for the formation or continuance of the fraternal order.

(2) A "member" or "member in good standing" is an individual who must contribute to a benevolent association upon notice of assessment.

(3) (a) "Membership contract" is any certificate, policy, membership agreement, by whatever name called, or any promise or agreement of a benevolent association with any or all of its members, whereby any money or other benefit, charity, aid, or relief is to be paid, provided, or rendered by such association upon the decease of a member to his legal representatives or to the beneficiary or beneficiaries designated by him.

(b) There shall be one contributing member for each membership contract, but a membership contract may cover more than one individual.

(4) "Officer" is any of the individuals having supervision and control of a benevolent association and engaging in the management and the prosecution of the business thereof, whether designated as officers, trustees, comptrollers, managers, or by whatever name called.

History: (1)En. Sec. 522, Ch. 286, L. 1959; amd. Sec. 20, Ch. 535, L. 1975; Sec. 40-4902, R.C.M. 1947; (2) thru (4)En. Secs. 523, 524, 525, Ch. 286, L. 1959; Secs. 40-4903, 40-4904, 40-4905, R.C.M. 1947; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4902, 40-4903, 40-4904, 40-4905.

33-6-103. New benevolent associations prohibited — foreign associations. (1) No benevolent association shall transact or be authorized to transact any business in this state unless it lawfully had authority to transact such business as such an association immediately prior to January 1, 1961.

(2) No new benevolent association shall hereafter be organized or formed in this state.

(3) No association formed or existing under the laws of any other state or jurisdiction shall be authorized to transact business in this state.

History: En. Sec. 526, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4906.

33-6-104. Amendments filed with commissioner. Each benevolent association shall promptly file with the commissioner a copy, certified to by its president and secretary, of each of the following:

(1) if incorporated, any amendment of articles of incorporation or of bylaws;

(2) if not incorporated, any amendment of articles of association, of agreement, or of rules or agreements with its members;

(3) any modification of its form of membership contracts.

History: En. Sec. 527, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4907.

Part 2
Management

33-6-201. Officers — number — bond. (1) Each benevolent association shall be in the charge of its officers and shall not have more than five officers.

(2) The treasurer and any other officer having charge of any funds of a benevolent association shall each be bonded in the amount of $1,000, executed to the state of Montana, joint and several, for the use and benefit of the members or beneficiaries of such association. Each such bond shall be on file in the principal office and address of the association, and a certified copy thereof must be filed with the commissioner.

Part 3
Finance

33-6-301. Receipts for payment to association. Every benevolent association shall issue a receipt or other evidence of payment to each person making a payment of any kind to the association.

History: En. Sec. 531, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4911.

33-6-302. Expenses — assessment for expenses — shown in annual statement. (1) The total expenses of any benevolent association during any calendar year shall not exceed the larger of the following:

(a) 20% of the total amount received during such year, whether as assessments, dues, donations, or by whatever name called, except fees collected for new memberships; or

(b) $15 per death loss incurred during such year.

(2) Such an association may, instead of providing for expenses as in subsection (1) above, assess each of its members for expenses at an amount not to exceed $3 per calendar year, except that such assessment shall not exceed $4 per year where a membership certificate includes within its protection a family group consisting of two or more persons. The proceeds of such assessments shall be placed in an expense fund out of which all of the expenses of the association for such year shall be paid. The association shall show the condition of such expense fund in its annual statement.

(3) The association shall state in its annual statement whether the expenses as to be shown in its next annual statement will be determined as in subsection (1) above or whether the members will be assessed for the same as in subsection (2) above. No association shall use both methods or a combination of such methods.

History: En. Sec. 533, Ch. 286, L. 1959; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 224, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4913.

33-6-303. Assessment for death benefit — notice — procedure. (1) Within 30 days after a benevolent association receives a completed proof of claim for death of a member, it must mail to each of its members in good standing an assessment notice stating:

(a) the name, date, and place of death of the deceased member;

(b) the number of the proof of death claim assigned thereto by the association;

(c) the amount of the assessment and the expiration date of the assessment payment; and

(d) the number of members in good standing to whom such notices are being sent, as computed from the last-completed assessment.

(2) At the time of mailing the assessment notice required by (1) above, the association shall send a duplicate thereof to the commissioner for filing, together with information as to the mailing of the notice to members.

History: En. Sec. 535, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4915.

33-6-304. Annual statement. (1) In addition to compliance with 33-2-701, the annual statement of a benevolent association shall exhibit the following items and facts:

(a) the name and business address of the association;

(b) the names and addresses of the officers of the association;

(c) the number of membership contracts in force at the commencement of the year and the number of memberships in good standing at the close of the year for which the statement is made. This provision is also applicable to each subgroup or class, if any, of the association.

(d) the number of death losses claimed; the number and total amount of death losses paid; the number of death claims compromised, denied, or resisted, and reasons therefor;

(e) the number of assessments in the association and in each subgroup or class, if any; the amount collected in each such assessment; income to the benevolent association from all other sources; and all other fees, assessments, donations, of any kind or nature, except new membership fees from new members;

(f) the expenses actually incurred during the year; debts unpaid at the commencement of the year; debts and obligations of any kind (not including death losses actually paid) incurred during the year; debts unpaid at the close of the year; a breakdown of expenses to show the amount paid in salaries or commissions, office expense, and other expenses, in those cases where members of the benevolent association are assessed for operating expenses of such association;

(g) whether the association has complied with all of the provisions of 33-6-302 and 33-6-405;

(h) the information required by 33-6-302.

(2) Two officers of the association shall attest under oath to the truth of the facts contained in the annual statement. At least one of such officers must have charge of making up the statement.

History: En. Sec. 536, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4916; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 337, L. 1987.

Part 4
Insurance Operations

33-6-401. Continuous certificate of authority — fee — evidence. (1) A benevolent association may not insure a risk in this state unless it then holds a subsisting certificate of authority issued to it by the commissioner.

(2) A benevolent association's certificate of authority continues in force as long as the benevolent association is entitled to it under this chapter and until suspended, revoked, or otherwise terminated; subject, however, to continuance of the certificate by the benevolent association each year by payment before May 15 of the continuation fee of $25, to be deposited by the commissioner with the state treasurer to the credit of the state general fund.

(3) If a benevolent association does not continue its certificate of authority in accordance with subsection (2), its certificate of authority expires at midnight on May 31 next following its failure to continue it in force. The commissioner shall promptly notify a benevolent association that has not continued its certificate of authority of the impending expiration of its certificate of authority.

(4) The commissioner may in his discretion reinstate a certificate of authority that a benevolent association has inadvertently permitted to expire, after the benevolent association has fully cured all failures that resulted in the expiration and upon payment by the benevolent association of a $25 fee for reinstatement in addition to the current continuation fee as provided in subsection (2). If a certificate is not reinstated, the commissioner may grant a benevolent association another certificate of authority only after the benevolent association files an application for a certificate of authority and meets all other requirements for an original certificate of authority in this state.

(5) The commissioner may amend a certificate of authority at any time to accord with changes in the benevolent association's charter of insuring powers.

(6) A duly certified copy or duplicate of such license shall be prima facie evidence that the licensee is a benevolent association within the meaning of this chapter.

History: En. 40-4918 by Sec. 2, Ch. 297, L. 1971; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4918(part); amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 327, L. 1987.

33-6-402. Insurance producers — license. Insurance producers for any benevolent association may be appointed in accordance with chapter 17 and shall be subject to the applicable provisions of such chapter, except as provided in 33-6-403. No such insurance producer may be appointed if there are less than three officers in charge of the association.

History: En. Sec. 529, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4909; amd. Sec. 146, Ch. 575, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

33-6-403. Officers as insurance producers. Not exceeding five officers of any benevolent association may act for the association without obtaining a license as an insurance producer. Such officers shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the commissioner in the same manner as though they were licensed as insurance producers under chapter 17.

History: En. Sec. 530, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4910; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

33-6-404. Minimum membership. Each benevolent association shall have at all times not less than 200 members in good standing.

History: En. Sec. 532, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4912.

33-6-405. Payment of death claims. (1) Each completed proof of claim for death of a member of a benevolent association shall be assigned a number by the association in consecutive order of receipt for each calendar year.

(2) Payment in full on final settlement of death benefits shall be made by the association to the legal heir or heirs or the designated beneficiary or beneficiaries within 20 days after the expiration date stated in the association's notice referred to in 33-6-303(1)(c).

History: En. Sec. 534, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4914.

33-7-105. Fraternal benefit societies. Any incorporated or unincorporated society, order, or supreme lodge, without capital stock, including a society exempted under the provisions of 33-7-126(1)(b), that is conducted solely for the benefit of its members and their beneficiaries and not for profit, that is operated on a lodge system with ritualistic forms of work, that has a representative form of government, and that provides benefits in accordance with this chapter, is a fraternal benefit society.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-106. Lodge system. (1) A society is operating on the lodge system if it has a supreme governing body and subordinate lodges into which members are elected, initiated, or admitted in accordance with its laws, rules, and ritual. Subordinate lodges must be required by the laws of the society to hold regular meetings at least once a month in furtherance of the purposes of the society.

(2) A society may organize and operate lodges for children under the minimum age for adult membership. Membership and initiation in local lodges may not be required of children, and children may not have a voice or vote in the management of a society.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-107. Representative form of government. (1) A society has a representative form of government if it has a supreme governing body organized as provided in subsection (2) or (3).

(2) (a) The supreme governing body may be an assembly composed of delegates who meet the criteria of subsection (5) and who are elected either by the members directly or at intermediate assemblies or conventions of members or their representatives, together with other delegates as may be prescribed in the society's laws. A society may provide for election of delegates by mail.

(b) The delegates elected must be a majority of delegates and may not have less than a majority of the votes and not less than the number of votes required to amend the society's laws. The assembly must be elected and shall meet at least once every 4 years and shall elect a board of directors to conduct the business of the society between meetings of the assembly.

(c) Vacancies on the board of directors may be filled in the manner prescribed by the society's laws.

(3) (a) (i) The supreme governing body may be:

(A) a board composed of persons who meet the criteria of subsection (5) and who are elected by the members, either directly or by their representatives in intermediate assemblies; and

(B) any other persons prescribed in the society's laws.

(ii) A society may provide for election of the board by mail.

(b) The term of a board member may not exceed 4 years. Vacancies on the board may be filled in the manner prescribed in the society's laws.

(c) The persons elected to the board must be a majority of the board and may not be less than the number of votes required to amend the society's laws. A person filling an unexpired term of an elected board member is considered to be an elected board member.

(d) The board shall meet at least quarterly to conduct the business of the society.

(4) The officers of the society must be elected either by the assembly or by the board of directors, either of which constitutes the supreme governing body.

(5) Only benefit members are eligible for election to the assembly, the board of directors, or an intermediate assembly.

(6) Each voting member shall have one vote. A vote may not be cast by proxy.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-108. Definitions. As used in this chapter, unless the context requires otherwise, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Benefit contract" means the agreement for provision of authorized benefits described in 33-7-520.

(2) "Benefit member" means an adult member who is designated by the laws or rules of the society to be a benefit member under a benefit contract.

(3) "Certificate" means the document issued as written evidence of the benefit contract.

(4) "Laws" means the society's articles of incorporation, charter, constitution, and bylaws.

(5) "Lodge" means subordinate member units of the society, known as camps, courts, councils, or branches or by any other designation.

(6) "Premiums" means premiums, rates, dues, or other required contributions that are payable under the certificate.

(7) "Rules" means all rules, regulations, or resolutions that are adopted by the supreme governing body or board of directors and that are intended to have general application to the members of the society.

(8) "Society" means a fraternal benefit society described in 33-7-105. The term includes an order or supreme lodge.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-109. Purposes and powers. (1) A society shall operate for the benefit of members and their beneficiaries by:

(a) providing benefits as provided in 33-7-520; and

(b) providing for one or more social, intellectual, educational, charitable, benevolent, moral, fraternal, patriotic, or religious purposes, which may be extended to others. The purposes may be carried out directly by the society or indirectly through subsidiary corporations or affiliated organizations.

(2) A society may adopt laws and rules for the government of the society, the admission of its members, and the management of its affairs. It may amend laws and rules and exercise powers necessary and incidental to the objectives and purposes of the society.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-110. Qualification for membership. (1) A society shall specify in its laws or rules:

(a) eligibility standards for each class of membership. However, if benefits are provided on the lives of children, the minimum age for adult membership must be set at not less than 15 years of age and not more than 21 years of age.

(b) the process for admission to each membership class; and

(c) the rights and privileges of each membership class. However, only benefit members may vote on the management of the insurance affairs of the society.

(2) A society may admit social members who have no voice or vote in the management of the insurance affairs of the society.

(3) Membership rights in the society are personal to the member and are not assignable.

33-7-117. Scope — provisions applicable. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), societies are governed by this chapter and are exempt from all other provisions of the insurance laws of this state, not only in governmental relations with the state but for every other purpose. The provisions of a law enacted after January 1, 1992, do not apply to fraternal benefit societies unless expressly made applicable by the provisions of the law.

(2) In addition to the provisions of this chapter, the provisions of chapter 1, parts 1 through 4 and 7; 33-2-104; 33-2-107; 33-2-112; chapter 2, part 13; 33-3-308; 33-3-701 through 33-3-704; 33-15-502; and chapters 17, 18, 20, and 22 apply to fraternal benefit societies to the extent applicable and to the extent not in conflict with the provisions of this chapter and the reasonable implications of this chapter.

33-7-118. Reports — fee. Reports must be filed in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(1) On or before March 1 of each year, unless for cause shown the time has been extended by the commissioner of insurance, a society that transacts business in this state shall file with the commissioner of insurance a statement of its financial condition, transactions, and affairs for the preceding calendar year and pay a filing fee of $25. The statement must be in the general form and context approved by the national association of insurance commissioners for fraternal benefit societies and as supplemented by additional information required by the commissioner.

(2) As part of the annual statement, each society shall, on or before March 1, file with the commissioner a valuation of its certificates in force on the preceding December 31. The commissioner may, for cause shown, extend for not more than 2 calendar months the time for filing the valuation. The valuation must be done in accordance with the standards specified in 33-7-411. The valuation and underlying data must be certified by a qualified actuary or, at the expense of the society, verified by the actuary of the department of insurance of the state of domicile of the society.

(3) A society that fails to file the annual statement in the form and within the time provided by this section shall forfeit $100 for each day during which the failure continues, and, upon notice by the commissioner to that effect, its authority to do business in this state ceases while the default continues.

History: En. Sec. 26, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-119. Examination of societies. (1) The commissioner of insurance or any person he may appoint may examine any domestic, foreign, or alien society transacting or applying for admission to transact business in this state in the same manner as authorized for examination of domestic, foreign, or alien insurers. Requirements of notice and an opportunity to respond before findings are made public, as provided in the laws regulating insurers, are applicable to the examination of societies.

(2) The expense of each examination and of each valuation, including compensation and actual expenses of examiners, must be paid by the society examined or whose certificates are valued, upon statements furnished by the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 28, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-120. Injunction — liquidation — receivership of domestic society. (1) The commissioner of insurance shall notify a domestic society of a deficiency or deficiencies and state in writing the reasons for his dissatisfaction, whenever the commissioner, upon investigation, finds that the society:

(a) has exceeded its powers;

(b) has failed to comply with any provision of this chapter;

(c) is not fulfilling its contracts in good faith;

(d) has a membership of less than 400 after an existence of 1 year or more; or

(e) is conducting business fraudulently or in a manner hazardous to its members, creditors, the public, or the business.

(2) Whenever a deficiency or deficiencies are found, the commissioner shall issue to the society a written notice that requires the deficiency or deficiencies to be corrected. The society shall within 30 days comply with the commissioner's request for correction. If the society fails to comply, the commissioner shall notify the society of the noncompliance and require the society to show cause by a stated date why it should not be enjoined from transacting business until the violation complained of is corrected or why an action in quo warranto should not be commenced against the society.

(3) If the society does not present sufficient reasons why it should not be enjoined from transacting business or why the quo warranto action should not be commenced, the commissioner may present the facts relating to his determination to the attorney general who shall, if he finds that the circumstances warrant, commence an action to enjoin the society from transacting business or an action in quo warranto.

(4) The court shall notify the officers of the society of a hearing. If after a hearing it appears that the society should be enjoined or liquidated or that a receiver should be appointed, the court shall enter the necessary order. A society enjoined from transacting business may not do business until:

(a) the commissioner finds that the violation complained of has been corrected;

(b) the costs of the action have been paid by the society if the court finds that the society was in default as charged;

(c) the court has dissolved its injunction; and

(d) the commissioner has reinstated the certificate of authority.

(5) If the court orders the society liquidated, it is enjoined from transacting any further business. The receiver of the society shall proceed at once to take possession of the books, papers, money, and other assets of the society and, under the direction of the court, proceed to close the affairs of the society and distribute its funds to those entitled to the funds.

(6) An action under this section may not be recognized in any court of this state unless brought by the attorney general upon request of the commissioner. The court shall appoint the commissioner as the receiver for a domestic society.

(7) The provisions of this section relating to hearing by the commissioner, action by the attorney general at the request of the commissioner, hearing by the court, injunction, and receivership apply to a society that voluntarily decides to discontinue business.

History: En. Sec. 30, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-121. Suspension, revocation, or refusal of license of foreign or alien society. (1) The commissioner of insurance shall notify a foreign or alien society of a deficiency or deficiencies and state in writing the reasons for his dissatisfaction, whenever the commissioner, upon investigation, finds that the society transacting or applying to transact business in this state:

(a) has exceeded its powers;

(b) has failed to comply with any of the provisions of this chapter;

(c) is not fulfilling its contracts in good faith; or

(d) is conducting its business fraudulently or in a manner hazardous to its members, creditors, or the public.

(2) Whenever a deficiency or deficiencies are found, the commissioner shall issue to the society a written notice that requires the deficiency or deficiencies to be corrected. The society shall within 30 days comply with the commissioner's request for correction. If the society fails to comply, the commissioner shall notify the society of the noncompliance and require the society to show cause by a stated date why its authority to do business in this state should not be suspended, revoked, or refused.

(3) If the society does not present sufficient reason why its authority to do business in this state should not be suspended, revoked, or refused, the commissioner may:

(a) suspend or refuse the authority of the society to do business in this state until satisfactory evidence is furnished to the commissioner that the suspension or refusal should be withdrawn; or

(b) revoke the authority of the society to do business in this state.

(4) Nothing in this section may be construed as preventing any society from continuing in good faith all contracts made in this state during the time the society was legally authorized to transact business in this state.

History: En. Sec. 31, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-122. Injunction. An application or petition for injunction against any domestic, foreign, or alien society or lodge of a society may not be recognized in any court of this state unless made by the attorney general upon request of the commissioner of insurance.

History: En. Sec. 32, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

Cross-References

33-7-123. Commissioner as agent — service of process — procedure — fee. (1) A society authorized to do business in this state shall appoint in writing the commissioner of insurance as its agent upon whom all lawful process in any action or proceeding against it must be served. The society shall agree in writing that any lawful process against it that is served on the commissioner is of the same legal force and validity as if it had been served upon the society. The appointment continues in force as long as any liability remains outstanding in this state. Copies of the appointment, certified by the commissioner, may be admitted in evidence.

(2) Service may be made only upon the commissioner or, if absent, upon the person in charge of the commissioner's office. Service must be made in duplicate and constitutes service upon the society. When legal process against a society is served upon the commissioner, the commissioner shall forward one of the duplicate copies by certified mail to the secretary or corresponding officer of the society. The service may not require a society to file its answer, pleading, or defense in less than 30 days from the date of mailing the copy of the service to the society.

(3) Legal process may not be served upon a society except in the manner provided in this section.

(4) At the time of serving any process upon the commissioner, the plaintiff or complainant in the action shall pay to the commissioner a fee of $2.

History: En. Sec. 35, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-124. Review. All decisions and findings of the commissioner of insurance made under the provisions of this chapter are subject to review by the court in accordance with the provisions of 33-1-711.

History: En. Sec. 36, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-125. Penalties. (1) A person who makes a false or fraudulent statement in or relating to an application for membership or for the purpose of obtaining money from a benefit in any society is guilty of a misdemeanor.

(2) A person who solicits membership for, or in any manner assists in procuring membership in, any society not authorized to transact business in this state is subject to an administrative fine, imposed by the commissioner of insurance, of not less than $25 or more than $500 for each violation.

(3) A person convicted of a willful violation of, or neglect or refusal to comply with, any provision of this chapter for which a penalty is not otherwise prescribed shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each violation and not more than $10,000 for all related violations.

History: En. Sec. 37, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-126. Exemption of certain societies. (1) Nothing in this chapter may be construed to affect or apply to:

(a) grand or subordinate lodges of societies, orders, or associations doing business in this state on July 1, 1992, that provide benefits exclusively through local or subordinate lodges;

(b) (i) orders, societies, or associations that admit to membership only persons engaged in one or more crafts or hazardous occupations or in the same or similar lines of business and that insure only their own members and their families; and

(ii) the ladies' societies or ladies' auxiliaries to such orders, societies, or associations;

(c) domestic societies that limit their membership to employees of a particular city or town, designated firm, business house, or corporation and that provide for a death benefit of not more than $400 or disability benefits of not more than $350 to any person in any 1 year, or both; or

(d) domestic societies or associations of a purely religious, charitable, or benevolent description, which provide for a death benefit of not more than $400 or for disability benefits of not more than $350 to a person in any 1 year, or both.

(2) A society or association described in subsection (1)(c) or (1)(d) that provides for death or disability benefits for which benefit certificates are issued and a society or association included in subsection (1)(d) that has more than 1,000 members are not exempt from the provisions of this chapter.

(3) A society that is exempt under this section from the requirements of this chapter, except a society described in subsection (1)(b), may not give or allow or promise to give or allow to any person any compensation for procuring new members.

(4) A society that provides for benefits in case of death or disability resulting solely from accident and that does not obligate itself to pay natural death or sick benefits has all of the privileges and is subject to all the applicable provisions and regulations of this chapter except the provisions of this chapter that relate to medical examination, valuations of benefit certificates, and incontestability.

(5) The commissioner may require from a society or association, by examination or otherwise, any information that will enable the commissioner to determine whether the society or association is exempt from the provisions of this chapter.

(6) A society that is exempt under the provisions of this section is also exempt from all other provisions of the insurance laws of this state.

33-7-208. Organization. A domestic society organized on or after January 1, 1992, must be formed as follows:

(1) Ten or more citizens of the United States, a majority of whom are residents of this state, who desire to form a fraternal benefit society, may make, sign, and acknowledge before a notary public, an application for articles of incorporation that states:

(a) the proposed corporate name of the society, which may not so closely resemble the name of any society or insurance company as to be misleading or confusing;

(b) the purposes for which it is being formed and the mode in which its corporate powers are to be exercised. The purposes may not include more liberal powers than are granted by this chapter.

(c) the names and residences of the incorporators and the names, residences, and official titles of all the officers, trustees, directors, or other persons who are to have and exercise the general control of the management of the affairs and funds of the society for the first year or until the ensuing election at which all officers are elected by the supreme governing body. The election must be held not later than 1 year from the date of issuance of the permanent certificate of authority.

(2) The application for articles of incorporation, certified copies of the society's bylaws and rules, copies of all proposed forms of certificates, applications for certificates, and circulars to be issued by the society, and a bond conditioned upon the return to applicants of the advanced payments if the organization is not completed within 1 year must be filed with the commissioner, who may require further information considered necessary. The bond, with sureties approved by the commissioner, must be in an amount, not less than $300,000 or more than $1,500,000, required by the commissioner. All documents filed must be in English. If the purposes of the society conform to the requirements of this chapter and all provisions of law have been complied with, the commissioner shall certify, retain, and file the articles of incorporation and furnish to the incorporators a preliminary certificate of authority authorizing the society to solicit members.

(3) A preliminary certificate of authority granted under the provisions of this section is not valid after 1 year from its date of issuance or after an extended period, not exceeding 1 year, as may be authorized by the commissioner upon good cause shown, unless the 500 applicants required under subsection (4) have been secured and the organization has been completed. The charter and all other proceedings under the charter are void 1 year from the date of issuance of the preliminary certificate of authority or at the expiration of the extended period, unless the society has completed its organization and received a certificate of authority to do business.

(4) Upon receipt of a preliminary certificate of authority from the commissioner, the society may solicit members for the purpose of completing its organization, shall collect from each applicant the amount of not less than one regular monthly premium in accordance with its table of rates, and shall issue to each applicant a receipt for the amount collected. A society may not incur a liability other than for the return of an advance premium, issue any certificate, or pay, allow, offer, or promise to pay or allow any benefit to a person until:

(a) actual applications for benefits have been secured, aggregating at least $500,000, on not less than 500 applicants, and any necessary evidence of insurability has been furnished to and approved by the society;

(b) at least 10 subordinate lodges have been established into which the 500 applicants have been admitted;

(c) there has been submitted to the commissioner, under oath of the president, secretary, or corresponding officer of the society, a list of the applicants, giving their names, addresses, date each was admitted, name and number of the subordinate lodge of which each applicant is a member, amount of benefits to be granted, and premiums for benefits; and

(d) it has been shown to the commissioner, by sworn statement of the treasurer or the corresponding officer of the society, that at least 500 applicants have each paid in cash at least one regular monthly premium. The aggregate premiums must amount to at least $150,000. The advance premiums must be held in trust during the period of organization. If the society has not qualified for a certificate of authority within 1 year, unless extended as provided in subsection (3), the premiums must be returned to the applicants.

(5) The commissioner may in his discretion require and examine additional information he considers advisable. Upon presentation of satisfactory evidence that the society has complied with all the provisions of law, the commissioner shall issue a certificate of authority to the society, authorizing it to transact business pursuant to the provisions of this chapter. The certificate of authority is prima facie evidence of the existence of the society at the date of the certificate. The commissioner shall record the certificate of authority.

(6) A society authorized to transact business in this state on January 1, 1992, is not required to reincorporate.

(7) An unincorporated or voluntary association may not transact business in this state as a society. Every voluntary association incorporated as provided in section 629(2), Chapter 286, Laws of 1959, may incur the obligations and enjoy the benefits of a society as if it were originally incorporated, and the corporation is considered a continuation of the original voluntary association. The officers must be elected and serve as provided in its articles of incorporation. Incorporation of a voluntary association does not affect existing suits, claims, or contracts.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-209. Amendments to laws. (1) A domestic society may amend its laws in accordance with the provisions of its laws by action of its supreme governing body at any regular or special meeting or, if its laws provide, by referendum. The referendum may be held in accordance with the provisions of its laws by a vote of the voting members of the society, by a vote of delegates or representatives of voting members, or by a vote of local lodges. A society may provide for voting by mail. An amendment submitted by referendum may not be adopted unless, within 6 months from the date of submission, a majority of the members voting have signified their consent to the amendment.

(2) An amendment to the laws of a domestic society does not take effect unless approved by the commissioner of insurance, who shall approve the amendment if he finds that it has been adopted and is not inconsistent with any requirement of the laws of this state or with the character, objectives, and purposes of the society. Unless the commissioner disapproves an amendment within 60 days after its filing, the amendment is considered approved. The approval or disapproval of the commissioner must be in writing and mailed to the secretary or corresponding officer of the society at its principal office. If the commissioner disapproves an amendment, the reasons for the disapproval must be stated in the written notice.

(3) Within 90 days of approval by the commissioner, all amendments or a synopsis of the amendments must be furnished to all members of the society, either by mail or by publication in full in the official publication of the society.

(4) A foreign or alien society authorized to do business in this state shall file with the commissioner a certified copy of all amendments of or additions to its laws within 90 days after their enactment.

(5) Printed copies of the laws, as amended, that are certified by the secretary or a corresponding officer of the society are prima facie evidence of their legal adoption.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-210. Institutions. (1) A society may create, maintain, and operate, or may establish organizations to operate, not-for-profit institutions to further the purposes permitted by 33-7-109(1)(b). The institutions may furnish services free or at a reasonable charge. Any real or personal property owned, held, or leased by the society for these purposes must be reported in every annual statement but may not be allowed as an admitted asset of the society.

(2) A society may not own or operate funeral homes or undertaking establishments.

History: En. Sec. 668, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5355.

33-7-214. Reinsurance. (1) A domestic society may, by a reinsurance agreement, cede any individual risk or risks in whole or in part to an insurer, other than another fraternal benefit society, having the power to make the reinsurance and authorized to do business in this state or, if not authorized to do business in this state, an insurer that is approved by the commissioner of insurance. A society may not reinsure substantially all of its insurance in force without the written permission of the commissioner. A society may take credit for the reserves on the ceded risks to the extent reinsured. A credit may not be allowed as an admitted asset or as a deduction from liability to a ceding society for reinsurance made, ceded, renewed, or otherwise becoming effective on or after July 1, 1992, unless the reinsurance is payable by the assuming insurer on the basis of the liability of the ceding society under the contract or contracts reinsured without diminution because of the insolvency of the ceding society.

(2) Notwithstanding the limitation in subsection (1), a society may reinsure the risks of another society in a consolidation or merger approved by the commissioner under 33-7-215.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-215. Consolidations and mergers. (1) A domestic society may consolidate or merge with any other society by complying with the provisions of this section. The consolidated or merged society shall file with the commissioner of insurance:

(a) a certified copy of the written contract containing in full the terms and conditions of the consolidation or merger;

(b) a sworn statement by the president and secretary or corresponding officers of each society showing the financial condition of each society on a date fixed by the commissioner, but not earlier than December 31 preceding the date of the contract;

(c) a certificate of the officers of each society, verified by their respective oaths, that the consolidation or merger has been approved by a two-thirds vote of the supreme governing body of each society, held at a regular or special meeting of each body or, if the society's laws permit, by mail; and

(d) evidence that at least 60 days prior to the action of the supreme governing body of each society, the text of the contract was furnished to all members of each society, either by mail or by publication in full in the official publication of each society.

(2) If the commissioner finds that the contract containing the terms and conditions of the proposed consolidation or merger is in conformity with this section, that the financial statements are correct, and that the consolidation or merger is just and equitable to the members of each society, the commissioner shall approve the contract and issue a certificate approving the contract.

(3) Upon approval, the contract is in full force and effect unless a society that is a party to the contract is incorporated under the laws of any other state, district, territory, province, or country. In that event, the consolidation or merger is not effective until it is approved as provided by the laws of that state, district, territory, province, or country and a certificate of approval has been filed with the commissioner of insurance of this state.

(4) When the consolidation or merger becomes effective, all the rights, franchises, and interests of the consolidated or merged societies in and to every type of property, real, personal, or mixed, and things in action pertaining to the property are vested in the society resulting from or remaining after the consolidation or merger without any other instrument, except that conveyances of real property may be evidenced by deeds. The title to any real property or interest in real property vested under the laws of this state in any of the societies consolidated or merged may not revert or be impaired by reason of the consolidation or merger, but the title vests in the society resulting from or remaining after the consolidation or merger.

(5) The affidavit of any officer of the society or of anyone authorized by the society to mail a notice or document, stating that the notice or document has been addressed and mailed, is prima facie evidence that the notice or document has been furnished to the addressees.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-216. Conversion of a society into a mutual life insurance company. A domestic society may be converted and licensed as a mutual life insurance company by compliance with all the applicable requirements of Title 33 if the plan of conversion has been approved by the commissioner of insurance. The board of directors shall prepare a written plan of conversion that sets forth in full the terms and conditions of conversion. An affirmative vote of two-thirds of all members of the supreme governing body at a regular or special meeting is necessary for the approval of the plan. A conversion may not take effect unless approved by the commissioner, who may approve the conversion if he finds that the proposed change is in conformity with the requirements of law and not prejudicial to the certificate holders of the society.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-217. Annual certificate — fees. (1) A society may not insure a risk in this state unless it holds a certificate of authority issued to it by the commissioner of insurance.

(2) A society's certificate of authority continues in force as long as the society is entitled to it under this chapter and until suspended, revoked, or otherwise terminated. However, continuance of the certificate by the society is conditioned upon payment before May 15 of each year of a continuation fee of $10. The fee must be deposited by the commissioner of insurance with the state treasurer to the credit of the state general fund.

(3) If a society does not continue its certificate of authority in accordance with subsection (2), its certificate of authority expires at midnight on the May 31 following its failure to continue it in force. In that case, the commissioner shall promptly notify the society of the impending expiration of its certificate of authority.

(4) The commissioner may reinstate a certificate of authority that a society has inadvertently permitted to expire, after the society has fully cured all failures that resulted in the expiration and upon payment by the society of a $25 fee for reinstatement in addition to the continuation fee provided for in subsection (2). If a certificate is not reinstated, the commissioner may grant a society another certificate of authority only after the society files an application for a certificate of authority and meets all other requirements for an original certificate of authority in this state.

(5) The commissioner may amend a certificate of authority at any time to conform to changes in a society's charter of insuring powers.

(6) A certified copy or duplicate of a certificate of authority is prima facie evidence that the society is a fraternal benefit society within the meaning of this chapter.

33-7-306. Location of office — meetings — communication to members — grievance procedures. (1) The principal office of a domestic society must be located in this state. The meetings of its supreme governing body may be held in any state, district, province, or territory where the society has at least five subordinate lodges or in a location determined by the supreme governing body. All business transacted at meetings is valid. The minutes of the proceedings of the supreme governing body and of the board of directors must be in English.

(2) (a) A society may provide in its laws for an official publication in which any notice, report, or statement required by law to be given to members, including notice of election, may be published. Required reports, notices, and statements must be printed conspicuously in the publication. If the records of a society show that two or more members have the same mailing address, an official publication mailed to one member is considered to be mailed to all members at the same address unless a member requests a separate copy.

(b) Not later than June 1 of each year, a synopsis of the society's annual statement, providing an explanation of the facts concerning the condition of the society, must be printed and mailed to each benefit member of the society, or the synopsis may be published in the society's official publication.

(3) A society may provide in its laws or rules for grievance or complaint procedures for members.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-307. No personal liability. (1) The officers and members of the supreme governing body or any subordinate body of a society are not personally liable for any benefits provided by a society.

(2) A person may be indemnified and reimbursed by a society for expenses reasonably incurred by and liabilities imposed upon him in connection with or arising out of an action, suit, or proceeding (whether civil, criminal, administrative, or investigative) or threat thereof in which the person may be involved by reason of the fact that he is or was a director, officer, employee, or agent of the society or of a firm, corporation, or organization that he served in any capacity at the request of the society.

(3) (a) A person may not be indemnified or reimbursed in relation to any matter in an action, suit, or proceeding:

(i) in which he is finally found to be guilty of breach of a duty as a director, officer, employee, or agent of the society; or

(ii) that is the subject of a compromise settlement.

(b) A person may be indemnified or reimbursed if he acted in good faith for a purpose he reasonably believed to be in, or not opposed to, the best interests of the society and, in a criminal action or proceeding, in addition, had no reasonable cause to believe that his conduct was unlawful.

(4) The determination of whether the person's conduct met the standard required in order to justify indemnification or reimbursement in relation to any matter described in subsection (3) may be made only by the supreme governing body or board of directors by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of persons who were not parties to the action, suit, or proceeding or by a court of competent jurisdiction. The termination of an action, suit, or proceeding by a judgment, order, settlement, or conviction or upon a plea of no contest, does not create a conclusive presumption that the person did not meet the standard of conduct required in order to justify indemnification or reimbursement. The right of indemnification or reimbursement is not exclusive of other rights to which the person may be entitled as a matter of law, and the right inures to the benefit of his heirs, executors, and administrators.

(5) A director, officer, employee, member, or volunteer of a society who serves without compensation may not be held liable, and a cause of action may not be brought, for damages resulting from the exercise of judgment or discretion in connection with the person's duties or responsibilities for the society unless the act or omission involved willful or wanton misconduct.

(6) A society may purchase and maintain liability insurance for acts incurred in the course and scope of the position for a person who is or was a director, officer, employee, or agent of the society or who is or was serving at the request of the society as a director, officer, employee, or agent of any other firm, corporation, or organization.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-308. Waiver. The laws of the society may provide that a subordinate body or any of its subordinate officers or members may not waive any of the provisions of the laws of the society. The provision is binding on the society and every member and beneficiary of a member.

33-7-408. Investments. A society may invest its funds only in investments authorized by the laws of this state for the investment of assets of life insurers. A foreign or alien society that is permitted or seeking to do business in this state and that invests its funds in accordance with the laws of the state, district, territory, province, or country where it is incorporated meets the requirements of this section for the investment of funds.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-409. Funds. (1) All assets must be held, invested, and disbursed for the use and benefit of the society, and a member or beneficiary may not have or acquire individual rights in assets or become entitled to any apportionment on the surrender of any part of the assets except as provided in the benefit contract.

(2) A society may create, maintain, invest, disburse, and apply any special fund or funds necessary to carry out any purpose permitted by the laws of the society.

(3) Pursuant to a resolution of its supreme governing body, a society may establish and operate one or more separate accounts and issue contracts on a variable basis, subject to the provisions of law regulating life insurers establishing similar accounts and issuing similar contracts. To the extent the society considers it necessary in order to comply with any applicable federal or state laws or any rules issued under those laws, the society may adopt special procedures for administering a separate account and may, for persons having beneficial interests in a separate account, provide special voting and other rights, including without limitation special rights and procedures relating to investment policy, investment advisory services, selection of certified public accountants, and selection of a committee to manage the business and affairs of the account. A society may issue contracts on a variable basis to which the provisions of 33-7-523(2) and (4) do not apply.

History: En. Sec. 22, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-410. Taxation. A society organized or licensed under this chapter is a charitable and benevolent institution, and all of its funds are exempt from all state, county, district, municipal, and school taxes other than taxes on real estate and office equipment.

33-7-411. Valuation. (1) Standards of valuation for certificates issued prior to July 1, 1993, must be those provided by the laws applicable immediately prior to July 1, 1992.

(2) (a) The minimum standards of valuation for certificates issued on or after July 1, 1993, must be based on the following tables:

(i) for certificates of life insurance—the commissioner of insurance's 1941 standard ordinary mortality table, the commissioner's 1941 standard industrial mortality table, the commissioner's 1958 standard ordinary mortality table, the commissioner's 1980 standard ordinary mortality table, or any more recent table made applicable to life insurers;

(ii) for annuity and pure endowment certificates, for total and permanent disability benefits, for accidental death benefits and for noncancelable accident and health benefits—the tables authorized for use by life insurers in this state.

(b) All of the certificates must be valued under valuation methods and standards, including interest assumptions, that are in accordance with the laws of this state applicable to life insurers that issue policies containing similar benefits.

(3) The commissioner may accept other standards for valuation if he finds that the reserves produced by the valuation will not be less in the aggregate than reserves computed in accordance with the minimum valuation standard prescribed in this section. The commissioner may vary the standards of mortality applicable to all benefit contracts on substandard lives or other extrahazardous lives by a society authorized to do business in this state.

(4) A society, with the consent of the commissioner of insurance of the state of domicile of the society and under conditions, if any, that the commissioner may impose, may establish and maintain reserves on its certificates in excess of required reserves, but the contractual rights of a benefit member may not be affected by the excess reserves.

33-7-520. Benefits. (1) A society may provide the following contractual benefits in any form:

(a) death benefits;
(b) endowment benefits;
(c) annuity benefits;
(d) temporary or permanent disability benefits;
(e) hospital, medical, or nursing benefits;
(f) monument or tombstone benefits to the memory of deceased members; and
(g) other benefits authorized for life insurers that are not inconsistent with this chapter.

(2) A society shall specify in its rules those persons who may be issued or covered by the contractual benefits in subsection (1), consistent with providing benefits to members and their dependents. A society may provide benefits on the lives of children under the minimum age for adult membership upon application of an adult person.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-521. Beneficiaries. (1) The owner of a benefit contract may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries in accordance with the laws or rules of the society unless the owner waives this right by specifically requesting in writing that the beneficiary designation be irrevocable. A society may, through its laws or rules, limit the scope of beneficiary designations and shall provide that a revocable beneficiary may not have or obtain a vested interest in the proceeds of a certificate until the certificate becomes due and payable under the provisions of the benefit contract.

(2) A society may make provision for the payment of funeral benefits of up to $500 under a certificate due to a person equitably entitled to payment for the burial of a member.

(3) If, at the death of any person insured under a benefit contract, there is no lawful beneficiary to whom the proceeds are payable, the amount of the benefit, except to the extent that funeral benefits may be paid as provided in subsection (2), is payable to the estate of the deceased. If the owner of the certificate is a person other than the insured, the proceeds are payable to the owner.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-522. Benefits not attachable. Money or other benefits, charity, relief, or aid to be paid, provided, or rendered by a society is not liable to attachment, garnishment, or other process and may not be seized, taken, appropriated, or applied by any legal or equitable process or operation of law to pay any debt or liability of a member, a beneficiary, or any other person who may have a right to the benefit, either before or after payment by the society.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-523. Benefit contract. (1) A society authorized to do business in this state shall issue to the owner of a benefit contract a certificate specifying the amount of benefits provided. The certificate must state that the certificate, together with any attached riders or endorsements, the laws of the society, the application for membership, the application for insurance and declaration of insurability, if any, signed by the applicant, and all amendments to each, constitutes the benefit contract, as of the date of issuance, between the society and the owner. A copy of the application for insurance and declaration of insurability, if any, must be endorsed upon or attached to the certificate. All statements on the application must be representations and not warranties. Any waiver of this provision is void.

(2) Any changes, additions, or amendments to the laws of the society made or enacted after the issuance of the certificate bind the owner and the beneficiaries and control the benefit contract in all respects as if the changes, additions, or amendments were in force at the time of the application for insurance. However, a change, addition, or amendment does not destroy or diminish benefits that the society contracted to give the owner as of the date of issuance.

(3) A person upon whose life a benefit contract is issued before attaining the age of majority is bound by the terms of the application and certificate and by all the laws and rules of the society to the same extent as though the age of majority had been attained at the time of application.

(4) A society shall provide in its laws that if its reserves for one or more classes of certificates become impaired, its board of directors or corresponding body may require that the owner of a certificate pay to the society the amount of the owner's equitable proportion of the deficiency as ascertained by its board and that if the payment is not made either:

(a) it is an indebtedness against the certificate and draws interest not to exceed the rate specified for certificate loans under the certificates; or

(b) in lieu of or in combination with the provisions of subsection (4)(a), the owner of the certificate may accept a proportionate reduction in benefits under the certificate.

(5) The society may specify the manner of election and which alternative under subsection (4) is to be presumed if no election is made.

(6) Copies of any of the documents mentioned in this section, certified by the secretary or corresponding officer of the society, must be received in evidence concerning the terms and conditions of the documents.

(7) A certificate may not be delivered or issued for delivery in this state unless a copy of the form has been filed with the commissioner of insurance in the manner provided for policies issued by life and disability insurers in this state. Certificates issued prior to July 1, 1993, must conform to the requirements provided by the laws applicable immediately prior to July 1, 1992. A life, disability, or annuity certificate issued on or after July 1, 1993, must meet the standard contract provision requirements not inconsistent with this chapter for policies issued by life and disability insurers in this state, except that a society may provide in its certificates for a grace period of 1 month for payment of premiums. The certificate must contain a provision stating the amount of premiums payable under the certificate and a provision reciting or setting forth the substance of any sections of the society's laws or rules in force at the time of issuance of the certificate that, if violated, will result in the termination or reduction of benefits payable under the certificate. If the laws of the society provide for the expulsion or suspension of a member, the certificate must contain a provision that a member expelled or suspended, except for nonpayment of a premium or within the contestable period for material misrepresentation in the application for membership or insurance, has the privilege of maintaining the certificate in force by continuing payment of the required premium.

(8) Benefit contracts issued on the lives of persons below the society's minimum age for adult membership may provide for transfer of control of ownership to the insured at an age specified in the certificate. A society may require approval of an application for membership in order to effect this transfer, and it may provide in all other respects for the regulation, government, and control of the certificates and all rights, obligations, and liabilities incident to and connected with the transfer. Ownership rights prior to the transfer must be specified in the certificate.

(9) A society may specify the terms and conditions on which benefit contracts may be assigned.

History: En. Sec. 19, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-524. Nonforfeiture benefits, cash surrender values, certificate loans, and other options. (1) For certificates issued prior to July 1, 1993, the value of every paid-up nonforfeiture benefit and the amount of any cash surrender value, loan, or other option granted must comply with the provisions of law applicable immediately prior to July 1, 1992.

(2) For certificates issued on or after July 1, 1993, for which reserves are computed on the commissioner of insurance's 1941 standard ordinary mortality table, the commissioner's 1941 standard industrial mortality table, the commissioner's 1958 standard ordinary mortality table, the commissioner's 1980 standard mortality table, or any more recent table made applicable to life insurers, every paid-up nonforfeiture benefit and the amount of any cash surrender value, loan, or other option granted may not be less than the corresponding amount ascertained in accordance with the laws of this state applicable to life insurers issuing policies containing similar benefits based upon the tables.

History: En. Sec. 20, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-525. Insurance producer defined — fraternal benefit society insurance contracts. (1) The term "insurance producer", as used in this chapter, means any authorized or acknowledged insurance producer of a society who acts as an insurance producer in the solicitation, negotiation, or sale of a life insurance, accident and health insurance, or annuity contract.

(2) The term does not include any regular salaried officer or employee of a licensed society who devotes substantially all of the officer's or employee's services to activities other than the solicitation of fraternal insurance contracts from the public and who receives for the solicitation of the contracts no commission or other compensation directly dependent upon the amount of business obtained.

History: En. Sec. 661, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5348.

33-7-531. Foreign or alien society — admission. (1) A foreign or alien society may not transact business in this state without a license issued by the commissioner of insurance. A foreign or alien society desiring admission to this state shall comply substantially with the requirements and limitations of this chapter applicable to domestic societies. A society may be licensed to transact business in this state upon filing with the commissioner:

(a) a certified copy of its articles of incorporation;

(b) a copy of its bylaws, certified by its secretary or corresponding officer;

(c) a written appointment of the commissioner to be the society's agent, as prescribed in 33-7-123;

(d) a statement of its business, under oath of its president and secretary or corresponding officers, in a form prescribed by the commissioner, verified by an examination made by the supervising insurance official of its home state or other state, district, territory, province, or country satisfactory to the commissioner of this state;

(e) certification from the proper official of its home state, district, territory, province, or country that the society is legally incorporated and licensed to transact business in that jurisdiction;

(f) copies of its certificate forms; and

(g) other information the commissioner considers necessary.

(2) A foreign or alien society applying for authority to transact business in this state must have the qualifications required of domestic societies organized under this chapter.

History: En. Sec. 29, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-532. Insurance producer licensing — fraternal benefit society. (1) A society's insurance producer is considered to be an insurance producer and is subject to the same licensing requirements as insurance producers under Title 33, chapter 17.

(2) A society doing business in this state may not pay to a person who is not a licensed insurance producer of the society any commission or other compensation for any services in obtaining in this state any new contract of life, accident, or health insurance or any new annuity contract.

History: En. Sec. 33, Ch. 586, L. 1991; amd. Sec. 9, Ch. 427, L. 2003.

33-7-533. Unfair methods of competition and unfair or deceptive acts and practices. A society authorized to do business in this state and its insurance producers are subject to the provisions of chapter 18 that relate to unfair or deceptive trade practices. However, nothing in chapter 18 may be construed as applying to or affecting the right of a society to determine its eligibility requirements for membership or be construed as applying to or affecting the offering of benefits exclusively to members or persons eligible for membership in the society by a subsidiary corporation or affiliated organization of the society.

PROFESSIONAL LIABILITY INSURANCE

Part 1 — General Provisions

33-9-101. Definitions.
33-9-102. Professionals as members, stockholders, or subscribers of mutual, stock, or reciprocal insurers.
33-9-103. Incorporation and regulation.
33-9-104. Initial qualifications.
33-9-105. Foreign or alien insurers — certification.

Chapter Cross-References
Professional liability, Title 33, ch. 23, part 3.

Part 1
General Provisions

33-9-101. Definitions. As used in this part, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Health care provider" means any person, corporation, facility, or institution of a governmental unit of any state licensed by that state to provide health care, including but not limited to physician, osteopath, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse, dentist, optometrist, podiatrist, hospital, hospital-related facility, or long-term care facility.

(2) "Other professional" means an attorney, certified public accountant, public accountant, architect, veterinarian, pharmacist, and professional engineer licensed or otherwise legally authorized by a state to render professional services.

History: En. 40-4759 by Sec. 1, Ch. 119, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4759(intro.), (2), (3).

33-9-102. Professionals as members, stockholders, or subscribers of mutual, stock, or reciprocal insurers. A health care provider or other professional may be a member of a mutual insurer, a stockholder of a stock insurer, or a subscriber of a reciprocal insurer, whether such mutual, stock, or reciprocal insurer is domestic, foreign, or alien, for the purpose of protecting himself by insurance against loss, damage, or expense incident to a claim arising out of a breach of contract, pecuniary or personal injury to or death of any person, or other loss as the result of negligence in rendering professional services by any health care provider or other professional.

History: En. 40-4760 by Sec. 2, Ch. 119, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4760.

33-9-103. Incorporation and regulation. A domestic mutual, stock, or reciprocal insurer, organized for the purpose of transacting insurance business as set forth in 33-9-102, shall organize under the provisions of Title 33 and be regulated as therein provided. The provisions of this part govern whenever in conflict with other laws or parts of laws of any state.

History: En. 40-4761 by Sec. 3, Ch. 119, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4761.

Cross-References

Formation of domestic mutual or stock insurers, Title 33, ch. 3, part 2.

Formation of reciprocal insurer, Title 33, ch. 5, part 2.

33-9-104. Initial qualifications. No original certificate of authority for a mutual, stock, or reciprocal insurer may be issued by the commissioner until applications representing 250 members of the profession under consideration have been received by the commissioner or in the case of health care providers that are hospitals, hospital-related facilities, or long-term care facilities, applications representing 50% of the beds in the state or states affected, and until the commissioner has determined that such insurer or insurers have bona fide applications representing the number of applicants required.

History: En. 40-4762 by Sec. 4, Ch. 119, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4762.

Cross-References

Original certificate of authority — general requirements, 33-2-115.

33-9-105. Foreign or alien insurers — certification. Any mutual, stock, or reciprocal insurer organized under the laws of another state substantially similar to this part for the purpose of transacting the kind of business described in this part may, upon an application and without prior operating experience or examination, be admitted to solicit applications. If the necessary number of applications is obtained, the insurer may do business in this state if the commissioner finds such admission is in the public interest. Thereafter the insurer shall make all reports and be subject to taxation, examination, and supervision by the commissioner to the same extent and in the same manner as are other foreign or alien insurers.

History: En. 40-4763 by Sec. 5, Ch. 119, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4763.

33-10-102. Definitions. As used in this part, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Association" means the Montana insurance guaranty association created under 33-10-103.

(2) (a) "Covered claim" means an unpaid claim, including one for unearned premiums, that arises out of and is within the coverage and not in excess of the applicable limits of an insurance policy to which this part applies issued by an insurer, if the insurer becomes an insolvent insurer after July 1, 1971, and:

(i) the claimant or insured is a resident of this state at the time of the insured event; or

(ii) the property from which the claim arises is permanently located in this state.

(b) Covered claim does not include any amount:

(i) awarded as punitive or exemplary damages;

(ii) sought as a return of premium under a retrospective rating plan; or

(iii) due a reinsurer, insurer, insurance pool, or underwriting association as subrogation recoveries, reinsurance recoveries, contribution, or indemnification. A reinsurer, insurer, insurance pool, or underwriting association may not assert a claim for any amount against the insured of the insolvent insurer other than to the extent that the claim exceeds the policy limits of the insolvent insurer's policy.

(3) "Insolvent insurer" means an insurer:

(a) authorized to transact insurance in this state either at the time the policy was issued or when the insured event occurred; and

(b) against whom an order of liquidation has been entered with a finding of insolvency by a court of competent jurisdiction in the insurer's state of domicile.

(4) "Member insurer" means a person who:

(a) writes any kind of insurance to which this part applies under 33-10-101(3), including the exchange of reciprocal or interinsurance contracts; and

(b) is licensed to transact insurance in this state.

(5) (a) "Net direct written premiums" means direct gross premiums written in this state on insurance policies to which this part applies, less return premiums on the policies and dividends paid or credited to policyholders of policies to which this part applies.

(b) Net direct written premiums does not include premiums on contracts between insurers or reinsurers.

(6) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or voluntary organization.

33-10-103. Creation of the association. There is created a nonprofit unincorporated legal entity to be known as the Montana insurance guaranty association. All insurers defined as member insurers shall be and remain members of the association as a condition of their authority to transact insurance in this state. The association shall perform its functions under a plan of operation established and approved under 33-10-106 and shall exercise its powers through a board of directors established under 33-10-104.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 63, L. 1971; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5706.

33-10-104. Board of directors — commissioner approval — compensation. (1) The board of directors of the association consists of not less than seven or more than nine persons serving terms as established in the plan of operation. Two of the members must be appointed from the public at large by the commissioner. The other members of the board must be selected by member insurers subject to the approval of the commissioner. Vacancies on the board must be filled for the remaining period of the term in the same manner as initial appointments.

(2) In approving selections to the board, the commissioner shall consider among other things whether all member insurers are fairly represented.

(3) Members of the board may be reimbursed from the assets of the association for expenses incurred by them as members of the board of directors.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 63, L. 1971; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5707(part); amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 65, L. 1995.

33-10-105. General powers and duties. (1) Subject to subsection (2), the association:

(a) (i) is obligated to the extent of the covered claims existing prior to the determination of insolvency and arising within 30 days after the determination of insolvency or before the policy expiration date if less than 30 days after the determination or before the insured replaces the policy or causes its cancellation if the insured does so within 30 days of the determination;

(ii) is obligated under subsection (1)(a)(i) only for that amount of each covered claim that does not exceed $300,000, except that:

(A) the association shall pay an amount not exceeding $10,000 for each policy for a covered claim for the return of unearned premium; and

(B) the association shall pay the full amount of any covered claim arising out of a workers' compensation policy; and

(iii) is not obligated to a policyholder or claimant in an amount in excess of the obligation of the insolvent insurer under the policy from which the claim arises;

(b) is considered the insurer to the extent of its obligation on the covered claims and to that extent has all rights, duties, and obligations of the insolvent insurer as if the insurer had not become insolvent;

(c) shall investigate claims brought against the association and adjust, compromise, settle, and pay covered claims to the extent of the association's obligation and deny all other claims and may review settlements, releases, and judgments to which the insolvent insurer or its insureds were parties to determine the extent to which the settlements, releases, and judgments may be properly contested;

(d) shall notify persons as the commissioner directs under 33-10-109(2)(a), including the department of labor and industry for workers' compensation claims;

(e) shall handle claims through its employees or through one or more insurers or other persons designated as servicing facilities. Designation of a servicing facility is subject to the approval of the commissioner, but the designation may be declined by a member insurer.

(f) shall reimburse each servicing facility for obligations of the association paid by the facility and for expenses incurred by the facility while handling claims on behalf of the association and shall pay the other expenses of the association authorized by this part.

(2) (a) Except as provided in subsection (2)(b), a covered claim may not include a claim filed with the association or a liquidator for protection under the insured's policy for losses incurred but not reported and may not include a claim filed with the association after the earlier of:

(i) 36 months after the date of the order of liquidation; or

(ii) the final date set by the court for the filing of claims against the liquidator or receiver of an insolvent insurer.

(b) (i) If the claimant learns that the claimant's condition resulted from an occupational disease compensable under Title 39, chapter 71, within 36 months of the order of liquidation or the final date set by the court for the filing of claims against the liquidator, the claimant shall file a claim, which must be paid under the terms of subsection (1)(a). If the claimant does not learn of a compensable condition under Title 39, chapter 71, until after the time specified in either subsection (2)(a)(i) or (2)(a)(ii) has expired, the claimant shall file a claim with the association within 1 year from the date the claimant knew or should have known that the claimant's condition resulted from an occupational disease.

(ii) Notice by a claimant or insurer to the department of labor and industry of a workers' compensation claim or an occupational disease claim pursuant to Title 39, chapter 71, constitutes notice to the liquidator for the purposes of workers' compensation or occupational disease claims.

(3) The association may:

(a) employ or retain persons necessary to handle claims and perform other duties of the association;

(b) borrow funds necessary to effect the purposes of this part in accord with the plan of operation;

(c) sue or be sued;

(d) negotiate and become a party to contracts necessary to carry out the purpose of this part;

(e) perform other acts necessary or proper to effectuate the purpose of this part;

(f) refund to the member insurers in proportion to the contribution of each member insurer to the association that amount by which the assets of the association exceed the liabilities, if, at the end of any calendar year, the board of directors finds that the assets of the association exceed the liabilities of the association as estimated by the board of directors for the coming year.

Compiler's Comments

2005 Amendments — Composite Section: Chapter 29 in (1)(a)(ii) near middle substituted "that does not exceed $300,000" for "that is in excess of $100 and is less than $300,000"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective March 18, 2005.

Chapter 195 in (1) at beginning inserted "Subject to subsection (2)"; in (1)(d) at end after "33-10-109(2)(a)" inserted "including the department of labor and industry for workers' compensation claims"; inserted (2) disallowing a claim filed with an association or liquidator as a covered claim, with some exceptions, and establishing notice requirements; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective October 1, 2005.

Applicability: Section 2, Ch. 195, L. 2005, provided: "[This act] applies to all liquidations commenced on or after [the effective date of this act]." Effective October 1, 2005.

Directions to Code Commissioner: Pursuant to sec. 41, Ch. 416, L. 2005, the code commissioner in (2)(b)(i) in two places substituted reference to chapter 71 for reference to chapter 72; and in (2)(b)(ii) substituted "a workers' compensation claim or an occupational disease claim pursuant to Title 39, chapter 71" for "a workers' compensation claim pursuant to Title 39, chapter 71, or an occupational disease claim pursuant to Title 39, chapter 72".

33-10-106. Plan of operation — delegation to other organization. (1) (a) The association shall submit to the commissioner a plan of operation and any amendments thereto necessary or suitable to assure the fair, reasonable, and equitable administration of the association. The plan of operation and any amendments thereto shall become effective upon approval in writing by the commissioner.

(b) If at any time the association fails to submit suitable amendments to the plan, the commissioner shall, after notice and hearing, adopt and promulgate such reasonable rules as are necessary or advisable to effectuate the provisions of this part. Such rules shall continue in force until modified by the commissioner or superseded by a plan submitted by the association and approved by the commissioner.

(2) All member insurers shall comply with the plan of operation.

(3) The plan of operation shall:

(a) establish the procedures whereby all the powers and duties of the association under 33-10-105 and 33-10-116 will be performed;

(b) establish procedures for handling assets of the association;

(c) establish the amount and method of reimbursing members of the board of directors under 33-10-104;

(d) establish procedures by which claims may be filed with the association and establish acceptable forms of proof of covered claims;

(e) establish regular places and times for meetings of the board of directors;

(f) establish procedures for records to be kept of all financial transactions of the association, its insurance producers, and the board of directors;

(g) provide that any member insurer aggrieved by any final action or decision of the association may appeal to the commissioner within 30 days after the action or decision;

(h) establish the procedures whereby selections for the board of directors will be submitted to the commissioner;

(i) contain additional provisions necessary or proper for the execution of the powers and duties of the association.

(4) The plan of operation may provide that any or all powers and duties of the association, except those under 33-10-105(2)(b) and 33-10-116, are delegated to a corporation, association, or other organization which performs or will perform functions similar to those of this association or its equivalent in two or more states. Such a corporation, association, or organization shall be reimbursed as a servicing facility would be reimbursed and shall be paid for its performance of any other functions of the association. A delegation under this subsection shall take effect only with the approval of both the board of directors and the commissioner and may be made only to a corporation, association, or organization which extends protection not substantially less favorable and effective than that provided by this part.

33-10-108. Prevention of insolvencies — directors' and commissioner's action. (1) It shall be the duty of the board of directors, upon majority vote, to notify the commissioner of any information indicating any member insurer may be insolvent or in a financial condition hazardous to the policyholders or the public.

(2) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, request that the commissioner order an examination of any member insurer which the board in good faith believes may be in a financial condition hazardous to the policyholders or the public. Within 30 days of the receipt of such request, the commissioner shall begin such examination. The examination may be conducted as a national association of insurance commissioners examination or may be conducted by such persons as the commissioner designates. The cost of such examination shall be paid by the association and the examination report shall be treated as are other examination reports. In no event shall such examination report be released to the board of directors prior to its release to the public, but this shall not preclude the commissioner from complying with subsection (3). The commissioner shall notify the board of directors when the examination is completed. The request for an examination shall be kept on file by the commissioner, but it shall not be open to public inspection prior to the release of the examination report to the public.

(3) It shall be the duty of the commissioner to report to the board of directors when he has reasonable cause to believe that any member insurer examined or being examined at the request of the board of directors may be insolvent or in a financial condition hazardous to the policyholders or the public.

(4) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, make reports and recommendations to the commissioner upon any matter germane to the solvency, liquidation, rehabilitation, or supervision of any member insurer. Such reports and recommendations shall not be considered public documents.

(5) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, make recommendations to the commissioner for the detection and prevention of insurer insolvencies.

(6) The board of directors shall, at the conclusion of any insurer insolvency in which the association was obligated to pay covered claims, prepare a report on the history and causes of such insolvency, based on the information available to the association, and submit such report to the commissioner.

33-10-109. Notice of insolvencies — suspension — other powers and duties of commissioner. (1) The commissioner shall:

(a) notify the association of the existence of an insolvent insurer not later than 3 days after he receives notice of the determination of the insolvency;

(b) upon request of the board of directors, provide the association with a statement of the net direct written premiums of each member insurer.

(2) The commissioner may:

(a) require that the association notify the insureds of the insolvent insurer and any other interested parties of the determination of insolvency and of their rights under this part. Such notification shall be by mail at their last known address, where available, but if sufficient information for notification by mail is not available, notice by publication in a newspaper of general circulation shall be sufficient.

(b) suspend or revoke, after notice and hearing, the certificate of authority to transact insurance in this state of any member insurer which fails to pay an assessment when due or fails to comply with the plan of operation. As an alternative, the commissioner may levy a fine on any member insurer which fails to pay an assessment when due. Such fine shall not exceed 5% of the unpaid assessment per month, except that no fine shall be less than $100 per month.

(c) revoke the designation of any servicing facility if he finds claims are being handled unsatisfactorily.

(3) Any final action or order of the commissioner under this part shall be subject to judicial review in a court of competent jurisdiction.

33-10-111. Stay of proceedings — reopening of default judgments. (1) All proceedings in which the insolvent insurer is a party or is obligated to defend a party in any court in this state must be stayed for 6 months from the date the insolvency is determined or an ancillary proceeding is instituted in the state, whichever is later, or must be stayed for any additional time as may be determined by the court in order to permit proper defense by the association of all pending causes of action.

(2) As to any covered claims arising from a judgment under any decision, verdict, or finding based on the default of the insolvent insurer or its failure to defend an insured, the association either on its own behalf or on behalf of the insured may apply to have the judgment, order, decision, verdict, or finding set aside by the same court or administrator that made the judgment, order, decision, verdict, or finding and must be permitted to defend against the claim on the merits.

33-10-112. Examination of association. The association shall be subject to examination and regulation by the commissioner. The board of directors shall submit, not later than March 30 of each year, a financial report for the preceding calendar year in a form approved by the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 63, L. 1971; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5714.

33-10-113. Claims — notice. Notice of claims to the receiver or liquidator of the insolvent insurer shall be deemed notice to the association or its insurance producer, and a list of such claims shall be periodically submitted to the association or similar organization in another state by the receiver or liquidator.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 63, L. 1971; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5709(part); amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

33-10-114. Claims — effect as to insured and receiver. (1) Any person recovering under this part is considered to have assigned the person's rights under the policy to the association to the extent of the person's recovery from the association. Every insured or claimant seeking the protection of this part shall cooperate with the association to the same extent that the person would have been required to cooperate with the insolvent insurer. The association does not have a cause of action against the insured of the insolvent insurer for any sums it has paid out except causes of action that the insolvent insurer would have had if the sums had been paid by the insolvent insurer. In the case of an insolvent insurer operating on a plan with assessment liability, payments of claims of the association may not operate to reduce the liability of insureds to the receiver, liquidator, or statutory successor for unpaid assessments.

(2) The association has the right to recover from the following persons the amount of any "covered claim" paid on behalf of the person pursuant to this part:

(a) any insured whose net worth, on December 31 of the year preceding the date the insurer becomes an insolvent insurer, exceeds $50 million and whose liability obligations to other persons are satisfied in whole or in part by payments made under this part; and

(b) any person who is an affiliate of the insolvent insurer and whose liability obligations to other persons are satisfied in whole or in part by payments made under this part.

(3) The receiver, liquidator, or statutory successor of an insolvent insurer is bound by settlements of covered claims by the association or a similar organization in another state. The court having jurisdiction shall grant the claims priority equal to that which the claimant would have been entitled in the absence of this part against the assets of the insolvent insurer. The expenses of the association or similar organization in handling claims must be accorded the same priority as the liquidator's expenses.

(4) The association shall periodically file with the receiver or liquidator of the insolvent insurer statements of the covered claims paid by the association and estimates of anticipated claims on the association which shall preserve the rights of the association against the assets of the insolvent insurer.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 63, L. 1971; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5711; amd. Sec. 55, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-10-115. Recovery — sequence — nonduplication. (1) Any person having a claim against an insurer under any provision in an insurance policy other than a policy of an insolvent insurer which is also a covered claim shall be required to exhaust first his right under such policy. Any amount payable on a covered claim under this part shall be reduced by the amount of any recovery under such insurance policy.

(2) Any person having a claim which may be recovered under more than one insurance guaranty association or its equivalent shall seek recovery first from the association of the place of residence of the insured, except that if it is a first party claim for damage to property with a permanent location, he shall seek recovery first from the association of the location of the property, and if it is a workers' compensation claim, he shall seek recovery first from the association of the residence of the claimant. Any recovery under this part shall be reduced by the amount of recovery from any other insurance guaranty association or its equivalent.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 63, L. 1971; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5712.

33-10-116. Assessment. (1) The association shall assess insurers amounts necessary to pay the obligations of the association under 33-10-105(1)(a) subsequent to an insolvency, the expenses of handling covered claims subsequent to an insolvency, the cost of examinations under 33-10-108, and other expenses authorized by this part.

(2) The assessments of each member insurer shall be in the proportion that the net direct written premiums of the member insurer for the preceding calendar year bear to the net direct written premiums of all member insurers for the preceding calendar year. Each member insurer shall be notified of the assessment not later than 30 days before it is due. No member insurer may be assessed in any year an amount greater than 2% of that member insurer's net direct written premiums for the preceding calendar year.

(3) If the maximum assessment together with the other assets of the association does not provide in any one year an amount sufficient to make all necessary payments, the funds available shall be prorated and the unpaid portion shall be paid as soon thereafter as funds become available.

(4) The association may exempt or defer, in whole or in part, the assessment of any member insurer, if the assessment would cause the member insurer's financial statement to reflect amounts of capital or surplus less than the minimum amounts required for a certificate of authority by any jurisdiction in which the member insurer is authorized to transact insurance.

(5) Each member insurer may set off against any assessment authorized payments made on covered claims and expenses incurred in the payment of such claims by the member insurer.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 63, L. 1971; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5708(1)(c).

33-10-117. Recognition of assessments in rates. The rates and premiums charged for insurance policies to which this part applies shall include amounts sufficient to recoup a sum equal to the amounts paid to the association by the member insurer less any amounts returned to the member insurer by the association, and such rates shall not be deemed excessive because they contain an amount reasonably calculated to recoup assessments paid by the member insurer.

Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Associations

Part Cross-References

Supervision, rehabilitation, and liquidation of insurers, Title 33, ch. 2, part 13.
Montana Self-Insurers Guaranty Fund Act, Title 39, ch. 71, part 26.

33-10-201. Short title, purpose, scope, and construction. (1) This part may be cited as the "Montana Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association Act".

(2) The purpose of this part is to protect policyowners, insureds, beneficiaries, annuitants, payees, and assignees of life insurance policies, health insurance policies, annuity contracts, and supplemental contracts, subject to certain limitations, against failure in the performance of contractual obligations due to the impairment or insolvency of the insurer issuing the policies or contracts.

(3) To provide this protection:

(a) an association of insurers is created to enable the guaranty of payment of benefits and of continuation of coverages;

(b) members of the association are subject to assessment to provide funds to carry out the purpose of this part; and

(c) the association is authorized to assist the commissioner, in the prescribed manner, in the detection and prevention of insurer impairments or insolvencies.

(4) This part applies to direct, nongroup life, health, and annuity policies and contracts and their supplemental contracts, to certificates under direct group policies and contracts, and to unallocated annuity contracts issued by member insurers, except as limited by this part. Annuity contracts and certificates under group annuity contracts include but are not limited to guaranteed investment contracts, deposit administration contracts, unallocated funding agreements, allocated funding agreements, structured settlement annuities, lottery annuities issued in connection with government lotteries, and any immediate or deferred annuity contracts.

(5) This part provides coverage for policies and contracts specified in subsection (4):

(a) to persons who are owners of or certificate holders under covered policies or contracts, other than unallocated annuity contracts and structured settlement annuities that are provided for in subsections (6) and (7), if the persons:

(i) are residents; or

(ii) are not residents, but only under all of the following conditions:

(A) the insurers that issued the policies are domiciled in this state;

(B) the insurers have not held a license or certificate of authority in the state in which the persons reside;

(C) the state has an association similar to the association created under this part; and

(D) the persons are not eligible for coverage by that association; and

(b) to persons who, regardless of where they reside, except for nonresident certificate holders under group policies or contracts, are the beneficiaries, assignees, or payees of the persons covered under subsection (5)(a).

(6) With respect to unallocated annuity contracts, this part provides coverage to:

(a) persons who are the owners of unallocated annuity contracts if the contracts are issued to or in connection with a specific benefit plan whose plan sponsor has its principal place of business in this state; and

(b) persons who are owners of unallocated annuity contracts issued in connection with government lotteries if the owners are residents.

(7) (a) With respect to structured settlement annuities, this part provides coverage to a person who is:

(i) a payee under a structured settlement annuity;

(ii) a beneficiary of a payee if the payee is deceased; or

(iii) a resident payee, regardless of where the contract owner resides.

(b) This part also applies to a payee of a structured settlement annuity contract who is not a resident if:

(i) the contract owner of the structured settlement annuity is a resident, the insurer that issued the structured settlement annuity is domiciled in this state, or the state in which the contract owner resides has an association similar to the association created by this part; and

(ii) the payee, beneficiary, or contract owner is not eligible for coverage by the association in the state in which the payee or contract owner resides.

(8) This part does not provide coverage to:

(a) a person who is a payee or a beneficiary of a contract owner who is the resident of another state if the payee or beneficiary is afforded any coverage by the association of another state; or

(b) a person described in subsection (5) if the person is afforded any coverage by the association of another state.

(9) (a) This part is intended to provide coverage to a person who is a resident of this state and, in special circumstances, to a nonresident. In order to avoid duplicate coverage, if a person who would otherwise receive coverage under this part is provided coverage under the laws of any other state, the person may not be provided coverage under this part.

(b) In determining the application of this subsection (9) to situations in which a person, such as an owner, payee, beneficiary, or assignee, could be covered by the associations of more than one state, this part must be construed in conjunction with other state laws to result in coverage by only one association.

(10) This part does not provide coverage for:

(a) policies or contracts or any part of the policies or contracts not guaranteed by the member insurer or under which the risk is borne by the policyowner;

(b) a policy or contract or part of the policy or contract assumed by the impaired member insurer under a contract of reinsurance, other than reinsurance for which assumption certificates have been issued;

(c) any portion of a policy or contract to the extent that the rate of interest on which it is based or the interest rate, crediting rate, or similar factor determined by the use of an index or other external reference stated in the policy or contract employed in calculating returns or changes in value:

(i) averaged over the period of 4 years prior to the date on which the association becomes obligated with respect to the policy or contract, exceeds a rate of interest determined by subtracting 2 percentage points from Moody's corporate bond yield average averaged for that same 4-year period or for the lesser period if the policy or contract was issued less than 4 years before the association became obligated; and

(ii) on and after the date on which the association becomes obligated with respect to the policy or contract, exceeds the rate of interest determined by subtracting 3 percentage points from Moody's corporate bond yield average as is most recently available;

(d) any plan or program of an employer, association, or similar entity to provide life, health, or annuity benefits to its employees, members, or others to the extent that the plan or program is self-funded or uninsured, including but not limited to benefits payable by an employer, association, or other person under:

(i) a multiple employer welfare arrangement, as defined in section 514 of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended;

(ii) a minimum premium group insurance plan;

(iii) a stop-loss group insurance plan; or

(iv) an administrative services only contract;

(e) any portion of a policy or contract to the extent that it provides dividends, experience rating credits, or voting rights or provides that any fees or allowances be paid to any person, including the policyowner or contract owner, in connection with the service to or administration of the policy or contract;

(f) any policy or contract issued in this state by a member insurer at a time when it was not licensed or did not have a certificate of authority to issue the policy or contract in this state;

(g) any unallocated annuity contract issued to or in connection with an employee benefit plan that is protected under the federal pension benefit guaranty corporation regardless of whether the federal pension benefit guaranty corporation is liable to make any payments with respect to the employee benefit plan;

(h) any portion of any unallocated annuity contract that is not issued to or in connection with a specific employee, union, or association of natural persons benefit plan or a government lottery;

(i) an obligation that does not arise under the express written terms of the policy or contract issued by the insurer to the policyowner or contract owner, including without limitation:

(i) claims based on marketing materials;

(ii) claims based on side letters, riders, or other documents that were issued by the insurer without meeting applicable requirements for filing policy forms or for policy approval;

(iii) misrepresentations of or regarding policy benefits;

(iv) extracontractual claims; or

(v) a claim for penalties or consequential or incidental damages;

(j) a contractual agreement that establishes the member insurer's obligations to provide a book value accounting guaranty for defined contribution benefit plan participants by reference to a portfolio of assets that is owned by the benefit plan or its trustee, which in each case is not an affiliate of the member insurer; or

(k) a portion of a policy or contract to the extent it provides for interest or other changes in value to be determined by the use of an index or other external reference stated in the policy or contract, but which have not been credited to the policy or contract, or as to which the policyowner's or contract owner's rights are subject to forfeiture, as of the date the member insurer becomes an impaired or insolvent insurer under this part. If a policy's or contract's interest or changes in value are credited less frequently than annually, then for purposes of determining the values that have been credited and are not subject to forfeiture under this section, the interest or changes in value determined by using the procedures defined in the policy or contract must be credited as if the contractual date of crediting interest or changes in value was the date of impairment or insolvency and the interest or changes in value are not subject to forfeiture.

(11) This part must be liberally construed to effect the purpose under subsections (2) and (3), which constitute an aid and guide to interpretation.

(12) This part may not be construed to reduce the liability for unpaid assessments of the insureds of an impaired or insolvent insurer operating under a plan with assessment liability.

33-10-202. Definitions. As used in this part, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Account" means either of the two accounts created under 33-10-203.

(2) "Association" means the Montana life and health insurance guaranty association created under 33-10-203.

(3) "Benefit plan" means a specific employee, union, or association of natural persons benefit plan.

(4) "Contractual obligation" means any obligation under covered policies.

(5) "Covered policy" means any policy or contract within the scope of this part under 33-10-201(4) through (10).

(6) "Impaired insurer" means a member insurer that is not an insolvent insurer and that is placed under an order of rehabilitation or supervision by a court of competent jurisdiction.

(7) "Insolvent insurer" means a member insurer that is placed under an order of liquidation by a court of competent jurisdiction upon a finding of insolvency.

(8) (a) "Member insurer" means an insurer that is licensed or that holds a certificate of authority to transact any kind of insurance in this state for which coverage is provided under 33-10-201 and 33-10-224 and includes any insurer whose license or certificate of authority may have been suspended, revoked, not renewed, or voluntarily withdrawn.

(b) The term does not include:

(i) a health service corporation;

(ii) a health maintenance organization;

(iii) a fraternal benefit society;

(iv) a mandatory state pooling plan;

(v) a mutual assessment company or any entity that operates on an assessment basis;

(vi) an insurance exchange;

(vii) an organization that has a certificate or license limited to the issuance of charitable gift annuities; or

(viii) an entity similar to any of the entities listed in subsections (8)(b)(i) through (8)(b)(vii).

(9) "Moody's corporate bond yield average" means the monthly average corporates as published by Moody's investors service, inc., or its successor.

(10) "Owner", "contract owner", and "policyowner" mean the person who is identified as the legal owner under the terms of a policy or contract or who is vested with legal title to the policy or contract through a valid assignment completed in accordance with the terms of the policy or contract and who is properly recorded as the owner on the books of the insurer.

(11) "Person" means any individual, corporation, limited liability company, partnership, association, governmental body or entity, or voluntary organization.

(12) "Plan sponsor" means:

(a) the employer in the case of a benefit plan established or maintained by a single employer;

(b) the employee organization in the case of a benefit plan established or maintained by an employee organization; or

(c) in the case of a benefit plan established or maintained by two or more employers or jointly by one or more employers and one or more employee organizations, the association, committee, joint board of trustees, or other similar group of representatives of the parties who establish or maintain the benefit plan.

(13) (a) "Premiums" means the amount or consideration received on covered policies or contracts less return premiums, considerations, and deposits, and less dividends and experience credits.

(b) The term does not include:

(i) amounts or considerations received for policies or contracts or for the portions of policies or contracts for which coverage is not provided pursuant to 33-10-201(10), except that an assessable premium may not be reduced based on 33-10-201(10)(c) relating to interest limitations and 33-10-224 relating to one individual, one participant, and one contract owner;

(ii) premiums in excess of $5 million on an unallocated annuity contract not issued under a governmental retirement benefit plan or the plan's trustee established under section 401, 403(b), or 457 of the Internal Revenue Code; or

(iii) premiums in excess of $5 million with respect to multiple nongroup policies of life insurance owned by one owner, whether the policyowner is an individual, firm, corporation, or other person and whether the persons insured are officers, managers, employees, or other persons.

(14) "Principal place of business" of a plan sponsor means:

(a) the state in which more than 50% of the participants in the benefit plan are employed;

(b) with respect to a plan sponsor as defined in 33-10-202(12)(c), the principal place of business of the association, committee, joint board of trustees, or other similar group of representatives of the parties who establish or maintain the benefit plan, or, in lieu of specific or clear designation of a principal place of business, the principal place of business of the employer or employee organization that has the largest investment in the benefit plan in question; or

(c) if 50% of the participants are not employed in a single state, the single state in which the individuals who establish policies for the direction, control, and coordination of the operations of the plan sponsor as a whole primarily exercise that function, as determined by the association in its reasonable judgment by considering the following factors:

(i) the state in which the primary executive and administrative headquarters of the plan sponsor is located;

(ii) the state in which the principal office of the chief executive officer of the plan sponsor is located;

(iii) the state in which the board of directors or similar governing person or persons of the plan sponsor conduct its meetings;

(iv) the state in which the executive or management committee of the board of directors or similar governing person or persons of the plan sponsor conduct the majority of its meetings;

(v) the state from which the management of the overall operations of the plan sponsor is directed; and

(vi) in the case of a benefit plan sponsored by affiliated companies comprising a consolidated corporation, the state in which the holding company or controlling affiliate has its principal place of business as determined using the above factors.

(15) "Receivership court" means the court in the insolvent or impaired insurer's state that has jurisdiction over the supervision, rehabilitation, or liquidation of the insurer.

(16) "Resident" means a person who resides in this state at the time that the impairment is determined and to whom contractual obligations are owed. A person may be a resident of only one state, and in the case of a person other than an individual, the person is a resident of the state where its principal place of business is located. Citizens of the United States who are either residents of foreign countries or residents of the possessions, territories, or protectorates of the United States and who do not have an association similar to the association created by this part must be considered residents of the state of domicile of the insurer that issued the policies or contracts.

(17) "Structured settlement annuity" means an annuity purchased in order to fund periodic payments for a plaintiff or other claimant in payment for or with respect to personal injury suffered by the plaintiff or other claimant.

(18) "Supplemental contract" means a written agreement entered into for the distribution of proceeds under a life, health, or annuity policy or contract.

(19) "Unallocated annuity contract" means an annuity contract or group annuity certificate that is not issued to and owned by an individual, except to the extent of annuity benefits guaranteed to an individual by the insurer under the contract or certificate.

33-10-203. Creation of association — accounts — supervision by commissioner. (1) There is created a nonprofit legal entity to be known as the Montana life and health insurance guaranty association. A member insurer must be and remain a member of the association as a condition of the member's authority to transact insurance in this state. The association shall perform functions under the plan of operation established and approved under 33-10-216 and shall exercise powers through a board of directors established under 33-10-204.

(2) For purposes of administration and assessment, the association shall maintain two accounts:

(a) the health insurance account; and

(b) the life insurance and annuity account that includes the following subaccounts:

(i) the life insurance account;

(ii) the annuity account that includes contracts owned by a governmental retirement plan or the plan's trustee established under section 401, 403(b), or 457 of the Internal Revenue Code, but does not otherwise include unallocated annuities; and

(iii) the unallocated annuity account that must exclude unallocated annuity contracts owned by a governmental retirement benefit plan or the plan's trustee established under section 401, 403(b), or 457 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(3) The association is under the immediate supervision of the commissioner and is subject to the applicable provisions of the insurance laws of this state.

33-10-204. Board of directors — commissioner approval — compensation. (1) The board of directors of the association consists of seven members serving terms as established in the plan of operation. Two of the members must be appointed from the public at large by the commissioner. The other members of the board must be selected by member insurers subject to the approval of the commissioner. Vacancies on the board must be filled for the remaining period of the term in the manner described in the plan of operation. In approving selections or in appointing members to the board, the commissioner shall consider, among other things, whether all member insurers are fairly represented.

(2) Members of the board may be reimbursed from the assets of the association for expenses incurred by them as members of the board of directors, but members of the board may not otherwise be compensated by the association for their services. However, any designated representatives of members of the board who are not full-time employees of the member insurers that designated them may receive reasonable compensation for their services on the board of directors upon annual approval by the members of the association.

33-10-205. General powers of association — standing. (1) In addition to other rights provided by law, the association may:

(a) enter into contracts that are necessary or proper to carry out the provisions and purposes of this part;

(b) sue or be sued, including taking any legal actions necessary or proper for recovery of any unpaid assessments under 33-10-228 and to settle claims or potential claims against it;

(c) borrow money to effect the purposes of this part. Any notes or other evidence of indebtedness of the association not in default must be legal investments for domestic insurers and may be carried as admitted assets.

(d) employ or retain persons who are necessary to handle the financial transactions of the association and to perform other functions that become necessary or proper under this part;

(e) negotiate and contract with any liquidator, rehabilitator, supervisor, or ancillary receiver to carry out the powers and duties of the association;

(f) take legal action that may be necessary to avoid payment of improper claims;

(g) exercise, for the purposes of this part and to the extent approved by the commissioner, the powers of a domestic life or health insurer, but the association may not in any case issue insurance policies or annuity contracts other than those issued to perform the contractual obligations of the impaired or insolvent insurer;

(h) request information from a person seeking coverage from the association in order to aid the association in determining its obligations under this part with respect to the person. The person shall promptly comply with the request.

(i) take other necessary or appropriate action to discharge its duties and obligations under this part or to exercise its powers under this part.

(2) The association may render assistance and advice to the commissioner, upon request, concerning rehabilitation, liquidation, payment of claims, continuations of coverage, or the performance of other contractual obligations of any impaired or insolvent insurer.

(3) The association has standing to appear or intervene before any court in this state with jurisdiction over an impaired or insolvent insurer concerning which the association is or may become obligated under this part or before any court with jurisdiction over any person or property against which the association may have rights through subrogation or otherwise. The association's standing extends to all matters germane to the powers and duties of the association, including but not limited to proposals for reinsuring, modifying, or guaranteeing the covered policies of the impaired or insolvent insurer and the determination of the covered policies and contractual obligations. The association shall also have the right to appear or intervene before a court or agency in another state with jurisdiction over an impaired or insolvent insurer for which the association is or may become obligated or before a court with jurisdiction over any person or property against whom the association may have rights through subrogation or otherwise.

(4) The board of directors of the association may exercise reasonable business judgment to determine the means by which the association is to provide the benefits of this part in an economical and efficient manner.

(5) When the association has arranged or offered to provide the benefits of this part to a covered person under a plan or arrangement that fulfills the association's obligations under this part, the person is not entitled to benefits from the association in addition to or other than those provided under the plan or arrangement.

(6) Venue in a suit against the association arising under this part is in the first judicial district. The association is not required to give an appeal bond in an appeal that relates to a cause of action arising under this part.

33-10-206. Records of meetings and negotiations. Records must be kept of all negotiations and meetings of the board of directors held to discuss the activities of the association in carrying out its powers and duties under this part. Records of negotiations or meetings pertaining to an impaired or insolvent insurer may be made public only upon the termination of a liquidation, rehabilitation, or supervision proceeding involving the impaired or insolvent insurer, upon the termination of the impairment or insolvency of the insurer, or upon the order of a court of competent jurisdiction. This section does not limit the duty of the association to render a report of its activities under 33-10-209.

33-10-210. Unfair trade practice — notice to policyowners. (1) It is a prohibited unfair trade practice for any person to make use in any manner of the protection afforded by this part in the sale of insurance.

(2) The association shall prepare a summary document, complying with subsection (3) and describing the general purposes and current limitations of this part. The document must be submitted to the commissioner for approval. Sixty days after receiving approval, an insurer may not deliver a policy or contract described in 33-10-201(4) to a policyowner or contract owner unless the document is delivered to the policyowner or contract owner prior to or at the time of delivery of the policy or contract, unless subsection (4) of this section applies. The document must be available upon request by a policyowner. The distribution, delivery, contents, or interpretation of this document does not mean that either the policy or the contract or the owner of the policy or contract would be covered in the event of the impairment or insolvency of a member insurer. The description document must be revised by the association as amendments to this part may require. Failure to receive this document does not give the policyowner, contract owner, certificate holder, or insured any greater rights than those stated in this part.

(3) The document prepared under subsection (2) must contain a clear and conspicuous disclaimer on its face. The commissioner shall promulgate a rule establishing the form and content of the disclaimer. The disclaimer must:

(a) state the name and address of the life and health insurance guaranty association and insurance department;

(b) prominently warn the policyowner or contract owner that the life and health insurance guaranty association may not cover the policy or, if coverage is available, it will be subject to substantial limitations and exclusions and conditioned on continued residence in the state;

(c) state that the insurer and its insurance producers are prohibited by law from using the existence of the life and health insurance guaranty association for the purpose of sales, solicitation, or inducement to purchase any form of insurance;

(d) emphasize that the policyowner or contract owner should not rely on coverage under the life and health insurance guaranty association when selecting an insurer;

(e) provide other information as directed by the commissioner.

(4) An insurer or insurance producer may not deliver a policy or contract described in 33-10-201(4) and excluded under 33-10-201(10) from coverage under this part unless the insurer or insurance producer, prior to or at the time of delivery, gives the policyowner or contract owner a separate written notice that clearly and conspicuously discloses that the policy or contract is not covered by the life and health insurance guaranty association.

(5) The commissioner shall by rule specify the form and content of the notice required under subsection (4).

33-10-215. Duties and powers of commissioner. In addition to the duties and powers enumerated elsewhere in this part, the commissioner shall:

(1) notify the board of directors of the existence of an impaired or insolvent insurer not later than 3 days after a determination of impairment or insolvency is made or the commissioner receives notice of impairment or insolvency;

(2) upon request of the board of directors, provide the association with a statement of the premiums in the appropriate states for each member insurer;

(3) when an impairment or insolvency is declared and the amount of the impairment or insolvency is determined, serve a demand upon the impaired or insolvent insurer to make good the impairment or insolvency within a reasonable time. Notice to the impaired or insolvent insurer constitutes notice to its shareholders, if any. The failure of the insurer to promptly comply with the demand does not excuse the association from the performance of its powers and duties under this part.

(4) in any liquidation or rehabilitation proceeding involving a domestic insurer be appointed as the liquidator or rehabilitator. If a foreign or alien member insurer is subject to a liquidation proceeding in its domiciliary jurisdiction or state of entry, the commissioner must be appointed conservator.

(5) The commissioner may suspend or revoke, after notice and hearing, the certificate of authority to transact insurance in this state of any member insurer that fails to pay an assessment when due or fails to comply with the plan of operation. As an alternative, the commissioner may levy a fine on any member insurer that fails to pay an assessment when due. The fine may not exceed 5% of the unpaid assessment per month, except that the fine may not be less than $100 per month.

(6) A final action of the board of directors may be appealed to the commissioner by a member insurer if the appeal is taken within 60 days of the member insurer's receipt of notice of the final action being appealed. A final action or order of the commissioner is subject to judicial review in a court of competent jurisdiction in accordance with the laws of this state that apply to the actions or orders of the commissioner.

(7) The liquidator or rehabilitator of an impaired or insolvent insurer may notify all affected persons of the effect of this part.

33-10-216. Plan of operation — delegation of powers provision. (1) (a) The association shall submit to the commissioner a plan of operation and any amendments thereto necessary or suitable to assure the fair, reasonable, and equitable administration of the association. The plan of operation and any amendments thereto shall become effective upon approval in writing by the commissioner.

(b) If the association fails to submit a suitable plan of operation within 180 days following July 1, 1974, or if at any time thereafter the association fails to submit suitable amendments to the plan, the commissioner shall, after notice and hearing, adopt and promulgate such reasonable rules as are necessary or advisable to effectuate the provisions of this part. Such rules shall continue in force until modified by the commissioner or superseded by a plan submitted by the association and approved by the commissioner.

(2) All member insurers shall comply with the plan of operation.

(3) The plan of operation shall, in addition to requirements enumerated elsewhere in this part:

(a) establish procedures for handling the assets of the association;

(b) establish the amount and method of reimbursing members of the board of directors under 33-10-204;

(c) establish regular places and times for meetings of the board of directors;

(d) establish procedures for records to be kept of all financial transactions of the association, its insurance producers, and the board of directors;

(e) establish the procedures whereby selections for the board of directors will be made and submitted to the commissioner;

(f) establish any additional procedures for assessments under 33-10-227;

(g) contain additional provisions necessary or proper for the execution of the powers and duties of the association.

(4) The plan of operation may provide that any or all powers and duties of the association, except those under 33-10-205(1)(c) and 33-10-227, are delegated to a corporation, association, or other organization which performs or will perform functions similar to those of this association or its equivalent in two or more states. Such a corporation, association, or organization shall be reimbursed for any payments made on behalf of the association and shall be paid for its performance of any function of the association. A delegation under this subsection shall take effect only with the approval of both the board of directors and the commissioner and may be made only to a corporation, association, or organization which extends protection not substantially less favorable and effective than that provided by this part.

33-10-217. Prevention of insolvencies or impairments. (1) To aid in the detection and prevention of insurer insolvencies or impairments, the commissioner shall:

(a) (i) notify the commissioners of all the other states, the territories of the United States, and the District of Columbia when the commissioner takes any of the following actions against a member insurer:

(A) the revocation of a license;

(B) the suspension of a license; or

(C) the issuance of any formal order that the company restrict its premium writing, obtain additional contributions to surplus, withdraw from the state, reinsure all or any part of its business, or increase capital, surplus, or any other account for the security of policyowners or creditors;

(ii) mail the notice to all commissioners within 30 days following the action taken or the date on which the action occurs;

(b) report to the board of directors when the commissioner has taken any of the actions set forth in subsection (1)(a) or has received a report from any other commissioner indicating that an action has been taken in another state. The report to the board of directors must contain all significant details of the action taken or the report received from another commissioner.

(c) report to the board of directors when the commissioner has reasonable cause to believe from any examination, whether completed or in process, of any member company that the company may be an impaired or insolvent insurer; and

(d) furnish to the board of directors the national association of insurance commissioners' insurance regulatory information system (IRIS) ratios and listings of companies not included in the ratios developed by the national association of insurance commissioners. The board of directors may use the information contained in the ratios and listings in carrying out its duties and responsibilities under this section. The report and the information contained in the ratios and listings must be kept confidential by the board of directors until the time it is made public by the commissioner or other lawful authority.

(2) The commissioner may seek the advice and recommendations of the board of directors concerning any matter affecting the commissioner's duties and responsibilities regarding the financial condition of member insurers and companies seeking admission to transact insurance business in this state.

(3) The board of directors shall, upon majority vote, notify the commissioner of any information indicating any member insurer may be unable or potentially unable to fulfill its contractual obligations.

(4) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, request that the commissioner order an examination of any member insurer which the board in good faith believes may be unable or potentially unable to fulfill its contractual obligations.

(5) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, make reports and recommendations to the commissioner upon any matter germane to the solvency, liquidation, rehabilitation, or supervision of any member insurer or germane to the solvency of any company seeking to provide life or health insurance in this state. The reports and recommendations are not considered public documents.

(6) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, make recommendations to the commissioner for the detection and prevention of insurer impairments or insolvencies.

(7) The board of directors shall, at the conclusion of any insurer impairment or insolvency in which the association carried out its duties under this part or exercised any of its powers under this part, prepare a report on the history and causes of the impairment or insolvency, based on the information available to the association, and submit the report to the commissioner. The board of directors shall cooperate with the boards of directors of guaranty associations in other states in preparing a report on the history and causes of impairment or insolvency of a particular insurer and may adopt by reference any report prepared by other associations.

33-10-218. Examination by commissioner — cost. (1) The commissioner may conduct the examination requested by the board pursuant to 33-10-217(4). The examination may be conducted as a national association of insurance commissioners examination or may be conducted by persons whom the commissioner designates. The cost of the examination must be paid by the association, and the examination report must be treated as are other examination reports.

(2) The examination report may not be released to the board of directors of the association prior to its release to the public, but this may not excuse the commissioner from the obligation to comply with subsection (4). The commissioner shall notify the board of directors when the examination is completed.

(3) The request for an examination must be kept on file by the commissioner, but it may not be open to public inspection prior to the release of the examination report to the public and must be released at that time only if the examination discloses that the examined insurer is unable or potentially unable to meet its contractual obligations.

(4) The commissioner shall report to the board of directors when the commissioner has reasonable cause to believe that any member insurer examined at the request of the board of directors may be unable or potentially unable to fulfill its contractual obligations.

33-10-219. Impaired insurer — association's powers. If a member insurer is an impaired insurer, the association may, subject to any conditions imposed by the association other than those that impair the contractual obligations of the impaired insurer and that are approved by the commissioner:

(1) guarantee, assume, or reinsure or cause to be guaranteed, assumed, or reinsured all the covered policies of the impaired insurer; or

(2) provide money, pledges, notes, guarantees, or other means that are proper to effectuate this section and ensure payment of the contractual obligations of the impaired insurer pending action under this section.

33-10-220. Insolvent insurer — association's powers. (1) If an insurer is an insolvent insurer, the association shall, subject to the approval of the commissioner:

(a) guarantee, assume, or reinsure or cause to be guaranteed, assumed, or reinsured the covered policies of the insolvent insurer;

(b) ensure payment of the contractual obligations of the insolvent insurer and provide money, pledges, notes, guarantees, or other means that are reasonably necessary to discharge its duties; or

(c) provide benefits and coverages in accordance with the provisions of subsection (6).

(2) If the association fails to act within a reasonable period of time, the commissioner has the powers and duties of the association under this part with respect to a domestic, foreign, or alien insolvent insurer.

(3) In carrying out its duties under subsection (1), the association may request that there be imposed policy liens, contract liens, moratoriums on payments, or other similar means; and the liens, moratoriums, or similar means may be imposed if the commissioner:

(a) finds that the amounts that can be assessed under this part are less than the amounts needed to ensure full and prompt performance of the insolvent insurer's contractual obligations or that the economic or financial conditions as they affect member insurers are sufficiently adverse to render the imposition of policy or contract liens, moratoriums, or similar means to be in the public interest; and

(b) approves the specific policy liens, contract liens, moratoriums, or similar means to be used.

(4) Before being obligated under subsection (1), the association may request that there be imposed temporary moratoriums or liens on payments of cash values and policy loans, and the temporary moratoriums and liens may be imposed if they are approved by the commissioner.

(5) The association is not liable under 33-10-219 or this section for any covered policy of a foreign or alien insurer whose domiciliary jurisdiction or state of entry provides by statute or regulation for residents of this state protection substantially similar to that provided by this part for residents of other states.

(6) (a) If proceeding under this section, the association may, with respect to life and health insurance policies and annuities:

(i) ensure payment of benefits for premiums identical to the premiums and benefits, except for terms of conversion and renewability, that would have been payable under the policies of the insolvent insurer for claims incurred:

(A) with respect to group policies or contracts, not later than the earlier of the next renewal date under the policy or contract or 45 days, but in any event not less than 30 days, after the date on which the association becomes obligated with respect to the policies or contracts;

(B) with respect to individual policies or contracts, not later than the earlier of the next renewal date, if any, under the policies or contracts or 1 year, but in any event not less than 30 days, from the date on which the association becomes obligated with respect to the policies or contracts;

(ii) make diligent efforts to provide all known insureds, annuitants, or group policyowners with respect to group policies, 30 days' notice of the termination of the benefits provided; and

(iii) make available substitute coverage on an individual basis in accordance with subsection (6)(b) to each known insured or annuitant, or owner if other than the insured or annuitant, of an individual policy or contract and to any individual formerly insured under a group policy who is not eligible for replacement group coverage, if the insured or annuitant had a right under law or the terminated policy or contract to convert coverage to individual coverage or to continue an individual policy or annuity in force until a specified age or for a specified time during which the insurer had no right unilaterally to make changes in any provision of the policy or had a right only to make changes in premium by class.

(b) (i) In providing the substitute coverage required under subsection (6)(a)(iii), the association may offer to reissue the terminated coverage or issue an alternative policy.

(ii) Reissued or alternative policies must be offered without requiring evidence of insurability and may not provide for any waiting period or exclusion that would not have applied under the terminated policy.

(iii) The association may reinsure any reissued or alternative policy.

(c) (i) Alternative policies adopted by the association are subject to the approval of the commissioner. The association may adopt alternative policies of various types for future issuance without regard to any particular impairment or insolvency.

(ii) Alternative policies must contain at least the minimum statutory provisions required in this state and provide benefits that are not unreasonable in relation to the premium charged. The association shall set the premium in accordance with a table of rates that it shall adopt. The premium must reflect the amount of insurance to be provided and the age and class of risk of each insured, but may not reflect any changes in the health of the insured after the original policy was last underwritten.

(iii) Alternative policies issued by the association shall provide coverage of a type similar to that of the policy issued by the insolvent insurer, as determined by the association.

(d) If the association elects to reissue terminated coverage at a premium different from that charged under the terminated policy, the premium must be set by:

(i) the association in accordance with the amount of insurance provided and the age and class of risk, subject to approval of the commissioner; or

(ii) a court of competent jurisdiction.

(e) The association's obligation with respect to coverage under any policy or contract of the insolvent insurer or under any reissued or alternative policy ceases on the date the coverage or policy is replaced by another similar policy by the policyowner, insured, or association.

(f) When proceeding under this section with respect to a policy or contract carrying guaranteed minimum interest rates, the association shall ensure the payment or crediting of a rate of interest consistent with 33-10-201(10).

(7) In carrying out its duties under this section, the association may, subject to the approval of the receivership court, issue substitute coverage for a policy or contract that provides an interest rate, crediting rate, or similar factor determined by use of an index or other external reference stated in the policy or contract employed in calculating returns or changes in value by issuing an alternative policy or contract in accordance with the following provisions:

(a) in lieu of the index or other external reference provided for in the original policy or contract, the alternative policy or contract provides for:

(i) a fixed interest rate;
(ii) payment of dividends with minimum guarantees; or
(iii) a different method for calculating interest or changes in value;
(b) there is not a requirement for evidence of insurability, waiting period, or other exclusion that would not have applied under the replaced policy or contract; and
(c) the alternative policy or contract is substantially similar to the replaced policy or contract in all other material terms.

(8) Nonpayment of premiums within 31 days after the date required under the terms of any guaranteed, assumed, alternative, or reissued policy or contract or substitute coverage terminates the association's obligations under the policy or coverage under this part with respect to the policy or coverage, except with respect to any claims incurred or any net cash surrender value that may be due in accordance with the provisions of this part.

(9) Premiums due for coverage after entry of an order of liquidation of an insolvent insurer belong to and are payable at the direction of the association, and the association is liable only for unearned premiums due to policyowners or contract owners arising after the entry of the order of liquidation.

(10) The protection provided by this part does not apply when any guaranty protection is provided to residents of this state by the laws of the domiciliary state or jurisdiction of the insolvent insurer that is other than this state.

33-10-222. Stay of proceedings — reopening default judgments. (1) All proceedings in which the impaired or insolvent insurer is a party in any court in this state must be stayed 60 days from the date an order of liquidation, rehabilitation, or supervision is final to permit proper legal action by the association on any matters germane to its powers or duties.

(2) As to a judgment under any decision, order, verdict, or finding based on default, the association may apply to have the judgment set aside by the same court that made the judgment and must be permitted to defend against the suit on the merits.

33-10-223. Assignment by beneficiaries — subrogation. (1) Any person receiving benefits under this part must be considered to have assigned the person's rights under the covered policy or contract, pertaining to any causes of action against the person for losses resulting from or otherwise relating to the covered policy or contract, to the association to the extent of the benefits received because of this part whether the benefits are payments of contractual obligations or continuation of coverage or provision of substitute or alternative coverage. The association may require an assignment to it of the rights by any payee, policyowner or contract owner, beneficiary, insured, or annuitant as a condition precedent to the receipt of any rights or benefits conferred by this part upon the person. The association must be subrogated to these rights against the assets of any impaired insurer.

(2) The subrogation rights of the association under this section have the same priority against the assets of the impaired insurer as that possessed by the person entitled to receive benefits under this part.

(3) In addition to the rights detailed in this section, the association has all common-law rights of subrogation and any other equitable or legal remedy that would have been available to the impaired or insolvent insurer or owner, beneficiary, or payee of a policy or contract with respect to the policy or contract, including without limitation, in the case of a structured settlement annuity, any rights of the owner, beneficiary, or payee of the annuity, to the extent of benefits received pursuant to this part, against a person originally or by succession responsible for the losses arising from the personal injury relating to the annuity, except for any person responsible solely by reason of serving as an assignee with respect to a qualified assignment under section 130 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(4) If subsections (1) through (3) are invalid or ineffective with respect to any person or claim for any reason, the amount payable by the association with respect to the related covered obligations must be reduced by the amount realized by any other person with respect to the person or claim that is attributable to the policy or a portion of the policy covered by the association.

(5) If the association has provided benefits with respect to a covered obligation and a person recovers any amount to which the association has rights as described in this section, the person shall pay to the association the portion of the recovery attributable to the policy or a portion of the policy covered by the association.

33-10-224. Extent of liability. (1) The benefits for which the association may become liable may not exceed the lesser of:

(a) the contractual obligations of the impaired or insolvent insurer for which the insurer becomes or would have become liable if it were not an impaired or insolvent insurer; or

(b) (i) except as provided in subsection (2), with respect to any one life, regardless of the number of policies or contracts:

(A) $300,000 in life insurance death benefits, but not more than $100,000 in net cash surrender and net cash withdrawal values for life insurance;

(B) in health insurance benefits:

(I) $500,000 for basic hospital, medical, and surgical insurance or major medical insurance as defined in the covered policy or contract;

(II) $300,000 for disability insurance as defined in the covered policy or contract;

(III) $100,000, including any net cash surrender and net cash withdrawal values, for coverages not included in (1)(b)(i)(B)(I) and (1)(b)(i)(B)(II);

(C) $100,000 in the present value of annuity benefits, including net cash surrender and net cash withdrawal values;

(ii) with respect to each individual participating in a governmental retirement plan established under section 401, 403(b), or 457 of the Internal Revenue Code and covered by an unallocated annuity contract or with respect to the beneficiaries of each individual, if deceased, in the aggregate, $100,000 in present value annuity benefits, including net cash surrender and net cash withdrawal values;

(iii) with respect to any one contract owner covered by any unallocated annuity contract not included in subsection (1)(b)(ii), $5 million in benefits, irrespective of the number of contracts held by that contract owner;

(iv) with respect to each payee of a structured settlement annuity or beneficiary of the payee if the payee is deceased, $100,000 in present value annuity benefits, in the aggregate, including net cash surrender and net cash withdrawal values, if any;

(v) with respect to either one contract owner provided coverage under 33-10-201(6) or one plan sponsor whose plans own directly or in trust one or more unallocated annuity contracts not included in subsection (1)(b)(ii), $5 million in benefits, irrespective of the number of contracts held by the contract owner or plan sponsor. If one or more unallocated annuity contracts are covered contracts under this part and are owned by a trust or other entity for the benefit of two or more plan sponsors, coverage must be afforded by the association if the largest interest in the trust or entity owning the contract or contracts is held by a plan sponsor whose principal place of business is in this state, and in any event, the association is not obligated to cover more than $5 million in benefits with respect to all these unallocated contracts.

(2) The association is not obligated to cover more than:

(a) an aggregate of $300,000 in benefits with respect to any one life under subsections (1)(b)(i), (1)(b)(ii), and (1)(b)(iii), except with respect to benefits for basic hospital, medical, and surgical insurance and major medical insurance under subsection (1)(b)(i), in which case the aggregate liability of the association may not exceed $500,000 with respect to any one individual; and

(b) with respect to one owner of multiple nongroup policies of life insurance, whether the policyowner is an individual, firm, corporation, or other person and whether the persons insured are officers, managers, employees, or other persons, $5 million in benefits, regardless of the number of policies and contracts held by the owner.

(3) The limitations set forth in this section are limitations on the benefits for which the association is obligated before taking into account either its subrogation and assignment rights or the extent to which those benefits could be provided out of the assets of the impaired or insolvent insurer attributable to covered policies. The costs of the association's obligations under this part may be met by the use of assets attributable to covered policies or reimbursed to the association pursuant to its subrogation and assignment rights.

(4) In performing its obligations to provide coverage under this part, the association is not required to guarantee, assume, reinsure, or perform or cause to be guaranteed, assumed, reinsured, or performed the contractual obligations of the impaired or insolvent insurer under a covered policy or contract that do not materially affect the economic values or economic benefits of the covered policy or contract.

33-10-225. Association as creditor — use of assets. (1) For the purpose of carrying out its obligations under this part, the association shall be deemed to be a creditor of the impaired insurer to the extent of assets attributable to covered policies reduced by any amounts to which the association is entitled as subrogee pursuant to 33-10-223.

(2) All assets of the impaired insurer attributable to covered policies shall be used to continue all covered policies and pay all contractual obligations of the impaired insurer as required by this part. Assets attributable to covered policies, as used in this section, is that proportion of the assets which the reserves that should have been established for such policies bear to the reserve that should have been established for all policies of insurance written by the impaired insurer.

(1) Prior to the termination of any liquidation, rehabilitation, or supervision proceeding, the court may take into consideration the contributions of the respective parties, including the association, the shareholders, and policyowners of the impaired or insolvent insurer and any other party with a bona fide interest, in making an equitable distribution of the ownership rights of the impaired or insolvent insurer. In the determination, consideration must be given to the welfare of the policyowners of the continuing or successor insurer.

(2) A distribution to stockholders, if any, of an impaired or insolvent insurer may not be made until and unless the total amount of assessments levied by the association with respect to the insurer have been fully recovered by the association.

33-10-227. Assessments — abatement — basis for ratesetting. (1) For the purpose of providing the funds necessary to carry out the powers and duties of the association, the board of directors shall assess the member insurers, separately for each account, at the times and for the amounts as the board finds necessary. The board shall collect the assessments after 30 days' written notice to the member insurers before payment is due.

(2) There are two classes of assessments, as follows:

(a) Class A assessments must be made for the purpose of meeting administrative costs and other general expenses not related to a particular impaired or insolvent insurer.

(b) Class B assessments must be made to the extent necessary to carry out the powers and duties of the association under 33-10-219 and 33-10-220 with regard to an impaired or insolvent insurer.

(3) (a) The amount of any Class A assessment for each account must be determined by the board. The amount of any Class B assessment must be divided among the accounts in the proportion that the premiums received by the impaired or insolvent insurer on the policies covered by each account bear to the premiums received by the insurer on all covered policies.

(b) Class B assessments against member insurers for each account must be in the proportion that the premiums received on business in this state by each assessed member insurer on policies covered by each account bear to the premiums received on business in this state by all assessed member insurers.

(c) Assessments for funds to meet the requirements of the association with respect to an impaired or insolvent insurer may not be made until necessary to implement the purposes of this part. Classification of assessments under subsection (2) and computation of assessments under this subsection must be made with a reasonable degree of accuracy, recognizing that exact determinations may not always be possible.

(4) The association may abate or defer, in whole or in part, the assessment of a member insurer if, in the opinion of the board, payment of the assessment would endanger the ability of the member insurer to fulfill its contractual obligations. The total of all assessments upon a member insurer for each account may not in any 1 calendar year exceed 2% of the insurer's premiums in this state on the policies covered by the account.

(5) In the event an assessment against a member insurer is abated or deferred, in whole or in part, because of the limitations set forth in subsection (4), the amount by which the assessment is abated or deferred must be assessed against the other member insurers in a manner consistent with the basis for assessments set forth in this section. If the maximum assessment, together with the other assets of the association in either account, does not provide in any 1 year in either account an amount sufficient to carry out the responsibilities of the association, the necessary additional funds must be assessed as soon after that year as permitted by this part.

(6) If a 1% assessment for any subaccount of the life insurance account and the annuity account in any 1 year does not provide an amount sufficient to carry out the responsibilities of the association, then pursuant to subsection (3)(b), the board shall assess all subaccounts of the life insurance account and the annuity account for the necessary additional amount, subject to the maximum assessment stated in subsection (4).

(7) The board may, by an equitable method as established in the plan of operation, refund to member insurers, in proportion to the contribution of each insurer to that account, the amount by which the assets of the account exceed the amount the board finds is necessary to carry out during the coming year the obligations of the association with regard to that amount, including assets accruing from net realized gains and income from investments. A reasonable amount may be retained in any account to provide funds for the continuing expenses of the association and for future losses if refunds are impractical.

(8) It is proper for any member insurer, in determining its premium rates and policyowner dividends as to any kind of insurance within the scope of this part, to consider the amount reasonably necessary to meet its assessment obligations under this part.

(9) The association shall issue to each insurer paying an assessment under this part a certificate of contribution, in a form prescribed by the commissioner, for the amount paid. All outstanding certificates must be of equal dignity and priority without reference to amounts or dates of issue. A certificate of contribution may be shown by the insurer in its financial statement as an asset in that form and for the amount, if any, and period of time that the commissioner may approve.

33-10-228. Suspension for failure to pay — forfeiture — appeal from board actions. (1) The commissioner may suspend or revoke, after notice and hearing, the certificate of authority to transact insurance in this state of any member insurer which fails to pay an assessment when due or fails to comply with the plan of operation. As an alternative the commissioner may levy a forfeiture on any member insurer which fails to pay an assessment when due. Such forfeiture shall not exceed 5% of the unpaid assessment per month, but no forfeiture shall be less than $100 per month.

(2) Any action of the board of directors or the association may be appealed to the commissioner by any member insurer if such appeal is taken within 30 days of the action being appealed. Any final action or order of the commissioner shall be subject to judicial review in a court of competent jurisdiction.

33-10-230. Tax — writeoffs of certificates of contribution. (1) Unless a longer period has been allowed by the commissioner, a member insurer shall at its option have the right to show a certificate of contribution for a Class B assessment only as an asset in the form approved by the commissioner pursuant to 33-10-227(9), at percentages of the original face amount approved by the commissioner, for calendar years as follows:

(a) 100% for calendar year of issuance;

(b) 80% for the first calendar year after year of issuance;

(c) 60% for second calendar year after year of issuance;

(d) 40% for third calendar year after year of issuance;

(e) 20% for fourth calendar year after year of issuance.

(2) The insurer may offset the amount written off by it in the calendar year under subsection (1) above against its premium tax liability to this state accrued with respect to business transacted in the calendar year.

(3) Any sums acquired by refund, pursuant to 33-10-227(7), from the association which have therefore been written off by contributing insurers and offset against premium taxes as provided in subsection (2) above and are not then needed for purposes of this part must be paid by the association to the commissioner and deposited by the commissioner with the state treasurer for credit to the general fund of this state.

33-10-235. Association election to continue reinsurance. (1) Within 1 year after the coverage date, which is the date that the association becomes responsible for the obligations of a member insurer, the association may elect to succeed to the rights and obligations of a member insurer that accrued on or after the coverage date under an indemnity reinsurance agreement entered into by the member insurer as the ceding insurer. The association may not exercise an election with respect to a reinsurance agreement if the rehabilitator or liquidator of the member insurer has previously expressly disaffirmed the agreement.

(2) The election to succeed to the rights and obligations of the member insurer must be accomplished through notice to the supervisor, rehabilitator, or liquidator and to the affected reinsurers.

(3) If the association makes an election, the association:

(a) is responsible for all unpaid premiums due under the agreements for the periods before and after the coverage date and is responsible for the performance of all obligations to be performed after the coverage date in each contract covered, either in whole or in part, by the association. The association may charge contracts covered in part by the association the costs for reinsurance in excess of the obligations of the association, using reasonable allocation methods.

(b) is entitled to any amounts payable by the reinsurer under the agreements with respect to losses or events that occur in periods after the coverage date and that relate to contracts covered by the association, in whole or in part. In order to receive these amounts, the association must be obligated to pay the beneficiary of the underlying policy or contract a portion of the amount equal to the excess of the amount received by the association minus:

(i) the benefits paid by the association under the policy or contract; and

(ii) any amount properly retained by the impaired or insolvent insurer for the loss or event.

(c) shall calculate, within 30 days of the election, the net balance due to or from the association under each reinsurance agreement as of the date of the association's election, giving full credit to all items paid to either the member insurer, its rehabilitator or liquidator, or the indemnity reinsurer during the period between the coverage date and the date of the association's election. Either the association or the indemnity insurer shall pay the net balance due the other within 5 days of completion of the calculation. If the rehabilitator or liquidator has received any amount under this section, the rehabilitator or liquidator shall remit it to the association as soon as practicable.

(4) If, within 60 days of the election, the association pays the premiums due for the periods before and after the coverage date that relate to the contracts covered by the association, either in whole or in part, the reinsurer may not terminate the reinsurance agreement insofar as the agreement relates to contracts covered by the association, in whole or in part, and is not entitled to set off any unpaid premium due for periods prior to the coverage date against amounts due the association.

(5) The association may transfer any rights or obligations under this section to a third-party insurer under terms agreed upon by the association and the third-party insurer.

(6) Except as otherwise expressly stated in this section, this section may not be construed to alter or modify the terms and conditions of the reinsurance agreement of an insolvent member insurer. This section is not intended to:

(a) abrogate or limit any rights of a reinsurer to claim that it is entitled to rescind a reinsurance agreement; or

(b) give a policyowner or beneficiary an independent cause of action against an insurer that is not otherwise provided for in the reinsurance agreement.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 195, L. 2003.

33-10-236. Deposits paid to association. (1) A deposit in this state that is held pursuant to law or required by the commissioner to be held for the benefit of creditors, including policyowners, and that is not turned over to the liquidator upon entry of the final order of liquidation or upon entry of the order approving a rehabilitation plan of an insurer domiciled in this state or in a reciprocal state pursuant to 33-2-1381 must be promptly paid to the association.

(2) The association is entitled to retain a portion of any amount paid under this section equal to the percentage determined by dividing the aggregate amount of policyowner claims related to the insolvency for which the association has provided statutory benefits by the aggregate amount of all policyowner claims in this state related to the insolvency. The association shall remit to the domiciliary receiver the amount paid to the association and not retained under this section.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 195, L. 2003.

Part 1
General Provisions

33-11-101. Purpose. The purpose of this part is to regulate the formation and operation of risk retention groups and purchasing groups in this state formed pursuant to the provisions of the federal Liability Risk Retention Act of 1986 (15 U.S.C. 3901, et seq.).

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 249, L. 1987.

33-11-102. Definitions. As used in this part, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Completed operations liability" means:

(a) liability arising out of the installation, maintenance, or repair of any product at a site that is not owned or controlled by:

(i) a person who performs that work; or

(ii) a person who hires an independent contractor to perform that work; and

(b) liability for activities that are completed or abandoned before the date of the occurrence giving rise to the liability.

(2) "Domicile", for purposes of determining the state where a purchasing group is domiciled, means:

(a) for a corporation, the state where the purchasing group is incorporated; and

(b) for an unincorporated entity, the state of its principal place of business.

(3) "Hazardous financial condition" means that, based on its present or reasonably anticipated financial condition, a risk retention group, although not yet financially impaired or insolvent, is unlikely to be able to:

(a) meet obligations to policyholders with respect to known claims and reasonably anticipated claims; or

(b) pay other obligations in the normal course of business.

(4) "Insurance" means primary insurance, excess insurance, reinsurance, surplus line insurance, and any other arrangement for shifting and distributing risk that is determined to be insurance under the laws of this state.

(5) (a) "Liability" means legal liability for damages, including costs of defense, legal costs and fees, and other claims expenses, because of injuries to other persons, damage to their property, or other damage or loss to other persons resulting from or arising out of:

(i) a business, whether profit or nonprofit, trade, product, service (including professional service), premises, or operation; or

(ii) an activity of any state or local government or an agency or political subdivision of state or local government.

(b) The term does not include personal risk liability or an employer's liability with respect to its employees other than legal liability under the federal Employers' Liability Act, 45 U.S.C. 51 through 60. As used in this subsection, "personal risk liability" means liability for damages because of injury to any person, damage to property, or other loss or damage resulting from personal, familial, or household responsibilities or activities rather than from responsibilities or activities referred to in subsection (5)(a).

(6) "Plan of operation or a feasibility study" means an analysis that presents the expected activities and results of a risk retention group, including at a minimum:

(a) the coverages, deductibles, coverage limits, rates, and rating classification systems for each line of insurance the group intends to offer;

(b) historical and expected loss experience of the proposed members and national experience of similar exposures to the extent this experience is reasonably available;

(c) pro forma financial statements and projections;

(d) appropriate opinions by a qualified independent casualty actuary, including a determination of minimum premium or participation levels required to commence operations and to prevent a hazardous financial condition;

(e) identification of management, underwriting procedures, managerial oversight methods, and investment policies; and

(f) other matters as may be prescribed by the commissioner for liability insurance companies authorized by the insurance laws of the state where the risk retention group is chartered.

(7) "Purchasing group" means a group that:

(a) has as one of its purposes the purchase of liability insurance on a group basis;

(b) purchases liability insurance only for its group members and only to cover their similar or related liability exposure, as described in subsection (7)(c);

(c) is composed of members whose businesses or activities are similar or related with respect to the liability to which members are exposed by virtue of any related, similar, or common business, trade, product, service, premises, or operation; and

(d) is domiciled in any state.

(8) "Risk retention group" means a corporation or other limited liability association formed under the laws of any state, Bermuda, or the Cayman Islands:

(a) whose primary activity consists of assuming and spreading all or any portion of the liability exposure of its group members;

(b) that is organized for the primary purpose of conducting the activity described under subsection (8)(a);

(c) (i) that is chartered and licensed as a liability insurance company and authorized to engage in the business of insurance under the laws of any state; or

(ii) that, before January 1, 1985, was chartered or licensed and authorized to engage in the business of insurance under the laws of Bermuda or the Cayman Islands and, before that date, had certified to the insurance regulatory official of at least one state that it satisfied the capitalization requirements of that state. However, the group is considered to be a risk retention group only if it has been engaged in business continuously since January 1, 1985, and only for the purpose of continuing to provide insurance to cover product liability or completed operations liability. For purposes of this subsection (8), "product liability" means liability for damages because of any personal injury, death, emotional harm, consequential economic damage, or property damage, including damages resulting from the loss of use of property, arising out of the manufacture, design, importation, distribution, packaging, labeling, lease, or sale of a product but does not include the liability of any person for those damages if the product involved was in the possession of that person when the incident giving rise to the claim occurred.

(d) that does not exclude any person from membership in the group solely to provide to members of the group a competitive advantage over the person;

(e) (i) that has as its members only persons who have an ownership interest in the group and that has as its owners only persons who are members and who are provided insurance by the risk retention group; or

(ii) that has as its sole member and sole owner an organization that is owned by persons who are provided insurance by the risk retention group;

(f) whose members are engaged in businesses or activities that are similar or related with respect to the liability to which the members are exposed by virtue of any related, similar, or common business, trade, product, service, premises, or operation;

(g) whose activities do not include the provision of insurance other than:

(i) liability insurance for assuming and spreading all or any portion of the liability of its group members; and

(ii) reinsurance with respect to the liability of any other risk retention group or member of the other group that is engaged in businesses or activities so that the group or member meets the requirement described in subsection (8)(f) for membership in the risk retention group that provides the reinsurance; and

(h) whose name includes the phrase "risk retention group".

(9) "State" means any state of the United States or the District of Columbia.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 249, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 41, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-11-103. Chartering — licensing — plan of operation. (1) A risk retention group seeking to be chartered in this state must be chartered and licensed to write only casualty insurance pursuant to the insurance laws of this state and, except as provided in this part, shall comply with all of the laws, rules, regulations, and requirements applicable to the insurers chartered and authorized in this state, including 33-11-104, to the extent that the requirements are not a limitation on laws, rules, regulations, or requirements of this state. Before it may offer insurance in any state, the risk retention group shall also submit for approval to the commissioner a plan of operation or a feasibility study and revisions of the plan or study if the group intends to offer any additional lines of liability insurance.

(2) At the time of filing its application for charter, the risk retention group shall provide to the commissioner in summary form the following information:

(a) the identity of the initial members of the risk retention group;

(b) the identity of those individuals who organized the risk retention group or who will provide administrative services or otherwise influence or control the activities of the risk retention group;

(c) the amount and nature of initial capitalization;

(d) the coverages to be afforded; and

(e) the states in which the risk retention group intends to operate.

(3) Upon receipt of the information required under subsection (2), the commissioner shall forward the information to the national association of insurance commissioners. Providing this information to the national association of insurance commissioners does not satisfy the requirements of 33-11-104 or any other section of this chapter.

(4) All risk retention groups chartered in this state shall file with the department and the national association of insurance commissioners an annual statement in a form prescribed by the national association of insurance commissioners and in diskette form, if required by the commissioner, and completed in accordance with its instructions and the national association of insurance commissioners' accounting practices and procedures manual.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 249, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 63, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-11-104. Risk retention groups not chartered in this state. A risk retention group chartered in a state other than this state and seeking to do business as a risk retention group in this state must observe and abide by the laws of this state as follows:

(1) Before offering insurance in this state, a risk retention group shall submit to the commissioner:

(a) a statement identifying the state or states where the risk retention group is chartered and authorized as a casualty insurer, date of chartering, its principal place of business, and other information, including information on its membership, as the commissioner requires to verify that the risk retention group is qualified under 33-11-102(8);

(b) a copy of its plan of operation or a feasibility study and revisions of the plan or study submitted to its state of domicile. However, this provision relating to the submission of a plan of operation or a feasibility study does not apply with respect to any line or classification of liability insurance that was defined in the federal Product Liability Risk Retention Act of 1981 (15 U.S.C. 3901 through 3904) before it was amended by Public Law 99-563, approved on October 27, 1986, and that was offered before that date by a risk retention group that had been chartered and operated for not less than 3 years before that date; and

(c) a statement of registration that designates the commissioner as its agent for the purpose of receiving service of legal documents or process.

(2) A risk retention group doing business in this state shall submit to the commissioner:

(a) a copy of the group's financial statement submitted to its state of domicile, which must be certified by an independent public accountant and contain a statement of opinion on loss and loss adjustment expense reserves made by a member of the American academy of actuaries or by a qualified loss reserve specialist under criteria established by the national association of insurance commissioners;

(b) a copy of each examination of the risk retention group as certified by the insurance regulatory official of the state in which the examination was conducted or public official conducting the examination;

(c) upon request by the commissioner, a copy of any audit performed with respect to the risk retention group; and

(d) any information as may be required to verify the group's continuing qualification as a risk retention group under 33-11-102(8).

(3) (a) Each risk retention group is liable for the payment of premium taxes and taxes on premiums of direct business for risks resident or located within this state and shall report to the commissioner the net premiums written for risks resident or located within this state. The risk retention group is subject to taxation and any applicable interest, fines, and penalties for nonpayment that apply to foreign admitted insurers.

(b) To the extent that an insurance producer is used, the insurance producer shall report to the commissioner the premiums of direct business for risks resident or located within this state that the licensees have placed with or on behalf of a risk retention group not chartered in this state.

(c) To the extent that an insurance producer is used, the insurance producer shall keep a complete and separate record of all policies procured from each risk retention group. The record is open to examination by the commissioner, as provided in 33-1-408. The records must, for each policy and each kind of insurance provided under the policy, include the limit of liability, the time period covered, the effective date, the name of the risk retention group that issued the policy, the gross premium charged, and the amount of return premiums, if any.

(4) Each risk retention group, its insurance producers, and its representatives shall comply with Title 33, chapter 18, part 2.

(5) Each risk retention group shall comply with the provisions of Title 33, chapter 18, part 2, regarding deceptive, false, or fraudulent acts or practices. However, if the commissioner seeks an injunction regarding the risk retention group's conduct, the injunction must be obtained from a court of competent jurisdiction.

(6) Each risk retention group shall submit to an examination by the commissioner to determine its financial condition if the insurance regulatory official of the jurisdiction where the group is chartered has not initiated an examination or does not initiate an examination within 60 days after a request by the commissioner. The examination must be coordinated to avoid unjustified repetition and be conducted in an expeditious manner in accordance with the national association of insurance commissioners examiners handbook.

(7) Each policy issued by a risk retention group must contain, in 10-point type on the front page and the declaration page, the following notice:

"NOTICE

This policy is issued by your risk retention group. Your risk retention group may not be subject to all of the insurance laws and regulations of your state. State insurance insolvency guaranty funds are not available for your risk retention group."

(8) The following acts by a risk retention group are prohibited:

(a) the solicitation or sale of insurance by a risk retention group to any person who is not eligible for membership in the group; and

(b) the solicitation or sale of insurance by or operation of a risk retention group that is in a hazardous financial condition or is financially impaired.

(9) A risk retention group is not allowed to do business in this state if an insurer is directly or indirectly a member or owner of the risk retention group, other than in the case of a risk retention group all of whose members are insurers.

(10) A risk retention group may not offer insurance policy coverage declared unlawful by the Montana supreme court.

(11) A risk retention group not chartered in this state and doing business in this state shall comply with a lawful order issued in a voluntary dissolution proceeding or in a delinquency proceeding commenced by the insurance regulatory official of any state if there has been a finding of financial impairment after an examination under subsection (6).

(12) Upon completion of registration requirements, the commissioner shall issue to the risk retention group a proper certificate of registration.

(13) A risk retention group that violates any provision of this chapter is subject to fines and penalties, including revocation of the right to do business in this state, applicable to licensed insurers generally.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 249, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 14, Ch. 451, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 64, Ch. 596, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 42, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-11-105. Compulsory associations. (1) A risk retention group may not join or contribute financially to any insurance insolvency guaranty fund or similar mechanism in this state. In addition, a risk retention group or its insureds may not receive any benefit from any guaranty fund for claims arising out of the operations of the risk retention group.

(2) (a) Except as provided in subsection (2)(b), a risk retention group shall participate in this state's joint underwriting associations, mandatory liability pools, and similar mechanisms.

(b) A risk retention group is excluded from participating in the joint underwriting association provided for in 33-23-508 and related financing mechanisms.

(3) When a purchasing group obtains insurance covering its members' risks from an insurer not authorized in this state or from a risk retention group, the risks, wherever resident or located, may not be covered by any insurance guaranty fund or similar mechanism in this state.

(4) When a purchasing group obtains insurance covering its members' risks from an authorized insurer, only risks resident or located in this state may be covered by the state guaranty fund, subject to Title 33, chapter 10, part 1.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 249, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 56, Ch. 10, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 65, Ch. 596, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 21, Ch. 475, L. 2005.

Compiler's Comments

2005 Amendment: Chapter 475 in (2)(a) at beginning inserted exception clause; inserted (2)(b) excluding a risk retention group from a joint underwriting association and related financing mechanisms; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective October 1, 2005.

33-11-106. Repealed. Sec. 73, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 249, L. 1987.

33-11-107. Purchasing groups — exemption from certain laws relating to group purchase of insurance. A purchasing group meeting the criteria established under the provisions of the federal Liability Risk Retention Act of 1986 (15 U.S.C. 3901, et seq.) is exempt from any law of this state relating to the formation of groups for the purchase of insurance, prohibition of group purchasing, or any law that would discriminate against a purchasing group or its members. In addition, an insurer is exempt from any law of this state that prohibits providing or offering to provide to a purchasing group or its members advantages based on their loss and expense experience not afforded to other persons with respect to rates, policy forms, coverages, or other matters. A purchasing group is subject to all other applicable laws of this state.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 249, L. 1987.

33-11-108. Notice and registration requirements of purchasing groups. (1) A purchasing group that intends to do business in this state shall furnish notice to the commissioner that:

(a) identifies the state where the group is domiciled and all other states in which the group intends to do business;

(b) specifies the lines and classifications of liability insurance that the purchasing group intends to purchase;

(c) identifies the insurer from which the purchasing group intends to purchase its insurance and the domicile of that insurer;

(d) identifies the Montana-licensed insurance producer or Montana-licensed surplus lines insurance producer through which the purchasing group intends to place its business;

(e) identifies the principal place of business of the purchasing group;

(f) provides information required by the commissioner to verify that the purchasing group is qualified under 33-11-102(7); and

(g) identifies the person or persons controlling the activities of the group and includes biographical information on the person or persons.

(2) The purchasing group shall register with and designate the commissioner as its agent solely for the purpose of receiving service of legal documents or process. However, the requirements do not apply in the case of a purchasing group:

(a) (i) that was domiciled before April 2, 1986, in any state of the United States; and

(ii) that was domiciled on and after October 27, 1986, in any state of the United States;

(b) (i) that, before October 27, 1986, purchased insurance from an insurer licensed in any state; and

(ii) that, since October 27, 1986, purchased its insurance from an insurer licensed in any state;

(c) that was a purchasing group under the requirements of the federal Product Liability Risk Retention Act of 1981 (15 U.S.C. 3901 through 3904) before it was amended by Public Law 99-563, approved on October 27, 1986; and

(d) that does not purchase insurance that was not authorized for purposes of an exemption under the federal Product Liability Risk Retention Act of 1981, as in effect before October 27, 1986.

(3) Upon completion of registration requirements, the commissioner shall issue a proper certificate of registration to the purchasing group.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 249, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 180, L. 1991; amd. Sec. 15, Ch. 451, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 66, Ch. 596, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 43, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-11-109. Restriction on insurance purchased by purchasing groups. (1) A purchasing group may not purchase insurance from a risk retention group that is not chartered in a state or from an insurer not authorized in the state where the purchasing group is located, unless the purchase is effected through a licensed insurance producer acting pursuant to the surplus lines laws and regulations of that state.

(2) For purposes of subsection (1), the state where a purchasing group is located is each state where a member of the purchasing group has a risk resident, located, or to be performed.

(3) A purchasing group that obtains liability insurance from an insurer not admitted in this state or from a risk retention group shall inform each of the members of the group who have a risk resident or located in this state that the risk is not protected by an insurance insolvency guaranty fund in this state and that the insurer or risk retention group may not be subject to all insurance laws and regulations of this state.

(4) A purchasing group may not purchase insurance that provides for a deductible or self-insured retention applicable to the group as a whole. Coverage may provide for a deductible or self-insured retention applicable to individual members.

(5) Purchases of insurance by purchasing groups are subject to the same standards regarding aggregate limits that are applicable to all purchases of group insurance.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 249, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 67, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-11-110. Taxation of purchasing group. Premium taxes and taxes on premiums paid for coverage of risks resident or located in this state by a purchasing group or any members of the purchasing group must be:

(1) imposed at the same rate and subject to the same interest, fines, and penalties as those applicable to premium taxes and taxes on premiums paid to surplus lines insurers and authorized insurers, pursuant to 33-2-311 and 33-2-705, respectively; and

(2) paid by the authorized or surplus lines insurers and, if not paid by them, paid by the insurance producer for the purchasing group and, if not paid by the insurance producer, paid by the purchasing group and, if not paid by the purchasing group, paid by each of its members.

History: En. Sec. 34, Ch. 596, L. 1993.

33-11-111 through 33-11-120 reserved.

33-11-121. Administrative and procedural authority regarding risk retention groups and purchasing groups. The commissioner is authorized to use any powers established under this title to enforce the laws of this state so long as those powers are not specifically preempted by the federal Liability Risk Retention Act of 1986 (15 U.S.C. 3901, et seq.). The commissioner's powers include but are not limited to the commissioner's administrative authority to investigate, issue subpoenas, conduct depositions and hearings, issue orders, and impose penalties. With regard to any investigation, administrative proceedings, or litigation, the commissioner may rely on the procedural law and regulations of the state. The injunctive authority of the commissioner in regard to risk retention groups is restricted by the requirement that any injunction be issued by a court of competent jurisdiction.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 249, L. 1987.

33-11-122. Penalties. A risk retention group that violates any provision of this part is subject to fines and penalties applicable to licensed insurers generally, including revocation of its license to do business in this state.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 249, L. 1987.

33-11-123. Duty of insurance producers to obtain license. A person acting or offering to act as an insurance producer for a risk retention group or purchasing group that solicits members, sells insurance coverage, purchases coverage for its members located within the state, or otherwise does business in this state shall, before commencing such activity, obtain a license from the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 249, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

33-11-124. Enforceability of orders issued in United States district court. An order issued by any district court of the United States enjoining a risk retention group from soliciting or selling insurance or operating in any state, territory, or possession of the United States upon a finding that such a group is in a hazardous financial condition is enforceable in the courts of this state.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 249, L. 1987.

33-11-125. Rules and regulations. The commissioner may make and amend any reasonable rules relating to risk retention groups and purchasing groups necessary or desirable to carry out the provisions of this part.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 249, L. 1987.

Part 1
General Provisions

33-12-101. Purpose and scope. (1) The purpose of this chapter is to protect the interests of insureds by promoting insurer solvency and financial strength. This purpose will be accomplished through the application of investment standards that facilitate a reasonable balance of the following objectives:

(a) to preserve principal;

(b) to ensure reasonable diversification as to type of investment, issuer, and credit quality; and

(c) to allow insurers to allocate investments in a manner consistent with principles of prudent investment management to achieve an adequate return so that obligations to insureds are adequately met and financial strength is sufficient to cover reasonably foreseeable contingencies.

(2) This chapter applies only to investments and investment practices of domestic insurers and United States branches of alien insurers entered through this state. This chapter does not apply to separate accounts of an insurer.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-102. Definitions. As used in this chapter, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Acceptable collateral" means:

(a) (i) as to securities lending transactions and for the purpose of calculating the counterparty exposure amount, cash, cash equivalents, letters of credit, or direct obligations of or securities that are fully guaranteed as to principal and interest by the government of the United States, by any agency of the United States, by the federal national mortgage association, or by the federal home loan mortgage corporation; and

(ii) as to lending foreign securities, sovereign debt rated 1 by the SVO;

(b) as to repurchase transactions, cash, cash equivalents, and direct obligations of or securities that are fully guaranteed as to principal and interest by the government of the United States, by an agency of the United States, by the federal national mortgage association, or by the federal home loan mortgage corporation; and

(c) as to reverse repurchase transactions, cash and cash equivalents.

(2) "Acceptable private mortgage insurance" means insurance written by a private insurer protecting a mortgage lender against loss occasioned by a mortgage loan default and issued by a licensed mortgage insurance company, with an SVO 1 designation or a rating issued by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization equivalent to an SVO 1 designation, that covers losses up to an 80% loan-to-value ratio.

(3) "Accident and health insurance" means insurance protection that provides payment of benefits for covered sickness or accidental injury, excluding credit insurance, disability insurance, accidental death and dismemberment insurance, and long-term care insurance.

(4) "Accident and health insurer" means a licensed life or health insurer or health service corporation whose insurance premiums and required statutory reserves for accident and health insurance constitute at least 95% of total premium considerations or total statutorily required reserves.

(5) (a) "Admitted assets" means, subject to subsection (5)(b), assets determined in accordance with the requirements of 33-2-501.

(b) The term does not include assets of separate accounts. The investments of separate accounts are not subject to the provisions of this chapter.

(6) "Affiliate" has the meaning provided in 33-2-1101.

(7) (a) "Asset-backed security" means a security or other instrument, excluding a mutual fund, evidencing an interest in or the right to receive payments from or payable from distributions on an asset, a pool of assets, or specifically divisible cash flows that are legally transferred to a trust or another special purpose bankruptcy-remote business entity, on the following conditions:

(i) the trust or other business entity is established solely for the purpose of acquiring specific types of assets or rights to cash flows, issuing securities and other instruments representing an interest in or right to receive cash flows from those assets or rights, and engaging in activities required to service the assets or rights and any credit enhancement or support features held by the trust or other business entity; and

(ii) the assets of the trust or other business entity consist solely of interest-bearing obligations or other contractual obligations representing the right to receive payment from the cash flows from the assets or rights.

(b) However, the existence of credit enhancements, such as letters of credit, guarantees, or support features, such as swap agreements, may not cause a security or other instrument to be ineligible as an asset-backed security.

(8) "Business entity" includes a sole proprietorship, corporation, limited liability company, association, partnership, joint-stock company, joint venture, mutual fund, trust, joint tenancy, or other similar form of business organization, whether organized for profit or not for profit.

(9) "Cap" means an agreement obligating the seller to make payments to the buyer, with each payment based on the amount by which a reference price or level or the performance or value of one or more underlying interests exceeds a predetermined number. The predetermined number is sometimes called the strike rate or strike price.

(10) "Capital and surplus" means the sum of the capital and surplus of the insurer required to be shown on the most recent statutory financial statement of the insurer required to be filed with the commissioner.

(11) "Cash equivalents" means short-term, highly rated, and highly liquid investments or securities readily convertible to known amounts of cash without penalty and so near maturity that they present insignificant risk of change in value. Cash equivalents include government money market mutual funds and class one money market mutual funds.

(12) "Class one bond mutual fund" means a mutual fund that at all times qualifies for investment using the bond class one reserve factor under the Purposes and Procedures of the Securities Valuation Office or any successor publication.

(13) "Class one money market mutual fund" means a money market mutual fund that at all times qualifies for investment using the bond class one reserve factor under the Purposes and Procedures of the Securities Valuation Office or any successor publication.

(14) "Collar" means an agreement to receive payments as the buyer of an option, cap, or floor and to make payments as the seller of a different option, cap, or floor.

(15) "Construction loan" means a loan for a term of less than 3 years that is made for financing the cost of construction of a building or other improvement to real estate and that is secured by the real estate.

(16) "Control" means the possession, directly or indirectly, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of a person, whether through the ownership of voting securities, by contract (other than a commercial contract for goods or nonmanagement services), or otherwise, unless the power is the result of an official position with a corporation or a corporate office held by the person. Presumption of control is pursuant to 33-12-108.

(17) "Counterparty exposure amount" means the net amount of credit risk attributable to a derivative instrument, pursuant to 33-12-109, entered into with a business entity other than through a qualified exchange or qualified foreign exchange or cleared through a qualified clearinghouse. The derivative instrument is also known as an over-the-counter derivative instrument.

(18) "Covered" means that an insurer:

(a) owns or can immediately acquire, through the exercise of options, warrants, or already-owned conversion rights, the underlying interest in order to fulfill or secure its obligations under a call option, cap, or floor it has written; or

(b) has set aside, under a custodial or escrow agreement, cash or cash equivalents with a market value equal to the amount required to fulfill its obligations under a put option it has written in an income generation transaction.

(19) "Credit tenant loan" means a mortgage loan that is made primarily in reliance on the credit standing of a major tenant, structured with an assignment of the rental payments to the lender with real estate pledged as collateral in the form of a first lien.

(20) (a) "Derivative instrument" means an agreement, an option, an instrument, or a series or combination of agreements, options, or instruments:

(i) to make or take delivery of or assume or relinquish a specified amount of one or more underlying interests or to make a cash settlement in lieu of delivery; or

(ii) that has a price, level, performance, value, or cash flow based primarily upon the actual or expected price, level, performance, value, or cash flow of one or more underlying interests.

(b) (i) Derivative instruments include options, warrants used in a hedging transaction and not attached to another financial instrument, caps, floors, collars, swaps, forwards, futures, and any other agreements, options, or instruments substantially similar to the enumerated instruments or any series or combination of the enumerated instruments and any agreements, options, or instruments permitted under rules adopted pursuant to 33-12-111.

(ii) Derivative instruments do not include an investment authorized by 33-12-203 through 33-12-209, 33-12-211, and 33-12-305 through 33-12-309.

(21) "Derivative transaction" means a transaction involving the use of one or more derivative instruments.

(22) "Direct" or "directly", when used in connection with an obligation, means that the designated obligor is primarily liable on the instrument representing the obligation.

(23) "Dollar roll transaction" means two simultaneous transactions with different settlement dates that are no more than 96 days apart, so that in the transaction with the earlier settlement date, an insurer sells to a business entity, and in the other transaction, the insurer is obligated to purchase from the same business entity, substantially similar securities of the following types:

(a) asset-backed securities issued, assumed, or guaranteed by the government national mortgage association, the federal national mortgage association, or the federal home loan mortgage corporation or their successors; and

(b) other asset-backed securities referred to in section 106 of Title I of the Secondary Mortgage Market Enhancement Act of 1984 (15 U.S.C. 77r-1), as amended.

(24) "Domestic jurisdiction" means the United States, any state, Canada, any province of Canada, or any political subdivision of a state or province.

(25) "Equity interest" means any of the following that are not rated credit instruments:

(a) common stock;

(b) preferred stock;

(c) trust certificate;

(d) equity investment in an investment company other than a money market mutual fund or a class one bond mutual fund;

(e) investment in a common trust fund of a bank regulated by a federal or state agency;

(f) an ownership interest in minerals, oil, or gas, the rights to which have been separated from the underlying fee interest in the real estate where the minerals, oil, or gas is located;

(g) instruments that are mandatorily, or at the option of the issuer, convertible to equity;

(h) limited partnership interests and those general partnership interests authorized under 33-12-104(4);

(i) member interests in limited liability companies;

(j) warrants or other rights to acquire equity interests that are created by the person that owns or would issue the equity to be acquired; or

(k) instruments that would be rated credit instruments except for the provisions of subsection (70)(b).

(26) "Equivalent securities" means:

(a) in a securities lending transaction, securities that are identical to the loaned securities in all features including the amount of the loaned securities, except as to certificate number if held in physical form, but if any different security is exchanged for a loaned security by recapitalization, merger, consolidation, or other corporate action, the different security is considered to be the loaned security;

(b) in a repurchase transaction, securities that are identical to the purchased securities in all features including the amount of the purchased securities, except as to the certificate number if held in physical form; or

(c) in a reverse repurchase transaction, securities that are identical to the sold securities in all features including the amount of the sold securities, except as to the certificate number if held in physical form.

(27) "Floor" means an agreement obligating the seller to make payments to the buyer in which each payment is based on the amount by which a predetermined number, sometimes called the floor rate or price, exceeds a price, level, performance, or value of one or more underlying interests.

(28) "Foreign currency" means a currency other than that of a domestic jurisdiction.

(29) (a) "Foreign investment" means an investment in a foreign jurisdiction, or an investment in a person, real estate, or asset domiciled in a foreign jurisdiction, that is substantially of the same type as those eligible for investment under part 2 of this chapter, 33-12-301 through 33-12-306, 33-12-308, 33-12-310 through 33-12-312, and this part.

(b) An investment may not be considered to be foreign if the issuing person, qualified primary credit source, or qualified guarantor is a domestic jurisdiction or a person domiciled in a domestic jurisdiction, unless:

(i) the issuing person is a shell business entity; and

(ii) the investment is not assumed, accepted, guaranteed or insured, or otherwise backed by a domestic jurisdiction or a person that is not a shell business entity and that is domiciled in a domestic jurisdiction.

(30) "Foreign jurisdiction" means a jurisdiction other than a domestic jurisdiction.

(31) "Forward" means an agreement, other than a future, to make or take delivery of or effect a cash settlement based on the actual or expected price, level, performance, or value of one or more underlying interests.

(32) "Future" means an agreement, traded on a qualified exchange or qualified foreign exchange, to make or take delivery of or effect a cash settlement based on the actual or expected price, level, performance, or value of one or more underlying interests.

(33) "Government money market mutual fund" means a money market mutual fund that at all times:

(a) invests only in obligations issued, guaranteed, or insured by the federal government of the United States or collateralized repurchase agreements composed of these obligations; and

(b) qualifies for investment without a reserve under the Purposes and Procedures of the Securities Valuation Office or any successor publication.

(34) "Government-sponsored enterprise" means a:

(a) governmental agency; or

(b) corporation, limited liability company, association, partnership, joint-stock company, joint venture, trust, or other entity or instrumentality organized under the laws of any domestic jurisdiction to accomplish a public policy or other governmental purpose.

(35) "Guaranteed or insured", when used in connection with an obligation acquired under this chapter, means that the guarantor or insurer has agreed to:

(a) perform or insure the obligation of the obligor or purchase the obligation; or

(b) be unconditionally obligated until the obligation is repaid to maintain in the obligor a minimum net worth, fixed charge coverage, stockholders' equity, or sufficient liquidity to enable the obligor to pay the obligation in full.

(36) "Hedging transaction" means a derivative transaction that is entered into and maintained to reduce:

(a) the risk of a change in the value, yield, price, cash flow, or quantity of assets or liabilities that the insurer has acquired or incurred or anticipates acquiring or incurring; or

(b) the currency exchange rate risk or the degree of exposure as to assets or liabilities that an insurer has acquired or incurred or anticipates acquiring or incurring.

(37) "High-grade investment" means a rated credit instrument rated 1 or 2 by the SVO.

(38) "Highly rated" means an investment rated "P-1" by Moody's investors service, inc. or "A-1" by Standard and Poor's division of the McGraw Hill companies, inc. or its equivalent rating by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization recognized by the SVO.

(39) "Income" means, as to a security, interest, accrual of discount, dividends, or other distributions, such as rights, tax or assessment credits, warrants, and distributions in kind.

(40) "Income generation transaction" means a derivative transaction involving the writing of covered call options, covered put options, covered caps, or covered floors that is intended to generate income or enhance return.

(41) "Insurance future" means a future relating to an index or pool that is based on insurance-related items.

(42) "Insurance futures option" means an option on an insurance future.

(43) "Investment company" means an investment company as defined in section 80a-3 of the Investment Company Act of 1940 (15 U.S.C. 80a-1, et seq.), as amended, and a person described in section 80a-3(c) of that act.

(44) "Investment company series" means an investment portfolio of an investment company that is organized as a series company and to which assets of the investment company have been specifically allocated.

(45) "Investment practices" means transactions of the types described in 33-12-208, 33-12-210, 33-12-308, or 33-12-310.

(46) "Investment strategies" means the techniques and methods used by an insurer to meet its investment objectives, such as active bond portfolio management, passive bond portfolio management, interest rate anticipation, growth investing, and value investing.

(47) "Investment subsidiary" means a subsidiary of an insurer engaged or organized to engage exclusively in the ownership and management of assets authorized as investments for the insurer if each subsidiary agrees to limit its investment in any asset so that its investments will not cause the amount of the total investment of the insurer to exceed any of the investment limitations or avoid any other provisions of this chapter applicable to the insurer.

(48) "Letter of credit" means a clean, irrevocable, and unconditional letter of credit issued or confirmed by and payable and presentable at a financial institution on the list of financial institutions meeting the standards for issuing letters of credit under the Purposes and Procedures of the Securities Valuation Office or any successor publication.

(49) "Limited liability company" means a business organization, excluding partnerships and ordinary business corporations, organized or operating under the laws of the United States or any state that limits the personal liability of investors to the equity investment of the investor in the business entity.

(50) "Lower-grade investment" means a rated credit instrument rated 4, 5, or 6 by the SVO.

(51) "Market value" means:

(a) as to cash and letters of credit, the amounts of cash or a letter of credit; and

(b) as to a security, as of any date, the price for the security on that date obtained from a generally recognized source or the most recent quotation from a generally recognized source or, to the extent that a generally recognized source does not exist, the price for the security as determined in good faith by the parties to a transaction, plus accrued but unpaid income on a security to the extent not included in the price as of that date.

(52) "Medium-grade investment" means a rated credit instrument rated 3 by the SVO.

(53) "Money market mutual fund" means a mutual fund that meets the conditions of 17 CFR 270.2a-7, under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (15 U.S.C. 80a-1, et seq.), as amended or renumbered.

(54) "Mortgage loan" means an obligation secured by a mortgage, deed of trust, trust deed, or other consensual lien on real estate.

(55) "Multilateral development bank" means an international development organization of which the United States is a member.

(56) "Mutual fund" means an investment company or an investment company series that is registered with the United States securities and exchange commission under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (15 U.S.C. 80a-1, et seq.), as amended.

(57) "NAIC" means the national association of insurance commissioners.

(58) "Obligation" means a bond, note, debenture, trust certificate including an equipment certificate, production payment, negotiable bank certificate of deposit, bankers' acceptance, credit tenant loan, loan secured by financing net leases, and other evidence of indebtedness for the payment of money (or participations, certificates, or other evidences of an interest in any of the foregoing), whether constituting a general obligation of the issuer or payable only out of certain revenue or certain funds pledged or otherwise dedicated for payment.

(59) "Option" means an agreement giving the buyer the right to buy or receive (a "call option"), sell or deliver (a "put option"), enter into, extend or terminate, or effect a cash settlement based on the actual or expected price, level, performance, or value of one or more underlying interests.

(60) "Person" has the meaning provided in 33-1-202.

(61) "Potential exposure" means the amount determined in accordance with the NAIC Annual Statement Instructions.

(62) "Preferred stock" means preferred, preference, or guaranteed stock of a business entity authorized to issue the stock that has a preference in liquidation over the common stock of the business entity.

(63) "Qualified bank" means:

(a) a national bank, state bank, or trust company that at all times is adequately capitalized as determined by standards adopted by United States banking regulators and that is either regulated by state banking laws or is a member of the federal reserve system; or

(b) a bank or trust company incorporated or organized under the laws of a country other than the United States that is regulated as a bank or trust company by that country's government or an agency of that government and that at all times is adequately capitalized as determined by the standards adopted by international banking authorities.

(64) "Qualified business entity" means a business entity that is:

(a) an issuer of obligations or preferred stock that is rated 1 or 2 by the SVO or an issuer of obligations, preferred stock, or derivative instruments that are rated the equivalent of 1 or 2 by the SVO or by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization recognized by the SVO; or

(b) a primary dealer in United States government securities recognized by the federal reserve bank of New York.

(65) "Qualified clearinghouse" means a clearinghouse for, and subject to the rules of, a qualified exchange or a qualified foreign exchange, which provides clearing services, including acting as a counterparty to each of the parties to a transaction so that the parties no longer have a credit risk as to each other.

(66) "Qualified exchange" means:

(a) a securities exchange registered as a national securities exchange or a securities market regulated under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (15 U.S.C. 78, et seq.), as amended;

(b) a board of trade or commodities exchange designated as a contract market by the commodity futures trading commission or its successor;

(c) private offerings, resales, and trading through automated linkages;

(d) a designated offshore securities market as defined in securities exchange commission regulation S, 17 CFR part 230, as amended; or

(e) a qualified foreign exchange.

(67) "Qualified foreign exchange" means a foreign exchange, board of trade, or contract market located outside the United States or its territories or possessions:

(a) that has received regulatory comparability relief under commodity futures trading commission rule 30.1 (as set forth in appendix C to part 30 of the regulations, 17 CFR part 30);

(b) that is, or its members are, subject to the jurisdiction of a foreign futures authority that has received regulatory comparability relief under commodity futures trading commission rule 30.1 (as set forth in appendix C to part 30 of the regulations, 17 CFR part 30) as to futures transactions in the jurisdiction where the exchange, board of trade, or contract market is located; or

(c) upon which foreign stock index futures contracts are listed that are the subject of no-action relief issued by the CFTC's office of general counsel, provided that an exchange, board of trade, or contract market that qualifies as a qualified foreign exchange only under this subsection (67) is a qualified foreign exchange as to foreign stock index futures contracts that are the subject of no-action relief.

(68) "Qualified guarantor" means a guarantor against which an insurer has a direct claim for full and timely payment, evidenced by a contractual right for which an enforcement action can be brought in a domestic jurisdiction.

(69) "Qualified primary credit source" means the credit source to which an insurer looks for payment as to an investment and against which an insurer has a direct claim for full and timely payment, evidenced by a contractual right for which an enforcement action can be brought in a domestic jurisdiction.

(70) (a) "Rated credit instrument" means a contractual right to receive cash or another rated credit instrument from another entity if the instrument:

(i) is rated or required to be rated by the SVO;

(ii) in the case of an instrument with a maturity of 397 days or less, is issued, guaranteed, or insured by an entity that is rated by, or another obligation of the entity is rated by, the SVO or by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization recognized by the SVO;

(iii) in the case of an instrument with a maturity of 90 days or less, is issued by a qualified bank;

(iv) is a share of a class one bond mutual fund; or

(v) is a share of a money market mutual fund.

(b) The term does not include:

(i) an instrument that is mandatorily or at the option of the issuer convertible to an equity interest; or

(ii) a security that has a par value and whose terms provide that the issuer's net obligation to repay all or part of the security's par value is determined by reference to the performance of an equity, a commodity, a foreign currency, an index of equities, commodities, foreign currencies, or combinations of equities, commodities, and foreign currency.

(71) (a) "Real estate" means:

(i) real property;

(ii) interests in real property, such as leaseholds, minerals, oil, and gas, that have not been separated from the underlying fee interest;

(iii) improvements and fixtures located on or in real property; and

(iv) the seller's equity in a contract providing for a deed of real estate.

(b) As to a mortgage on a leasehold estate, real estate includes the leasehold estate only if it has an unexpired term, including renewal options exercisable at the option of the lessee, extending beyond the scheduled maturity date of the obligation that is secured by a mortgage on the leasehold estate by a period equal to at least 20% of the original term of the obligation or 10 years, whichever is greater.

(72) "Replication transaction" means a derivative transaction that is intended to replicate the performance of one or more assets that an insurer is authorized to acquire under this chapter. A derivative transaction that is entered into as a hedging transaction may not be considered a replication transaction.

(73) "Repurchase transaction" means a transaction in which an insurer purchases securities from a business entity that is obligated to repurchase the purchased securities or equivalent securities from the insurer at a specified price, either within a specified period of time or upon demand.

(74) "Required liabilities" means total liabilities required to be reported on the statutory financial statement of the insurer most recently required to be filed with the commissioner.

(75) "Residential mortgage loan" means a loan primarily secured by a mortgage on real estate improved with a residence for no more than four families.

(76) "Reverse repurchase transaction" means a transaction in which an insurer sells securities to a business entity and is obligated to repurchase the sold securities or equivalent securities from the business entity at a specified price, either within a specified period of time or upon demand.

(77) "Secured location" means the contiguous real estate owned by one person.

(78) "Securities lending transaction" means a transaction in which securities are loaned by an insurer to a business entity that is obligated to return the loaned securities or equivalent securities to the insurer, either within a specified period of time or upon demand.

(79) "Series company" means an investment company that is organized as a series company, as defined in rules adopted under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (15 U.S.C. 80a-1, et seq.), as amended.

(81) "Short-term" means investments with a remaining term to maturity of 90 days or less.

(82) "Sinking fund stock" means preferred stock that:

(a) is subject to a mandatory sinking fund or similar arrangement that will provide for the redemption or open market purchase of the entire issue over a period not longer than 40 years from the date of acquisition; and

(b) provides for mandatory sinking fund installments or open market purchases commencing not more than 10 $\frac{1}{2}$ years from the date of issue, with the sinking fund installments providing for the purchase or redemption, on a cumulative basis commencing 10 years from the date of issue, of at least 2.5% a year of the original number of shares of that issue of preferred stock.

(83) "State" has meaning provided in 33-1-201.

(84) "Substantially similar securities" means securities that meet all criteria for substantially similar specified in the NAIC Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual, as amended, and in an amount that constitutes good delivery form as determined from time to time by the public securities administration.

(85) "SVO" means the securities valuation office of the NAIC or any successor office established by the NAIC.

(86) "Swap" means an agreement to exchange or to net payments at one or more times based on the actual or expected price, level, performance, or value of one or more underlying interests.

(87) "Total investment of the insurer" includes:

(a) direct investment by the insurer in an asset; and

(b) the insurer's proportionate share of an investment in an asset by an investment subsidiary of the insurer, which must be calculated by multiplying the amount of the subsidiary's investment by the percentage of the insurer's ownership interest in the subsidiary.

(88) "Underlying interest" means the assets, liabilities, other interests, or a combination of assets, liabilities, or other interests underlying a derivative instrument, such as any one or more securities, currencies, rates, indices, commodities, or derivative instruments.

(89) "Unrestricted surplus" means the amount by which total admitted assets exceed 125% of the insurer's required liabilities.

(90) "Warrant" means an instrument that gives the holder the right to purchase an underlying financial instrument at a given price and time or at a series of prices and times outlined in the warrant agreement. Warrants may be issued alone or in connection with the sale of other securities, for example, as part of a merger or recapitalization agreement, or to facilitate divestiture of the securities of another business entity.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-103. General investment qualifications. (1) Insurers may acquire, hold, or invest in investments or engage in investment practices as set forth in this chapter. Investments not conforming to this chapter may not be admitted assets. Affiliate investments under 33-2-1103, other than those investments made by or on behalf of domestic insurers, are not subject to this provision.

(2) Subject to subsection (3), an insurer may not acquire or hold an investment as an admitted asset unless at the time of acquisition it is:

(a) (i) eligible for the payment or accrual of interest or discount, whether in cash or other securities;

(ii) eligible to receive dividends or other distributions; or

(iii) otherwise income-producing; or

(b) acquired under 33-12-207(3), 33-12-208, 33-12-210, 33-12-212, 33-12-307(3), 33-12-308, 33-12-310, or 33-12-311 or under the authority of sections of Montana law other than this chapter.

(3) An insurer may acquire or hold as admitted assets investments that do not otherwise qualify as provided in this chapter if the insurer has not acquired them for the purpose of circumventing any limitations contained in this chapter and if the insurer complies with the provisions of 33-12-105 and 33-12-108 and acquires the investments in the following circumstances:

(a) as payment on account of existing indebtedness or in connection with the refinancing, restructuring, or workout of existing indebtedness if taken to protect the insurer's interest in that investment;

(b) as realization on collateral for an obligation;

(c) in connection with an otherwise qualified investment or investment practice, as interest on or a dividend or other distribution related to the investment or investment practice, or in connection with the refinancing of the investment, in each case for no additional or only nominal consideration;

(d) under a lawful and bona fide agreement of recapitalization or voluntary or involuntary reorganization in connection with an investment held by the insurer; or

(e) under a bulk reinsurance, merger, or consolidation transaction approved by the commissioner if the assets constitute admissible investments for the ceding, merged, or consolidated companies.

(4) An investment or portion of an investment acquired by an insurer under subsection (3) must become a nonadmitted asset 3 years, or 5 years in the case of mortgage loans and real estate, from the date of its acquisition, unless within that period the investment has become a qualified investment under a provision of this chapter other than subsection (3). However, an investment acquired under an agreement of bulk reinsurance, merger, or consolidation may be qualified for a longer period if provided for in the plan for reinsurance, merger, or consolidation as approved by the commissioner. Upon application by the insurer and a showing that the nonadmission of an asset held under subsection (3) would materially injure the interests of the insurer, the commissioner may extend the period for admissibility for an additional reasonable period of time.

(5) Except as provided in subsections (6) and (8), an investment must qualify under this chapter if, on the date the insurer committed to acquire the investment or on the date of its acquisition, it would have qualified under this chapter. For the purposes of determining limitations contained in this chapter, an insurer shall give appropriate recognition to any commitments to acquire investments.

(6) (a) An investment held as an admitted asset by an insurer on July 1, 1999, that qualified under former law remains qualified as an admitted asset under this chapter.

(b) Each specific transaction constituting an investment practice of the type described in this chapter that was lawfully entered into by an insurer and was in effect on July 1, 1999, continues to be permitted under this chapter until its expiration or termination under its terms.

(7) Unless otherwise specified, an investment limitation computed on the basis of an insurer's admitted assets or capital and surplus relates to the amount required to be shown on the most recent statutory balance sheet of the insurer required to be filed with the commissioner. For purposes of computing any limitation based upon admitted assets, the insurer shall deduct from the amount of its admitted assets the amount of the liability recorded on its statutory balance sheet for:

(a) the return of acceptable collateral received in a reverse repurchase transaction or a securities lending transaction;

(b) cash received in a dollar roll transaction; and

(c) the amount reported as borrowed money in the most recently filed financial statement to the extent not included in subsections (7)(a) and (7)(b).

(8) An investment qualified, in whole or in part, for acquisition or holding as an admitted asset may be qualified or requalified at the time of acquisition or a later date, in whole or in part, under any other section if the relevant conditions contained in the other section are satisfied at the time of qualification or requalification.

(9) An insurer shall maintain documentation demonstrating that investments were acquired in accordance with this chapter.

(10) An insurer may not enter into an agreement to purchase securities in advance of their issuance for resale to the public as part of a distribution of the securities by the issuer or otherwise guarantee the distribution, except that an insurer may acquire privately placed securities with registration rights.

(11) Notwithstanding the provisions of this chapter, the commissioner, for good cause, may under the Montana Administrative Procedure Act order an insurer to nonadmit, limit, dispose of, withdraw from, or discontinue an investment or investment practice. The authority of the commissioner under this subsection is in addition to any other authority of the commissioner.

(12) Insurance futures and insurance futures options are not considered investments or investment practices for purposes of this chapter.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 304, L. 1999; amd. Sec. 36, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

33-12-104. Authorization of investments by board of directors. (1) An insurer's board of directors shall adopt a written plan for acquiring and holding investments and for engaging in investment practices that specifies guidelines as to the quality, maturity, and diversification of investments and that contains other specifications including investment strategies intended to ensure that the investments and investment practices are appropriate for the business conducted by the insurer, its liquidity needs, and its capital and surplus.

(2) The board of directors is ultimately responsible for investment decisions and shall review, at least annually, whether all investments acquired and held under this chapter have been made in accordance with delegations, standards, limitations, and investment objectives prescribed by the board or a committee of the board charged with the responsibility to direct its investments.

(3) An insurer's board of directors or committee of the board of directors shall:

(a) on no less than a quarterly basis and more often if considered appropriate, receive and review a summary report on the insurer's investment portfolio, its investment activities, and investment practices engaged in under delegated authority, in order to determine whether the investment activity of the insurer is consistent with its written plan; and

(b) on no less than an annual basis and more often if considered appropriate, review and revise, as appropriate, the written plan.

(4) In discharging its duties under this section, the board of directors may require that records of any authorizations or approvals, other documentation as the board may require, and reports of any action taken under authority delegated under the plan referred to in subsection (1) may be made available on a regular basis to the board of directors.

(5) If an insurer does not have a board of directors, all references to the board of directors in this chapter are considered to be references to the governing body of the insurer having authority equivalent to that of a board of directors.

(6) In discharging their duties under this section, the directors of an insurer shall perform their duties as provided in 35-1-418.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-105. Prohibited investments. (1) An insurer may not, directly or indirectly, without the prior written approval of the commissioner:

(a) invest in an obligation or security or make a guarantee for the benefit of or in favor of an officer or director of the insurer, except as provided in 33-12-106;

(b) invest in an obligation or security of, make a guarantee for the benefit of or in favor of, or make other investments in a business entity of which 10% or more of the voting securities or equity interests are owned directly or indirectly by or for the benefit of one or more officers or directors of the insurer, except as authorized in Title 33, chapter 2, part 11, or as provided in 33-12-106;

(c) engage on its own behalf or through one or more affiliates in a transaction or series of transactions designed to evade the prohibitions of this chapter; or

(d) except as provided in subsection (2), invest in or lend its funds upon the security of shares of its own stock.

(2) (a) An insurer may acquire shares of its own stock for the following purposes:

(i) conversion of a stock insurer into a mutual or reciprocal insurer or conversion of a mutual or reciprocal insurer into a stock insurer; or

(ii) issuance to the insurer's officers, employees, or agents in connection with a plan approved by the commissioner in connection with stock option and employee benefit plans.

(b) Shares of stock that are subject to subsection (2)(a) may not be admitted assets of the insurer.

(3) (a) An insurer may not, directly or indirectly, without the prior written approval of the commissioner invest in a partnership as a general partner, except that an insurer may make an investment as a general partner:

(i) if all other partners in the partnership are subsidiaries of the insurer;

(ii) for the purpose of:

(A) meeting cash calls committed to prior to July 1, 1999;

(B) completing those specific projects or activities of the partnership in which the insurer was a general partner as of July 1, 1999, that had been undertaken as of July 1, 1999; or

(C) making capital improvements to property owned by the partnership on July 1, 1999, if the insurer was a general partner as of July 1, 1999; or

(iii) in accordance with 33-12-103(3).

(b) Subsection (3)(a) does not prohibit a subsidiary or other affiliate of the insurer from becoming a general partner.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-106. Loans to officers and directors. (1) (a) Except as provided in subsection (2), an insurer may not, directly or indirectly, without the prior written approval of the commissioner:

(i) make a loan to an officer or director of the insurer or make another investment in a person in which the officer or director has any direct or indirect financial interest;

(ii) make a guarantee for the benefit of or in favor of an officer or director of the insurer or a person in which the officer or director has any direct or indirect financial interest; or

(iii) enter into an agreement for the purchase or sale of property from or to an officer or director of the insurer or a person in which the officer or director has any direct or indirect financial interest.

(b) For purposes of this section, an officer or director may not have a financial interest by reason of an interest that is held directly or indirectly through the ownership of equity interests representing less than 2% of all outstanding equity interests issued by a person that is a party to the transaction or solely by reason of that individual's position as a director or officer of a person that is a party to the transaction.

(c) This subsection (1) does not permit an investment that is prohibited by 33-12-105.

(d) This subsection (1) does not apply to a transaction between an insurer and any of its subsidiaries or affiliates that is entered into in compliance with Title 33, chapter 2, part 11, other than a transaction between an insurer and its officer or director.

(2) An insurer may, without the prior written approval of the commissioner, make any of the following:

(a) policy loans in accordance with the terms of the policy or contract and 33-12-211;

(b) advances to officers or directors for expenses reasonably expected to be incurred in the ordinary course of the insurer's business or guarantees associated with credit or charge cards issued or credit extended for the purpose of financing these expenses;

(c) loans secured by the principal residence of an existing or new officer of the insurer made in connection with the officer's relocation at the insurer's request if the loans comply with the requirements of 33-12-207 or 33-12-307 and the terms and conditions are the same as those generally available from unaffiliated third parties;

(d) secured loans to an existing or new officer of the insurer made in connection with the officer's relocation at the insurer's request if the loans:

(i) do not have a term exceeding 2 years;

(ii) are required to finance mortgage loans outstanding at the same time on the prior and new residences of the officer;

(iii) do not exceed an amount equal to the equity of the officer in the prior residence; and

(iv) are required to be fully repaid upon the earlier of the end of the 2-year period or the sale of the prior residence; or

(e) loans and advances to officers or directors made in compliance with state or federal law specifically related to the loans and advances by a regulated noninsurance subsidiary or affiliate of the insurer in the ordinary course of business and on terms no more favorable than available to other customers of the entity.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-107. Valuation of investments. For the purposes of this chapter, the value or amount of an investment acquired or held under this chapter or an investment practice engaged in under this chapter, unless otherwise specified in statute, must be the value at which assets of an insurer are required to be reported for statutory accounting purposes as determined in accordance with procedures prescribed in published accounting and valuation standards of the NAIC, including the Purposes and Procedures Manual of the Securities Valuation Office, the Valuation of Securities Manual, the Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual, the annual statement instructions, or any successor valuation procedures officially adopted by the NAIC.

2005 Amendment: Chapter 469 near middle after "Purposes and Procedures" inserted "Manual"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective October 1, 2005.

33-12-108. Presumption of control. Control is presumed to exist if a person, directly or indirectly, owns, controls, holds with the power to vote, or holds proxies representing 10% or more of the voting securities of another person. This presumption may be rebutted by a showing that control does not exist in fact. The commissioner may determine, after furnishing all interested persons notice and an opportunity to be heard and making specific findings of fact to support the determination, that control exists in fact, notwithstanding the absence of a presumption to that effect.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-109. Credit risk attributable to derivative statement. (1) The amount of credit risk equals:

(a) the market value of the over-the-counter derivative instrument if the liquidation of the derivative instrument would result in a final cash payment to the insurer; or

(b) zero if the liquidation of the derivative instrument would not result in a final cash payment to the insurer.

(2) If over-the-counter derivative instruments are entered into under a written master agreement that provides for netting of payments owed by the respective parties and the domiciliary jurisdiction of the counterparty is either within the United States or if not within the United States, within a foreign jurisdiction listed in the Purposes and Procedures of the Securities Valuation Office as eligible for netting, the net amount of credit risk must be the greater of zero or the net sum of:

(a) the market value of the over-the-counter derivative instruments entered into under the agreement, the liquidation of which would result in a final cash payment to the insurer; and

(b) the market value of the over-the-counter derivative instruments entered into under the agreement, the liquidation of which would result in a final cash payment by the insurer to the business entity.

(3) For open transactions, market value must be determined at the end of the most recent quarter of the insurer's fiscal year and must be reduced by the market value of acceptable collateral held by the insurer or placed in escrow by one or both parties.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-110. Special rated credit instrument. (1) (a) Subject to subsection (1)(b), a rated credit instrument is a special rated credit instrument if it is an instrument that is:

(i) structured so that if it is held until retired by or on behalf of the issuer, its rate of return, based on its purchase cost and any cash flow stream possible under the structure of the transaction, may become negative because of reasons other than the credit risk associated with the issuer of the instrument; or

(ii) an asset-backed security that:

(A) relies on cash flows from assets that are prepayable at par at any time;

(B) does not make payments of par that are fixed as to amount and timing; and

(C) has a negative rate of return at the time of acquisition if a prepayment threshold assumption is used with the prepayment threshold assumption defined as either:

(I) two times the prepayment expectation reported by a recognized, publicly available source as being the median of expectations contributed by broker dealers or other entities, except insurers, engaged in the business of selling or evaluating the securities or assets. The prepayment expectation used in this calculation must be, at the insurer's election, the prepayment expectation for passthrough securities of the federal national mortgage association, the federal home loan mortgage corporation, or the government national mortgage association or for other assets of the same type as the assets that underlie the asset-backed security, in either case with a gross weighted average coupon comparable to the gross weighted average coupon of the assets that underlie the asset-backed security.

(II) another prepayment threshold assumption specified by the commissioner by rule adopted under 33-12-111.

(b) A rated credit instrument may not be a special rated credit instrument under this section if it is:

(i) a share in a class one bond mutual fund;

(ii) an instrument, other than an asset-backed security, with payments of par value fixed as to amount and timing or callable but in any event payable only at par or greater and with interest or dividend cash flows that are based on either a fixed or variable rate determined by reference to a specified rate or index;

(iii) an instrument, other than an asset-backed security, that has a par value and is purchased at a price no greater than 110% of par;

(iv) an instrument, including an asset-backed security, with a rate of return that would become negative only as a result of a prepayment due to casualty, condemnation, economic obsolescence of collateral, or change of law;

(v) an asset-backed security that relies on collateral that meets the requirements of subsection (1)(b)(ii), the par value of which collateral:

(A) is not permitted to be paid sooner than one-half of the remaining term to maturity from the date of acquisition;

(B) is permitted to be paid prior to maturity only at a premium sufficient to provide a yield to maturity for the investment, considering the amount prepaid and reinvestment rates at the time of early repayment, at least equal to the yield to maturity of the initial investment; or

(C) is permitted to be paid prior to maturity at a premium at least equal to the yield of a treasury issue of comparable remaining life; or

(vi) an asset-backed security that relies on cash flows from assets that are not prepayable at any time at par, but is not otherwise governed by subsection (1)(b)(v), if the asset-backed security has a par value reflecting principal payments to be received if held until retired by or on behalf of the issuer and is purchased at a price no greater than 105% of the par amount.

(2) For purposes of subsection (1), if the asset-backed security is purchased in combination with one or more other asset-backed securities that are supported by identical underlying collateral, the insurer may calculate the rate of return for these specific combined asset-backed securities in combination. The insurer shall maintain documentation demonstrating that the securities were acquired and are continuing to be held in combination.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-111. Rules. The commissioner may adopt rules implementing the provisions of this chapter.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-112. Foreign and alien insurers. A foreign insurer or an alien insurer, as those terms are defined in 33-1-201, shall maintain its investments according to the laws of its domicile. For purposes of this section, an alien insurer shall claim as its domicile the state where it maintains its principal deposit.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-113. Indemnification agreement. An insurer may contract with any national or state bank, trust company, or securities brokerage firm to act as custodian for the insurer's securities. The contract must contain an indemnification agreement stating that the custodian is obligated to indemnify the insurer for any loss of the insurer's securities in its custody resulting from the intentional or negligent act or omission of the custodian or the employee, officer, or agent of the custodian.

Part 2
Life and Health Insurers

33-12-201. Applicability. This part applies to the investments and investment practices of life and health insurers, subject to the provisions of 33-12-101(2).

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-202. General five percent diversification — medium-grade and lower-grade investments — Canadian investments. (1) (a) Except as otherwise specified in this chapter, an insurer may not acquire, directly or indirectly through an investment subsidiary, an investment under this chapter if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the insurer would hold more than 5% of its admitted assets in investments of all kinds issued, assumed, accepted, insured, or guaranteed by a single person.

(b) The 5% limitation does not apply to the aggregate amounts insured by a single financial guaranty insurer with the highest generic rating issued by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization.

(c) Asset-backed securities are subject to the limitations of subsection (1)(a). However, an insurer may not acquire an asset-backed security if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of asset-backed securities secured by or evidencing an interest in a single asset or single pool of assets held by a trust or other business entity then held by the insurer would exceed 5% of its admitted assets.

(2) (a) An insurer may not acquire, directly or indirectly through an investment subsidiary, an investment under 33-12-203, 33-12-206, or 33-12-209 or counterparty exposure under 33-12-210(4) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment:

(i) the aggregate amount of medium-grade and lower-grade investments then held by the insurer would exceed 20% of its admitted assets;

(ii) the aggregate amount of lower-grade investments then held by the insurer would exceed 10% of its admitted assets;

(iii) the aggregate amount of investments rated 5 or 6 by the SVO then held by the insurer would exceed 3% of its admitted assets;

(iv) the aggregate amount of investments rated 6 by the SVO then held by the insurer would exceed 1% of its admitted assets; or

(v) the aggregate amount of medium-grade and lower-grade investments then held by the insurer that receive as cash income less than the equivalent yield for treasury issues with a comparative average life would exceed 1% of its admitted assets.

(b) An insurer may not acquire, directly or indirectly through an investment subsidiary, an investment under 33-12-203, 33-12-206, or 33-12-209 or counterparty exposure under 33-12-210(4) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment:

(i) the aggregate amount of medium-grade and lower-grade investments issued, assumed, guaranteed, accepted, or insured by any one person or, as to asset-backed securities secured by or evidencing an interest in a single asset or pool of assets, then held by the insurer would exceed 1% of its admitted assets; or

(ii) the aggregate amount of lower-grade investments issued, assumed, guaranteed, accepted, or insured by any one person or, as to asset-backed securities secured by or evidencing an interest in a single asset or pool of assets, then held by the insurer would exceed 0.5% of its admitted assets.

(c) If an insurer attains or exceeds the limit of any one rating category referred to in this subsection (2), the insurer is precluded from acquiring investments in other rating categories subject to the specific and multicategory limits applicable to those investments.

(3) (a) An insurer may not acquire, directly or indirectly through an investment subsidiary, a Canadian investment authorized by this chapter if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of these investments then held by the insurer would exceed 40% of its admitted assets or if the aggregate amount of Canadian investments not acquired under 33-12-203(3) then held by the insurer would exceed 25% of its admitted assets.

(b) However, as to an insurer that is authorized to do business in Canada or that has outstanding insurance, annuity, or reinsurance contracts on lives or risks resident or located in Canada and denominated in Canadian currency, the limitations of subsection (3)(a) must be increased by the greater of:

(i) the amount the insurer is required by Canadian law to invest in Canada or to be denominated in Canadian currency; or

(ii) 115% of the amount of the insurer's reserves and other obligations under contracts on lives or risks resident or located in Canada.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 304, L. 1999; amd. Sec. 37, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

33-12-203. Rated credit instruments. (1) Subject to the limitations of subsection (7), an insurer may acquire rated credit instruments in accordance with this section.

(2) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-202(2), an insurer may acquire rated credit instruments issued, assumed, guaranteed, or insured by:

(a) the United States; or

(b) a government-sponsored enterprise of the United States, if the instruments of the government sponsored enterprise are assumed, guaranteed, or insured by the United States or are otherwise backed or supported by the full faith and credit of the United States.

(3) (a) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-202(2), an insurer may acquire rated credit instruments issued, assumed, guaranteed, or insured by:

(i) Canada; or

(ii) a government-sponsored enterprise of Canada, if the instruments of the government sponsored enterprise are assumed, guaranteed, or insured by Canada or are otherwise backed or supported by the full faith and credit of Canada.

(b) An insurer may not acquire an instrument under this subsection (3) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of investments then held by the insurer under this subsection (3) would exceed 40% of its admitted assets.

(4) (a) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-202(2), an insurer may acquire rated credit instruments, excluding asset-backed securities:

(i) issued by a government money market mutual fund, a class one money market mutual fund, or a class one bond mutual fund;

(ii) issued, assumed, guaranteed, or insured by a government sponsored enterprise of the United States other than those eligible under subsection (2);

(iii) issued, assumed, guaranteed, or insured by a state, if the instruments are general obligations of the state; or

(iv) issued by a multilateral development bank.

(b) However, an insurer may not acquire an instrument of any one fund, enterprise, entity, or state under this subsection (4) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of investments then held in any one fund, enterprise, entity, or state under this subsection (4) would exceed 10% of its admitted assets.

(5) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-202, an insurer may acquire preferred stocks that are not foreign investments and that meet the requirements of rated credit instruments if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment:

(a) the aggregate amount of preferred stocks then held by the insurer under this subsection (5) does not exceed 20% of its admitted assets; and

(b) the aggregate amount of preferred stocks then held by the insurer under this subsection (5) that are not sinking fund stocks or rated P-1 or P-2 by the SVO does not exceed 10% of its admitted assets.

(6) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-202, in addition to those investments eligible under subsections (2) through (5) of this section, an insurer may acquire rated credit instruments that are not foreign investments.

(7) An insurer may not acquire special rated credit instruments under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of special rated credit instruments then held by the insurer would exceed 5% of its admitted assets.

(8) The provisions of subsections (2) through (4) are not subject to the limitation provided in 33-12-202(1).

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 304, L. 1999; amd. Sec. 38, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

33-12-204. Insurer investment pools. (1) An insurer may acquire investments in investment pools that invest only in:

(a) (i) obligations that are rated 1 or 2 by the SVO or a nationally recognized statistical rating organization recognized by the SVO or in the absence of a 1 or 2 or equivalent rating, the issuer has outstanding obligations with an SVO rating of 1 or 2 or an equivalent rating and that have:

(A) remaining maturity of 397 days or less or a put option that entitles the holder to receive the principal amount of the obligation and the put option may be exercised through maturity at specified intervals not exceeding 397 days; or

(B) remaining maturity of 3 years or less and:

(I) a floating interest rate that resets no less frequently than quarterly on the basis of a current short-term index such as federal funds, prime rate, treasury bills, London interbank offered rate, or commercial paper; and

(II) is subject to no maximum limit if the obligations do not have an interest rate that varies inversely to market interest rate changes;

(ii) government money market mutual funds or class one money market mutual funds; or

(iii) securities lending, repurchase, and reverse repurchase transactions that meet all the requirements of 33-12-208, except the quantitative limitations of 33-12-208(4); or

(b) investments that an insurer may acquire under this chapter if the insurer's proportionate interest in the amount invested in these investments does not exceed the applicable limits of this chapter.

(2) For an investment in an investment pool to be qualified under this chapter, the investment pool may not:

(a) acquire securities issued, assumed, guaranteed, or insured by the insurer or an affiliate of the insurer;

(b) borrow or incur any indebtedness for borrowed money, except for securities lending and reverse repurchase transactions that meet the requirements of 33-12-208, except the quantitative limitations of 33-12-208(4); or

(c) permit the aggregate value of securities then loaned, sold to, purchased from, or invested in any one business entity under this section to exceed 10% of the total assets of the investment pool.

(3) The limitations of 33-12-202(1) do not apply to an insurer's investment in an investment pool. However, an insurer may not acquire an investment in an investment pool under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of investments then held by the insurer under this section:

(a) in any one investment pool would exceed 10% of its admitted assets;

(b) in all investment pools investing in investments permitted under subsection (1)(b) would exceed 25% of its admitted assets; or

(c) in all investment pools would exceed 35% of its admitted assets.

(4) For an investment in an investment pool to be qualified under this chapter, the manager of the investment pool:

(a) must be organized under the laws of the United States or a state and designated as the pool manager in a pooling agreement;

(b) must be:

(i) the insurer, an affiliated insurer, a business entity affiliated with the insurer, a qualified bank, or a business entity registered under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 (15 U.S.C. 80b-1, et seq.), as amended;

(ii) in the case of a reciprocal insurer or interinsurance exchange, its attorney-in-fact; or

(iii) in the case of a United States branch of an alien insurer, its United States manager or affiliates or subsidiaries of its United States manager;

(c) shall compile and maintain detailed accounting records setting forth:

(i) the cash receipts and disbursements reflecting each participant's proportionate investment in the investment pool;

(ii) a complete description of all underlying assets of the investment pool, including amount, interest rate, maturity date, if any, and other appropriate designations; and

(iii) other records that, on a daily basis, allow third parties to verify each participant's investment in the investment pool; and

(d) shall maintain the assets of the investment pool in one or more accounts, in the name of or on behalf of the investment pool, under a custody agreement with a qualified bank. The custody agreement must:

(i) state and recognize the claims and rights of each participant;

(ii) acknowledge that the underlying assets of the investment pool are held solely for the benefit of each participant in proportion to the aggregate amount of its investments in the investment pool; and

(iii) contain an agreement that the underlying assets of the investment pool may not be commingled with the general assets of the custodian qualified bank or any other person.

(5) The pooling agreement for each investment pool must be in writing and must provide that:

(a) an insurer and its affiliated insurers or, in the case of an investment pool investing solely in investments permitted under subsection (1)(a), the insurer and its subsidiaries or affiliates, any pension or profit-sharing plan of the insurer or its subsidiaries and affiliates, or in the case of a United States branch of an alien insurer, the affiliates or subsidiaries of its United States manager shall, at all times, hold 100% of the interests in the investment pool;

(b) the underlying assets of the investment pool may not be commingled with the general assets of the pool manager or any other person;

(c) in proportion to the aggregate amount of each pool participant's interest in the investment pool:

(i) each participant owns an undivided interest in the underlying assets of the investment pool; and

(ii) the underlying assets of the investment pool are held solely for the benefit of each participant;

(d) a participant or, in the event of the participant's insolvency, bankruptcy, or receivership, its trustee, receiver, or other successor in interest may withdraw all or any portion of its investment from the investment pool under the terms of the pooling agreement;

(e) withdrawals may be made on demand without penalty or other assessment on any business day, but settlement of funds must occur within a reasonable and customary period not to exceed 5 business days. Distributions under this section must be calculated in each case net of all then-applicable fees and expenses of the investment pool. The pooling agreement must provide that the pool manager shall distribute to a participant, at the discretion of the pool manager:

(i) in cash, the then fair market value of the participant's pro rata share of each underlying asset of the investment pool;

(ii) in kind, a pro rata share of each underlying asset; or

(iii) in a combination of cash and in-kind distributions, a pro rata share in each underlying asset.

(f) the pool manager shall make the records of the investment pool available for inspection by the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-205. Equity interests. (1) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-202, an insurer may acquire equity interests in business entities organized under the laws of any domestic jurisdiction.

(2) An insurer may not acquire an investment under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of investments then held by the insurer under this section would exceed 20% of its admitted assets or the amount of equity interests then held by the insurer that are not listed on a qualified exchange would exceed 5% of its admitted assets. An accident and health insurer is subject to this section but is subject to the same aggregate limitation on equity interests as a property and casualty insurer under 33-12-305 and is also subject to the provisions of 33-12-312.

(3) An insurer may not acquire under the provisions of this section any investments that the insurer may acquire under 33-12-207.

(4) An insurer may not short sell equity investments unless the insurer covers the short sale by owning the equity investment or an unrestricted right to the equity instrument exercisable within 6 months of the short sale.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-206. Tangible personal property under lease. (1) (a) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-202, an insurer may acquire tangible personal property or equity interests in tangible personal property located or used wholly or in part within a domestic jurisdiction, either directly or indirectly through limited partnership interests and general partnership interests not otherwise prohibited by 33-12-104(4), joint ventures, stock of an investment subsidiary, membership interests in a limited liability company, trust certificates, or other similar instruments.

(b) Investments acquired under subsection (1)(a) are eligible only if:

(i) the property is subject to a lease or other agreement with a person whose rated credit instruments could be acquired by the insurer under 33-12-203 in the amount of the purchase price of the personal property; and

(ii) the lease or other agreement provides the insurer with the right to receive rental, purchase, or other fixed payments for the use or purchase of the property and the aggregate value of the payments, together with the estimated residual value of the property at the end of its useful life and the estimated tax benefits to the insurer resulting from ownership of the property, are adequate to return the cost of the insurer's investment in the property, plus a return considered adequate by the insurer.

(2) The insurer shall compute the amount of each investment under this section on the basis of the out-of-pocket purchase price and applicable related expenses paid by the insurer for the investment, net of each borrowing made to finance the purchase price and expenses, to the extent the borrowing is without recourse to the insurer.

(3) An insurer may not acquire an investment under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of all investments then held by the insurer under this section would exceed:

(a) 2% of its admitted assets; or

(b) 0.5% of its admitted assets as to any single item of tangible personal property.

(4) For purposes of determining compliance with the limitations of 33-12-202, investments acquired by an insurer under this section must be aggregated with those acquired under 33-12-203 and each lessee of the property under a lease referred to in this section is considered the issuer of an obligation in the amount of the investment of the insurer in the property determined as provided in subsection (2).

(5) Nothing in this section is applicable to tangible personal property lease arrangements between an insurer and its subsidiaries and affiliates under a cost-sharing arrangement or agreement permitted under Title 33, chapter 2, part 11.

33-12-207. Mortgage loans — income-producing real estate — real estate for the accommodation of business — quantitative limitations. (1) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-203, an insurer may acquire obligations secured by mortgages on real estate situated within a domestic jurisdiction, either directly or indirectly through limited partnership interests and general partnership interests not otherwise prohibited by 33-12-104(4), joint ventures, stock of an investment subsidiary, membership interests in a limited liability company, trust certificates, or other similar instruments. However, a mortgage loan that is secured by other than a first lien may not be acquired unless the insurer is the holder of the first lien. The obligations held by the insurer and any obligations with an equal lien priority may not, at the time of acquisition of the obligation, exceed:

(a) 90% of the fair market value of the real estate if the mortgage loan is secured by a purchase money mortgage or similar security received by the insurer upon disposition of the real estate;

(b) 80% of the fair market value of the real estate if the mortgage loan requires immediate scheduled payment in periodic installments of principal and interest, has an amortization period of 30 years or less, and has periodic payments made no less frequently than annually. Each periodic payment must be sufficient to ensure that at all times the outstanding principal balance of the mortgage loan is not greater than the outstanding principal balance that would be outstanding under a mortgage loan with the same original principal balance, with the same interest rate, and requiring equal payments of principal and interest with the same frequency over the same amortization period. Mortgage loans permitted under this subsection (1)(b) are permitted notwithstanding the fact that they provide for a payment of the principal balance prior to the end of the period of amortization of the loan. For residential mortgage loans, the 80% limitation may be increased to 97% if acceptable private mortgage insurance has been obtained.

(c) 75% of the fair market value of the real estate for mortgage loans that do not meet the requirements of subsection (1)(a) or (1)(b).

(2) For purposes of subsection (1)(a), the amount of an obligation required to be included in the calculation of the loan-to-value ratio may be reduced to the extent the obligation is insured by the federal housing administration, guaranteed by the administrator of veterans affairs, or insured or guaranteed by their successors.

(3) A mortgage loan that is held by an insurer under 33-12-103(6) or that is acquired under this section and is restructured in a manner that meets the requirements of a restructured mortgage loan in accordance with the NAIC Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual or a successor publication continues to qualify as a mortgage loan under this chapter.

(4) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-202, credit lease transactions that do not qualify for investment under 33-12-203 with the following characteristics are exempt from the provisions of subsection (1)(a) of this section:

(a) the loan amortizes over the initial fixed lease term in at least an amount sufficient so that the loan balance at the end of the lease term does not exceed the original appraised value of the real estate;

(b) the lease payments cover or exceed the total debt service over the life of the loan;

(c) a tenant or its affiliated entity with rated credit instruments that have an SVO 1 or 2 designation or a comparable rating from a nationally recognized statistical rating organization recognized by the SVO has a full faith and credit obligation to make the lease payments;

(d) the insurer holds or is the beneficial holder of a first lien mortgage on the real estate;

(e) the expenses of the real estate are passed through to the tenant, excluding exterior, structural, parking, and heating, ventilation, and air conditioning replacement expenses, unless annual escrow contributions, from cash flows derived from the lease payments, cover the expense shortfall; and

(f) there is a perfected assignment of the rents due pursuant to the lease to or for the benefit of the insurer.

(5) (a) An insurer may acquire, manage, and dispose of real estate situated in a domestic jurisdiction, either directly or indirectly through limited partnership interests and general partnership interests not otherwise prohibited by 33-12-104(4), joint ventures, stock of an investment subsidiary, membership interests in a limited liability company, trust certificates, or other similar instruments. The real estate must be income-producing or intended for improvement or development for investment purposes under an existing program, in which case the real estate is considered to be income-producing.

(b) The real estate may be subject to mortgages, liens, or other encumbrances, the amount of which must, to the extent that the obligations secured by the mortgages, liens, or encumbrances are without recourse to the insurer, be deducted from the amount of the investment of the insurer in the real estate for purposes of determining compliance with subsections (7)(b) and (7)(c).

(6) (a) An insurer may acquire, manage, and dispose of real estate for the convenient accommodation of the insurer's or the insurer's affiliates' business operations, including home office, branch office, and field office operations.

(b) Real estate acquired under this subsection (6) may include excess space for rent to others if the excess space, valued at its fair market value, would otherwise be a permitted investment under subsection (5) and is so qualified by the insurer.

(c) The real estate acquired under this subsection (6) may be subject to one or more mortgages, liens, or other encumbrances, the amount of which must, to the extent that the obligations secured by the mortgages, liens, or encumbrances are without recourse to the insurer, be deducted from the amount of the investment of the insurer in the real estate for purposes of determining compliance with subsection (7)(d).

(d) For purposes of this subsection (6), business operations may not include that portion of real estate used for the direct provision of health care services by an accident and health insurer for its insureds. An insurer may acquire real estate used for these purposes under subsection (5).

(7) (a) An insurer may not acquire an investment under subsection (1) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of all investments then held by the insurer under subsection (1) would exceed:

(i) 1% of its admitted assets in mortgage loans covering any one secured location;

(ii) 0.25% of its admitted assets in construction loans covering any one secured location; or

(iii) 2% of its admitted assets in construction loans in the aggregate.

(b) An insurer may not acquire an investment under subsection (5) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment and any outstanding guarantees made by the insurer in connection with the investment, the aggregate amount of investments then held by the insurer under subsection (5) plus the guarantees then outstanding would exceed:

(i) 1% of its admitted assets in one parcel or group of contiguous parcels of real estate, except that this limitation does not apply to that portion of real estate used for the direct provision of health care services by an accident and health insurer for its insureds, such as hospitals, medical clinics, medical professional buildings, or other health facilities used for the purpose of providing health services; or

(ii) 15% of its admitted assets in the aggregate, but not more than 5% of its admitted assets as to properties that are to be improved or developed.

(c) An insurer may not acquire an investment under subsection (5) or (6) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment and any outstanding guarantees made by the insurer in connection with the investment, the aggregate amount of all investments then held by the insurer under subsection (5) or (6) plus the guarantees then outstanding would exceed 45% of its admitted assets. However, an insurer may exceed this limitation by no more than 30% of its admitted assets if:

(i) this increased amount is invested only in residential mortgage loans;

(ii) the insurer has no more than 10% of its admitted assets invested in mortgage loans other than residential mortgage loans;

(iii) the loan-to-value ratio of each residential mortgage loan does not exceed 60% at the time the mortgage loan is qualified under this increased authority and the fair market value is supported by an appraisal no more than 2 years old prepared by an independent appraiser;

(iv) a single mortgage loan qualified under this increased authority may not exceed 0.5% of its admitted assets;

(v) the insurer files with the commissioner, and receives approval from the commissioner for, a plan that is designed to result in a portfolio of residential mortgage loans that is sufficiently geographically diversified; and

(vi) the insurer agrees to file annually with the commissioner records that demonstrate that its portfolio of residential mortgage loans is geographically diversified in accordance with the plan.

(d) The limitations of 33-12-202 do not apply to an insurer's acquisition of real estate under subsection (6). An insurer may not acquire real estate under subsection (6) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the acquisition, the aggregate amount of real estate then held by the insurer under subsection (6) would exceed 10% of its admitted assets. With the permission of the commissioner, additional amounts of real estate may be acquired under subsection (6).

33-12-208. Securities lending, repurchase, reverse repurchase, and dollar roll transactions. (1) An insurer may enter into securities lending, repurchase, reverse repurchase, and dollar roll transactions with business entities, subject to the following requirements:

(a) The insurer's board of directors shall adopt a written plan that is consistent with the requirements of the written plan provided for in 33-12-104(1) and that specifies guidelines and objectives to be followed, such as:

(i) a description of how cash received will be invested or used for general corporate purposes of the insurer;

(ii) operational procedures to manage interest rate risk, counterparty default risk, the conditions under which proceeds from reverse repurchase transactions may be used in the ordinary course of business, and the use of acceptable collateral in a manner that reflects the liquidity needs of the transaction; and

(iii) the extent to which the insurer may engage in these transactions.

(b) The insurer shall enter into a written agreement for all transactions authorized in this section other than dollar roll transactions. The written agreement must require that each transaction terminates no more than 1 year from its inception or upon the earlier demand of the insurer. The agreement must be with the business entity counterparty, but for securities lending transactions, the agreement may be with an agent acting on behalf of the insurer if the agent is a qualified business entity and if the agreement:

(i) requires the agent to enter into separate agreements with each counterparty that are consistent with the requirements of this section; and

(ii) prohibits securities lending transactions under the agreement with the agent or its affiliates.

(c) Cash received in a transaction under this section must be invested in accordance with this chapter and in a manner that recognizes the liquidity needs of the transaction or must be used by the insurer for its general corporate purposes. For as long as the transaction remains outstanding, the insurer or its agent or custodian shall maintain, as to acceptable collateral received in a transaction under this section, either physically or through the book-entry systems of the federal reserve, depository trust company, participants trust company, or other securities depositories approved by the commissioner:

(i) possession of the acceptable collateral;

(ii) a perfected security interest in the acceptable collateral; or

(iii) in the case of a jurisdiction outside of the United States, title to or rights of a secured creditor to the acceptable collateral.

(d) The limitations of 33-12-202 and 33-12-209 do not apply to the business entity counterparty exposure created by transactions under this section. For purposes of calculations made to determine compliance with this subsection (1)(d), effect may not be given to the insurer's future obligation to resell securities, in the case of a repurchase transaction, or to repurchase securities, in the case of a reverse repurchase transaction. An insurer may not enter into a transaction under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction:

(i) the aggregate amount of securities then loaned, sold to, or purchased from any one business entity counterparty under this section would exceed 5% of the insurer's admitted assets. In calculating the amount sold to or purchased from a business entity counterparty under repurchase or reverse repurchase transactions, effect may be given to netting provisions under a master written agreement.

(ii) the aggregate amount of all securities then loaned, sold to, or purchased from all business entities under this section would exceed 40% of the insurer's admitted assets.

(e) In a securities lending transaction, the insurer shall receive acceptable collateral having a market value as of the transaction date at least equal to 102% of the market value of the securities loaned by the insurer in the transaction as of that date. If at any time the market value of the acceptable collateral is less than the market value of the loaned securities, the business entity counterparty is obligated to deliver additional acceptable collateral, the market value of which, together with the market value of all acceptable collateral then held in connection with the transaction, equals at least 102% of the market value of the loaned securities.

(f) In a reverse repurchase transaction, other than a dollar roll transaction, the insurer shall receive acceptable collateral having a market value as of the transaction date at least equal to 95% of the market value of the securities transferred by the insurer in the transaction as of that date. If at any time the market value of the acceptable collateral is less than 95% of the market value of the securities transferred, the business entity counterparty is obligated to deliver additional acceptable collateral, the market value of which, together with the market value of all acceptable collateral then held in connection with the transaction, equals at least 95% of the market value of the transferred securities.

(g) In a dollar roll transaction, the insurer must receive cash in an amount at least equal to the market value of the securities transferred by the insurer in the transaction as of the transaction date.

(h) In a repurchase transaction, the insurer must receive as acceptable collateral transferred securities having a market value at least equal to 102% of the purchase price paid by the insurer for the securities. If at any time the market value of the acceptable collateral is less than 100% of the purchase price paid by the insurer, the business entity counterparty is obligated to provide additional acceptable collateral, the market value of which, together with the market value of all acceptable collateral then held in connection with the transaction, equals at least 102% of the purchase price. Securities acquired by an insurer in a repurchase transaction may not be sold in a reverse repurchase transaction, loaned in a securities lending transaction, or otherwise pledged.

(2) To constitute acceptable collateral for the purposes of this section, a letter of credit must have an expiration date beyond the term of the subject transaction.

33-12-209. Foreign investments and foreign currency exposure. (1) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-202, an insurer may acquire foreign investments or engage in investment practices with persons of or in foreign jurisdictions if the investments or investment practices are of substantially the same types as those that an insurer is permitted to acquire under this chapter, other than of the type permitted under 33-12-204 and if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of foreign investments then held by the insurer under this subsection (1):

(a) does not exceed 20% of its admitted assets; and

(b) in a single foreign jurisdiction does not exceed 10% of its admitted assets as to a foreign jurisdiction that has a sovereign debt rating of SVO 1 or 3% of its admitted assets as to any other foreign jurisdiction.

(2) (a) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-202, an insurer may acquire investments or engage in investment practices denominated in foreign currencies, whether or not they are foreign investments acquired under subsection (1) or additional foreign currency exposure as a result of the termination or expiration of a hedging transaction with respect to investments denominated in a foreign currency, if the aggregate amount of investments then held by the insurer under this subsection (2) denominated in:

(i) foreign currencies does not exceed 10% of its admitted assets; and

(ii) the foreign currency of a single foreign jurisdiction does not exceed 10% of its admitted assets as to a foreign jurisdiction that has a sovereign debt rating of SVO 1 or 3% of its admitted assets as to any other foreign jurisdiction.

(b) However, an investment under subsection (2)(a) may not be considered denominated in a foreign currency if the acquiring insurer enters into one or more contracts in transactions permitted under 33-12-210 and the business entity counterparty agrees under the contract or contracts to exchange all payments made on the foreign currency denominated investment for United States currency at a rate that effectively insulates the investment cash flows against future changes in currency exchange rates during the period the contract or contracts are in effect.

(3) (a) In addition to investments permitted under subsections (1) and (2), an insurer that is authorized to do business in a foreign jurisdiction and that has outstanding insurance, annuity, or reinsurance contracts on lives or risks resident or located in that foreign jurisdiction and denominated in foreign currency of that jurisdiction may acquire foreign investments respecting that foreign jurisdiction and may acquire investments denominated in the currency of that jurisdiction subject to the limitations of 33-12-202.

(b) However, investments made under this subsection (3) in obligations of foreign governments, their political subdivisions, and government-sponsored enterprises are not subject to the limitations of 33-12-202 if those investments carry an SVO rating of 1 or 2. The aggregate amount of investments acquired by the insurer under this subsection (3) may not exceed the greater of:

(i) the amount the insurer is required by the law of the foreign jurisdiction to invest in the foreign jurisdiction; or

(ii) 115% of the amount of its reserves, net of reinsurance, and other obligations under the contracts on lives or risks resident or located in the foreign jurisdiction.

(4) In addition to investments permitted under subsections (1) and (2), an insurer that is not authorized to do business in a foreign jurisdiction and that has outstanding insurance, annuity, or reinsurance contracts on lives or risks resident or located in that foreign jurisdiction and denominated in foreign currency of that jurisdiction may acquire foreign investments respecting that foreign jurisdiction and may acquire investments denominated in the currency of that jurisdiction subject to the limitations of 33-12-202. However, investments made under this subsection in obligations of foreign governments, their political subdivisions, and government-sponsored enterprises are not subject to the limitations of 33-12-202 if those investments carry an SVO rating of 1 or 2. The aggregate amount of investments acquired by the insurer under this subsection may not exceed 105% of the amount of its reserves, net of reinsurance, and other obligations under the contracts on lives or risks resident or located in the foreign jurisdiction.

(5) Investments acquired under this section must be aggregated with investments of the same types made under this chapter and, in a similar manner, for purposes of determining compliance with the limitations, if any, contained in this chapter. Investments in obligations of foreign governments, their political subdivisions, and government-sponsored enterprises, except for those exempted under subsections (3) and (4), are subject to the limitations of 33-12-202.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-210. Derivative transactions. An insurer may, directly or indirectly through an investment subsidiary, engage in derivative transactions under this section under the following conditions:

(1) (a) An insurer may use derivative instruments under this section to engage in hedging transactions and certain income-generation transactions as provided in rules adopted by the commissioner.

(b) An insurer must be able to demonstrate to the commissioner the intended hedging characteristics and the ongoing effectiveness of the derivative transaction or combination of the transactions through cash flow testing or other appropriate analyses.

(2) An insurer may enter into hedging transactions under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction:

(a) the aggregate statement value of options, caps, floors, and warrants not attached to another financial instrument purchased and used in hedging transactions does not exceed 5% of its admitted assets;

(b) the aggregate statement value of options, caps, and floors written in hedging transactions does not exceed 3% of its admitted assets; and

(c) the aggregate potential exposure of collars, swaps, forwards, and futures used in hedging transactions does not exceed 6.5% of its admitted assets.

(3) An insurer may enter into the following types of income-generation transactions only if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transactions, the aggregate statement value of the fixed-income assets that are subject to call or that generate the cash flows for payments under the caps or floors, plus the face value of fixed income securities underlying a derivative instrument subject to call, plus the amount of the purchase obligations under the put options does not exceed 10% of its admitted assets:

(a) sales of covered call options on noncallable, fixed-income securities, callable fixed-income securities if the option expires by its terms prior to the end of the noncallable period, or derivative instruments based on fixed-income securities;

(b) sales of covered call options on equity securities if the insurer holds in its portfolio or can immediately acquire, through the exercise of options, warrants, or conversion rights already owned, the equity securities subject to call during the complete term of the call option sold;

(c) sales of covered put options on investments that the insurer is permitted to acquire under this chapter if the insurer has placed in escrow or entered into a custodian agreement segregating cash or cash equivalents with a market value equal to the amount of its purchase obligations under the put option during the complete term of the put option sold; or

(d) sales of covered caps or floors if the insurer holds in its portfolio the investments generating the cash flow to make the required payments under the caps or floors during the complete term that the cap or floor is outstanding.

(4) An insurer shall include all counterparty exposure amounts in determining compliance with the limitations of 33-12-202.

(5) Pursuant to rules adopted under 33-12-111, the commissioner may approve additional transactions involving the use of derivative instruments in excess of the limits of subsection (2) or for other risk management purposes under rules adopted by the commissioner, but replication transactions may not be permitted for other than risk management purposes.

History: En. Sec. 22, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-211. Policy loans. A life insurer may lend to a policyholder, on the security of the cash surrender value of the policyholder's policy, a sum not exceeding the legal reserve that the insurer is required to maintain on the policy.

History: En. Sec. 23, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-212. Additional investment authority. (1) Under this subsection (1), an insurer may acquire an investment or may engage in investment practices described in 33-12-208 solely for the purpose of acquiring investments that exceed the quantitative limitations of 33-12-202 through 33-12-209. However, an insurer may not acquire an investment or engage in investment practices described in 33-12-208 under this subsection (1) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction:

(a) the aggregate amount of investments then held by an insurer under this subsection (1) would exceed 5% of its admitted assets; or

(b) the aggregate amount of investments as to a limitation in 33-12-202 through 33-12-209 then held by the insurer under this subsection (1) would exceed 1% of its admitted assets.

(2) (a) In addition to the authority provided under subsection (1), an insurer may acquire under this subsection (2) an investment of any kind or engage in investment practices described in 33-12-208 that are not specifically prohibited by this chapter without regard to the categories, conditions, standards, or other limitations of 33-12-202 through 33-12-209 if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction, the aggregate amount of investments then held under this subsection (2) would not exceed the lesser of:

(i) 10% of its admitted assets; or

(ii) 75% of its capital and surplus.

(b) However, an insurer may not acquire any investment or engage in any investment practice under this subsection (2) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction, the aggregate amount of all investments in any one person then held by the insurer under this subsection (2) would exceed 5% of its admitted assets.

(3) In addition to the investments acquired under subsections (1) and (2), an insurer may acquire under this subsection (3) an investment of any kind or engage in investment practices described in 33-12-208 that are not specifically prohibited by this chapter without regard to any limitations of 33-12-202 through 33-12-209 if:

(a) the commissioner grants prior approval;

(b) the insurer demonstrates that its investments are being made in a prudent manner and that the additional amounts will be invested in a prudent manner; and

(c) as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction, the aggregate amount of investments then held by the insurer under this subsection (3) does not exceed the greater of:

(i) 25% of its capital and surplus; or

(ii) 100% of capital and surplus less 10% of its admitted assets.

(4) An investment prohibited under 33-12-105 that is not permitted under 33-12-210 or additional derivative instruments acquired under 33-12-210 may not be acquired under this section.

Part 3
Property and Casualty, Financial Guaranty, Mortgage Guaranty, Surety, Marine, and Title Insurers

33-12-301. Applicability. Subject to the provisions of 33-12-101(2), this part applies to the investments and investment practices of property and casualty, financial guaranty, mortgage guaranty, surety, marine, and title insurers.

History: En. Sec. 25, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-302. General five percent diversification — medium-grade and lower-grade investments — Canadian investments. (1) (a) Except as otherwise specified in this chapter, an insurer may not acquire, directly or indirectly through an investment subsidiary, an investment under this chapter if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the insurer would hold more than 5% of its admitted assets in investments of all kinds issued, assumed, accepted, insured, or guaranteed by a single person.

(b) The 5% limitation in subsection (1)(a) does not apply to the aggregate amounts insured by a single financial guaranty insurer with the highest generic rating issued by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization.

(c) Asset-backed securities are not subject to the limitations of subsection (1)(a). However, an insurer may not acquire an asset-backed security if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of asset-backed securities that are secured by or evidencing an interest in a single asset or single pool of assets held by a trust or other business entity and that are then held by the insurer would exceed 5% of its admitted assets.

(2) (a) An insurer may not acquire, directly or indirectly through an investment subsidiary, an investment under 33-12-303, 33-12-306, or 33-12-309 or counterparty exposure under 33-12-310(4) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment:

(i) the aggregate amount of all medium-grade and lower-grade investments then held by the insurer would exceed 20% of its admitted assets;

(ii) the aggregate amount of lower-grade investments then held by the insurer would exceed 10% of its admitted assets;

(iii) the aggregate amount of investments rated 5 or 6 by the SVO then held by the insurer would exceed 5% of its admitted assets;

(iv) the aggregate amount of investments rated 6 by the SVO then held by the insurer would exceed 1% of its admitted assets; or

(v) the aggregate amount of medium-grade and lower-grade investments then held by the insurer that receive as cash income less than the equivalent yield for treasury issues with a comparative average life would exceed 1% of its admitted assets.

(b) An insurer may not acquire, directly or indirectly through an investment subsidiary, an investment under 33-12-303, 33-12-306, or 33-12-309 or counterparty exposure under 33-12-310(4) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment:

(i) the aggregate amount of medium-grade and lower-grade investments issued, assumed, accepted, insured, or guaranteed by any one person or, as to asset-backed securities secured by or evidencing an interest in a single asset or pool of assets, then held by the insurer would exceed 1% of its admitted assets; or

(ii) the aggregate amount of lower-grade investments issued, assumed, accepted, insured, or guaranteed by any one person or, as to asset-backed securities secured by or evidencing an interest in a single asset or pool of assets, then held by the insurer would exceed 0.5% of its admitted assets.

(c) If an insurer attains or exceeds the limit of any one rating category referred to in this subsection (2), the insurer is not precluded from acquiring investments in other rating categories subject to the specific and multicategory limits applicable to those investments.

(3) (a) An insurer may not acquire, directly or indirectly through an investment subsidiary, any Canadian investments authorized by this chapter if as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of the investments then held by the insurer would exceed 40% of its admitted assets or if the aggregate amount of Canadian investments not acquired under 33-12-303(1)(b) then held by the insurer would exceed 25% of its admitted assets.

(b) However, as to an insurer that is authorized to do business in Canada or that has outstanding insurance, annuity, or reinsurance contracts on lives or risks resident or located in Canada and denominated in Canadian currency, the limitations of subsection (3)(a) must be increased by the greater of:

(i) the amount the insurer is required by Canadian law to invest in Canada or to be denominated in Canadian currency; or

(ii) 125% of the amount of its reserves and other obligations under contracts on risks resident or located in Canada.

History: En. Sec. 26, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-303. Rated credit instruments. (1) Subject to the limitations of subsection (2), an insurer may acquire rated credit instruments in accordance with the following:

(a) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-302(2), but not to the limitations of 33-12-302(1), an insurer may acquire rated credit instruments issued, assumed, insured, or guaranteed by:

(i) the United States; or

(ii) a government-sponsored enterprise of the United States, if the instruments of the government-sponsored enterprise are assumed, guaranteed, or insured by the United States or are otherwise backed or supported by the full faith and credit of the United States.

(b) (i) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-302(2), but not to the limitations of 33-12-302(1), an insurer may acquire rated credit instruments issued, assumed, insured, or guaranteed by:

(A) Canada; or

(B) a government-sponsored enterprise of Canada, if the instruments of the government-sponsored enterprise are assumed, guaranteed, or insured by Canada or are otherwise backed or supported by the full faith and credit of Canada.

(ii) However, an insurer may not acquire an instrument under this subsection (1)(b) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of investments then held by the insurer under this subsection (1)(b) would exceed 40% of its admitted assets.

(c) (i) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-302(2), but not to the limitations of 33-12-302(1), an insurer may acquire rated credit instruments, excluding asset-backed securities:

(A) issued by a government money market mutual fund, a class one money market mutual fund, or a class one bond mutual fund;

(B) issued, assumed, insured, or guaranteed by a government-sponsored enterprise of the United States other than those eligible under subsection (1)(a);

(C) issued, assumed, insured, or guaranteed by a state if the instruments are general obligations of the state; or

(D) issued by a multilateral development bank.

(ii) However, an insurer may not acquire an instrument of any one fund, any one enterprise or entity, or any one state under this subsection (1)(c) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of investments then held in any one fund, enterprise, entity, or state under this subsection (1)(c) would exceed 10% of its admitted assets.

(d) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-302, an insurer may acquire preferred stocks that are not foreign investments and that meet the requirements of rated credit instruments if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment:

(i) the aggregate amount of preferred stocks then held by the insurer under this subsection (1)(d) does not exceed 20% of its admitted assets; and

(ii) the aggregate amount of preferred stocks then held by the insurer under this subsection (1)(d) that are not sinking fund stocks or rated P-1 or P-2 by the SVO does not exceed 10% of its admitted assets.

(e) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-302, in addition to those investments eligible under subsections (1)(a) through (1)(d), an insurer may acquire rated credit instruments that are not foreign investments.

(2) An insurer may not acquire special rated credit instruments under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of special rated credit instruments then held by the insurer would exceed 5% of its admitted assets.

History: En. Sec. 27, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-304. Insurer investment pools. (1) An insurer may acquire investments in investment pools that:

(a) invest only in:

(i) obligations that are rated 1 or 2 by the SVO or have an equivalent of an SVO 1 or 2 rating by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization recognized by the SVO or, in the absence of a 1 or 2 rating or equivalent rating, the issuer has outstanding obligations with an SVO 1 or 2 or equivalent rating and have:

(A) a remaining maturity of 397 days or less or a put option that entitles the holder to receive the principal amount of the obligation that may be exercised through maturity at specified intervals not exceeding 397 days; or

(B) a remaining maturity of 3 years or less and a floating interest rate that resets no less frequently than quarterly on the basis of a current short-term index (federal funds, prime rate, treasury bills, London interbank offered rate, or commercial paper) and is subject to no maximum limit if the obligations do not have an interest rate that varies inversely to market interest rate changes;

(ii) government money market mutual funds or class one money market mutual funds; or

(iii) securities lending, repurchase, and reverse repurchase transactions that meet all the requirements of 33-12-308, except the quantitative limitations of 33-12-308(1)(d); or

(b) invest only in investments that an insurer may acquire under this chapter if the insurer's proportionate interest in the amount invested in these investments does not exceed the applicable limits of this chapter.

(2) For an investment in an investment pool to be qualified under this chapter, the investment pool may not:

(a) acquire securities issued, assumed, insured, or guaranteed by the insurer or an affiliate of the insurer;

(b) borrow or incur any indebtedness for borrowed money, except for securities lending and reverse repurchase transactions that meet the requirements of 33-12-308, except the quantitative limitations of 33-12-308(1)(d); or

(c) permit the aggregate value of securities then loaned or sold to, purchased from, or invested in any one business entity under this section to exceed 10% of the total assets of the investment pool.

(3) The limitations of 33-12-302(1) do not apply to an insurer's investment in an investment pool. However, an insurer may not acquire an investment in an investment pool under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of investments then held by the insurer under this section:

(a) in any one investment pool would exceed 10% of its admitted assets;

(b) in all investment pools investing in investments permitted under subsection (1)(b) would exceed 25% of its admitted assets; or

(c) in all investment pools would exceed 40% of its admitted assets.

(4) For an investment in an investment pool to be qualified under this chapter, the manager of the investment pool:

(a) must be organized under the laws of the United States or a state and must be designated as the pool manager in a pooling agreement;

(b) must be:

(i) the insurer, an affiliated insurer, a business entity affiliated with the insurer, a qualified bank, or a business entity registered under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 (15 U.S.C. 80b-1, et seq.), as amended;

(ii) in the case of a reciprocal insurer or interinsurance exchange, its attorney-in-fact; or

(iii) in the case of a United States branch of an alien insurer, its United States manager or affiliates or subsidiaries of its United States manager;

(c) shall compile and maintain detailed accounting records setting forth:

(i) the cash receipts and disbursements reflecting each participant's proportionate investment in the investment pool;

(ii) a complete description of all underlying assets of the investment pool, including amount, interest rate, maturity date, if any, and other appropriate designations; and

(iii) other records that, on a daily basis, allow third parties to verify each participant's investment in the investment pool; and

(d) shall maintain the assets of the investment pool in one or more accounts, in the name of or on behalf of the investment pool, under a custody agreement with a qualified bank. The custody agreement must:

(i) state and recognize the claims and rights of each participant;

(ii) acknowledge that the underlying assets of the investment pool are held solely for the benefit of each participant in proportion to the aggregate amount of its investments in the investment pool; and

(iii) contain an agreement that the underlying assets of the investment pool may not be commingled with the general assets of the custodian qualified bank or any other person.

(5) The pooling agreement for each investment pool must be in writing and must provide that:

(a) an insurer and its affiliated insurers or, in the case of an investment pool investing solely in investments permitted under subsection (1)(a), the insurer and its subsidiaries or affiliates, any pension or profit-sharing plan of the insurer or its subsidiaries and affiliates, or in the case of a United States branch of an alien insurer, the affiliates or subsidiaries of its United States manager shall, at all times, hold 100% of the interests in the investment pool;

(b) the underlying assets of the investment pool may not be commingled with the general assets of the pool manager or any other person;

(c) in proportion to the aggregate amount of each pool participant's interest in the investment pool:

(i) each participant owns an undivided interest in the underlying assets of the investment pool; and

(ii) the underlying assets of the investment pool are held solely for the benefit of each participant;

(d) a participant or, in the event of the participant's insolvency, bankruptcy, or receivership, its trustee, receiver, or other successor in interest may withdraw all or any portion of its investment from the investment pool under the terms of the pooling agreement;

(e) withdrawals may be made on demand without penalty or other assessment on any business day, but settlement of funds must occur within a reasonable and customary period after withdrawal not to exceed 5 business days. Distributions under this subsection (5)(e) must be calculated in each case net of all then-applicable fees and expenses of the investment pool. The pooling agreement must provide that the pool manager shall distribute to a participant, at the discretion of the pool manager:

(i) in cash, the then fair market value of the participant's pro rata share of each underlying asset of the investment pool;

(ii) in kind, a pro rata share of each underlying asset; or

(iii) in a combination of cash and in-kind distributions, a pro rata share in each underlying asset; and

(f) the pool manager shall make the records of the investment pool available for inspection by the commissioner.

33-12-305. Equity interests. (1) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-302, an insurer may acquire equity interests in business entities organized under the laws of any domestic jurisdiction.

(2) An insurer may not acquire an investment under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of investments then held by the insurer under this section would exceed the greater of 25% of its admitted assets or 100% of its surplus as regards policyholders.

(3) An insurer may not acquire under this section any investments that the insurer may acquire under 33-12-307.

(4) An insurer may not short sell equity investments unless the insurer covers the short sale by owning the equity investment or an unrestricted right to the equity instrument exercisable within 6 months of the short sale.

History: En. Sec. 29, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-306. Tangible personal property under lease. (1) (a) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-302, an insurer may acquire tangible personal property or equity interests in tangible personal property located or used wholly or in part within a domestic jurisdiction, either directly or indirectly through limited partnership interests and general partnership interests not otherwise prohibited by 33-12-104(4), joint ventures, stock of an investment subsidiary, membership interests in a limited liability company, trust certificates, or other similar instruments.

(b) Investments acquired under subsection (1)(a) are eligible only if:

(i) the property is subject to a lease or other agreement with a person whose rated credit instruments in the amount of the purchase price of the personal property the insurer could then acquire under 33-12-303; and

(ii) the lease or other agreement provides the insurer the right to receive rental, purchase, or other fixed payments for the use or purchase of the property and the aggregate value of the payments, together with the estimated residual value of the property at the end of its useful life and the estimated tax benefits to the insurer resulting from ownership of the property, are adequate to return the cost of the insurer's investment in the property, plus a return considered adequate by the insurer.

(2) The insurer shall compute the amount of each investment under this section on the basis of the out-of-pocket purchase price and applicable related expenses paid by the insurer for the investment, net of each borrowing made to finance the purchase price and expenses, to the extent the borrowing is without recourse to the insurer.

(3) An insurer may not acquire an investment under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of all investments then held by the insurer under this section would exceed:

(a) 2% of its admitted assets; or

(b) 0.5% of its admitted assets as to any single item of tangible personal property.

(4) For purposes of determining compliance with the limitations of 33-12-302, investments acquired by an insurer under this section must be aggregated with those acquired under

33-12-303 and each lessee of the property under a lease referred to in this section is considered the issuer of an obligation in the amount of the investment of the insurer in the property determined as provided in subsection (2).

(5) This section is not applicable to tangible personal property lease arrangements between an insurer and its subsidiaries and affiliates under a cost-sharing arrangement or agreement permitted under Title 33, chapter 2, part 11.

History: En. Sec. 30, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-307. Mortgage loans — income producing real estate — real estate for accommodation of business — quantitative limitations. (1) (a) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-302, an insurer may acquire obligations secured by mortgages on real estate situated within a domestic jurisdiction, either directly or indirectly through limited partnership interests and general partnership interests not otherwise prohibited by 33-12-104(4), joint ventures, stock of an investment subsidiary, membership interests in a limited liability company, trust certificates, or other similar instruments. However, a mortgage loan that is secured by other than a first lien may not be acquired unless the insurer is the holder of the first lien. The obligations held by the insurer and any obligations with an equal lien priority may not, at the time of acquisition of the obligation, exceed:

(i) 90% of the fair market value of the real estate if the mortgage loan is secured by a purchase money mortgage or similar security received by the insurer upon disposition of the real estate;

(ii) 80% of the fair market value of the real estate if the mortgage loan requires immediate scheduled payment in periodic installments of principal and interest, has an amortization period of 30 years or less, and has periodic payments made no less frequently than annually. Each periodic payment must be sufficient to ensure that at all times the outstanding principal balance of the mortgage loan is not greater than the outstanding principal balance that would be outstanding under a mortgage loan with the same original principal balance, with the same interest rate, and requiring equal payments of principal and interest with the same frequency over the same amortization period. Mortgage loans permitted under this subsection (1)(b) are permitted notwithstanding the fact that they provide for a payment of the principal balance prior to the end of the period of amortization of the loan. For residential mortgage loans, the 80% limitation may be increased to 97% if acceptable private mortgage insurance has been obtained.

(iii) 75% of the fair market value of the real estate for mortgage loans that do not meet the requirements of subsections (1)(a)(i) or (1)(a)(ii).

(b) For purposes of subsection (1)(a), the amount of an obligation required to be included in the calculation of the loan-to-value ratio may be reduced to the extent the obligation is insured by the federal housing administration, guaranteed by the administrator of veterans affairs, or insured or guaranteed by their successors.

(c) A mortgage loan that is held by an insurer under 33-12-103(6) or acquired under this section and that is restructured in a manner that meets the requirements of a restructured mortgage loan in accordance with the NAIC Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual or a successor publication continues to qualify as a mortgage loan under this chapter.

(d) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-302, credit lease transactions that do not qualify for investment under 33-12-303 and that have the following characteristics are exempt from the provisions of subsection (1)(a):

(i) the loan amortizes over the initial fixed lease term in at least an amount sufficient so that the loan balance at the end of the lease term does not exceed the original appraised value of the real estate;

(ii) the lease payments cover or exceed the total debt service over the life of the loan;

(iii) a tenant or its affiliated entity with rated credit instruments that have an SVO 1 or 2 designation or a comparable rating from a nationally recognized statistical rating organization recognized by the SVO has a full faith and credit obligation to make the lease payments;

(iv) the insurer holds or is the beneficial holder of a first lien mortgage on the real estate;

(v) the expenses of the real estate are passed through to the tenant, excluding exterior, structural, parking, and heating, ventilation, and air conditioning replacement expenses, unless annual escrow contributions, from cash flows derived from the lease payments, cover the expense shortfall; and

(vi) there is a perfected assignment of the rents due pursuant to the lease to or for the benefit of the insurer.

(2) (a) An insurer may acquire, manage, and dispose of real estate situated in a domestic jurisdiction, either directly or indirectly through limited partnership interests and general partnership interests not otherwise prohibited by 33-12-104(4), joint ventures, stock of an investment subsidiary, membership interests in a limited liability company, trust certificates, or other similar instruments. The real estate must be income-producing or intended for improvement or development for investment purposes under an existing program, in which case the real estate must be considered to be income-producing.

(b) The real estate may be subject to mortgages, liens, or other encumbrances, the amount of which must, to the extent that the obligations secured by the mortgages, liens, or encumbrances are without recourse to the insurer, be deducted from the amount of the investment of the insurer in the real estate for purposes of determining compliance with subsections (4)(b) and (4)(c).

(3) (a) An insurer may acquire, manage, and dispose of real estate for the convenient accommodation of the insurer's or the insurer's affiliates' business operations, including home office, branch office, and field office operations.

(b) Real estate acquired under this subsection (3) may include excess space for rent to others if the excess space, valued at its fair market value, would otherwise be a permitted investment under subsection (2) and is so qualified by the insurer.

(c) The real estate acquired under this subsection (3) may be subject to one or more mortgages, liens, or other encumbrances, the amount of which must, to the extent that the obligations secured by the mortgages, liens, or encumbrances are without recourse to the insurer, be deducted from the amount of the investment of the insurer in the real estate for purposes of determining compliance with subsection (4)(d).

(d) For purposes of this subsection (3), business operations may not include that portion of real estate used for the direct provision of health care services by an insurer whose insurance premiums and required statutory reserves for accident and health insurance constitute at least 95% of total premium considerations or total statutory required reserves, respectively. An insurer may acquire real estate used for these purposes under subsection (2).

(4) (a) An insurer may not acquire an investment under subsection (1) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of all investments then held by the insurer under subsection (1) would exceed:

(i) 1% of its admitted assets in mortgage loans covering any one secured location;

(ii) 0.25% of its admitted assets in construction loans covering any one secured location; or

(iii) 1% of its admitted assets in construction loans in the aggregate.

(b) An insurer may not acquire an investment under subsection (2) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment and any outstanding guarantees made by the insurer in connection with the investment, the aggregate amount of investments then held by the insurer under subsection (2) plus the guarantees then outstanding would exceed:

(i) 1% of its admitted assets in any one parcel or group of contiguous parcels of real estate, except that this limitation does not apply to that portion of real estate used for the direct provision of health care services by an insurer whose insurance premiums and required statutory reserves for accident and health insurance constitute at least 95% of total premium considerations or total statutory required reserves, respectively, such as hospitals, medical clinics, medical professional buildings, or other health facilities used for the purpose of providing health services; or

(ii) the lesser of 10% of its admitted assets or 40% of its surplus as regards policyholders in the aggregate, except for an insurer whose insurance premiums and required statutory reserves for accident and health insurance constitute at least 95% of total premium considerations or total statutory required reserves, respectively. This limitation must be increased to 15% of its admitted assets in the aggregate.

(c) An insurer may not acquire an investment under subsection (1) or (2) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment and any outstanding guarantees it has made in connection with the investment, the aggregate amount of all investments then held by the insurer under subsection (1) or (2) plus the guarantees then outstanding would exceed 25% of its admitted assets.

(d) The limitations of 33-12-302 do not apply to an insurer's acquisition of real estate under subsection (3). An insurer may not acquire real estate under subsection (3) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the acquisition, the aggregate amount of all real estate then held by the insurer under subsection (3) would exceed 10% of its admitted assets. With the permission of the commissioner, additional amounts of real estate may be acquired under subsection (3).

History: En. Sec. 31, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-308. Securities lending, repurchase, reverse repurchase, and dollar roll transactions. (1) An insurer may enter into securities lending, repurchase, reverse repurchase, and dollar roll transactions with business entities, subject to the following requirements:

(a) The insurer's board of directors shall adopt a written plan that is consistent with the requirements of the written plan provided for in 33-12-104(1) that specifies guidelines and objectives to be followed, such as:

(i) a description of how cash received will be invested or used for general corporate purposes of the insurer;

(ii) operational procedures to manage interest rate risk, counterparty default risk, the conditions under which proceeds from reverse repurchase transactions may be used in the ordinary course of business, and the use of acceptable collateral in a manner that reflects the liquidity needs of the transaction; and

(iii) the extent to which the insurer may engage in these transactions.

(b) The insurer shall enter into a written agreement for all transactions authorized in this section other than dollar roll transactions. The written agreement must require that each transaction terminate no more than 1 year from its inception or upon the earlier demand of the insurer. The agreement must be with the business entity counterparty, but for securities lending transactions, the agreement may be with an agent acting on behalf of the insurer if the agent is a qualified business entity and if the agreement:

(i) requires the agent to enter into separate agreements with each counterparty that are consistent with the requirements of this section; and

(ii) prohibits securities lending transactions under the agreement with the agent or its affiliates.

(c) Cash received in a transaction under this section must be invested in accordance with this chapter and in a manner that recognizes the liquidity needs of the transaction or must be used by the insurer for its general corporate purposes. For as long as the transaction remains outstanding, the insurer or its agent or custodian shall maintain, as to acceptable collateral received in a transaction under this section, either physically or through the book-entry systems of the federal reserve, depository trust company, participants trust company, or other securities depositories approved by the commissioner:

(i) possession of the acceptable collateral;

(ii) a perfected security interest in the acceptable collateral; or

(iii) in the case of a jurisdiction outside of the United States, title to or rights of a secured creditor to the acceptable collateral.

(d) The limitations of 33-12-302 and 33-12-309 do not apply to the business entity counterparty exposure created by transactions under this section. For purposes of calculations made to determine compliance with this subsection (1), no effect will be given to the insurer's future obligation to resell securities, in the case of a repurchase transaction, or to repurchase securities, in the case of a reverse repurchase transaction. An insurer may not enter into a transaction under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction:

(i) the aggregate amount of securities then loaned, sold to, or purchased from any one business entity counterparty under this section would exceed 5% of the insurer's admitted assets. In calculating the amount sold to or purchased from a business entity counterparty under repurchase or reverse repurchase transactions, effect may be given to netting provisions under a master written agreement.

(ii) the aggregate amount of all securities then loaned, sold to, or purchased from all business entities under this section would exceed 40% of its admitted assets. However, the limitation of this subsection (1)(d) does not apply to reverse repurchase transactions as long as the borrowing is used to meet operational liquidity requirements resulting from an officially declared catastrophe and is subject to a plan approved by the commissioner.

(e) In a securities lending transaction, the insurer shall receive acceptable collateral having a market value as of the transaction date at least equal to 102% of the market value of the securities loaned by the insurer in the transaction as of that date. If at any time the market value of the acceptable collateral is less than the market value of the loaned securities, the business entity counterparty must be obligated to deliver additional acceptable collateral, the market value of which, together with the market value of all acceptable collateral then held in connection with the transaction, equals at least 102% of the market value of the loaned securities.

(f) In a reverse repurchase transaction, other than a dollar roll transaction, the insurer shall receive acceptable collateral having a market value as of the transaction date at least equal to 95% of the market value of the securities transferred by the insurer in the transaction as of that date. If at any time the market value of the acceptable collateral is less than 95% of the market value of the securities transferred, the business entity counterparty is obligated to deliver additional acceptable collateral, the market value of which, together with the market value of all acceptable collateral then held in connection with the transaction, equals at least 95% of the market value of the transferred securities.

(g) In a dollar roll transaction, the insurer must receive cash in an amount at least equal to the market value of the securities transferred by the insurer in the transaction as of the transaction date.

(h) In a repurchase transaction, the insurer must receive as acceptable collateral transferred securities having a market value at least equal to 102% of the purchase price paid by the insurer for the securities. If at any time the market value of the acceptable collateral is less than 100% of the purchase price paid by the insurer, the business entity counterparty must be obligated to provide additional acceptable collateral, the market value of which, together with the market value of all acceptable collateral then held in connection with the transaction, equals at least 102% of the purchase price. Securities acquired by an insurer in a repurchase transaction may not be sold in a reverse repurchase transaction, loaned in a securities lending transaction, or otherwise pledged.

(2) To constitute acceptable collateral for the purposes of this section, a letter of credit must have an expiration date beyond the term of the subject transaction.

History: En. Sec. 32, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-309. Foreign investments and foreign currency exposure. (1) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-302, an insurer may acquire foreign investments or engage in investment practices with persons of or in foreign jurisdictions if the investments or investment practices are of substantially the same types as those that an insurer is permitted to acquire under this chapter, other than of the type permitted under 33-12-304 and if as a result of and after giving effect to the investment the aggregate amount of foreign investments then held by the insurer under this subsection (1):

(a) does not exceed 20% of its admitted assets; and

(b) in a single foreign jurisdiction does not exceed 10% of its admitted assets as to a foreign jurisdiction that has a sovereign debt rating of SVO 1 or 5% of its admitted assets as to any other foreign jurisdiction.

(2) (a) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-302, an insurer may acquire investments or engage in investment practices denominated in foreign currencies, whether or not they are foreign investments acquired under subsection (1), or additional foreign currency exposure as a result of the termination or expiration of a hedging transaction with respect to investments denominated in a foreign currency if:

(i) the aggregate amount of investments then held by the insurer under this subsection (2) denominated in foreign currencies does not exceed 15% of its admitted assets; and

(ii) the aggregate amount of investments then held by the insurer under this subsection (2) denominated in the foreign currency of a single foreign jurisdiction does not exceed 10% of its admitted assets as to a foreign jurisdiction that has a sovereign debt rating of SVO 1 or 5% of its admitted assets as to any other foreign jurisdiction.

(b) However, an investment may not be considered denominated in a foreign currency if the acquiring insurer enters into one or more contracts in transactions permitted under 33-12-310 and the business entity counterparty agrees under the contract or contracts to exchange all payments made on the foreign currency denominated investment for United States currency at a rate that effectively insulates the investment cash flows against future changes in currency exchange rates during the period the contract or contracts are in effect.

(3) (a) Subject to 33-12-302 and subsection (3)(b) of this section and in addition to investments permitted under subsections (1) and (2), an insurer that is authorized to do business in a foreign jurisdiction and that has outstanding insurance, annuity, or reinsurance contracts on lives or risks resident or located in that foreign jurisdiction and denominated in foreign currency of that jurisdiction may acquire foreign investments respecting that foreign jurisdiction and may acquire investments denominated in the currency of that jurisdiction.

(b) However, investments made under this subsection (3) in obligations of foreign governments, their political subdivisions, and government-sponsored enterprises are not subject to the limitations of 33-12-302 if those investments carry an SVO rating of 1 or 2. The aggregate amount of investments acquired by the insurer under this subsection (3) may not exceed the greater of:

(i) the amount the insurer is required by law to invest in the foreign jurisdiction; or

(ii) 125% of the amount of its reserves, net of reinsurance, and other obligations under the contracts.

(4) (a) In addition to investments permitted under subsections (1) and (2) and except as provided in subsection (4)(b), an insurer that is not authorized to do business in a foreign jurisdiction and that has outstanding insurance, annuity, or reinsurance contracts on lives or risks resident or located in a foreign jurisdiction and denominated in foreign currency of that jurisdiction may acquire foreign investments respecting that foreign jurisdiction and may acquire investments denominated in the currency of that jurisdiction subject to the limitations set forth in 33-12-302.

(b) However, investments made under this subsection (4) in obligations of foreign governments, their political subdivisions, and government-sponsored enterprises are not subject to the limitations of 33-12-302 if those investments carry an SVO rating of 1 or 2. The aggregate amount of investments acquired by the insurer under this subsection (4) may not exceed 105% of the amount of its reserves, net of reinsurance, and other obligations under the contracts on risks resident or located in the foreign jurisdiction.

(5) Investments acquired under this section must be aggregated with investments of the same types made under this chapter and, in a similar manner, for purposes of determining compliance with the limitations, if any, contained in this chapter. Investments in obligations of foreign governments, their political subdivisions, and government-sponsored enterprises, except for those exempted under subsections (3) and (4), are subject to the limitations of 33-12-302.

History: En. Sec. 33, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-310. Derivative transactions. An insurer may, directly or indirectly through an investment subsidiary, engage in derivative transactions under this section under the following conditions:

(1) (a) An insurer may use derivative instruments under this section to engage in hedging transactions and certain income generation transactions as provided in rules adopted by the commissioner.

(b) An insurer must be able to demonstrate to the commissioner the intended hedging characteristics and the ongoing effectiveness of the derivative transaction or combination of transactions through cash flow testing or other appropriate analyses.

(2) An insurer may enter into hedging transactions under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction:

(a) the aggregate statement value of options, caps, floors, and warrants not attached to another financial instrument purchased and used in hedging transactions does not exceed 5% of its admitted assets;

(b) the aggregate statement value of options, caps, and floors written in hedging transactions does not exceed 3% of its admitted assets; and

(c) the aggregate potential exposure of collars, swaps, forwards, and futures used in hedging transactions does not exceed 6.5% of its admitted assets.

(3) An insurer may enter into the following types of income-generation transactions only if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transactions, the aggregate statement value of the fixed-income assets that are subject to call, plus the face value of fixed-income securities underlying a derivative instrument subject to call, plus the amount of the purchase obligations under the put options does not exceed 10% of its admitted assets:

(a) sales of covered call options on noncallable, fixed-income securities, callable fixed-income securities if the option expires by its terms prior to the end of the noncallable period, or derivative instruments based on fixed-income securities;

(b) sales of covered call options on equity securities if the insurer holds in its portfolio or can immediately acquire, through the exercise of options, warrants, or conversion rights already owned, the equity securities subject to call during the complete term of the call option sold; or

(c) sales of covered put options on investments that the insurer is permitted to acquire under this chapter if the insurer has placed in escrow or entered into a custodian agreement segregating cash or cash equivalents with a market value equal to the amount of its purchase obligations under the put option during the complete term of the put option sold.

(4) An insurer shall include all counterparty exposure amounts in determining compliance with the limitations of 33-12-302.

(5) Pursuant to rules adopted under 33-12-111, the commissioner may approve additional transactions involving the use of derivative instruments in excess of the limits of subsection (2) or for other risk management purposes under rules adopted by the commissioner, but replication transactions may not be permitted for other than risk management purposes.

History: En. Sec. 34, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-311. Additional investment authority. (1) Under this section, an insurer may acquire investments, may engage in investment practices of any kind that are not specifically prohibited by this chapter, or may engage in investment practices without regard to any limitation in 33-12-302 through 33-12-309. However, an insurer may not acquire an investment or engage in an investment practice under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction, the aggregate amount of the investments then held by the insurer under this section would exceed the greater of:

(a) its unrestricted surplus; or

(b) the lesser of:

(i) 10% of its admitted assets; or

(ii) 50% of its surplus as regards policyholders.

(2) An insurer may not acquire an investment or engage in an investment practice under subsection (1) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction, the aggregate amount of all investments in any one person then held by the insurer under subsection (1) would exceed 5% of its admitted assets.

History: En. Sec. 35, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-312. Reserve requirements — authority of commissioner. (1) Subject to all other limitations and requirements of this title, a property and casualty, financial guaranty, mortgage guaranty, surety, marine, title, or accident and health insurer shall maintain an amount at least equal to 100% of adjusted loss reserves and loss adjustment expense reserves, 100% of adjusted unearned premium reserves, and 100% of statutorily required policy and contract reserves in:

(a) cash and cash equivalents;

(b) high-grade investments and medium-grade investments that qualify under 33-12-303 or 33-12-304;

(c) equity interests that qualify under 33-12-305 and that are traded on a qualified exchange;

(d) investments of the type set forth in 33-12-309 if the investments are rated in the highest generic rating category by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization recognized by the SVO for rating foreign jurisdictions and if any foreign currency exposure is effectively hedged through the maturity date of the investments;

(e) qualifying investments of the type set forth in subsection (1)(b), (1)(c), or (1)(d) that are acquired under 33-12-311;

(f) interest and dividends receivable on qualifying investments of the type set forth in subsections (1)(a) through (1)(e); or

(g) reinsurance recoverable on paid losses.

(2) (a) For purposes of determining the amount of assets to be maintained under this subsection (2), the calculation of adjusted loss reserves and loss adjustment expense reserves, adjusted unearned premium reserves, and statutorily required policy and contract reserves must be based on the amounts reported as of the most recent annual or quarterly statement date.

(b) Adjusted loss reserves and loss adjustment expense reserves must be equal to the sum of the amounts derived from the following calculations:

(i) the result of each amount reported by the insurer as losses and loss adjustment expenses unpaid for each accident year for each individual line of business; multiplied by

(ii) the discount factor that is applicable to the line of business and accident year published by the internal revenue service under Internal Revenue Code section 846 (26 U.S.C. 846), as amended, for the calendar year that corresponds to the most recent annual statement of the insurer; minus

(iii) accrued retrospective premiums discounted by an average discount factor. The discount factor must be calculated by dividing the losses and loss adjustment expenses unpaid after discounting (the product of subsections (2)(b)(i) and (2)(b)(ii)) by loss and loss adjustment expense reserves before discounting subsection (2)(b)(i).

(c) For purposes of the calculations in subsections (2)(b)(i) through (2)(b)(iii), the losses and loss adjustment expenses unpaid must be determined net of anticipated salvage and subrogation and gross of any discount for the time value of money or tabular discount.

(d) Adjusted unearned premium reserves must be equal to the result of the following calculation:

(i) the amount reported by the insurer as unearned premium reserves; minus

(ii) the admitted asset amounts reported by the insurer as:

(A) premiums in and agents' balances in the course of collection, accident and health premiums due and unpaid, and uncollected premiums for accident and health premiums;

(B) premiums, agents' balances, and installments booked but deferred and not yet due; and

(C) bills receivable, taken for premium.

(3) A property and casualty, financial guaranty, mortgage guaranty, surety, marine, title, or accident and health insurer shall supplement its annual statement with a reconciliation and summary of its assets and reserve requirements as required in (1). A reconciliation and summary showing that an insurer's assets as required in subsection (1) are greater than or equal to its undiscounted reserves referred to in subsection (1) must be sufficient to satisfy this requirement. Upon prior notification, the commissioner may require an insurer to submit a reconciliation and summary with any quarterly statement filed during the calendar year.

(4) If a property and casualty, financial guaranty, mortgage guaranty, surety, marine, title, or accident and health insurer's assets and reserves do not comply with subsection (1), the insurer shall notify the commissioner immediately of the amount by which the reserve requirements exceed the annual statement value of the qualifying assets, explain why the deficiency exists, and within 30 days of the date of the notice, propose a plan of action to remedy the deficiency.

(5) (a) If the commissioner determines that an insurer is not in compliance with subsection (1), the commissioner shall require the insurer to eliminate the condition causing the noncompliance within a specified time from the date the notice of the commissioner's requirement is mailed or delivered to the insurer.

(b) If an insurer fails to comply with the commissioner's requirement under subsection (5)(a), the insurer is considered to be in hazardous financial condition and the commissioner shall take one or more of the actions authorized by law with respect to insurers in hazardous financial condition.

Part 1
General Provisions

33-14-101. Short title. This chapter may be cited as the "Insurance Premium Finance Company Act".

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 360, L. 1981.

33-14-102. Definitions. As used in this chapter, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Insurance premium finance company" means a person engaged in the business of entering into premium finance agreements with insureds or of acquiring such premium finance agreements from insurance producers, brokers, or other premium finance companies.

(2) "Licensee" means a premium finance company holding a license issued by the commissioner under this chapter.

(3) "Premium finance agreement" means an agreement by which an insured or prospective insured promises to pay to a premium finance company the amount advanced or to be advanced under the agreement to an insurer or to an insurance producer or broker in payment of premiums on an insurance contract, together with a finance charge as authorized by this chapter, and as security therefor the insurance premium finance company receives an assignment of the unearned premium.

(4) "Unearned premium" means that part of the original premium, including a deposit, not yet earned by the insurer and therefore due the insured if a policy is canceled.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 360, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 123, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

Part 2
Licensing

33-14-201. License required — fee — renewal of license. (1) Except as provided in subsection (4), a person may not engage in the business of financing insurance premiums without first having obtained a license as a premium finance company from the commissioner. Any person who engages in the business of financing insurance premiums in the state without obtaining a license as provided under this chapter is, upon conviction, guilty of a misdemeanor.

(2) The annual license fee is $100. A license may be renewed as of January 1 each year, upon payment of the fee of $100. The license fee must be paid to the commissioner.

(3) The person to whom the license or the renewal of the license is issued shall file sworn answers, subject to the penalties of perjury, to any interrogatories as the commissioner may require. The commissioner may, at any time, require the applicant fully to disclose the identity of all stockholders, partners, officers, and employees, and the commissioner may, in the commissioner's discretion, refuse to issue or renew a license in the name of any firm, partnership, or corporation if not satisfied that any officer, employee, stockholder, or partner who may materially influence the applicant's conduct meets the standards of this chapter.

(4) This section does not apply to and a license is not required of:

(a) savings and loan associations, banks, trust companies, licensed finance companies, credit unions, and resident insurance producers; or

(b) a person who, within 15 days after entering into an insurance premium finance agreement, transfers the agreement to a licensee or to any of the organizations exempt under this subsection (4).

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 360, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 16, Ch. 451, L. 1993.

Building and loan associations, Title 32, ch. 2.
Credit unions, Title 32, ch. 3.
Insurance producers, adjusters, consultants, and administrators, Title 33, ch. 17.

33-14-202. Applicant qualifications — hearing. (1) Upon the filing of an application and the payment of the license fee, the commissioner may make a background examination of each applicant and shall issue a premium finance company license if the applicant is qualified in accordance with this chapter. If the commissioner denies the application, the applicant may file a written demand for a hearing pursuant to the provisions of 33-1-701.

(2) The commissioner shall issue or renew a license when the commissioner is satisfied that the person to be licensed:

(a) is competent and trustworthy and intends to act in good faith in the capacity involved by the license applied for;

(b) has a good business reputation and has had experience, training, or education that qualifies the applicant in the business for which the license is applied; and

(c) if a corporation, is a corporation incorporated under the laws of the state or is a foreign corporation authorized to transact business in the state.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 360, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 40, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

33-14-203. License revocation — suspension. The commissioner may revoke or suspend the license of a premium finance company when and if after investigation it appears to the commissioner that:

(1) a license issued to the company was obtained by fraud;

(2) there was misrepresentation in the application for the license;

(3) the holder of the license has otherwise shown himself untrustworthy or incompetent to act as a premium finance company; or

(4) the company has violated any provisions of this chapter.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 360, L. 1981.

33-14-204. Records required of licensees — form — inspection. (1) Every premium finance company shall maintain records of its premium finance transactions, and the records shall be open to examination and investigation by the commissioner. The commissioner may at any time require the company to bring such records as he may direct to the commissioner's office for examination.

(2) Every premium finance company shall preserve its records of premium finance transactions for at least 3 years after making the final entry in respect to any premium finance agreement. The records may be preserved in photographic form.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 360, L. 1981.

Part 3
Operation and Regulation

33-14-301. Premium finance agreements — contents — form — delivery. (1) A premium finance agreement shall:

(a) be dated, signed by the insured or by any person authorized in writing to act in behalf of the insured, and the printed portion thereof shall be in at least 8-point type;

(b) contain the name and place of business of the insurance producer negotiating the related insurance policy, the name and residence or the place of business of the insured as specified by him, the name and place of business of the premium finance company to which payments are to be made, and a description of the insurance policies involved and the amount of the premium therefor; and

(c) set forth when applicable:

(i) the total amount of the premiums;

(ii) the amount of the downpayment;

(iii) the principal balance (the difference between the items enumerated in subsections (1)(c)(i) and (1)(c)(ii));

(iv) the amount of the finance charge;

(v) the balance payable by the insured (the sum of the items enumerated in subsections (1)(c)(iii) and (1)(c)(iv)); and

(vi) the number of installments required, the amount of each installment expressed in dollars, and the due date or period thereof.

(2) The items set out in subsection (1)(c) need not be stated in the sequence or order in which they appear in that subsection, and additional items may be included to explain the computations made in determining the amount to be paid by the insured.

(3) The information required by subsection (1) may only be required in the initial agreement if the premium finance company and the insured enter into an open-end credit transaction, which is defined as a plan prescribing the terms of credit transactions that may be made thereunder from time to time and under the terms of which a finance charge may be computed on the outstanding unpaid balance from time to time thereunder.

(4) The premium finance company or the insurance producer shall deliver to the insured or mail to him at his address shown in the agreement a complete copy of the agreement.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 360, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

33-14-302. Charges for premium financing regulated — method of computation. (1) A premium finance company may not charge, contract for, receive, or collect a finance charge other than as permitted by this chapter.

(2) The finance charge must be computed on the balance of the premiums due (after subtracting the downpayment made by the insured in accordance with the premium finance agreement) from the effective date of the insurance coverage for which the premiums are being advanced to and including the date when the final payment of the premium finance agreement is payable.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the finance charge may not exceed interest at the annual rate of 21%, plus a service charge of $12.50 per premium finance agreement. The service charge of $12.50 need not be refunded upon cancellation or prepayment.

(4) An insured may prepay his premium finance agreement in full at any time prior to the due date of the final payment and in such event the unearned finance charge shall be refunded.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 360, L. 1981.

33-14-303. Delinquency charges regulated. (1) A premium finance agreement may provide for the payment by the insured of a delinquency charge of $1 to a maximum of 5% of the delinquent installment but not to exceed $5 on any installment that is in default for 5 days or more.

(2) If the default results in the cancellation of any insurance contract listed in the agreement, the agreement may provide for payment by the insured of a cancellation charge equal to the difference between any delinquency charge or default charge imposed with respect to the installment in default and $5. A premium finance agreement may also provide for the payment of attorney's fees and court costs if the agreement is referred for collection to an attorney not a salaried employee of the insurance premium finance company.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 360, L. 1981.

33-14-304. Cancellation of insurance upon default. (1) When a premium finance agreement contains a power of attorney or other authority enabling the insurance premium finance company to cancel any insurance contract listed in the agreement, the insurance contract or contracts may not be canceled by the premium finance company unless the cancellation is effectuated in accordance with this section.

(2) Written notice must be mailed to the insured setting forth the intent of the insurance premium finance company to cancel the insurance contract unless the default is cured prior to the date stated in the notice. The written notice must be mailed at least 10 days prior to the date stated in the notice. The insurance producer indicated on the premium finance agreement must also be mailed 10 days' notice of this action.

(3) Pursuant to the power of attorney or other authority referred to above, the insurance premium finance company may cancel on behalf of the insured by mailing to the insurer written notice stating when the cancellation will become effective, and the insurance contract must be canceled as if the notice of cancellation had been submitted by the insured but without requiring the return of the insurance contract. If the insurer or its insurance producer does not provide the insurance premium finance company with a specific mailing address for the purpose of receipt of the notice, mailing by the insurance premium finance company to the insurer at the address that is on file with the commissioner is considered sufficient notice under this section. The insurance premium finance company shall also mail a notice of cancellation to the insured at the insured's last-known address and to the insurance producer indicated on the premium finance agreement.

(4) All statutory, regulatory, and contractual restrictions providing that the insurance contract may not be canceled unless notice is given to a governmental agency, mortgagee, or other third party apply whenever cancellation is effected under the provisions of this section. The insurer shall give the prescribed notice in behalf of itself or the insured to any governmental agency, mortgagee, or other third party on or before the second business day after the day it receives the notice of cancellation from the premium finance company and shall determine the effective date of cancellation taking into consideration the number of days' notice required to complete the cancellation.

33-14-305. Return of unearned premiums. (1) Whenever a financed insurance contract is canceled by a person other than the insured, the insurer shall process cancellation of the financed insurance policy on a pro rata basis. The insurer shall return whatever gross unearned premiums are due under the insurance contract to the premium finance company for the account of the insured or insureds.

(2) If the crediting of the return premiums to the account of the insured results in a surplus over the amount due from the insured, the premium finance company shall refund the excess to the insured, except that a refund is not required if the excess amounts to less than $1.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 360, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 123, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 17, Ch. 451, L. 1993.

33-14-306. Agreement effective as security interest. No filing of the premium finance agreement or recording of a premium finance transaction shall be necessary to perfect the validity of the agreement as a secured transaction as against creditors, subsequent purchasers, pledgees, encumbrancers, successors, or assigns.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 360, L. 1981.

Part 1
Scope and Definitions

33-15-101. Scope. Parts 1 through 5 do not apply as to:

(1) reinsurance;

(2) policies or contracts not issued for delivery in this state or delivered in this state;

(3) ocean marine and foreign trade insurances;

(4) title insurance, except as to the following provisions: 33-15-102, 33-15-103, 33-15-303, 33-15-305, 33-15-306, 33-15-307, 33-15-316, and 33-15-411.

History: En. Sec. 258, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3701; amd. Sec. 17, Ch. 303, L. 1981.

33-15-102. Definitions. (1) "Policy" means the written contract of or written agreement for or effecting insurance, by whatever name called, and includes all clauses, riders, endorsements, and papers attached thereto and a part thereof.

(2) "Premium" is the consideration for insurance, by whatever name called. Any assessment or membership, policy, survey, inspection, service, or similar fee or charge in consideration for an insurance contract is deemed part of the premium.

History: En. Secs. 259, 260, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3702, 40-3703.

Cross-References

Premium — exception of placement fee — state compensation insurance fund, 33-18-212.

33-15-103. Power to contract — purchase of insurance by minors. (1) Any person of competent legal capacity may contract for insurance.

(2) Any minor of the age of 15 years or more, as determined by the nearest birthday, may, notwithstanding his minority, contract for annuities and for insurance upon his own life, body, health, property, liabilities, or other interests or on the person of another in whom the minor has an insurable interest. Such a minor shall, notwithstanding such minority, be deemed competent to exercise all rights and powers with respect to or under any contract for annuity or for insurance upon his own life, body, or health or any contract such minor effected upon his own property, liabilities, or other interests or on the person of another, as might be exercised by a person of full legal age, and may at any time surrender his interest in any such contracts and give valid discharge for any benefit accruing or money payable thereunder. Such a minor shall not, by reason of his minority, be entitled to rescind, avoid, or repudiate the contract or to rescind, avoid, or repudiate any exercise of a right or privilege thereunder, except that such a minor, not otherwise emancipated, shall not be bound by any unperformed agreement to pay by promissory note or otherwise any premium on any such annuity or insurance contract.

(3) If any minor mentioned in subsection (2) above is possessed of an estate that is being administered by a guardian, no such contract shall be binding upon the estate as to payment of premiums except as and when consented to by the guardian and approved by the district court of the county in which the administration of the estate is pending, and such consent and approval shall be required as to each annual premium payment.

(4) Any annuity contract or policy of life or disability insurance procured by or for a minor under subsection (2) above shall be made payable either to the minor or his estate or to a person having an insurable interest in the life of the minor under 33-15-201.

History: En. Sec. 267, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3710; amd. Sec. 147, Ch. 575, L. 1981.

Part 2
Insurable Interests

33-15-201. Restrictions on contracting for personal insurance — insurable interests — violation. (1) Any individual of competent legal capacity may procure or effect an insurance contract upon his own life or body for the benefit of any person. But no person shall procure or cause to be procured any insurance contract upon the life or body of another individual unless the benefits under such contract are payable to the individual insured or his personal representatives or to a person having, at the time when such contract was made, an insurable interest in the individual insured.

(2) If the beneficiary, assignee, or other payee under any contract made in violation of this section receives from the insurer any benefits thereunder accruing upon the death, disablement, or injury of the individual insured, the individual insured or his personal representative may maintain an action to recover such benefits from the person so receiving them.

(3) "Insurable interest" with reference to personal insurance includes only interests as follows:

(a) in the case of individuals related closely by blood or by law, a substantial interest engendered by love and affection;

(b) in the case of other persons, a lawful and substantial economic interest in having the life, health, or bodily safety of the individual insured continue, as distinguished from an interest which would arise only by or would be enhanced in value by the death, disablement, or injury of the individual insured.

(4) An individual heretofore or hereafter party to a contract or option for the purchase or sale of an interest in a business partnership or firm or of shares of stock of a closed corporation or of an interest in such shares has an insurable interest in the life of each individual party to such contract and for the purposes of such contract only, in addition to any insurable interest which may otherwise exist as to the life of such individual.

(5) A charitable institution has an insurable interest in an individual if:

(a) the individual authorizes the charitable institution to purchase insurance naming the charitable institution as an irrevocable beneficiary; and

(b) the insurance is purchased with contributions made by the individual.

History: En. Sec. 261, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3704; amd. Sec. 148, Ch. 575, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 670, L. 1991.

33-15-205. Restrictions on property insurance — interest. (1) No contract of insurance of property or of any interest in property or arising from property shall be enforceable as to the insurance except for the benefit of persons having an insurable interest in the things insured as at the time of the loss.

(2) "Insurable interest" as used in this section means any actual, lawful, and substantial economic interest in the safety or preservation of the subject of the insurance free from loss, destruction, or pecuniary damage or impairment.

(3) The measure of an insurable interest in property is the extent to which the insured might be damnified by loss, injury, or impairment thereof.

History: En. Sec. 262, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3705.

33-15-206. Interest of named insured — change of interest on death — transfer. (1) When the name of the person insured is specified in a policy insuring property, the insurance can be applied only to his own proper interest.

(2) A change of interest, by will or succession, on the death of the insured does not avoid an insurance of property, and the insurance passes to the person taking his interest in the thing insured.

(3) A transfer of interest by one of several partners, joint owners, or owners in common, who are jointly insured, to the others does not avoid an insurance of property even though it has been agreed that the insurance shall cease upon an alienation of the thing insured.

History: En. Secs. 263, 264, 265, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3706, 40-3707, 40-3708.

33-15-207. Insurance without interest or of wager — void. (1) Every stipulation in a policy of insurance of property for the payment of loss without regard to absence of an insurable interest in such property on the part of the insured or that the policy shall be received as proof of such interest is void.

(2) Every policy executed by way of gaming or wagering is void.

33-15-301. Requiring standard provisions — waiver. (1) Insurance contracts must contain the standard or uniform provisions and benefits required by the applicable provisions of this code pertaining to contracts of particular kinds of insurance. The commissioner may waive a particular provision in a particular insurance policy form if:

(a) the commissioner finds the provision or benefit unnecessary for the protection of the insured and inconsistent with the purposes of the policy; and

(b) the policy is otherwise approved by the commissioner.

(2) A policy or certificate may not contain any provision or benefit inconsistent with or contradictory to any standard or uniform provision or benefit used or required to be used, but the commissioner may approve any substitute provision or benefit that is, in the commissioner's opinion, not less favorable in any particular to the insured or beneficiary than the provisions otherwise required.

(3) In lieu of the provisions required by this code for contracts for particular kinds of insurance, substantially similar provisions required by the law of the domicile of a foreign or alien insurer may be used when approved by the commissioner.

(4) A provision, if required to be contained in the policy, may not be waived by agreement between the insurer and any other person.

33-15-303. Contents of policies in general — identification. (1) Each policy must specify:

(a) the names of the parties to the contract;

(b) the subject of the insurance;

(c) the risks insured against;

(d) the time when the insurance under the policy takes effect and the period during which the insurance is to continue;

(e) the premium;

(f) the conditions pertaining to the insurance.

(2) If under the policy the exact amount of premium is determinable only at stated intervals or termination of the contract, a statement of the basis and rates upon which the premium is to be determined and paid must be included.

(3) All policies and annuity contracts issued by insurers and the forms of policies and annuity contracts filed with the commissioner must have printed on the policy or annuity contract an appropriate designating letter or figure, combination of letters or figures, or terms identifying the respective forms of policies or contracts. Each form, including riders and endorsements, must be identified by a designating letter or figure placed in a lower, preferably left-hand, corner of the first page of the form. Whenever any change is made in any form, the designating letters, figures, or terms on the form must be correspondingly changed and the revision date must be noted next to the designating letters.

33-15-304. Permissible content. A policy may contain additional provisions not inconsistent with this code and which are:

(1) required to be inserted by the laws of the insurer's domicile;

(2) necessary, on account of the manner in which the insurer is constituted or operated, in order to state the rights and obligations of the parties to the contract; or

(3) desired by the insurer and neither prohibited by law nor in conflict with any provisions required to be included therein.

33-15-305. Prohibited content — charter or bylaws. No policy shall contain any provision purporting to make any portion of the charter, bylaws, or other constituent document of the insurer, other than the subscribers' agreement or power of attorney of a reciprocal insurer, a part of the contract unless such portion is set forth in full in the policy. Any policy provision in violation of this section shall be invalid.

33-15-307. Underwriters' and combination policies. (1) Two or more authorized insurers may jointly issue and shall be jointly and severally liable on an underwriters' policy bearing their names. Any one insurer may issue policies in the name of an underwriter's department, and such policy shall plainly show the true name of the insurer.

(2) Two or more insurers may, with the approval of the commissioner, issue a combination policy which shall contain provisions substantially as follows:

(a) that the insurers executing the policy shall be severally liable for the full amount of any loss or damage, according to the terms of the policy, or for specified percentages or amounts thereof, aggregating the full amount of insurance under the policy; and

(b) that service of process or of any notice or proof of loss required by such policy, upon any of the insurers executing the policy, shall constitute service upon all such insurers.

(3) This section shall not apply to cosurety obligations.

33-15-308. Explanation of charges. An insurer, health service corporation, or health maintenance organization that issues policies, certificates, membership contracts, or subscriber contracts for delivery in this state on or after January 1, 2000, and that limits payment of health care services based on standards described as usual and customary, reasonable and customary, prevailing fee, allowable charges, a relative value schedule, or other comparable terms shall include, displayed in the schedule page or elsewhere in the policy, certificate, membership contract, or subscriber contract:

(1) a definition of the term or terms and an explanation of how the limitation of payment based on the term or terms is derived;

(2) if the standard of the term or terms is derived by the use of a database, a description of the database reasonably calculated to inform the insured or certificate holder of the method used to define the geographic or demographic area from which the data used to determine the term or terms is derived; and

(3) a statement informing the insured that the insured's health care provider may charge more than the limits established by the defined terms and that the additional charges may not be covered by the policy, certificate, membership contract, or subscriber contract.

33-15-309 through 33-15-314 reserved.

33-15-315. Validity of noncomplying forms. Any insurance policy, rider, or endorsement hereafter issued and otherwise valid which contains any condition or provision not in compliance with the requirements of this code shall not be thereby rendered invalid but shall be construed and applied in accordance with such conditions and provisions as would have applied had such policy, rider, or endorsement been in full compliance with this code.

History: En. Sec. 281, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3724.

33-15-316. Construction of policies. Every insurance contract shall be construed according to the entirety of its terms and conditions as set forth in the policy and as amplified, extended, or modified by any rider, endorsement, or application which is a part of the policy.

33-15-322. Purpose. (1) The purpose of 33-15-321 through 33-15-329 is to establish minimum standards for language used in policies, contracts, and certificates of life, disability, credit life, and credit disability insurance delivered or issued for delivery in this state to facilitate ease of reading by insureds.

(2) Sections 33-15-321 through 33-15-329 are not intended to increase the risk assumed by insurance companies or other entities subject to 33-15-321 through 33-15-329 or to supersede their obligation to comply with the substance of other insurance legislation applicable to life, disability, credit life, or credit disability insurance policies. Sections 33-15-321 through 33-15-329 are not intended to impede flexibility and innovation in the development of policy forms or content or to lead to the standardization of policy forms or content.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 302, L. 1981.

33-15-323. Definitions. As used in 33-15-321 through 33-15-329, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Company" or "insurer" means any life or disability insurance company, fraternal benefit society, nonprofit health service corporation, nonprofit hospital service corporation, nonprofit medical service corporation, prepaid health plan, dental care plan, vision care plan, pharmaceutical plan, health maintenance organization, and all similar types of organizations.

(2) "Policy" or "policy form" means any:

(a) policy, contract, plan, or agreement of life or disability insurance, including credit life and credit disability insurance, delivered or issued for delivery in this state by any company subject to 33-15-321 through 33-15-329;

(b) certificate, contract, or policy issued by a fraternal benefit society; and

(c) certificate issued pursuant to a group insurance policy delivered or issued for delivery in this state.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 302, L. 1981.

33-15-324. Application — exceptions. (1) Sections 33-15-321 through 33-15-329 apply to all policies delivered or issued for delivery in this state by any company on or after the date such forms must be approved under 33-15-321 through 33-15-329, but nothing in 33-15-321 through 33-15-329 applies to:

(a) a policy which is a security subject to federal jurisdiction;

(b) a group policy covering a group of 1,000 or more lives at date of issue, other than a group credit life insurance policy or a group credit disability insurance policy, but a certificate issued pursuant to a group policy delivered or issued for delivery in this state is not exempt;

(c) a group annuity contract which serves as a funding vehicle for pension, profit-sharing, or deferred compensation plans;

(d) a form used in connection with, as a conversion from, as an addition to, or in exchange pursuant to a contractual provision for a policy delivered or issued for delivery on a form approved or permitted to be issued prior to the dates such forms must be approved under 33-15-321 through 33-15-329; or

(e) the renewal of a policy delivered or issued for delivery prior to the dates such forms must be approved under 33-15-321 through 33-15-329.

(2) Sections 33-15-321 through 33-15-329 provide the exclusive manner for determining language simplification standards for any policy forms.

(3) A non-English language policy delivered or issued for delivery in this state is in compliance with 33-15-325(1)(a) if the insurer certifies that the policy is translated from an English language policy which complies with 33-15-325(1)(a).

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 302, L. 1981.

33-15-325. Minimum policy language simplification standards. (1) In addition to any other requirements of law, no policy form, except as stated in 33-15-324, may be delivered or issued for delivery in this state on or after the date such form must be approved under 33-15-321 through 33-15-329, unless:

(a) the text achieves a minimum score of 40 on the Flesch reading ease test or an equivalent score on any other comparable test as provided in subsection (3);

(b) it is printed, except for specification pages, schedules, and tables, in not less than 10-point type, 1-point leaded;

(c) the style, arrangement, and overall appearance of the policy give no undue prominence to any portion of the text of the policy or to any endorsements or riders; and

(d) it contains a table of contents or an index of the principal sections of the policy if the policy has more than 3,000 words printed on three or fewer pages of text, or if the policy has more than three pages regardless of the number of words.

(2) For the purposes of this section, a Flesch reading ease test score is measured by the following method:

(a) For policy forms containing 10,000 words or less of text, the entire form is analyzed. For policy forms containing more than 10,000 words, the readability of two 200-word samples per page may be analyzed instead of the entire form. The samples must be separated by at least 20 printed lines.

(b) The number of words and sentences in the text is counted and the total number of words is divided by the total number of sentences. The figure obtained is multiplied by a factor of 1.015.

(c) The total number of syllables is counted and divided by the total number of words. The figure obtained is multiplied by a factor of 84.6.

(d) The sum of the figures computed under subsections (2)(b) and (2)(c) subtracted from 206.835 equals the Flesch reading ease score for the policy form.

(e) For the purposes of subsections (2)(b) through (2)(d), the following procedures are used:

(i) a contraction, hyphenated word, or numbers and letters, if separated by spaces, are counted as one word;

(ii) a unit of words ending with a period, semicolon, or colon, but excluding headings and captions, is counted as a sentence; and

(iii) a syllable means a unit of spoken language consisting of one or more letters of a word as divided by an accepted dictionary. If the dictionary shows two or more equally acceptable pronunciations of a word, the pronunciation containing fewer syllables may be used.

(f) The term "text" as used in this section includes all printed matter except the following:

(i) the name and address of the insurer; the name, number, or title of the policy; the table of contents or index; captions and subcaptions; specification pages, schedules, or tables; and

(ii) policy language which is drafted to conform to the requirements of a federal law, regulation, or agency interpretation; policy language required by a collectively bargained agreement; medical terminology; words which are defined in the policy; and policy language required by law or regulation. The insurer must identify the language or terminology excepted by this subsection and certify in writing that the language or terminology is entitled to be excepted by this subsection.

(3) Any other reading test may be approved by the commissioner for use as an alternative to the Flesch reading ease test if it is comparable in result to the Flesch reading ease test.

(4) Filings subject to this section must be accompanied by a certificate signed by an officer of the insurer stating that it meets the minimum reading ease score on the test used or stating that the score is lower than the minimum required but should be approved in accordance with 33-15-327. To confirm the accuracy of any certification, the commissioner may require the submission of further information to verify the certification in question.

(5) At the option of the insurer, riders, endorsements, applications, and other forms made a part of the policy may be scored as separate forms or as part of the policy with which they may be used.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 302, L. 1981.

33-15-326. Construction — time period. Nothing in 33-15-321 through 33-15-329 may be construed to negate any law of this state permitting the issuance of any policy form after it has been on file for the time period specified.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 302, L. 1981.

33-15-327. Powers of the commissioner. The commissioner may authorize a lower score than the Flesch reading ease score required in 33-15-325(1)(a) whenever, in his sole discretion, he finds that a lower score:

(1) will provide a more accurate reflection of the readability of a policy form;

(2) is warranted by the nature of a particular policy form or type or class of policy forms; or

(3) is caused by certain policy language which is drafted to conform to the requirements of any state law, regulation, or agency interpretation.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 302, L. 1981.

33-15-328. Approval of forms. A policy form meeting the requirements of 33-15-325(1)(a) may be approved by the commissioner notwithstanding the provisions of other laws that specify content of policies if the approved policy form provides policyholders and claimants protection not less favorable than they would be entitled to under such laws.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 302, L. 1981.

33-15-329. Applicability schedule. (1) Except as provided in 33-15-324, 33-15-321 through 33-15-329 apply to all policy forms filed on or after July 1, 1983. No policy form may be delivered or issued for delivery in this state on or after July 1, 1986, unless approved by the commissioner or permitted to be issued under 33-15-321 through 33-15-329. Any policy form that has been approved or permitted to be issued prior to July 1, 1986, and that meets the standards set by 33-15-321 through 33-15-329 need not be refiled for approval but may continue to be lawfully delivered or issued for delivery in this state upon the filing with the commissioner of a list of such forms identified by form number and accompanied by a certificate as to each such form in the manner provided in 33-15-325(4).

(2) The commissioner may, in his sole discretion, extend the dates in subsection (1).

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 302, L. 1981.

33-15-330 through 33-15-332 reserved.

33-15-333. Short title. Sections 33-15-333 through 33-15-340 may be cited as the “Property and Casualty Insurance Policy Language Simplification Act”.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 416, L. 1993.

33-15-334. Purpose. (1) The purpose of 33-15-333 through 33-15-340 is to establish minimum language and format standards to make property and casualty policies easier to read.

(2) Sections 33-15-333 through 33-15-340 are not intended to increase the risk assumed under policies subject to 33-15-333 through 33-15-340. Sections 33-15-333 through 33-15-340 are not intended to impede flexibility and innovation in the development of policy forms or content. Sections 33-15-333 through 33-15-340 do not grant authority to the commissioner to mandate the standardization of policy forms or content.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 416, L. 1993.

33-15-335. Definitions. As used in 33-15-333 through 33-15-340, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Casualty insurance" does not include accident and health or disability insurance.

(2) "Policy" or "policy form" means any written contract of property or casualty insurance delivered or issued for delivery in this state by or on behalf of any insurer licensed in this state.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 416, L. 1993.

33-15-336. Applicability. (1) Other statutes of this state setting simplification standards for language or format do not apply to property and casualty policies.

(2) Sections 33-15-333 through 33-15-340 do not apply to policies in manuscript form or to the following kinds of insurance:

(a) ocean marine;

(b) surety and financial institution bonds;

(c) reinsurance;

(d) commercial aviation; or

(e) large commercial risks whose aggregate annual premiums for insurance on all risks totals at least $100,000.

(3) A non-English policy is considered in compliance with 33-15-337 if it was translated from an English policy that complies with 33-15-337.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 416, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 25, Ch. 472, L. 1999.

33-15-337. Minimum policy simplification standards. (1) All property and casualty policies subject to 33-15-333 through 33-15-340 must take into consideration the following factors:

(a) use of simple sentence structure, short sentences, and personal style;

(b) use of commonly understood words and everyday conversational language consistent with the policy's standing as a contract;

(c) avoidance of use of technical and legal terms and words with special meanings whenever possible;

(d) minimal reference to other sections or provisions of the policy;

(e) logical organization of text; and

(f) legibility.

(2) The policy must include a table of contents and notice section of important provisions.

(3) Each section must be self-contained and independent. However, general provisions applicable to more than one section may be included in a common section.

(4) The policy, except for declarations pages, schedules, and tables, must be printed in not less than 10-point type, 1-point leaded.

(5) The policy must be printed in a legible type style, with adequate contrast between ink and paper. Captions, headings, and spacings must be used to increase overall legibility.

(6) Policy exclusions may use technical terms, terms with special meanings, and court-interpreted terms to ensure policy clarity.

(7) Technical terms and words with special meanings must be avoided whenever possible.

(8) The policy text must achieve a minimum score of 40 on the Flesch reading ease test, an equivalent score on a comparable test, or a lower score on either if the commissioner finds the policy reasonably easy to read. For purposes of this section, a Flesch reading ease test must be scored by the following method:

(a) For a policy containing 10,000 words or less, the entire policy must be analyzed. For a policy containing more than 10,000 words, the readability of two 100-word samples per page may be analyzed instead. The samples must be separated by at least 20 printed lines.

(b) The total number of words in the text or sample must be divided by the total number of sentences. The figure obtained must be multiplied by 1.015.

(c) The total number of syllables in the text or sample must be divided by the total number of words. The figure obtained must be multiplied by 84.6.

(d) The sum of the figures computed under subsections (8)(b) and (8)(c) subtracted from 206.835 equals the Flesch reading ease test score.

(9) (a) For purposes of subsection (8), the following procedures must be used:

(i) A contraction, hyphenated word, number, and letter, when separated by spaces, are counted as one word.

(ii) A unit of text ending with a period, semicolon, or colon is counted as a sentence.

(iii) A syllable means a unit of spoken language consisting of one or more letters of a word as divided by an accepted dictionary. When the dictionary shows two or more equally acceptable pronunciations of a word, the pronunciation containing fewer syllables may be used.

(iv) At the option of the insurer, a form made a part of the policy may be scored separately or as part of the policy.

(b) The term "text", as used in this section, includes all printed matter except:

(i) the name and address of the insurer;

(ii) the name, number, or title of the policy or form;

(iii) the table of contents or index;

(iv) headings and captions; and

(v) declarations pages, schedules, or tables.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 416, L. 1993.

33-15-338. Powers of commissioner. (1) At the commissioner's discretion, the commissioner may extend any dates under 33-15-333 through 33-15-340.

(2) The commissioner has sole authority to enforce the provisions of 33-15-333 through 33-15-340 or to seek remedies for its violation.

(3) The commissioner may authorize a lower score than the Flesch reading ease score required in 33-15-337 when, in the commissioner's discretion, a lower score:

(a) will provide a more accurate reflection of the readability of a policy;

(b) is warranted by the nature of a particular policy or type or class of policy; or

(c) is caused by certain policy language that is drafted to conform to the requirements of any state law, regulation, or agency interpretation.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 416, L. 1993.

33-15-339. Compliance with other statutorily required language. The requirements of any other laws that specify the language or content of a policy may be met by a policy complying with the provisions of 33-15-337. However, the policy must provide protection that, considered as a whole, is not less favorable to the insured than is required by the other laws.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 416, L. 1993.

33-15-340. Liability and coverage not imputed. The existence or nonexistence of coverage or liability under a policy may not be construed from policy approval by the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 416, L. 1993.

Part 4
Application, Issuance, Renewal, Assignment, and Return

33-15-401. Application required — life and disability insurance. No life or disability insurance contract upon an individual, except a contract of group life insurance or of group or blanket disability insurance, shall be made or effectuated unless at the time of the making of the contract the individual insured, being of competent legal capacity to contract, applies therefor or has consented thereto in writing, except in the following cases:

(1) A spouse may effectuate such insurance upon the other spouse.

(2) Any person having an insurable interest in the life of a minor or any person upon whom a minor is dependent for support and maintenance may effectuate insurance upon the life of or pertaining to such minor.

(3) Family policies insuring any two or more members of a family may be issued on an application signed by either parent, a stepparent, or by a husband or wife.

History: En. Sec. 268, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3711.

33-15-402. Application as evidence — copy to insured — alteration. (1) No application for the issuance of any life or disability insurance policy or annuity contract shall be admissible in evidence in any action relative to such policy or contract unless a true copy of the application was attached to or otherwise made a part of the policy or contract when issued. This provision shall not apply to industrial life insurance policies.

(2) If any policy of life or disability insurance delivered in this state is reinstated or renewed and the insured or the beneficiary or assignee of the policy makes written request to the insurer for a copy of the application, if any, for such reinstatement or renewal, the insurer shall, within 30 days after receipt of such request at its home office or at any of its branch offices, deliver or mail to the person making such request a copy of such application. If such copy is not so delivered or mailed after having been so requested, the insurer shall be precluded from introducing the application in evidence in any action or proceeding based upon or involving the policy or its reinstatement or renewal. In the case of such request from a beneficiary, the time within which the insurer is required to furnish a copy of such application shall not begin to run until after receipt of evidence satisfactory to the insurer of the beneficiary's vested interest in the policy or contract.

(3) As to kinds of insurance other than life or disability insurance, no application for insurance signed by or on behalf of the insured shall be admissible in evidence in any action between the insured and the insurer arising out of the policy so applied for if the insurer has failed, at expiration of 30 days after receipt by the insurer of written demand therefor by or on behalf of the insured, to furnish to the insured a copy of such application reproduced by any legible means.

(4) No alteration of any written application for any life or disability insurance policy shall be made by any person other than the applicant without his written consent, except that insertions may be made by the insurer, for administrative purposes only, in such manner as to indicate clearly that such insertions are not to be ascribed to the applicant.

33-15-403. Representations in applications — recovery precluded if fraudulent or material. (1) All statements and descriptions in any application for an insurance policy or annuity contract or in negotiations for an insurance policy or annuity contract by or on behalf of the insured or annuitant are considered representations and not warranties.

(2) Misrepresentations, omissions, concealment of facts, and incorrect statements do not prevent a recovery under the policy or contract unless:

(a) fraudulent;

(b) material either to the acceptance of the risk or to the hazard assumed by the insurer; or

(c) the insurer in good faith would either not have issued the policy or contract or would not have issued a policy or contract in as large an amount or at the same premium or rate or would not have provided coverage with respect to the hazard resulting in the loss if the true facts had been made known to the insurer as required either by the application for the policy or contract or otherwise.

(3) Subsection (2)(c) does not apply to nonrenewal or discontinuation of group health insurance offered in connection with a group health plan in the small group market or large group market, as those terms are defined in 33-22-140.

History: En. Sec. 270, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3713; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 416, L. 1997.

33-15-411. Binders for temporary insurance. (1) Binders or other contracts for temporary insurance may be made orally or in writing and shall be deemed to include all the usual terms of the policy as to which the binder was given, together with such applicable endorsements as are designated in the binder, except as superseded by the clear and express terms of the binder.

(2) No binder shall be valid beyond the issuance of the policy with respect to which it was given or beyond 90 days from its effective date, whichever period is the shorter.

(3) If the policy has not been issued, a binder may be extended or renewed beyond such 90 days with the written approval of the insurer.

(4) This section shall not apply to life or disability insurance.

History: En. Sec. 283, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3726.

33-15-412. Delivery of policy. (1) Subject to the insurer's requirements as to payment of premium, every policy shall be mailed or delivered to the insured or to the person entitled thereto within a reasonable period of time after its issuance, except where a condition required by the insurer has not been met by the insured.

(2) In event the original policy is delivered or is so required to be delivered to or for deposit with any vendor, mortgagee, or pledgee of any motor vehicle or aircraft and in which policy any interest of the vendee, mortgagor, or pledgor in or with reference to such vehicle or aircraft is insured, a duplicate of such policy setting forth the name and address of the insurer, insurance classification of vehicle or aircraft, type of coverage, limits of liability, premiums for the respective coverages, and duration of the policy or memorandum thereof containing the same such information shall be delivered by the vendor, mortgagee, or pledgee to each such vendee, mortgagor, or pledgor named in the policy or coming within the group of persons designated in the policy to be so included. If the policy does not provide coverage of legal liability for injury to persons or damage to the property of third parties, a statement of such fact shall be printed, written, or stamped conspicuously on the face of such duplicate policy or memorandum.

History: En. Sec. 284, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3727.

33-15-413. Renewal by certificate. Any insurance policy terminating by its terms at a specified expiration date and not otherwise renewable may be renewed or extended at the option of the insurer and upon a currently authorized policy form and at the premium rate then required therefor, for a specific additional period or periods by certificate or by endorsement of the policy, and without requiring the issuance of a new policy.

History: En. Sec. 285, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3728.

33-15-414. Assignment. (1) A policy or group certificate issued under a policy may be assignable or not assignable, as provided by its terms.

(2) Subject to its terms relating to the assignability, any life or disability policy or group certificate under either, under the terms of which the beneficiary may be changed upon the sole request of the insured or owner, may be assigned either by pledge or by transfer of title, by an assignment executed by the insured or owner, alone and delivered to the insurer, whether or not the pledgee or assignee is the insurer.

(3) An assignment valid under this section may transfer to the assignee all the rights, privileges, and incidents of ownership of the assignor in the policy or group certificate, including but not limited to the rights to designate beneficiaries and of a group certificate holder to have an individual policy issued in accordance with 33-20-1209 and 33-20-1210. Any assignment entitles the insurer to deal with the assignee as the owner or pledgee of the policy in accordance with the terms of the assignment until the insurer has received at its home office written notice of termination of the assignment or pledge or written notice by or on behalf of some other person claiming some interest in the policy in conflict with the assignment. However, the insurer may not be prejudiced by any payment made or action taken inconsistent with the terms of any assignment before the insurer has received and had reasonable time to act on written notice of the assignment.

(4) This section acknowledges, declares, and codifies the existing right of assignment of interests under insurance policies. An assignment otherwise valid is not invalid because it was made prior to July 1, 1971.

(5) An insurance producer may not have an ownership interest in any policy, by assignment or otherwise, unless the insurance producer has an insurable interest, as defined in 33-15-201, in the life of the insured, except with permission of the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 286, Ch. 286, L. 1959; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 167, L. 1971; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3729; amd. Sec. 41, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

33-15-415. Notice of right to return policy. Each individual life or disability insurance policy, except a single-premium nonrenewable disability policy, issued for delivery in this state or issued after January 1, 1996, must contain a notice stating in substance that if the person to whom the policy is issued is not satisfied for any reason, the person may return the policy within 10 days of its delivery or a longer period if provided by the policy and have refunded directly to the person the premium paid. A policy returned pursuant to this section is void from the beginning.

History: En. Sec. 75, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-15-416. Dating of insurance applications — antedating prohibited. An application for issuance of an insurance policy may not be antedated by any person in order to obtain or provide coverage for losses or injuries incurred prior to the date of application.

History: En. Sec. 77, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

Part 5
Claims and Benefits

33-15-501. Payment discharges insurer — notice to contrary. Whenever the proceeds of or payments under a life or disability insurance policy or annuity contract heretofore or hereafter issued become payable in accordance with the terms of such policy or contract or the exercise of any right or privilege thereunder and the insurer makes payment thereof in accordance with the terms of the policy or contract or in accordance with any written assignment thereof, the person then designated in the policy or contract or by such assignment as being entitled thereto shall be entitled to receive such proceeds or payments and to give full acquittance therefor, and such payments shall fully discharge the insurer from all claims under the policy or contract unless, before payment is made, the insurer has received at its home office written notice by or on behalf of some other person that such other person claims to be entitled to such payment or some interest in the policy or contract.

33-15-502. Minor may give acquittance. (1) Any minor domiciled in this state who has attained the age of 16 years shall be deemed competent to receive and to give full acquittance and discharge for a payment or payments in aggregate amount not exceeding $3,000 in any one year made by a life insurer under the maturity, death, or settlement agreement provisions in effect or elected by such minor under a life insurance policy or annuity contract, provided such policy, contract, or agreement shall provide for the payment or payments to such minor and if prior to such payment the insurer has not received written notice of the appointment of a duly qualified guardian of the property of the minor. No such minor shall be deemed competent to alienate the right to or to anticipate such payments. This section shall not be deemed to restrict the rights of minors set forth in 33-15-103.

(2) This section shall not be deemed to require any insurer to determine whether any other insurer may be effecting a similar payment to the same minor.

33-15-504. Claims administration not waiver. Without limitation of any right or defense of an insurer otherwise, none of the following acts by or on behalf of an insurer shall be deemed to constitute a waiver of any provision of a policy or of any defense of the insurer thereunder:

(1) acknowledgment of the receipt of notice of loss or claim under the policy;

(2) furnishing forms for reporting a loss or claim, for giving information relative thereto, or for making proof of loss or receiving or acknowledging receipt of any such forms or proofs completed or uncompleted;

(3) investigating any loss or claim under any policy or engaging in negotiations looking toward a possible settlement of any such loss or claim.

History: En. Sec. 290, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3733.

33-15-505 through 33-15-510 reserved.

33-15-511. Exemption from execution of life insurance proceeds. (1) If a policy of insurance, whether heretofore or hereafter issued, is effected by any person on his own life or on another life in favor of a person other than himself or, except in cases of transfer with intent to defraud creditors, if a policy of life insurance is assigned or in any way made payable to any such person, the lawful beneficiary or assignee thereof, other than the insured or the person so effecting such insurance or executors or administrators of such insured or the person so effecting such insurance, shall be entitled to its proceeds and avails against the creditors and representatives of the insured and of the person effecting the same, whether or not the right to change the beneficiary is reserved or permitted and whether or not the policy is made payable to the person whose life is insured if the beneficiary or assignee shall predecease such person; except that, subject to the statute of limitations, the amount of any premiums for such insurance paid with intent to defraud creditors with interest thereon shall enure to their benefit from the proceeds of the policy, but the insurer issuing the policy shall be discharged of all liability thereof by payment of its proceeds in accordance with its terms, unless before such payment the insurer shall have received written notice at its home office, by or in behalf of a creditor, of a claim to recover for transfer made or premiums paid with intent to defraud creditors, with specifications of the amount so claimed.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1) above, a policy shall also be deemed to be payable to a person other than the insured if and to the extent that a facility-of-payment clause or similar clause in the policy permits the insurer to discharge its obligation after the death of the individual insured by paying the death benefits to a person as permitted by such clause.

33-15-512. Exemption from execution of proceeds of group life — exception. (1) A policy of group life insurance or the proceeds thereof payable to the individual insured or to the beneficiary thereunder shall not be liable, either before or after payment, to be applied by any legal or equitable process to pay any debt or liability of such insured individual or his beneficiary or of any other person having a right under the policy. The proceeds thereof, when not made payable to a named beneficiary or to a third person pursuant to a facility-of-payment clause, shall not constitute a part of the estate of the individual insured for the payment of his debts.

(2) This section shall not apply to group life insurance issued pursuant to parts 10, 11, and 12 of chapter 20 to a creditor covering his debtors, to the extent that such proceeds are applied to payment of the obligation for the purpose of which the insurance was so issued.

33-15-514. Exemption from execution of proceeds of annuity contracts — assignability of rights. (1) The benefits, rights, privileges, and options which under any annuity contract heretofore or hereafter issued are due or prospectively due the annuitant shall not be subject to execution, nor shall the annuitant be compelled to exercise any such rights, powers, or options, nor shall creditors be allowed to interfere with or terminate the contract, except:

(a) as to amounts paid for or as premium on any such annuity with intent to defraud creditors, with interest thereon, and of which the creditor has given the insurer written notice at its home office prior to the making of the payments to the annuitant out of which the creditor seeks to recover. Any such notice shall specify the amount claimed or such facts as will enable the insurer to ascertain such amount and shall set forth such facts as will enable the insurer to ascertain the annuity contract, the annuitant, and the payments sought to be avoided on the ground of fraud.

(b) the total exemption of benefits presently due and payable to any annuitant periodically or at stated times under all annuity contracts under which he is an annuitant shall not at any time exceed $250 per month for the length of time represented by such installments and that such periodic payments in excess of $350 per month shall be subject to garnishee execution;

(c) if the total benefits presently due and payable to any annuitant under all annuity contracts under which he is an annuitant shall at any time exceed payment at the rate of $350 per month, then the court may order such annuitant to pay to a judgment creditor or apply on the judgment, in installments, such portion of such excess benefits as to the court may appear just and proper, after due regard for the reasonable requirements of the judgment debtor and his family, if dependent upon him, as well as any payments required to be made by the annuitant to other creditors under prior court orders.

(2) If the contract so provides, the benefits, rights, privileges, or options accruing under such contract to a beneficiary or assignee shall not be transferable or subject to commutation, and if the benefits are payable periodically or at stated times, the same exemptions contained herein for the annuitant shall apply with respect to such beneficiary or assignee.

(3) An annuity contract within the meaning of this section shall be any obligation to pay certain sums at stated times during life or lives or for a specified term or terms, issued for a valuable consideration, regardless of whether or not such sums are payable to one or more persons, jointly or otherwise, but does not include payments under life insurance contracts at stated times during life or lives or for a specified term or terms.

Part Cross-References

Casualty insurance, Title 33, ch. 23.

Property insurance, Title 33, ch. 24.

33-15-1101. Purpose — applicability. (1) The purpose of this part is to protect the public with regard to insurance transactions that involve cancellation, renewal, nonrenewal, or premium increases on contracts of property or casualty insurance by:

(a) regulating the grounds for midterm cancellation of an insurance policy;

(b) except as provided in 33-15-1108, prohibiting midterm increases in premiums;

(c) increasing the opportunity for insureds to shop for replacement or substitute insurance;

(d) reducing the opportunity for breach of contract, misrepresentation by omission or untimely disclosure, and unfair discrimination among insureds; and

(e) increasing the opportunity for insurance producers to compete freely.

(2) This part applies to those forms of insurance defined in 33-1-206 and 33-1-210, except to the extent they conflict with chapter 23 of this title.

(3) This part does not limit the activities that may constitute undefined unfair trade practices prohibited by 33-18-1003. The commissioner may apply other provisions of this code to insurance transactions involving cancellation, renewal, nonrenewal, or premium increases on contracts of property or casualty insurance. Policies may provide terms more favorable to insureds than are required by this part. The rights provided by this part are in addition to and do not prejudice any other rights that the insured may have under common law, statutes, or rules.

33-15-1102. Definitions. As used in this part, the following definitions apply unless the context requires otherwise:

(1) "Anniversary date" means the month and day that rates, rating plans, and rating systems are initially applied to a policy in effect. The term includes each annual anniversary thereafter unless the insurer establishes a different date by a filing with the commissioner.

(2) "Cancellation" means the decision by the insurer to terminate an insurance policy prior to the expiration of its term.

(3) "Classification" means an arrangement of insurance risks into an underwriting or rating group according to a classification system used by an insurer as a basis for tabulating statistical experience and determining premium rates.

(4) "Classification system" means a schedule of classifications and a rule used by an insurer for determining the classifications applicable to an insured.

(5) "Insurer" means an insurer authorized to transact property or casualty insurance in this state or an unauthorized insurer transacting surplus lines insurance in this state.

(6) "Premium" means the contractual consideration charged to an insured for insurance for a specified period of time, regardless of the timing of actual charges.

(7) "Rate" means a monetary amount applied to the units of exposure assigned to a classification and used by an insurer to determine the premium for an insured.

(8) "Rating plan" means a rule used by an insurer to calculate:

(a) the premium for an insured; and

(b) the parameter values used in such calculation after application of classification premium rates to units of exposure.

(9) "Renewal" means an agreement between an insurer and an insured to extend or continue an existing insurance policy for 90 days or more.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 120, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 180, L. 1991.

33-15-1103. Midterm cancellation. (1) An insurer may not cancel an insurance policy before either the expiration of the agreed term or 1 year from the effective date of the policy or renewal date, whichever is less, except:

(a) for reasons specifically allowed by statute;

(b) for failure to pay a premium when due; or

(c) on grounds stated in the policy which pertain to the following:

(i) material misrepresentation;

(ii) substantial change in the risk assumed, except to the extent that the insurer should reasonably have foreseen the change or contemplated the risk when the contract was written;

(iii) substantial breaches of contractual duties, conditions, or warranties;

(iv) determination by the commissioner that continuation of the policy would place the insurer in violation of this code;

(v) financial impairment of the insurer; or

(vi) any other reason approved by the commissioner.

(2) Except as provided in 33-23-401, cancellation under subsection (1) is not effective until 10 days after a notice of cancellation is either delivered or mailed to the insured.

(3) Subsections (1) and (2) do not apply to a newly issued insurance policy if the policy has been in effect less than 60 days at the time the notice of cancellation is mailed or delivered. A cancellation under this subsection is not effective until 10 days after the notice is delivered or mailed to the insured.

(4) If a policy has been issued for a term longer than 1 year and if either the premium is prepaid or an agreed term is guaranteed for additional premium consideration, the insurer may not cancel the policy except:

(a) for reasons specifically allowed by statute;

(b) for failure to pay a premium when due; or

(c) on grounds stated in the policy which pertain to those grounds listed in subsection (1)(c).

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 120, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 263, L. 2005.

Compiler's Comments

2005 Amendment: Chapter 263 in (2) at beginning inserted exception clause; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective October 1, 2005.

33-15-1104. Anniversary cancellation — anniversary rate increases. (1) An insurer may issue a policy for a term longer than 1 year or for an indefinite term if the policy contains a clause that allows cancellation by the insurer if the insurer gives notice 45 days prior to an anniversary date.

(2) If a policy has been issued for a term longer than 1 year and for additional premium consideration an annual premium has been guaranteed, the insurer may not increase the annual premium for the term of that policy.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 120, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 339, L. 2003.

33-15-1105. Nonrenewal — renewal premium. (1) (a) An insured has a right to reasonable notice of nonrenewal. Unless otherwise provided by statute or unless a longer term is provided in the policy, at least 45 days prior to the expiration date provided in the policy, an insurer who does not intend to renew a policy beyond the agreed expiration date shall mail or deliver to the insured a notice of the intention not to renew. The insurer shall also mail or deliver a copy to the insured's insurance producer.

(b) Notification of nonrenewal to the insured's insurance producer via electronic transfer of data or by an electronic data retrieval device meets the requirement of a mailed or delivered copy.

(2) An insurer shall give notice of premium due not more than 60 days or less than 30 days before the due date of a renewal premium. The notice must clearly state the effect of nonpayment of the premium on or before the due date.

(3) Subsections (1) and (2) do not apply if:

(a) the insured has obtained insurance elsewhere, has accepted replacement coverage, or has requested or agreed to nonrenewal; or

(b) the policy is expressly designated as nonrenewable.

(4) An insurer may not refuse to renew a property and casualty insurance policy on the basis of a single loss occurring during the policy period unless the insurer has previously disclosed in writing to the insured, at the time that the insured applied for the insurance or prior to the insured's renewal, that a single loss is among the insurer's criteria for nonrenewal.

(5) (a) For the purposes of this subsection (5), the following definitions apply:

(i) "Claim" means a contact with an insurer by an insured or third party for the purpose of seeking payment. An inquiry into coverage on a property and casualty insurance policy is not claim activity unless:

(A) a payment is made;

(B) a reserve is established or loss adjustment expenses are incurred; or

(C) a written, formal denial of the claim is issued to the insured or claimant.

(ii) "Inquiry" means a request for information regarding the terms, conditions, or coverages offered under a property and casualty insurance policy that does not result in a claim.

(b) An insurer may not use a direct or indirect inquiry as the basis for declining or not renewing insurance coverage or a binder of insurance coverage or for increasing the insurance premium.

(c) An inquiry may not be considered a claim under 33-18-201.

(d) An insurer may not submit to any insurance support organization or consumer reporting agency an insured's name if the insured made an inquiry about terms or coverage of an insurance policy.

Compiler's Comments

2005 Amendments — Composite Section: Chapter 263 in (2) in first sentence substituted "less than 30" for "less than 10"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective October 1, 2005.

Chapter 498 inserted (5) defining claim and inquiry, providing that an insurer may not decline or not renew a policy based on an inquiry, providing that an inquiry is not a claim, and prohibiting an insurer from providing the name of an insured making an inquiry to certain organizations. Amendment effective July 1, 2005.

33-15-1106. Renewal with altered terms. (1) If an insurer offers or purports to renew a policy but on less favorable terms, at a higher rate, or at a higher rating plan, the new terms, rate, or rating plan take effect on the policy renewal date only if the insurer has mailed or delivered notice of the new terms, rate, or rating plan to the insured at least 45 days before the expiration date.

(2) This section does not apply if the increase in the rate or the rating plan, or both, results from a classification change based on the altered nature or extent of the risk insured against.

33-15-1107. Information about grounds for nonrenewal. (1) If the insurer or insurance producer receives a written request from an insured within 60 business days from the date on which the insurer mailed a notice of cancellation or nonrenewal to the insured, the insurer or insurance producer shall, within 21 days of receiving the insured's written request, furnish the insured the information that the insurer or insurance producer used to make its decision. A notice is not effective unless it contains adequate information about the insured's right to make the request.

(2) This section does not apply if the ground for cancellation or nonrenewal is nonpayment of the premium and the reason is stated in the notice.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 120, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 26, Ch. 472, L. 1999.

33-15-1108. Limitation on midterm premium increases. (1) In any case involving property or casualty insurance that is subject to this part, if the insured has prepaid the premium for the insurance policy for a specified period, the insurer may not unilaterally increase the rate charged or decrease the coverage provided for the period for which the premium has been paid unless:

(a) there is a change in risk during that period because of the addition or removal of persons or property that was included in the rate at last renewal;

(b) the risk was misrepresented by the insured; or

(c) the insured requests a policy change that increases the rate because of that specific request.

(2) This section does not prohibit the cancellation of a policy for any other reason permitted by the policy or by law during an initial policy period not to exceed 60 days.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 501, L. 2003.

33-15-1109 and 33-15-1110 reserved.

33-15-1111. Home owner insurance not affected by day-care operations. (1) No insurer writing home owner insurance in this state may deny an applicant home owner insurance or cancel or refuse to renew a home owner insurance policy covering a dwelling located in this state for the principal reason that an insured under the policy operates at the insured location a day-care facility, as defined in 52-2-703, that satisfies the requirements of 52-2-723 or 52-2-724.

(2) This section does not prevent an insurer from excluding or limiting coverage with respect to liability or property losses arising out of an insured's business pursuits, including those related to the operation of a day-care facility.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 120, L. 1987.

33-15-1112 through 33-15-1120 reserved.

33-15-1121. Unfair trade practices. (1) The failure of an insurer to comply with this part constitutes an unfair trade practice under 33-18-1003.

(2) Midterm premium increases and policy coverage reductions not in compliance with this part that are attempted or executed constitute unfair trade practices under 33-18-1003.

Part 1
General Provisions

33-16-101. Purpose and intent. (1) The purpose of this chapter is to promote the public welfare by regulating insurance rates as herein provided to the end that they shall not be excessive, inadequate, or unfairly discriminatory, to authorize the existence and operation of qualified rating organizations and advisory organizations and require that specified rating services of such rating organizations be generally available to all admitted insurers, and to authorize cooperation between insurers in ratemaking and other related matters.

(2) It is the express intent of this chapter to permit and encourage competition between insurers on a sound financial basis, and nothing in this chapter is intended to give the commissioner power to fix and determine a rate level by classification or otherwise.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 362, L. 1969; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3634.

33-16-102. Definitions. In this chapter, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Advisory organization" means each person, other than an admitted insurer, whether located within or outside this state, who prepares policy forms or makes underwriting rules incident to but not including the making of rates, rating plans, or rating systems or who collects and furnishes to admitted insurers or rating organizations loss or expense statistics or other statistical information and data and acts in an advisory, as distinguished from a ratemaking, capacity. A licensed attorney, acting in the usual course of the profession, may not be considered an advisory organization.

(2) "Dividend" means:

(a) a noncontractual and nonrecoverable payment or credit declared by an insurer's board of directors and paid out or credited out of earned surplus to policyholders, members, or subscribers; or

(b) in the absence of earned surplus, a noncontractual and nonrecoverable payment or credit declared by an insurer's board of directors and paid to policyholders, members, or subscribers with the written permission of the commissioner. The commissioner may grant permission only if the payment of the dividend or credit will not reduce the insurer's capital and surplus below an amount three times the minimum capital required under 33-2-109.

(3) "Member" means an insurer who participates in or is entitled to participate in the management of a rating, advisory, or other organization.

(4) "Rating organization" means each person, other than an admitted insurer, whether located within or outside this state, with the object or purpose of making rates, rating plans, or rating systems. Two or more admitted insurers who act in concert for the purpose of making rates, rating plans, or rating systems and who do not operate within the specific authorizations contained in 33-16-105, 33-16-302, 33-16-304, 33-16-305, and 33-16-307 must be considered a rating organization. A single insurer may not be considered a rating organization.

(5) "Subscriber" means an insurer who is furnished at its request with rates and rating manuals by a rating organization of which the insurer is not a member or with advisory services by an advisory organization of which it is not a member.

(6) "Willful" or "willfully", in relation to an act or omission that constitutes a violation of this chapter, means with actual knowledge or belief that the act or omission constitutes a violation and with specific intent to commit the violation.

History: En. Secs. 2, 3, 4, 5, Ch. 362, L. 1969; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3635, 40-3636, 40-3637, 40-3638; amd. Sec. 27, Ch. 472, L. 1999; amd. Sec. 42, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

33-16-103. Application. This chapter applies to all insurers and all kinds of insurance, except that nothing contained in this chapter applies to:

(1) life insurance;

(2) disability insurance, except medicare supplement insurance subject to the provisions of chapter 22, part 9;

(3) reinsurance, except joint reinsurance as provided in 33-16-307;

(4) insurance against loss of or damage to aircraft, their hulls, accessories, and equipment, or against liability, other than workers' compensation and employers' liability, arising out of the ownership, maintenance, or use of aircraft;

(5) insurance of vessels or craft, their cargoes, marine builders' risks, marine protection and indemnity, or other risks commonly insured under marine, as distinguished from inland marine, insurance policies; or

(6) surplus lines insurance as defined in 33-2-301.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 362, L. 1969; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 558, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3639; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 126, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 400, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 682, L. 1989.

33-16-104. Payment of dividends, savings, or unabsorbed premium deposits not prohibited or regulated — plan for payment not rating system. Nothing in this chapter may be construed to prohibit or regulate the payment of dividends, savings, or unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members, or subscribers. A plan for the payment of dividends, savings, or unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members, or subscribers may not be considered a rating plan or system. A plan for the payment of dividends, savings, or unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members, or subscribers does not relieve the insurer from complying with any requirements of this chapter regarding rating plans or systems.

History: En. Sec. 33, Ch. 362, L. 1969; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3666; amd. Sec. 28, Ch. 472, L. 1999.

33-16-105. Maintenance of records. Every insurer, rating organization, or advisory organization and every group, association, or other organization of insurers which engages in joint underwriting or joint reinsurance shall maintain reasonable records, of the type and kind reasonably adapted to its method of operation, of its experience or the experience of its members and of the data, statistics, or information collected or used by it in connection with the rates, rating plans, rating systems, underwriting rules, policy or bond forms, surveys or inspections made or used by it so that such records will be available at all reasonable times to enable the commissioner to determine whether such organization, insurer, group, or association and, in the case of an insurer or rating organization, every rate, rating plan, and rating system made or used by it complies with the provisions of this chapter applicable to it. The maintenance of such records in the office of a licensed rating organization of which an insurer is a member or subscriber will be sufficient compliance with this section for any insurer maintaining membership or subscribership in such organization, to the extent that the insurer uses the rates, rating plans, rating systems, or underwriting rules of such organization. Such records shall be maintained in an office within this state or shall be made available for examination or inspection within this state by the commissioner at any time upon reasonable notice.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 362, L. 1969; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 469, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3654(1).

33-16-106. Examination by commissioner of rating organizations, admitted insurers, officers, managers, insurance producers, and employees — expense. (1) (a) The commissioner may, as often as may be reasonable and necessary, make or cause to be made an examination of each licensed rating organization. The commissioner may, as often as may be reasonable and necessary, make or cause to be made an examination of any advisory organization or group, association, or other organization of insurers that engages in joint underwriting or joint reinsurance.

(b) In lieu of an examination, the commissioner may accept the report of an examination made by the insurance supervisory official of another state or by the national association of insurance commissioners.

(c) In examining any organization, group, or association pursuant to this section, the commissioner shall ascertain whether an organization, group, or association and, in the case of a rating organization, any rate or rating system made or used by it, complies with the requirements and standards of this chapter applicable to it.

(2) The commissioner may, at any reasonable time, make or cause to be made an examination of every admitted insurer transacting any class of insurance to which the provisions of this chapter are applicable to ascertain whether the insurer and every rate and rating system used by it for every class of insurance complies with the requirements and standards of this chapter applicable to it. The examination may not be a part of a periodic general examination participated in by representatives of more than one state.

(3) The officers, managers, insurance producers, and employees of any organization, group, association, or insurer may be examined at any time under oath and shall exhibit all books, records, accounts, documents, or agreements governing its method of operation, together with all data, statistics, and information of every kind and character collected or considered by an organization, group, association, or insurer in the conduct of the operations to which the examination relates.

(4) The reasonable cost of any examination authorized by this article must be paid by the organization, group, association, or insurer to be examined.

History: En. Secs. 22, 23, 24, 25, Ch. 362, L. 1969; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3655, 40-3656, 40-3657, 40-3658; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 19, Ch. 451, L. 1993.

33-16-107. Information not to be willfully withheld. No person, insurer, or organization shall willfully withhold information from or knowingly give false or misleading information to the commissioner or to any rating organization, advisory organization, insurer, or group, association, or other organization of insurers which will affect the rates, rating systems, or premiums for the classes of insurance to which the provisions of this chapter are applicable.

History: En. Sec. 32, Ch. 362, L. 1969; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3665(a).

33-16-108 through 33-16-110 reserved.

33-16-111. Issuance of order — suspension or revocation of certificate of authority or license. If, after a hearing pursuant to 33-16-206, the commissioner finds:

(1) that an insurer, rating organization, advisory organization, or a group, association, or other organization of insurers which engages in joint underwriting or joint reinsurance is in violation of the provisions of this chapter applicable to it, other than the provisions dealing with rates, rating plans, or rating systems, he may issue an order to such insurer, organization, group, or association which has been the subject of the hearing, specifying in what respects such violation exists and requiring compliance within a reasonable time thereafter;

(2) that the violation of any of the provisions of this chapter applicable to it by any insurer or rating organization which has been the subject of hearing was willful, he may suspend or revoke, in whole or in part, the certificate of authority of such insurer or the license of such rating organization with respect to the class of insurance which has been the subject matter of the hearing;

(3) that any rating organization has willfully engaged in any fraudulent or dishonest act or practices, he may suspend or revoke, in whole or in part, the license of such organization, in addition to any other penalty provided in this chapter.

33-16-113. Appeal from order or decision of commissioner. Any person, insurer, or rating organization aggrieved by any order or decision made by the commissioner under this chapter may appeal therefrom to the district court of the county where the aggrieved party may reside or has his principal place of business in this state or to the district court of Lewis and Clark County, Montana. The appeal shall be taken within 30 days from the making and filing of the order or decision by filing in the office of the commissioner a notice of the appeal in writing. The commissioner shall, within 20 days after filing of the notice, make and return to the district court a full and complete certified transcript of the finding and order appealed from and of all parts relative thereto on file in his office, including the notice of appeal. Upon filing of the certified transcript, all matters involved therein shall be brought on for trial upon the merits at the next term of the court after the filing of the transcript unless otherwise ordered by the court. Upon the trial, the findings of fact on which the order is based shall be prima facie evidence of the matters therein stated. During the pendency of the proceedings upon review, the order of the commissioner shall be suspended, but in the event of a final determination against any insurer, any overcharge by the insurer during review shall be refunded to the persons entitled thereto.

33-16-114. Penalty. (1) Any person, insurer, organization, group, or association who fails to comply with a final order of the commissioner under this chapter shall be liable to the state in an amount not exceeding $50. If such failure be willful, he or it shall be liable to the state in an amount not exceeding $5,000 for such failure. The commissioner shall collect the amount so payable and may bring an action in the name of the people of the state of Montana to enforce collection. Such penalties may be in addition to any other penalties provided by law.

(2) A willful violation of the provisions of this chapter by any person is a misdemeanor.

33-16-116. Administration or enforcement — supplementation or modification. The administration and enforcement of this chapter shall be governed solely by the provisions of this chapter. Except as provided in this chapter, no other law relating to insurance and no other provisions in this code heretofore or hereafter enacted shall apply to or be construed as supplementing or modifying the provisions of this chapter unless such other law or other provision expressly so provides and specifically refers to the sections of this chapter which it intends to supplement or modify.

History: En. Sec. 35, Ch. 362, L. 1969; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3668.

Part 2
Rates and Rating Plans

33-16-201. Standards applicable to rates. The following standards apply to the making and use of rates pertaining to all classes of insurance to which the provisions of this chapter are applicable:

(1) (a) Rates may not be excessive or inadequate, and they may not be unfairly discriminatory.

(b) A rate may not be held to be excessive unless the rate is unreasonably high for the insurance provided and a reasonable degree of competition does not exist in the area with respect to the classification to which the rate is applicable.

(c) A rate may not be held to be inadequate unless the rate is unreasonably low for the insurance provided and the continued use of the rate endangers the solvency of the insurer using the rate or unless the rate is unreasonably low for the insurance provided and the use of the rate by the insurer has, or if continued will have, the effect of destroying competition or creating a monopoly.

(2) (a) Consideration must be given, when applicable, to past and prospective loss experience within and outside this state, to revenue and profits from reserves, to conflagration and catastrophe hazards, if any, to a reasonable margin for underwriting profit and contingencies, to past and prospective expenses, both countrywide and those specially applicable to this state, and to all other factors, including judgment factors, considered relevant within and outside this state. In the case of fire insurance rates, consideration may be given to the experience of the fire insurance business during the most recent 5-year period for which experience is available.

(b) Consideration may also be given in the making and use of rates to dividends, savings, or unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members, or subscribers.

(3) The systems of expense provisions included in the rates for use by any insurer or group of insurers may differ from those of other insurers or groups of insurers to reflect the operating methods of the insurer or group with respect to any kind of insurance or with respect to any subdivision or combination of insurance.

(4) Risks may be grouped by classifications for the establishment of rates and minimum premiums. Classification rates may be modified to produce rates for individual risks in accordance with rating plans that establish standards for measuring variations in hazards or expense provisions, or both. The standards may measure any difference among risks that have a probable effect upon losses or expenses. Classifications or modifications of classifications of risks may be established, based upon size, expense, management, individual experience, location or dispersion of hazard, or any other reasonable considerations. Special risk classifications may be established based upon favorable aspects of an insured's claims history that is 3 years old or older. However, a special risk classification may not be established based on anything adverse to the insured in a driving record that is 3 years old or older. Classifications and modifications apply to all risks under the same or substantially the same circumstances or conditions.

33-16-202. Recording and reporting of loss and expense experience. (1) The commissioner may promulgate and may modify reasonable rules and statistical plans, reasonably adapted to each of the rating systems used, which must be used by each insurer in the recording and reporting of its loss and countrywide expense experience, in order that the experience of all insurers may be made available at least annually in form and detail as necessary to aid the commissioner in determining whether rates comply with the applicable standards of this chapter. The rules and plans may also provide for the recording and reporting of expense experience items that are specially applicable to this state and are not susceptible of determination by a prorating of countrywide expense experience.

(2) In promulgating rules and plans, the commissioner shall give consideration to the rating systems in use in this state and, in order that the rules and plans may be as uniform as is practicable among the several states, to the rules and to the form of the plans used for rating systems in other states. An insurer may not be required to record or report its loss experience on a classification basis that is inconsistent with the rating system used by it.

(3) The commissioner may designate one or more rating organizations or other agencies to assist in gathering and making compilations of loss and expense experience, and the compilations must be made available, subject to reasonable rules promulgated by the commissioner, to insurers and rating organizations.

History: En. Sec. 36, Ch. 362, L. 1969; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3669; amd. Sec. 47, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-16-203. Rates filed. (1) Every insurer, rating organization, or advisory organization shall file with the commissioner all rates intended for use within this state, together with supporting data sufficient to substantiate the filing. The filing required by this subsection may be made by rating organizations on behalf of their members and subscribers. However, this provision does not prohibit a member or subscriber from filing rates on its own behalf. Any deviations from a rating organization's rates by a member or subscriber must be filed with the commissioner and must be accompanied by supporting data.

(2) Rates filed must provide for a premium reduction to:

(a) qualified insured operators 55 years of age or older in accordance with 33-16-222; or

(b) qualified members of the Montana national guard in accordance with 33-16-230.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 362, L. 1969; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 469, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3654(2); amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 241, L. 1979; amd. Sec. 7, Ch. 49, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 576, L. 2005.

33-16-204. Review of rates on request by aggrieved person. (1) Any person aggrieved by any rate charged, rating plan, rating system, or underwriting rule followed or adopted by an insurer or rating organization may request the insurer or rating organization to review the manner in which the rate, plan, system, or rule has been applied with respect to insurance afforded him. Such request may be made by his authorized representative and shall be written.

(2) If the request is not granted within 30 days after it is made, the requester may treat it as rejected.

(3) Any person aggrieved by the action of an insurer or rating organization in refusing the review requested or in failing or refusing to grant all or part of the relief requested may file a written complaint and request for hearing with the commissioner, specifying the grounds relied upon. If the commissioner has information concerning a similar complaint, he may deny the hearing. If he believes that probable cause for the complaint does not exist or that the complaint is not made in good faith, he shall deny the hearing. Otherwise, and if he finds that the complaint charges a violation of this chapter and that the complainant would be aggrieved if the violation is proven, he shall proceed as provided in 33-16-205.

33-16-205. Noncompliance of rates — notice. If, after examination of an insurer, rating organization, advisory organization, or group, association, or other organization of insurers that engages in joint underwriting or joint reinsurance or upon the basis of other information or upon sufficient complaint as provided in 33-16-204, the commissioner has good cause to believe that the insurer, organization, group, or association or any rate, rating plan, or rating system made or used by the insurer or rating organization does not comply with the requirements and standards of this chapter applicable to it, the commissioner shall, unless the commissioner has good cause to believe that the noncompliance is willful, give notice, in writing, to the insurer, organization, group, or association stating in what manner and to what extent the noncompliance is alleged to exist and specifying a reasonable time, not less than 10 days after receipt, in which the noncompliance may be corrected.

History: En. Sec. 27, Ch. 362, L. 1969; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3660; amd. Sec. 9, Ch. 416, L. 1999.

33-16-206. Hearings — notice — subject of hearing. (1) If the commissioner has good cause to believe such noncompliance to be willful or if within the period prescribed by the commissioner in the notice required by 33-16-205 the insurer, organization, group, or association does not make such changes as may be necessary to correct the noncompliance specified by the commissioner or establish to the satisfaction of the commissioner that such specified noncompliance does not exist, then the commissioner may hold a public hearing in connection therewith, provided that within a reasonable period of time, which shall be not less than 10 days before the date of such hearing, he shall mail written notice specifying the matters to be considered at such hearing to such insurer, organization, group, or association. If no notice has been given as provided in 33-16-205, such notice shall state therein in what manner and to what extent noncompliance is alleged to exist.

(2) The hearing shall not include any additional subjects not specified in the notices required by 33-16-205 or this section.

2005 Amendment: Chapter 469 in (2) at beginning substituted "In addition to providing a premium reduction, an insurer may reimburse the fee for participating in the highway traffic safety program" for "Any discount"; in (3) at beginning inserted "The premium reduction"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective October 1, 2005.

33-16-223. Effective period of reduction. (1) The premium reduction required by 33-16-222 is effective for an insured for a 2-year period after successful completion of the approved course. Each person shall take an approved course every 2 years in order to continue to be eligible for the reduction in premium required by 33-16-222.

(2) An insurer may require, as a condition of maintaining the discount, any or all of the following:

(a) that the insured not be involved in an accident in which he is at fault;

(b) that the insured not be convicted of or plead guilty or nolo contendere to a moving traffic violation; or

(c) that the insured not have forfeited bail or collateral for a moving traffic violation.

History: En. Secs. 3, 6, Ch. 49, L. 1987.

33-16-224. Certificate. The organization offering the approved course shall issue a certificate to each person who successfully completes the course, which qualifies him for the premium discount required by 33-16-222.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 49, L. 1987.

33-16-225. When discount not applicable. The provisions of 33-16-222 do not apply if the approved course is taken as punishment specified by a court or other governmental entity for a moving traffic violation.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 49, L. 1987.

33-16-226 through 33-16-229 reserved.

33-16-230. Rate reduction for military defensive drivers — effective period — exclusions. (1) (a) Any rates, rating schedules, or rating manuals for liability, bodily injury, or collision coverages of a motor vehicle insurance policy filed with the insurance department must provide for an appropriate premium reduction as determined by the insurer for a member of the Montana national guard who is an insured operator of a covered nonmilitary vehicle and who has successfully completed a defensive driving course referred to in 61-2-102(2).

(b) Any discount used by the insurer is presumed appropriate unless credible data demonstrates otherwise.

(2) The premium reduction required under subsection (1)(a) is effective for an insured for 2 years after successful completion of the approved course. Each person shall successfully complete a defensive driving course referred to in 61-2-102(2) every 2 years to remain eligible for the reduction provided in subsection (1)(a).

(3) Subsection (1)(a) does not apply if the approved course is taken as punishment specified by a court or other governmental entity for a moving traffic violation.

(4) An insurer may deny the discount under subsection (1)(a) if within 3 years prior to the insured's application for the rate reduction or during the period for which the rate reduction is provided:

(a) the insured was convicted of or plead guilty or nolo contendere to a moving traffic violation;

(b) the insured has forfeited bail or collateral for a moving traffic violation; or

(c) the insured was convicted by a court or found at fault in a motor vehicle accident.

33-16-303. Use of rates, rating systems, underwriting rules, and policy or bond forms of rating or advisory organizations — agreements to adhere to. (1) Members and subscribers of rating or advisory organizations may use the rates, rating systems, underwriting rules, or policy or bond forms of those organizations, either consistently or intermittently, but, except as provided in 33-16-105, 33-16-302, 33-16-305, 33-16-307, 33-16-1008, and 33-16-1020 through 33-16-1036, may not agree with each other or rating organizations or others to adhere to the organizations' rates, systems, rules, or policy or bond forms.

(2) The fact that two or more admitted insurers, whether or not members or subscribers of a rating or advisory organization, use, either consistently or intermittently, the rates or rating systems made or adopted by a rating organization or the underwriting rules or policy or bond forms prepared by a rating or advisory organization is not sufficient in itself to support a finding that an agreement prohibited under subsection (1) exists and may be used only for the purpose of supplementing or explaining direct evidence of the existence of any agreement.

33-16-304. Exchange of information or experience data — consultation with rating organizations and insurers. Licensed rating organizations and admitted insurers are authorized to exchange information and experience data with rating organizations and insurers in this and other states and may consult with them with respect to ratemaking and the application of rating systems.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 362, L. 1969; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3644.

33-16-305. Agreements for apportionment of casualty insurance — approval of commissioner — review of practices of adherents — revocation of approval. (1) Agreements may be made among admitted insurers with respect to the equitable apportionment among them of casualty insurance which may be afforded applicants who are in good faith entitled to but who are unable to procure such insurance through ordinary methods and with respect to the use of reasonable rate modifications for such insurance, such agreements to be subject to the approval of the commissioner.

(2) All such agreements shall be submitted in writing to the commissioner for his consideration and approval, together with such information as he may reasonably require. The commissioner shall approve only such agreements as are found by him to contemplate:

(a) the use of rates which meet the standards prescribed by this chapter; and

(b) activities and practices that are not unfair, unreasonable, or otherwise inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter.

(3) At any time after such agreements are in effect, the commissioner may review the practices and activities of the adherents to such agreements and if, after a hearing upon not less than 10 days' notice to such adherents, he finds that any such practice or activity is unfair or unreasonable or is otherwise inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, he may issue a written order to the parties to any such agreement, specifying in what respects such act or practice is unfair or unreasonable or otherwise inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter and requiring the discontinuance of such activity or practice. For good cause and after hearing upon not less than 10 days' notice to the adherents thereto, the commissioner may revoke approval of any such agreement.

33-16-307. Joint underwriting and joint reinsurance — application — restrictions on operations. (1) Every group, association, or other organization of insurers which engages in joint underwriting or joint reinsurance through such group, association, or organization or by standing agreement among the members thereof, shall file with the commissioner:

(a) a copy of its constitution, its articles of incorporation, agreement, or association, and of its bylaws and rules governing its activities, all duly certified by the custodian of the originals thereof;

(b) a list of its members; and

(c) the name and address of a resident of this state upon whom notices or orders of the commissioner or process may be served.

(2) Every such group, association, or other organization shall notify the commissioner promptly of every change in its constitution, its articles of incorporation, agreement, or association, and its bylaws and rules governing the conduct of its business; its list of members; and the name and address of the resident of this state designated by it upon whom notices or orders of the commissioner or process affecting such group, association, or organization may be served.

(3) No such group, association, or organization shall engage in any unfair or unreasonable practice with respect to such activities.

Part 4
Rating Organizations

33-16-401. Rating organizations — compliance — application. (1) No rating organization shall conduct its operations in this state without first filing with the commissioner a written application for and securing a license to act as a rating organization. Any rating organization may make application for and obtain a license as a rating organization if it shall meet the requirements for license set forth in this chapter.

(2) Every such rating organization shall file with its application:

(a) a copy of its constitution, its articles of incorporation, agreement, or association, and of its bylaws and rules governing the conduct of its business, all duly certified by the custodian or the originals thereof;

(b) a list of its members and subscribers;

(c) the name and address of a resident of this state upon whom notices or orders of the commissioner or process affecting such rating organization may be served; and

(d) a statement of its qualifications as a rating organization.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 362, L. 1969; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3647.

33-16-402. Evidence prerequisite to license. To obtain and retain a license, a rating organization shall provide satisfactory evidence to the commissioner that it will:

(1) permit any admitted insurer to become a member of or a subscriber to such rating organization at a reasonable cost and without discrimination or withdraw therefrom;

(2) neither have nor adopt any rule or exact any agreement, the effect of which would be to require any member or subscriber, as a condition to membership or subscribership, to adhere to its rates, rating plans, rating systems, underwriting rules, or policy or bond forms;

(3) neither adopt any rule nor exact any agreement, the effect of which would be to prohibit or regulate the payment of dividends, savings, or unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members, or subscribers;

(4) neither practice nor sanction any plan or act of boycott, coercion, or intimidation;

(5) neither enter into nor sanction any contract or act by which any person is restrained from lawfully engaging in the insurance business;

(6) notify the commissioner promptly of every change in its constitution, its articles of incorporation, agreement, or association, and of its bylaws and rules governing the conduct of its business; its list of members and subscribers; and the name and address of the resident of this state designated by it upon whom notices or orders of the commissioner or process affecting such organization may be served;

(7) comply with the provisions of 33-16-105 and 33-16-203.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 362, L. 1969; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3648.

33-16-403. Examination of application and investigation of applicant — issuance of license — fee. (1) The commissioner shall examine each application for a license to act as a rating or advisory organization pursuant to this part or a workers' compensation advisory organization pursuant to part 10 and the documents filed with the application and may make a further investigation of the applicant, its affairs, and its proposed plan of business as the commissioner considers appropriate.

(2) The commissioner shall issue the license applied for within 60 days of its filing if, from the examination and investigation, the commissioner is satisfied that:

(a) the business reputation of the applicant and its officers is good;

(b) the facilities of the applicant are adequate to enable it to furnish the services it proposes to furnish; and

(c) the applicant and its proposed plan of operation conform to the requirements of this chapter.

(3) Otherwise, but only after a hearing upon notice, the commissioner shall, in writing, deny the application and notify the applicant of the decision and the reasons for the denial.

(4) The commissioner may grant an application in part only and issue a license to act as a rating, advisory, or workers' compensation advisory organization for one or more of the classes of insurance or subdivisions of the classes of insurance or class of risk, or a part or combination of a class of risk as are specified in the application, if the applicant qualifies for only a portion of the classes applied for.

(5) (a) Except as provided in subsection (5)(b), licenses issued pursuant to this section remain in effect until revoked as provided in this chapter. The fee for the license is $100 annually and must be deposited in the state special revenue fund to the credit of the state auditor's office.

(b) Each workers' compensation advisory organization is required to renew its license annually.

Parts 5 through 9 reserved

Part 10
Workers' Compensation Rates and Advisory Organizations

33-16-1001. Declaration of policy and purpose. (1) It is declared that the public welfare is served by the making of advisory premium rates for workers' compensation insurance coverage in concert.

(2) It is the purpose of this part to:

(a) authorize such ratemaking in concert and the operating of rating organizations thereto; and

(b) establish the general bases and standards for the making of such rates.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 329, L. 1969; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 558, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5601.

33-16-1002. Applicability of part. This part, together and in conjunction with parts 1 through 4 of this chapter, applies to the making of premium rates for workers' compensation insurance issued under compensation plan No. 2 of the Workers' Compensation Act, Title 39, chapter 71, part 22, or related employer's liability insurance, but does not apply to reinsurance.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 329, L. 1969; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 558, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5602; amd. Sec. 21, Ch. 186, L. 1995.

33-16-1003. Certain reciprocal insurers excluded. This part shall not apply as to any reciprocal insurer transacting workers' compensation insurance only and insuring solely the hazards or perils of its subscribers exclusively associated with a single industry.

33-16-1008. Definitions. As used in this part, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Accepted actuarial standards" means the standards adopted by the casualty actuarial society in its Statement of Principles Regarding Property and Casualty Insurance Ratemaking and the Standards of Practice adopted by the actuarial standards board.

(2) "Advisory organization" means a person or organization that either has two or more member insurers or is controlled either directly or indirectly by two or more insurers and that assists insurers in ratemaking-related activities. The term does not include a joint underwriting association, any actuarial or legal consultant, or any employee of an insurer or insurers under common control or management or their employees or manager. As used in this subsection, two or more insurers who have a common ownership or operate in this state under common management or control constitute a single insurer.

(3) "Classification system" means the plan, system, or arrangement for recognizing differences in exposure to hazards among industries, occupations, or operations of insurance policyholders.

(4) "Contingencies" means provisions in rates to recognize the uncertainty of the estimates of losses, loss adjustment expenses, other operating expenses, and investment income and profit that comprise those rates. The provisions may be explicit, including but not limited to a specific charge to reflect systematic variations of estimated costs from expected costs, or implicit, including but not limited to a consideration in selecting a single estimate from a reasonable range of estimates, or both.

(5) "Developed losses" means adjusted losses, including loss adjustment expenses, using accepted actuarial standards to eliminate the effect of differences between current payment or reserve estimates and those needed to provide actual ultimate loss payments, including loss adjustment expense payments.

(6) "Expenses" means the portion of a rate that is attributable to acquisition, filed supervision and collection expenses, general expenses and taxes, licenses, or fees.

(7) "Experience rating" means a rating procedure using past insurance experience of the individual policyholder to forecast future losses by measuring the policyholder's loss experience against the loss experience of policyholders in the same classification to produce a prospective premium credit, debit, or unity modification.

(8) "Insurer" means a person licensed to write workers' compensation insurance as a plan No. 2 insurer under the laws of the state.

(9) "Loss trending" means a procedure for projecting developed losses to the average date of loss for the period during which the policies are to be effective, including loss ratio trending.

(10) "Market" means the interaction in this state between buyers and plan No. 2 sellers of workers' compensation and employer's liability insurance pursuant to the provisions of this part.

(11) (a) "Prospective loss costs" means historical aggregate losses and loss adjustment expenses, including all assessments that are loss-based and excluding any separately stated policyholder surcharges, projected through development to their ultimate value and through trending to a future point in time and ascertained by accepted actuarial standards.

(b) The term does not include provisions for profit or expenses other than loss adjustment expenses and assessments that are loss-based.

(12) "Pure premium rate" means the portion of the rate that represents the loss cost per unit of exposure, including loss adjustment expense.

(13) (a) "Rate" or "rates" means rate of premium, policy and membership fee, or any other charge made by an insurer for or in connection with a contract or policy of workers' compensation and employer's liability insurance, prior to application of individual risk variations based on loss or expense considerations.

(b) The term does not include minimum premiums.

(14) "Reserve estimates" means provisions for insurer obligations for future payments of loss or loss adjustment expenses.

(15) "Statistical plan" means the plan, system, or arrangement that is used in collecting data.

(16) "Supplementary rate information" means a manual or plan of rates, statistical plan, classification system, minimum premium, policy fee, rating rule, rate-related underwriting rule, and any other information needed to determine the applicable premium for an individual insured that is consistent with the purposes of this part and with rules prescribed by rule of the commissioner.

(17) "Supporting information" means the experience and judgment of the filer and the experience or data of other insurers or advisory organizations relied on by the filer, the interpretation of any statistical data relied on by the filer, descriptions of methods used in making the rates, and any other similar information required to be filed by the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 186, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 284, L. 1997.

33-16-1009 and 33-16-1010 reserved.

33-16-1011. Classification review committee — membership — term. (1) There is a classification review committee.

(2) The committee is composed of five voting members, consisting of:

(a) two representatives of private insurance carriers writing workers' compensation insurance in Montana. The members must be appointed by the Montana commissioner of insurance.

(b) one licensed independent insurance producer who resides in Montana, appointed by the commissioner of insurance;

(c) one representative of the state compensation insurance fund who is an employee of the state fund and who is appointed by the executive director of the state fund; and

(d) one representative of an employer who is insured by either a private insurance carrier or the state compensation insurance fund, appointed by the commissioner of insurance.

(3) Each member shall hold office for a period of 3 years. An appointee who fills the vacancy of a member whose term has not expired shall fill only the remaining term and may be reappointed for a full term.

(4) Before appointments are to be made by the commissioner of insurance under subsections (2)(a), (2)(b), and (2)(d), established private organizations representing insurance carriers, independent insurance producers, and employers may submit names of individuals they recommend for appointments. The commissioner of insurance shall consider the names submitted before appointments are made. However, the commissioner of insurance is not required to appoint any person from the names submitted.

(5) The committee must be staffed by the advisory organization designated under 33-16-1023 and be funded by the advisory organization. Committee members may, if they request, be paid their actual and necessary travel expenses.

(6) Documents and other information concerning the committee's actions must be made available for public review in the office of the commissioner of insurance.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 329, L. 1969; amd. Sec. 6, Ch. 558, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5618; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 114, L. 1981; MCA 1979, 33-16-1007; redes. 33-16-1011 by Code Commissioner, 1981; amd. 33-16-1012. Functions and powers of classification review committee — hearings — rulemaking. (1) The classification review committee shall:

(a) meet not less than semiannually to conduct its business;

(b) make the final determination regarding the establishment or revision of all classifications in accordance with the procedures set forth in Title 2, chapter 4, part 3;

(c) publish material and pamphlets as it considers appropriate;

(d) act as a review committee concerning objections filed by a policyholder or insurer in relation to classifications assigned to a policyholder according to rules governing the issuance or application of classifications; and

(e) make rules as may be necessary for the conduct of any business that is subject to notice and hearings. The rules must be published and adopted as provided in Title 2, chapter 4, part 3, and must be published in the Administrative Rules of Montana as part of the rules promulgated by the commissioner of insurance.

(2) (a) The initial hearing conducted by the committee pursuant to subsection (1)(d) must be informal and nonbinding upon the parties and must be conducted pursuant to rules of procedure that the committee considers to be appropriate. The committee shall issue its written advisory decision within 30 days of the conclusion of the hearing and send a written copy of the decision by first-class mail, postage prepaid, to each party. Each party to the informal hearing shall notify the committee and each other party of the notifying party's intent to be bound or not bound by the committee's advisory decision, and the notice must be made within 30 days of the date the committee mails the written copy of the decision to the parties.

(b) A party who is aggrieved by the advisory decision of the committee, or by the refusal of a party to be bound by the committee's advisory decision rendered after a hearing conducted pursuant to subsection (2)(a) may, within 30 days after the expiration of the 30-day notice deadline specified in subsection (2)(a), initiate an informal contested case proceeding pursuant to 2-4-604 before the committee, and the committee shall hear the matter in a de novo administrative proceeding as provided in Title 2, chapter 4, part 6. The committee may, in its discretion or at the request of any party, appoint a hearings examiner. If a hearings examiner is appointed, the examiner shall take evidence and prepare proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law that the committee may accept, reject, or modify, in whole or in part, based on the evidence produced during the informal contested case proceeding.

(c) A party who is aggrieved by a decision of the committee rendered after a hearing conducted pursuant to subsection (2)(b) may petition the workers' compensation court for judicial review of the decision pursuant to Title 2, chapter 4, part 7.

(3) The committee is subject to the provisions of Title 2, chapter 3, parts 1 and 2.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 114, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 528, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 23, Ch. 186, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 290, L. 1995.

Cross-References

Adoption and publication of rules, Title 2, ch. 4, part 3.

33-16-1013 through 33-16-1019 reserved.

33-16-1020. Competitive market — hearing. (1) A competitive market is presumed to exist unless the commissioner, after hearing, issues an order stating that a reasonable degree of competition does not exist in the market. The order may not expire later than 1 year after issuance.

(2) In determining whether a reasonable degree of competition exists, the commissioner shall consider the following factors:

(a) the number of insurers actively engaged in providing coverage;

(b) market shares and changes in market shares;

(c) ease of entry into the market;

(d) market concentration among plan No. 2 insurers as measured by the Herfindahl-Hirschman index;

(e) whether long-term profitability for insurers in the market is unreasonably high in relation to the risks being insured;

(f) whether long-term profitability for insurers in the market is reasonable in relation to industries of comparable business risks; and

(g) generally accepted and relevant tests relating to competitive market structure, market performance, and market conduct.

(3) The workers' compensation insurance market may not be determined to be noncompetitive if the market concentration of the 50 largest insurers writing workers' compensation insurance under plan No. 2 satisfied the U.S. department of justice merger guidelines for an unconcentrated market.

(4) The commissioner's determinations must be made on the basis of findings of fact and conclusions of law.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 186, L. 1995.

33-16-1021. Ratemaking standards — review by commissioner. (1) Rates may not be excessive, inadequate, or unfairly discriminatory.

(2) Rates in a competitive market are not excessive. Rates in a noncompetitive market are excessive if they are likely to produce a long-run profit that is unreasonably high in relation to services rendered.

(3) A rate may not be determined to be inadequate unless:

(a) it is clearly insufficient to sustain projected losses and expenses;

(b) the rate is unreasonably low and the use of the rate by the insurer has had or, if continued, will tend to create a monopoly in the market; or

(c) funds equal to the full, ultimate cost of anticipated losses and loss adjustment expenses are not produced when prospective loss costs are applied to anticipated payrolls.

(4) Unfair discrimination exists if, after allowing for practical limitations, price differentials fail to reflect equitably the differences in expected losses and expenses. A rate is not unfairly discriminatory because different premiums result for policyholders with different loss exposures or expense levels.

(5) In determining whether rates comply with standards under subsection (1), consideration must be given to:

(a) past and prospective loss experience within and outside Montana, in accordance with accepted actuarial principles;

(b) catastrophe hazards and contingencies;

(c) past and prospective expenses within and outside Montana;

(d) loadings for leveling premium rates over time for dividends, savings, or unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members, or subscribers;

(e) a reasonable margin for underwriting profit; and

(f) all other relevant factors within and outside Montana.

(6) The systems of expense provisions included in the rates for use by an insurer or group of insurers may differ from those of any other insurer or group of insurers to reflect the requirements of the operating methods of the insurer or group of insurers.

(7) The rate may contain provisions of contingencies and an allowance permitting a reasonable profit. In determining the reasonableness of a profit, consideration must be given to all investment income attributable to premiums and the reserves associated with those premiums.

(8) The commissioner may investigate and determine whether rates in Montana are excessive, inadequate, or unfairly discriminatory. In any investigation and determination, the commissioner shall also consider the factors specified in 33-16-1020.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 186, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 29, Ch. 472, L. 1999.

33-16-1022. Dividends — regulation or prohibition. (1) An advisory organization may not adopt a rule that would regulate or prohibit the payment of dividends, savings, or unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members, or subscribers.

(2) A plan for the payment of dividends, savings, or unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members, or subscribers is not a rating plan or system. A plan for the payment of dividends, savings, or unabsorbed premium deposits does not relieve an insurer from complying with any requirement of this chapter regarding rating plans or systems.

(3) It is an unfair trade practice under 33-18-1003 to make the payment of a dividend or any portion of it conditioned upon renewal of the policy or contract.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 186, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 30, Ch. 472, L. 1999.

33-16-1023. Membership in advisory organization. (1) The commissioner shall designate one workers' compensation advisory organization to assist the commissioner in gathering, compiling, and reporting relevant statistical information. Each workers' compensation insurer shall record and report its workers' compensation experience to the designated advisory organization as set forth in the uniform statistical plan approved by the commissioner.

(2) Each workers' compensation insurer must be a member or subscriber of the designated workers' compensation advisory organization. Each workers' compensation insurer may adhere to the policy forms filed by the advisory organization.

(3) Each workers' compensation insurer shall adhere to a uniform classification system and uniform experience rating plan that has been filed by the designated advisory organization with the commissioner and approved by the commissioner.

(4) Each workers' compensation insurer shall use the forms and adhere to the rules that the designated advisory organization shall develop and file with the commissioner. The forms and rules must be reasonably related to the recording and reporting of data pursuant to the uniform statistical plan, the uniform experience rating plan, and the uniform classification system.

(5) The methodology of the experience rating plan required under subsection (3) must be based on:

(a) reasonable eligibility standards;

(b) incentives for loss prevention; and

(c) a premium differential to encourage safety.

(6) The designated advisory organization or an insurer may file rating plans with the commissioner that provide for prospective or retrospective premium adjustment based on an insured's expected or actual loss experience, including but not limited to scheduled rating adjustments, retrospective rating plans, optional deductible plans under 39-71-435, a construction industry premium credit plan under 39-71-2211, or other plans as authorized by statute or approved by the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 186, L. 1995.

33-16-1024. Plan No. 3 membership in licensed workers' compensation advisory organization — reporting requirements. (1) The plan No. 3 insurer under Title 39, chapter 71, part 23, is required to be a member of a licensed workers' compensation advisory organization or a licensed workers' compensation rating organization under Title 33, chapter 16, part 4.

(2) If the plan No. 3 insurer is not a member of the workers' compensation advisory organization designated under 33-16-1023, then, subject to the deviations from the uniform statistical plan, uniform classification system, and uniform experience rating plan that may be approved by the board of directors of the plan No. 3 insurer as provided in 39-71-2316, the insurer shall:

(a) record and report its workers' compensation experience to the designated advisory organization as required in the uniform statistical plan of the designated workers' compensation advisory organization approved by the commissioner, the uniform classification system, and the uniform experience rating plan that have been filed by the designated advisory organization with and approved by the commissioner; and

(b) use the forms and adhere to the rules that the designated advisory organization develops and files with the commissioner under 33-16-1023.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 186, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 276, L. 1997.

33-16-1025. Interchange of rating plan — data exchange — cooperative action in ratemaking — violation of part. (1) Reasonable rules and plans may be adopted by the commissioner for the interchange of data necessary for the application of rating plans.

(2) To ensure conformity in administering rate regulatory laws, the commissioner, each insurer, and the advisory organization designated by the commissioner may exchange information and experience data with insurance regulatory officials, insurers, and advisory organizations in other states and may consult with them with respect to ratemaking and the application of rating systems.

(3) Cooperation among advisory organizations or among insurers and advisory organizations in ratemaking or in other matters within the scope of this part is authorized, but the filings resulting from the cooperation are subject to all provisions of this part.

(4) The commissioner may review the cooperative activities and practices. If, after hearing, any cooperative activity or practice is found to violate the provisions of this part, a written order may be issued specifying that the activity or practice violates the provision of this part and requiring the discontinuance of the activity or practice.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 186, L. 1995.

33-16-1026. Rate filings. (1) A workers' compensation advisory organization shall file with the commissioner:

(a) workers' compensation rates and rating plans that are limited to prospective loss costs;

(b) each workers' compensation policy form to be used by its members or subscribers;

(c) the uniform classification plan and rules of the advisory organization;

(d) the uniform experience rating plan and rules of the advisory organization; and

(e) any other information that the commissioner requests and is entitled to receive under this part.

(2) Each insurer shall file with the commissioner all rates, supplementary rate information, and any changes and amendments made by it for use in this state as required by the commissioner under 33-16-1027(2).

(3) An insurer may establish rates and supplementary rate information based upon the factors in 33-16-1021. An insurer may adopt by reference, with or without deviation, the prospective loss costs filed by the advisory organization designated under 33-16-1023 or the rates and supplementary rate information filed by another insurer.

(4) An insurer may not make or issue a contract or policy of insurance under this part, except in accordance with the filings that are in effect for the insurer as provided in this part.

(5) In addition to other prohibitions in this part, an advisory organization may not file rates, supplementary rate information, or supporting information on behalf of an insurer.

(6) If each rate in a schedule of workers' compensation rates for specific classifications of risks filed by an insurer is not lower than the prospective loss costs contained in the schedule of workers' compensation rates for those classifications filed by the designated advisory organization under subsection (1), the schedule of rates filed by the insurer is not subject to 33-16-1027(1) but becomes effective upon filing.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 186, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 146, Ch. 42, L. 1997.

33-16-1027. Rate filing review. (1) The commissioner shall review each insurance filing to ensure compliance with the following guidelines:

(a) The effective date of each workers' compensation insurer or advisory organization filing must be the date specified in the filing. The effective date of the filing may not be earlier than 30 days after the date on which the filing is received by the commissioner or the date of receipt of the information furnished in support of the filing, if the supporting information is required by the commissioner.

(b) Upon written application of the insurer or advisory organization, the commissioner may authorize a filing that becomes effective before the expiration of the period described in subsection (1)(a).

(c) A filing is considered to have met the requirements of this part unless disapproved by the commissioner within the period described in subsection (1)(a) or any extension of the period.

(2) Whenever a filing is not accompanied by the information required under this section, the commissioner shall inform the filer of the deficiency within 30 days of the initial filing. The filing is considered made when the required information is furnished or when the filer certifies to the commissioner that the additional information requested by the commissioner is not maintained or cannot be provided.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 186, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 23, Ch. 531, L. 1997.

33-16-1028. Improper rates — hearing. (1) If the commissioner finds that a rate is not in compliance with 33-16-1021 or that a rate has been set in violation of 33-16-1032, the commissioner shall order that its use be discontinued for any policy issued or renewed after the date of the order, and the order may prospectively provide for premium adjustment of any policy then in force.

(2) The order must be issued within 30 days after the close of a hearing, if one is requested by the insurer, or within a reasonable time fixed by the commissioner. The order expires 1 year after its effective date unless rescinded earlier by the commissioner.

(3) If the commissioner disapproves a rate under subsection (1), disapproval must take effect not less than 15 days after the commissioner's order and the last previous rate in effect for the insurer must be reimposed for a period of 1 year unless the commissioner approves a rate under the provisions of subsection (5) or (6).

(4) A determination made by the commissioner under this section must be in accordance with accepted actuarial standards on the basis of findings of fact and conclusions of law.

(5) For a period of 1 year after the effective date of a disapproval order under subsection (1), a rate adopted to replace one disapproved under the order may not be used until it has been filed with the commissioner and approved within 30 days.

(6) Whenever an insurer does not have legally effective rates pursuant to subsection (1), the commissioner shall, on the insurer's request, specify interim rates for the insurer that are adequate to protect the interests of all parties. The commissioner may order that a specified portion of the premiums be placed in a special reserve established by the insurer. When new rates become legally effective, the commissioner shall order the reserved funds or any overcharge in the interim rates to be distributed appropriately, except that minimal adjustments may not be required.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 186, L. 1995.

33-16-1029. Restrictions on certain insurers — waiting period. (1) The commissioner may require that a particular insurer file any of its rates and supplementary rate information 30 days prior to the effective date of the rates, if the commissioner finds after a hearing that the protection of the interests of the insurer's insureds and the public in this state requires closer supervision of the insurer's rates.

(2) Upon written application by an insurer, the commissioner, following review, may authorize a filing, which is effective before the expiration of the period described in subsection (1).

(3) The filing must be approved or disapproved during the waiting period and, if not disapproved before the expiration of the waiting period, is considered to have met the requirements of this section.

(4) An insurer aggrieved by the commissioner's actions under this section may request a rehearing by the commissioner after the expiration of 12 months from the date of the commissioner's initial order.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 186, L. 1995.

33-16-1030. Delay of rates in noncompetitive market. (1) A 30-day waiting period may be implemented or extended under one of the following circumstances:

(a) after finding that the market is not competitive under 33-16-1020, the commissioner adopts a rule requiring that any subsequent changes in rates or supplementary information must be filed with the commissioner at least 30 days before the changes become effective;

(b) the commissioner extends the waiting period under this section for a period not exceeding 30 additional days by written notice to the filer before the first 30-day period expires;

(c) upon written application by an insurer or advisory organization, the commissioner, following review, authorizes a filing, which becomes effective before the expiration of the period described in subsection (1)(a) or (1)(b); or

(d) the filing is approved or disapproved during the waiting period and, if not disapproved before the expiration of the waiting period, is considered to have met the requirements of this section.

(2) If a rule is adopted under subsection (1), the commissioner may require the filing of supporting data as to classes of risks or combinations of risk classes that the commissioner considers necessary for the proper functioning of the rate monitoring and regulating process. The supporting data must include:

(a) the experience and judgment of the filer and, to the extent that the filer wishes or the commissioner requires, the experience and judgment of other insurers or the advisory organization designated under 33-16-1023;

(b) the interpretation of any statistical data upon which the filer relied;

(c) a description of the actuarial and statistical methods used in setting the rate; and

(d) any other relevant matter required by the commissioner.

(3) A rule adopted under this section expires 1 year after adoption unless renewed by the commissioner after hearings and appropriate findings under this section.

(4) Whenever a filing is not accompanied by the information that the commissioner has required under subsection (2), the commissioner shall inform the insurer within 10 days of the initial filing. The filing is considered made when the required information is furnished.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 186, L. 1995.

33-16-1031. Consent to rate. Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, upon the written consent of the insured, filed with the commissioner, a rate in excess of that determined in accordance with the other provisions of this part may be used on any specific risk.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 186, L. 1995.

33-16-1032. Acts reducing competition prohibited. (1) In this section, the word "insurer" includes two or more affiliated insurers engaged in joint or cooperative underwriting, investment management, marketing, servicing, or administration of their business and affairs as insurers and:

(a) under common management; or

(b) under common controlling ownership or under other common effective legal control.

(2) An insurer or advisory organization may not:

(a) monopolize or attempt to monopolize or combine or conspire with any other person or persons to monopolize the business of insurance of any kind, subdivision, or class;

(b) agree with any other insurer or advisory organization to charge or adhere to any rate or rating plan other than the uniform experience rating plan or rating rules of the advisory organization, except as needed to comply with the requirements of 33-16-1026;

(c) make an agreement with any other insurer, advisory organization, or other person to unreasonably restrain trade or substantially lessen competition in the business of insurance of any kind, subdivision, or class; or

(d) make an agreement with any other insurer or advisory organization to refuse to deal with any person in connection with the sale of insurance.

(3) The fact that two or more insurers, whether they are members or subscribers of a common advisory organization, use consistently or intermittently the same advisory organization rules or insurer guidelines, rating plans, rating schedules, rating rules, policy forms, rate classifications, underwriting rules, surveys, or inspections or similar materials is not sufficient in itself to support a finding that an agreement exists.

(4) An advisory organization or member or subscriber of an advisory organization may not interfere with the right of any insurer to establish its rates independently of that advisory organization or to charge rates different from the rates made by that advisory organization.

(5) Except as required by 33-16-1026, an advisory organization may not have or adopt any rule or exact any agreement or formulate or engage in any program that would require any member, subscriber, or other insurer to:

(a) adhere to its rates; or

(b) prevent any insurer from acting independently.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 186, L. 1995.

33-16-1033. Advisory organization — permitted activity. An advisory organization may:

(1) develop statistical plans, including class definitions;

(2) collect statistical data from members, subscribers, or any other source;

(3) prepare and distribute pure premium rate data, adjusted for loss development and loss trending, in accordance with its statistical plan. The data and adjustments must be in sufficient detail to permit insurers to modify pure premiums based upon their own rating methods or interpretations of underlying data.

(4) prepare and distribute manuals for rating rules and rating schedules that do not contain any rules or schedules, including final rates, without information outside the manuals;

(5) distribute information that is filed with the commissioner and open to public inspection;

(6) conduct research and collect statistics in order to discover, identify, and classify information relating to causes or prevention of losses;

(7) prepare and file policy forms and endorsements and consult with members, subscribers, and others relative to their use and application;

(8) collect, compile, and distribute past and current prices of individual insurers, if the information is made available to the general public;

(9) conduct research and collect information to determine the impact of benefit level changes on pure premium rates;

(10) prepare and distribute rules and rating values for the uniform experience rating plan; and

(11) calculate and disseminate individual risk premium modification factors. Individual risk premium modification factors may only be disseminated to:

(a) a licensed producer or a plan No. 2 or plan No. 3 insurer for the business of insurance only; and

(b) the department of labor and industry for regulatory purposes only. Individual employer payroll and loss information may be provided to a person other than the current licensed producer or a plan No. 2 or plan No. 3 insurer only after obtaining the employer's written permission.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 186, L. 1995.

33-16-1034. Advisory organization — prohibited activity. In addition to other prohibitions in this part, except as specifically permitted under 33-16-1033, an advisory organization may not compile or distribute recommendations relating to rates that include expenses, other than loss adjustment expenses, or profit.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 186, L. 1995.

33-16-1035. Penalties — suspension of license. (1) The commissioner may impose upon a person or organization that violates 33-16-1020 through 33-16-1036 a penalty of not more than $500 for each violation.

(2) If the commissioner determines that the violation is willful, the commissioner may impose a penalty of not more than $1,000 for each violation in addition to any other penalty provided by law.
